Mrs. Castleberry Buried Saturday In Eastland

Funeral services for Mrs. Charlotte Pettit Castleberry, widow of the late Frank Castleberry, were held Saturday at 11 a.m. in the First Methodist Church in Eastland with the Rev. James Campbell, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Castleberry, a prominent social leader, died in Eastland Memorial Hospital Thursday after suffering a heart attack earlier in the day at her home. Her husband, who died in 1957, operated a feed store in Eastland for many years and served as county commissioner at one time.

She was born Sept. 15, 1890 at Archer City and married Mr. Castleberry Oct. 7, 1908.

Mrs. Castleberry was a past president of the Civic League and Garden Club, the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service and the Thursday Afternoon Club. She was also a charter member of the Eastland County Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

She was an active member of the First Methodist Church.

Survivors include two sons, Frank of Calgary, Canada, and Winston of Dallas; a brother, Charles Pettit of Dallas; a sister, Mrs. Harbert Davenport of Brownsville, and five grandchildren.

Burial was in Eastland Cemetery under direction of Hanner Funeral Home.

Kathy Williamson Is Candidate for BSU Post at H-SU

An Eastland student is running for one of the important posts of the Baptist Student Union at Hardin-Simmons University.

Kathy Williamson is one of two nominees for the post of social chairman. New BSU officers will be elected in a campus-wide election Monday and will be installed Feb. 4.

SERVICES HELD FRIDAY

Funeral services were held in Mason Friday, January 6 for Mrs. Osair (Rachel) Behrens, sister of the late Mrs. D. D. Poyner, Sr., of Ranger.

United Fund to Receive Funds From Jaycee Game

Eastland and Cisco Jaycees will play a benefit basketball game in the Eastland High gymnasium Monday night and all proceeds will be contributed to the Eastland United Fund.

This will be the first of two games played by the two service clubs. The next game will be played in Cisco and the Cisco Jaycees will receive all profit.

The game in Eastland was arranged in an effort to get the lagging United Fund drive back on its feet. After five straight successful fund raising drives this year's campaign is short of the goal by about $1,000.

A Jaycee spokesman declared, "We feel the United Fund must meet its goal here. We realize we cannot raise $1,000 by sponsoring this game, but we think it will help show the need for all of us to dig deeper and give a little more so that the United Fund feather will be filled full."

Those who will pay for Eastland include Wayne Bailey, John Meggasson, Billy Brewer, Elton Ables, Jerry Holt, John Slaughter, J. O. Tanner, Jimmy Horn, Jimmy Johnson and Mike George.

Cisco players will include J. D. Lewis, Jim Webb, Don Jeffcoat, James Cotton, Don Kincaid, Lynn Glass and Lloyd McGrew.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

MARIE BONEY SAYS

There Are Ten Points Of Psychology to Know

By MARIE BONEY

Becoming a medical doctor is a long and devious process, involving much study and expense. One has to learn how to talk in that bedside manner and it takes quite some doing to learn to write in an illegible scratch on the prescription blank.

Now becoming a doctor of psychology is altogether different. It is a relatively easy job. When you understand how easy it is, you'll begin to see why we have so many of them. Of course, most of the ones near here only practice part-time, but they count.

You, too, can join the ranks. If you plan to decide to dedicate yourself to the profession, you'd best read a full length book on the subject. One could be purchased, naturally, but if you prefer to spend your money on rent and food, borrow a book and keep it.

For those of you who are less serious about the matter reading a short article should suffice. "I killed Grandma because I hate the letter G because I once knew a girl who always said oh, gee, and so naturally, when the judge heard that, he set me free", is but one excellent article in current publications.

