Cotton Program Schedule of Meetings Is Announced

County Agent's Office Gives Dates for Organization Meets and Stresses Importance

a series to cover 4-DAY PERIOD

Number of Local Committeemen Is Reduced-12 to Be Elected at These Meetings

Beginning Monday, Jan. 28, and continuing for a 4-day period, organization meetings for the 1935 cotton program in Wheeler county will be held on the dates and at the places listed below. This is according to information supplied by County Agent Jake Tarter today.

Importance of these meetings to cotton producers is stressed by Tarter, who points out that all local committeemen are to be elected at these gatherings. This phase makes the meetings equal in importance to the Bankhead elections, it is said.

"Each contract signer," declared Tarter, "should have a voice in the election of the man who is to serve as local committeeman for the coming year in the reduction program; also selection of an alternate to serve should the regular committeeman drop out."

Reduction in the number of local committeemen and re-districting of the county becomes necessary under an order from the AAA headquarters. The former 18 committeemen will be replaced by 12. This change absorbs six of the districts of last year and consolidates them into the new list of 12.

Therefore, the prime purpose of the meetings are to elect, by a representative showing, the 12 new committeemen.

WHEELER TIMES WANT ADS "GET JOB DONE"

That The Wheeler Times want ads (5c a line-adv.) get quick and positive results was demonstrated anew this week. A good 2-year-old mule belonging to E. M. Prather, out in the Mobeetie community, strayed away some days ago. Early Tuesday afternoon he called at The Times office and ordered a want ad, offering $5 reward for return of the errant mule, printed in this week's paper. Along towards evening, Prather returned and declared that it would not be necessary to run the advertisement, since the missing beast had been located. Who would presume to say that want ads in The Times-only by intention, even-are not effective?

Wheeler Visited by Cold Weather

Whether it be called a "blue norther," "blizzard," cold wave (or some terms not usually heard in Sunday school), depending largely upon what part of the country the speaker comes from, Wheeler county along with the rest of the Panhandle, experienced early this week the coldest weather of the winter and possibly for several seasons.

Breaking Saturday evening with a driving northeast gale, temperature readings dropped rapidly throughout Sunday and Sunday night. Several local people have reported 5 to 6 degrees below zero Monday morning.

Monday afternoon brought some relief from the sudden cold snap, with much warmer weather Tues-Again Wednesday, with the wind from the north, sharp weather prevailed. A very little moisturesleet and snow-accompanied the disturbance in this area

Home Ec. Girls to Serve Meal-Home Talent Program to Be Given

Preliminary plans were made late today for the first of a series of annual banquets, sponsored by the Wheeler Board of City Development. The date named is Friday evening, Feb. 8. Tentative arrangements include a home talent program following a dinner to be served by the Home Economics department, Wheeler high school, of which Mrs. Gordon Whitener is instructor.

Interested local parties attempted this week to promote a President Roosevelt birthday party for next Wednesday, Jan. 30. Owing to the lack of sufficient time in which to make necessary preparations, caused abandonment of the idea. In many PICTURE STUDIO localities throughout the state and nation observance of the occasion will be held, ranging from modest programs to elaborate balls. ## Veale Resigns Post of Relief Administrator

Soon to Relinquish Office After 17 Months of Service-Wells Is Successor

Persistent rumors, circulated early this week, to the effect that W. Veale, Wheeler county relief ad ministrator for the past 17 months had resigned, have been verified as Veale has tendered his resignation to state headquarters.

C. W. Wells, it is unofficially reported, has been named by the county relief board as successor to Veale. Wells is ex-commissioner of precinct three and is well and favorably known throughout the county. The board members are H. B. Hill, Paul Macina and J. B. Clark, Shamrock; D. O. Beene, Wheeler, and Oliver Elliott, Mobeetie.

