Enthusiasm Marks Borger Highway Meet Wednesday

Delegates from Towns Along the Oil Field Highway Favor Road Improvement

Wheeler representatives attended a meeting, Wednesday at Borger, of boosters from towns all along the route of Highway 41, the "Oil-field Highway," with its western terminus at Denver and Oklahoma City the eastern. While delegates were present only from Oklahoma and Texas towns and as far as Lamar, Col., reports were read from the entire distance to Denver.

It was shown that practically all the western portion from Colorado's capital to Lamar is improved. The Panhandle contains a few gaps, such as the Laketon strip and in the east side of this county. Steps are being taken, however, to bring early action on these. County Judge W. O. Puett, member of the Wheeler delegation, reports that a meeting of the highway association's board of directors is planned soon. At that time the Texas highway department will be asked to designate this state's part of the road as a complete state highway unit under one numeral.

An Oklahoma City chamber of commerce member stated that the road from his city via Union and practically to Sayre, is hard surface. This winter will see graveling of the gap from Sayre to the east line of Wheeler county. It is expected that permanent surfacing of this road in Wheeler county, as well as in Gray, will be accomplished in the near future.

Noel McDade of Dumas was elected president of the association, with J. P. Lowry, Sayre, Okla., as vice president. Judge Puett was named a member of the board of directors. The other county men attending the meet were Jim Trout, commissioner in precinct two, and Tom Britt, businessman-rancher, living east of Wheeler.

Big Achievements by County 4-H Club Boys

Win Honors in National Program on Social Progress—Pakan Club Is "Tops"

Pakan community can well be proud of the achievements of its boys 4-H club. That group won first place for the county in the national 4-H program on Social Progress, sponsored by the Radio Corporation of America, and will represent Wheeler county in the state contest. The Briscoe boys club gave the Pakan club a stiff battle for top honors, with the Wheeler and Lela clubs as close contenders.

This contest between the communities was built around club activities carried on during the year and was scored on the basis of most active members in the club, greatest number of social functions promoted and highest average of demonstration work performed. The Pakan club had 100 per cent completion in demonstration work for the year.

Bob St. John of the Mobeetie 4-H club won first for the county in the national 4-H Rural Electrification program, sponsored by the Westinghouse company and will compete in the state contest.

James Passons and Leroy Lamb, Wheeler; Alvis Jolly, Twitty; J. C. Scruggs, Shamrock, and Truman Henderson will represent the county in Beef Animal, Meat Animal and Best Record contest sponsored by Armour & Co., Wilson & Co., and the Santa Fe railroad, respectively.

The Mobeetie, Kelton, Allison and Shamrock clubs made good showings in the year's work.

Dusan Pakan is sponsor of the Pakan 4-H boys club.

City Drug Sponsors Big Rexall 1c Sale

Dated for Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, the City Drug store will sponsor its annual autumn 1c sale. This is an event always looked forward to eagerly by the shopping public. The 1c sale offers an opportunity to obtain extra values in a wide variety of merchandise and buyers welcome the chance to buy one article at the usual price, plus another one for an additional cent.

DRILLING BELOW 6,000 FEET

Yesterday's report stated a depth of 6,025 feet had been reached in the Porter test well, south of town. Granite wash is said to be the prevailing formation. Considerable water is in the hole.

Georgia Lady Tosses Times Lovely Bouquet

Feeling it would be indeed selfish to retain only for its own enjoyment so lovely a verbal bouquet, The Times wants to share with all its readers a communication received this week from Mrs. L. F. Johnston of Savannah, Ga. Phrased in delicate imagery approaching the lilt of fine poetry, this admirer of Wheeler county's leading newspaper pens the following petition and words of approbation:

"For some time have wished your editor knew how someone in Georgia enjoys your excellent paper, and now I have a legitimate excuse. In your issue of Sept. 24 appeared an illustration of a map of the Panhandle—a copy of which map I am very eager to secure. Not knowing to whom I should apply for one, will you kindly advise?"

"My mother, Mrs. J. R. Badley, always sends me her copies of The Wheeler Times. I read every word. The fact that I used to do the 'ads' for my investment company and have always been keenly interested in advertisements, has not a great deal to do with the fact that I even read every ad!"

"When I have finished it's almost as if an invisible 'I' have walked along the streets of Wheeler!"

"I've stopped at McIlhany's and talked to them; I've visited Ernest Lee's store; I've passed the City drug—I've observed again every 'step-down or up' on the sidewalk—and I've loved it all. I can imagine just how the new hospital looks, and have seen the marvelous growth of dear old Wheeler. I can almost imagine I have written a check in Mr. Holt's bank. (Or does one write checks any more?) In short, the Wheeler paper means a great deal to a homesick Texan."

"I shall appreciate it no end if you will let me know about the map."

"MRS. L. F. JOHNSTON."

A copy of the illustrated map in colors, "Trails to Take in the Texas Panhandle," whose distribution is made possible by the principal towns of the Panhandle, including Wheeler, went forward by return mail to Mrs. Johnston at her address: Avondale, Rfd. 2, Savannah, Ga.

Son of Wheeler Man Weds at Plainview

Miss Dortha McDaniel of Sterley and Mr. Lowery Deering of Plainview were married Saturday evening Oct. 24, at Plainview, with Marcus Rexrode reading the ritual. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Green.

Mrs. Deering is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McDaniel of Sterley. She has a number of friends at Lockney, where she attended high school.

Mr. Deering is the son of W. L. Deering of Wheeler and needs no introduction since he was a member of last year's senior class here and has spent most of his life in Wheeler.

He is employed at the Green Machinery company in Plainview, where they will make their home.

MINOR INJURIES RESULT SUNDAY AUTO COLLISION

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Williams and son, Glenn Carter, narrowly escaped serious injury late Sunday afternoon when the W. L. Williams car, occupied by them, collided with Bill Coleman's car at the corner northeast of the H. Flanagan farm, two miles west of Wheeler.

Coleman and M. C. Jaco were returning to Wheeler from the Zack Coleman farm and the Williams were going home from town. Mrs. Williams and baby were badly bruised, the others receiving slight injuries.

Fenders and radiator on the Williams car were badly damaged and windshields on both vehicles were smashed.

MASONIC MEETING

Endowed with a highly optimistic nature, H. J. Garrison, secretary, announces a stated communication of Wheeler Masonic lodge next Monday night, Nov. 2, with labor on the second degree. Garrison's optimism discounts the possibility that interest in the national election on the following day will cut down attendance at the square and compasses meeting.

First Frost Comes Right On Schedule

Visitation Occurs Exactly 60 Days After First "Norther" on August 28th

Although the average Panhandle citizen is extremely cautious in making weather predictions, a few old landmarks are generally observed and frequently prove accurate. One of these legends, myths or what have you, is that the first frost will arrive 60 days after the first "norther."

Well, it did this year. Late in the afternoon of August 28, last past, the writer was one of a group of men talking near the Citizens State bank corner when a "cool" breeze (in the 90's as compared with temperatures well over 100 that had continued for some weeks) was felt.

One of the men threw up his head with dilated nostrils, similar to a bronk that had been feeding on loco, and snorted:

"Yep, there she comes, boys; that's the first norther of the season. Now, 60 days from this date you can look for the first frost."

On Monday night of this week, Nov. 26, a moderate coating of chilly white came, nipping tender vegetation. It was 60 days from August 28—count 'em.

Tuesday night also saw frost and more nipped tender plants. And it was in the "light of the moon," somewhat discounting the saying that no harm is done by frost at such a time.

Around the first of the month frost threatened, and a mild freeze or severe chilling that largely stopped growth of vegetation occurred. But so far, none have disputed that Monday night witnessed the first frost of the season.

Legion Has Urgent Meeting On Tuesday

As previously stated in these columns, the first Tuesday night in each month is regular business meeting of the local American Legion post. Next Tuesday night, Nov. 3, has important business scheduled, including plans for observance of Armistice Day, Nov. 11. All members are urged to attend, states general Jim Risner. It is also announced that since Tuesday is election day, a radio will be installed in the Legion hall so members may hear the returns while transacting business matters.

Dr. Gaines will continue to operate the institution, as in the past, with Miss Dena Martin as nurse in charge. He has adopted a schedule of hours when he will be at the hospital each day except Sunday. The new hours are 8 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 6 p. m.

Municipal Band to Receive City Help

Council Extends Support of $25.00 per Month, Beginning With Coming November

Officers and members of Wheeler's Municipal band, as well as friends of the organization, are jubilant over the handsome support for the band as decided upon this week by the city council. Mayor Bob Holt made an informal canvass of the councilmen and obtained unanimous consent to grant the sum of $25 per month, beginning with November, to help retain J. W. Lummus, director, as head of the musical unit.

Mayor Holt declared today that the council deemed support of the band a worth-while undertaking and acted accordingly at least as far as practical to go. He pointed out that the problem put the council in a bad spot, since no levy for the purpose exists and none can be made before next spring.

Therefore, payments will have to come from contingent funds or otherwise available sources, and will be continued only so long as it is possible to raise the money.

At all events, The Times herewith compliments the city council upon its progressive spirit, and believes that the vast majority of interested citizens will heartily approve the action.

May I Offer a Word of Serious Comment

The Subject Is War and Many Have Spoken but None Adequately Describe It

There is no language spoken by man that is adequate in describing the horrors of war. One has said, "War is hell," but none can get beyond their own ideas of "hell," and that word falls short in conveying the truth about war. But, no doubt he did the best he could to describe it in such few words. War—today—is the mad scramble of millions of men foaming for the blood of their fellows—"enemies." They are possessed, each with ten thousand demons and equipped with the "glories" of our boasted "scientific" instruments of destruction!

The result is gruesome! Add together all the horrors of all you have heard, seen, imagined and dreamed and then pronounce that word "gruesome". There, now, you have the best description possible to you of what war is—if you will multiply that by a thousand!

And what does war accomplish for the happiness, peace and prosperity of mankind? The answer is zero—and a thousand times worse!

Then, why war? Who makes it? Turn to the fourth chapter of the book of James, in the New Testament, and you will find the answer to both these questions and also the remedy for war. Read the first 10 verses.

