Lone Cedar Site for Annual Bridge Winners Tourney

Lone Cedar Duplicate Bridge Club was to be host to the first in a series of "winners tournaments" on Saturday, at 7:30 p.m. in the ballroom of Lone Cedar Country Club.

The series was to be among duplicate clubs from Lone Cedar, Breckenridge, Cisco and Gorman. Each club was to take turns as host at two-month intervals. Next date and place will be announced.

Lloyd London, director of the Lone Cedar and Cisco clubs, said that eligibility for the tournament required that players from any of the four clubs shall have won first place in the past two months, or second place twice in that time, or first or second in master point play, or at least one-half point in any other way, in the past two months (May 14 to July 14).

He said the regular afternoon session will be held at Lone Cedar and winners there (Lacking other qualifying points) was to be eligible for the evening session, which was to be played for master points.

The restaurant facilities of Lone Cedar Country Club were to be available for dinner, between sessions, for all players, or for those coming in for the evening session.

London said seven tables of players were necessary for the evening master point session but there is no limit on number of players from the four clubs. A large group was expected from each of the four clubs.

Mrs. Clyde Grissom of Eastland is president of the host club and Mrs. Dick Bearman of Cisco is secretary.

County Burglary Claimant Gets Life Sentence as Habitual Criminal

A man who has admitted robbing some 15 business in Eastland County probably won't ever be brought to trial in this county.

James Hugh Leggett signed a statement admitting burglaries of firms in Eastland, Cisco and Ranger, when he was arrested in January of this year.

(Stephenville) on a charge of burglarizing the Evans Co. there.

SW Bell's Telstar To Better Serve Eastland

A small satellite hundreds of miles in outer space is sending signals to earth in tests that will lead to better communications service for local residents.

The satellite, Telstar, is the Bell Telephone System's pioneer in the new frontier of space communications. Telstar tests will help pave the way for a worldwide satellite communications network to send overseas phone calls, live television and other signals. The satellites will receive and retransmit signals, such as overland microwave systems do in today's long distance calling.

Local District Attorney Earl Conner Jr. said this week that officials in this county doubted at the time of the statement, and still do, whether Leggett actually had pulled that many jobs in this county.

Robbers Now Serving Time

James Bridges, 27, and Paul Davis, 30, who were found guilty and sentenced in the 51st District Court here recently have been taken to the state penitentiary at Huntsville.

Bridges received a sentence of 20 years and Davis, 15 years, on charges of armed robbery of the Elson Grocery in Gorman on Feb. 8th of this year where less than $200 was taken.

Conner also said that he doubted that there would be much reason for bringing Leggett here for trial in view of his life sentence.

Grass Fire

Local firemen had a "hot" job Friday afternoon.

Telstar was successfully launched from Cape Canaveral by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration which is cooperating with the Bell System in the experiments. The Bell System will repay NASA for the Telstar launching costs, about $3 million.

He apparently did not have Cisco Lumber and Supply Co. because in a separate statement, he outlined his method of entry and exit, as well as describing the loot taken from two safes which he "peeled."

County Man's "Apache" Pecan Named Best in State by Assoc.

B. B. Freeman, Route 1, Ranger, received the Grand Champion Named Variety Award for the best pecan in the state of Texas at the forty-first annual convention of the Texas Pecan Growers Association held at Austin.

Eastland Television viewers will have opportunity to see Telstar's work first hand in a series of live telecasts planned between this country and Europe. Television signals will be sent from ground stations in England and France to Telstar and retransmitted to the Bell System's ground station at Andover, Maine. American programs also will be sent to Europe via Telstar.

After receiving the sentence, Leggett pleaded guilty to three other Erath County burglaries. Judge W. J. Oxford found him guilty and sentenced him to 12 years on each count, the sentences to run concurrently.

Local firemen had a "hot" job Friday afternoon. They were called to put out a grass fire on East Valley Street, no doubt encouraged by the hot, dry weather.

Live overseas telecasts have not been possible up to now because ocean cable and radio systems in use don't have the transmission capacity for the signals.

He has received 12 years on burglary charges in Travis, Uvalde, Howard, Parker and Gregg counties. These sentences are to run concurrently.