Veale, since he had been in charge of the relief office, has been instrumental in securing numerous relief projects for the county, including besides the general road and cleanup work, repair on several county schools, canning plants for Wheeler and Shamrock, relief sewing room for Shamrock, and just recently the $16,000 swimming pool for Shamrock, labor on which will be supplied by the Texas Relief commis-

on standing committees Corn-hog Program for 1935 Started

Sign-Up Begun Last Week-Local Committeeman Explains Reduction Basis

"Some potential corn-hog reduction program signers are laboring under a misunderstanding of the base to be used in figuring the reduction of corn and hog production this year in Wheeler county," declared R. D. Underwood, community committeeman, Wednesday. Underwood is assisting Jim Trout, county chairman, with the sign-up.

It was pointed out by the committeeman, during an interview, that contracts for 1935 will be based on 1932 and 1933 production figures, and not on 1934 figures, as ome erroneously believe.

"Therefore," concluded wood, "practically all 1934 signers are eligible for 1935 contracts, and it is decidedly to their advantage to sign up at an early date. All contracts must be signed at the committee rooms in the court house at Wheeler."

Last year Wheeler county had 305 contract signers. Present indications point to better than 80 per cent of these, together with quite a number who did not participate n 1934, will sign up this year. These contracts are expected to bring into the county around $40,-

Amarillo Plant Ready to Do County Canning

Interested Local People Advised to List Canning Needs at Wheeler

An arrangement by which Wheeler county people may have their meat canned in Amarillo as the Panhandle's central plant, has been suggested, and persons who wish to take advantage of the plan are advised to get in touch with the county relief administrator, or Jake Tarter, county agent, at Wheeler.

A letter from R. W. Willis district engineering supervisor of Amarillo, gives information on the arrangement as follows: "Our plan is to can for individuals on the regular percentage basis. That is, we will furnish equipment, cans and labor for beef processing, with 50 per cent going to producer and 50 per cent to the TRC surplus commodity. The cattle sent here must be delivered to the Pinkney stockyards where they will be tagged, recorded, killed and chilled, then taken to the canning plant for processing and division." It has been suggested that local persons wishing to take advantage of the plan might get together and take their cattle up at the same time as it would be cheaper. "Amarillo has one of the best government canning plants in the entire state,'

All persons who have cattle they wish to have canned in Amarillo are advised to register soon as the Amarillo plant wishes to get an idea of the number.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OPPOSE REPEAL OF GAS CONTROL LAW AT PRESENT

During their Jan. 15 meeting Wheeler county commissioners passed and addressed to the legislature a set of resolutions opposing any change in the present "sour gas until certain changes are brought about in the regulation of natural gas production and handling by proper legislation.

Following a group of suggested neasures, the commissioners declared that until such time as they were adopted that "the 'sour gas law' should not be repealed as it is the only weapon of defense that the land owners now have against the pipe lines, and it has been beneficial to Wheeler county-by stimulating development and giving land owners market for their gas that did not heretofore exist. We are not in favor of waste, but feel that under the circumstances, conditions brought about by the 'sour gas law' are justified and should continue until the above named features are put into effect."

Postoffice Shows Gain for Quarter

FARM CENSUS ENUMERATOR MAKES HOME IN WHEELER

Tom Montgomery of the Twitty census enumerators for Wheeler county, recently moved with his family to this city in order to be more convenient to his work.

Montgomery's district is composed of the city of Wheeler, and parts of precincts two and four. He has completed the survey in precinct four and is about half through on the entire job. During a conversation in The Times office today, Montgomery stated that if all farmers who have received schedules by mail or otherwise, would fill them out and have them ready when he called, (in case they are not at home) it would be a big accommodation. He could thereby obtain the required figures in one trip, obviating considerable labor and expense occasioned by additional trips.

CITY MARKET RIGHT IN THE LINE

Another firm right in the line with a bid for patronage of citizens throughout Wheeler's trade territory is the City Market & Grocery. A mighty nice list of staple and fancy merchandise, offered at attractive prices, will be found over that firm's name on another page of The Times.

DRIVER'S LICENSE LAW

With Texas highways clogged up through the use of every existing wreck of an automobile, driven in most cases by irresponsible persons without resources thus apparently becoming less safe each succeeding year for traffic, under present conditions, we can hardly see how the legislature can afford not to pass an adequate "driver's license" law.

