New Dial Telephone Directories In Mail

Eastland's new dial telephone directories will be mailed to subscribers here Monday, Archer Marx Jr. manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, announced today. "The new directory contains about 2,720 alphabetical listings," Marx said. Old directories should be thrown away as soon as the new issue is received. However, care should be taken to remove any items such as photos, letters, and notes which might have been placed between the pages, the manager advised. The Eastland directory has a gray cover and contains 16 "white" or alphabetical pages and 28 "yellow" or classified pages. Approximately 3,000 copies of the directory have been printed. "A number of extra copies are printed as replacements for those used in public telephone booths and other places where much use occurs," Marx explains. "The telephone directory," he added, "remains one of the 'best read' books in Eastland." You can save time by referring to it if you are not sure of a number or need assistance of any kind. The yellow pages are a convenient listing of almost every business in town, he added.

Kinnaird and Garrett Are Lion Speakers

Eastland Lions heard talks by H. R. (Pop) Garrett, immediate past district governor, and Donald Kinnaird, a charter member of the club, at their regular meeting Tuesday. Garrett talked on the importance of Lion's civic work, and Kinnaird told club members how the Eastland Club was organized July 7, 1922. Kinnaird paid special praise to the late Judge N. N. Rosenquest. He said Judge Rosenquest was, in his opinion, "the greatest Lion that Lionism has ever produced." Judge Rosenquest was the third president of the Eastland club, serving in 1924-25. He also served as district governor, and made one of the most remarkable records ever when holding that post, Kinnaird said. Kinnaird himself, a Lion for 38 years, has served as president of the Eastland club twice, as deputy district governor and as zone chairman.

ROY SKAGGS... In Congressional race

Roy Skaggs of Abilene to Seek Seat In Congress

Roy Skaggs, Abilene businessman, announced today as a candidate for Congress from the 17th Congressional District. Skaggs is district manager for a mutual fund investment company. He served as district clerk of Taylor County from 1938 to 1946, and for seven years was a member of the Abilene school board. Skaggs was born and reared on a farm near Gorman in Eastland County. He graduated from Hardin-Simmons University in 1928. He made the following statement in announcing his candidacy: "I am asking the people of the 17th Congressional District for the privilege of representing them in Washington for the following reasons: It is my sincere belief that the 17th Congressional District (all of it) is entitled to positive representation. It is my further belief that any man of integrity with ordinary intelligence seasoned strongly with good common horse sense, who has initiative and fortitude, can provide positive representation for this district. It is my conviction that nothing (absolutely nothing) is so big and so bad that nothing can be done about it. It is an obvious fact that there are faults within our government that need correcting. It seems inevitable that tremendous loss will accrue all of us unless something is done to correct these faults and is done right away. Some problems which cry for immediate action are: Foreign Aid should be reevaluated on a realistic basis. More should be spent "for defense" and less "for tribute." Wanton wastefulness through cancerous, bureaucratic agencies should be brought to a grinding stop by consolidations and eliminations. The Supreme Court should be put back into the business of interpreting law under the Constitution rather than making laws by decree. To accomplish this, Justices should be selected on the basis of judicial qualifications rather than on the basis of political expediency. Unnecessary government interference should be stopped to the greatest possible degree and with the greatest possible speed if free enterprise is to survive and if we are to survive as a capitalistic nation rather than deteriorating into a socialistic, welfare state—just a half step short of communism. At all costs (there is neither choice nor alternative here) and through the finest team work, the arms situation must be brought into balance with emphasis on nuclear warfare methods strongly impelled by conventional devices. Economies must be effected in methods—not in magnitude. I am realistic. I know that I cannot go to Washington, D. C. and reverse the process which have been wreaking havoc or us for so long. But, believing that I have a reasonable degree of intelligence and the courage of my convictions, together with a willingness to listen with an open mind to the opinions of others, and being willing to work to determine the will and the needs of all the people of this 17th Congressional District, I sincerely believe I can be an effective representative. I need a lot of help—the enthusiastic help of friends by word-of-mouth, by correspondence and by distribution of campaign material. This kind of help, together with a great deal of hard work on my part, plus a little financial help from each of a lot of people, will enable me to conduct a winning campaign. Your vote and your assistance will be gratefully acknowledged by my constant effort to serve you to my utmost capacity."

