Band Rehearses for Christmas Concert

Lummus Announces Plan for Concerts in Co-operation With Shamrock Band

The Wheeler Municipal band is rehearsing now for a Christmas concert, according to J. W. Lummus, director and instructor. "It will be given about December 18," Lummus says, "and we intend to put it on in Wheeler free of charge, and then to trade concerts with the Shamrock band."

"Glenn A. Traux, director of the Shamrock band, has given me an invitation to take the Wheeler band to Shamrock and play a concert some time around Christmas," Lummus explained. "If we do that we will charge for admission over there, and Traux will bring his band over here and play a concert and he will charge for it here. I think we should do this in order to help buy the band uniforms."

"If one will look back through old copies of The Wheeler Times he will find several articles on the band, what it has done in the past and the progress it has made. You probably read about the band needing support, and if I may say so, they did," Lummus said. "Our thanks go to the taxpaying citizens of Wheeler; they are helping the band to no uncertain extent now."

"I think the town of Wheeler should be advertised to the people of various communities surrounding it, and I think with the co-operation of the business men of Wheeler and the band we can do that very easily."

"We are trying hard to have a band here in Wheeler, and with the help of the citizens of Wheeler I think we can, and have a good one, too, one that everyone will be proud of," Lummus declared.

ALLISON TOURNEY SET FOR DEC. 18-19

38 of Panhandle's Best Caging Fives Invited to Participate in Annual Affair

Date for the Allison invitation basketball tournament is set for Friday and Saturday, December 18 and 19, according to John Peoples, principal of the Allison high school. This is an annual affair, and has come to be rated a big event in school athletic circles.

Nineteen boys' and 19 girls' teams, the best in the Panhandle, have been invited to participate, Peoples stated. Trophies valued at $75 are offered.

"We are inviting all former lettermen of Allison high school to be present, especially on Saturday," Peoples said. "They will be guests of the athletic society on Saturday night, December 19, and will take part in the closing exercises of the tourney."

ALLISON BASKETBALLERS VIE MOBEETTIE SATURDAY

Allison high school boys' and girls' basketball teams are to meet the strong Mobettie fives on the home court Saturday night, December 5, John Peoples, head of the Allison school, announces.

"These games will be the best, excluding this year," Peoples predicted. "The Mobettie girls' team is always good, and the boys turn in a creditable performance each contest. Don't miss these."

LARGE NUMBER PAY FIRST HALF TAXES

Templeton's Office Reports Heavy November Payments, Many in Full

An unusually large number of taxpayers have taken advantage of the privilege of paying taxes in two installments, according to Miss Bessie Mae Ficke, deputy to John H. Templeton, county tax assessor-collector. Miss Ficke was unable to estimate the amount of first half taxes paid or the percentage of taxpayers making payments before the November 30 deadline.

T. L. Gunter, another of Templeton's deputies, stated that tax collections have been good through November, a large number of people paying their 1936 taxes in full.

COUNTY OFFICERS AT AMARILLO MEET

Crime Radio Discussed by Delegates From Panhandle Counties

Wheeler was represented at Amarillo Monday by Raymond Waters, sheriff; W. O. Puett, county judge; Jim Trout, county commissioner, and Tom Montgomery, county commissioner-elect, at a meeting of county officials, peace officers and citizens, for purpose of considering the plan to install a sectional crime radio station.

The proposed station would serve the 26 Panhandle counties and would be a part of a statewide five-station system including Dallas, Houston, San Antonio and Austin.

The Panhandle station could be under supervision of the state highway patrol, it was pointed out, and could secure permission to use 1,000 watts power compared to the 500 watts permitted ordinary city or county police stations.

It is estimated equipment for such a station would cost between $5,000 and $6,000.

School Aid Meeting Set for Monday

Rural Aid and Safety Problems to Be Studied in Session at Baptist Church

A county school meeting to work out problems of rural aid and highway safety will be held in the First Baptist church of Wheeler, beginning at 10:30 a. m., B. T. Rucker, county superintendent, announced Thursday.

It is expected that a large percent of the county's 100 or more school bus drivers and school board members will attend, and an invitation is offered all other interested persons to be present, Rucker stated.

Tentative program is announced, with T. M. Britt, president of the Rural Trustees association, presiding. Rucker is to explain the purpose of the meeting, and short talks will be made by H. M. Wiley, president of the county school board, and Dr. H. E. Nicholson, president of the Wheeler school board.

J. W. Gunstream, deputy state superintendent, for district No. 1, is expected to explain points in the rural aid law, and a safety talk is to be given by Highway Patrolman Routh.

Eugene Worley, state representative, will make an address, bringing the program to a close.

DISTRICT COURT IN FOURTH WEEK

Damage Suit Resulting From Truck-Bus Crash Takes Much of Court's Time

Fourth week of the present term of district court, with jury at call, opened Monday morning. A number of cases were disposed of early in the week, including:

C. C. Prescott, five-year suspended sentence on a charge of swindling.

Charley Puckett, five-year suspended sentence on a charge of forgery.

Two agreed judgments were filed. Four criminal cases were dismissed. These involved Charley Puckett, two counts, and Jud Reynolds and W. J. Warren, one each.

Beginning Wednesday morning, a damage suit and cross-action between the Panhandle Stages Inc., et al, and C. C. Brothers, truck operator, has been heard. The case is expected to continue throughout Friday. The court action grew out of a collision involving a bus and truck operated by the respective litigants on July 15, last past, and occurred near Sayre, Okla.

Next week, fifth of the current term, has been designated criminal, subject to civil with jury. Following it, there remains two more weeks of the current term, one with jury, the other non-jury.

Jury panel for next week follows:

A. M. Galmor, H. E. Cole, J. E. Willard, G. M. Cobb, J. C. Bradstreet, H. T. Carman, Paul Shumate, G. O. McCrohan, O. Nation, H. H. Herd, Marvin Underwood, Wheeler; D. McDowell, C. T. Palmer, C. L. ## Masons to Observe Past Masters Night

Wheeler Masons will celebrate past masters' night at their regular meeting time Monday, according to announcement by H. J. Garrison, secretary, and R. H. Forrester.

The Master's degree will be conferred, Garrison said, with past masters in full regalia occupying all stations during the ceremony.

It is expected that as many as 25 or 30 past masters, as well as a large number of Masons from over Wheeler and adjoining counties will attend this ceremonial, which is an annual affair with the local lodge.

Refreshments are to be served.

SHORT CIRCUIT INTERRUPTS POWER SERVICE TUESDAY

A short circuit, which caused a high line pole to catch fire and burn up, caused about three hours' interruption in electric power service here Tuesday afternoon and evening.

WHEELER-FLOMOT GAME AT MATADOR

Bi-district Championship Football Tilt Set for Friday Afternoon

MATADOR.—The Wheeler-Flomot bi-district football game to settle the supremacy of district 3B and 4B will be played at Matador Friday afternoon, December 4th, at 2:30, according to plans made by members of the Matador Athletic Association and two representatives of Flomot business men, after a meeting here Monday morning.

The Flomot delegation, meeting Wheeler at Childress Sunday afternoon, secured the game to be played in either Matador or Paducah. Meeting with Paducah later Sunday, satisfactory arrangements failed to materialize and since the support of Matador and surrounding territory would constitute a major part of the attendance, the offer was presented to Matador business men. The required support was immediately assured and arrangements completed.

A pre-sale of tickets and advertising for the game was planned to start at once.

The Flomot Longhorns, a 15 man football squad, from the diminutive Motley county community, emerged as champions from the 4B conference last Friday after they had downed the Paducah Dragons with a score of 33 to 12 in a game played at Matador.

Miller Sells Times to Oklahoma Men

Bowins and Moody New Publishing Firm in Wheeler After Closing Deal Saturday

The Wheeler Times newspaper and printing business was sold last Saturday by C. G. Miller to E. R. Bowins and M. L. Moody of Maud and Oklahoma City, Okla., respectively.

