Political News For Women

When August rolls around, 40 years will have passed since the key was turned in the door of political opportunity for women. In recognizing the anniversary of women's suffrage and the growth in importance of the woman voter and her political responsibilities, the National Association of Manufacturers has produced a new booklet, "Women's Role in Politics."

Shifting Insurance Burdens—
... has long been a custom of the American people, and it's a good custom. Don't try to carry the load yourself personally, but shift it to your local agent and let insurance do it. Your losses may be hours or years away but meanwhile if you are adequately insured you not only have protection but peace of mind which are worth far more than the cost in dollars and cents. Loss or no loss, you win either way with insurance!

The booklet, based on an address by Charles R. Sligh, Jr., executive vice president of the NAM, warns of the dangers of Big Government and Welfare state trends and discusses the differences between the "liberal" and the "conservative" point of view. It also stresses the need for increased economic growth in order that our communities may have the additional schools, parks, churches and other institutions required by an expanding population.
"American women have more to do with this than many of them realize," the booklet points out. "They have more votes than men. They devote more of their time to consideration of the welfare of the helpless, the aged and the younger generation."
In introducing "Women's Role in Politics," the Director of NAM's Women's Communications, Mary B. Brown, says, "Even though the old rule, 'pink is for the girls, blue is for boys,' will not be visible on the ballots at the polling places, it seems obvious that the more than 53 million women of voting age will once again show their influence and power in November. In the last several elections women cast 50 per cent or more of the total vote, and it is estimated that their votes will exceed the men's this year by two million." The NAM representative continued, "Women are wide awake to politics; they know that the very fact that we have freedom of choice makes it doubly important to choose well. Last year at this time NAM introduced a program kit on politics for women's clubs. More than eight thousand organizations responded enthusiastically. The 'Women's Role in Politics' booklet is a part of future programs on National Affairs prepared specifically for women's interest by the NAM." Christian Science

How scientific prayer leads to a clearer understanding of Truth will be brought out at Christian Science Services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon on "Truth" will include the following passages from the Bible (Luke 11:11, 13): "If a son shall ask bread of a father, will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will he for a fish give him a serpent? . . . If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children: how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?"

The importance of prayer is also emphasized in reading from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (11:27-31): "Prayer cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth, but prayer, coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and do the will of God, will bring us into all Truth."