Really, if before a license could be secured for an automobile to be driven on the highways, not only a driver's license must be secured and presented at the time of purchase, but a liability policy also be included in the registration charge, loss of life on the highways would be lessened to a large degree.

When you meet a reckless driver of an old wreck, a car probably not worth $50 in cash, you can readily understand this driver has no regard for any liability damage that may be inflicted. What matter is it to such a driver that your good car is battered—the driver is not financially responsible.

But should you push that wreck into the ditch, it immediately becomes as valuable as a Texas longhorn milk cow when run down by a locomotive on a railroad track.

Texas certainly needs a "driver's license" law and a forcible liability insurance clause in that statute.

THE MISSING ELEMENT

According to the viewpoint of Industrial News-Review the missing element for further progress in 1935 is confidence, maintaining that uncertainty rather than confidence is uppermost in most every business People who ordinarily would be building homes, creating jobs, investing their money in industrial enterprises, buying supplies, and developing farms are afraid, says this periodical.

However, the thought is made plain that the conditions under which we labor are not necessarily the fault of any one man, group or party. National distress naturally breeds experiment-anything seems worth trying to a drowning man, which was the American nation two years ago.

If confidence in the maintainence of constitutional rights is clearly established, then there should be no despair on the part of the people, for our land is fertile, our industries are still great, our intellectual abilities have been sharpened by the ordeal of depression. Signs that understanding is replacing misunderstanding are encourag. ing, the missing element is being replaced.

The legislative session now beginning undoubtedly will submit several proposed amendments to the constitution. One of these is cerain to be repeal of the existing prohibition of liquor in the state. Another is likely to be the question of establishment of a state old-age pension system. Still another may raise the question of radical alterations in the state's tax system.

Any one of these matters, if we stop to think about it, is far more important than questions of what man shall occupy what office which are paramount in the regular election years. The welfare of the average citizen, as things stand, is affected very little by the choice of candidates for office, whereas important changes in the fundamental law may have effect both tremendous and lasting.

A few days remain for the payment of poll taxes. The careful citizen will not delay in getting in his possession one of the bits of paper which qualifies him to vote. ## REFORMERS—HUMAN NATURE

There are those who still persist in "legislating people good." That Ages and beyond. America first saw it during witchcraft persecutions. Later "Mother Grundy" days nad full sway.

Our observation of reformers is that they are always in too big a hurry. They seem to think that the world could and should be made over in one day, and exactly to the reformer's ideas.

According to history, there has been many heroic attempts made to change human nature. We have elections, there are perhaps more heard about very few that succeedreasons why the citizen should de- ed in less than a hundred years. These were of minor importance. The greatest reform of all ages has come through knowledge. Education, properly directed, appears to have been crowned with more laurels of victory. On the whole, perhaps, reformers do not do as much damage as some people imagine. People have been doing a fairly good job of reforming through the ages themselves. Leadership has been the most serious handicap. Today we have plenty of leaders, but of the wrong type in most instances. The greatest reform movement of modern times was the NRA. It was promulgated or thrust upon unsuspecting victims by threats, scarecrow and in a few instances. fines are reported to have been paid in voluntarily. The NRA has irritated and provoked labor; it has worked a shocking injustice in numerous cases of small business men; it spread industrial unrest; it has given American laws some amazing victims whose treatment will forever stand out as strange and outrageous incidents in American annals; it has pleased some big manufacturers only in the sense that they thought it would dispose of the anti-trust laws definitely and permit them to maraud and plunder the public as they once did. If it had proven a success, Johnson still would have been running it. Neither scares, threats or chaotic conditions could sustain a scheme that was biased, constantly changing and indefinite both in form and purpose. -Donley County Leader.

