Pre-Bowl Parade Covers 12 Blocks

A large crowd lined the streets of Eastland Saturday afternoon to witness the First Eastland County Peanut Bowl parade. Thirty-seven entries composed the parade that covered 12 city blocks.

A float entered by Ranger College that depicted the "Horn of Plenty" won first place in the float division of the parade. Taking second place was a float entered by the Cisco Junior Chamber of Commerce, which was a football scene. The Eastland County 4-H Clubs float which portrayed the four H's, health, hands, head and health, won third place.

In the band division the Cisco High School marching band took first place, followed by the Eastland High School band and the Ranger High School band.

The Queen's float, which was presented by the Eastland Junior Chamber of Commerce, led the parade. This float was not eligible for competition.

Also entered in the parade were several riding clubs, scout troops and many individual entries. Judges for the float division were Mrs. Onas Dick and Mrs. Travis Hilliard of Olden. Judges for the band division were Ray Flournoy of Abilene and Rev. Ray Heckendorfer, pastor of the First Christian Church in Eastland.

Director of the parade was John Slaughter.

Citation Given Don McClendon By Health Dept.

An official State Health Department citation was awarded this week to D. O. McClendon, an employee of the Eastland municipal water department, for proficiency in water plant management.

The impressively designed certificate of competency, by the state commissioner of health and authorities of the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association credit recipients with having demonstrated "skill and knowledge" of water treatment plant management and understanding of the public health importance of the work.

Under the State Health Department's operator certification program, operators are carefully examined on their technical ability and on their knowledge of their work's influence on community health. Each must pass a stiff written test to qualify for certification.

The Texas general sanitation law requires that at least one plant operator per shift be certified by the state health agency, but other plant personnel and persons in related fields frequently seek certification on their own time and at their own expense to advance themselves professionally and to increase their efficiency as vital public servants.

"The recipients of these certificates are a credit to their profession and to their communities," sponsors of the certificates program said.

Points toward certification are earned through actual work experience and by attendance at annual district and state short schools sponsored and conducted by the Texas State Department of Health, the engineering extension service of Texas A and M College, and the Texas Water and Sewage Association.

Dublin Lions Plow Mavericks Under

By ORAN RHODES
The Eastland Mavericks played swap-out with the Dublin Lions for three quarters and then let the Lions run away with the game. During the first quarter, it was simply a question of who could punt the ball the farthest, with each side punting three times. Dublin won 22-6.

Early in the second quarter, the Eastland Mavericks drove deep into Lion territory via a pass interference penalty. The Mavericks had 1 and 4 to go for a touchdown by the rugged Dublin line dug in and held the Mavericks for four downs and still lacking the touchdown. With the Lions taking over on their own one, they punted to the 36 yard line. In three plays, the Mavericks reached pay dirt, with James Lewis making a tremendous run for 26 yards to score. Lewis showed fine initiative by getting away from five men and driving into end zone. On the play for extra point, Lewis was caught behind the line, so the score stood Eastland 6 Dublin 0.

The Lions didn't take long to get back into the game, scoring on the next set of plays, with Louis Siegal skirting the end for the extra points and Dublin took the lead, never to give it up again.

The third quarter was one in which each side slid all over the soaked field, but neither one got anywhere. Beginning Eastland's downfall, the Mavs fumbled on the last play of the third quarter. With the Lions set up on Eastland's 20, it took them only six plays to score, with Dublin's workhorse, James Bassett going over from the two, but the run for extra point was stopped short of the goal line.

After the kickoff and five Eastland plays another fumble on Eastland's 48, provided Dublin for another excellent beginning for a touchdown drive. James Bassett again scored a six pointer, going over from the six yard line. To tie the cake, Bassett ran over the extra points to get the final score Dublin 22 Eastland 6. After that, the game slogged by slowly with Eastland getting the ball with twenty-seven seconds left.

SANKAR C. MAITRA, an exchange visitor of India, is extended a hand of welcome by Tom Wilson, president of Eastland National Bank, as he enters Eastland to study the area soil conservation. (Photo by Canaris Studio).

Indian Visitor Is Impressed With Abundant Farm Products

By VIRGIL E. MOORE
How does a visitor from a country which has to fight to produce enough food to feed its citizens feel about the abundance of food which American farmers grow?

"It's wonderful," Sankar Chandra Maitra, a soil conservation expert from Madhapore, West Bengal, India, thinks. Maitra says he is happy that America has learned to produce enough food not only to feed its people but to help feed others as well.

Here as an exchange visitor sponsored by the International Cooperation Administration, Maitra is working with soil conservation workers in Eastland to learn more about the work done in the field by SCS technicians. He is studying soil surveys, land use capability maps, farm plans and the design and application of conservation practices.