AFTER 62-41 BALLINGER WIN

Mavs Face Cisco In Bid for 7-AA Lead

Eastland pounded Ballinger, 62-41, Tuesday night, but the big news in District 7-AA was Winters', 40-38, upset victory over the league-leading Cisco Lobos. The Mavs, charged with a one point loss to Winters and a five point setback at the hands of Cisco, this now have a chance to get back into the district race. Both Winters and Cisco have records of four wins and one loss, while Eastland and Coleman have three and two slates. Ballinger has won one and lost four and Ranger is 6-5. Balanced teamwork did it for the Mavericks Tuesday night. Seven players shared in the scoring, and four of the Mavs hit in double figures. Mickey Garner was high pointer for the night with 12 points. Otis Green, Phillip Lewis and John Wilson each had 10, Raymond Lusk got eight, David Whitten six and Martin Day six. Billy Jones led the losers with 17 points. Eastland also won the B team game, outscoring the visitors 49-40. In the A game, the Mavs needed a big third quarter to ice away the game. Leading by 23-20 at the midway mark, the Mavs found the range in the third stanza and pumped in 19 points while holding Ballinger to seven to increase their lead to 42-27. The Mavs got 20 more points in the final period. Winters, playing in their home gym, led all the way over Cisco. The Lobos staged a last quarter rally which almost pulled the game out of the fire, however. In fact, with one second left on the clock, the score was tied. Winters got the game given them with a late foul. Winless Ranger showed improvement in losing to Coleman, 53-44 in the only other district game. Stern Test Friday In a big "triple-header" basketball program at the Community gymnasium Friday the Eastland High School "A" and "B" teams will meet the Cisco High School Lobos and Cisco Junior College will meet Blinn in its first conference game of the season. The evening will open with the "B" team contests at 6:15 p.m., followed by the main high school conference game at 7:45 p.m. and the college game at 9 a.m. Halftime entertainment will feature Miss Connie Hite, freshman student at Cisco Junior College, in a twirling routine. A mid-term graduate of Vernon High School, Miss Hite was a majorette there. The Friday schedule for District 7-AA basketball teams includes Eastland at Cisco, Winters at Ranger and Ballinger at Coleman.

Rhodes' Roundup

By Oran Rhodes
Hello Again!
Another week has slipped by and they seem to fly faster all the time. Being a senior at good old E.H.S., it is going much too fast for me. The seniors are planning to go to T.C.U. Career Day tomorrow. The seniors have been looking forward to this for a good while and they will, I am sure, enjoy the activities of the day. The seniors are going in cars. Those parents taking cars are Mrs. Ferne Green, Mrs. L. E. Huckabay, Mrs. W. V. Lewis and Mrs. B. W. Robertson. Charlotte Vaughn is also taking her car with Mrs. Clyde Young going along as sponsor. The band will also be in Fort Worth, Friday. They will play a concert for the opening of the Fat Stock Show tomorrow night. They will stay and watch the rodeo after the concert. Basketball is staying alive around high school hill. The Mavericks, B team and A team ran over Ranger in the local gym last Tuesday night. The A game wound up 57-27 with Coach Spike Dykes emptying his bench. Friday night the district hopes of the locals were dimmed by a 41-40 defeat at the hands of Winters. Eastland led most of the way, but gave up the lead in the last few minutes. The Mavs were cold as usual, but they played good ball. Tuesday night the Mavericks played Ballinger in the local gym. They will travel to Cisco tomorrow night to try to revenge their previous loss. The Mavericks played an inter-squad game last Thursday afternoon with one team winning over the other by one point. This shows the fine ball club Mrs. Milton Day has this year. The red team who lost the contest 52-51 consisted of Peggy Blair, Glenda Johnson, Kathy Jones, Patsy Hollis, Kay Morton, Judy Lewis, Becky McAlister and Carole McClesky. The winning gray team was made up of Wanda Arther, Yvonne Green, Judy McMillian, Jo Ann Morren, Beverly Kline, Joyce Robertson, Tena Urban and Judy Seabery. Last Monday night the Mavericks played the Ballinger Bear-Kittens in the local gym. The Eastland B team lost but all the girls did a fine job. The A team girls from Eastland took the Ballinger girls, 59-35. Yvonne Green was high pointer for Eastland with 20 points, not topping Ballinger's Shirley Kurtz, however. Wanda Arther followed in scoring with 15 points. Kathy Jones had seven and Patsy Hollis, five to help what time they were in the game. Judy Seabery, who did a very fine job rebounding and getting the ball to her teammates, contributed 11 points to the effort. Beverly Kline, Judy McMillian, Tena Urban, Kay Morton, and Joyce Robertson all did a fine job at guard. Guess that about winds it up for this week. See you around.