Weather and climate play an important part in developing social unrest, says Dr. Ellsworth Hutington of Yale. He attributes North Dakota's radicalism to its sustained decrease in annual rainfall. What a climate Louisiana must have, to produce Huey Long!-The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

Bits of Early-Day History About Texas

(Note: The following is the first of a series of weekly articles taken from the Bexar Archives at the University of Texas. This collection, considered the greatest single historical treasure on the North American continent, has been catalogued and is now being translated by the University of Texas. This series of articles will consist principally of quotations from the documents, and will reveal for the first time what actually transpired during the century in which Texas was transformed from a wilderness inhabited only by savage Indian tribes to an independent American republic.

SERIES I, NO. I

Generations ago it was predicted that the translation of the documents in the Bexar Archives might necessitate the re-writing of many portions of (Texas history. For years it was the dream of historians that these valuable records should be transcribed and translated. That vision is at least on the way to being

When Texas won its independne or two ence, and an Anglo-American seat of government was set up within the new republic, the Mexican capital at the saving San Antonio was abandoned. During the century that Mexico ruled over Texas, San Antonio, now county seat of the county of Bexar, was the official seat of government of the Department of Bexar and from San Antonio all of Texas was governed. The capital of Texas as a republic was never located in San Antonio, and consequently the official archives of Bexar did not become a part of the archives of the republic, but fell into the possession of Bexar

> Far-sighted historians realized the importance of having these records translated, but lack of funds and lack of interest on the part of competent persons blocked the project. Legislative appropriation was eventually made for the task, and a translator appointed. Little progress was made. Funds were finally dissipated.

In 1898, an agreement was reached between the officials of Bexar county and the University of Texas, whereby those rare documents, in their entirety, were to be deposited in the university library. The materials were to be arranged, no semblance of chronological or other order having existed previously, and translations were to be made. Coples of the records, as translated, were to be furnished to the commissioners' court of Bexar county. After removal of the priceless archives to the university library, there was still lack of financial support. Mrs. Mattie Austin Hatcher, university archivist, among a mul-Oils, Greass titude of other duties, had charge of the Bexar collection. Handicapped by the lack of even a filing clerk, she worked alone. Each day she managed to retrieve a few minutes of her time to spend on the Bexar Archives. Without assistance, she has assorted the hundreds of thousands of documents, has cataogued them chronologically and according to subject matter. That calendar, or index, is now complete, load of farm and the archives are in order for rvester Com systematic translation.

It was in the spring of 1934, just ices at you as Mrs. Hatcher was in the last s, made and stages of making the calendar, that ual in qual fortune came the way of university historians. Federal funds were allotted to the university for student relief work, and a corps of university students were set to work checking and re-checking each document and making copies of each index card. The University Board of Regents then appointed an official translator for the Bexar Archives, Juan Haggard-Villasana, a graduate of the university and a Spanish

In former years, translations have been made of certain documents in tion." the Bexar Archives recognized as unusually important, but the first orderly translation of the whole colection is now under way. The perod from 1803 to 1821 was recognized as the most significant one in the history of early Texas, and the documents covering this era are the ones first to be translated. It was in 1803 that the sale of Louisiana made Texas a frontier province and a bone of contention between the United States and Spain. It was Corcoran. in 1821 that Mexican independence was established, opening the way

When the Bexar Archives came in 1898. Lester G. Bugbee, then in- friends. structor in history at the university and later adjunct professor, prepared a brief description of this col-San Antonio Express, Sept. 23, 1898. It was later reprinted in pamphlet form, a copy of which is in the rare book section of the university's Texas' strategic position.

The Spanish occupation of Texas Okla., to make her home.

is inseparably connected with the French occupation of Louisiana," Bugbee wrote. "The founding of the missions around Nacogdoches and San Antonio is but a chapter in the history of the conflict between France and Spain for the possession of the country west of the Red River. Spain's first attempt at occupation, which was occasioned by the landing of the French LaSalle on the shores of Matagorda Bay, proved a complete failure, and in a few years Texas was again an uncivilized wilderness. Then Louisiana fell under the control of a commercial company that was more interested in opening a contraband trade with Mexico than in defending its sovereign's title to the vast wilderness to the west: under the auspices of this company, another Frenchman, whom we know in Texas history as Saint-Denis, aroused Spanish jealousy by penetrating the forbidden country. But he told such tales of the willingness of the French to yield the disputed territory, and of their desire to open trade with Mexico, that the Spanish authorities resolved to seize the opportunity to take possession; and thus it was that under the guidance of Saint-Denis, and with the tacit consent of his superiors in Louisiana, the missions and forts around Nacogdoches and San Antonio came into existence during the