Bowins is a new comer to Panhandle newspaper business, and for a time will remain with the position he has in the Maud high school, leaving operation of the paper in the hands of Moody, who formerly published the News at McLean, selling out to T. A. and Fred Landers late in 1922.

Miller says he is unable to announce any plans for the future and declares he intends to take a few months' rest before he locates anywhere. He is known to be studying the possibilities of other newspaper properties in the Panhandle.

The new publisher states no radical changes are to be expected in the policies of the paper.

"We expect to continue the policies Miller has been following," Moody declared. "At least there will be little change until we have had opportunity to become more familiar with local conditions. Then if facts warrant revision of policy, changes will be made. A number of correspondents and contributors to The Times' columns have asked if their matter still is wanted. The answer is emphatically yes. The material these people have contributed is one of the biggest reasons The Times today is what it is."

Mr. and Mrs. Moody and family have moved into the house on South Canadian street formerly occupied by the Millers.

Mrs. Moody will be in charge of the work formerly handled by Mrs. Miller, the gathering of local and society news.

Drilling Continues In Nearby Test Well

With the hole bottomed at approximately 7,018 feet, drilling operations are proceeding slowly in Porter No. 1 oil test, 6½ miles south of here.

Exact cause of delay has not been determined. Some rumors hint at caving hole, while others say paraffin accumulations mixed with a 2,000-foot column of water in the hole is the principal drilling hindrance.

OKLAHOMA GUESTS SPEND HOLIDAY AT PENDLETONS

Speaking of Thanksgiving day, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pendleton, pioneer farm couple living northeast of town, report the visit with them on that day of a group of friends from Durham, Okla., who arrived early with a big turkey ready prepared, and including all the nice things to go with it.

The welcome visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Gabbart and son, Gale, and Mrs. Augusta Metcalfe and son, Howard.

"Mrs. Pendleton and I are very thankful for these good friends and for the other friends and neighbors who have been so kind to us during the sickness which has afflicted our family," declared Mr. Pendleton.

Our 4-H Team Wins Eleventh in National Livestock Contest

Excellent Showing Made at Chicago, Competing With Champs of Other States

Wheeler county 4-H club livestock team placed eleventh in the International Livestock Judging contest, held in Chicago November 27, according to E. Goule, assistant county agent, who accompanied the boys on the trip and returned Wednesday.

The Texas state championship team, composed of James Passons of Wheeler, W. C. Burrell of Kelton and Lee Erskine, Lela, with J. C. Erskine as alternate, made a good showing in the contest, Goule said, even though they failed to score points enough to win.

"The contest was very close and difficult," Goule declared. "In many classes the coaches who selected the classes could not agree on the correct placement."

"The competition was very keen," said Goule, "with some outstanding individuals coming to the front, such as the high point boy from Oklahoma, who scored perfect grade in horses, second and two third places in cattle, sheep and hogs. West Virginia had second and third high point boys in the contest."

"We can appreciate how close the contest was when we consider such fine teams as Oklahoma, with the high point man, yielding to Iowa, Michigan, and North Dakota respectively in team rating and placing fourth. West Virginia with 2nd and 3rd high point boys in the contest yielded to the above four teams and Indiana and placed sixth in the contest."

"The Wheeler boys placed fifth in swine, eighth in sheep, ninth in horses and we were unable to determine definitely their rating in cattle as they were tied with several other teams and only the top 10 places were given out, but it looks like in a tie for 12th place in cattle. W. C. Burrell placed fifth in high individuals of the contest in judging hogs."

"The boys and sponsors wish to thank the people who financed the team through the State finals and National Contest, and the stockmen who so willingly offered their stock for the boys to practice judging."

"The Wheeler team trailed the winning team 138 points and for comparison it may be recalled they finished in the State 140 points ahead of the nearest contender. There was a spread of 347 points in the 21 teams represented in the national contest. Their names and placement in the contest are as follows: Iowa, Michigan, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Indiana, West Virginia, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, South Dakota, Texas, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Wisconsin, Wyoming, New York, Tennessee, Illinois, Kentucky and Virginia."

FARMERS' MEETING PLANNED TUESDAY

Wheeler County Agricultural Association to Hear Reports of State Delegates

Reports of delegates to convention of the state agricultural association, held in Fort Worth early this week, will feature the regular monthly meeting of the Wheeler County Agricultural association Tuesday, December 8, according to Charles R. Flynt, member, of west of town.

Regular meeting date was to have been on Tuesday this week, but postponement was arranged in order that delegates' reports might be heard.

Attention is to be given to such matters as the work of the legislative committee, the government soil conservation program, taxation and crop insurance.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS HAVE 269 PRESENT

Total attendance at the three Sunday schools participating in the go-to-Sunday-school movement last Sunday was 269, showing a gain of one over the previous Sunday, according to a report published by Jim Risner. The Baptist Sunday school, Risner states, had a total attendance of 99, with 13 visitors, and 86 regular members present, which was 94 per cent of the enrollment of 90.

The Church of Christ reported total attendance of 51, with 45 members or 65 per cent in attendance; there were six visitors. Methodists had 119 out for Sunday school, which was 96 per cent of an enrollment of 124.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Russ spent Thanksgiving with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Van Dervoort, at Plainview.

IN CONCLUSION

Consummation of the sale, last Saturday, of this newspaper by its founder—and publisher for the past three years—was not an act of haste nor one lightly considered. A feeling of regret naturally accompanies the transfer to other hands of an enterprise one has established and successfully operated—regret at severing the pleasant business ties that have existed between this writer and the firms and individuals of Wheeler, as well as the many delightful friendships formed throughout the county. Yet necessity appears to dictate the course taken.

However, whatever pangs of remorse which may be felt at relinquishing the responsibilities of editor and publisher of The Wheeler Times are softened by the sincere belief that its future destinies rest upon capable and efficient shoulders. The former owner would not have felt it fair to subscribers and patrons to turn the business over to inexperienced and irresponsible men. Sufficient inquiry was made beforehand to warrant recommendation of M. L. Moody, resident editor-publisher, and his partner, E. R. Bowins, of Maud, Okla., as gentlemen worthy of the respect, esteem and patronage of all former customers of this office.

In passing, the retiring owner takes this opportunity to pay tribute to the splendid citizenship of this region. To the business interests of Wheeler, sincere thanks are due for the fine support and many courtesies extended in the past. These favors, together with other pleasant memories, will be long cherished as mementoes of our service in Wheeler. We are likewise mindful of the many compliments and words of encouragement concerning the result of our labors, as evidenced in each issue of The Times. We retire with a clear conscience, knowing we did our level best to produce the very best paper we knew how.

Mrs. Miller joins the undersigned in thanking one and all for every favor, and wishing for each of you Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

C. G. MILLER.

OUR BOW

The new publishers of The Wheeler Times are not prepared to announce any innovations or changes in policy. Their principal hope is that they shall prove capable of issuing as good a paper as their predecessor has been producing. The Times is known and admired by newspapermen all over the Panhandle as one of the very best in the country. In fact The Times compares favorably with members of a group of top-notch community newspapers which recently received national recognition.

It is encouraging to note the appreciation of the people at Wheeler and over the county of the excellent publication C. G. Miller has been producing. If the new publishers succeed in their ambition to adequately fill Miller's shoes, it will take a lot of hard work, and we get comfort out of the fact people have learned to appreciate.

It will be the aim of the new management to make the readers the first consideration in forming the policies they will follow. The paper has been built upon the sure foundation of service, and we also believe in the old adage that "He profits most who serveth best."

The paper no doubt will be different. The differences in taste and personality naturally will bring about some change whether we will it or not. Only time will tell whether they are changes for the better or worse. But there will be no change in the will to serve. Regular contributors to the columns of this paper may have the assurance that their matter is wanted.

We count ourselves fortunate that we succeeded in finding a community like Wheeler containing a newspaper such as The Times.

BOWINS & MOODY.

Whimsy

By M. L. M.

