

Eastland Echoes

By Casey

THOUGHT FOR TODAY: "To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace." — (George Washington)

Thursday night, early, we took a turn around Lake Leon. It was just before dusk, and, always, as the shadows fall, Mother Nature is at her most attractive best. It was a pretty sight, a big lake bordered by so much rain-blessed greenery, these times. And it made our chest swell with pride over this fine asset for our area, as we thought of the abundant and dependable water supply and the wonderful spot for recreation.

"Good thing for some people the government doesn't tax them what they think they're worth." — (Aunt Slug)

Ever know a person who thought things should be handed to him on a silver platter? Certainly you have, and perhaps he should study the words of David Sarnoff, who comments:

"Don't be misled into believing that somehow the world owes you a living. The boy who believes that his parents, or the government, or any one else owes him his livelihood and that he can collect it without labor will wake up one day and find himself working for another boy who did not have that belief and, therefore, earned the right to have others work for him."

James Wright is pepped up about buying a building lot out at Lake Leon. "It's just around that point, beyond the dam," he says, "and several Eastland folks are planning cottages in the same neighborhood."

It's tourney time on the links at Lakeside. . . which reminds us that golf's a good sport, with the good-natured banter that goes with a match just about as enjoyable as pastime itself.

Rev. Surface Rounds 25th Milestone As Ordained Minister

On Monday, July 11, the Rev. Eugene H. Surface, minister of the local First Presbyterian Church, is observing the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of his ordination to the gospel ministry. Mr. Surface, having graduated from McCormick Theological Seminary (Presbyterian), Chicago, Illinois in May, 1930, following three years of difficult graduate study, was ordained at Buffalo Gap, Texas, by the Presbytery of Abilene. Buffalo Gap is the site of a Presbyterian conference grounds, and is fourteen miles south of Abilene.

It so happens, by a happy coincidence, that the Presbytery of Abilene is meeting, in called session, at this same place and at this same time, to receive and dismiss ministers and to examine a young man who desires to come under its care. Mr. Surface plans to attend.

He will mention the fact of his ordination twenty-five years ago, as a point of personal privilege. He states that he "would not exchange the privilege and the joy of the ministry of Christ for any other vocation in all the world." God has been good, he points out, and he is most grateful.

Battery A sent 50 men to camp this summer.

"They got the most intensive—and the best—training I've ever seen in the eight years I have been going to camp," said Capt. Sayre.

In pointing out the importance of the national guard, Capt. Sayre stated that with the reduction of manpower in the regular army, the USA is offsetting this considerably by increasing support for and emphasis upon the National Guard.

Old Rip Offspring May Be In Ark.

Texas wildlife is invading Arkansas. And — at one point, anyhow — it's causing quite a stir.

Shades of Old Rip! — they're horned frogs, at that.

And the Kaffka family is responsible. Dan Kaffka — El Morocco Motel owner — and Mrs. Kaffka have as their guest John Kaffka, of Jonesboro, Ark., the former's dad, who tells about it, and it's also described in this clipping from the Jonesboro newspaper:

"This also was the week that the horned toad hopped into the limelight. B. C. Ray found one of the never-east-of-Texas toads on his farm a mile and a quarter west of Shady Park.

"But J. A. Kaffka, father of Dan, John, etc., has eased our pain about how the horned toad, which survives (supposedly) only in an arid section, got to Arkansas. Mr. Kaffka lives only about

Leon Deep in Heart of Tex., Mrs. E. Castleberry Explains

Ever consider the geographical location of Lake Leon?

Mrs. Ed Castleberry has been thinking about it and has an idea to offer.

A visit to the Telegram office, Mrs. Castleberry suggested: "In your articles about Lake Leon and its September opening, you should mention it is 'deep in the heart of Texas.'"

Then she explained why. "According to my information," said Mrs. Castleberry, "Comanche County is the geographical center of the State of Texas, so—since Eastland County adjoins it, we certainly may properly say Lake Leon is 'deep in the heart of Texas.'"

And so it is.

It's The Berries With Tapioca

Some desserts are costly in terms of both time and money, yet when the occasion justifies, we feel they are fully worth it. Oftener, however, we want simpler, easier, less expensive things such as this creamy tapioca pudding which can be dressed up or down to fit into many day by day meal plans. It may be made into fancy puddings and parfaits, served plain or with topping of fresh fruit or berries, as shown.