"The French soon became hostile again, and from this time to 1763 the theme of greatest interest in Texas history is the attempt of the French to drive out the Spanish, and, on the other hand, the preserving endeavors of the Spanish to hold the country by civilizing and Christianizing the native tribes. Such was the political and humanitarian use made of the missions.

This was the beginning of the permanent occupation of Texas.

"A frontier settlement which joined an unfriendly neighbor needed a government of its own, so that in 1727 Texas was constituted a separate province. San Antonio was made its capital, and, but for one or two brief intervals, remained so until Texas became a Republic, All the official business of the few settlements was managed by the governor of the province, who was also military commandant, and thus began the accumulation of papers which we now call the Archives of Bexar.

"When Mexico gained its independence the province of Texas became Department of Bexar, which still included nearly all the terriof the present State, and was at that time one of the administrative units of the State of Coahuila and Texas. The size of this department was not diminished until a very few years before our revolution, the district of Nacogdoches being set off in 1831 and that of Brazos in 1834. So we can say with a near approach to the truth that all the business of government relative to Texas between the dates of 1727 and 1835 was carried on from San Antonio and is recorded in these papers.

"It would be an endless task, even if one possessed the information, to enumerate the events and subjects mentioned in these papers. Here reposes the history of Texas to 1835, -the complete story of the rise. rule and fall of the Spanish power between the Sabine and the Rio Grande; the voluminous details of tribes, with innumerable tales of thrilling incident and tragic horror; the Spanish account of the long struggle with the French; the record of the unselfish toiling of patient missionaries; the Spanish version of the quarrel between the United States and Spain: the wild story of the Mexican revolution, so intimately connected with Magee and Long; reports from the neutral ground of the gathering of turbulent crowds around Nacogdoches; and finally, the coming of the Anglo-American, the building up of the settlements, and the Revolu-

Kelton basketball teams motored last Saturday to Wellington, where they entered the tournament and met the Shamrock seniors. Kelton boys lost by seven points and the girls by five. The boys were delayed by a broken axle on the car driven by Don Rives. When near Shamrock the trouble developed and Tommy Waggoner went into town for help. In the meantime, C. B. #### AGRICULTURE NEWS IS OF PRIMARY IMPORTANCE

Recently a remark was overheard that The Times devotes too much space to agriculture news. A checkup indicates that the speaker was either not a thinking person or was slightly disgruntled over something.

Where does Wheeler county's bread and butter come from? During the past 15 months, where did 90 per cent of the money upon which people of Wheeler lived come from?

The answer is, of course, that the very livelihood of the entire community depends upon agriculture. Reduced crops were made during the past year so the Federal Government stepped in with various programs and in a measure made up for the income that failed with the crops. Miss Peek to Use Estelle Scott's Story of Caring for Clothing In Radio Program

Estelle Scott, home economics I student, is to have her home project story broadcast on a radio program by Miss Lillian Peek, state supervisor of home economics, Feb. 21.

Miss Ester Sorenson, district home economics supervisor, recommended projects of Mrs. Gordon Whitener, local instrutor, to Miss Peek. Mrs. Whitener received a letter from Miss Peek Jan. 17, stating that she would like for her to send her a good project story to be read on Miss Peek's radio program.

Estelle's story was chosen because it seemed more practical and pertained to school work. For her project, Estelle kept her clothes in

On the cover of her project book, Estelle pasted pictures of dresses, coats, hats and shoes neatly arranged in a closet. Illustrations in the book included pictures of laundering, ironing, putting away laundered clothes, and polishing shoes. She also had a sample patch and designs by which she remodeled cuffs, collar, and dress.