Next Sunday's subjects at the church of Christ are: "The Covenant Prophecies," and "A Gold Mine From Heaven."

We invite you to the "Church with the Open Bible."

SHAMROCK PUBLISHER HAS WEEK-END AUTO SMASHUP

According to a report in his paper, the Shamrock Texan, Albert Cooper, publisher, suffered severe bruises and shock when his car overturned Saturday night near Memphis. A tire blow-out is given as cause of the mishap, which practically demolished the machine.

Cooper is reported as resting well at his home in Shamrock, but will be somewhat stove-up for a while. The publishing fraternity will extend sympathy and hopes for a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Gordon Stiles a Gracious Hostess

Rivaling any of the other affairs that interest society the first days of the new season was the dinner party given by Mrs. Gordon Stiles at her ranch home last Wednesday evening. The reception rooms and dinner table were decorated with graceful arrangements of autumn blossoms and foliage. Hallowe'en decorations added a festive note to the occasion.

Members and guests of the Martha Sunday school class of the First Baptist church were seated at the spacious dining table. Mrs. Lee Guthrie, teacher of the class, sat at the head of the table and offered the invocation. The hostess was assisted in serving by Miss Beth Stiles.

Times Loses Operator

Eddie R. Owen, Intertype operator on The Wheeler Times for more than two years, together with Mrs. Owen, left this week for Omaha, Neb., where they will visit his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Julian for a while.

Owen came here from Charles City, Iowa, in April, 1934 and except for a brief interval had been typesetter for The Times. He has an opportunity to secure a position in the Federal Land Bank at Omaha and couldn't afford to reject the advancement. Mr. and Mrs. Owen made many friends during their stay in Wheeler who regret their departure.

Plans Complete for Red Cross Campaign

Roll Call to Start November 11—Ends Thanksgiving—Funds Needed Badly

The annual roll call for Wheeler chapter of the American Red Cross will begin on Armistice Day, Nov. 11, and end on Thanksgiving Day. There is little need to remind citizens of this community how vital the Red Cross is to the life of our country. During the past year innumerable needs of suffering humanity have been met and assuaged by Red Cross ministrations.

The frequency with which this need does arise has been demonstrated during the past 12 months when floods, tornadoes, hurricanes and epidemics have been suffered in various parts of this great country, and the work that the Red Cross has done to relieve distress and actual suffering as a result of these catastrophes. Other but less spectacular work carried on by the Red Cross has been just as important.

The Red Cross comes now with another appeal for membership dues that will finance the work during the year ahead. Our Red Cross asks little from the community, yet contributes much to the general welfare of the people.

Membership fees are: $1, annual; $5, contributing; $10, sustaining; $25, supporting.

Only 50 cents of each of these is remitted to the national organization. The remainder stays in Wheeler for local work.

Officers of the Wheeler chapter are as follows:

Dr. H. E. Nicholson, chairman. Lonnie Lee, vice chairman. Miss Clara Finsterwald, secretary-treasurer.

The service chairmen: D. A. Hunt, first aid. H. J. Garrison, highway first aid. Tom Britt, home and farm accident prevention.

R. G. Russ, life saving. C. G. Miller, home service and publicity.

G. O. McCrohan, disaster preparedness.

Dr. Nicholson is roll call chairman this year. Membership objective for the chapter is 100. This figure is set as the minimum and not the ultimate goal, because the coming year promises great need for Red Cross help in many ways.

Program for Regular P-T. A. Meet Tuesday

Blending of Serious and Comical Promises Instruction and Entertainment

According to Miss Imogene Holbert, publicity chairman, the following program will be given at the regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers association on Tuesday evening, Nov. 3. Honesty from the Standpoint of the Child—C. C. Merritt.

Honesty from the Standpoint of the Community—Mrs. Cliff Weatherly.

Sing-song. Concluding number of the program will be the "wedding" of Miss Ura Nut and Mr. Izzy Bright. These two young people are very popular in the community and it is expected that a goodly crowd will be present at their nuptials.

CAMPAIGN NEARS END

As the campaign enters its closing days, it is becoming the liveliest and most aggressive in many a year. Not since the war have both the principal figures in a presidential race referred so directly or cuttingly to each other. Recent Landon speeches offer the New Deal no quarter. And recent Roosevelt speeches have pulled no punches.

This is in sharp contrast to early indications, when it appeared that little rancor or bitterness would be shown during the entire campaign. But the stakes are big and worth fighting for. Aside from financial or honorary considerations, each of the major party candidates claim ideals and objectives of far-reaching consequence, hence have injected a new phase into the contest.

Hoover almost never referred to his opposition, either in 1928 or 1932. And Harding and Coolidge did not have to put much effort into campaigning—their elections were foregone certainties, with the betting odds running as high as 40 to 1 in 1920. Odds in the present campaign, however, are comparatively small, ranging 2 to 1, 3 to 2 and 12 to 5 in favor of the incumbent.

This aggressiveness on the part of the candidates is serving to clear the air and bring the issues into relief. It is dissipating some of the tremendous vagueness that characterizes both platforms, with their cautiously worded "escape clauses."

But there is considerable question as to whether the candidates' closing drives can enlist new followers in any number. Polls show relatively little change in recent weeks. All the polls indicate that the vote is extremely close in most of the big states, and that the winner will emerge victorious by a very small percentage of the ballots, so far as popular vote is concerned. Electoral vote is another matter—a candidate who received only a little over 50 per cent of the popular vote could attain a large majority in the electoral college.

THE INVISIBLE GUEST

"Today there is an invisible guest who sits at the table of every family in the country," said Lewis H. Brown, president of Johns-Manville, recently. "He is the invisible tax-eater, who collects the hidden taxes. When the housewife purchases three pork chops, the butcher weighs them out, but only wraps up two. The third he gives to this invisible guest."

Every family in America is supporting this "invisible guest." Something like 20 per cent of all the money we earn goes to his support, directly or indirectly. And he will take still more in the future, when the days of reckoning come and we must pay our staggering governmental debts—federal, state and local.

Taxation is a great issue—but it should not be regarded as a partisan political issue. Men high in both our major parties have paid lip service to tax reduction, and then, through their acts, brought about higher taxes. Politics, left to its own devices, expands its operations and grows constantly more expensive.

Whether one is a Republican, a Democrat, a Socialist, taxation is one of the largest items in the budget. Irrespective of the political party in power, only the strong force of concentrated public opinion can bring about tax reduction and remove a menace to industrial development, savings, employment—and economic prosperity.

"YOU, AND YOU, AND YOU . . ."

Under the headline, "And Innocents Still Die," the Saratoga, (N. Y.) Saratogian recently printed a striking editorial. It said:

Americans read with horror the lurid stories from Spain of a conflict taking an average of perhaps 1,000 lives a day.

Horrible! Yet in the last seven months 18,560 Americans have also been killed, violently, their blood crimsoning the pavements, their mutilation and agonies no less sickening and sharp.

They are just as dead as their Spanish brothers, without even such satisfaction as there may be in dying for a cause.

They are the traffic victims. If their toll increases during the latter part of the year, as it usually does, then the casualty list will be higher this year than ever before. Last year

37,000 died, probably a greater cost in life than the Spanish revolt toll to date.

This in spite of widespread safety drives and a mass of publicity for highway safety that has not been equaled in many years.

Get what solace you can from the thought that this increased toll probably is due primarily to more cars on the roads. Gasoline consumption was up 10 per cent in May as compared to a year ago, and traffic is probably up in proportion. Your own observation of tourists and traffic in town will verify this.

Statistical sharks figure that the details per 10,000,000 gallons of gasoline used have actually lessened somewhat, which is hopeful. But the fact that certain states have made marked reductions in their traffic toll augurs badly for the others.

New Hampshire, for instance reports a 31 per cent reduction. That means that somebody else is falling down on the job.

Tentative figures do tend to show that states which have rigid drivers' license laws have been leaders in reducing their auto toll, since those laws make it easier to get obviously dangerous drivers off the streets.

But, in the long run, the law won't settle the problem. It can't. Nobody can make a genuine dent in the slaughter of the innocents except you, and you, and you. The man behind the wheel is the one who holds in his hands life and death, not only for himself, but for others.

THE "GYPSY TRUCKSTER"

Writing in the magazine "Today," Arthur Train, vividly describes the "Gypsy Truckster" industry.

A "gypsy truckster" is usually a man who has failed in some other calling and is inveigled by high-pressure sales methods into purchasing a truck. The seller of the truck guarantees that the purchaser will be given a freight permit grossing $200 or more a week, which will enable him to soon pay for the truck on installments, and provide him with a handsome income in addition.

The buyer really gets the contract—and he can make money, if he can stand the gaff. One incident is cited where the contract called for 18 hours on the road, followed by five hours sleep, then an hour loading heavy freight—followed by the 18-hour return trip. This is not unusual—some contracts demand that the truck owner keep at the wheel for 24 hours or more at a stretch, in addition to the time taken for loading and unloading.

The upshot of all this is that the "gypsy trucking" industry has created one of the worst accident hazards. Drivers go to sleep—and often they wake up in the hereafter, along with the innocent occupants of a car with which their 20-ton juggernaut has collided.

Legitimate trucking companies, of course, see to it that drivers' shifts are not too long. But the "gypsy truckster," by cutting rates, has managed to get hold of a good share of the trucking business for himself, and there is danger that he will grow in number.

The solution, of course, is regulation that will make it impossible for a man to operate a truck on the public highways for hours on end without rest. Such laws are necessary to the protection of the public and the "gypsy truckster" himself—and they would also help to bring some order out of our chaotic transportation situation.

WORLD'S GREATEST CLIMATE

With the perversity of the average Texan, who likes to run down his own country (but doesn't like for anybody else to do so) we pass unnoticed the wonderful climatic conditions such as we have had the past 15 days and insist on recalling the awful dust storm experienced a year or so ago, or the sudden norther experienced last fall or are sure to have later this fall.