To return to the Panhandle after a several years' sojourn in another state is a happy homecoming to your new editor. He always did feel like an alien while living in Oklahoma, and never felt exactly comfortable except when he got across the line into Texas.

And nowhere else has he found folk he liked quite so well as Panhandle ing by past experience, the interests which would be affected by a general conscription would also be strong enough to prevent it.

"But the better answer is: We hate, fear, and abhor the regimentation of life which obtains in Russia, Germany, and Italy. If the United States should conscript, first, all men of military age, and after that all the people and activities included in 'the conscription of wealth, labor, and commerce,' how would this country be different from any other dictatorship? And who would guarantee that the dictator would ever find out that the crisis was over, so that he could give us back our liberties?"

folk. Anyway, it is not natural resources nor climate nor prosperous conditions that make a place desirable to live in; it is the people.

The people of every section acquire their own peculiar temperament, their own outlook on life, and certain patterns of behavior that are essentially theirs and are somewhat different.

That is true of the Panhandle no less than of any other section, and your editor feels that he understands Panhandle folk better than any other, and hopes they will understand him.

He finds that not all the people of Wheeler county are strangers, for there are some whom he knew at McLean, and his wife used to go to school with Mrs. Cliff Weatherly when they both were children at Estelline, and she knew Cliff also.

Then there are Luther Willis and his wife, Sibyl. They live eight miles north of Wheeler now, but back in your editor's courting days Luther lived at McLean and his wife, then Miss Fisher, was a teacher in the McLean school.

She chummed with two other teachers, one of whom finally was persuaded to become Mrs. Moody.

The Times folk also knew Miss Lois Kirby, science teacher in the Wheeler high school, when they lived at McLean. She was just a little tike then

There are no doubt quite a few others in the city and county whom we have known other places. More about them later.

We hope we shall find time to search The Times Book of Live Ones (the subscription list to you) and see how many names of old friends and customers can be found.

A gentleman from another town suggested to the editor that a good project to take up editorially would be to advocate that Wheeler make and enforce some regulations for the orderly parking of automobiles in the business section.

It was Saturday and cars were parked straight and crossways and kitty-cornered, as well as in the middle of the street, and the disorder of it seemed to get into the gentleman's hair.

After living in Oklahoma City for a while and having to drive blocks hunting a parking place and being bawled out a few times by insolent policemen, your editor gets some fun out of seeing folk park as they darn please.

If Wheeler has plenty of room to park any old way, why place any unnecessary restrictions on the people?

New Taxes On Industry Brings Sharp Comment

SAN ANTONIO.—Evidence that the tax increases on industry, voted by the legislature during its recent special session, are bringing unfavorable publicity to Texas, was cited today by Porter A. Whaley, vice president and general manager of the Texas State Manufacturer's association, in calling for a "united front by Texas to uphold the industrial prestige of the state."

"I have on my desk," said Whaley, "editorial clippings from many newspapers in Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Washington and other states which substantiate the statement I made a short time ago that 'unjust and unreasonable tax legislation would make outside capital fearful of entering the state.'"

CHURCHES AS LIFE SAVING STATIONS

Methodist Pastor Points to Safeguards Against Social Hazards for Young and Old

The American Life Association of Underwriters has entered into a movement to help other organizations in the protection of children and child life from being the victim of this modern rage for careless and drunken driving. Their motto is, "Save a child." In all their conventions this movement has had a prominent place in their programs.

First, because the value of the life of a child cannot be estimated; next, nearly all these companies have a certain amount of risk on many of these children.

"While this is all praiseworthy, there is another agency in human society that ante-dates any and all life insurance companies in the saving and rescuing of youthful life from all sorts of harm and hazards," declares Rev. C. E. Raney, Methodist pastor. "The Methodist church has always been a church of and for children."

"This has been a week dedicated to childhood and youth," Raney says, "and the church school teachers and workers are asked by our general board of Christian education to visit in all the homes of the children and youth and see what the church may do to help the child, the parents, or the home. Usually this work is done in October but due to local conditions the workers could not get to it and so we have designated this week for that."

"Next Sunday the pastor will use 'What a Child May Expect of Society at Birth,' as a subject for a sermon. All the expectations may not be touched but some important ones will be mentioned."

"The pastor is in a receptive mood of mind now to receive subscriptions for the Southwest Advocate and any moneys on benevolence," Raney stated. "These are a part of the life and work of the church and the sooner over the sooner we get at something else."

All the announcements of the church for the week are as they have been except that league meets at 6:15 and the evening song services begin at 7.

There will be on Friday of this week at Shamrock a district meeting of the women and men of the church and a good attendance is solicited by all the leaders of the various departments. "Go, take your notes and return to make a talk and tell what you saw and heard there," Raney urges his parishioners.

"The pastor and family wish to thank all those who had any part in the pounding and those who would have liked to share but did not," says Raney. "We like to give people credit for what they would like to do many times when they are not so they can do it."

DO 'IMPOSSIBLE,' MINISTER URGES

Pastor Merritt Discusses the Possibility of Praying Constantly

"Many, if not all, the modern wonders of science would have been done long ago had it not been for that scarecrow, 'and-it-can't-be-done,'" says C. C. Merritt, pastor of the Church of Christ. "But 'back in the 60's,' as they say, there was one who dared to do the impossible. That started the ball to rolling. Now they are telling us there is nothing impossible. Some day it will be done."

"Even in the study of the Bible and the practice of Christianity difficult problems arise," Mr. Merritt declared. "A number of ministers were once assembled and discussing some of these. The command to 'pray without ceasing' was being discussed. 'How could it be done?' One was asked to write an essay to be read at the next meeting."

"A maid overheard this and exclaimed, 'What! A whole month waiting to tell the meaning of the text, the easiest and best in the Bible!'"

"Well well," said a venerable D. D., Th. D., L. L. D., "can you pray always when you have so many things to do?"

"Why, yes sir," said she. "The more things I have to do, the more I can pray."

"When I open my eyes in the morning, I pray, 'Lord, open the eyes of my understanding!' While I am dressing, I pray that I may be clothed with righteousness; when I have washed I ask for the washing of regeneration; when I begin to work I pray for strength equal to my day; when I kindle the fire, I pray that God's work may be revived in my heart; as I begin to sweep, I pray that my heart may be cleansed from all impurities; when I am preparing breakfast, I pray to be fed with sincere milk of the Word; as I am busy with the children, I pray my Father in heaven for the spirit of adoption that I may be His faithful child. Everything furnishes me with a thought for prayer." So many things are revealed to 'babes' and concealed from the wise."

Subjects for Sunday at "The Church With the Open Bible," Mr. Merritt announces: "Daniel's Seventy Weeks" at the morning hour; "Who Are Fit Material for the Kingdom of Heaven?" 7 p. m.

Coming from the log cabin was a Pilgrim and his wife on their way to church. In the cedar forest turkeys could be seen, and in a clearing on the opposite side of the forest from the Pilgrim's home was an Indian wigwam and Indians.

Football Banquet Date Is Announced

Thursday, December 17, To Be Banquet Night Honoring
Wheeler Mustangs

Tentative plans for a gala football banquet honoring the victorious Mustangs of Wheeler high have been formulated.

Representatives of the football team, the pep squad, the high school band, the faculty, the Lions club and townspeople met and announced that the date would be Thursday night, December 17. It will be held in the auditorium-gymnasium.

Places for over 200 guests will be laid. Prominent visitors from all over the Panhandle have been invited to attend. It is expected that this will be the largest banquet of its kind ever held in Wheeler.

Presentation of sweaters and the trophies won by the team will be the highlights of the evening's entertainment. Plans for elaborate decoration are being laid. The best talent of this sector are also being obtained for the program.

Tickets for the banquet will be on sale shortly by members of the Lions club. There will be special sections reserved for various groups. An attempt has been launched to make a special price to high school students wishing to attend.

Further announcements will be made in this paper regarding various features of the banquet.