Her record included the dates, time spent and results of project work. She spent a grand total of 35 hours.

The following is a copy of Estelle's story:

I took for my home project the first semester, the problem of keeping my clothes in order. I selected this problem because I thought it would be a helpful project as I was formerly in the habit of throwing

The junior boys and the Mobeetie juniors were the next to play. Mobeetie won by a score of 19 to 9, but the game was better than the score indicates. Wheeler senior girls and Mobeetie senior girls were opponents in the next encounter, Mobeetie taking the game with a score of 32 to 20.

The game between the senior boys finished up the schedule for the night. The Wheeler boys took the lead early in the game and forters over his head and snoozed held it until late in the second quarter when Mobeetie opened up with a barrage of shots and the half ended 9-4 in Mobeetie's favor. They continued their good playing the last half and won by a score of 18 to 10.

Faculty to Give "Fuller's Folly"

'Fuller's Folly," a comedy-farce in three acts, will be presented by eight members of the faculty in the high school auditorium either Feb. 5 or 6. The time for the play is about one and one half hours. The scene opens in Judge Fuller's ranch house one day in early summer.

The plot is centered around the judge, Mr. Fuller, a wealthy ranchman who has retired and with a fortune. Later he is reported dead. This part is acted by Principal C. B. Witt.

Supt. J. L. Gilmore plays the part of Broncho Bright, a dried-up character with a red nose, who is the judge's confidential friend. Betty Bright, Broncho's bright-eyed daughter is very sweet and pretty. Miss Ruth Ewing will take this role.

Miss Katheryn Bowers will impersonate Miss Mary White, a sweet woman who can laugh at life and find enjoyment in little pleasures. She is a great social worker.

Four relatives are after their share of the judge's estate. The part of Mrs. Scotty, one of the relatives, is played by Mrs. G. O. McCrohan. Mrs. Scotty is a large matronly woman who is very unaccustomed to the west. Mr. Scotty, also new to the west, is impersonated by C. J. Meek. He is a small town business man, more or less successful. Mrs. C. J. Meek will take the role of Mrs. Brittlepop, a sharp-tongued matron, soured on the world. The part of the other relative, Walter Davidson, is played by Coach Bob Clark. He is a pleasant and efficient young man, interested in life.

Mrs. G. O. McCrohan says that Mrs. Meek's acting, alone, will be well worth anyone's money. The admission charges will be 10 and 15 cents.

The date for the meeting has not been definitely set, but it will probably be about the last of February or first of March.

FOOTBALL ARTIST DRAWS SHOULDER PADS ON MONK

Well, well, and well, what do you know about it? Just think! Wheeler is producing artists. Yes sirree, real ones too. In English IV the class was assigned to portray a character of Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales." The instructor asked that the drawings be labeled so she could recognize the monk, clerk or knight.

As soon as the assignment was made one ambitious students immediately began a picture of a monk. Since when did monks wear shoulder pads? This one had a very large pair. (Perhaps the fact that the artist played fullback for a season might throw some light on the subject.)

A SMOKY HABIT

As every one knows, smoking is injurious to the health of an individual and lessens his chances in attaining a ripe old age. Doctors all over the world, every day, prove that this fact is true. Ask any of the local doctors about this and the answer will always be: "Do not smoke, it injures the health." Try

Boys in grammar grades think it very smart to smoke. They do not do it for the pleasure involved, because the first "puff" makes them cough and afterwards sick. The next time it is not so bad as the drug nicotine in the tobacco has a hold. These first few "puffs" start the trail to regular smoking.

The worst thing about smoking is that once the habit has a start it is hard to stop. There is in this high school a well-known boy now making a heroic fight against his smoking. He had been smoking quite a while before realizing the danger involved. At an interview he claimed it was the hardest task he has ever undertaken.

A card is now handed to all boys with this one word on it, "Beware." -T. C.

