Interment was held in the Cedar Hill Cemetery in Abilene.

Deep Oil Test Being Drilled Northeast Cisco

A new offset oil test in the Mississippi Limestone pool seven miles northeast of Cisco was being drilled this week as the W. M. Jarrell and Texstar Petroleum Corp. of Houston No. 2 Higginbotham. Low Drilling Company of Cisco, contractors for the project, also had an interest in the well.

Drilling was below 2,000 feet early Thursday.

Location was given as 100 feet from the south and 330 feet from the west lines of Section 53, Block 4, H&TC Survey, Eastland County.

Chamber Board Okays RAD Study--'Provided'

Rural area development gained momentum in Eastland this week and wheels were set into motion for the establishment of an industrial foundation, by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

RAD action came in the form of a motion by Dr. Jim Whittington—with the addition of a restricting amendment by Mayor Virgil Seaberry Jr.

Discussion of the program stemmed from the recent meeting held here in which a Texas A&M professor explained the various aspects of rural area development and rural re-development programs.

Dr. Whittington offered a motion that the chamber board forward a letter to Mr. M. A. Cooper, County Agricultural Agent, who heads a county wide organization known as the county program. This group is made of farmers and ranchers who are working for long-term goals in the fields of agriculture.

The visiting professor suggested expanding this existing group to include an "industrialization" agent.

Indications are that the original group would welcome expansion and the inclusion of chamber representative for that purpose.

Dr. Whittington's motion was to encourage the existing program and offer cooperation in the continued study of the various possible programs.

Mayor Seaberry's amendment spelled out "no federal funds", and he pointed out that he does not want this area "designated" as a depressed, or re-development, area.

The motion, with its amendment, passed.

Second item of business in the meeting, presided over by chamber president Frank Deaton, was the approval of a committee to study the establishment of an industrial foundation.

After passage, Deaton named Roland Burton, Hoel King, Seaberry and Whittington.

(Purpose of such a foundation is to provide an organization which could accept tax-free gifts for the purpose of industrial expansion here, it was pointed out.)

Board members were told that the chamber will begin distribution of a monthly newsletter about the middle of this month.

Taylor County Judge Asks For Appeals Court

Happy Holiday July 4th

A check revealed that virtually all businesses will be closed in Eastland Wednesday — Independence Day.

In order that the Eastland Telegram employees may enjoy the 4th of July holiday with their families, a slight change is planned for the distribution of Thursday's edition.

Those persons who live in town and receive the paper by carrier on Thursday morning, will receive their papers Thursday afternoon.

Rural subscribers will receive their papers Friday morning.

Floyd Robertson Registers For McMurry Course

Floyd Robertson, Eastland High School band student, is among those registered for the annual McMurry College Band School, which begins on July 27.

The school will be devoted to instruction in instruments, drum majoring and twirling. Top-flight instructors from throughout the West Texas and Central Texas have been engaged, many for the third or fourth consecutive year.

Dr. Ramond T. Bynum, McMurry professor of band and director of the summer school, said he expected a total enrollment of up to 450 students. Most will live on campus. Registration will remain open until the opening of the school unless the number of applicants should grow too large before that time.

Commission Begins Plans On Highways

A new 14-mile stretch of state highway near Cisco (Eastland County) has been designated by the Texas Highway Commission.

Hal Woodward of Coleman, member of the Commission, said the Texas Highway Department has been directed to negotiate right of way for a highway that will extend from U.S. Highway 80 one mile west of Cisco south to Farm to Market Road 569, one mile north of Sabanna Church.

Estimated cost to the state for right of way is $40,000 and construction is $340,000, Woodward said.

Advance planning through the schematic stage of more than five miles of Interstate Highway 20 in Eastland County was authorized today by the Texas Highway Commission, according to a release received from Austin.

The Commission ruling directed State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer to determine the right of way requirements for from a point one and a half miles east of Ranger to three miles west of the Erath County line.

Two Entries Announced In Queen Contest

Latest entries in the Eastland County Farm Bureau Queen Contest are Miss Linda Meazell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Casey Meazell of Route two, Eastland, and Miss Sylvia Hendricks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hendricks of Kokomo.

In an earlier announcement, Miss Lehanna Leveridge of Pove four, Cisco, was entered in the contest.

The three and any other entries will contest for the queen's honors August 3 in the German High School Auditorium.

Girls who are interested in entering the contest should contact Mrs. Bethouts of Route one, Cisco or the Farm Bureau office in Eastland.

It would appear that there are still people who would put wheels to the 11th Court of Civil Appeals in Eastland and "haul it away."

The following excerpts from an article appeared this week in the Abilene Reporter-News, under the headline, "Appeals Court for Abilene?"

The article was written following a speech by Taylor County Judge Ingalsbe before an Abilene civic club.

"Serious study" should be given to moving the 11th Court of Civil Appeals from Eastland to the center of the district population. County Judge Ree Ingalsbe told the Abilene Kiwanis Club Wednesday.

Ingalsbe's remarks came in the course of his discussion of present problems and future needs of the Taylor County government.