However, if you plan merely to dabble in psychology, all you need do is follow the rules:

- 1. Remember there are people who have never read psychology books. Never hesitate to analyze them, loudly and at great length.
2. Do not let them argue with you. Remind them that they may know what they do; you know why they do it.
3. Do not ever accept the responsibility for any of your own actions. Remember that when your aunt frowned at you for running your tricycle through her flower bed, she guaranteed you the right to run red lights forever after.
4. Keep in mind that any overweight woman is (a) on the brink

- (b) of a nervous breakdown; (c) jealous of her child; or (d) hiding an abiding hatred for her mother-in-law. Under no circumstances could the fact that she happens to like fattening food bear any relation to her size.
5. Force the teacher to admit she's prejudiced against your Junior because your house faces east and she has to wear sunshades when staring directly into the rising sun. Don't believe she gives Junior bad grades because he doesn't prepare his assignments.
6. Commit unto memory several sentences which make absolute sense. Your listener will know you're bound to be smart, since he fairly smart himself and he didn't understand what you said.
7. Obtain one copy of a quality magazine. Thereafter—remember this now—never appear in public without that magazine. It's not necessary for you to actually read it, but you will need to know the name of one of the writers in it.
8. Regardless of the subject, say "Well, now old (name of writer) discussed that in this very copy of (name of magazine)". This will be even more effective if you'll tap your index finger against the magazine constantly while you are speaking.
9. Never mind about what the writer really discussed. It's better reliably estimated that only one person in 10 ever reads quality magazines.
10. Avoid that tenth person like the plague. He will not only understand those senseless sentences you memorized, he will know that you feel that way because one Thursday afternoon in 1938, you fell and skinned your knee, while running across the school ground.

Texas Research League Issues School Report

A report on school conditions in Eastland County was one of two reports on schools included in the annual report of the Texas Research League which has just been released.

The report on Eastland County states:

"Located in West Central Texas, Eastland County has suffered a steady population decline since the impetus of a major oil boom in the 1920's played out. Children and resources are sparsely divided among nine school districts, with none of these districts adequate to meet modern requirements. A local group of citizens applied many of the techniques pioneered in Orange County, consulted with League staff members, and produced a report which may have far-reaching effects on school problems in Texas.

"As a result of the study, incentive legislation will be introduced to permit local districts to apply money they save through consolidation to existing debt and future construction requirements. The proposal will cost no additional state funds—but it will provide a better use of those funds already allotted."

Mavs Post Win In District Opener, But Girls Defeated

Eastland's Mavericks played team ball Friday night to open the District 10-A basketball race with a 52-48 victory over Early of Brownwood, but Eastland's powerful girls team was upset by the Early girls, 44-42.

The Mavs played one of the best games of the year in piling up the victory. The scoring column showed James Lewis a n d Bill McCleskey as high pointers for the locals with 18 points each, but Mickey Garner was probably even more of a standout on the court. Garner set up much of the Mavs' scoring with some timely passes and was the man Eastland built their offense around.

Garner scored eight points, Raymond Lusk had four and Ray Denny and Tommy Beck each collected two. C. A. Milam was high for Early with 19 points.

The entire Eastland team played well together and despite the fact a full court press bothered them on occasions, had the game under control most of the way. It was 8-8 at the end of the first quarter, but Eastland led 29-18 at halftime. By the end of three quarters the score was 38-34.

The Mavettes had trouble with Early's fast team throughout the game. Eastland jumped to a 12-9 first quarter lead, then trailed 27-26 at halftime. Going into the final quarter Early led by a five point margin.

Judy Seaberry had 14 points, Wanda Arther was high with 16 and Kay Morton had nine. The aggressive Early guards defended the locals well. Judy McMillian was the most outstanding Eastland guard. High for the winners was Janet Watkins with 16 points.

Eastland won the boys' B team game by a 39-28 margin. Joe Russell was high with 13 points and Gary Culpenter scored nine.

Breck Lions to Push Tom Ward For Key Post

The Breckenridge Lions Club has submitted the name of Tom Ward, present deputy district governor of Region II, as a candidate for the office of District Governor of District 2 E-1. The district includes 48 clubs with an estimated 2,600 members.

Ward has been a member of the Breckenridge Club since March 1947, and he has served in every elective office of the club. He was president in 1953-54, secretary 1955-57, and has served on many committees.

He received the club's Outstanding Lion Award in 1959, and he is a key member with eight years perfect attendance.

Ward also served as Zone Chairman of Zone 4, Region II, in 1959-60. The local club members will stage a visitation campaign in his behalf during the months before the district convention is held in Breckenridge on June 3 and 4. There has only been one district governor from the Breckenridge Club when D. T. Bowles held that office some years ago.