Texas Federation Of Women's Clubs To Meet in Dallas

The spring State Board meeting of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will be held February 13-14 in Fort Worth, Mrs. Hermine Tobolowsky, Dallas, state president, has announced.

The executive committee will meet Saturday morning in the Adolphus Hotel and will join the entire board at a Valentine luncheon when the Business and Professional Woman's of Clubs of Dallas, Inc., honor the state president.

Miss Peggy Swain is president of the Dallas club with Mrs. Anna Logan Jones and Mrs. Elizabeth Martin serving as co-chairman of the luncheon to be held at the Preston Hollow Country Club.

The first official board meeting will begin at 7:30 Saturday evening at the Texas Hotel in Fort Worth.

Plans for the Federation's state convention in Houston in June 10-11-12 will be outlined and the legislation campaign will be delegated in large portion to the district directors for successful completion.

Mrs. Tobolowsky states that early reports from over the state indicate that 1960 will be a record year for new B & P W Clubs, with some five clubs already in prospect or in the progress of organization.

Good Taste

By Emily Post

Their Evening Was Spoiled

Dear Mrs. Post: Last Saturday my husband and I and two other couples went out to dinner. It was Dutch treat. While we were seated at table and looking over the menu, another couple whom we were all acquainted with but not overly fond of, came by and stopped to chat. After a while one of the women in our party asked them if they would like to join us, which they did. Their presence cast a pall over the group, and instead of spending a pleasant evening, it was strained and stiff. I thought this friend was very wrong in taking it upon herself to ask them to join our party. She claims it was the only polite thing to do.

Answer: It was not at all necessary to ask this extra couple to join your party and knowing how the group felt toward them. I agree with you that she was wrong to have ask them to do so.

Politeness To An Older Generation

Dear Mrs. Post: My brother and I went to visit an aunt and uncle the other evening. While we were there an elderly man came to call. When he said good-night my brother shook hands with him and said he was delighted to meet him, while I stayed in my chair and merely said good-night. Later my brother told me that I should have gotten up and shaken hands, but I don't believe this formality is expected of a young woman.

Answer: Because you are young you should have stood up to say goodnight. Had he been a younger man, or you nearer his age, you would have remained seated since you were not in your own house.

When She Is Engaged

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is engaged to a man who is going to be best man at a wedding. Is she supposed to be included in dinner and other parties given for the bridal party? I think she should be just the same as a wife always is. But there seems to be some difference of opinion.

Answer: You are right. If your daughter's engagement has been announced, she should be invited to all dinners and parties at which her fiance is to be present.

A Novel Suggestion

Dear Mrs. Post: The man I'm marrying is a stranger to practically all of my best friends back home. We are marrying in a distant city, having met only a few months ago here where I've come to teach school. As we can not go home for the wedding, and as none of my oldest friends—or even many of my relatives, can be present, we are not inviting them and are limiting the wedding to a few. Would it be permissible to enclose a small wallet size wedding picture of me and the groom with the wedding announcements so friends will at least see what he looks like?

Answer: Although unusual, there is no valid reason why you may not send pictures of you and the groom to intimate friends.

Thanking Daughter's Boy Friend For Gift

Dear Mrs. Post: Last week my daughter invited a young man to our house for the weekend. I went all out to make this weekend a pleasant one for him. When he returned home he sent me a small gift with his bread-and-butter note. My daughter insists that I write a thank-you note for the gift. I don't believe it is necessary as it was sent in payment, so to speak, for hospitality shown to him.