Freeman's winning pecan was an Apache, a variety named only last year. The pecan is a government cross between a Burkett and Eastern Schley. Freeman reported having only about eight of the new variety of trees among 600 bearing pecan trees on his 56 acre orchard.

Major experiments involve sending signals from the main ground station to another Bell Station at Holmdel, New Jersey, via the satellite. Telephone calls, video tape signals, facsimile news photographs and

Christian Science

Freedom from enslavement of every kind is available through spiritual understanding of the mighty power of God. This is the encouraging theme of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God" which will be presented at Christian Science churches Sunday.

Bible readings will include this verse (Revelation 11): "We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, which art, and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and hast reigned."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this selection will also be read (p. 228): "The enslavement of man is not legitimate. It will cease when man enters into his heritage of freedom, his God-given dominion over the material senses. Mortals will some day assert their freedom in the name of Almighty God."

Many Overlook Social Security Fund Due Them

About a million workers over 65 do not realize that they are eligible to receive social security benefits, according to H. L. Weatherly, social security field representative for this county.

These are mainly people who are still working and who think they cannot get any benefits because they are making over $1,200 a year.

If the same ratio is true for this county as for that million live near here.

Are you one of these people? If so, you may be losing money as each month goes by.

To illustrate, Weatherly cited a claim recently filed by a man who has averaged $1,800 in annual income since 1950. This computes to about $73.00 a month in social security payments.

However, because he continued to work in his regular job after his 65th birthday, he thought he could not receive any payments. Actually, this man will get a total of $526 in social security checks in 1962, even though he earns $1,800 in wages.

If you are over 65, it is important that you inquire about this now. No payments can be made to you unless you apply for them. Delay may cost you money because no claim for social security can go back more than one year, even though earlier eligibility exists.

Write for leaflet 23c from the Social Security office in Abilene. This leaflet contains a chart which shows how your earnings affect the amount of your payments. By simply getting in touch with Weatherly on his next trip to Cisco on July 18 and again on August 1 at the Chamber of Commerce you may find an added source of income which you have earned through your work under social security. Even if just age 62, your earnings level might be in the range that would permit some payments to you.

Storm Cellars Can Be Made For Fallout

Many of the tornado and underground vegetable cellars in Texas can be made into good fallout shelters, says W. S. Allen, extension agriculture engineer.

However, there are several points that must be kept in mind when remodeling these shelters to provide fallout protection. They are: (a) adequate shielding, (b) a protected entrance, (c) positive ventilation, (d) storage facilities for supplies, (e) and installation of a radio antenna for radio reception.

The most economical means of providing the additional shielding needed is with a layer of soil to a depth of about 3 feet over the entire cellar roof. Most cellars will require additional reinforcing in the roof in order to hold this extra weight. A steel reinforced, six inch thick concrete slab cast over the roof may be used instead of soil cover. A local contractor can tell you the amount of steel necessary for your situation, but for most cellars 1/2" steel bars laid on 12" centers in both directions will be sufficient.

A right angle entrance into the cellar, essential to protection from fallout, may be made by building a partial wall inside the existing cellar. If the cellar is not large enough to permit this wall inside, then a new entrance should be constructed with the necessary right angle in it.

A mechanical blower should be installed to provide positive air exhaust in time of disaster, and an inlet and outlet vent provided. The blower should provide a minimum of 5 cubic feet per minute per person. A filter is not necessary for the average home shelter.

There should be enough shelves and storage space to hold the recommended amount of supplies and a radio antenna should be installed to receive CONELRAD broadcasts. Be sure that your battery powered radio will work in the shelter and will connect to the antenna.

Fallout shelter plans are available from the Extension Service Office, Office of Civil Defense and other organizations concerned with civil defense.

For 29 years Mr. Eugene R. Witt, better known as "Uncle Gene", has been secretary for the Junior Sunday School Department of the First Baptist Church in Eastland.

Two years ago Witt, a deacon, was recognized for his services in the church in an article which appeared in the Baptist Standard.

A stroll through the "Shell Bar" where the TV show "Hawaiian Eye" is made, (it is next door to Lucky's luau where we had lunch one day and saw a Live TV show) . . . a luncheon for two ladies who were returning to the Mainland, aurant high atop the Ala at La Rode's, a revolving restaurant high atop the Ala Moana Building.

This landmark in the sky revolves completely in an hour's time and features an unsurpassed view of Honolulu and Waikiki Beach, as well as other sights of the area.

