

New Highway Six Route Debate Is Held Tuesday

★ ★ FAVOR

Representatives of the Texas Highway Department Tuesday heard some sincere protests from property owners concerning the re-routing of Highway 6 down Walnut Street, but they also heard other citizens call the routing a necessary lifeline for the city.

The action came at the public meeting in the courthouse in Eastland where a recording was made to send to the State Highway Commission concerning the re-routing.

Resident Engineer R. P. Haun told interested persons who gathered for the meeting that the Department had but one alternative to routing Highway 6 down Walnut Street and that would be to pass the city.

Mrs. E. E. Robertson, who lives on Walnut, made the most passionate plea against the new routing. She presented a petition signed by many property owners and residents along the street protesting the action. She said the highway would bring much noise and would mean the ruin of much shrubbery and trees.

Pointing to the large number of semi-invalid persons who live along the street, Mrs. Robertson said she felt it would be a danger to their welfare and a great inconvenience.

A Highway Department official explained that only 20 to 30 percent of the trees along the route would be lost. Eight feet of right-of-way will be claimed on both sides of the street.

Mrs. Robertson replied that the noise of traffic was her main complaint.

It was also pointed out by the Highway Department that a survey showed that most of the traffic on Highway 6 originates or ends in Eastland. Only a small portion of the traffic on Highway 6 is through traffic.

Mrs. O. L. Freeman, who said the eight feet from in front of her house would put the highway too close to her home, asked, "Why not put the highway out of town?"

J. A. Pogue also appeared to protest the new route. He said the highway would come through his pecan orchard and destroy 35 heavy producing trees. If the highway was moved east the damage would be much less, he maintained.

Then a series of spokesmen for various organizations appeared to announce their backing of the route.

Dick Spalding, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, said Jaycees voted after careful study in favor of the Walnut route. He said the organization of young men believe the highway must come through Eastland and not five miles east.

A. C. Johnston, president of the Board of Trustees of the First Presbyterian Church, which faces Walnut Street, said he recognized that traffic would cause the church new problems, but he feels the route is best for the city and could voice no opposition.

Horace Horton, president of the Chamber of Commerce, added his backing to the Walnut route for business reasons.

Virgil Seaberry Jr., a city commissioner and a director of the Chamber of Commerce, said he favors the route.

Jack Germany, representing Victor Cornelius, a Walnut Street property owner, said he had no objection to the highway.

Cyrus B. Frost Jr., mayor of Eastland, made the strongest plea for the route. He recalled when Seaman Street was not the highway. Then, he said, it was one of the most rundown streets in Eastland. Now, he maintained, because it is the highway, it is one of the nicest streets in Eastland.

Others announcing they favored the route were Virgil Moore, editor of the Telegram; Jack H. Lee, service station operator; and H. J. Tanner, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

★ ★ OPPOSED

Those who oppose the Walnut route declare:

1. Walnut Street is heavily populated by semi-invalids.
2. Moving curbs eight feet puts highway close to homes.
3. Noise will be detrimental to sleep and rest.
4. Many trees and much shrubbery will be destroyed.

Added Rain Pushes Total To New High for January

Wettest First Month Ever Just Half Over

It's official now, this month is the wettest January in the history of Eastland.

An additional .58 of an inch of rain which fell Wednesday afternoon and early Thursday morning pushed the January rainfall to a record high of 4.16 inches. Rain records have been kept here since 1911 by the United States Weather Bureau and the previous high for a January came in 1946 when 3.65 inches fell.

The 4.16 inches recorded during the first 12 days of January is 2.79 inches above normal. In fact, the normal rainfall for the first three months of each year here is just 4.34 inches.

In the last 41 days a total of 7.43 inches of moisture has been recorded. That's the most rainfall to fall here in December and January since modern records have been kept.

While it has been wet here temperatures have stayed higher than usual. The low last night was just 40 degrees so there was no icing over county highways.

A heavy overcast hung over the county this morning, but the weatherman says the area can expect partly cloudy skies and warmer temperatures by Friday.

