IT'S THE LAW in Texas

The Supreme Court of the United States sits at the pinnacle of the nation's court system. Its justices, as they are properly called, have the final say as to questions concerning rights arising under the U. S. Constitution and as to matters over which the federal courts are given jurisdiction. The Court sits at Washington, D. C., in a magnificent building located near the Capitol. At present the Chief Justice is Earl Warren while the eight Associate Justices are, in order of their service on the court: Hugo L. Black, Felix Frankfurter, William O. Douglas, Tom C. Clark, John M. Harlan, William J. Brennan, Jr., Charles Evans Whitaker and Potter Stewart.

The Court holds one regular term each year, commencing on the first Monday in October. The term usually continues until sometime in June. During its course the Court will hear oral arguments on well over a hundred cases and will dispose of many hundreds more without hearing argument. Certain cases may be appealed automatically. But in most cases it is discretionary as to whether the Court will grant review. The seriousness of the legal question, conflicts of interpretation among the lower courts and on some occasions erroneous results will motivate the acceptance of a case for full hearing and argument.

The general practice is for the Court to hear arguments for two weeks, then recess for two weeks, alternately until near the end of the term. When cases are being argued sessions are held Monday through Friday. On these days, precisely at 12 noon, the Marshal cries the opening of court and the black-robed Judges step forth from openings in the velvet drapes behind the judicial bench to assume their duties.

In the usual case each side is given one hour to present its argument. The presentation is frequently interrupted by sharp questions from the bench and the lawyer with a weak point finds himself seriously embarrassed by cutting remarks from some impatient Justice.

Argument continues until 2:00 p. m., when the Chief Justice announces a recess for a half-hour lunch period. Then at 2:30 court resumes and is finally adjourned at 4:30 p. m. With arguments concluded the Court then takes the case under consideration, and prepares the decision and opinion of the Court.

Wildlife Exhibit Is Available for Use at Meetings

If your town wants the Game and Fish Commission wildlife exhibit for fairs, reunions, or other civic community sponsored affairs, requests should be made as far in advance as possible. This is the warning of T. D. Carroll, director of information and education of the Game and Fish Commission.

"Too often we get requests on short notice from groups wanting the wildlife exhibit," he said. "Unfortunately, the show already is booked in some other part of the state. By sending in earlier requests many times routings or dates can be revised for the benefit of everyone."

The exhibit, consisting of birds, mammals, reptiles and fish of Texas, will go on the road this fall beginning Sept. 1. The first showing will be at the Aransas Pass Shrimpporee, Sept. 2, 3 and 4. The next showing will be at the Jackson County Fair at Edna, Sept. 6, 7 and 8. From there the exhibit will go to the Abilene fair for Sept. 12-17.

It will be at the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo Sept. 19-24, and drop back to South Texas Sept. 28-29 for the Schulenburg Dairy & Beef Show.

In October, the exhibit will be at the Caldwell County Fair, Oct. 6-8; and the Beaumont Sport Show Oct. 20-29.

Numerous bookings are still open for November and December, according to Carroll.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

GIVE YOU TEXAS

Bill King is manager of the agricultural department of the Ft. Worth Chamber of Commerce, assistant manager of the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth, secretary of the Fort Worth Farm and Ranch Club, past Kiwanis Club president and a raiser of miniature pinchers — or maybe it's boxers; anyhow, they're dogs and one costs a good deal of money.

All of this is so you'll know who Bill King is.

He has advanced a suggestion that a book ought to be written on "How It Started", to explain the origin of expressions that we use every day.

For instance, everybody has said, "Jack has more of this-or-that than Carter has oats." Who was Carter? He was a farmer in the Old South a long time ago who was asked how his crop was coming along and he declared that his oats were so abundant they were breaking down the fences.

Then everybody has spoken of such-and-such a situation as being "Hobson's choice." Hobson ran a livery stable in England a long time ago and he rotated the use of his horses. The animal whose turn was next, he placed in the first stall and a customer could select any horse he wanted provided he took the one in the first stall.

And then there is "a Garrison finish." As a boy, I got the idea that it meant the garrison of a besieged fort sallied forth and gave the besiegers hail Columbia. But there was, many years ago, a great jockey by the name of Garrison and he always put on a rousing finish to a race.