Answer: The gift was the result of an impulse of friendship and in no way a sense of obligation, and therefore you should certainly write thank you for it.

Should He Sit Between Them?

Dear Mrs. Post: When a man goes to the theater or to a concert with two women, would it not be better if he sat between them?

Answer: It is always best that the women enter the row of seats ahead of the man who then takes the aisle (or last) seat. To sit between two women is not only a mistake of good form, but of convenience, since he cannot avoid turning his head away from one when talking with the other. Sitting at the end he faces both. Moreover, the woman at the other end can easily lean across the first woman if she especially wants to hear, whereas she cannot lean across the man.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have hear leaflet E-35, entitled, "The Well-dressed Woman," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of (this newspaper), P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. (Released by The Bell Syndicate)

Physical Education Theme of School Meeting at H-SU

ABILENE—Health and physical education curriculum standards for the public schools will be examined by West Central Texas school officials at Hardin-Simmons University Saturday (Jan. 30.)

Schools in Callahan, Stephens, Stonebowl, Shackelford, Haskell, Eastland, Jones, Fisher and Taylor counties will be represented at the H-SU meeting. Fifty to 100 school representatives are expected.

The conference is being called by the Texas Education Agency. Otho M. Polk, head of the physical education department at H-SU, will be general chairman. The meetings—separate sessions are planned for health education and physical education—will be held in Abilene Hall, starting at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Reports on health and physical education curriculum studies made by two commissions set up by the State Board of Education in January, 1958, will be discussed, and the schoolmen will be asked for their recommendations on approval or change in the commission reports. Particular attention will be given to proposed changes in accreditation standards, Polk said.

Eleven of the public school curriculum commissioners were established in 1958, and their findings now are being studied throughout the state as one of the final steps in the establishment of new curriculum standards for all phases of the Texas public school program.

Cooperating with Hardin-Simmons is sponsorship of the Abilene area studies is the Texas Assn. for Health, Physical Educational and Recreation.

Your Insurance and Your Future

... are all bound up together. The family who keeps adequately insured is not only wise but thrifty since insurance provides protection for the thrifty dollar. If loss occurs in the household of the uninsured his life's savings may be wiped out. But not so with the insured person. To be thrifty and wise, be insured. And the less we have the more it is a part of wisdom to guard against financial destruction.

the air-cooled rear engine never needs antifreeze!

WHEN YOU DRIVE A CORVAIR, THRIFT GOES ALONG FOR THE RIDE

Corvair's economy begins with its initial low cost, and every mile you drive is money in the pocket. Your gas dollars will now go farther... because the Corvair delivers miles and miles and miles per gallon. And when you change oil, the refill is only four quarts.

Because of Corvair's low weight (1,335 lbs. less than conventional cars) and extra-low price, you'll realize added savings in many states in licensing and insurance costs.

When winter comes, just let it. Corvair's air-cooled six-cylinder engine rids you forever of antifreeze bills. Corvair has no radiator so you can forget about leaks and worn hoses.

Important as economy is, it tells only part of Corvair's glad story.

The aluminum engine in the rear supplies willing power to the rear wheels, giving superior traction when it's needed most.

As you glide along, you'll marvel at how easily the Corvair steers (no power assistance needed there) and the sure braking action front and rear. That's the payoff on precise weight distribution.

There's room enough for six adults and the floor is practically flat for remarkable comfort. A wonderfully handy folding rear seat makes it virtually a station sedan.

There's really nothing quite like the ride you get in the Corvair. Independent suspension at every wheel, Corvair's "spring quartet," wafts you over bumps with feathering ease.

Why don't you have your Chevrolet dealer introduce you to Corvair today?

SAFARI FOR SOULS
 WITH BILLY GRAHAM IN AFRICA
 by TOM McMAHAN, Religion Editor, The State, Columbia, S. C.

The opening crusade of Billy Graham's African Tour came near being an official project of the national government than any other campaign the globetrotting evangelist has ever held.

Graham came to this 113 year old West African Republic which was founded by freed men from America, at the official invitation of President William V. S. Tubman who has just begun an auspicious and unprecedented fourth term.

Vice President William R. Tolbert, Jr., who is also pastor of a Baptist Church in his own community, was chairman of the crusade committee and many other governmental leaders had prominent rolls.