Eastland and Ranger Lead County Banks

Bank deposits in the five Eastland County banks just about held their own in the past year, statements of condition issued at the close of business Dec. 31 reveal.

Deposits in the five banks dropped slightly, from $15,488,209 on Dec. 31, 1959 to $15,187,598 as of Dec. 31, 1960.

Only two of the five banks showed increases in deposits. The Eastland National Bank led with $49,078 and the Commercial State Bank of Ranger had an increase of $2,584.

Bank	Jan. 31, 1959	Jan. 31, 1960

Annual County Farm Income Tax Meeting Jan. 18

The annual Eastland County Farm and Ranch Income tax and Social Security school has been set for Jan. 18 in the courthouse, according to County Agricultural Agent J. M. Cooper.

The all day affair will begin at 9:45 a.m. and will last until about 4 p.m. with time out at noon for lunch, according to Cooper, who planned the affair for the benefit of the farmers and ranchers and others in the county who might be interested.

Sidney L. Jenkins, area farm management specialist of the Agricultural Extension Service office, Stephenville, and either R. R. Tuley Jr., district manager or Ralph Fisher, assistant manager of the Social Security office, Abilene, will conduct the school.

Items likely to be discussed include changes in the social security law, records needed for tax reporting, deductible farm income, depreciation of livestock and equipment and capital gains and losses. Other items probably will be casualty losses and theft, soil and water conservation expenses and others.

It will be held in the county courtroom on the third floor of the courthouse and will start promptly on time, said the agent, who stressed the fact that the school was free for those interested in attending.

Area Meeting of P-TA Council to Be Held Jan. 20

The Eastland Callahan counties Parent-Teachers Council will meet in the Texas Electric Service Co. conference room Friday, Jan. 20 to study leadership procedure, Mrs. Horace Horton, South Ward P-TA president, announced today.

Mrs. Bob Latson of Cross Plains, district vice president, will lead the discussion at the meeting, which will begin at 9:45 and end at 11:30 a.m.

Coffee will be served following the meeting. Mrs. Horton urged all area P-TA members to attend.

Republicans Study Vote Rejection In This Area

Six hundred and fifteen Eastland County citizens failed to have their vote counted in the presidential election Nov. 8. The votes were disqualified mainly because the voters had failed to scratch out the Constitution and Prohibition Party candidates.

This figure, representing some nine percent of the total vote of the county, and other statistical information pertaining to voting in this area, were released today from Republican State Headquarters in Houston. The results of the study have been revealed in an effort to apprise Texans of the dangers of careless voting, and to point up the peculiarities in our state election laws which have contributed to an abnormally high vote disqualification.

The report states that there are two election laws which contradict one another. Art. 6.06 of the Election Code provides that the voter shall mark out the names of all candidates he does not wish to vote for, but that the failure to do so shall not invalidate the ballot if the intention of the voter is clear in the opinion of the election judge. Art. 8.21, however, provides that no ballot shall be counted if the candidates for more than one party are left unscratched.

Since, apparently, both laws cannot be applied, the individual Precinct Judge is left with the burden of deciding which law is just. This inconsistency in the law has contributed to the irregular pattern of vote disqualification between not only counties, but between precincts within counties, the Republican release stated.

For instance, within this county, returns from Precinct 3 showed one voter disqualified from a total of 179 votes cast, for a low rate of about one-half of one percent. Precinct 5 on the other hand had 26 votes "thrown out" of a total of 210 cast or about 12 per cent disqualified.

Other illustrative figures in this county include Precinct 11 with all votes counted; Precinct 9 with 14 percent not counted; Precinct 13 with five per cent not counted; and Precinct 1 with 10 per cent of the votes disqualified.

The report pointed out that even under ideal conditions it's reasonable to expect a small percentage of votes to be improperly marked. However, in the opinion of the investigating group, human error could not be responsible for such wild fluctuations in vote "throw out". Instead, they credit the ambiguous election laws for these wild variances.

