

World War II Vets Given Loan Extension

E. Moore

World War II veterans have two more years in which to obtain Veterans Administration—guaranteed home, farm and business loans as the result of a bill signed into law July 14, 1960, by the President.

Under this same law, both World War II and Korean conflict veterans can continue to apply for direct loans from the Federal Government if they live in designated rural areas where GI loans are not from the local lending institutions.

The new law authorizes Treasury Department advances of $150 million in each of the next two years of this direct loan extension program.

New expiration date for the guaranteed loan program for World War II veterans and for the direct loan program for both World War II and Korean veterans is July 25, 1962. The prior deadline for both programs was July 25, 1960.

Since it was started in June, 1944, the GI Loan Program has guaranteed more than Five Million Loans to World War II veterans, totaling approximately $41 Billion, and to 775,000 Korea veterans, amounting to nearly $9 Billion.

Since direct loans were first authorized in July 1950, the VA has made 165,000 Direct Loans totaling $1.3 Billion in rural areas and small towns where veterans could not secure loans from local lending facilities.

While both World War II and Korea veterans may now apply for direct loans through July 25, 1960, Korea veterans may continue to seek VA-guaranteed loans through July 31, 1965, through previous legislation.

The GI loan interest rate of 5 and 1 fourth percent remains unchanged by the new law.

The new law also will require that earnest money deposits veterans make be placed in trust accounts so that they will be safeguarded in case the builder becomes insolvent.

Another provision will allow the VA to guarantee a loan so long as the application is received prior to the new term date. Formerly, the law provided VA had one year in which to issue its evidence of guaranty. This amendment will allow the guaranty of loans submitted before the terminal date when because of title problems, delays in construction, or other reasons the loan cannot be completed within one year.

Sam J. Little Dies Saturday, Rites Monday

Sam J. Little Sr., 74 former court reporter for 43rd District Court, died at 11 a. m. Saturday in Ranger General Hospital.

Mr. Little had lived in Ranger since September, 1959. Prior to that, he had lived in Arlington in a six-week field training exercise in Grafenwohr, Germany.

The exercise, conducted under realistic combat conditions, was designed to evaluate the combat effectiveness of the unit, a major element of the NATO shield of defense in Europe.

Brummett, a cannoner in Headquarters Battery of the division's 16th Artillery in Schwabish Gmund, entered the army in February 1959, completed basic training at Fort Chaffee, Ark., and arrived overseas in July 1959.

Brummett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldo L. Brummett, 323 Alice St., is a graduate of Nashville (Ark.) High School and attended Freed-Hardeman College, Henderson, Tenn.

CHILEAN CHARMER

This tiny Chilean child is too young to realize the tragedy which struck her country—but not too young to know that she can trustfully seek the helping hands of American soldiers. Medical units and Engineers of the U. S. Army's Strategic Army Corps rushed early to aid the stricken country and continue round-the-clock work in their humanitarian role.

School District Warned to Up Local Standards

The Eastland Independent School District was warned Monday by the School Accreditation Commission to correct "minor violations of accreditation standings promptly."

The District was one of 34 in the state to receive such a warning.

Members of the School Board and Supt. Wendell Siebert were in Austin Friday to consult with state officials.

Supt. Siebert said most of the problems here are "money problems." He said it is simply a case of not having enough money to do some of the things which have been required.

A story pointing out the things the state has demanded be corrected will appear in Thursday's Telegram.

Lightning Causes Power Failure Here

An electrical storm left the cities of Eastland and Ranger in the dark for 27 minutes last night.

Milk Production In Central West Texas Is Down

Daily Class I utilization by Central West Texas handlers including Eastland County, during June was 2.61 per cent below May and 1.12 per cent less than June 1959. June 1960 daily producer receipts were 2.09 per cent less than May, however they were 3.50 per cent above June 1959.

Producer receipts were 134.1 per cent of total Class I utilization during June compared with 133.4 per cent in May and 128.1 per cent in June 1959.

During June 433 producers delivered 15,334,495 pounds of milk of which Class I producer milk accounted for 11,394,152 pounds or 74.3 percent. Class I producer milk accounted for 75.0 per cent of total producer receipts in May 1960.

The average daily delivery per producer during June was 1,037 pounds, an increase of 61 pounds over the average daily delivery per producer during June 1959.