As a matter of fact one experiences in West Texas more wonderful days,

TIMES IS POPULAR NAME

News is by far the most popular name for newspapers, for with 321 separate papers, "News" forms a part or whole of the name. Times is next in popularity with 189 papers of that name; followed by 140 Heralds and 136 Journals. Other names ranking high are Tribune, Record, Press, Post and Sun. The names News, Times, Herald, Journal and Tribune form a part or whole of the names of at least 50 per cent of all American newspapers.

more simply splendid nights, than in most any other section of the United States. But because our weather is temperamental and raises Old Cain when the signs are right, we play up its tantrums and minimize the long periods when to live in West Texas is to live where nature gives its most benign smiles.—Floyd County Hesperian.

The mothers of the Wellington band boys are making a drive to raise money to buy suits for the band members. If the band is going to do the town any real good they must have suits. This is a movement in which every person should pitch in and help the mothers.—Wellington Leader.

Drinking among automobile drivers cannot be classed as habit, but as a menace. After the accident in Amarillo Sunday, the police made a drive on drunken drivers, and both jails in the city were filled in a short time. Jail is the only safe place for the drunk driver. On the outside, he is a menace to the safety of everyone, including himself.—McLean News.

Christmas is only two months away and we're wondering if the time-worn slogan "mail your Christmas packages early" will be as effective since H. R. Eakins circled the globe on commercial transports in less than 18½ days. Speaking over a national hookup Saturday night from his home at Uvalde following a hard day at picking up pecans, vice president Garner came out flat-footedly for President Roosevelt. BLOW-OUT ACCIDENT INJURES TWO

A blow-out in a front tire nearly caused a serious accident on the turnpike yesterday. A child and three adults were in the car and all four of the occupants were badly shaken up. Two of them were treated by a nearby doctor for minor injuries. Witnesses said they heard a loud "Bang" just before the car plunged off the road.

The driver made every effort to hold the car on the road, but the terrific drag on the wheel could not be before the car swerved. The car, a large one, was wrecked, requiring to be removed.

"Safety First" Is a Goodrich Tradition

Akron Tire Manufacturing Concern Started Original Campaign Way Back in 1913

According to verified records the B. F. Goodrich company of Akron, Ohio, started America's original "Safety First" campaign in 1913 while the automobile was in its infancy declares Harry Garrison, local Goodrich tire dealer.

"This pioneer safety movement called for the erection of signs along the nation's highways to warn motorists of dangerous curves, intersections, and other death traps. Many of these signs are still in service.

"Other Goodrich contributions, which for 22 years have kept pace with the rapid growth of the automobile industry are the Goodrich Safety tread, the first non-skid tire; the Goodrich Balloon Tire with its button tread, designed to make motoring more comfortable, economical and safer; the Goodrich Safety Silver-town with the Life-Saver Golden Ply, the first tire specifically designed to combat the danger of high speed blow-outs.

"In addition to these revolutionary product developments Goodrich sponsored the silver fleet which in 1929 drove 30,000 miles in the interests of safe driving and long distance motoring. And in 1931 it founded the Silver-town Safety league. A common sense code of safe driving was written and it is claimed that this pledge has since been signed by nearly two million motorists."

In Eighteen Thirty-Six
By F. M. MONTGOMERY

In Texas, where I have my home Under the stars of heaven's wide dome; Oh here, where men of worth and might, Armed themselves in the cause of right; Wrested their freedom from Mexico And made immortal the Alamo.

They were pioneers of great renown: Cast the tyrant Santa Ana down. The Lone Star flag was waving high O'er brave men not afraid to die. At the Alamo they all did fall— For they were heroes one and all.

At San Jacinto they did bravely ride: Remember the Alamo, they cried, And with this heroic yell They met the butchers with shot and shell. The Lone Star Republic was ushered in— Their freedom they at last did win. One hundred years ago 'twas done, And Texas' independence won.

Now that the birth of the Dionne quintuplets is blamed upon sun spots and cosmic rays, we have a new excuse to make when, because of oversleep, we arrive late at the office. — Hereford Brand.

MUSIC

Music is an expression of the zest of life—an earnest of the true art of living. Songs are not so much to be studied as enjoyed and felt. Music masters bring to us moments of ecstasy, of high resolve; some times of doubt and despair—for all of life we need. Through unity, harmony and rhythm we get flashes of beauty, wonder, majesty and power—that is to say we are taught the meaning of life, and are given the impulse to do and to dare. The mightiest force in all life is feeling, groping desire; and to this innate urge music has much to give. She enriches empires and liberates worlds.

The child is to come to look upon music not as a task, a duty; as a means of discipline, a mark of gentility; neither, indeed, is he to think of it as a subject which he must master to secure his certificate or his diploma. No! He must look on the music period as a time of real joy and genuine exultation—quite as impelling as swimming or basketball; and like them, thrilling and purposeful.—CLEO FAYE SHELburne.

Old Fort Elliott Site Gets Marker

Highway Department Erects Granite Monument on Site of Early Military Post

A beautiful granite monument now marks the site of old Fort Elliott. The marker was erected Thursday, Oct. 22, under supervision of a state highway department engineer.

Oliver Elliott, and Geo. B. Dunn, custodian at the old fort until it was abandoned in 1889, were interviewed Oct. 9. They accompanied the engineer to the location on which the monument was erected.

Funds for the marker were appropriated by the legislature in honor of Centennial year.

The monument is one of several hundred erected throughout Texas to point out old landmarks and places of historical interest. It bears the following inscription:

Site of
FORT ELLIOTT
Established June 5, 1875

One of the last forts established in Texas for the purpose of clearing the region of Indians. Around it Mobeetie, a rendezvous of buffalo hunters and traders, grew up. The post was abandoned in 1889.

Local 4-H Club Boys Create Organization

Officers Chosen and Year's Work Planned—Fifteen Charter Members in Club

The Mobeetie 4-H club boys met in the agriculture room of the high school Wednesday, Oct. 21, and organized for the coming year's work. Officers chosen are:

President—W. T. Johnson.
Vice President—Edd Johnson.
Secretary—W. C. Johnson.
Reporter—Adrian Love.

There are 15 charter members in the club. They are all determined to have at least one gold star member out of this group.

After a lecture at Wednesday's meeting by E. Goule, assistant county agent, on the importance of club work and the need to keep records, the boys are resolved to keep their records up to date from now on.

Present at the meeting was Wheeler county's stock judging team: J. C. Erskine, James Passons, L. C. Erskine and W. C. Burrell. The entire county is behind this team and is expecting them to win high honors in the judging contest at Chicago next month.

Blankinship Attends Meeting

Supt. M. D. Blankinship went to Plainview Saturday and attended a meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Superintendents association.

WATCH THE GRADES MOVE UPWARD!

There has been a great improvement made in the grades this first six weeks over the first six weeks of last year. Last year 30 per cent of the enrollment failed to pass in three or more subjects, as compared with only 6 per cent this year.

The students are doing extra good work this year, as 29 per cent of all students made one of the five divisions of the honor roll this six weeks.

Carnival Scheduled for Saturday Night

Interesting Attractions Promised—Many New Features—Also the Old Favorites

Do you want to have a lot of fun? Then come to the carnival Saturday night, Oct. 31, in the high school gym. We will have a number of interesting attractions this time. Of course, the old favorites remain, but we also have some new ones.

Your money, whether pennies or dollars, will be well spent.

Let us make it a social gathering for the community Saturday night, and all have a good time.

We'll be seeing you at the gym.

MOBEETIE BUSINESS MEN HELP OUT SCHOOL AGAIN

The business men of Mobeetie have made it possible for the school to be well supplied with book covers this year without cost to any student.

The school appreciates this help immensely and would like for the community to remember these men who have been so good as to take advertisements for this purpose.

THANKS

The faculty and student body wishes to thank you, Ralph Martin, for use of the loud speaker on the stage Thursday night. We appreciate your effort and splendid co-operation in installing it.

High School Program Last Thursday Night Attracts Record Attendance

Fort Worth School Asks Information

Mr. Knowles received a letter a few days ago from a student of North Side high school, Fort Worth, asking for information concerning Mobeetie and the history of the town. This student asked that some class or organization answer the list of questions enclosed and return them.

The government class, which has taken over the responsibility of answering the questions, elected Irvine Scribner, Zelma Elliott and A. B. Crump as a committee.

The letter stated that this material would be used in their Centennial project and that all information sent to them will appear in a bound volume, on exhibit at the November meeting of the Texas State Teacher's association.

Clarendon Bronchos Met Hornets Friday

Was First Home Conference Tilt for Mobeetie—Visitors Win With 6-0 Score

Friday afternoon, Oct. 23, from 2 to 3:30, a mighty battle was waged between the Clarendon Bronchos and the Mobeetie Hornets. It was the first conference game of the season played on Mobeetie's home field.

The score was 6-0 in Clarendon's favor, the only counter being made in the first quarter of the contest.

Supt. M. D. Blankinship expressed surprise at the school's spirit (he didn't know it had any). It is not known whether he expected indignation at the remark or that it would just be "taken." Anyway, it was a good game, with plenty of pep and first-class exhibition of determination and enthusiasm.

Purely Entertainment Affair Given to Show School's Appreciation of Its Supporters

On Thursday night, Oct. 22, a program was presented before one of the largest crowds ever assembled in the gymnasium-auditorium of Mobeetie high school.

Intent of the program was purely an entertainment feature for the parents and friends of high school students, and as such it succeeded admirably. No charge of any kind was made, and all were welcome to come.

The affair came in response to a special request by Supt. Blankinship to "give the people something free as proof of the school's appreciation of them." Students understood the motive prompting the affair and entered whole-heartedly into the plan, volunteering their services, and enjoying it immensely themselves.

The evening's entertainment was given in two divisions. The first consisted of stunts by the four classes in high school. The latter part was a miscellaneous offering of music, readings and other numbers in imitation of a Major Bowes amateur hour.

Melvin Pettit was station announcer and appeared to get on splendidly at the microphone.

The program committee arranging the event consisted of Miss Simpson, W. D. Hawkins and Mrs. Blankinship.

New Grading System for the Honor Roll

Five Divisions in New Grouping Plan on Point System Now in Effect

Mobeetie has adopted a new system of grading for the honor roll this year. A's count four grade points, B's three points, C's two points. The honor roll is then divided into five groups. The following students made the honor roll in the respective groups.