- Tapioca Pudding With Fresh Raspberries
- 1 egg white
 - 2 tablespoons sugar
 - 1 egg yolk
 - 2 cups milk
 - 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
 - 1/8 teaspoon salt
 - 2 or 3 tablespoons sugar
 - 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 - Fresh raspberries
- Beat egg white until foamy throughout; add 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, and continue beating with rotary egg beater until mixture will stand in soft peaks. Set aside.
- Mix egg yolk with about 1/4 cup of the milk in saucepan. Add quick-cooking tapioca, salt, 2 or 3 tablespoons sugar, and remaining milk. Place over medium heat. Cook until mixture comes to a boil, stirring constantly—this takes 5 to 8 minutes.
- Pour small amount of hot tapioca mixture gradually on beaten egg white, blending well. Then quickly add the remaining mixture, stirring constantly. (The hotter the tapioca and the faster it is blended in, the thicker and fluffier the pudding will be.) Add vanilla. Cool, stirring once after 15 to 20 minutes. Chill. Makes 4 or 5 servings. To serve, top with fresh raspberries.

How Will Times Be?

What about business the second half? It looks good . . . at least so says a prominent fore-caster.

Ewan Clague, the federal government's top statistician, declares the outlook for conditions throughout the country for the next six months is bright, in Nation's business.

Current employment trends across the nation are upward. The Bureau of Census reports total employment for the whole economy to be about 1,700,000 higher than at this time last year.

In agriculture, late forecasts indicate high yields and good crops. Here in our own county, if we receive a few more showers this month and next, there should be bountiful crops, following the heavy rains of the springtime.

Reasonable prosperity may be hoped for with considerable confidence, we feel sure.

'Soul Under Searchlight' Is Christian Topic

The 11:00 a.m. worship service of the First Christian Church will find the pastor, Roy M. Turner, speaking on the theme: 'Your Soul Under The Searchlight.' In telling of this theme the pastor states: 'Too long have people been playing a game of hide and seek with God.'

'It is time we begin acting like adults by following the admonition of the Apostle Paul: 'When I became a man, I gave up childish ways.' (1 Cor. 13:11) As we pass under the searchlight of God we find all of our deceptive devices are of no avail. This Sunday we will follow the thoughts of the psalmist who wrote the 139th Psalm as we consider this theme.'

Prior to this service, the church school, under the superintendency of H. R. Garrett, will consider the theme: 'Trusting God in Dark Days' taken from words of the Prophet of Faith — Habakkuk.

IT'S THE LAW In Texas OBVIOUS RISKS ASSUMED BY SPECTATORS

The outlook wasn't very bright for the home team with the score tied, two opposing players on base and only one out. 'Spec' Tator, a rabid fan, leaned forward on his seat in the left field bleachers. The pitcher got his signal, the ball sped toward the plate.

Then came two sharp cracks. The second was the ball on Spec's head. Spec was seriously injured.

To recover damages for his injuries and medical bills, Spec filed suit against the baseball club. He charged it with negligence in failing to put a wire screen in front of the bleachers where he sat and in failing to warn him that batted balls might come into those bleachers and injure him.

But the court said, 'No' to Spec. He had chosen to sit in the unscreened bleachers in preference to sitting behind a screen where the tickets cost more. Therefore, he had 'assumed the risk' of being hit by a batted or thrown ball during the playing of the game. No recovery was allowed.

In such cases, the courts say that the spectator is an invitee to whom the invitor (the ball club) owes the duty to exercise ordinary care to render the premises reasonably safe for him.

'But,' says the courts, 'the invitor is not an insurer of the safety of the invitee; neither is the invitee protected against all hazard, nor relieved of all duty to himself for his own safety. And to the extent that the duty of self-protection rests upon the invitee, the duty of the invitor is reduced.'

The same rules as to 'assumption of risk' are applied to most places of amusement and amusement devices. A swimmer must anticipate that a diving board will ride on an amusement device and sees flying sparks takes the chance that a flying spark may strike his eye.

And one who goes upon a revolving floor device for the purpose of being thrown from it, accepts the dangers inherent in the sport so far as they are obvious.