He chose this area because the soil and weather conditions are more like those in India. But he says that nowhere in the United States are conditions exactly like those in his homeland.

Maitra holds a MS degree in botany from the University College of Science in Calcutta, India. He is 40 years old and married.

In India it takes 68 percent of the population to grow food enough to feed the people, and even then there is not really enough food to go around. In the United States 10 percent of the people abundantly feed the entire nation's population.

E. E. McAllister, head of the local SCS unit, pointed out that about 60 years ago this nation had about 60 percent of its population on the farm.

The major crops in India are rice and cotton. Wheat, sorghums, sugar cane and all types of vegetables are also grown.

Maitra is greatly interested in agricultural research and he feels that in research his country will find its answer to the food problem. As a soil conservation worker in India, Maitra has found a magic way to show his people that improved methods of farming pay off. With his government's financial aid, he provides fertilizer, improved seed and needed know-how to farmers. The farmers then plant a small amount of their acreage following his advice. It usually takes just one such planting for them to realize that modern farming pays.

The biggest farming problems in India are the need of irrigation and more fertilizers. While the average U. S. farmer makes five times as much money as an Indian farmer, he faces a big problem since fertilizer is three and a half times as expensive there as it is in the United States.

India has basic natural resources of soil, water, climate and labor for abundant food production. Eighty percent of the annual rainfall, over the greater part of India, is received in less than four months. With India's tropical or sub-tropical climate, India has a potential to grow crops on a year-round basis. There is no frost problem.

Maitra's program will include the practical aspects of soil conservation. His training will include land reclamation, soil surveys, land use, mapping, terrace and terrace-outlet design, drainage, e, watershed management, spring cropping, range management, use of legumes in soil improvement and soil conservation planning and execution in Soil Conservation Districts.

County Cancer Delegates Attend Weatherford Meet

Six delegates from the Eastland County Cancer Society Unit attended a planning workshop in Weatherford Friday, Sept. 23.

Delegates attending were Mrs. Roscoe Hopper of Ranger, H. R. Garrett of Eastland, Mrs. Austin Flint, Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Schafer, all of Cisco.

The workshop and meeting was for planning the 1960-61 Cancer Crusade in Texas.

Dr. Fred M. Learned, one of the leading researchers in the cancer research program was the main speaker.

Dr. Learned spoke to the group on the advancements that had been made in cancer research in the past few years. He said that vast sums of money had been spent and many hours of research had been made on the causes, controlling and curing of cancer. The money for this research has come from units such as the Eastland County unit, and that the progress that has been made in the fight against the disease could not have been made

RANGERS CROWNED BOWL CHAMPIONS

The Ranger College Rangers proved that they were the true Eastland County Peanut Bowl Champions Saturday night in Maverick Stadium as they fought the highly rated Cisco Wranglers to a standstill and went on to defeat them 13 to 0.

The Rangers' defense stopped the Wranglers time and time again. The hard charging Ranger line held the Wranglers to only 61 yards gained on the ground and 46 yards in the air, and shook the Wranglers loose from the ball and recovered it on four different occasions.

Frank Rice, the hard running Ranger halfback, led in rushing with 89 yards on 12 carries, picking up 12 of the Rangers' 13 points.

Cisco received the opening kickoff but failed to make a first down and was forced to punt. Ranger mounted a drive that carried from their own 25 yard line down to the Cisco 14 yard line but bogged down and Cisco took over on downs. Again Cisco was forced to punt and Ranger struck from their own 32 yard line and moved on to the first score of the game with Frank Rice scoring on an 11 yard pass from Quarterback Clinton Humphrey. Kenneth Hart kicked the extra point and Ranger led 7 to 0 with three minutes left in the first quarter.

Pat Blakely recovered a Cisco fumble on the Cisco 41 yard line, but the Rangers failed to capitalize on the break and the half ended with Ranger threatening from the Cisco 26 yard line.

An over capacity crowd was entertained during the half time by a colorful performance by the Eastland, Ranger, Cisco and Gorman High School Bands under the general direction of Eastland Band Director Phil Hewett. The Ranger College Rangeans added to the color by presenting "Has Anybody Seen My Girl." The Eastland County Peanut Queen, Mary Kay Rush, of Ranger, and her attendants, Cindy Fox of Olden, Mary Laird of Cisco, Betty

Eighth Grade Downs Ranger Junior High Pups

The Eastland Junior High Doggies split a double header football game with the Ranger Junior High Pups Thursday night as the eighth grade won 16 to 0 and the seventh grade went down 26 to 6.

In the first game, which featured the seventh grades at 7 p.m., Ranger took a first quarter lead as Daryl Swinney went over from about five yards out for the score and quarterback Johnny McGee ran the extra points over.