Group 1—Sixteen grade points: Isabel Fultz and Blanche Brannon.

Group 2—Fifteen grade points: Melvin Pettit.

Group 3—Fourteen grade points: Mildred Eubanks, Warren Thompson, Myrtle Trusty, Wilber Roberts, Clyde Pugh, Zelma Elliott, Pauline Oswald, Irvine Scribner and Ruth Haning.

Group 4—Thirteen grade points: Lois Farmer, Leo Fisk, Roy Lee, Darlene Shahan, Bob St. John, Wilton Sims, Chester Green and Wauline Haynes.

Group 5—Twelve grade points: Ishmael Sims, Margaret Benson, Leon Barton, Delora Ferguson, Ida Lou Ward, Lucille Gardner, Helen Dyson, Ila Opal Brewtser and Claud Turner.

There is a total of 29 students having at least 12 grade points, and 25 per cent of the enrollment of Mobeetie high school is on the honor roll this six weeks.

OUR TEACHERS

We high school students
 Are very pleased,
 And wish to thank
 Our trustees
 For hiring us such Teachers as these.

There is Mr. Hawkins
 And Mr. Meek.—
 One is small,
 But not at all weak;
 The other is large and
 Very well liked;
 In truth they resemble
 Pat and Mike.

Then there is Mr. and
 Mrs. Blankinship;
 You had better watch
 Out and not make a slip
 For he talks a good bit
 With impressive words
 And she does her best.
 To teach the kids verbs.

And there's Miss Wilson
 And Miss Simpson too;
 But to play bad pranks,
 I wouldn't advise you.
 Miss Wilson is very
 Quiet and nice,
 But Miss Simpson had
 Better not tell you twice.

Then there's Mr. Knowles
 Who has lots of work
 Such as making rules for the children,
 Then watch that they don't shirk.
 But take it all as a
 General rule,
 We students say our teachers
 Help make a good school.

English Class Health Talks

The high school has received from the Red Cross a quantity of literature on the knowledge, prevention and treatment of tuberculosis. This material has been placed in the study hall, where every student has access to it and are encouraged to read it.

In addition to this, one student from each English class has made an oral report on the material after carefully studying and arranging subject matter from the pamphlets. Following this report, the class discussed the material and devoted the class period to general health discussion.

D. V. Biggers of Lefors, former teammate of Coach Meek, helped officiate the game between Clarendon and Mobeetie, Friday.

NEW BULLETIN BOARDS AND MIRROR INSTALLED

The girls in the home ec. room were delighted when they came to school this morning, Monday, Oct. 26, to find that a new mirror had been added to the equipment. It is five and one-half feet high and one and one-half feet wide. It will be so much help in the sewing classes, as the girls are now working on their dresses. The one that was in the room will be moved to the girls dressing room. Also new bulletin boards are being added to each room and the English and home ec. rooms have already been equipped.

Melba Robison, third grade pupils, and a song by the third grade.

Rhythm Band Organized

A Rhythm band of 30 members was organized last week by Miss Esther Morrison and Miss Lula Mae Cook.

News from the second grade room newspaper:

Bud Carroll Scribner attended the Texas Centennial at Dallas last week.

Charles Waters visited his uncle in Childress last Sunday.

Vernie and Vera Mixon visited in Erick, Okla., Sunday.

Our room is working on a farm unit. The sand table represents a modern farm home scene. Posters and drawings are being made about the farm.

A section is reading and studying about Indians. We are making Indian costumes, posters and booklets.

Mrs. Garland Key visited our room this week.

The grade school appreciates very much, having the basketball court back in condition for playing. The janitor, Leo Cupples, has done a lot of work on the back boards and goal posts and there is a very noticeable improvement.

GRADUATES OF 1936

The Outlook is happy to report that Arlie Lee, who has been ill with appendicitis, is recovering rapidly. She is now employed at the Rexall Drug store at Wheeler.

 Mr. Green, are you still trying to auction off St. Peter's record book?

JUNIOR NEWS

We have noticed lately that Warren doesn't have his tie clasp. For further information ask Darlene.
 There has been some important mail entering school. Such that it takes 13c to bring it.
 Mary Jane (Delos Hill) stated in English III that she couldn't be up but one night a week without being dead for sleep, while others could be up two or three times a week and it would never bother them. "How strange."
 The juniors are very proud of their football honors this year. They are Warren, Charles, Ishmael and F. P.
 We wonder why Eunice seemed to be so excited Monday morning. There must have been some Pampa visitors in town.
 The junior girls are looking forward to the time when they can wear their wristlets.
 It seems that all the juniors feel

CLASS TO BE ORGANIZED

Since the school board and Mr. Blankinship have made it possible to offer vocational home economics here, we are striving to have an up-to-the minute program.
 Another step toward this goal will be taken Wednesday evening, Nov. 4, at 7:30, at the high school when an adult homemaking class will be organized. At this time the subject, time and place of meeting will be discussed.
 There are 195 high schools in Texas teaching such classes, and we are quite eager to place Mobeetie on that list.
 better after taking some of Dr. Cheatum's new medicine, Klinik Kosological Kure. Wilbur is well on his way to recovery after his operation.
 We have been expecting Charles to start walking home most any evening, he likes to walk so well. For further information see Delora.
 The juniors are very proud of their natural-born tap-dancer, Miss Vineta McCain.

The Fish Pond

Well, the fish are still swimming. The water was rather muddy for a while, and seemed to get worse the nearer we came to six-weeks test time. It has begun to clear some now, however, and we feel lucky that most of us can still swim up stream.
 Our class "stunt" went over rather nicely last Thursday night even if we did have a lot of trouble getting together for practice.
 The freshmen are proud of a number of good grades made by members of their class this six weeks. I have, in mind one boy, Albert Trout, who made an A on math and English test papers. We thought Albert had "something up his sleeve" all the time with all those books. Besides, he plays football and is a good player.
 However, Albert is not the only good football man from the freshman class. Some of the others are: Frank Lawrence, Ed Johnson, Lawrence Scribner, J. P. Red, Willis Red, Thirl Sims and John Bond. These boys are making good grades, too, besides they took part in the program last Thursday night. You should hear John Bond play the harp.
 Well so long, even a fish must have some sleep.
 P. S: We have more outstanding boys and a number of girls. I'll tell you about them soon.

Local News Items

Roy Lee has been visiting the Centennial and other southern points.
 The faculty members were invited to a social given in the gymnasium Tuesday night, Oct. 27, by the 4-H club boys and girls.

Club Notes

Happenings of Interest by and for Home Demonstration Club Women of the County.

Meeting Briscoe Home Demonstration Club
 I would judge from the bouquets with which roll call was answered Sept. 1, when Briscoe club met with our yard demonstrator, Mrs. Cliff Sivage, that few flowers other than zinnias were able to withstand the extended drouth. One exception is the tube rose, which bloomed wonderfully well with no watering whatsoever.
 In speaking of the things she has accomplished so far, as she showed us over her yard, Mrs. Sivage called attention to the plants that had done well; those that had barely held their own, and those that had passed out entirely. This is the first year of her three year's work as yard demonstrator.
 A report of the tri-ennial conference of the Country Women of the World at Washington, D. C., June 1-5, 1936, was read by Miss Jones.
 Those present were: Mesdames Ramsey, McCarroll, Smith, Standlee, Sivage, Greenhouse, Candler, Lamberth, C. H. Candler, Ridgway and Misses Jones and Riley.—MISS RILEY, Substitute Reporter.

Allison Homemakers News

Several improvements have been made in the kitchens of the Homemakers' club, as each member answered the roll call by telling how they improved their kitchen.
 Mrs. Peeples sent in her resignation as secretary, which was accepted by the club. Miss Jones made an announcement concerning council to be held Oct. 17 at Wheeler.
 There were general discussions concerning height of working surfaces and ways in which screens can be mended. Each kitchen goal was talked about separately.
 Miss Jones gave a report on a lecture given by Dr. Montgomery, who is head of the economics department of Texas University.
 Refreshments were served to the following by Maud Levitt and Edna Richardson: Nell Ball, Mona Bean, Ida Begert, Verna Lee Begert, Edna Begert, Emma Copeland, Delia Drake, Ann Hamilton, Myrtle Jones, Maud Keiper, Winnie Kiker, Edith Levitt, Jaunita Levitt, Grace Lee, Ella McCoy, Beula Reed, Emily Richardson, Olive Warren and Daphne Pugh. Mrs.

After the club adjourned we visited the kitchen demonstrator, Edna Richardson, who showed her kitchen improvements and read her story.

4-H Club Luncheon

The Wheeler 4-H club girls met Tuesday morning at the court house for a buffet luncheon which consisted of potato salad, lightbread, canned peaches and pears, pickles, three kinds of cake and hot chocolate. These dishes were prepared by the girls. The girls were excused at 10:20. They then had an official club meeting and played several games while the luncheon was being prepared. The hostesses were Elsie Weeks and Virginia Burgess, the guest of honor being Mrs. C. R. Flynt.
 There were 36 girls present.
 At the next meeting officers will be elected for next year.

If farm men and women, boys and girls, would form community agricultural associations and really work at the job, they could have the kind of home life they have been dreaming about for many years, Miss Viola Jones told the home demonstration club women of Briscoe that met in the home of Mrs. Bob Greenhouse, Tuesday, Oct. 6.

Mrs. Greenhouse is kitchen demonstrator for her club and displayed her kitchen, which she says is not complete, but expects to have it so if her plans work out by Jan. 1. Mrs. Greenhouse re-arranged her home, making more bedrooms and moving her kitchen to a new part of the house. She has papered the entire house and refinished the woodwork. One of the most attractive features is a bench used for the dining table and also a storage box. To complete her work, Mrs. Greenhouse plans to raise her sink and pipe the water in and out.

The women went from the Greenhouse home to that of Mrs. C. H. Candler to view her handiwork, as she is also kitchen demonstrator. Her kitchen, with a color scheme of red, white and black, was a delight to the eye and made the hot chocolate and cookies that she served taste much better.

