Pilate's Report

(Editor's note: This is part three in a four part series.)
Three powerful parties had combined together at that time against Jesus: First: the Herodians and the Sadducees, who seditious conduct seemed to have proceeded from double motives. They hated the Nazarene and were impatient of the Roman yoke. They never forgave me for having entered the holy city with banners that bore the image of the Roman emperor; and although in this instance I had committed a fatal error, yet the sacrilege did not appear less heinous in their eyes. Another grievance also rankled in the bosoms. I had proposed to employ a part of the treasure of the temple in erecting edifices for public use. My proposal was scorned. The Pharisees were avowed enemies of Jesus. They care not for the government. They bore with bitterness the severe reprimands which the Nazarene for three years had been continually giving them, wherever he went. Timid, and too weak to act by themselves, they had embraced the quarrels of the Herodians and the Sadducees. Beside these three parties, I had to contend against the reckless and profligate populace, always ready to join a sedition, and to profit by the disorder and confusion that resulted therefrom.

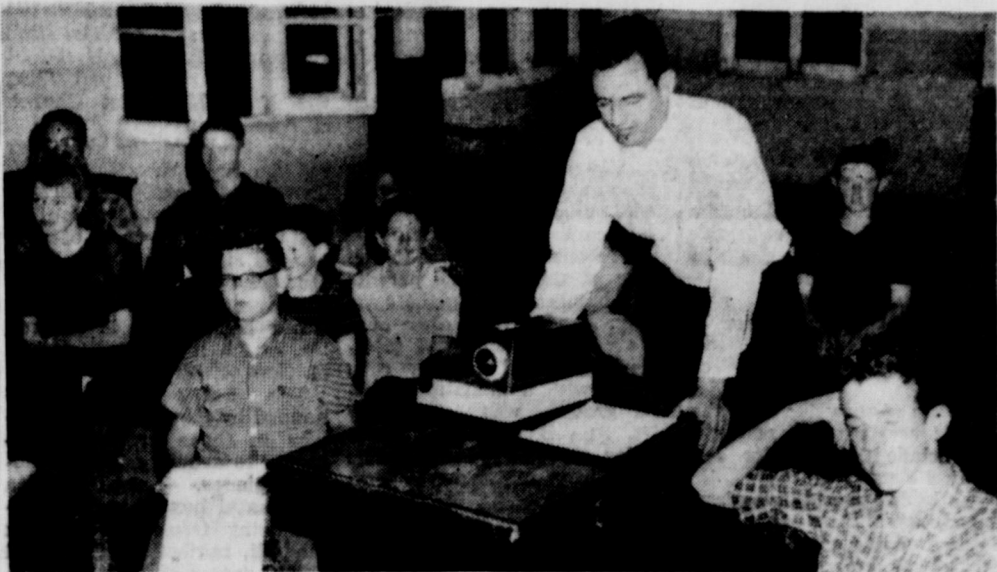

Jesus was dragged before the High Priest and condemned to death. It was then that the High Priest Caiaphas performed a divisory act of submission. He sent his prisoner to me, to confirm his condemnation and secure his execution. I answered him that as Jesus was a Galilean, the affair came under Herod's jurisdiction, and ordered him to be sent thither. The wily tetrarch professed humility, and protesting his deference to the lieutenant of Caesar, he committed the fate of the man to my hands. Soon my palace assumed the aspect of a besieged citadel. Every moment increased the number of the malcontents. Jerusalem was inundated with crowds from the mountains of Nazareth. All Judea appeared to be pouring into the city.

I had taken a wife from among the Gauls, who pretended to see into futurity. Weeping and throwing herself at my feet she said to me: "Beware! beware! and touch not that man; for he is holy. Last night I saw him in a vision. He was walking on the waters; he was flying on the wings of the wind. He spoke to the tempest and to the fishes of the lake; all were obedient to him. Behold, the torrent in Mount Kedron flows with blood, the statues of Caesar are filled with gemmide; the columns of the interium have given away and the sun is veiled in mourning like a vestal in the tomb. Ah! Pilate evil awaits thee! If thou wilt not listen to the vows of thy wife, dread the curse of a Roman Senate; dread the frowns of Caesar."