The minimum uniform price to be paid producers for 4.0 per cent milk received by Central West Texas handlers during June will be $4.99 per hundredweight, according to an announcement by Byford W. Bain, Market Administrator. This price is subject to a location adjustment. For each point (0.1 per cent) that the average butterfat content of producer milk varies from 4.0 per cent a butterfat differential of 7.0 cents applies.

Revival Services At Church of The Nazarene

Revival services will begin Wednesday July 20 and continue through Sunday July 31 at the Church of The Nazarene.

Rev. Bobby Ferguson, pastor will be the preacher for the revival.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor of Floydado will lead the singing. Services will begin each night at 8 p. m. and a pre prayer service will precede the services each night.

Beef Production Costs Studied

Research being conducted in East Texas by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station shows that it costs $99 per mother cow per year to produce beef, according to Tom Prater, extension farm management specialist. This $99 includes interest on investment, operator's labor, depreciation and all other annual costs, says Prater.

With each mother cow producing an average of 378 pounds of beef per year, the operator must receive slightly more than 26¢ per pound of beef produced if he is to break even, Prater points out.

If the operator's labor charge is not included the cost is $82 per year. In this case, the specialist continues, the operator would be covering all costs if he received 21¢ per pound for his beef. This price would not, however, pay him anything for his labor.

Excluding interest on investment, the cost of production is $65 per cow. At a return of slightly over 17¢ per pound the operator would be receiving a fair wage, but he would not be receiving enough to cover any interest charges.

When labor and interest costs are both excluded, the annual cost is $47 per mother cow. This means that over a short period of time the operator could receive 12½¢ per pound of beef produced and continue to operate. He would not, however, be receiving any return for labor and investment, Prater continues.

These costs indicate the items and factors that must be considered in operating a beef operation. They also indicate the necessity for good records and a constant study of the individual operation, Prater points out.

This information is contained in a master's thesis, written by J. E. Wright and based on Texas Agricultural Experiment Station data.

MARIE BONEY SAYS Conversation Isn't Dead In Eastland

By MARIE BONEY

Conversation, people are fond of saying, is a lost art. Television, they continue, has placed talking in the necessity class, something which is used only to make known needs or desires.

The proponents of this theory obviously spend too much time talking about the theory and not enough time listening to good speakers. Eastland has several citizens who can hold an audience of any size captive.

Some of these regularly speak in public: the Rev. Dave Cooper, of the Bethel Baptist Church, who spent his childhood in South America and who can tell fascinating stories about the country and people there; Judge D. D. Dabney has vast store of memories of local events and points of law; the Rev. Eugene Lee, minister of the First Baptist Church, is able to break down his knowledge into parts which can be digested by all; one is not a citizen here full-time, but is currently in our town, Steve Ateek, an Arab from Israel, who attends Hardin-Simmons University. If you've never had an opportunity to hear Steve tell of his homeland, create one. You'll never regret it.

A visitor to Eastland recently was Dr. Zambus, also of Hardin-Simmons University. Dr. Zambus is one of few who can recount events of past centuries and make them as exciting as today's headlines.

Eastland also has some good speakers who are not accustomed to public speaking. If you'd like to hear something out of the ordinary of your every-day conversations, go and talk with Mrs. Will Martin, who will tell you things about this town's past which will make you sorry you haven't lived here longer. Or Mrs. Ellis Slaughter, who came here as a war bride in 1946. The Australia who paints is the real one, the human one, as opposed to the picture you receive from "On The Beach," and such. "The Intruder" contains some excellent descriptive phases of Australia, but even these take on new meaning after you've heard Joan describe her home. Mr. Pierce, who lives on North Virginia Street, left his home in North Texas at the age of 11. He joined a cattle drive to Kansas—go talk to him for the best "Western" you'll ever get a glimpse of anywhere.

The list could go on and on. Those who have traveled a great deal, those who have never left the state, the war veterans, some who never came near the armed forces. The unusual happening or the unusual method of relating a common event is still good listening—much more real than television. So if you tire of re-run programs & too-well-run conventions, try conversation.

Eastland Women Attend Weekend Guild Meeting

Mmes. Harold Durham, D. E. Frazer, Marshall and Misses Opal and Loretta Morris attended the Wesleyan Service Guild weekend meeting on the Southwestern University Campus at Georgetown Saturday and Sunday.