Each time we passed the docks we saw different, huge ships: the Roosevelt Pierce, Himalaya, and many, many more. Our favorite was the Himalaya.

Everywhere and always beautiful flowers and lei-making with accompanying music . . . Livingness, lovingness, givingness, and gratefulness are the threads on which the leis of Hawaiian days are strung . . . creating memories of beauty . . . PAU (the end).

'Nationals' Top Baptist WMU

The Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church met Tuesday morning, July 10, for their monthly Royal Service and business meeting.

The hostess was Mrs. Albert Cartledge and the session was enjoyed in her back yard flower garden. The patio was decorated with flower arrangements.

The center of interest was a large poster placed on an easel, portraying the W.M.U. emblem with faces of "Nationals" pictured on the inside. On a table just below were three inch gold letters, "That They Keep My Ways", placed in a gold groove and a violet pot plant.

Mrs. M. A. Treadwell, Sr. and Mrs. M. A. Treadwell, Jr. assisted the hostess in serving from an artistic refreshment table. As each guest arrived they were served punch, fancy cookies, nuts and chips.

Mrs. Myrtle Richardson, the vice-president, presided over the business session. The usual monthly reports were given and the next month's work was assigned.

Mrs. H. M. Hart was the program leader for the mission program, "Baptist Nationals" Hymn, "Jesus Shall Reign", was sung and then the meditation period followed in the form of a dialogue. Mrs. W. A. Chapman was the devotional leader; Mrs. T. L. Wheat read the scriptures; and Mrs. Haston Brewer was the hidden voice.

Mrs. Hart gave the introduction and told the purpose of the program which was to show something of quality of national leadership which is developing on our mission fields.

The five speakers that formed a symposium were:

First Sterile Flies Produced at Mission

The first box of sterile screwworm flies from the new production plant in Mission came off the assembly line last week and were released over the state.

"This is a great day in the short history of the Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program," Dr. G. D. Stallworth, supervising veterinarian for the Texas Animal Health Commission, said. "It is second in importance only to the day when we will turn out the last box of flies that will complete the eradication program."

Sexual sterility of screwworm flies is accomplished by subjecting pupae to radiation from cobalt-60, which emits gamma rays. Pupae are then packaged in cartons, held until they emerge as flies, and then dropped by airplane. About 3 to 5 percent of the total fly production is not sterilized and provides brood stock for continued production. The fly colony was established on Sunday, June 17, the day after formal dedication of the plant. All operations of the plant are timed to coincide with the normal life cycle of the screwworm.

"We now have a plant to produce from 50 up to 75 million sterile flies per week, the volume needed for eradication of this costly livestock pest in the Southwest," Marvin J. Bridges, executive director of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, commented.

"The increase supply of sterile flies from this plant will not only greatly strengthen the eradication effort, but also will provide flies for future tests on establishing and maintaining a barrier zone to be formed by continuously releasing sterile flies along portions of the U.S.-Mexican border," Dr. S. C. Gartman, assistant veterinarian in charge, Animal Disease Eradication Division, U.S. Department of Agriculture, added.

Program officials outlined these plans for the months ahead. The temporary facilities at Kerrville will continue to produce about 23 million flies per week as production at the Mission plant is increased. The Kerrville unit will be gradually closed and personnel and equipment transferred to Mission.

Plans are for the Mission plant to build up to around 50 million flies per week within the next 2 to 3 months, the average production called for

The Kerrville unit will be gradually closed and personnel and equipment transferred to Mission.

Plans are for the Mission plant to build up to around 50 million flies per week within the next 2 to 3 months, the average production called for breaks in northern portions and require concentrated fly release for quick control.

How much longer will your water heater last?

Replace it now with a modern flameless ELECTRIC WATER HEATER

If your present water heater is operating on "borrowed time", why risk the inconvenience and possible added expense of a "breakdown"? Install a modern, quick recovery, electric water heater now and enjoy all these advantages that only flameless electric water heating can give you:

FAST. New quick recovery electric water heaters with immersed heating elements give you hotter water faster and it stays hot longer. All the heat goes into the water—none is wasted up a flue. And the tank is completely insulated—even on the bottom—to keep heat inside where it belongs.