EXPENSIVE HAUPTMANN TRIAL

No typewriters or telegraph "bugs" are allowed in the court room where Bruno Richard Hauptmann, suspected kidnaper of the Lindbergh baby, is on trial for his life. In November the newspaper men sent their advance guardplenty of paraphernalia-motorcycles, typewriters, telegraph wires, automobiles, airplanes, cameras, and flash guns. Over the telegraph wires 600,000 to 900,000 words move daily. It took more than 2,500,000 words to tell the world the first week's news of the Hauptmann trial.

The others get news as best they can. Two months before the trial began, Western Union and Postal Telegraph men appeared and Janette Hale, Bob Tillman, Rayinstalled 200 telegraph circuits. This is enough to handle traffic in a city the size of Indianapolis. These lines are kept busy by operators who are able to send 15,000 words in an eight-hour day. We have a very extraordinary cat at our house. Perhaps you could guess that her name is Josephine. She is white and gray, and, as most cats, has green eyes. Often when we are eating she will come in and sit by someone's chair. If she is not noticed she stands on her hind feet and taps the person's knee with her paw. When we are preparing fresh meat she will stand on her hind legs and beg for some. Sometimes to tease her we walk away with it. She follows on her hind legs, walking very slowly.

This cat is an excellent mouse catcher. She is very useful around the house garage and barns. In fact, we consider Josephine almost a member of the family.

JOURNALISM STUDENTS STUDY PAPER MAKE-UP

For the purpose of comparing front page make-up, copies of several large daily newspapers were shown to the journalism students Wednesday of last week. Comments were made by Miss Bernie Addison, journalism instructor, and the class

They found that the most conservative papers were the Kansas City Star and the Baltimore Sun. The semi-conservative papers were: The Milwaukee Journal, The Atlanta Constitution, Moberly Monitor-Index, Boston Evening Transcript, Los Angeles Times and Washington Evening Star.

The more sensational papers discussed were: The Detroit News, Chicago Daily Tribune, St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Amarillo Globe, New York Post and The Denver Post.

Samples of teletypewriter copy sent out by the United Press association were also examined by the Home Ec. Project on Radiomy clothes around and not taking care of them.

My main goals in my home project were: To learn to keep my clothes in order, the best and easiest way to keep them, and to learn so that I will know how in later life.

All of my goals have been attained, I think. It is very easy for me to keep my clothes now. In my work there has been a great increase in skill. I can now wash, clean, and press much better than ever before.

I have also increased a great deal in managing ability. I planned my work so that I could have time to keep my clothes in order. A great deal of wisdom was gained by working on my project. There was, especially, an increase in knowledge of cleaning and pressing.

One will naturally form judgments when working on one's clothes or in any other project. One often makes decisions on which is the better way to do many things. My habits have been changed a great deal. When I come home from school, I put away my clothes, caps, gloves, etc., very neatly. I noticed myself frequently taking my clothes down to see if they needed mending. I think my project has been a great benefit to me in this way.

My problems were, mainly: learning to darn, wash, press and clean clothing. All of my minor problems were solved by practice and reference reading. I had many successes in my project. I think this was due to the fact that I tried to do things to the best of my ability and by a great deal of practice.

I did not have any real failures in my project; however, some of the things did not look so nice. I suppose this was caused by insufficient practice and by doing it too hurriedly. My plan was not in any way changed.

The amount that I spent on the project was indeed small. I bought three-fourths yard of solid brown material. This was used to remodel a dress; the cost was 14 cents. I cards, 100 white cards and 1,000 bought one bottle of liquid shoe stickers, which are used in the polish which cost 15 cents. I bought one gallon of gasoline to clean a dress and skirt. This cost be accounted for, the library is 18 cents. The total amount was 47 cents. I think this was very small compared with the benefits. Whitener and my mother helpe plan some of my things. Moth

Sport Slants By a Mustang

Well, the football boys' pain is eased. Measurements have been taken for their sweaters. The sweaters are good ones and the boys are going to be proud of them, I am sure. They should be proud of them -they played hard, clean football

The basketball boys have turned out to be quite a bunch of travelers. On Feb. 2, they are going to Canyon to play the W. T. S. T. C. fresh men basketball team. Coach Clark plans to take eight players. will leave here Saturday, Feb. 2 and get to Canyon in time to play that night. They will spend the night in Canyon and return home Sunday afternoon, after taking dinner at the home of Coach Clark's parents.