On the other hand, if the danger is not apparent or obvious, the operator of the device has a duty to warn the rider or spectator. It is the ordinary risk that is assumed, not the unusual. Where, for example, a device was operated on a particular occasion at an especially fast speed so that it jerked and jolted violently, a rider who was injured by these unusual conditions was permitted to recover.

A patron of a place of amusement is entitled to be protected from hidden dangers, but he cannot go into a place of danger which he appreciates and understands, and then recover damages if he is injured.

Eastland Church Scene of Breck Couple's Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ray Mahan, formerly of Breckenridge, are at home at Alamogosa, Colo., following their marriage June 25 in the First Presbyterian Church in Eastland. The Rev. Eugene H. Surface, minister of the church, read the double-ring service and Mrs. D. L. Kinnaird of Eastland, played the pre-nuptial selections and traditional wedding marches. The bride is the former Miss Anna Rae Howe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Howe of Breckenridge, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mahan of Breckenridge.

Only family members and close friends of the couple attended the ceremony, which was the first wedding to be held in the newly-decorated church sanctuary. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a brocaded white satin gown and veil of illusion attached to a Juliet cap of white brocaded satin. She carried an orchid atop a white Bible.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Byrd of Cross Cut, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, were best man and matron of honor, respectively. Cecil Sutton, Breckenridge, brother-in-law of the bride, was usher. Mrs. John Chandler Vandenberg

Granddaughter of Mrs. Millie Brittain Weds in Amarillo

Mr. and Mrs. John Chandler Vandenberg are at home at 1710 1/2 W. 14th St., Lubbock, following their wedding trip to Colorado and New Mexico.

Prior to their marriage at the First Christian Church of Amarillo, June 11, the bride was Miss Paula Eureka Ferguson, her parents are Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Ferguson of 619 W. 21st St., Amarillo, and her mother is the former Eureka Drake of Eastland, whose marriage took place 32 years ago in front of the Eastland Church of Christ as the sun dawned and as "At Dawning" was played, it will be recalled. The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Millie Brittain of Eastland and the great granddaughter of the late H. B. Horn, justice of the peace in Eastland for 18 years.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. H. Vandenberg of Amarillo. Dr. Newton J. Robinson, minister of the church, read the ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz-length gown of antique satin-back taffeta in off-white, designed on princess lines with an empire waistline, full gored skirt and a round scalloped neckline bordered in seed pearls. A coronet of pearls in orange blossom design held her waist-length veil of tulle appliqued with seed pearls. She carried a white orchid on a Bible covered with Battenburg lace which her grandmother, Mrs. Brittain, used at her wedding.

Mrs. Leta Crudginton of Amarillo, organist, played "At Dawning" and accompanied Miss Jerry Scott, Amarillo, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional marches were used for the processional and recessional. Centering the lighted altar cross was a bouquet of white gladioli and pink majestic daisies, flanked by white tapers and baskets of white gladioli and pink daisies.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex G. Stubbs of Abilene, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of pale pink antique taffeta with pink accessories and carried a blue carnation nosegay. The bridesmaids, Miss Marianna Gross, Miss Mida Nelson and Miss Elizabeth Wilson, Amarillo, wore identical gowns in pastel blue, yellow and purple, respectively, with white accessories. Their nosegays were of pink carnations. Shere Lynne and Brenda Sue Stubbs of Abilene, nieces of the bride, wore flower girls and wore identical frocks of pastel pink and carried miniature nosegays of blue carnations.

Mr. Vandenberg was his son's best man. Serving as groomsmen were Jeter Dickinson, Ron Bensore and J. T. Albert Jr., Amarillo. The bride's mother wore a dusty rose lace frock over taffeta and a corsage of baby orchids, while the bridegroom's mother chose an amber-colored frock and an orchid corsage.

A reception followed in the church parlor with Mrs. Pat Haley of Amarillo playing piano selections during the receiving hours. Miss Daria Hawkins of Amarillo presided at the punch bowl; Miss Connie Dancan, Amarillo, served the wedding cake and Miss Carolyn Fowler, also of that city, registered the guests.

For traveling, the bride chose a tan suit with avocado and white accessories.

Mrs. Vandenberg was graduated from Amarillo High School and attended Amarillo College, where she was a member of Kappa Delta Chi sorority. Her husband, a graduate of Amarillo High School, attended Amarillo College and served in the army. He is a student at Texas Technological College, Lubbock.