Those present were: Mrs. John McCarroll, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Smith, Mrs. Bob Ramsey, Mrs. Bob Greenhouse, Mrs. Perry Riley, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Candler, Mrs. Cliff Sivage, Miss Viola Jones and Miss Tamsey Riley.—MISS TAMSEY RILEY, Reporter.

Morgan Back In School

Martin Morgan was absent from school all last week because of a foot injury received in the game with Shamrock Oct. 12.

Morgan is back in school, on crutches, and will be unable to play again this season.

The team will miss Morgan, but we are glad he is able to be back in school again.

Mobeetie to Play
Lefors Friday Night

The Mobeetie Hornets will meet Lefors on their home gridiron Friday night. According to dope, the two teams rate about even, each having lost to Clarendon, 6-0.

This should be a good game, folks. Let's all go over and see it.

A. V. A. CONVENTION AT SAN ANTONIO EARLY IN DECEMBER

The American Vocational association will be held in San Antonio Dec. 2-5. This is the first time this association has come to the Southwest.

Since the district conferences are over, this is the one meeting we shall stress this year. Talk it over now with your superintendent and see if you cannot interest him in attending and also arrange to attend yourself and help make this meeting a success. Note the date on your calendar. We cannot contribute to your expense but the truly "professional minded" will be willing to sacrifice something to attend a national meeting within our state.

If your superintendent is willing you may report the expense of attendance on your monthly expense blanks, but this will reduce the amount you will have for putting over your local program.

The Social Register

On Oct. 15, Miss Louise Roper was our distinguished and welcomed guest.

The program put on by the high school on Thursday evening, Oct. 22, was enjoyed by a large number of people.

J. C. Eubanks, a former student of Mobeetie, visited high school on Oct. 23.

A number of girls were the guests in other girls' homes this week. Lucille Gardner spent the night with Ruth Haning. Margaret Benson spent the night with Wilma Sims. Dona Atkins was a guest in the home of Aileen Lancaster. Eileen Lancaster was a guest in the home of Maurita Dunn. Hazel Thomas spent the night with Ida Lou Ward.

Nadine Owens entertained Odessa Futch and Ida Lou Ward with a candy-making slumber party on Saturday night, Oct. 16.

Omer and Paul Harréll, former students of Mobeetie high school, who recently moved to Pampa, were visitors in Mobeetie on Thursday evening and attended the high school program.

Lee Slagle of Shamrock, whose last year in Mobeetie was 1934, visited school on Friday afternoon, Oct. 23.

Letter Men Continue
School Attendance

Some people are inclined to believe that about all many boys attend school for is to play football, but there are four boys in Mobeetie high school who are not playing this year. These boys are not eligible for football because of too many semesters in high school, but they continue to come and are working hard.

In fact, none of the boys who attended last year and became ineligible for this semester, have dropped out.

The faculty and students are proud of these last year's letter men who are seeking to increase their store of knowledge through further study. They are A. B. Crump, Fred Farmer, Roland Dyson and Wilbur Sims.

REAL
Progress by 1935-1936
Annual Reports

High School Homemaking Depts.

In Texas for the year 1935-1936, a total of 611 day schools, of which 87 were negro schools, received aid for homemaking classes; an increase of 79 new schools over previous years, of which 16 were negro schools.

A total of 721 homemaking teacher's salaries subsidized in the day schools; 632 of these were white and 89 were negro teachers; an increase of 147 over previous year.

A total of 44,091 students were enrolled; 4,037 of this number were negroes; an increase of 9,917 students over previous year.

Boys studying homemaking numbered 1,248; 90 of this number being colored; an increase of 319 over previous year.

Two state conferences were held during the year. One was for white teachers and the other for colored teachers.

Adult Classes

Evening classes were held in 195 schools; of which 42 were colored schools; an increase of 114 over previous year.

The total enrollment in adult classes was 12,210, of which 475 were men. Of this number 1,120 women and 35 men were negroes.

One white and one colored part-time class showed an enrollment of 434, of which 96 were negroes.

Adding part-time and evening classes, a grand total of 12,644 adults were reached; 12,073 women and 475 men in the white schools; 1,216 women and 35 men in colored schools; an increase of 1,671 adults over previous years.

Two hundred thirty-two white teachers and 47 negro teachers were employed in evening and part-time classes.

Ten parent education workers were employed in the state. Through these groups a total of 5,555 parents reached. Of this number 5,000 were men. These figures were included in the adult totals above; an increase over previous year of 330 parents, of which 228 were men.

Home Projects and Improved Practices

Improved practices in the homes of students is the best criterion for judging the effectiveness of homemaking programs as a whole. In order to observe this progress home visitation is necessary. Last year 60.4% of homes represented were visited.

Conference Well Attended

We were gratified with attendance at the 22 district conferences held the first week in September throughout the state. We find that a total of 528 teachers attended, of which 421 were vocational teachers. The state conference for negro teachers was held at Prairie View in June with 38 negro teachers in attendance.

WHEELER, TEXAS

Mustang-McLean Mix-Up Friday

Strong Mustangs Due for Crucial Test in Tonight's Game

The district championship will probably be partly decided tomorrow night, when the undefeated Wheeler Mustangs meet the strong McLean Tigers on the Wheeler gridiron. The Tigers are last season champions of District "3". They went through last year undefeated, until the regional contest, where they were defeated by Matador, 13 to 0.

The McLean eleven defeated the Mustangs 18 to 0 last year and the local lads think that it would be sweet revenge if the Mustangs defeated the Tigers this season.

Having defeated the Lakeview Eagles by 7 to 6, the Mustangs have kept their slate clean of defeats and have six wins under their belts, with three more games yet to play. These games remaining are with McLean, Shamrock and Lefors. If they win these, they will be crowned district winners.

The Tigers were defeated by the Wellington Sykrocks 24 to 0. This was their first conference defeat. The Mustangs defeated the Skyrockets 12 to 6, but it was said that the Wellington eleven had greatly improved since that date. It should be a real game and the score close.

Coach Bob Clark is sending his team through hard workouts this week in preparation for the Tiger-Mustang affair. For if the Wheeler eleven expects to beat the McLean team they must be in perfect shape.

Fans from near and far are expected to travel to Wheeler to witness the game between two strong elevens. A crowd that will probably surpass that of any game this year is expected to be on hand.

The probable starting lineup will be as follows:

Ends, Emler, Maxwell; Tackles, Shipman, Tillman; Guards, Green, Whitener; Center, Weeks; Backfield, Ford, Derryberry, Groves, Norman.

W. T. S. T. C. ALUMNI MEET IN CANYON SATURDAY

Home-coming at Canyon, for the alumni of W. T. S. T. C., will be held Saturday, Oct. 31. The main speaker at this big fete will be Bennett Champ Clark, U. S. senator.

There will be a barbecue at 12 o'clock for all who wish to attend it. In the afternoon will be a football game between Canyon and Sul Ross. Several other events of minor importance will be of much interest to those who attend.

Several of the Wheeler high school teachers plan to attend this meeting.

Stage All Set for Hallowe'en Fun Frolic by Parent-Teachers

Creeping, Crawling Creatures Cramped In Glass Containers

To walk into the science room gives you a creepy feeling, since the collection of specimens has grown so large.

There is a long centipede preserved in a jar, which looks as if it might crawl out the first time the lid of its case was taken off.

A quart jar of leopard frogs are upon the shelf, but there are too many in the jar to allow much hopping around. These frogs are something like bullfrogs, having long legs, but have large white spots on them.

A case of star-fish, which doesn't look like fish at all, but is a perfect five pointed star. A vial of creepy looking earthworms is in the group, while beside them is a jar of grasshoppers. A case of hermit crabs and a case of crayfish are among the life-like specimens.

Bottles of acids are upon the shelf marked with skull and cross-bones. One shelf looks like a kitchen shelf, for it contains cornstarch, flour, starch, yeast, corn syrup and sugar.

Seems like almost all schools are going to have an annual Hallowe'en carnival.

Wheeler is also going to have a carnival. Everyone plan to attend it. Hallowe'en night, October 31.

Presidential Race Turning Out to Be Hottest in History

Hooray! Roosevelt!
Hooray! Landon!

No, we're not making a campaign speech or anything like that, but it is just five more days until the election of the president of the United States.

"Who will be our president?" This question is in the minds of more than a few people today.

Both the Democratic and Republican parties have gone to extremes to win their cause. "Public Sale" sheets have been published by the Democratic party offering "for sale" the platform of the Republican party. Much ridicule was made of the party in the publishing of this slip.

A similar sheet was published by the Republican party "selling" the contents of the Democratic platform, their promises of the future and their faults of the past.

Free Floor Show to Be Presented

Full Evening's Entertainment to Be Given in High School Building

"An' the gobble-uns 'll git you Ef you don't watch out!"

Comes Saturday night ushering in the old witch with all her black cats, brooms, bats and ghosts of all description. Spooks that creep and talk! The cry of the old black cat down the back fence heralds the hour when he shall call forth all the spirits of Hallowe'en and be king until midnight.

Realizing that every boy and girl from the ages of 5 to 55 loves to have fun and frolic on Hallowe'en night, the Parent-Teachers association of Wheeler has arranged to stage a carnival at the high school building Saturday evening at 7 o'clock.

There will be many attractions and side shows to entertain you. There will be a dark dungeon, a House of Horrors, a booth "For Men Only," the witch's pot, jiggling, a cake walk, and real honest to goodness fortune tellers to reveal your past and unfold your future. There will be two performances by the midgets under the direction of Mrs. John Ficke that promises to be very good.

And say, here's your chance to get it back on those teachers for all the old hard lessons you've been having! Mrs. Meek will have a booth containing dolls named after all teachers. You will have the privilege of taking a ball and knocking two or three teachers off their perch—for a nickle.

But there's something else you may do. You may eat! There is to be sold sandwiches, cake, pie, coffee, home-made candy, and popcorn fresh from the popper.

There is to be a lively floor show directed by Mr. Mayne, which will be free. After this program, two boxes of candy will be auctioned off to the loveliest lady and the ugliest man. This will be a penny a vote; so have your candidate in mind when you come Saturday night.

Plan to celebrate your Hallowe'en at the high school building. Everyone is invited and urged to come.