By this time the marble stair groaned under the weight of the multitude. The Nazarene was brought back to me. I proceeded to the halls of justice, followed by my guard and asked the people in a severe tone what they demanded.
"The death of the Nazarene," was the reply.
"For what crime?"
"He has blasphemed; he has prophesied the ruin of the temple; he calls himself the Son of God the Messiah, the King of the Jews."
"Roman justice," said I, "punishes not such offences with death."
"Crucify him! Crucify him!" the relentless rabble. The vociferations of the infuriated mob shook the palace to its foundations.

There was but one who appeared to be calm in the midst of the vast multitude. It was the Nazarene. After many fruitless attempts to measure which at the moment appeared to me to be the only one that could save his life. I proposed, as it was their custom to deliver a prisoner on such occasions to release Jesus and let him go free, that he might be the scapegoat, as they called it. But they said, "Jesus must be crucified." I then spoke to them of the inconsistency of their course as being incompatible with their laws, showing that no criminal judge could pass sentence on a criminal unless he had fasted one whole day; and that the sentence must have the consent of the Sanhedrim, and the signature of the president of that court; that no criminal could be executed on the same day his sentence was fixed, and, —the next day,—on the day of his execution,—the Sanhedrim was required to review the whole proceeding. Also, according to their law, a man was stationed at the door of the court with a flag, and another a short way off on horseback to

Students Out Today For Easter Holidays

Eastland Public Schools will dismiss students today for the Easter holidays and classes will not resume again until next Tuesday morning, giving the students and staff Friday and Monday free.

These will be the last school holidays for this school year. Students are now in the second week of the last six weeks period of this term. The elementary schools, West and South Ward, have been engrossed in many Easter and spring activities and programs for this important season.

Wednesday morning Mrs. Oma Mae Hughes' Second grade will present their annual assembly program for West Ward teachers and students. Each class from West Ward presents one assembly program a year, and Mrs. Hughes class chose "A Visit From Mother Goose Land" as their theme.

Mother Goose will be represented by Miss Cindy Allen who will introduce the other Mother Goose characters who will either recite or sing their verses.

The class had a voice in choosing their parts for the program as well as the theme itself.

Preceding the program the class will lead the audience in the pledge and "America" and will then sing alone, "There Are Many Flags in Many Lands." They will close the program with a prayer.

The first graders at South Ward have been planting spring gardens and flowers in science and painting free-hand Easter pictures in art while the second grade is

Seaberry Mayor Re-Organized Commission Votes 10% City Pay Boost

The Eastland City Commission installed two new members, elected a new mayor and voted an across-the-board pay increase for city employees, during a meeting Monday night.

Virgil T. Seaberry Jr., one of the men sworn in during the meet, was elected chairman, and as such becomes Eastland's new mayor.

Don Pierson, the other successful candidate in the recent city election was also sworn in Monday night.

Commissioner Tom Wilson, who did not seek re-election this year, presided as vice chairman until the new chairman was elected.

Former Mayor Cyrus Frost Jr., who was defeated this year, was not present.

The pay boost was approved unanimously by the city fathers and will amount to a 10 percent increase to be paid at the next immediate-pay period (April 30th.).

The boost also included City Manager Jimmy Young.

Before voting for chairman, Commissioners Milton Fullen, Jack Germany and Bob Perkins excused themselves and left the City Hall commission room for a discussion.

Upon their return, Perkins put Seaberry's name in nomination and Fullen entered Pierson's name.

Spring Color Keynotes Current Easter Frocks

By TELEGRAM WOMAN'S EDITOR

A pretty girl is like a melody when she dons her Easter finery, which this year includes a variety of spring colors.