LOCAL HOME MAKERS TO BE HOSTESS SOON

The Wheeler Home Makers club is planning to be hostesses of the District Home Makers club, Saturday, December 12.

The morning part of the program will include the organizing of the club for the year. At the noon hour a paper sack lunch will be served.

If a football game is scheduled for this date, the meeting will be at a later time.

I'LL NEVER RUN AWAY FROM HOME AGAIN

M-e-e-w! M-e-o-w!

It was cold and raining outside. A poor kitty was getting wet and cold. The little cat knew that there was a good warm fire on the inside of the school building. So it crept inside the door and down the hall to the radiator. Its actions seemed to indicate that it was very timid. When it moved it made no noise at all. Probably it was afraid it would be kicked out into the rain if any one noticed it.

GRADE SCHOOL GIVES THANKSGIVING PLAY

The grade school presented a Thanksgiving program last week in the grade school building. A large audience was present. The program was as follows: Dean Griffin—"Welcome."

William Banton, "Thanksgiving."
Violet Crowder—reading.
Wanda Tolliver—a story.
Song by the second grade.
Robert May—reading.
"The Birds Thanksgiving"—Patsy Wiley, Eugene Cooper, Benny Westmoreland, Bobby Rodger, Iris Conner, Margie Esslinger.

Josephine Noah—reading.
Roy Ford—"So Proud."
Jimmy Cantrell—a recitation.

The room mothers served refreshments to those present.

Several teachers of Wheeler school attended the State Teachers association during the holidays.

The teachers who attended the meeting were: Supt. J. L. Gilmore, Miss Winona Adams, Miss Lois Kirby, Miss Imogene Holbert, Robert Mayne and Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Morgan.

The meeting was held last Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Fort Worth. It was the fifty-eighth annual meeting. There were several exhibits representing schools in Texas.

"I think that this is the largest and best association meeting in the state of Texas. I surely did enjoy myself while I was down there and I am sure the other teachers that went, will tell you the same," stated Gilmore.

BAND IS ORGANIZED AT BRISCOE BY J. W. LUMMUS

Wheeler's 43-piece band played for a pie supper at Briscoe Thanksgiving night.

A band class has been organized at Briscoe. Fifteen signed to join the organization, which will fill out instrumentation nicely.

J. W. Lummus will give lessons at Briscoe on Wednesday and Saturday nights. There will be a rehearsal there each Wednesday night. They also will rehearse with the Wheeler band on Monday night in Wheeler.

At present the band is working on Christmas music and will give a concert in Shamrock near Christmas. The Shamrock band has been invited to give a concert here in exchange. There will be several duets, quartets and solos. An admission charge will be made for the concerts and the proceeds will be divided between Shamrock and Wheeler.

The Wheeler band will also give a concert at Wheeler free of charge.

ONLY ONE STUDENT MAKES HONOR ROLL

Flomot Wins District by Downing Paducah

The Flomot Longhorns, next foe for the Mustangs, defeated the Paducah eleven, 33 to 13, last Thanksgiving. By virtue of this win, they were crowned winner of district 4B and will meet the Wheeler Mustangs.

In District 1B and 2B things are still popping with the Tulia Hornets' win over the Dalhart Wolves. They will meet the strong Panhandle Panthers this week end.

The winner of District 1B and 2B will play the winner of District 3B and 4B. The winner of this game will be crowned the regional champion of all four districts.

PARENT-TEACHERS MEET IS POSTPONED A WEEK

The Parent-Teachers association meeting, which was scheduled for Tuesday night, December 1, has been postponed until next Tuesday night.

Mrs. John Ficke's first grade intended to furnish the entertainment for the evening, but Mrs. Ficke was called to Brownwood to the bedside of her mother, so the meeting will be held over until next week.

Journalists Dash for Renewed Typewriters

Did you notice some of the students getting up and hurrying out of the study hall in the middle of the eighth period Tuesday? The reason for all the rush was that they were working on the typewriters and the journalism students were not allowed to type during that time. Mr. Gilmore came into the study hall and announced they they were through working. Every student was trying to beat someone to a typewriter. It was the last day to get in the stories and some were getting a little uneasy.

Play Scheduled Tuesday, Dec. 8

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1936

AN APPRECIATION

As Emerson once said, "An institution is but the lengthened shadow of a great man," so say we at the parting of the ways with C. G. Miller, former editor and publisher of The Wheeler Times.

We sincerely regret his loss. The school and the community will feel keenly the loss of his kindly spirit. His cooperation in matters pertaining to the welfare of the township is known throughout the entire Panhandle. He found a need for a paper that would back all civic enterprises and he filled to the best of his ability, that need. Countless benefits to the citizens have had their origin in the sanctums of his editorial office. When the call came for volunteers to do any kind of municipal benefaction, the Wheeler Times under the management of C. G. Miller was among the first, if not the first, to respond. He conducted the columns of his paper in a kindly, helping manner. Rancor and criticism had no part in its make-up. He exerted his influence always for the best and towards perfection.

In the matter of The Corral, he has raised the standard of a school paper to several years in advance of all other similar school papers. Through his help, he set an example that is unsuccessfully imitated the breadth and length of Texas.

So to C. G. Miller, The Corral extends an affectionate farewell. Perhaps not with cash rewards or worldly goods do we extend this goodbye, but with genuine love and admiration.

And with equal enthusiasm do we greet the new publisher and editor, M. L. Moody. We know that he will continue and further the precedent set by his forerunner.

Goodbye, Mr. Miller—howdy, Mr. Moody!

DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP

Failure is very valuable for almost every successful person. For instance, a person starts something and he makes a failure of it. The next time he attempts a task, failure has been an invaluable experience to him. He knows not to give up, but try again.

If he has made a failure at something before, he knows what to do. He knows not to give up. And when he tries again, he can probably get

It will be the agreement to make first consideration policies they will follow. has been built upon the foundation of service, and in the old adage, "Safest most who serveth best." The paper no doubt. The difference in personality nature, some change what not. Only time they are changes, worse. But then, in the will to meet the failures of tributors to the matter is wanted. We count our like Wheeler contains such as The Times.

QUIET, PLEASE!

Do you like to be disturbed in the study hall by noisy students? Why certainly not. There are lessons assigned that must be prepared. It is impossible to prepare them when students are walking back and forth in the study hall.

Of course there are times when we must go to the library, or speak to a classmate; but this could be done quietly.

There are also students coming into the study hall at all times during the period. This is the greatest annoyance. Why not think of the other students who want to study? Come quietly, and if you wish to speak to someone get permission.

For the sake of others, be quiet!

WHY TRAIN?

"Just one cigarette, it's on a week end," says the boy who's trained all week. When he breaks training, is he hurting the coach or himself? Of course he hurts the coach and the team as a whole, but most of all he hurts himself. His chances for outstanding playing are lessened two to one and there might be another athlete who has been training, that can fill his place on the squad quite well. His playing in that game might decide, to a great extent, his whole future. The game might depend upon him, and his playing could depend on that one cigarette.

You say that some good athlete doesn't train, but nevertheless you know it lessens his ability. There are a few born sportsmen who don't train and still make the team, but just imagine what a whirlwind they would be if they did.

Coaches don't enjoy enforcing rules, but their every thought is for the best interest of the team and greater judges than any of us will ever be, have proved that it is vitally necessary.

In case it isn't known, J. W. Lummus has brown orbs, straight dark hair; and is one of those tall, dark, and handsome sort of persons. His main interest is music, naturally.

Lummus has played several instruments, but the one he likes best now is the trombone. Eight years ago he started playing the mellophone, then the trumpet, and now the trombone. He was in the Shamrock band four years.

He graduated from Shamrock in '33 and attended a directors school in '34. Last year he taught instrumental music in Shamrock.

On June 18, of this year, he started his work in Wheeler by organizing the present band. Only recently he began a class in Briscoe. He is endeavoring to combine both bands.

COLTS

With the Thanksgiving holidays over, the grade school children are working on Christmas posters and various other Christmas things.