He shared the Kiwanis lunch program at the Woote Hotel with Mayor C. R. Kinard who discussed municipal problems and needs.

"When the 11th Court of Civil Appeals was established at Eastland," Ingalsbe said, "it was in the time of the Range oil boom."

Most of the lawyers then lived in the eastern end of the district, and most of the litigation centered in that area, he continued.

"But times changed, people have changed, and so have communities," the judge declared.

The eastern end of the district has declined in population, while Abilene and Big Spring have grown and now have the balance of population.

Relocation

"I cannot help but feel that the relocation of the 11th Civil Appeals Court should be seriously studied with the view of moving it to the center of the district's population, which means Abilene," Ingalsbe said.

Judge Ingalsbe also spoke of the need of a new hospital, more courthouse space, a domestic relations court, a coliseum, an expanded county law library, and a county unit road system.

The county already owns the full block east of the present courthouse which would accommodate any new construction of a civil and criminal court building, with other county agencies remaining in the present courthouse.

Band to Play In Abilene On July 4th

The Eastland High School Maverick Stage Band will be featured band at the annual 4th of July Patriotism program at Fair Park Stadium in Abilene Wednesday evening.

Director Phil Hewett says that he will take about 25 musicians for the event which will be held, free to the public, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Approximately 10,000 persons are expected for the annual program which will include displays of modern military arms.

Thurber-Erath Co. Reunion Set for July 4

Thurber-Erath County reunion will be held Wednesday July 4 at Thurber. This is an annual affair.

Thurber, at one time, had a population of over 8,000, but is now a ghost town. The day will be spent reminiscing and enjoying old time fellowship. At lunch a picnic lunch will be spread.

Activities on the program include string music and gospel singing.

Those on the committee are Roy L. Miller, Fort Worth; L. R. Galey and Gomer Mianick, Strawn and Mrs. Annie Bell Tullos, Ranger.

A spokesman for the group said that between five and six hundred persons are expected for the event. Friends are welcome to attend.

Food, Autos Lead County Spending

Food buying and automotive purchases paced the retail market in Eastland County in the past year as business activity regained its momentum.

The combination accounted for 55 cents of every dollar that was spent in local retail stores in 1961.

Elsewhere in the United States they attracted 42 cents, and in the West South Central States, 43 cents.

This is one of the findings arrived at in a nationwide survey to determine how the consuming public has been distributing its money. It shows, for each locality, the amounts spent for food, for clothing, for general merchandise and for other items in the family budget.

The results are contained in the annual market data report of the Standard Rate and Data Service, just released.

The breakdown shows that housewives in Eastland County spent freely for food, allotting 27 cents of their dollar for such purchases.

As a result, sales in local stores, vegetable stores, butcher shops, supermarkets and other food emporia amounted to $6,385,000, a gain over the previous year's $6,316,000.

This refers solely to the food bought for home consumption. It does not include expenditures in restaurants and in other eating places.

If divided equally, these purchases would amount to $899 per household locally. Market strength was exhibited, also, in the automotive field, where outlays for new and used cars, boats, motorcycles and related products came to $5,570,000, equivalent to 23 cents of the retail dollar.

The bigger spending that was done in the year benefited most other establishments in the county as well.

Those handling general merchandise, such as variety and department stores, had a $2,196,000 volume, representing 9 cents.

Apparel shops, including those selling shoes and hats, accounted for $654,000, or 3 cents.

Locally, and in most other parts of the country, living standards rose in the year as more money was earned and more was spent.

Did you know, mom, they are making things, pretty things like hot pads, and mail boxes, out of sucker sticks? If you want to see just how pretty the sand pictures are, you can see them next Friday. That's graduation day. It'll be at the City Park.

M.: Don't you mean commencement day? They have had it at night the past two years, haven't they.

J.: Yeh, but it's rained every time, so we're going to have it Friday morning this time, so that everybody can come to the City Park, without getting drowned.

And by the way, Mom, you know what has a tail on both ends? An elephant, and we're going to see a whole lot when we go to the zoo in Fort Worth Tuesday. Everything's ready, we're going on buses and we're going to stay all day. Bet you wish you could go too, don't you mom? Sorry, it's just for day campers, like me. Yes sir, all day.

Of course our counselors are going to get to spend the night. Mr. and Mrs. Hewett are going to take them down Friday and they'll spend the night. But you know though, I don't think I'd like to spend the night. Elephants and monkeys are fine to see in the day time, but I believe I'd rather be home with you mom? Sorry, it's just for day campers, like me. Yes sir, all day.

Y know, mom, I like camp. Be glad when next year comes. M.: Yes, dear.

Rev. Osborne and Party Take 10-Day Tour

Rev. and Mrs. Floyd Osborne and Miss Glenda Fox of the Calvary Baptist Church of Eastland and Miss Sheryl Caudle of the Bible Baptist Church, Desdemona, have recently returned from an extensive tour of mission points in the Republic of Mexico. They visited eight states and the Federal District which is comparable to the District of Columbia.

Guide for the tour was Rev. Milton Martin, an Independent Baptist Missionary residing in Mexico City and being supported by the Calvary Baptist Church.

