The City of Eastland has gained praise from the Texas Department of Health for improvements

City Manager James Young received a letter of praise recently from J. F. Von Zuben Jr., chief ups in preventing and treating Division of Sanitary Engineering, stating that a "very favorable report on your city's recently installed sanitary land fill' was filled by the inspecting Department staff member.

Von Zuben also praised the city for using a packer-type truck for collection services and for giving daily service in the commercial areas and twice weekly service in residential areas during the summer months.

The health engineer urged the over-all use of galvanized metal containers, 30 gallon maximum, with tight-fitting lids, here. He said the containers were a great aid to better health of a commun