Mrs. Johnnie Reed is teaching in Mrs. John Ficke's place this week. Mrs. Ficke has been called to Brownwood.

Kenneth Deering withdrew from the third grade. Mrs. John Hood's class is studying the life of the cowboy. In geography, they are studying the cereal crops and their value.

Both sections of the fifth grade put on a Thanksgiving program last Wednesday at 1 o'clock under the supervision of Mrs. G. O. McCrohan and Mrs. Allen I. Smith. The program consisted of a short play and a few readings.

Lois and Clois Staley enrolled in 5A. They are from Sallisaw, Okla.

The fifth graders as a whole improved in their grades this last six weeks. Attendance in both sections is now very good. Most pupils who have been out picking cotton have returned.

FROM OTHER BRANDING IRONS

This little rhyme has a moral. But I don't think it will bore you. A young sixth-grader wrote it and it appeared in the Tiger.

"A sad little story to tell,
Was that of a driver named Nell;
As the speedometer rose,
She powdered her nose,
And then found it too late to yell."

The Prairie says that three Burmese women snake charmers have such power over their king Cobras that the snakes kiss them. Some American women have the same power over their husbands.

The Scout

The Boy Scouts did not meet in the Gym last Monday night because the lights would not work. They plan to have a meeting as soon as the lights are repaired.

An announcement will be made as to when a meeting will be held.

Irene is wearing a small safety pin on her coat lapel. Perhaps that's where she has been pinning W. J. recently. . . . Some of the Magic City girls were riding around here Sunday. It's generally the local boys going over there.

Without permission this week, we give you: Dorothy Lee's mannish and Alvis' suede jacket.

Amos is a privileged character in Miss Adams' class. He was allowed to sit by the stove, although no one else was.

Drippy weather makes the paths between buildings perilous. The formerly suggested sidewalks would still be acceptable. . . . Aline has a very modish dress; its wine-colored with several rows of black braids banding the hem.

Student body responded favorably when Principal Witt assisted in leading a yell in a pep rally. . . . Mrs. Gilmore can always find some reason for winning the games that the Mustangs have to play. Now it's that Supt. Gilmore went to school with the Longhorn boys' fathers.

"In a Chapel In the Moonlight" is the popular song for the week. Try "The Last of the Mohicans." . . . Bobby and Lavell were seen riding around together.

Basketball is becoming increasingly interesting to the players. The girl players insist upon using up the last minute of play allotted them.

Flowers in the room add a little touch of brightness to the typing room. The class students have enjoyed their vacation from speed tests due to Miss Ewing's absence. However, they shall welcome her back.

High School Pupils Are Asked to Help Collect Newspapers

The journalism students ask the co-operation of the high school pupils in collecting newspapers. They wish to collect papers from every state in the United States and as many foreign countries as possible.

The journalism class would like to study the different styles of writing stories, headlines, columns, humor, and printing.

Julia Lou Tinney asked all students to be on the lookout for papers from the different states and countries and turn them in to a journalism student.

- Let's praise the right—instead of damning the wrong.
- Write as you feel, but be sure you feel right.

Caught in

Lasso's Noose

"Why, that's my grandad," exclaimed Irene.

"Where is your grandad?" asked Bonnie in surprise.

"Right there on that chair," answered Irene.

It seemed funny, for there was no one in the chair. But eventually it came to light that her grandfather's name was on the chair.

Oh my! Oh me!

How sore I shall be!

I know I can't wiggle,

But I can always giggle!

The reason I feel so tired

Is because I played basketball too hard!

Cute: Genese Latham.

Teacher: "What is the main importance of the pig?"

Student: "To make pigskin for footballs."

Aline and Imogine seemed to be popular Saturday night. They had quite a collection of the masculine gender around them.

Aline received two letters from Chicago in one day. Could they be from a certain Twitty boy, who is with the 4-H club boys in Chicago?

Earl Gilmore (using the typewriter): "You know, I always use the Christopher Columbus' method of typing. I seek the key and land on it."

The boys in civics class seem very interested in marriage and divorce laws. Some are even concerned about the vague words: "breach-of-promise." Is it probable that someone is being involved in such entanglements?

There were two Mobeetie boys trying to play freeze out last Sunday so we hear. Beatrice, Parilee, Juanell and Clella Beth can explain that.

A certain new student (Goble Prince by name) was certainly initiated on the Magic City school bus last Monday. The old custom of "head-thumping" if he said anything smart was employed.

Jack Pitcock always has trouble finding a seat in the English room. Why not get to class on time, Jack? It might be much simpler.

The picture of the Mustangs seemed to be pretty good from all accounts. One boy, right guard on the team, looked at himself in the

Radio Waves Go Nuts With New Fad Game; Asks 'How's Business'

"I'm in business! What's your business? I'm in the broom business! How's business? It's the sweep of the country."

Please turn that radio to another place. That new fad is driving me "nuts." People can think of the daffiest things.

At another station:

"I'm in business! What's your business? The poultry business! How's business? Fowl, fowl!"

Let me at that thunder box. I'll find something worth while.

Turns dial and hears:

"I'm in a business."

(Off goes the radio).

Banquet Given For Sunday School Class

Miss Beth Stiles honored her Sunday school class and friends with a colorful Thanksgiving banquet last Friday night at the Stiles ranch home east of Wheeler.

As the guests arrived, a silhouette was made of each person. An Indian name was given to each and he was to be called by it throughout the evening.

Places were found by placecards with the assigned Indian names. Aline Buchanan acted as toastmistress.

Imogine Jameson sang "Prairie Moon," accompanied by Ethel Claire Raney. "A Few of the Things We Should Be Thankful For" was given by Ferrol Ficke. The entire group sang several songs.

Martha Jane Shipman, W. J. Ford, Bonnie Adams, Alton Weeks and Imogine Jameson won prizes for guessing the silhouettes. Many other interesting contests and games were played.

Those attending were Aline Buchanan, Imogine Jameson, Irene Hunt, Elva Willard, W. J. Ford, Lula Barr, Marthalys Wiley, Martha Jane Shipman, Helena Jones, Ruth Barr, Guy Robison, Alton Weeks, Bonnie Adams, Ethel Claire Raney, Herbert Whitener, Ferrol Ficke, Wallace Pendleton, Orveta Puett, Ruth Faust, Willie Dee Lawrence, Lois Ficke, Genevieve Britt of Kelton, and Bill Hefley, Buck Henderson, and T. B. Henderson of Twitty.

Mrs. L. V. Baker, Mrs. J. M. Lawrence, Mrs. Glen R. Walker, and Mrs. Gordon Stiles assisted the hostess.

TEACHER'S MOTHER IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Because of the illness of her mother, Miss Ruth Ewing, typing instructor, has gone to her home in Rio Vista. Mrs. Ewing has pneumonia. Miss Ewing left Wheeler last Tuesday. She will return as soon as her mother recovers from her illness.

Mrs. Bill Perrin is teaching in her place.

picture a whole period. Ask J. D. Badley about this.

Miss Adams (in history class): "A husband may carry a gun if his wife is in danger."

Jack: "If he wants to!"

Bonnie has now captured the "Key" to Mobeetie. You believe it?

"Dippy," the all-bashful boy, almost knocked Geraldine down, welcoming her back to school.

Many of the chemistry students declare that they are getting good and tired of washing dishes.

Ferrol said that she and Dawn were traveling salesmen. When asked what she meant, she replied, "Dawn sells things and I travel!"

Tuesday morning, while the football boys were being called on to make speeches, someone suggested that Herbert Whitener preach a sermon. Was Ethel Claire's face red?

Miss Holbert: Someone raise the window. It is hot in here.

Bob Tillman: How can you tell it is not back here?

Miss Holbert: You look hot.

Howard Nations: I don't think he looks so hot!

Mrs. G. O. McCrohan motored to Childress for Thanksgiving. Mrs. Lloyd Davidson was in San Angelo.