Friday and Saturday the Mustangs will play in the Canadian tournament. Both the boys and girls teams have entered. The coaches plan to take both entire squads. This is the third tournament that Wheeler has entered. I hope they turn over a new leaf and win this one.

I still say that we need a gymnasium. If the people of the town will say the same thing we will get one, too. People say, "Why do they need a gymnasium? They don't have a good basketball team." Well. if you want my opinion, I think we would have a good team if we had a gym to work out in. I believe Wheeler can defeat any other team on an out-door court. Coach Clark suggests that we hold an invitation tournament for only the teams that have no gymnasium. He believes that Wheeler would win. I agree with him.

BASKETBALL TEAMS WILL ENTER CANADIAN TOURNEY

Both the senior girls and the senior boys will attend the Canadian basketball tournament Friday, Jan.

Coach Clark states that he has not received the names of the teams that Wheeler will play.

At Mobeetie on Friday night, Feb. 1, the Wheeler senior boys and junior boys will play the Magic City senior and junior boys.

The senior girls will play the Briscoe senior girls at Mobeetie, also. Admission to the games will be 10 and 20 cents.

COACH CLARK SUGGESTS OUT DOOR TOURNAMENT

Coach Bob Clark has suggested that Wheeler give an invitation basketball tournament for all schools in the Panhandle that do not have gymnasiums.

The coach believes that it should be held during stormy weather. The reason for this is that most of the teams could not get here during a storm and would have to forfeit to Wheeler. In this manner the locals would win the tournament.

Here are some of the teams that would probably be invited: Twitty, Porter, Corn Valley, Magic City

Benonine, Kellerville and Pleasant Clark states that he believes that

La Veau asked me not to put his name in the gossip column this week, so I guess I will leave him out, for once.

We've just now found out who Helen's "big moment" was during the Christmas holidays. That's rather good, keeping it that long, Helen, so we won't publish his name. Funny, though, that she should express a desire in English class to draw a knight rather than an Oxford student.

Today the contrast is very marked, indeed. Instead of small schoolhouses situated at intervals over the country, fine large consolidated schools have been constructed in district centers which in addition to the grades, offer full and adequate training in high school work which compares favorably with city schools.

Buses provide a swift means of transportation to school children throughout the district and are far superior to the old custom of requiring those who wished to attend school to get there as best they could.

As a whole the consolidated school of today offers facilities in learning of which every rural community might justly be proud.-B. H.

Yes, our gym now has a floor the one thing the students and teachers have been looking forward to with eager expectation ever since the gym has been built. Now that it is completed, we expect to have ball games at home instead of having to go other places to play; also we may have a better opportunity to practice and play.

Besides these points it will look much more like a gymnasium than it did before, and best of all, it will be much more comfortable with its new concrete floor and its new seats than it was with a cold dirt floor and no seats at all.

John H. Templeton

Tax Assessor-Collector, Wheeler County, Texas

Under date of Jan. 19, The Times is in receipt of the following copy of a letter concerning Grainger McIlhany, student in John Tarleton Agricultural college, Stephenville: Mr. and Mrs. M. McIlhany Wheeler, Texas.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. McIlhany:

I feel obligated to write you and express to you my deep gratification for the excellent record being made here by your son, Grainger. I am sure that home training has much to do with excellent records made in college, and I certainly feel that at least a large portion of the honor belongs to you.

In my capacity as dean of men, I am probably in closer contact with the boys than anyone else, and I want to assure you that my dealings with your son have always been very pleasant. His grades are excellent, and he is on the honor roll. We have not a single demerit charged against him. I consider this a most excellent record, and Grainger an excellent student.

If I can be of any service to you or to your son in any way, please do not fail to call on me.

Yours very truly GABE LEWIS, Dean of Men.