The most popular colors for this season are blue, lilac, hues of red and pink and blue and green, the ladies shops in Eastland report.

Silk suits are very good for the spring weather. They come in blends of material of cotton and silk and rayon and silk.

Also the ever-popular feminine look in sheaths and shirtwaists as well as the high fashion frocks.

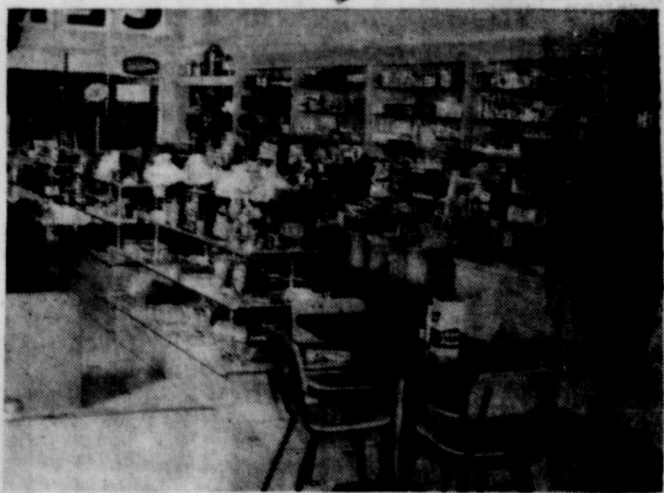

Spring coats of silk and worsted and all weather dress coats are always in good taste and have been moving fast in local shops.

Hats to compliment any ensemble very from the pillbox style to the large or small brimmed selections. The brimmed hat adds emphasis to any Easter attire. Hats may be obtained in floral decor, plain straw and those trimmed with organza bows and veiling.

The high note of fashion seems to include beige gloves and bags as well as black patent. Spring pasties are also available in lovely designs.

To add the final touch of beauty to any spring outfit, jewelry is a must. Reigning in jewelry population are the whites, crystal, gold and colored contrasts to match any chosen color scheme.

With these lovely spring combinations, one can't help but be the prettiest girl in the Easter parade.

REDECORATED DRUG STORE INTERIOR
Central Drug Completes Intense Redecoration

"The redecoration we have completed in Central Drug is symbolic of my faith in the future of Eastland."

This was the remark made by Dale Troutt, owner and manager of Central Drug Store, who has just finished a $2,000 redecoration job which was started around March 15th.

Troutt bought the store which has stood on the corner of Commerce and Lamar for about 18 years, in April 1961 and changed its name from Davis Drug to Central Drug at that time.

separated the store from a real estate office. Troutt has his office and the stock room located in this part now.

Another basic part of the redecoration was moving the pharmacy to the east and further to the back of the store and the addition of 40 running feet of shelves space.

The fronts of the fountain and prescription counters were paneled and a new tobacco show case was added.

The photo and gift sections were enlarged during the construction and an extensive greeting card line was added. Central Drug, dealer for American Greetings has one of (Continued on page 6)

Mr. Edward Evans of Fort Worth purchased the first store last fall and opened the first Eastland Discount Store in the building formerly occupied by Payne's.

The first store is in the center of three. Later he acquired the next building east, formerly occupied by Kirklands, and this week opened the third store on the corner of West Main and Lamar.

The three stores are being operated as Eastland Discount Stores and each has a separate manager.

Mrs. Emma Lou Benton manages the original store in the center, assisted by Loretta Keith. This store features general merchandise.

by Mrs. Johnnie Gallagher, assisted by Mrs. Neal Turner. The shoe store has women's and children's shoes.

Mrs. Opal Henderson manages the store on the corner assisted by Mrs. Murrell Ford. This unit features ready-to-wear merchandise, home accessories and costume jewelry.

Displaying three stores with merchandise is a gigantic undertaking, and the three are still in the process of developing. The last store was only opened this past Monday.

In a departure from usual standards, the stores will be open until 7 p.m. every Monday and Friday evenings.