SAFE. No flames to blow out accidentally. No fuel to leak. No pilot light or flue to worry about. An electric water heater gives you peace of mind.

CLEAN. No by-products of combustion to soil walls or ceiling. No unpleasant fumes. No flue to accumulate soot.

LONG LIFE. The tank bottom is not subjected to the corrosive action of flames. There are no valves to stick, no burner to adjust.

INSTALLS ANYWHERE. Because an electric water heater needs no flue, it can be installed anywhere in the house, close to the point of greatest use. This saves long heat-wasting pipe runs.

SAVE NOW GET THIS... $50 INSTALLATION CERTIFICATE

Good for $50 on the retail purchase and installation of a new electric 40-gallon (or larger) glass-lined quick recovery water heater in any home served by Texas Electric Service Company. Available now and for a limited time only from your appliance dealer, plumber or electrical contractor. Ask about it soon.

New Low Rate for ELECTRIC WATER HEATING

Only 14¢ per kilowatt-hour for all electricity normally used for water heating by the average family. Call our office for full information.

IT'S THE LAW

JURY DUTY

Jury duty is an experience everybody ought to have. In a criminal case twelve jurors have a duty to do justice as each one sees it, and yet be unanimous. In most trials both sides have much to say, and the evidence is conflicting. The twelve jurors vary in their ability, temperament, character, education, and their experience in the world, and in the question at stake.

Yet a jury made up of both sexes, with age and educational differences, jobs and origins must all come up with the same verdict. Upon their verdict much depends — the life or liberty of others, and the public good. So it may take them days of talking among themselves, all to agree.

Jury duty calls for insight, common sense, courage, tact, fair-mindedness, patience, (especially toward the jurors who disagree with you), good humor, tolerance, balance, willingness to hear others out and change one's mind, readiness to go over and over the facts to find something to bring agreement. In short, jury duty demands a "decent respect to the opinions" of others.

More and more women share civic duties, especially as jurors. Time was in Texas when women could not serve on juries. They still cannot in four states.

A jury finds facts. It hears and weighs evidence and then comes to a verdict. It does not make the law — the legislature does; and the judge "charges" or instructs the jury concerning the law applicable to the particular case it is considering.

The judge will tell you not to find the accused guilty until he has proved so under strict rules of evidence. If you have any "reasonable doubt," — not imaginary or far-fetched — acquit the accused.

Civil case do not demand a moral certainty, merely the "preponderance" of what you regard as reliable and believable evidence.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Violators Find Wardens On the Alert

Game wardens still get around. And they usually show up when you least expect them. A number of surprised fishermen found this out during the month of May when they came face to face with wardens who wanted to see their licenses. Undoubtedly, several thousand people over the state were visited by wardens during a day on the lake. However, 200 of them who didn't have licenses and had to pay fines probably will remember the occasion longer than others.

Other than 58 arrests made for the sale of fish in retail outlets without the proper licenses, law violations remained at a lull in May.

Altogether 346 cases were filed. Of these, 31 were dismissed, 3 served time in jail, 2 appealed their cases, one was found not guilty and one was suspended. Fines and court costs amounted to $5,952.35.

J. B. Phillips, law enforcement coordinator for the Game and Fish Commission, reported that wardens in the state have been instructed to make frequent trips to fishing waters. "The people who have been fined for fishing without the proper licenses in the state this year cannot honestly say that they forgot to buy a license or that they had no reminders from the Commission," said Phillips. "We are constantly reminding sportsmen that they must have a license according to law. All I can suggest is that before leaving the house fishermen check to see if everyone in the party has a license."

Jehovah's Groups To Meet At San Angelo

Jehovah's Witnesses in this area are making plans to attend a convention of eight circuits in San Angelo July 27 to 29, for a district assembly. The 135-congregation assembly will comprise Texas, part of Oklahoma and New Mexico with expected visitors from many other states.

Curtis Boase, presiding minister of the Eastland congregation, said, "Jehovah's Witnesses, being a society of ministers enrolled in ministerial training of at least five classes weekly, also meet together often in circuit, district, national and international assembly to encourage one another to perform their ministerial service in faithfulness."

motor-vehicle accidents account for almost half of the fatal, but only a fifth of the non-fatal injuries to farm people in the United States each year. In 1960, 11,300 farm residents died from accidents and 950,000 suffered disabling injuries. Of the total fatalities, 5,100 resulted from traffic, and 3,300 from work accidents. The Council points out that studies of accident reports show that over 90 percent of all accidents involve some human failure — improper attitudes, carelessness, lack of attention to rules and regulations and many others.