In the whole state variations of from no "throw outs" in 411 precincts to as high as 63 per cent of the votes disqualified in one precinct in Anderson County were cited.

The fact that only 1 1/2 per cent of the votes were disqualified in Starr County as opposed to a 25 per cent "throw out" in Waller County would further indicate that irregular interpretation of the Election Code was a factor.

Purpose of the report to each county from Republican Headquarters was described as non-partisan, and in no way intended to reflect on the recent election contest. The objectives of the report, which would benefit either party, were:

1. Make the public aware of the necessity of voting carefully and properly.
2. Arouse public sentiment for modernization and simplification of existing Texas election laws through action by the Texas Legislature.

HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Basketball Teams Open Circuit Play

It's showdown time for Eastland basketball teams. The boys and girls swing into district 10-A play here Friday night when they host teams from Early of Brownwood.

The games may decide if both the Mavs and the Mavettes are going to be contenders this year, for Early and Eastland are both ranked as district dark-horses.

Probably starters for the boys are Bill McCleskey, Mickey Garner, James Lewis, Ray Denny and Tommy Beck. For the Mavettes the likely line-up will have Judy McMillan, Beverly Kline, Tina Urban, Judy Seaberry, Wanda Arther and either Kay Morton or Joyce Robertson.

There will be boys' B team game at 6:30, followed by the girls game and then the boys' varsity match.

Santa Anna and Eastland are generally conceded to be the top

Sfc. Bill Loughry Receives Medal Of Commendation

GRAY MATTER

National Boxing Day Is Needed In America

By JOE GRAY

The British have a holiday, which is the day following Christmas Day, they call Boxing Day. It might be well for us to have a holiday on this same day too. I'd suggest we name ours, however, Re-Boxing Day. That's the day we take all the Christmas presents that don't fit and re-box them for shipment back to the store from whence they came.

There's nothing more frustrating than to try to put a 17-inch neck in a 15 collar. Some people have been able to master the task they say, but they got bug-eyed doing it. That's the reason so many people look like they're choking Christmas. It's not because they're sick. It's because they are literally being choked to death by a too-small shirt.

They tell me the British idea of Boxing day goes way back to antiquity, but we don't have to worry about that for our Re-Boxing Day. We can begin right now with the present session of congress and have those astute members establish the grand old day as a national holiday.

I had a shirt that I got for Christmas one time that I couldn't any more wear than I could wear a baby's shoe. I gave it back to the fellow I got it from when his birthday came around and you ought to read the nice little letter he wrote me about people giving people things for their birthdays that don't fit. He sent it right back. I waited to the next Christmas and again he came another shirt that would be too small for a man with a neck as small as the editor's; again he sent it back to the giver's birthday; and again another of those nice little notes about people not knowing the size of people's shirts and this time the accompanying letter was twice as nice and twice as long and twice as you-know-what.

This time I sat down and figures this thing out. I went to a great deal of trouble to find the manufacturer's address as no one who handled this brand would exchange with me. I got in touch with the manufacturer in Troy, New York. I wrote a nice letter about the care of me and would I send a shirt to him for his exchange. He seemed to be of the opinion that perhaps I was a little confused as to whether it was a product or not. I bundled the shirt to follow up and mailed it to the maker. In about 60 days or so, months I got a letter from him telling me the much-travelled shirt was a discontinued item and he wouldn't exchange it for a like one. (Continued on page 10)

Hill Is Promoted Senior Vice President

banking veteran, Russell Hill has been promoted to senior vice president of the Eastland National Bank.

Hill was announced as the new senior vice president of the bank at the annual stockholders meeting.

Hill, a native of Eastland, has been with the Eastland National Bank since 1924. He is the oldest of the bank and has been vice president for 25 years.

The new senior vice president remembers C. W. Fisher, now deceased, was the first president of the bank. Other presidents have been the late C. W. Campbell, the late Walter Murray and at present Wilson.

Hill says that banking has changed during the many years he has worked at banks. Today automobile and appliance loans are the most common made at the local bank, followed by cattle loans and then agricultural loans.