Area residents have been invited to come in, get acquainted and look at the merchandise being sold at discount prices.

Hallmark; Nelms Vows Miss Lana Turner Weds. Read Friday Evening William P. Hoffman Jr.

Miss Betty Lanell Hallmark and Gaylon Nelms were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony read Friday at 7 p.m. by Rev. Floyd Osborne in the Calvary Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hallmark of Eastland. Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Nelms of Cisco are parents of the bridegroom.

Vows were repeated before an altar flanked on each side by baskets of white gladiolas and arched candleabra.

Wedding music was presented by Miss Glenda Fox.

Mrs. Linda Robertson served the bride as matron of honor.

Lawson Agnew was the groom's best man. Candlelighters included Joe Taylor and Buddy Nelms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length wedding gown of white lace over satin. The dress featured tapered long sleeves. Her fingertip veil cascaded from a white crown headpiece. She carried white carnations atop a white Bible. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hallmark chose a beige dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Nelms, mother of the groom, wore a white dress with white accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony. A white lace cloth over blue covered the serving table. The three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was served by Mrs. Ann Baker. Miss Nova Butler served punch while guests were registered by Dorothy Boyett.

For her short wedding trip, the bride chose a beige two-piece suit with matching accessories. She wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home at 612 W. 4th, Cisco.

Miss Lana Turner became the bride of William Pearson Hoffman Jr. in a double ring ceremony read by Dr. Bob Houston of Roswell, N. M. at 7 p.m. Saturday, April 7, in the First Methodist Church of Monahans.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Layne W. Turner of Monahans, former residents of Eastland County, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Laura E. Murrell of Eastland and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Turner of Ranger.

Her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hoffman of Georgetown.

The altar setting was enhanced by glowing votive candles in three arch arrangements to accent exquisite floral pieces. Large azalea pink satin bows were the focal point from which pink gladioli, majestic daisies and stock graceful shaded from deep to lightest pink. The largest floral arrangement and candle arch were directly below the indirectly lighted cross. Votive candles and emerald greenery were used at the altar rail and pew markers were of pink satin and majestic daisies.

Mrs. Henry C. Womach presented a recital of pre-nuptial music and the traditional wedding marches. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Collins of San Angelo sang "Oh Promise Me" and Mrs. Collins rendered "I Love Thee." As a benediction, Miss Arden Stone of Dallas sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

MRS. WILLIAM P. HOFFMAN JR.

Miss Nancy Cosper registered guests.

The bride's table was appointed in silver with candleabra and bowl in silver. The three tiered cake was frosted in white and topped with a pink corsage. Miss Patricia Hammond, Mrs. Carl Murrell and Mrs. Arden Stone presided at the table.

A center arrangement of a black silk hat, cane and boutonniere was featured on the groom's table where chocolate cake and coffee were served. Presiding at the table was Mrs. Pearson Cooper, Miss Linda Cullum, Mrs. Robert Reese, Miss Lana Turner and Miss Patricia Hoffman.

Re-Organized

Commission room, and abstain from voting.

The vote was two to one in favor of Seaberry, with Fullen, Germany and Perkins voting.

Pierson had actively sought the position of chairman after being elected to the board.

After the election of the chairman, the commission expressed their thanks to Wilson for his "unselfish and hard work" to the board.

Before leaving the meeting room, Wilson told the board that he was happy to have been a part of a group that could "disagree" around the council table, and always as friends.

Pierson was elected vice chairman and Perkins, treasurer, with Germany to serve as assistant treasurer.

Fullen, Perkins and Pierson were named to a committee to study the possibility of adopting a city building, plumbing and electrical code, after City Manager Young said "We need one."

"They will work a hardship and restrict the rights of homeowners," Pierson said, in speaking against such codes.

Young read a report by the State Insurance Board which contained several recommendations for the city, which, if adopted, could result in a four cent reduction in the city's insurance key rate next year.