State Pecan Show Results Announced

A variety known as Choctaw won grand championship honors for J. H. Womack of De Leon at the annual Texas State Pecan and Horticultural Show Jan. 6-7 at Texas A & M College. Womack also showed the pecans in the Eastland County show.

The Eastland County pecan grower's entry had 43.4 nuts to the pound, 60.3 per cent of which were kernel.

E. W. Schuhmann of Del Valle in Travis County showed the reserve champion variety, Eastern Schley. His pecans had 45.4 nuts per pound and 63.3 per cent kernel.

The best seedling (native) pecans were shown by Harry Vogt of La Grange, with 52.2 nuts per pound and 61.1 per cent kernel. Seedling pecans shown by E. Guy Risien of San Saba won the reserve championship at 45.8 nuts per pound and 57.6 per cent kernel.

San Saba county, for the second year in a row, was the high point winner with 200 points.

Dr. J. B. Storey, assistant professor in the A and M Horticulture Department and secretary-treasurer of the Texas Pecan Growers Association, said rules of the show allow the high point county to name a local girl as State Pecan Queen but can not have a queen two years in a row.

The honor of naming a queen, therefore, went to the county with the second highest number of points, Eastland county with 183. Selected as queen was Miss Donna Pugh of Eastland.

Bell County won 158 points for third place, and Travis County, fourth place with 109.

Dr. Storey said 425 entries were exhibited in the show, a record number for the event. He said the association has arranged to display all the entries during the organization's annual convention July 11-12 at A & M College.

First place winners in variety classes from Eastland County were the following:

- Barton — Womack, 42.2 nuts per pound, 56.3 per cent kernel.
Delmas — C. E. Smith of Rising Star, 42.2 nuts per pound, 50.2 per cent kernel.
McCulley — E. D. Ware of Rising Star, 40.7 nuts per pound, 57.9 per cent kernel.
San Saba Improved — Doss Alexander of Rising Star, 58.8 nuts per pound, 60 per cent kernel.
Frank Hightower of Eastland.

Social Security Numbers Must Be Listed Warns IRS

"Be sure to write in the necessary social security numbers on your 1960 income tax form," cautions Arthur E. Fogle, Jr., Administrative Officer, Internal Revenue Service, Abilene.

There's space on Uncle Sam's tax returns for the taxpayer's social security number and also for his wife's social security number. According to the IRS representative, omitting these vital numbers from a tax return is one of the most common mistakes taxpayers make.

As a parent you may be able to claim your child as a dependent on that 1960 Federal tax return even though the child earned $800 or more last year.

"If you have supplied more than half of his support, you may get an exemption for him regardless of the amount he earned, provided he hadn't reached his 19th birthday by January 1, 1961," Fogle said.

"When the child is 19 or over you still may claim an exemption for him if he was a full-time student during some part of the calendar months in 1960, provided you meet the support test. The time student is one who is enrolled for the number of hours which is considered to be full-time." (Continued On Page Four)

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE EACH SUNDAY

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Burleson, M. C. 17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D.C. - With a new year, a new Administration and the opening of a new Congress, comes this first newsletter. It is hoped readers will find an interest each week in this column, which will attempt to report on matters in Washington.

Probably there are as many unresolved and unresolved issues facing the new Congress as has ever been faced by any in the history of our Country. Not only the issues which may be identified as normal, but also those which have not been met and resolved by the outgoing Administration.

Fairly early in this session of the Congress will be proposals to increase the rate and coverage of the Minimum Wage Law. In line for consideration in the near future will be legislation for more Federal Aid for school construction, which may include money for teachers' salaries. Following close behind will be a revised version for Medical Aid for the Aged supported by Social Security taxes, and economic assistance for the so-called Depressed Areas, and a new measure for more Government Housing which will include loans and insurance.

All this and more is on the "must" list of the new Administration. Some things are on the "must" list, not because of choice, but because of world conditions. This is the matter of dealing with the Cuban situation, the inroads of Communism in Latin America, the instability in Africa and Southeast Asia, and other areas where rapid changes are now occurring.

Then, probably above all importance, is to reconstitute our position in the world. Of one thing we can be fairly certain; a most intense effort will be made early in the Administration to guarantee the strongest military establishment of any nation on earth. The proposition that we must deal with strength is a strong sentiment in this Administration. At the same time, sight will not be lost of the tremendous importance of trying to keep the peace and to work towards some plan of world disarmament. With nuclear weapons being made possible by other countries such as France, and even little Israel, it can be assumed that Communist Red China will soon have the capacity of exploding an atomic bomb.