The program consisted of a presentation of the studies for the following year. They are "Heritage and Horizons in Home Missions", "Christian Responsibility and the Alcohol Problem", and "Into All the World Together." Dr. Fred D. Geale of the Perkins School of Theology presented the Bible study, "Basic Christian Beliefs." Dr. Walter Kerr, pastor of the Marvin Church of Tyler, was the banquet speaker Saturday night with Dr. William C. Finch, president of the Southwestern University, giving the inspirational address at the Sunday morning worship.

Clinics were held for district and local guide officers. The Eastland members who attended held the following officers: Mrs. Frazer, president, Mrs. Marshall, district and local chairman of missionary education, Mrs. Durham, Christian Social relations and Miss Loretta Morris, secretary of promotion.

Miss Opal Morris is spiritual life chairman at Albany and she remained in Georgetown for this week in order to attend the School of Missions of the Women's Society of Christian Service.

Commissioners Hold Routine Meeting Monday

Eastland City Commissioners held half of their meeting in total darkness Monday night, but still got their work done.

The Commission meeting was in progress when lightning caused a power failure here.

Only business of the night was a study of possible members of an equalization board, the city's hospitalization insurance program and the need to spray mosquitoes. City Manager James Young was told to do what he deemed necessary in each case.

Neiman-Marcus Fashion Award
The Neiman-Marcus Award "for Distinguished service in the field of fashion" is presented annually to persons who have made notable contribution in fashions and related fields. It is the oldest existing award of its type in the world.
The presentations are made usually during the first week of September at the Neiman-Marcus Fashion Exposition, when the internationally-known Texas store presents the premier collections of the great couturiers, furriers, jewelers and accessory makers of the world. Each year the Exposition follows a carefully developed theme in presenting the new and prophetic in fashion and generally encompasses two large and elaborately staged benefit fashion shows and an Exposition Ball.
The handsome handcut silver and ebony plaques that are actual awards have for years been referred to as "Oscars of the Fashion Industry", and the list of the recipients since 1938 as "a roster of Fashion's Hall of Fame".
The awards are in no sense a competition; but are made after careful evaluation and selection by the executives, merchandise directors and buyers of the store in consultation with eminent fashion authorities of this country and Europe. Nomination and selection of the Awardees can take on the heat, fever and controversy of a national political campaign, a major difference being the unawareness and lack of participation of the candidates who rarely know or guess of the melec that precedes their "election".
In number, the awards vary from year to year, from single ones in 1943 and 1957, to eight in 1938. They are made not only to fashion designers but to persons influential in related fields such as industrial design, publishing, manufacturing, for a broader interpretation of the word and world of "fashion".
The awards have ranged from the directness and fashion impact of one to the late Christian Dior in 1947, the year of the "new Look", to the implication and nuance of one of the Director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in 1945.
Winners in 1959 were Miss Rosalind Russell, Arnold Seasti, Miss Anne Klein, Piero Fornasetti, and Emme and Adolfo.

Summertime Delight! FROSTY PARFAIT PIE

Everyone goes for ice cream. Everyone dotes on apple pie. So, loud cheers, here's a dessert that delivers both... an apple pie with ice cream blended right into it. For the apple part, you marry canned apple sauce to the ice cream, give gentle firmness with orange gelatin and you get a pie meltingly smooth, frosty cool, holding the happy zest of apples and a hint of orange in its depths. You may make this pie with a definite meal in mind. But don't be surprised to find yourself sliding big tender wedges onto plates just any time after the pie is made... for this is a pie practically impossible to resist. Who, indeed, would want to? For all its light, creamy perfection you don't have to carry on like mad to make it. Just gather the few ingredients and follow the remarkably easy directions.

1 package orange-flavored gelatin 2 cups canned apple sauce 1 1/2 cups boiling water 1 pint vanilla ice cream 1 cup orange rind 9" baked pastry shell

Add gelatin to boiling water, stir until dissolved. Cut ice cream into fourths; add to hot gelatin mixture, stirring until ice cream has melted. Add apple sauce and grated orange rind; mix well. Put filling into pie shell. Chill until set. (If desired, garnish with alternate spoonfuls of whipped cream and canned apple sauce.)