That the number of volunteer firemen be increased to 25; (it now stands at 20)

That the 42-year-old fire truck be replaced;

That gauges be corrected on the 1951 Ford fire truck; (they have been, Young reported);

That a $2,500 construction program be instituted which would include nine new fire hydrants, and the installation of an eight-inch water main to the Hillcrest Addition (6-inch line is now being used) and

That fire department representatives be sent to the fire school at Texas A&M. (Three are sent each year, Young said.)

In asking for the pay boost for employees, the city manager, said that he has men working for $180 a month, and "they need some help."

The 10 per cent increase for the 26 city employees will amount to about $600 a month and $7,200 a year.

A commission spectator asked if the manager's salary was limited by the charter, before the board voted in favor of the raises.

The commission had to "re-sign" the lease agreement with Great Western Drilling Co. after Seaberry explained that their signing at the last meeting wasn't legal because the matter was brought up then, and the law requires a different date for the signing.

He excluded himself from the voting because he had drawn the lease for the company.

Pierson was directed to invite the Eastland Ministerial Assoc. to have representatives at each city meeting, after he recommended the program to familiarize the ministers with the city's business.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil E. Moore and sons, Trippy and Ricky, of Archer City spent the weekend in Eastland visiting with friends.

Pilate's Report

cry the name of the criminal and his crime, and the names of his witnesses, and to know is anyone could testify in his favor; but they still cried, "Crucify him! Crucify him!"

I then ordered Jesus to be scourged, hoping this might satisfy them; but it only increased their fury. I then called for a basin, and washed my hands in the presence of the clamorous multitude, thus testifying that in my judgment, Jesus of Nazareth had done nothing deserving of death; but in vain. It was his life these wretches thirsted for.

Often in our civil commotions have I witnessed the furious anger of the multitude, but nothing could be compared to what I witnessed on this occasion. It might have been truly said that all the phantoms of the infernal regions had assembled at Jerusalem. The crowd appeared not to walk, but to be borne off and whirled as a vortex, rolling along in living waves from the portals of the praetorium, even unto Mount Zion, with howling screams, shrieks, and vociferations such as were never heard in the seditions of the Pannonia, or in the tumults of the forum.

By degrees the day darkened like a winter's twilight, such as had been at the death of the great Julius Caesar. It was likewise the Ides of March. I, the continued governor of a rebellious province, was leaning against a column of my basilic, contemplating athwart the dreary gloom these fiends of Tartarus dragging to execution the innocent Nazarene. All around me was deserted. Jerusalem had vomited forth her indwellers through the funeral gate that leads to Gemonica. An air of desolation and sadness enveloped me. My guards had joined the cavalry, and the Centurion, with a display of power, was endeavoring to keep order. I was left alone, and my breaking heart admonished me that what was passing at that moment pertained rather to the history of the gods than that of men. A loud clamor was heard proceeding from Golgotha, which, borne on the winds, seemed to announce an agony such as was never heard by mortal ears. Dark clouds lowered over the pinnacle of the temple, and setting over the city, covered it as with a veil. So dreadful were the signs that men saw both in the heavens, and on the earth that Dionysius the Areopagite is reported to have exclaimed, "Either the author of nature is suffering or the universe is falling apart."

Whilst these appalling scenes of nature were transpiring, there was a dreadful earthquake in lower Egypt, which filled everybody with fear, and scared the superstitious Jews almost to death. It is said Balthasar, an aged and learned Jew of Antioch was found dead after the excitement was over. Whether he died from alarm or grief is not known. He was strong friend of the Nazarene.

"As a member of the Texas Senate, I have served on a number of major committees, including State Affairs and Agriculture. I am presently Chairman of the Election Law Study Committee, which seeks to revise and clarify the Texas Election Code," he said.

"Among other legislation I have sponsored legislation which attained 'University status' for North Texas State College; supported the Public School and Junior College Programs; co-authored the Milk Sanitation Bill; consistently supported legislation beneficial to farmers and ranchers; and have consistently taken a strong position against deficit State spending," Creighton said.