THREE-WEEK'S TEST GIVEN TO STUDENTS

The three weeks tests were just completed this week. Everyone probably made a good grade. These tests will determine whether some of the football boys and Pep Squad girls will still be eligible for the remaining games.

Aim: To record accurate accounts of school happenings interestingly.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1936

TIME OUT

Not enough time is allowed during an activity period for a session of Glee club.

Five minutes, at least is taken up getting into and out of the music room. With the remaining 15 minutes, very little can be accomplished.

The organization cannot meet after school because half of the members ride home on the busses. This holds true also before school classes meet in the morning.

The importance of a worthwhile chorus cannot be disputed. It is generally necessary to have some kind of music at school affairs. Now what is better that either a group of boys or girls singing?

But the students cannot be trained properly or become good enough to appear publicly unless a longer period of meeting is arranged for them.

CLASS SPIRIT

It seems that none of the classes have assembled as yet.

Not one of the classes has had a class meeting or called a class party, banquet or anything of this sort.

What seems to be the matter, class presidents and classes? Have you lost your courage and vivacity? If you students have been too busy in your study the first six weeks, you should find time in the second six weeks to call class meetings.

If the classes intend to order rings or pins, this would be an ideal time. Let's not lose our spirit.

DICTIONARY ROAMING

To what book do most of the students go when in distress? To the dictionary, of course. It is very easy to go into the library, open a large dictionary and find any word they want to.

There is a new Webster's dictionary on the table in the library that is crying to be used. Not only does it have interesting pictures in it, but it has an unlimited supply of information.

As an adventure, why don't you try using it some time?

And remember, we said—use—not abuse!

Self Rating Test

Initiative:

1. Do you like to do new things?
2. Do you do your work without constant suggestions?
3. Do you like to try new ways of old things?
4. Do you make your decisions in personal problems?

Honesty:

1. Do you give help to others on their examinations?
2. Do you tell your mother the truth about where you were?
3. Do you try to shield another who is in the wrong?
4. Are you willing to let someone take the punishment that belongs to you?

COLTS

In the first grade, section B, the Giant Killers have learned their 1's, 5's and 10's in multiplication. They are now starting on the 2's, according to Mrs. John Ficke, instructor, the Giant Killers are learning to spell pretty well. They will start on their third primer next week.

Last Thursday Mrs. R. J. Holt was in charge of the Mothers' club meeting of the students in Mrs. John Hood's third grade. They decided on every Thursday of each month as their regular meeting day. The Mothers' club in planning a Thanksgiving program.

The third grades under Mrs. Hood are making a Hallowe'en booklet.

The third grade, under Lloyd Davidson, welcome Billy Jean Anglin who came here from Mobeetie. They were sorry to lose Milton Ferrill, who has withdrawn.

All of the grades are making Hallowe'en decorations.

New Books With Varied Names Grace Shelves

The new books for the library have been received. All the books are very interesting, and the students will probably enjoy reading them.

Below are listed the names of the books and which shelf they are on.

Freshman

Little Orvie, Tarkington; A Girl of The Limberlost, Porter; Gentle Julia, Tarkington; Seventeen, Tarkington; Call of the Wild, London; Freckles, Porter; Wild Horse Mesa, Grey.

Sophomore

Adrift on an Ice-Pan, Greenfield; Laddie, Porter; Thunder Mountain, Grey; The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come, Fox; Enchanted April, Atherton; The Martyr, O'Flaherty; My Lady of the South, Parris; Dear Enemy, Webster; White Fang, London; Call of the Canyon, Grey; Penrod and Sam, Tarkington; Grey Cottage, McPherson.

Juniors

When Knighthood Was in Flower, Major; The Hoosier Schoolmaster, Eggstone; Cimmarron, Ferber; 54-40 or Fight, Haugh; Ruggles of Red Gap, Nelson; The Rim of the Prairie, Aldridge; The Winning of Barbara Worth, Wright; Show Boat, Ferber; Alice of Old Vincennes, Thompson; North of 36, Haugh; The Sea Hawk, Sabatini; The Plains of Abraham, Curwood.

Seniors

David Copperfield, Dickens; The Virginian, Wister; The Light that Failed, Kipling; To Have and to Hold, Johnson; Pride and Prejudice, Austin; Bridge of San Luis Rey, Wilder; Covered Wagon, Haugh; Janice Meredith, Ford; Scaramouche, Sabatini; Jane Eyre, Bronte.

UP TO TEN AND THEN SOME

ONE day last week Superintendent J. L. Gilmore gave the next to last period study hall a talk on running around in the study hall.

TWO is an awful late hour to stay out, especially for students.

THREE high school girls visited the big Centennial exposition last week. Did you have an elegant time, Bonnie, Orveta and Lavell?

FOUR persons were riding around in Hunt's family car Sunday afternoon and they weren't all girls.

FIVE schools days in a week. Most of which are fairly enjoyable.

SIX times a girl was given permission to speak in one study period. What is wrong, Fay?

SEVEN points were made by the Mustangs and the Eagles made only six, Pretty close.

EIGHT people make four couples.

That many made a very hurried trip to Twitty Sunday night. Marcell Todd saw them.

NINE women teachers that instruct only in grades.

TEN students to get up The Corral.

FROM OTHER BRANDING IRONS

In the Austin Maroon there was an article telling about a bureau that had been organized. It is to help the students get acquainted.

If a boy couldn't find a girl to date he would register and tell what type of girl he wanted and the bureau would find a girl for him.

The girls would do the same thing and they would also find a boy.

It would be fine if Wheeler had a bureau like that but wonder what the coach would say?

Miss Rigler: A fool can ask more questions than a wise person can answer.

Charles W.: I always thought so, especially on exams.—The Whiteface Roundup Hereford, high school.

Perryton independent school will have several holidays from school in November, according to the Perryton high school paper. They will dismiss for Armistice Day and also two days for Thanksgiving.

We are hoping that the Wheeler school board will see fit to let the students and teachers have several holidays in November.

TUNING MUSIC ROOM PIANO TO AID PUPILS

The piano used by the music classes of the school was tuned Monday.

"The sound of the piano is greatly improved and it will be of much more help to the students," states Mal Wynne, music instructor.

The instrument was tuned by F. G. Merritt, working for the Jenkins Music company. Merritt also made small repairs on the piano, which had not been repaired or tuned in several years.

LOCAL TEACHERS GO TO COUNTY P.-T. A. MEETING

The district officer Mrs. A. F. Render, of the P.-T. A., met with officers of the county P.-T. A. in Shamrock, Saturday. They gathered at the home of Mrs. Lewis Goodrich at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. They were dismissed at 5.

Plans for the year were discussed. They also planned a county council.

Those from Wheeler who attended were Mrs. E. W. Carter, Supt. J. L. Gilmore and Robert Mayne.

SNUBBING POST

So many events are scheduled for the last of this week it seems strange the first part of the seven days can be so calm. First and foremost, the McLean Tigers are coming over to the Mustang stomping ground. Those who profess to know, say this combat may be the turning point in Wheeler's football history. . . . It's definitely "Hold those Tigers."

Isn't Everett's little red plaid jacket a honey? . . . Bonnie was wearing a very neat coat-hat ensemble Tuesday.

Was quite unenthusiastic at the Lakeview tussle last week. "Breaks of the game" were against the Mustangs in a disheartening manner. . . . According to the flowers, it could easily be spring. A few bashful lilac blooms are making a somewhat belated appearance.

Hallowe'en is going hand in hand with Miss Moonlight Night this year. If you're undecided as to what mischief to do first, attend the school carnival and perhaps you'll get an inspiration.

Albert Gunter and Huffman Walker have turned "modistes" and created some unique chapeaux. In fact, they've cluttered some felt hats with pins, jewels, medals and most everything else . . . Eagerly awaiting announcement of football queen. Song taken from a childhood rhyme, "One, Two, Button Your Shoe."

Historical value of "The Gorgeous Hussy" should not be ignored. It was a remarkable film. The setting of events in history to the flickers is an improvement over hero and heroine plots.

Whirling Snowflakes Fall Amidst Groans

Did you notice the little white flakes of snow sailing about last Thursday? Seems to be a good sign that winter is near at hand.

Some acted as if they were very thrilled over the fact that winter was approaching while others dread the cold winter ahead. Some seemed to think that it was just like a dreamland with the snow flakes flying overhead. But, the cynical ones that dislike winter weather put on heavy coats and gathered about the radiators.

PROF DIVULGES WHY WE DISH OUT SLANG!

Do you know where all of the modern slang comes from? Does the English IV literature class, which have been studying Shakespeare's play, know that some of the slang used today came from his plays?

Such expressions as: "Dead as a doornail," "done me wrong," "beat it," "she falls for it," "not so hot," "go hang yourself," "how you do talk" and "if he falls in, good night" were used in Shakespeare's works.

How often we use slang and do not wonder where it originates!

SPARKS FROM THE CAMP FIRE

Men are better than their theology. Observe the opportunity.

Remember this,—that very little is needed to make a happy life.

God may forgive sins, he said, but awkwardness has no forgiveness in heaven or earth.

A good book is the best of friends, the same today and forever.

Not by years but by disposition is wisdom acquired.

Wheeler Boys Go to District F. F. A. Meet

The agricultural boys have organized. They have elected their class officers, also district F. F. A. officials.

W. C. Zirkle, T. J. Cole, Troy Derryberry and Ferrol Wallace attended the first district meeting of the year at White Deer, Saturday, Oct. 24, where district F. F. A. officials were elected. The officers are as follows:

President—Kid McCoy, McLean.
Vice President—Charles McDonald, Pampa.

Secretary—Earl Rice, Pampa.

Treasurer—Virgil Moore, White Deer.

Reporter—Gordon Gaston, White Deer.

Parliamentarian—Fred Vandenberg Pampa.

Historian—Ernest Ferguson, Perryton.

Watchdog—William Flowers, Perryton.

Song Leader—Hutch Moore, White Deer.

Band Director—Rusty White, White Deer.

The next district meeting will be at Miami. These F. F. A. boys have two objectives to accomplish during this year.