Our world is now small. As much as we may wish to live in our land and not interfere or be interfered with, it seems impossible. It is the cold war struggle between free nations and that of Communist tyranny.

Again, it is hoped you will find an interest in this column each week and that it may provoke your comments. Your opinions and

Motorists Asked To Get Vehicles Inspected Early

The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety today urged motorists to secure their 1961 vehicle inspection stickers "before the time gets short and the lines get long."
Col. Homer Garrison, Jr. said approximately half of the inspection period has expired and only about one-third of the vehicles in the state have been inspected. Unless the number of inspections is increased appreciably soon, he added, long waiting lines will be forming at inspection stations when the April 15 deadline approaches. After that date, vehicles not displaying the new inspection sticker will be operating in violation of the law, Garrison said.

Business Organization
The law allows a business a wide choice of ways to set itself up, to finance and manage itself.

Helps Heal And Clear Itchy Skin Rash!

Zemo—liquid or ointment—a doctor's antiseptic, promptly relieves itching, stops scratching and so helps heal and clear surface skin rashes.

ample, the law provides many ways for a company to finance itself. And these, in turn, influence the kind of management it can have, and the way it conducts its affairs.

We sometimes speak of "stocks and bonds," for example, as if they were one and the same. But when you buy a share of stock in a company, you "own" an "undivided" part of everything it owns, but no particular piece of its property.

But what do you have when you buy a corporation's bond or debenture? You own nothing of the company. Instead you are lending money which it promises to pay back with interest when your bond "matures."

Unlike a stockholder, a bondholder as a rule has little to say directly about who manages and how he manages the company. Remember a bond buyer by withholding or lending money may influence a company's ability to expand. The bondholder gets only his interest payments, which come before the stockholder's "dividends," since he takes less of a risk than the stockholders.

Thus if the corporation quits or goes bankrupt, it must pay the bondholders off before the stockholders get anything.

Where does the "preferred stock" come in? As a rule, preferred stockholders collect a fixed dividend — after the bondholders are paid but before the "common" stockholders get anything. There are many kinds of preferred stock arrangements. But in return for their first chance at the profits the preferred stockholders often give up any voting rights or ability to control the company directly.

Clean Hands

Our courts work with two sets of principles in meting out justice — those of "law" and those of "equity."

Under "law" a court declares the parties' rights and duties and sets money damages for harm already done—as when someone goes back on his contract with you, or injures you in an automobile crash.

But under principles of "honesty, equity, and conscience" — for example, a court seeing harm on the way, may forestall it and enforce its orders by fines or jail terms.

England used to have two kinds of courts to hear cases under law and equity. But today both England and America use the same judge to hear both kinds of cases.

How did these two systems arise?

Long ago the English king called upon the "chancery" — then largely made up of churchmen, (the keepers "of the King's conscience"), to give "relief" where the older Common Law courts, grown rigid, might fail.

Unable to use the Common Law, the chancellors applied certain rules and maxims, sometimes borrowed from ancient Greece and Rome—"He who comes into equity must come with clean hands."

Sometimes this is stated: "No one can take advantage in a court of equity of his own wrongdoing."

This maxim denied a suitor "relief" if he himself had done wrong in the transaction at issue.

A scale maker had advertised that his scales would count fractions of a cent against the customer and in favor of the storekeeper. He had asked a court in equity to stop a competitor from revealing that his scale was cheating customers. But the court threw the case out: Not having "clean hands", the scale maker had no standing in equity. He could not seek fair treatment when he himself was dishonest in particular situation at issue.

Wool Growers Plan Annual National Meeting

Heavy guns of American agriculture will be trained upon the 96th annual convention of the National Wool Growers Association when the nation's major lamb producing states send some 700 delegates to Denver for a long, hard look at the unhappy sheep industry.

While membership in the national association is concentrated in western and midwestern states, there is no limit to the list of world-renowned experts who have been called upon from most states of the union to explore serious problems that have hit the wool-growers with crippling force.