The group spent 10 days on the tour and covered over 1,700 miles. They visited missionaries and attended special services in Monterrey, Mexico City and Mantle.

Mexico City, sixth largest in the world and second in the Western Hemisphere, old capital of the Aztecs and the capital of the new Mexico, with its five and one-half million people was the highlight of the trip. The city is located in a valley at an altitude of 7450 feet and is known as the City of Eternal Spring.

The archeological ruins of San Juan Teotihuacan, fabulous ghost-like Indian city that dates back to near the time of Christ, were visited. Remains today include the huge pyramid to the Sun, the slightly smaller pyramid to the Moon, and an impressive stadium with perfectly preserved Indian Temples.

The Pyramid to the Sun is the largest pyramid in the Americas with a base larger than those of Egypt and a height of 300 feet. The group climbed to the top of this pyramid where originally an Indian Temple was located and where in one day alone in the 15th Century, 20,000 Indian warriors were offered as blood sacrifices.

The Carmen Convent, which is now a historical museum, was reported to be quite interesting. The cells of the young ladies in training were just as they were in the 18th Century. Two altars were viewed that are completely covered with gold. In the cellar of this Convent were mummies of nuns who died a hundred years ago, yet their features were recognizable through the glass crypts.

The Shrine to the Virgin of Guadalupe was also visited. The legend goes that on December 9, 1531, an Indian, Juan Diego was walking over a hill near an Indian Temple, which is now on the outskirts of Mexico City, when the Virgin Mary appeared to him. She informed him that she wanted a temple erected to her on that spot. He was to tell the Bishop of her desires and when he did appear before the Bishop, an image of the Virgin appeared inside of his cloak. A gigantic Cathedral has been erected on that spot and in the center of the altar is said to be the preserved image from Juan Diego's cloak. The big days of religious celebrations are December 12 and Good Friday. On December 12, thousands and thousands of Indians come by foot on long pilgrimages to the Shrine and perform realistic dances around the church. This "Virgin of Guadalupe" is he officially appointed protector of Mexico and the patron Saint of the Americas. It is quite a coincidence that almost every major Catholic Shrine in Mexico has been erected on a site that was famous as an Indian Temple of worship. There will be a special mass said in this Church when President Kennedy goes to Mexico on July 1.

Eighty-five years before the founding of Harvard, Mexico had its University. Established in 1551, the National University of Mexico today occupies a campus whose construction cost fifty-five million dollars and boasts an enrollment of more than seventy thousand students. Truly the architecture of this campus was breathtaking and seeing it, it was reported that one has to agree that it is of the most modern in the world.

Rev. Osborne will be showing colored slides of these highlights and other points of interest of the tour at various churches in Eastland County.

And bless their hearts, do you know how the Robertsons addressed the card?
"Eastland Telegram, Eastland, Texas, HOME OF LAKE LEON."

The month of graduations and weddings has ended, and today begins the month of July. And Wednesday will be the first big holiday of the summer.

What do you call it? Independence Day; the Fourth of July; or simply, the "4th".

Besides the firecrackers, the picnic with the family out at the lake or the back-yard barbecue, what's the holiday for?

Well, it commemorates the adoption of the Declaration of Independence of 1776. It's celebrated in all the states and territories and its observation began the next year in the city of Philadelphia.

Hope yours is the best you've ever spent.

Understand the Rev. and Mrs. Bill Fishers have a new granddaughter. Saw them on the run one day this week en route to Fort Worth to visit the New Miss. They're vacationing too we understand.

Several celebrated birthdays during the last week of June: Jimmy Frost, Penny Frantz, Dr. James Whittington, John Lee Roper, J. B. Jessup and Jill Cathey.

Eight Predicted to Die In Fourth Traffic

The same Statewide traffic safety team that brought the Texas traffic mileage death rate to its lowest level in history during 1961 will be back in action for the Fourth of July one-day holiday in an effort to hold the toll below the eight deaths predicted.

Governor Price Daniel said this week that the estimate of eight traffic deaths for the Fourth, issued by the Texas Department of Public Safety, was the lowest on record. "I hope everybody in Texas will do his best to see that the Fourth of July toll is also the lowest on record," the Governor said, "and I believe this can be done if as many Texans give as much attention to safe, sober and legal driving as they did last year."

The 1960 one-day Fourth of July toll of six lives lost represented a reduction of nearly 50 percent over the estimate that 11 lives would be lost.

The Governor added: "The fact that estimates of traffic deaths for the one-day Fourth of July holidays have been coming down in recent years is an indication of the cooperation and understanding given the safety program by a great majority of Texas motorists. I have, therefore, asked the Department of Public Safety and all of the sheriffs, chiefs of police and other law enforcement officers to keep a close check on those comparative few who will not obey the law. I have urged the officers to maintain steady pressure on the two violations which contribute most to Texas fatalities—speeding and driving while drinking."

Both the Fourth of July and Labor Day Traffic Safety campaigns will tie in closely with the nation-wide "Slow Down and Live!" campaign, which closes Labor Day. This special summer-time traffic safety program is coordinated in Texas by J. O. Musick, general manager of Texas Safety Association.