RAMBLINGS ON THE RANGE

Mildred Platter spent the Thanksgiving holiday in Pampa.

Cleo Sewell was in Shamrock, Saturday.

Lois Walker attended a show in McLean, Saturday night.

Presley Guynes and Louise Genthe motored to Pampa Thursday and were in Shamrock, Saturday.

Buford Emler and Douglas Groves were in Shamrock, Saturday.

James Williams was in Shamrock, Saturday.

Bonnie Adams and Wave Wallace were in Altus, Oklahoma, Sunday.

Alice Hardin spent Thanksgiving in Amarillo.

WHEELER 4-H CLUB CONVENES NOV. 2

The Wheeler 4-H club met November 24, of last week for the semi-monthly meeting.

The roll was called and members answered by verses taken from the Bible.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and Miss Viola Jones, county demonstrator, gave a discussion on good manners.

Viola Lamb volunteered to be the garden demonstrator for the year and Mary Ella Westmoreland will be wardrobe demonstrator.

Games were played before the meeting was dismissed. About 35 students attended.

"MAVERICKS"

"I FIND MY FATHER"

By STELLA COOPER

The Persian and Tarter armies were at war. I was on the Tarter side. One morning I rose early and went to Peran-Wisa, our leader's, tent. I asked him to let me challenge one of the Persian men to fight. Peran-Wisa didn't want me to fight, but finally he consented.

He then went out and told the Persians what I wanted to do. The men chose Rustum, an old man, to fight me. This man was a great fighter and he came out in plain armor, because he didn't want me to know who he was. He told me I had better not fight him because I was so young and he didn't want to kill me.

We fought for a long time. There seemed to be a great cloud all about us. Once Rustum went down, but I did not take advantage of that because I had begun to think that this was my father for whom I had been searching. He then stuck a spear in my side and I weakly went down. I asked him if he were Rustum. He denied it, but I had a feeling in my heart that this was my long-lost father.

I told him that I was Rustum's son. I explained that long ago my mother had married a Persian. Her father was a king on the Tarter side, therefore, he made my mother come back home. A child was born to her and she had sent word to Rustum that it was a girl. The child was not a girl, because it was a boy—and I was that boy.

Rustum had begun to believe my story. I showed him a sign that he had given my mother to put on my arm. He then said that I was his son. We sat there hugging each other.

I told him to take my body back home where Yal, my grandfather lived and to bury me there. But first before I died I wanted him to call me son just once. At last I had found my father.

SPORT SLANTS

By a Mustang

The Memphis Democrat has released its all-district first and second teams.

The writer stated that there were at least two teams in this conference race better than the Mustangs, but it seems that this particular writer must hold it against the Wheeler eleven for defeating the Memphis Cyclones, 33 to 13.

This sports writer only picked one Wheeler player for his district eleven and 10 other players from football clubs that placed as low as seventh place in the district race.

The one player he picked was W. J. Ford and there are several more players on the Wheeler team that should receive, and probably deserve this honor.

Flomot's lucky number seems to be 33. In over half their games, their score was 33. Let's change that, Mustangs!

Basketball is progressing very good at the present. The girls have whipped a good team into shape and the Boy Scouts also have a fair team. The senior boys are still busy with their football and they have not started working out.

Everyone is wondering which football team will be represented in the Rose Bowl, Orange Bowl and Sugar Bowl games to be played soon. Washington and Alabama or L. S. U. will probably battle it out for the Rose Bowl title.

From the way the girls coming out for volleyball were working last Monday, they will be strong when they begin in earnest. They learned to "spike" the ball over the net. "Spiking" is the method by which the ball is hit over the net, striking the floor in such a way one cannot return it easily.

INTRAMURALS GET UNDER WAY WITH REGULAR WORK

The activity period has not been spent by the regular intramural teams in play. The girls are working out for basketball and the boys have spent this period passing a football and practicing shooting basketball goals in the gym.

The boys hope to get reorganized again, soon and some games will be played between the teams.

SEVERAL STUDENTS ENROLL IN SCHOOL

Six new students have enrolled in high school this week. Geraldine Lewis, a former student of this school and who has been attending school in Shamrock, has returned.

Goble and Hiram Prince enrolled during the last week. They previously attended school at Lela. Both are classified as freshmen.

Clella Beth and Milton Moody became members of the student body, Monday. They attended school at Oklahoma City before coming here. Milton is classified as a freshman. He stated his hobby was cartooning. His favorite subject is journalism. Clella Beth entered as a sophomore. Her hobby is sewing and cooking. She won a medal while attending school at Oklahoma City for being outstanding in home economics. She said she liked geometry better than any other subject.

All-District 3B Football Team Nominated

CORRAL STAFF CHOOSES TEAM

Five Wheeler Players Win Places on Mythical All-Eleven District Team.

The sport staff of The Corral hereby presents its choice of the all-district football team.

Although it is not even hoped that all or even any will agree—nevertheless, it is our choice.

This ideal team composed of players from the district 2B roster, has been selected on the basis of performance against the Wheeler eleven. No attempt has been made to compare the entire season's record of any one player.

It would be virtually impossible for any paper to attempt to cover every ball game played. It obviously would be unfair to attempt to compare yards gained by such-and-such player with another player of the same position. And of course, there is absolutely no yardstick by which to measure the linesmen's performances.

So we have made our choice entirely by their record when and during the game against Wheeler.

Other papers will immediately notice a preponderance of Wheeler players on the teams. Naturally this is so. After all, the Wheeler team did win the conference and there obviously is a reason. And having the best individual players is the answer. If Wheeler players' names did not appear upon this all-district team, Wheeler would not have won the district title.

Hard to Pick

Picking the players this year resembles trying to pick the winning horse before the race starts. In some instances, it was almost decided that the only way to settle the question was to toss a coin. In other instances, there was no doubt as to who was tops.

Taking the clubs as a whole, with the exception of the Mobeetie and Lakeview teams, there was so little difference in playing ability of the top team and the bottom team as to almost make the job impossible.

But a result has been reached by trying to single out each player as an individual and not what he was helped to do by the entire team. For instance, certain highly-touted, backfield men failed to measure up to our requirements simply because by themselves, they could not have reached the line of scrimmage. Whereas, with the forward wall opening up holes big enough to run a snowplough through, they scampered over the pay-line for many a point.

Individual Players Named

However, back to our team. Let's start with the ends. Clement, Wellington, probably distinguished himself the most by his seemingly "glue" fingers. Although Maxwell of Wheeler rarely dropped one if it came within possible reach, Clement had a slight edge. On defense, the story was reversed. Maxwell allowed so few backs to circle him that they eventually gave up trying.

Emler, Wheeler end, although by far the best pass-receiver of the whole district, goes in the second team. More experience and added weight will make him the best in the conference. Evans of Memphis gets the nod for the second team over Nicholson of McLean because of his stout defense. Even Wheeler found it advantageous to try around the other end for a run, if they expected to gain any yardage.

Call it a toss-up in the case of the tackles. Four stand out like a filling station in the Sahara desert. But we pick Tillman of Wheeler and Cain of Shamrock as the men to hold down these tough spots.

As a matter of defense, the two could battle it out all summer. Cain gets the decision on the offense, however. His pickup from a standing start was remarkable for a man his size.

Page, Wheeler tackle, comes within an ace of taking top honors. But we pick him for second team because he still has another year to play, in which he undoubtedly will take the proved a mainstay of the whole team throughout the game. As a pivot man, he functioned practically flawless. He proved his metal in the Wheeler game. Although worked on by two men throughout the game, he was the sparkplug of every attack and the mainspring of the defense.

Weeks of Wheeler would take the first team without any bickering if it hadn't have been for Brothers. Although he still has another year, he performed with the assurance of a veteran. We nominate him also, because this is his first year as a regular and also his first as a center. He gets a lot of credit on that score.