However there was also a boxer named Garrison a long time ago who was a favorite with the fans. No matter how badly he had been outpointed in the preceding round, he came rushing out of his corner for the final three minutes and hit his opponent from all directions. Usually the decision went to the other man, whereupon the crowd booed. They had forgotten the first nine rounds and remembered only that "Garrison finish."

Then there is the expression, "the real McCoy." Kid McCoy was a fighter in middleweight and light heavyweight circles rather early in the century. He was the very unusual combination of a superb boxer and heavy hitter.

There were fighters who used his name to get matches in smaller cities and on one occasion a local man was matched with an opponent who claimed to be Kid McCoy. The local boy took a lot of punishment the first round. In his corner at the end of the round his manager asked, "Is he a phony?" The fighter replied, "No — he's the real McCoy."

Well, I've made a start toward writing that book that Bill King suggested. He has generously offered to give me half of whatever I can make from it.

lated, and that the things that help prevent accidents on the job can help keep Americans safe off the job — and vice versa.
"Our Safety... Everywhere... All the Time" campaign is based on the belief that safety shouldn't be left behind at the factory gate. A worker injured off the job is just as lost to industry as if the accident had occurred at a machine."

Gray Matter—

It's good for the party too that he did accept. Without his name on the ticket I don't know of a man who could hold the South in line in this election and how do the Democrats ever expect to win without the South?
I think some of the reasoning behind Mr. Johnson's accepting the vice presidency nomination is that he wanted to be service to the party that has done so much for him in the years past.
Also, there's another angle that might have persuaded Mrs. Johnson to influence the senator and that is the vice president's job actually is an easier job than that of majority leader. As majority leader of the senate he had to work and work hard. The vice president has to preside over the deliberations of the Senate and lead the other boys do all the hard work. Perhaps Mrs. Johnson was thinking of this side of vice presidential life when she asked him, as she is reported to have done, to take the vice presidential nomination.
Nevertheless, this looks a little like history repeating itself. The Roosevelt-Garner ticket had in it much the same elements of political savvy as this Kennedy-Johnson ticket. That ticket of 28 years ago also was one with a Harvard-educated Easterner teamed with a Texan to lead the Democrat to the political promise land. That combination worked then.
It remains to be seen what this one will do this time.

TRACTOR TALK

TESTS PROVE TRACTOR CARE SAVES YOU MONEY

Here's some information that can save you money. It comes from Kansas State University of Agriculture and Applied Science, where a performance study on 50 typical farm tractors was completed recently.
Failure to maintain an engine properly can cost the owner more fuel to produce less power. The average tractor in the Kansas State test was producing only seventy-five percent of its maximum power and it took one-third more fuel than normal to do it. Improper preventive maintenance is the primary culprit, with the following four points topping the list:
(1) Air Cleaners
Of the tractors tested, one out of ten had air cleaners that were choked with dirt and chaff. Servicing their cleaners resulted in an average power gain of 7.6 per cent and an 11.4 per cent decrease in fuel consumption.
(2) Carburetors
Adjustments were needed in almost 75 per cent of the cases. On 23 engines found running "rich", proper adjusted decreased fuel consumption by 9.5 per cent. (In some cases, however, excessive leaning of the carburetor may actually increase fuel consumption at full load.)
(3) Ignition Timing
Over half the tractors were found to need timing adjustment. This produced an average gain in maximum power of 5.3 per cent with fuel consumption decreasing by the same percentage.
(4) Spark Plugs
New plugs were installed in 30 per cent of the tractors for an average power gain of 5.3 per cent and a 6.1 per cent decrease in fuel consumption. In seven of the test tractors, plugs were found to be in such bad condition they caused misfiring under load. In these engines new plugs increased power 21.5 per cent and decreased consumption 14.2 per cent. Governors on 80 per cent of the tractors were off. Adjustments or repairs increased horsepower 9 per cent and cut fuel consumption by 5 per cent.

AIR SERVICE CLEANER IMPORTANT

Are you servicing your tractor air cleaner as often as you should? If not, you'd better heed this warning from Champion Spark Plug Company on the importance of keeping air cleaners working at peak efficiency.
Champion engineers tell us a dust clogged filter may cut down on the flow of air entering the carburetor, resulting in an overly rich fuel mixture in the combustion chamber. This may cause excessive carbon build-up, fouled spark plugs, varnish and gum deposits, oil dilution, slugs, and loss of power.
Even more important is the fact that as the filter becomes clogged, small particles of dust and dirt will enter the carburetor and mix with the lubricating oil to form an effective grinding compound. This compound has the same effect on cylinder walls, rings and valves as rubbing them with sandpaper.

