Pleasures of Painting

The American public has a deeper interest in culture and fine arts today than ever in the history of our country.

Many people are exploring art for the very first time and discovering great satisfaction in their new knowledge, whether it recreats in actual participation or in increased rewards in art appreciation.

Painting in oil pigments may be defined as one of the formative arts the end of which is to represent upon a flat surface by means of lines and colors the phenomena of the natural world, so that an illusion of reality in outline, modeling, and color may be ob-

This creates a great challenge to an artist. He is first confronted with the problem of composition, the placing of the elements of the picture on the canvas in relation to light and dark areas and avoiding dead centers and horizonal lines.

Then he must consider perspective, tonal quality of color, atmosphere which shows time of day or

Good paintings don't just happen-they are the result of much study and application on the part of the artist, Painting is one of the most, satisfying media of self expression of all the arts.

What the artist is saying on his canvas can't always be said in words. Picasso once said that if what he wanted to say could have been said in words, he could have written a book instead of painting a picture. An artist's work is a very personal thing to him.

Many a painting has been commissioned and upon Completion the artists finds he is unable to part wih

Beauty experienced in any media is a great influence in our lives and the ambitions and aspirations of the Eastland Art Club can be summed up in a quotation from Michel Jacobs-

"We toll and spin to gain a place in the universe. But if we bequeath to posterity and those around us some beautiful thought, some worthy thing, and leave behind the fruits of our labor to help those who follow to make the world more beautiful, we shall have fulfilled our destiny."

Aren't we glad Eastland has an art club?

SPUNKY NEW WAGONS THAT LEAD LONGER, HAPPIER LIVES

you're in luck with

Now for a little flame-kissing!

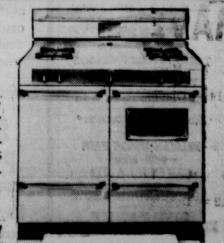

(with the broiler door closed, please!)

Steak-lovers never object to this kind of smoothing (exclusive with GAS).

It speaks of tenderness, deliciousness. And flamekissing is smokeless - you can keep the broiler door closed. (Something you can't do with unloving non-gas broilers.)

That's just one lucky charm about GAS ranges. The new designs are gorgeous . . . cooler, cleaner, more economical than any other . . . fully automatic (ask about the new Cook n'Keep oven latest marvel from GAS). Ready for a new GAS range? Then you're really in luck: they're on sale. Buy now and save!