Liberia is probably the most Christian nation in the world officially speaking from the Protestant point of view. Its declaration of independence was addressed to "the nations of Christendom." Many high officials double as ministers. The President himself is a local preacher in the Methodist Church. However, Animism is still prevalent in the interior and it is estimated that up to 25 per cent of the population is Mohammedan.

Monrovia is a city of contrast. From the government rest house where the Graham team members are guests of the President, one can look out on a luxury hotel at the foot of the hill which is being rushed to completion. Liberia seems to be on the threshold of a great surge forward economically and there is almost no bitterness because of colonial oppression such as exists in nearby lands.

The spirit of nationalism which exists in Africa is manifested here by the restoration and preservation of African culture and the replacement of foreigners in key positions as fast as Liberians become qualified to run the jobs.

At a luncheon given in honor of Graham in the Executive Mansion, President Tubman said the crusade had welded churchmen and missionaries together in an unprecedented unity.

The Order of African Redemption, Liberia's second highest honor, was conferred on Graham by President Tubman. The former farm boy was made a Grand Commander of the Order.

Liberia's promise of freedom was the key consideration in the location of a missionary radio village from which the Gospel is beamed to many lands in many languages. Station ELWA of the Sudan Interior Mission, located on a beach front that resembles coastal Carolina or Georgia, rushed in to service a new 50,000 watt transmitter to extend the impact of the Graham meetings. Most other African nations have government controlled radio, an ELWA executive noted.

The public meetings of Graham attracted many of the upper class as well as an unexpected number of semi-literate people. The first night audience was estimated at about 8,500. Nearly 500 persons came forward to register decisions for Christ.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Department of Agriculture says that the food supply in the United States is the safest, cleanest and most wholesome in the world.

Much discussion in various departments of Government and in the Congress is going on, regarding the inclusion of chemicals in food production, in processing and marketing. The source of chemicals effecting food, of course, begins with fertilizers. This is followed by insecticides, antibiotics, antiseptics and preservatives. It also includes feed additives, fumigants, fungicides and others.

All of this becomes a part of our food and is essential for an efficient production on the farm. The experts say that to abandon the use of these things in the food producing industries would result in immediate decline in the quantity and quality of our food supply and cause a rapid rise in food prices paid by consumers.

Research is constantly taking place to determine how chemicals can be better and more safely used to make food supplies greater and to raise the quality. At the same time, research is constantly underway to determine the safety of these chemicals in our food supply, and to keep a watchful eye on anything which may be detrimental to the Nation's health.

There is a stepped-up program of research and also a diligent effort on the part of Agriculture and the Pure Food and Drug Administration, under the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, to guarantee the greatest protection.

In addition to foods, the Federal Trade Commission is stepping strongly into the picture to protect consumers against unfair and misleading advertisements of products. Expanded and exaggerated claims in television advertising has necessitated greater activity of enforcement by the Federal Trade Commission and is an issue at the present time as to whether they have adequate authority, or whether additional legislation is required.

The cotton industry of the United States is facing increasing losses from foreign growers and textile imports.

Technical assistance from the United States in agriculture for a number of foreign nations has expanded the growth of cotton, with little regard for the impact on our export markets. As this production has increased the cotton farmers of the United States have had to cut acreage drastically and have been called upon to make the supply adjust to the world demand.

In the last ten years the United States has decreased its cotton production by more than 3 million bales, while at the same time other countries increased their production by approximately 7 1/2 million bales.

By reason of our high cost of production and the cheap cost of production in foreign countries, we are unable to compete in foreign markets. Cotton produced in the United States is only finding its way into residual markets in foreign countries. In other words, we are only able to export to those places which are unable to get their supply from other sources.

Manufactured cotton goods holds the same position as the raw product to our textile plants. As is true with many other commodities, cotton goods produced in great quantity in Japan, imported into the United States, can be sold much cheaper, even after the payment of import duties.

We have exported Know-how, equipment and many other forms of assistance to many foreign nations, but can not now do very much exporting of such raw products as cotton. In addition, our cost of production from the field to the cotton shirt has become so high we are pricing ourselves out of the world market.