I Give You Texas

By BJYCE HOUSE

"Why doesn't a book tell the reader something about the man that the author thought enough of to dedicate the book to?" my friend, Dick Hardy of Dallas, once inquired. He had a point too—although in the case of "You Can Always Tell a Texan," the man to whom the book was dedicated is widely known for his achievements and civic services.

C. T. McLaughlin was born in Pennsylvania, came to Texas shortly after World War I service in an aerial squadron in the U. S. Army Signal Corps; was a drilling contractor in Wichita Falls from 1923 to 1948.

In 1936, he acquired the Diamond M Ranch to raise fine cattle and horses but oil wells sprouted and spouted when the famous Canyon Reef strike was made. He has holdings in banking and insurance as well as oil. He is interested in public affairs, having served on the State Democratic Committee for five years and as chairman of the State Democratic finance committee in 1956, as well as being chairman of the State Department of Public Safety.

"Mr. Mc," as his many friends affectionately call him, is a philanthropist and is especially interested in helping young people acquire an education. The handsome Snyder Country Club was built under his presidency. He has been repeatedly honored as an outstanding citizen of Snyder and of West Texas.

He is a genial and generous host and unless you have attended an annual meeting of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce you have missed one of the phenomena of Texas life. Imagine 2,000 persons present for a dinner and then such a star-studded program as can be provided by a liver-tongued Governor Clement of Tennessee; the Irish melody of Phil Regan; the Texas-y music of Slim Willett ("Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes") and his Abilene orchestra. Well, that's just typical of the wonderful array that the quiet-spoken, modest "Mr. Mc" makes possible for his beloved home city.

A reminiscence about my Uncle Albert:

His favorite piece of chicken was the neck, which happened to be a favorite with me, too. One Sunday, he bit through the bony structure and discovered the windpipe. The sight disturbed him. "I've eaten hundreds of necks," he said, "and I never saw anything like that before." Despite Aunt Rachel's assuring him that a windpipe was standard equipment with all chickens, Uncle Albert never ate another neck—so when I was a guest I always got it, thereafter!

his career? Hill believes the federal insured deposits saved banking. He remembers that the Eastland bank closed during the depression and the Ranger bank would allow customers to withdraw not more than $5 each day. Federal insured deposits have given the public a new faith in banks.

Uncle Sam, your bank, and you

How this 20-year-old partnership helps keep America strong

Since May 1941, America's banks have sold nearly 2 billion separate U.S. Savings Bonds at no cost to the Government or the purchasers. To give you some idea of the time involved: if you merely handed out that many Bonds at the rate of 1 a second for 10 hours a day, it would take you 152 years to reach the bottom of the pile.

Why have the nation's banks and bankers carried on this vast project of information, service, and issuance of U.S. Savings Bonds?

A winning team. For one reason, the Bond Program and the Banking business have grown together. Hand in hand, they've helped make Americans the saving-est people in the world.

Folks who save Bonds get the thrift habit. They soon learn other forms of saving and investment. They become better all-around bank customers. And Bond owners are better credit risks.

Another thing bankers are interested in: Bond dollars help keep America strong. A good reason for the banking business or any business to get behind the Bond program.

What you buy at the Bond Window. When your banker advises you to buy U.S. Savings Bonds, he's recommending an investment guaranteed to grow: $18.75 becomes $25 in 7 years, 9 months, and grows to $36.25 in another 10 years. They can be cashed in any time with interest. And if they're lost or destroyed, the Treasury Department replaces them free.

Why not take this advice offered by the nation's bankers. Buy and hold U.S. Savings Bonds—for the things you want, and the Peace to enjoy them.

"America's Banks are proud to be part of the Bond Program,"

says Carl A. Bimson, President, Valley National Bank, Phoenix, Arizona, and President, American Bankers Assn.

"We believe it is good for America, an economic stabilizer; it is good for the individual and the community; and it is good for banking. The promotion of Savings Bonds has helped to make savers out of non-savers, to revitalize the American tradition of thrift, and to build savings in all forms to record levels.