Accidents, the Council continues, are the leading killers of young people from 1 to 36 and rank fourth in total deaths. From 1950-60, nearly a million persons died in accidents, 95 million suffered disabling injuries, and 3.5 million were permanently handicapped. America's cost: $100 billion. But no dollar total can hope to appraise the priceless value of human life, nor can it comprehend grief, loneliness and pain. No purpose is served by accident losses. And most can be prevented, emphasizes the Council.

Safety is no accident and the accomplishments of rural leaders and cooperating farm families and organizations in their work to reduce accidents was cited by the Council. During the past decade, an 11 percent decrease in the farm resident death rate has resulted from this cooperative effort.

But, warns the Council we still have a long way to go to give farming and ranching a safety record equal to other national industries. Until every rural resident makes safety his business, our cooperative efforts must be continued, they add.

New "TELSTAR" relays phone calls and TV pictures for first time!

Bell System microwave-in-sky satellite is latest communications triumph for America arising from telephone research

The world's first private enterprise communications satellite is now being used for dramatic experiments in relaying telephone calls and television internationally.

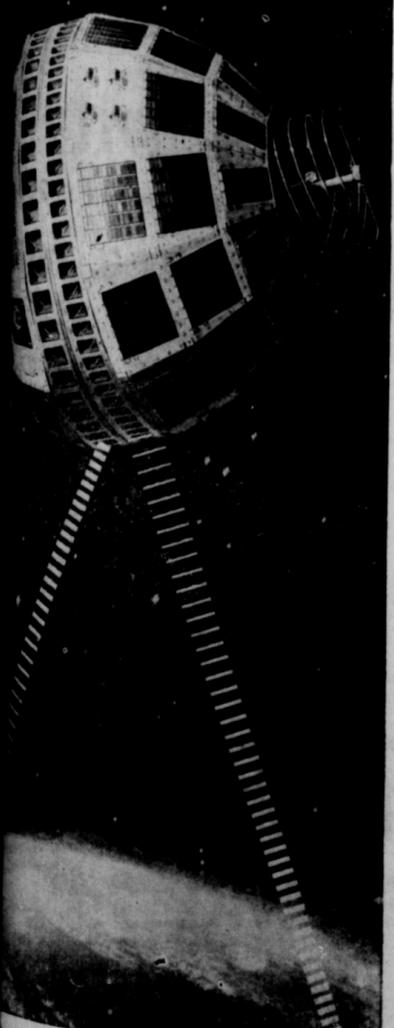

Its name: Telstar. It was launched from Cape Canaveral at Bell System expense by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Telstar receives signals beamed to it from a ground station, amplifies them and transmits them to another station on the ground below—perhaps an ocean away from the first one. The new satellite thus acts as a microwave relay station in the sky, enabling voices, TV pictures and data messages to leap thousands of miles in a new and exciting way.

The ground stations in the U.S. now being used for Telstar were built by the Bell System at Andover, Maine, and Holmdel, New Jersey.

Telstar is a first major experimental step toward a worldwide satellite communications system that was first proposed as a practical venture at Bell Telephone Laboratories. Progress toward such a system would not have reached its present state without continuing research and development by the private communications industry.

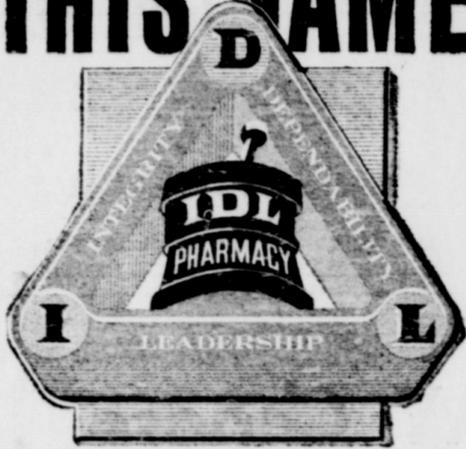

Above all else, Telstar is the latest achievement in an unending Bell System quest—the search for ways to make your telephone service still better, more economical, and more useful.