In the second quarter Alberina Garcia blocked an Eastland punt and seconds later Leroy Pearson, halfback, scored from eight yards out.

In the second half Halfback Swinney again turned on the power and scored on a six yard dive.

Then in the closing seconds of the game McGee passed to End Kenny Seymour for a 20 yard gain and on the next play McGee rolled out to his right and went 15 yards for the final score.

Eastland's score came on a run by Mike Siebert that covered 20 yards.

In the eighth grade encounter the Pups held their own in the first quarter but the Doggies proved too much for the hard fighting Pups and scored in the last minute of the first half. The extra point was good and the Doggies led 8 to 0.

Manuel Herrera took the scoring honors and Butch Phillips ran the extra points over.

In the fourth quarter the Doggies again hit pay dirt after a 30 yard pass play set up the final score.

Herrera again took the scoring honors by ripping over from the 36 yard line. Lupé Fuentex ran the extra points.

County Democrats Open Headquarters

The Eastland County Headquarters for Kennedy and Johnson was opened in Ranger at 122 North Austin Street Thursday night.

Congressman Jim Wright has been secured for the speaker for the Big Rally.

Tickets will be on sale in all towns in Eastland County. The County Headquarters will be open at certain hours each day from now until the November 8 election. Phone No. is Ranger MI 7-1323.

County Women Chairman is Mrs. Sam B. Aills of Ranger. County Young Democrats Chairman is Don Jeffcoat of Cisco. County special projects Chairman is Sam Aills of Ranger. County Activities Chairman is Hall Walker of Ranger and Ranger Women Chairman is Mrs. Earl Brown.

Parade winners were presented their awards by the Eastland Junior Chamber of Commerce. The 250 plus bandsmen presented a very spectacular sight as the several different colors of the uniforms blended into formations on the field.

Ranger received the ball on the second half kickoff and after an exchange of punts, Cisco lost the ball on their own 14 yard line after a fourth down penalty of an illegal receiver down field cost them the loss of the ball. Ranger sent Frank Rice over on the first play. Rice took a pitchout and raced 14 yards for the score. Extra point try failed and the scoring in the game ended with the Rangers leading 13 to 0.

The remainder of the game was strictly defense with Cisco getting to the Ranger two yard line on one occasion, but the Rangers threw them back and took over.

In the fourth quarter the Rangers tried hard to lengthen the score as Rice again raced 30 yards for a TD which was called back, then Hart kicked a 30-yard field goal that was through the uprights, but was cancelled on a penalty.

Don Lambert and Humphrey each intercepted a Cisco pass in the fourth quarter that stopped Cisco drives. Pat Blakely and Clyde Smith also halted Cisco fourth quarter drives by recovering a fumble each.

The Rangers will travel to Corpus Christ next Saturday to face a tough test against Del Mar Junior College.

A Leading Banker Speaks About Better-than-ever U.S. Savings Bonds

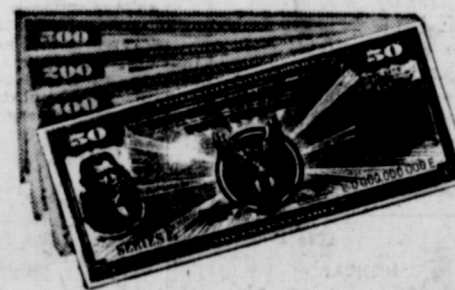

"The American Bankers Association has once again pledged vigorous support of the U.S. Savings Bonds program as an essential part of good Federal debt management. The encouragement of thrift, in all forms, is to the direct advantage of every financial institution and of the nation. America needs more savings, more thrifty families.

"The nation's bankers have long appreciated the value of the Bond program, and have given it consistent support. We approve the new, more liberal terms which apply to both new Bonds and old. We will continue to help our country, our customers and our communities by promoting and selling U.S. Savings Bonds—now better than ever.

"We bankers value our customers' faith in our financial judgment and, therefore, exercise extreme care in giving advice. But we need never hesitate to advise our customers to buy and hold U.S. Savings Bonds."

AROUND THE CAMPUS

By Ranger College Journalism Class

Twenty-three of the 1960 graduating seniors of Ranger High School are enrolled as freshmen in Ranger College. Only nine of the '60 class are attending out-of-town colleges, and three of these were enrolled as summer school students at Ranger College. Those enrolled this fall include Sandra Cooper, Barbara Crabb, Barbara Craig, Linda Drennan, Norma Gayle Emfinger, Sally Mendez, Rita Sipes, Rita Underwood, Nellie Sue Vinson, Patsy Vinson, Mary Kay Rush, Walter Blackwell, Jimmie Burnett, Bobby Fron, Jerry Don Hamilton, Jack Hazard, Mike Herrington, Mac Jacoby, Johnny Pirkle, Alfred Rogers, Douglas Rogers, Bill Stuart, and Jerry Wilson.