"The American Bankers Association congratulates the Nation and the public on the 20-year success story of the U.S. Savings Bonds Program, and pledges its vigorous continued support."

Carl A. Bimson

Fourteen From Eastland Attend Religious Meet

About 14 delegates of the Eastland congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will leave Friday to attend their semi-annual circuit assembly in Bowie. All travel plans have been completed. The conference opens at 7 p.m. in the city auditorium when R. L. Anderson, district minister from Brooklyn, speaks on the assembly theme "Be Taught by Jehovah."

According to Bob D. Williams "the results of the convention will be felt in the community here as upon returning these delegates will apply principles learned." He further stated "that one of the objectives of all Christians should be to assist others to a better understanding of the Bible. Jehovah's Witnesses are doing this by conducting home Bible studies with over 600,000 people in 179 lands. The Eastland congregation presently has eight home Bible studies in the community each week as a free Bible-educational service."

Over 800 are expected to be on hand 3 p.m. Sunday to hear Anderson climax the program discussing on "Is God Interested in the Affairs of Men?"

Mexican Theme Is Carried Out At Lone Cedar Luncheon Friday

Eastland members of the Lone Cedar Luncheon Club were hostesses to the monthly luncheon held Friday at 1 p.m. in the Club dining room.

Members of the hostess committee were Misses Clyde Grissom, W. E. Chaney, Frank Sparks and Art Johnson.

The committee chose a Mexican theme to set the tempo in both decor and food. Curtains were drawn to enhance the glow of candlelight throughout the spacious dining room.

Mrs. Art Johnson greeted guests at the door. Mrs. Chaney and Mrs. Sparks were at the registration table which featured a wall background of multi-colored Tapes and miniature Mexican hats. Luminarias centered the table. Mrs. Grissom led guests then to the buffet which offered the traditional food of tamales, tacos, frijoles, Spanish rice, tostades and a choice of salad with jalapenas, dessert and coffee.

In the entrance to the tables a huge sombrero covered the top of one table, holding eight African Violets in lush bloom with a burning taper thrust into each plant. The arrangement of 12 quartet tables seated the members and again the motif continued in the hand painted covers. Luminaria in the center of each table held a glowing red taper to lend more atmosphere.

Tallies for bridge were also miniature hand painted sombreros. Mrs. F. E. Harrell of Cisco won high score prize which was two luncheon tickets enveloped with a miniature black fan and yellow rose. Mrs. Bill Frost of Eastland was presented a Mexican dish with tamales for the door prize.

House Painting
Professional painters rely on skill and experience to provide a good looking and protective paint finish. "Do it yourself" advocates must understand that a good paint job requires more than a can of paint, a brush and a surface to be painted.

The cost of paint is usually a small portion of the total painting cost. For appearance and durability, it is a good investment to buy a high quality paint product. Saving money through the use of cheap paints is false economy.
The quality of paint needed can be determined by totaling the square foot area of each surface to be painted. The area can be calculated by multiplying the height or width of each surface by its length, in feet. Total area divided by the square foot coverage per gallon, recommended by the paint manufacturer, gives the number of gallons of paint required for each coat. Generally, primer coats cover about 430 square feet and finish paint coats cover about 650 square feet of brushed surface.

Brushes, as with paint, should not be an economy purchase. A good paint job cannot be applied with a poor quality brush. For the requirements of home painting, three brush sizes should be available, 3 1/2", 2 1/2" and 1 1/2". Other equipment may be needed and should be available before undertaking a painting project. This includes wood stirring paddles, proper paint thinner, drop cloth, putty knife, wire brush, sandpaper, dusting brush and putty.

Properties of Wood

Working with wood is fun. Wood has many properties with which most of us are familiar. It has color, lustre, grain, texture, hardness and weight. The variation in these properties makes each piece of wood distinctive. The properties vary between any two trees of the same species and even within any one tree. The greatest variation, of course, is evident between trees of different species. Consequently, it is important to use the proper wood for a specific purpose.