Executive secretary Edwin E. Marsh said the four-day convention, scheduled for Jan. 22 thru Jan. 25 at Denver's Brown Palace Hotel, will headline such leading authorities as: Dr. Herrell DeGraff, professor of food economics at Cornell University; President Don Clyde of the American Sheep Producers Council; Walter L. Pfleger, chairman of the Wool Advisory Committee; A. Z. Baker, president of American Stock Yards Assn., Washington, D. C.; Dr. Morris Taylor, Utah Extension Service; H. J. Devereaux, Rapid City, S. D.; A. D. Reed, California; William A. McKerrow, Wisconsin; Dr. G. T. King, Texas A & M College; Dr. A. L. Pope, University of Wisconsin; William C. Purdy, director of meat merchandising for Jewel Food Stores, Chicago; and dozens of others.

Marsh quoted national association President Harold Joesdal of Casper as urging all wool and lamb producers to attend t h e Denver convention which he said will see an "intensely determined" drive towards actually finding sensible and economic solutions to the grave situation sheep producers have encountered this past year.

Even the resolutions of the 96th convention are expected to express the militant attitude of the producers, Joesdal was quoted as declaring, and the panel discussions will explore all fields of momentous concern to wool growers.

Panels get under way Tuesday, Jan. 24 with "Lamb Quality" and "Marketing" setting the pace. The nubbin of the woolgrowers' difficulties, however will be uncovered Wednesday, Jan. 25, when the delegates hear the marketing experts discuss "What Can We Do To Make the Sheep Business Profitable?"

Squeezed in between the busy general sessions will be executive committee sessions, resolutions and election of officers. Sixteen states, representing 70 per cent of the nation's lamb and wool production, will have delegates attending. They are: Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Indiana, Mississippi, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Texas, Utah, Washington, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

it's saving REGULARLY . . .

that's important

Saving part of the EXTRA money that comes your way — gifts, bonuses, dividends, and so on—is a fine idea. But it's those FEW dollars taken out of EVERY paycheck and put to WORK in an insured savings account here that really mount up. Try it and see. You won't need a "windfall" to get the things you want, when you've saved for them!

Uncle Sam, your bank, and you

How this 20-year-old partnership helps keep America strong

Since May 1941, America's banks have sold nearly 2 billion separate U.S. Savings Bonds at no cost to the Government or the purchasers. To give you some idea of the time involved: if you merely handed out that many Bonds at the rate of 1 a second for 10 hours a day, it would take you 152 years to reach the bottom of the pile.

Why have the nation's banks and bankers carried on this vast project of information, service, and issuance of U.S. Savings Bonds?

A winning team. For one reason, the Bond Program and the Banking business have grown together. Hand in hand, they've helped make Americans the saving-est people in the world.

Folks who save Bonds get the thrift habit. They soon learn other forms of saving and investment. They become better all-around bank customers. And Bond owners are better credit risks.

Another thing bankers are interested in: Bond dollars help keep America strong. A good reason for the banking business or any business to get behind the Bond program.

What you buy at the Bond Window. When your banker advises you to buy U.S. Savings Bonds, he's recommending an investment guaranteed to grow: $18.75 becomes $25 in 7 years, 9 months, and grows to $36.25 in another 10 years. They can be cashed in anytime with interest. And if they're lost or destroyed, the Treasury Department replaces them free.

Why not take this advice offered by the nation's bankers. Buy and hold U.S. Savings Bonds—for the things you want, and the Peace to enjoy them.

"America's Banks are proud to be part of the Bond Program,"

says Carl A. Binson, President, Valley National Bank, Phoenix, Arizona, and President, American Bankers Assn.

"We believe it is good for America, an economic stabilizer; it is good for the individual and the community; and it is good for banking. The promotion of Savings Bonds has helped to make savers out of non-savers, to revitalize the American tradition of thrift, and to build savings in all forms to record levels.

"The American Bankers Association congratulates the Nation and the public on the 20-year success story of the U.S. Savings Bonds Program, and pledges its vigorous continued support."

You save more than money with U.S. Savings Bonds

For 20 years America's newspapers have published U. S. Savings Bonds ads at no cost to the Government. The Treasury Department is grateful to The Advertising Council and this newspaper for their patriotic support.