Backfield Starts Argument

An argument will probably arise when we give the nod to Austin of Wellington instead of Norman. If possible, we would have two quarterbacks in this instance. Norman clearly calls the brainiest game of the whole district. Austin was the

1936 ALL-DISTRICT 3B FOOTBALL TEAM

FIRST TEAM

Ends—Maxwell (Wheeler), Clement (Wellington).
Tackles—Tillman (Wheeler), Cain (Shamrock).
Guards—Whitener (Wheeler), Birkley (Clarendon).
Center—Brothers (Shamrock).
Quarterback—Austin (Wellington).
Halfbacks—Groves (Wheeler), Estes (Wellington).
Fullback—Ford (Wheeler).

SECOND TEAM

Ends—Emler (Wheeler), Evans (Memphis).
Tackles—Page (Wheeler), McClure (Wellington).
Guards—Overton (McLean), Braxton (Shamrock).
Center—Weeks (Wheeler).
Quarterback—Norman (Wheeler).
Halfbacks—Caruth (Lefors), Cornell (Clarendon).
Fullback—Rook (Shamrock).

HONORABLE MENTION

cake. McClure of Wellington goes to the second. He stands head and shoulders above the rest, with these four, because of his blocking. A lot of yardage and touchdowns came from those holes that he opened by himself.

Wingo of McLean was probably the biggest and most powerful of the group. It was hard to relegate him to honorable mention, but the other four have a shade on him.

Other Linesmen Nominated

The guards were fairly easy. Any coach would welcome with open arms a guard like Whitener of Wheeler. Fast (he played end on last year's team), powerful and deceptive—that spelled Whitener. He gets the decision over Birkley of Clarendon, although that's another fairly close one. Clarendon's defense consisted mainly of one man—and that was Birkley. Practically every spin play was spilled by him.

It's wide open as to the next best, with Green (Wheeler), Braxton (Shamrock) and Overton (McLean) taking the lead. Braxton and Overton finally cop because of experience Green takes the top niche next year, without a question.

Shamrock contributed our first team's center in the person of Brothers. Big, powerful and rangy, he better ball-carrier. So it's half-a-dozen of one and six of the other. We give it to Austin because in addition to calling a clear-cut, heads-up game, he could pass, kick, block and run with equally remarkable talent. So could Norman, but Austin was probably a shade more versatile.

Halfbacks are another question and some more worry. We finally picked Groves of Wheeler and Estes of Wellington as our candidates for No. 1 men. These two men seemed to be able to fill the bill, no matter what they were called upon to do. Groves was undoubtedly one of the best ball-carriers in the conference. One could count the number of times that he was caught behind the line of scrimmage on the fingers of one hand. Estes, on the other hand, was one of the fastest men in the conference. And one of the best ball-catchers.

It's a scrambled race for second team. Caruth of Lefors and Cornell of Clarendon finally inch out Laswell of McLean, Walker of Memphis and Derryberry of Wheeler. Caruth gets it because of the manner in which he led the attack upon Wheeler. His off-tackle plunges were some of the hardest ever witnessed in high school football. Cornell gets the rating because of the slippery way he took the laterals in the Clarendon

Mustangs to Meet Longhorns Today

Winners of Bi-District Game to Play Winner of Panhandle-Tulia

By virtue of defeating the Paducah eleven in an upset game last Thursday, the Flomot Longhorns will meet the Wheeler Mustangs in Matador at 2:30 this afternoon.

The winner of this bi-district game will play the winner of the Panhandle-Tulia clash and the winner of this game will be declared regional champions.

The Mustangs left Thursday morning and arrived in Matador at 11 o'clock. They worked out at 2 o'clock Thursday evening on the field at Matador. After the workout the team went to the high school building for skull practice.

The Mustangs and the Longhorns are even in their previous games. Neither team has lost a game and they both have tied one.

The Flomot school is small, but they are backing their football team to the limit. This is the first time a Mustang squad has advanced this far and they will be fighting to reach greater heights.

A large crowd is expected at this game and it is said that it will be as good as a class A game.

Wheeler's starting lineup will probably be:

Ends—Emler and Maxwell.
Tackles—Page and Tillman.
Guards—Whitener and Green.
Center—Weeks.
Quarterback—Norman.
Halfbacks—Groves and Derryberry.
Fullback—Ford.

game. He was hard to catch and harder to hold to.

Laswell of McLean is hard to keep in honorable mention, he lacked so little of taking top honors. His defense was well-nigh perfect. Walker of Memphis practically kept the Memphis-Wheeler game from being an absolutely, crushing defeat by personally carrying the ball over the stripe for Memphis' two touchdowns. Derryberry was a man that could hardly be left off the top rung. His blocking led to so many touchdowns that they are almost unbelievable.

Naming Fullback Easy

When it comes to naming the fullback, we sit back with relief and fold our hands, for there is absolutely no question as to whom this honor goes to. Ford of Wheeler takes the blue ribbon without a dissenting word. He shone in every game and clearly was the outstanding backfield man in the entire conference, if not in the Panhandle.

Rook of Shamrock gets the decision as the next best man. He displayed unusual abilities in the Shamrock-Wheeler tilt, although handicapped by the almost stone-wall defense put up by the Wheeler forward line.

To "Red" Brewster of Lakeview goes the honor of honorable mention. His spirit, his strength and his skill almost took him to the very top. Without a Rook and a Ford in the conference, he would have clearly been No. 1 man on the top team.

P.-T. A. Group to Present Radio Skit Over KGNC Friday

Magic City Unit Announces Plans for Entertainment On December 18

By BETTY PEARSON HODGES (8th District Publicity Chairman)

An original skit written by Mrs. W. A. Breining of Pampa will be dramatized by the Pampa city council of P.-T. A. next Friday afternoon, Dec. 4, at 3:30 over station KGNC. Mrs. J. M. Turner, president of the city council is serving as chairman for the broadcast and the six local presidents of Pampa's association will take part in the program.

Adapted from an actual discussion meeting, the program will develop the theme of "Home Education." Units of the district are asked to organize their parents listener's groups in order to get credit on their standard and superior ratings.

The Magic City unit will present Cal Farley's Flying Dutchman's circus at their school auditorium on Dec. 18. Attendance records are high for this group which as registered as many as 200 in attendance at a regular meeting.

On Dec. 11, the Amarillo city council will have charge of the district radio program, with Mrs. W. D. Westbay, president of their city council serving as chairman.

Booker's active P.-T. A. study group will meet on Dec. 14, with Mrs. W. A. Miller. They also have a Mother Singers group, and recently produced a play, "The Ready Made Family," and held a successful political rally and box supper program. Booker's membership is ninety-four members.

"Parents have more influence on a child than the teacher" said W. J. Adkins, principal of Weatherly school of Borger, in an address on Father's night. Adkins declared that the foundation laid at home colored a child's school life, adding that schools are necessary to enrich and enable home life, beside awakening an ambition. "The old idea was that schools were four walls in which the child was taught something from a book—now it has become a community enterprise," Mr. Adkins said in speaking of the old and new school. The Weatherly association has a closet in the auditorium which the welfare committee is using in handling the clothing they collect and distribute to children who need clothes.

Canyon P.-T. A. is studying "Character Growth" as the general subject of this year's study. Mrs. Dan Sanders is president of the association.

Clarendon's P.-T. A. has a diversity of activities, which include an annual dog show, sponsored by the Sims Parent-Teachers', and in November the unit presented a book review by Miss Helen White Moore who gave "Gone With the Wind."

The Mother's Singing club of Lefors is directed by Mrs. J. P. Webb, with Mrs. Ferguson assisting. They give special numbers at the regular meeting of the association.

Sponsoring a picture show for children on Saturday morning is one of the projects of the Memphis city council of P.-T. A. The object is to bring educational and worthwhile pictures for the school children of Hall county. Schools are presenting amateur entertainers, and the best program will be awarded a prize of $25 by the council.

Twelve subscriptions to the Parent-Teacher magazine have been announced by the magazine chairman of the Pantex association. The organization is providing clothing for a needy family through a benevolent committee.