The result—excessive engine wear and shorter engine life.
Just in case you haven't considered how much dirt gets into the air cleaner, keep in mind there are one-million particles of dust in one cubic foot of air. Add to this the fact that it takes approximately 20 tons of air to burn a gallon of gas, and you have an idea just how much dirt enters your air cleaner.

And, remember, when the cleaner has absorbed its limit, the dirt and dust may move right through into the engine. Don't take a chance on damaging your tractor engine. Always follow the manufacturer's recommendations on air cleaner servicing.

CORRECT ENGINE TEMPERATURE IMPORTANT
Maintaining correct operating temperature on a tractor engine is very important too cool an engine (often indicated by continually fouling spark plugs) may reduce fuel economy, decrease available horse power, and shorten engine life.

On the other hand, too hot an engine (sometimes indicated by spark plug electrode burning) can result in poor engine performance and excessive wear of engine components.

Of the two conditions, most farm problems center on engines which operate too cool. This is due mainly to the fact that tractor engines are designed with excess cooling so they can handle heavy loads in hot weather without overheating. However, because of this design characteristic, when the tractor is operated under light engine loads or in relatively cold weather, engine operating temperatures become too low unless precautions are taken to make the engine run hotter.

Usually, this is accomplished by covering the lower part of the radiator, which in effect increases the temperature of the water flowing from the bottom of the radiator into the cooler lower part of the engine.
It's the effect of this cold water entering the engine which can cause too low an operating temperature, hence the reason for covering the radiator to increase cooling water temperature.
You may not think that too cool an engine operating temperature has much effect on engine performance, but according to engineers at Champion Spark Plug Company, an engine running too cool greatly can increase cylinder wear for beyond normal limits and have a tendency to foul spark plugs.

NO ROOM FOR SEDIMENT
If you have trouble with engine surging power and power loss when operating your tractor, you'll probably think of carburetion as the cause of the trouble. Check the fuel filter and sediment bowl before tearing into the carburetor. You might save yourself a lot of time and temper. Your best bet, of course, is to check them before you experience trouble; in fact, the fuel filter and sediment bowl should be examined daily... cleaned weekly. This is especially important after a sudden change in outside temperature, which can cause condensation in the gas tank. If you find water and dirt in the sediment bowl clean it out and wash the filter with solvent. If it has a throw-away element, replace it. When reinstalling the glass bowl, be sure the gasket surfaces are in good condition, to prevent leaks.

New Princess Phone comes to town

I'd like to tell you about a brand-new telephone. It's called the Princess phone, and it is being introduced to the public for the very first time this month in towns we serve throughout the state.
How do you like the new look? Notice the oval base and smart styling. You might say the Princess looks regal.
I feel sure a number of you will want one or more of these lovely little phones. I'd like to tell you about the Princess' main features, because it's not very often I get a chance to write about something as exciting as this new phone.
First, it's little. Only 8 1/2 inches long and 3 1/2 inches high and wide, the Princess phone takes so little space on a living room table, a kitchen counter or bedside table.
Next, the Princess is lovely, in styling and in colors. It comes in the most lighthearted pastels I've seen in a long time—blue, beige, pink and turquoise—plus white.
Finally, the Princess phone lights up. The dial glows softly at night, lights up brightly when you lift the receiver.
Why not be among the first here to order a new Princess phone? Just call us at the telephone business office or see your telephone serviceman.
Call by number... it's twice as fast

FAMILY PUTS 2,000 MILES A MONTH ON CORVAIR THINKS IT'S MARVELOUS
GAS MILEAGE "OUT OF THIS WORLD"

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kahelin of Plant City, Florida, couldn't be happier with the way their new Corvair has worked out as a combination family and business car. On their newspaper distribution route alone they travel more than 400 miles a week over all kinds of roads. Little wonder they're so pleased with the gas mileage they've been getting — "at least twenty-three miles to the gallon with an automatic transmission... and we've had no trouble with our Corvair." The Kahelins have equally good things to say about Corvair's easy-going comfort and unique convenience features. They especially like the way the fold-down seat doubles as a built-in baby sitter.