Other Rangerites on the campus include Harvey Bryant, Linda Durham, Dan Lavoie, Ray Meroney, Jerry Kilgore, Tommy Warford, Charles David Wolford, John Swinney, Addie Varner, Sam Owens, Mrs. Betty Wolford and James Varner.

Eastland is also well represented on the Ranger College campus this fall. There are 16 students from Eastland enrolled at this time, four of whom are on the football team. Eastland students include Sandy Taylor, Nancy Beck, Knicky Arther, Button Humphreys, Martin Day, Marvin Arnew, Perry Miller, Bill Hallmark, Johnny Graham, Mrs. Nell Hart, Mrs. Mildred Sayre, G. W. Hart, Wayne Durham, Clarence Mayers, Jerry Robinson, Larry Tankersley, Jerry Cate, Mrs. Jean Coleman, Roy D. Harris and Charles Chaney.

Students were entertained with a "Howdy Party" last Thursday evening in the Student Union Building. Sponsors were David B. Allsup and Harold W. Little. The group enjoyed dancing, talking over events of the summer, meeting new students, and renewing old acquaintances. In addition, cheerleaders for the year were announced.

Cheerleaders are sophomores Beth Key, head cheerleader, of Throckmorton, and Sandy Taylor, of Eastland; freshmen Nancy Kelley of Fort Worth, and Nellie Sue Vinson and Rita Sipes of Ranger. The girls are to be commended for their performance at the Wharton game Saturday night.

The Ranger College band also made its first appearance at the Wharton game. Band members wish to express their appreciation to members of the Ranger High School band for assisting them Saturday evening.

Harold Bilderback and David Flinn, college instructors, have found that it is a small world after all. Flinn learned when looking through his sister's high school annual that Bilderback attended Denison High School at the same time that his sister attended. On comparing notes, the two teachers discovered that they went to the same elementary school in Denison at the same time, though they were not in the same class. Furthermore, at one time they lived on the same street in Denison, a block apart. Yet they had to come to Ranger to become acquainted.

A float is being prepared by Ranger College for the ePanut Bowl Parade to be held Saturday in Eastland.

Shrinks Hemorrhoids Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne's)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H's. At all drug counters—money back guarantee.

Baking Contest Scheduled for State Fair

The second annual Yeast Baking Contest has been scheduled by the Women's Department during the 1960 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 8-23, in Dallas.

The contest, open to non-professionals, is set for Oct. 14 and will feature, in addition to others, two novel areas of competition. Premiums will be given to the best bread or roll baked in original shapes depicting Texas or Western ideas. An additional feature will be the foreign breads division, such as stollen and kulleh.

The "Best of Show" winner will be awarded $50 cash and a diamond-studded gold ribbon pin. Every homemaker who enters the contest will be given a five-pound sack of flour by Burrus Mills.

First, second, and third prizes of $5, $3 and $2 will be offered in each of the nine classes, which are white bread, batter bread, graham or wholewheat bread, fancy wheat breads, plain rolls, sweet rolls, fancy or foreign rolls, coffee cakes, and foreign sweet breads.

A contestant may enter all nine classifications, but may submit only one item in each class. Entries must be brought or mailed to the Women's Building by 10 a.m. Oct. 14, the day of the contest.

Judges will test each entry on uniform browning of crust for bread and rolls, symmetry of shape, attractiveness of decoration for sweet bread and rolls, tenderness of crust and interior, lightness, uniform color, moistness without soggy, and nut-like flavor.

Each entry should be placed on a thin board or paper plate. Contestants should pick up their entries after judging is completed.

Entry blanks and complete information are available from Mrs. Leah Jarrett, Director, Women's Department, State Fair of Texas, Dallas 26, Texas.

Decorative Properties of Wood
 Wood is an extremely variable material. For example, there is virtually no limit to the natural color combinations available. The sapwood of most species is light colored. Some are almost white. Some woods show color difference between the sapwood and the heartwood. However, the heartwood of most species is darker colored than the sapwood.

The figure of a piece of wood depends not only on the species, but also on the way the wood is sawn. Sawing accentuates certain grain characteristics associated with a particular wood. Some are preferred because of the figured stripes or ribbon effect and others because of elliptical or curved patterns. It is the matching of these patterns and color shades that gives rare beauty to some pieces of expensive furniture.

The size character of the wood grain also influences wood appearance. Open grained wood, like red oak, refers to the relative size of its pores. When applying finishes to such wood, fillers must be used. Such woods are often filled with colors which contrast with the basic color of the wood. Such color applications can be used with startling effectiveness.

When selecting wood, there are many characteristics to choose from and sufficient combinations to please any taste and requirement.