Seventeen years ago D. W. Clappitt was working on a church building. Though he had used tobacco for over forty years, he fell out with his pipe, and "threw it as far as he could send it," to use his own language. The manager of a local lumber yard gave him a cigar about the same day just to see if Mr. Clappitt had really sworn off. He must have for he has carried that cigar in his coat pocket seventeen years and has not used tobacco since he quit his pipe. The cigar looks somewhat worn, but the wrapper and a portion of the roll is yet intact.—Donley County Leader (Clarendon).

Sunday School Lesson Exposition

Prepared by C. C. MERRITT
Sunday, December 6, 1936.

PAUL'S PARTING COUNSELS
Printed Lesson: I Tim. 6:6-16; 2 Tim. 4:16-18. Helps: I Tim. 6:2 Tim. 4; Titus 2. Devotional reading: Ps. 121.

(It is hoped that every one will read the lesson texts before reading these comments).

Approach

Success is not possible to some because they have not prepared themselves for their chosen goal; or, they may have no natural or acquired ability necessary for success. Wealth is not within the reach of the majority. And there may be many other things within the ambition of some that cannot be achieved.

But contentment is possible for all. Many have reached their goals and are yet very unhappy. Money has been hoarded; fame has spread to the ends of the earth and yet happiness has taken her flight like winged things. Not so with contentment. There may be no bank accounts, no renown, and no outstanding successes; yet, if there is contentment, there is happiness.

The true Christian spirit holds in sharp contrast "the love of money" and "having food and clothing." The larger emphasis is placed upon the former by the world. The Christian is admonished that with the latter he should be content.

With that he may be content, but the finest of happiness comes only when the Christian has coupled such contentment with godliness. Yes, the Christian is taught to "flee the love of money, which is a root of all kinds of evil." On the other hand he is admonished to "follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness."

From this sort of philosophy comes a peace that will never put the possessor to shame.

Historical Setting

First and Second Timothy were written by Paul to Timothy of Ephesus. First Timothy was written about A. D. 64, probably from Macedonia. Second Timothy was written from Rome about A. D. 66.

THE HEART OF THE LESSON

Introduction

The book of Acts closes with an account of Paul's two years imprisonment (Acts 28:16, 30, 31). All one may know of Paul from that time on must be gathered from his own writings. Some think that Phil. 1:25 and Phm. 22 imply that he was given his liberty for a time and was later imprisoned and remained a prisoner until his death (2 Tim. 4:6). Second Timothy was written shortly before he was executed. It is thought that First Timothy was written during the interval between these two imprisonments.

Nothing In—Nothing Out

(Vs. 6-8) This is certain: we brought nothing material into this world, neither will we take anything material out. Empty-handed in, empty-handed out! The great question we must now settle is, what should our relation be to material things while we are in this world?

Do not be too hasty in giving your answer. Remember that great proverb, "Fools rush in where angels fear to go?"

All should know that peace and happiness are the most prized experiences of life. Our use of material things should be subjected to such experience. God teaches us that "having food and covering we should be therewith content" and "godliness with contentment is great gain" because it brings lasting happiness.

It is better to listen to the Creator and Ruler of the universe. Your own experience and observation is far too limited and there is too much deceit in the heart for it to be possible for you to always draw right conclusions. Not Money, but the Love of Money (Vs. 9-11) Money is not the evil thing—not all money is mammon. But if one is stricken by Satan to love money, that one is already on the way to destruction. The love of money is the open gap through which every damnable sin in the world may enter. Nothing good can come from it. Love for money makes money a means to the gratification of the lust of the flesh. Our verse tells us that "they that are minded to be right fall." That fall is accompanied with every misery, pain and groan possible to man.

Yes, this commentator can testify that he has seen many go astray from the faith and become atheistic just because of a newly found love for money. How much better is it to flee such things and follow after the things that are a joy and a delight! These are enumerated in the 11th verse.

Just How Needful Is This?

(Vs. 12, 13) Needful enough to fight for. Because we were called, not to get rich nor to gain fame, but to have eternal life. This is the crux of our confession when we accepted Christ. Not only have the high and low here heard your statement of committal to Him, but all heaven has heard it. Therefore, we should "keep the commandment." Which? There is just one: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself and thy God above all. "Love is the fulfillment of the law."

And for How Long?

(Vs. 14-16) "Until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ." This is the statement of that one point in time which is so frequently spoken of in the Bible. His coming is imminent. Jesus himself said, "Wherefore, be ye also ready, for in an hour that ye think not, the Son of man cometh."

Kings may reign, dictators may rule, presidents may govern, but Jesus Christ is the only Potentate. He is King of kings. He is Lord of lords. And some day every king, dictator, president and lord—past, present and future—will bend the knee and bow the head to Him who is, and who was, and who is yet to come.

Deserted, Yet Not Forsaken

(2 Tim. 4:16-18) What an experience! Does it sound much like the Lord was with him to you when he said, "At my last defence no one stood by me?" Surely his close friends had not deserted him. Perhaps they had been sent away on some preaching mission when Paul's final trial suddenly came up. Nevertheless the Lord was faithful to His word, "I will never leave thee nor forsake thee." That word still stands. Are you able to recognize—to feel the comfort and strength and assurance of the Lord's divine presence? Paul calls such experiences as his final trial, "treasure in earthen vessels" (2 Cor. 4:7-10) "that the exceeding greatness of the power may be of God, and not from ourselves." Yes, it is wonderful to give way to the power of God in our experiences. But we must not forget that the Lord has said, "My ways are not your ways, neither are my thoughts your thoughts." "God works in a mysterious way His wonders to perform." How sad it must be that some Christians have never learned to recognize the Lord, when He "stands by" ready to help at a notice! Sad, because God would give all of us "spiritual discernment."

The Golden Text

I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith.—2 Tim. 4:7.

"I have," "I have," "I have." No, he is not boasting. He is just trying to tell us that this is all in the past. He faces the block. He knows that now at any time "prisoner No. 1" may be called for execution. Execution—only because he would be true to God! He is "ready to die there for his Lord," using Paul's own words. And what a glorious death! That is not much like one who feels that he is dying before his work is finished. Paul knew whom he had served and he is fully persuaded that He "will deliver me from every evil work, and will save me unto his heavenly kingdom." And He gave Him all the glory.

LESSON QUIZ

1. What bearing does Prov. 15:17 have on the statement in I Tim. 6:6? 2. Are they happiest who are satisfied with the simple things (vs. 7, 8)? 3. In what way do the temptations of the rich and poor differ (vs. 9, 10)? 4. Is "cease to do evil; learn to do well" a good motto for Christians in view of verse 11 of our text? 5. Does vs. 13, 14 refer to "a new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another?" 6. In view of vs. 15 and 16 could you sing, with renewed vigor, the song, "O worship the King, all glorious above?" 7. When men forsake a faithful Christian does that indicate that the Lord has forsaken him? (2 Tim. 4:16-18).

Happenings of Interest by and for Home Demonstration Club Women of the County.

By spending $5.80 and doing all the work herself, Mrs. J. R. Shirley transformed a shack that people did not care to rent into a livable home with a living room, kitchen and bedroom. When Mrs. Shirley returned to Magic City a few months ago, all her houses were rented except this one, which had two rooms. She began by moving a side room and adding it to these two rooms for a bedroom. This side room had been a bath house. As the inside was not finished, she lined all the walls with good corrugated pasteboard boxes and covered them with wall paper. One window was added to the side room and a built-in cabinet made in the kitchen. The color scheme in the kitchen is black and white. A touch of color is added by plaques made of gyp rock powder, which Mrs. Shirley made herself. A closet that is a combination for clothing and groceries, a medicine cabinet and a match holder made from boxes completes all the built-in fixtures from the above stated expense. The stove, sink and Electrolux make the kitchen a complete work shop. Mrs. Shirley told the home demonstration club women who were admiring her home that she did all the work herself even to putting in the gas light fixtures.