1. To sponsor a basketball tour.
2. To sponsor a tour or encampment.

Students taking agriculture have organized an F. F. A. chapter. They have also elected officers for this class. They are as follows:

President—Alvis Jolly.

Vice President—Bob Tillman.

Secretary—Troy Shipman.

Treasurer—Bobby Groves.

Reporter—Olen Maxwell.

Parliamentarian—Herbert White-

ner.

Watchdog—T. C. Cole.

This class has a meeting every second Wednesday. These boys are going to start judging teams some time this week. The poultry and dairy judging teams will be entered at Miami Nov. 14, in the judging contest that is going to be held there.

Mr. Zirkle reported the class has been learning to use the farm level this week. The students found that if dirt was spread over the campus, where it would be level, it would lack about three feet of covering up the gymnasium.

WHEELER GRADUATE PLAYING FOR ALTUS

Many Wheeler football fans attended the game played at Shamrock between the West Texas State Teachers college freshmen and the Altus Junior college.

Walter Adams, former Wheeler high school student, plays tackle for the Altus eleven and does a good job at it, too.

Walter graduated from Wheeler high school in 1934. He played both football and basketball while in school. In '34 he was star fullback for the Mustangs, but was shifted to tackle because of his weight.

Grade School Peppers Assist Hi Pep Squad

Backing up the high school pep squad with lusty lungs and earsplitting yells, the grade school junior division of yellers sat behind the Cowgirls in the grandstand Friday night.

These little girls are being trained to step into the older girls' shoes when they reach high school.

Tuesday morning the group marched into study hall and gave a yell and song, assisted by the high school.

INTRODUCING—

"My ambition is to be a great writer," says Miss Imogene Holbert, the new English teacher in Wheeler high school.

"My hobby is writing poetry," Miss Holbert added, "I have written several poems and short stories that have been published, but not very many. My latest poems that have been published were in the 'Southwestern'."

Miss Holbert came to Wheeler school from Amarillo. She is very pretty and young, with blue-green eyes that look straight at one. She is very fair and her hair of reddish-brown lays in beautiful waves.

Miss Holbert demurred when asked her age. "My age is an unknown quantity. I have always refrained from telling my age to my students. There have been several in my classes that are as old if not older than I am."

In college, Miss Holbert belonged to Alpha Chi. If some of you don't know what an Alpha Chi is, it means she won a scholarship in college.

She has been teaching in the Wheeler school for about four weeks. "I have been here almost four weeks and I sure do like it here," she enthused.

"I like all kinds of sports, but I am not much of an outdoor girl," Miss Holbert explained.

"This summer my mother, sister, and I spent three weeks of our vacation at our summer camp, Eagle Creek camp, in New Mexico.

"While there we went hiking one day. The rain and lightning was terrible. It certainly scared me. This example will show you how much of an out-door girl I am".

INTRAMURAL WINNERS ANNOUNCED BY CLARK

Winners in the first six weeks intramurals was announced this week by Coach Bob Clark. Both the team and individual scores were given. The Giants won first in team scores with 25 points.

The Tigers came next with 23 points. The Goats came out third with 19 points. The Tabby Cats, formerly the Pussy Cats, won fourth place with 15 points. Those scrapping Badgers came out fifth with 9 points. The last team in the line was the Buffaloes with 4 points.

These points will be added at the end of the semester to the points made through the semester to determine the winners at the end of the year. The winners will then be given medals.

Chandos Robinson won first in individual scores with 22 points. Those who tied for second place were: Calvin Harmon, T. J. Cole and Joe Bruton. Four students tied for third place, they were: Harley Mitchell, Wallace Pendleton, Theodore Cooper and Billie Burke. They had 20 points each.

Aubrey Warren, Bill Noah and Joe Markham tied for fourth place with 19 points. There were five who tied for fifth place, they were: Ray Holley, Junior Asher, Edwin Robinson, Huffman Walker and Frank Thompson. Each of these had 18 points.

Raymond Smith claimed sixth place with 17 points. Seventh place was tied between Douglass Groves, James Williams and Jack Pitcock.

Indian Children

By KENNETH CROWDER
We are Indian children brave,
We learn early to behave.
We like to run and play,
And have fun every day.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Question: If Wheeler doesn't win the conference, who had you rather win and why?

Buford Elmer: If Wheeler can't win, I had rather for Shamrock to than any other town in the conference. I visit Shamrock almost every Saturday and feel "sorta" attached to it.

Marcelle Todd: Shamrock is my home town and I have always liked it. Of course I would like for Wheeler to win, but if Shamrock wins I won't mind so much.

R. J. Puckett: Lakeview. They are new in the conference and we don't have a grudge against them.

Troy Derryberry: Clarendon Bronchoes, in my opinion are very good sports. Therefore, if we can't win I had just as soon they would win as anybody.

R. B. Stephens: I like Shamrock. I've lived there nearly all my life. If we can't win I wish they would.

Centennial Visit Described by Adams

Bonnie Adams spent all of two days on the grounds of the Texas Centennial exposition at Dallas last week.

Bonnie says it is hard to decide the most interesting thing. The three top ranking things were Cavalcade, the Black Forest and Tony Sarg's Marionettes.

She describes these three for us: The Cavalcade is Texas history portrayed in the most wonderful lighting effect. It is very striking to see the Indians, ox-wagons, cowboys and old historical events acted out right before your eyes.

Black Forest is where the world's famous skaters reveal their skill. Bodies in gay costumes gliding over the ice with a background of snowy hills present a rare scene.

It is really surprising how natural a puppet can look and act. These marionettes average about one foot in height. It is easy to imagine them as real characters.

"The next in line of my choice would be the different buildings," states Bonnie.

It is said she stayed in the General Motors building and listened to Jimmy Joy and his famous orchestra all one afternoon.

The outstanding buildings in Bonnie's estimation are the Varied Industries, Ford, Humble's Hall of Texas History, General Motors, Texas Rangers, Chrysler, and the Hall of Religion.

We are told the Sinclair dinosaurs were very amusing. Of course they aren't alive, but they are a very good reproduction.

There were many thrilling rides. They seemed to please everyone very much. All the grounds about the buildings were picturesque. The delicately colored lights makes the entire Centennial seem like a fairyland.

These things were the most outstanding.

As a parting admonition, she warned: "Don't fail to see this big affair if at all possible."

THE OLD ROCKER

What is your favorite chair in the library? Is it the old rocking chair? From all indications it is the general choice. It is almost like home to sit and rock, and read some interesting book. No wonder so many students try to run a race to see who can get into the library first. Do you blame them?

Mustangs Gallop to Fresh Victory at Cost of Eagles

Local Teams Take Lakeview Lads, 7-6

Tight Game Played Throughout By Both Ball Clubs Last Friday

The powerful Mustang machine of Wheeler high school crushed the Lakeview Eagles in a hard-fought tussle here last Friday to the tune of 7-6.

The game started with the Eagles kicking to the Mustangs. Runs were then made by Norman and Ford for a first down. The Mustangs tried runs and passes, but to no avail. The Eagles then took the ball and tried running with it for three downs, but gained only 6 yards. Lakeview then punted to the 50-yard line. Norman, safety man, caught the punt and returned it to the 20-yard stripe. Groves then took the ball and hit the line for two yards. Ford gained 3 more through the line. A run was then made by Captain Ford, at end, for a touchdown, but he stepped out of bounds on the sideline.

Lakeview then got the ball on downs. On the first play, they made a first down through the center of the line. The Eagles fumbled and Maxwell recovered for Wheeler. With Ford carrying the ball, the Mustangs gained a first down.

The second quarter began with the Eagles in possession of the ball. They were held for three downs and were forced to punt. A first down was made by Wheeler on runs. Wheeler then called a time out. Ford tossed a pass to Derryberry for a first down. Two runs by "Big" Ford netted a touchdown for the Mustangs. Ford kicked the point.

The Eagles received the kick-off from the Mustangs and without the ball changing hands, they scored a counter. They had three tries, but did not make the point.

Wheeler received and after a few runs the ball was passed to Cole on the 6-yard stripe, where he was brought down by an Eagle back. The half ended with the Mustangs in possession of the ball on their own 6-yard line.

At the beginning of the third period, the Eagles kicked to the Mustangs. Page, right tackle caught the ball and was brought down on the 40-yard line. After runs were made by Norman and Ford the Mustangs called time out. After resuming the game the Mustangs punted. The Eagles got the ball and after three tries at the line were forced to punt. Ford then passed to Norman but it was incomplete. The Mustangs tried two runs and then Captain Ford punted out on the Eagles' 10-yard line.

The Eagles punted out of the danger zone. Wheeler drew a 15-yard penalty, and Lakeview got the ball. After three runs, the Eagles punted out on the Mustang 35-yard line.

After runs by Norman and Ford, the Mustangs punted. Passes and runs were tried by Lakeview, but the line held solid and they were forced to kick. Captain Ford then ran

Contest Cancelled for Colts-Canadian

The Colts did not play the game they had matched with Canadian last Thursday, Oct. 22. The game was called off on account of the weather. The Colts were to have played this group once before, but this game was also called off.

The Colts of last year defeated the Canadian squad.

Wonder why the journalism staff of Wheeler can't publish as large a paper as Lubbock does? The Toreador this week was eight pages long.

through the center of the line for 5 yards, but upon being tackled, fumbled the ball. The Eagles recovered and after gaining a first down the quarter ended with the ball in possession of the Eagles.

At the beginning of the fourth period, the Eagles were penalized 15 yards for talking. The Lakeview squad then threw a pass for a first down. After a run for 5 yards, the Eagles tried another pass, which was incomplete. The Mustang squad got the ball on downs. Ford then ran for a first down. Norman carried the ball through the line for 5 yards. Ford then carried the ball twice, for a first down. Norman and Ford next loped the old pill across the marker for another first down.

Ford and Norman carried the ball twice and then Ford threw two passes to Maxwell, but both were incomplete. Lakeview took the ball on downs. They made a first down on the first play but drew a 15-yard penalty for clipping. The Eagles tried a pass, incomplete. The Eagles' next pass was intercepted by Elmer, Mustang end. He carried the ball back to the Wheeler 30-yard line. Runs by Ford and Norman netted the Mustangs 6 yards.