"I have attempted to serve this District honorably these past two years, and will appreciate your vote and support in my bid for a second term," he pointed out.

Weather Presents
Problems In Dress

by Georgia Gosnell

Due to the sudden changes in the weather, we, the employees, are still trying to figure out how to dress in order to cope with it. Wednesday morning, Leona Jones appeared in a sun dress. By noon she had donned a street dress. Spectators expect for a few minutes, then off they come and the pastboard fans start to work.

Our annual vacation has been posted on the bulletin board and several employees are already planning what to pack and what to take on their trips. The first two weeks in June have been labeled "Vacation Time."

Saw Vera Thompson and her young son out visiting with us the other day. Also, noticed Myrtle Senbourne in the plant. Mrs. Jake Mangum and Mrs. Jack Bueress from Post made a tour through our plant last Saturday and we enjoyed having them drop by to visit us. Mrs. Bueress is a retired saleslady. She told us that she has sold quite a few of our garments to well satisfied customers.

Vera Cook, from our Dallas warehouse, made a business trip to our plant on Wednesday and stayed over to bowl with us that night.

Mike George had his charming little daughter, Renee, with him at the Ficus Bowl on Wednesday night.

We are happy to have James Johnson, manager of Perry Bros., and Mr. and Mrs. James McCormick on our bowling team.

Sn. 4 Odie Ray Jordan and family of Fort Polk, La. visited his family, the Odie Jordans, from Thursday through Saturday.

Have heard that Pauline Lewis's son, Harvey L. Lewis, has returned home from Germany.

Johnnie Johnson's son, Robert, is due home almost any day. We understand that Robert is visiting a few places before he comes back home.

WANTED BY THE FBI

Eugene Francis Newman

Newman is the alleged machine gun-carrying leader of a gang that attempted the robbery of an armored car carrying $498,500 in American and Canadian currency in Buffalo, New York, on August 3, 1955. He and his associates, wearing silk stocking masks, engaged in a running gun battle with the truck's guards and Buffalo Police, and a machine gun bullet, allegedly fired by Newman, seriously wounded a guard. Two bandits were quickly apprehended but Newman remains at large.

A complaint, filed before a U.S. Commissioner at Buffalo, New York, on August 5, 1955, charges Newman with fleeing the State of New York to avoid prosecution for robbery.

Heavily armed, with a violent temper, Newman has previously been convicted for theft of Government property, interstate transportation of a stolen motor vehicle, petty larceny, and burglary.

He is a white American, reportedly born on October 3, 1928, at Brooklyn, New York, who is 5'8" tall, weighs 170 to 180 pounds, has blond hair, blue eyes, a medium build, and medium complexion.

He has scars near his right eye, on the back of his right hand and on the center of his left cheek. A birthmark appears on his upper left arm and a mole on his left index finger. Tattoos include the name "Donny" and a heart on the outside of his right forearm, and the number "13" within a dotted circle on the back of his left hand. He has worked as a bricklayer, clerk, construction worker, counterman, and laborer.

Consider extremely dangerous. Please immediately notify the nearest FBI Office of any information concerning his whereabouts. aro 632418-28

Marine Corps Film Due Here This Week

In addition to the double feature attraction at the Majestic Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, the short subject, "A Force in Readiness - U.S.M.C." will be shown.

This is the short that won a special Academy Award for the writer, producer, Lieut. Col. William L. Hendricks, USMCR. It is the First Public Demonstration of the new capabilities of the U. S. Marine Corps' air-sea-land team.

An absorbing, exciting revelation of the completely new types of equipment and weaponry which permit this entirely-mobile fighting arm to operate anywhere in the world.