One example of variation may be seen by examining the weights of wood from various common tree species. The weight of wood is a good indication of its strength. The following values represent pounds per cubic foot of the dry wood.

Kinds of Wood	Weight
Oaks and hickories	48
Longleaf pine*	40

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Women residents in Texas nursing homes and convalescent care institutions outnumber men residents two to one, State Health Department year-end records show.

Almost 13,000 elderly Texans presently reside in care homes which have passed State Department of Health scrutiny and are licensed under provisions of the home lieure law administered by the health agency.

Despite the fact that Texas was one of the most recent states to spell out regulations aimed at protecting the health, safety and welfare of nursing home patients, the standards now enforced in this state equal or exceed those of other states, department officials believe.

That this is true is borne out when the beneficial aspects and the results obtained under Texas' standards are compared with the situation in other states, says J. W. Hornburg, director of the Texas licensure program.

The Texas law has been in effect since June 1953.

Hornburg said 321 nursing homes with a capacity of 9,512 beds, and 241 convalescent care homes with a capacity of 4,833 beds are currently licensed—after having proved the humaneness of their operations.

Average age of home residents is 80 years. Almost 60 percent of Texas situation shows that approximately 30 percent of the Texas need has so far been met.

The Texas law covers all establishments which furnish "food and shelter to four or more persons unrelated to the proprietor, and in addition provide minor treatment or services which meet some basic need beyond the provision of food, shelter and laundry."

IMPROPER DIPSTICK MAY BE CULPRIT CAUSING OIL FOULED PLUGS

In cases of continued oil fouling of the spark plugs and/or high oil consumption, better check the dipstick to see whether it's the right type for the engine.

Service engineers at Champion Spark Plug Company advise that they have received several reports of cases where the dipstick was too short—as a result, oil was added to the crankcase in excess requirements.

Champion engineers advise that this condition may also show up as excessive oil blowing out of the crankcase breather.

POINT SPACING AFFECTS TIMING

When installing distributor breaker contact points in a tractor, keep in mind that proper point spacing is important.

An engine always should be retimed after new points have been installed.

CLOGGED AIR CLEANER MAY CAUSE FOULED SPARK PLUGS

If you're encountering spark plug misfiring on tractor engines with relatively new plugs, it may be due to improper air cleaner maintenance, according to Champion Spark Plug Company.

Pointing to a recent University of Illinois survey indicating that most farmers don't follow recommended procedures on air cleaner servicing, Champion service engineers advise that a dirt-clogged fil-

New Publications Are Released by Small Business Ad.

The impact of urban renewal projects on small business is summarized in a publication now available at the Dallas Regional Office of the Small Business Administration, Chris W. Ferguson, SBA, Regional Director for this area, announced today.

The summary is a condensation of a small business management research study, "The Impact of Dislocation from Urban Renewal Areas on Small Business," prepared by the University of Connecticut under a grant from the Small Business Administration.

The report said urban redevelopment and urban renewal programs now embrace 661 projects throughout the nation affecting nearly 100,000 firms, most of which are small businesses.

The report's conclusions and proposals are based on detailed analyses of the experience of businesses dislocated as a result of urban renewal project in Hartford and New Haven, Conn. However, supplemental information on firms in relocation projects in 11 other cities and reports from redevelopment agencies across the country were said to have corroborated the conclusion that the New-Hartford experience is representative of the pattern of experience in the United States.

The study, first to be issued under the SBA grants for small business research, concludes that of the nearly 25 per cent of the dislocated firms that go out of business, some are submarginal and sub-standard and could not exist in any area or in any circumstances other than those of a slum area. It is pointed out, however, that more than 75 per cent of the dislocated business relocate successfully, and 85 per cent of these show increased profits within a year. Businesses which come under urban renewal program should make every effort to keep fully informed of developments and avail themselves of financial and technical assistance offered under the program, the report advised. Under the Housing Act, a $3,000 maximum may be allowed to compensate for moving and relocation costs. The average allow-