Ford passed to Groves, incomplete. Wheeler drew a 15-yard penalty and Ford punted over the goal line. The Eagles took the ball on the 20-yard line. On a try for a run, they fumbled and Groves recovered. Wheeler had the ball on their own 20-yard stripe with two minutes to play. Wheeler drew a 15-yard penalty. Captain Ford made 6 yards through the line. Ford threw two passes, both incomplete. The last one was ruled complete because the opposing team interfered with the pass receiver. Wheeler was penalized 15 yards. A pass was thrown to Maxwell, incomplete. The game ended with the score 7-6 in favor of the Mustangs.

SPORT SLANTS

By a Mustang

Those Lakeview Eagles sure gave the Mustangs a stiff battle last Friday night. I heard several say that they wish Wheeler had several of those large players.

The district race sure did change this week. McLean, a top team, was knocked off first place by the Wellington eleven, who defeated them to the tune of 24 to 0.

The Clarendon Broncs gained a notch by defeating the Mobeetie Hornets 6 to 0. Shamrock and Wheeler each stayed on top by defeating Memphis and Lakeview 24 to 13 and 7 to 6, respectively.

This weeks games are very important for Wheeler meets the McLean Tigers. Clarendon takes on the strong Lakeview Eagles while the Lefors Pirates entertain the Hornets from Mobeetie. The Shamrock eleven does not play this week.

Well, this week rolls along and the Mustangs are still at the top of the conference. Shamrock is right with the Horses while the McLean Tigers and the Wellington eleven are tied for second place. We wonder what will happen this week? One never knows, does one?

It's been several years since the Mustangs defeated the Tigers. In fact, I can't remember how long it was, but any way it is time for the Mustangs to get some revenge.

If anyone wishes tickets to the McLean game they are on sale at the drug stores. By buying tickets at these stores you may save time and avoid the rush at the gates tomorrow night.

Invitations to the Wheeler basketball tournament have been sent out to all senior boys and girls teams. It won't be long until this great sport rolls along, so just hold your patience.

CARTOON DEPICTS MUSTANGS POWER

Rates Local Boys As Tops At the Finish of the Football Race

A cartoon, which was supposed to be expert opinion, doped the Mustangs of Coach Bob Clark to win the pennant in Class B in district 3.

This cartoon appeared in a current issue of the Amarillo Daily News-Globe. It also underlined the word "SMART" when speaking of the team referring to the high scholastic rating of the team in whole.

The Shamrock Irishmen, who are coached by Garrison B. Rush, were rated second in this cartoon. The Irishmen are the traditional foes of the Mustangs.

The McLean Tigers, pennant winners last year, were doped for third place. This team is coached by Bill Allen.

The Wellington squad was listed for fourth place. The Skyrockets are managed by Coach Joe Coleman.

For fifth place is marked the Memphis Cyclone. This team has one of the snappiest passing squads in the conference.

The Clarendon Bronchos were picked for sixth place. This team has held two great elevens to a tie but went down defeated.

The Mobeetie Hornets coached by a graduate of Wheeler high school, were eighth. This team has had tough competition, and lacked the spark to play winning football.

The Lakeview Eagles, a new team in the conference, has held all the teams to a small score. It is the prediction of the cartoonist that this team will not finish in the cellar.

Race for Football Queen Is Under Way

The race for the football queen is under way. A committee composed of Ferrol Ficke, Wilma Riley, Aline Buchanan and Margie Bowers was appointed to see the business firms to select their candidates.

The following have been selected: Imogene Jamison—Tilley's Grocery. Irene Hunt—City Tailor Shop. Bonnie Adams—Beasley's Grocery. Lavell Jaco—Panhandle P. & L. Co. Lula Barr—J. P. Green & Sons Hardware.

The Pep Squad urges that all organizations make their selection now when the race is just starting.

Each candidate must have 5,000 votes to be started in the race. One cent counts 100 votes. Jars with the contestants and sponsor's names on it will be found in the high school office.

Sunday School Lesson Exposition

Prepared by C. C. MERRITT

LAW, LOVE AND TEMPERANCE
Lesson Text: Rom. 13:1-14.
Helps: Rom. 14:13-21.

Approach

Our lesson for today is one of great importance and laden with grave consequences. It is useless to discuss the questions involved from an argumentative standpoint. Much learning and clear thinking alone are not sufficient to bring the Christian (or anyone else) to the correct understanding and proper decision. Even an unselfish motive and concern for one's fellows and in community and country are inadequate means for a satisfactory solution of the many problems which arise. The paramount attitude is that of complete surrender to the will of God.

Going still further; seeking out God's will in terms of words and commandments and then striving to comply with His will, as it is thus found, by self-determination in doing His will is but to fall far short of the grandeur and glory of the peace that should ensue when there is a compliance to God's will in respect to the questions involved.

Only a surrender to the will of God that is so complete that God's known will is found working in the heart's purposes and actions involuntarily is sufficient. How else could Paul say, "I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me?"

Let us set aside all of our contentions and unanswerable arguments, our (seeming) unselfishness, our patriotism and even our own standard of ethics, and surrender our hearts to God that, whatever it is, His will may be found working in our hearts spontaneously.

Historical Setting

Paul wrote the Roman letter about A. D. 58 from Corinth while the "unspeakable Nero" was emperor of Rome.

THE HEART OF THE LESSON

Introduction

There can be no question, in view of our lesson text with Tit. 2:1 and I Pet. 2:13, 14, 17, that the Christian's duty toward the civil government is that of subjection, obedience, reverence and respect. There is but one exception to all this. When civil government orders a child of God to disobey God, he must refuse. A Christian should obey God rather than men, (Acts 4:19) but he should be sure that he is correct in thinking that any order of men is contrary to God's life for him. Our difficulties arise mostly in respect to what extent a Christian should participate in governments of men. Here we should exercise the greatest of tolerance governed by the love of God made possible to us in the working of the Holy Spirit (Rom. 5:5). And here we should apply the principle given by Paul in Rom. 14:1.

Subjection—Non-Resistance

(Rom. 13:1, 2). God has ordained "our government." Yes, and (hard as it may seem) He has also ordained all civil governments. The abuse "men in authority" make of them is no excuse for insubordination. As though he anticipated our attempt to dodge the issue by saying, "That may be all right for some governments of the past, but how could it apply now at this evil day?" Paul was careful to say, "The powers that BE are ordained of God." And, if I mistake not, that means this government (wherever a Christian may be living) right here and now, as well as then. The consequence of resisting civil government is to suffer "damnation." The word "damnation," as here used means the judgment of the magistrates.

Ministers of God

(Vs. 4-7). Gospel ministers are not the only ministers God has. Gospel ministers are not law makers. They are the preachers of God's Glad Message of salvation to law breakers. But God's civil-government ministers are law makers and law enforcers. Christians are citizens of the kingdom of heaven but they must also recognize themselves citizens of the city and country in which they live. Christians are not, therefore, to take all the privileges of citizenship to the city or country in which he lives. He must realize that there are some things the unbelieving citizen can do as a citizen that he himself cannot do by right of the priority of his citizenship in the kingdom of heaven. As a citizen a Christian may have the right to drink and sell destructive alcohol; but, because of his citizenship in the kingdom of heaven, he can do neither.

For Conscience's Sake

(Vs. 5-7). Out of fear of incurring the wrath of God's civil-government ministers, the non-Christian citizen may both pay tribute (taxes), custom, fear and honor. But the Christian does so, not out of fear of wrath, but out of a good conscience toward God. And this conscience, not only his own, but that of others, also (I Pet. 2:19; I Cor. 10:29).

The Law of Love

(Vs. 8-10). If the love of God has become the emotion and the motivating power of our hearts, then God is privileged to live in us, for God is love. The life of Christ within us is not an arbitration of God thrust upon us. God's love in our hearts (Rom. 5:5) makes possible a spontaneous Christ life. Love precludes any ill to God or to our fellows. Love assures helpfulness and protection of others under all circumstances. Love is unselfish, and cannot be expressed in self interest.

This Time Is High Time

(Vs. 11-14). "Knowing the season"—but few are able, it seems, to recognize that our day is really night time. It is also well towards the morning. And because the morning light of the "Sun of Righteousness" is about to shine upon this world again (Mal. 4:2); we should awake out of sleep. "But concerning the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that aught be written unto you. For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night. When they are saying, Peace and safety, then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall in no wise escape. But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief; for ye are all sons of light, and sons of the day; we are not of the night, nor of darkness; so then let us not sleep, as do the rest, but let us watch and be sober." (I Thess. 5:1-6).

Salvation

"For now is salvation nearer to us than when we first believed" (v. 11). Our salvation is in three tenses. In the past tense the sinner has been saved from the guilt of sin through the blood of Christ. In the present tense the believer is being saved from the power of sin through the indwelling of the Holy Spirit and the indwelling Christ (Rom. 6:14; 8:14; Heb. 7:25). Then, when Christ shall come for His own, the believer shall be saved from the presence of sin (I Pet. 1:3-5).

The Golden Text

It is good not to eat meat, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth.—Rom. 14:21.

This is an application of the principle of love. "Love worketh ill to his neighbor" (13:10). If I should allow myself to participate in or to partake of a thing that does not harm me and is not a moral wrong, yet by my thus doing I cause one to follow my example who will be harmed by so doing, I am not being governed by love. This lesson is clearly and simply stated in I Cor. 8:12, 13, "when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ. Wherefore, if meat make my brother to stumble, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to stumble."

LESSON QUIZ

2. Who ordained civil government? (Dan. 2:37; 4:17).

4. What two motives subjects a Christian to civil authorities? (See I Pet. 2:13, 14).
5. To whom is tribute, custom, fear and honor due?
6. What debt does the saved sinner owe to all mankind?
7. How does love fulfill the law?
8. What does "knowing the season" refer to?
9. Of what salvation does Paul speak? (Heb. 9:28; I Pet. 1:5).
10. Are we living in the night, and what ought Christians to do about it? (I Thess. 1:19; I Thess. 5:5-10).
11. What does the last verse of our lesson text mean?