The film demonstrates the new concept of amphibious assault, using fleets of helicopters for vertical envelopment. Shown for the first time are such oddities as the one-man helicopter, the wheel-less air car, the mechanical mule; all capped by the actual explosion of a miniature atomic missile devised for close-up use by ground troops.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF CANCER PROGRESS

Today, millions more Americans have annual checkups than they did 25 years ago. Millions more know Cancer's Seven Danger Signals. Early detection and prompt treatment of cancer is the keynote of the American Cancer Society's public education program.

In 25 years, the death rate from uterine cancer has dropped 50 per cent. Dr. George N. Papanicolaou developed the "Pap" smear, a technique for detecting uterine cancer in its earliest, most curable stage. This has helped save thousands of lives.

Research has led to improved treatment by surgery and radiation, and to new life-prolonging drugs. Today, over 1,000,000 Americans are cured of cancer. Only 160,000 had been cured 25 years ago.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO ONLY ONE CANCER PATIENT IN SEVEN WAS SAVED. TODAY IT IS ONE IN THREE. IT IS POSSIBLE TO SAVE ONE IN TWO, SAYS THE AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY.

Texas and Gambling

An Editorial

Eastland Countians, like their neighbors all over Texas, will vote "for" or "against" on May 5th on whether or not they think gambling should be legalized in this state.

Both Democratic and Republican primary ballots will carry the question.

The proponents of the amendment to bring pari-mutuel horse race gambling back to Texas are touting it as a "miraculous cure-all for increased state revenue, increased tourist trade and increased retail business of all kinds."

Skirting the moral issue involved, because every voter must decide that personally on election day, one might wonder about some of the "profit" aspects.

Here's a "quote of note" we think, from the director of the Chicago Crime Commission:

"Gambling drains the salaries, savings and investments of a community into a business enterprise that serves no human need. Those who benefit from gambling profits are almost without exception members of the underworld who invariably control the gambling business."

The pros ask, "But since some people gamble anyway, shouldn't we make it legal in order to police it, control it, get tax revenue, bring money into the state?"

In answer to the question, Dr. W. R. White, chancellor of Baylor University, and E. B. Germany, president of Lone Star Steel Co., co-chairman of the statewide Texas Against Race Track Gambling, have issued the following statement:

"I visited the Eastland Baptist Church on Sunday Morning.

John W. Henderson, J. A. McNeely, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Fuller and family and Mr. and Mrs. Odis Rodgers were among those attending the Eastland County Singing Convention in Rising Star on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. J. A. McNeely visited with Mrs. John W. Henderson on Sunday afternoon.

Reggie Underwood of Carbon spent Friday night and Saturday with Ricky and Randy Pack.

Recent visitors of Mrs. Carra Sessum were her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Buren Sessum of Ackerly, and Mrs. Phyllis Sessum of Flatwood, and a son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sessum of Carbon.

Mrs. J. C. Caraway, Mrs. John Donaldson, Mrs. Carra Sessum and Mrs. W. L. Graham were shopping in Abilene on Saturday.

Mrs. Ethel Levens of Eastland and Mrs. W. N. Stephen visited with Mrs. Sessum on Sunday.

"Yes, some people gamble, whether it be legal or illegal. But more people gamble when it's legal.

Does legalization make gambling easier to police? The chairman of the United States Senate Crime Investigating Committee says no. "No plan for legalized gambling that was proposed to us seemed to carry any guarantee of success."

"What of the tax revenue to the state?"

In 1960, the last year for which complete figures are available, horse players bet two billion, four hundred and twenty million dollars ($2,420,000,000) through pari-mutuel windows at thoroughbred tracks.

The twenty-four states with legalized race track gambling collected one hundred and ninety-four million dollars ($194,000,000) in tax money, an average of eight million and ninety-seven thousand dollars ($8,997,000) per state. Since expenditures of the State of Texas in this area were more than one billion, nine hundred million dollars ($1,900,000,000), Texas' projected "tax take" might be estimated at four-tenths of one per cent of income requirements.

Senator Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin has said "The idea that legalized gambling will be a revenue-raiser is an illusion. Every dollar raised from such sources means five dollars spent in higher police costs, higher court costs, higher penitentiary costs and higher relief costs."

"But don't some of our people go out of the state to gamble? Aren't our neighbors in Arkansas, New Mexico and Louisiana raking in millions of dollars that should stay in Texas?"

The City of Hot Spring lost population between 1950 and 1960? If New Mexico is supporting its government on race track gambling how did it do it on the $37,241 "tax take" from the $7,400,000 bet in a 46-day meet in the 1959 season? If New Orleans prospers because of race track gambling why is it gaining industry and population at a slower pace than any of the major Texas cities, all of which now prosper without race track gambling?

"But won't race track gambling bring tourists into Texas? For the answer ask the people of Nebraska, Maine, South Dakota, Colorado, Oregon, Arizona, Arkansas, states in which the race track tax revenue is less than one million dollars a year.

"But can't we increase prosperity by encouraging the breeding of thoroughbred horses?"

Kentucky does a pretty good job of breeding horses. Today per capita income in Texas is twenty-five per cent higher than in Kentucky.

 Legislature, by burning midnight oil on the first special session, passed the $361 million sales tax bill Tuesday. This means income of $30 to $50 a year on the average family bookkeeping program for business men who pay sales taxes.
 The session was called back into session Wednesday and the legislature could get together on the teacher salary bill. Wayne Gibbons of Breckenridge voted for the tax measure, David Ratliff voted for the tax measure, and the majority of Cisco voted against it.

Jamee Gaining in Arthritis Fight

Jamee Scholl, 9 years, of Rochester, N. Y. (left), as she looked about a year ago. Note "moon face" effect. Jamee is home today (right) after treatment at the March of Dimes-supported Arthritis Study Center, University of Rochester Medical School.

Gloom—heartbreak—despair. These were nine-year-old Jamee Scholl's feelings for so many of the long months of her battle with arthritis. She was at least 60 pounds overweight and could scarcely recognize herself in the mirror.

Once a gay and carefree little girl, Jamee's unbearable pains and changed appearance had turned her into a surly and hostile child.

But, as the accompanying "before-and-after" photos suggest, Jamee's progress so far makes her future look quite encouraging.

Much of the transformation of Jamee took place at the March of Dimes-supported Arthritis Clinical Study Center, University of Rochester Medical School, where the blue-eyed child was first hospitalized in January, 1959. Her pains from rheumatoid arthritis, felt in almost every part of her body, were of such severity that Jamee spent most of her time crying—even screaming with pain.

For nearly two years, the child's doctors were compelled to administer cortisone, one of the steroid hormones, to reduce the intolerable pain Jamee was undergoing. In many cases of rheumatoid arthritis, cortisone serves to reduce inflammation. It often restores at least some mobility in the joints which, in turn means that the indispensable exercises of physical therapy can begin.

Unfortunately, cortisone in the large doses Jamee required for relief sometimes has its drawbacks. Side effects in her case included a "moon face" appearance.

Specialists at the March of Dimes-supported clinic treated Jamee with intensive physical and hydrotherapy (exercise baths in swirling water), and carefully regulated her diet. Gradually the little girl's cruel pains decreased, permitting a reduction in the cortisone dosage. The swollen "moon face," which had so distressed the child, began to diminish. Her weight came down from an incredible 118 pounds to a normal 54 pounds. Muscle strength and joint motion increased. This meant more weight-bearing ability and, thus, occasional escape from bed and wheel chair.

Jamee's hospitalization ended. But continuing home therapy was indispensable. The Monroe County (N. Y.) chapter of The National Foundation-March of Dimes provided for twice-a-day visits by a physical therapist and also supplied a hot-pack machine. Since both of Jamee's parents have been ill, a "homemaker" was recruited to help with the domestic chores.

Today, Jamee looks into her mirror without terror, loathing or pain. She no longer sees a frightening reflection. She sees a pretty and winning child, home at last with those she loves.
