Senior Ring Presentation

Members of the 1963 graduating class of Eastland High School received their senior rings during an impressive ceremony held Thursday afternoon, Oct. 18, at the high school auditorium.

The stage was set with a large paper mache gold ring through which each senior walked to receive his ring. The presentation was made by Tommy Beck, Carol Walter, Julie Frost and Kay Morton.

A short program preceded the presentation. The invocation was led by James Manners, Joe Rullless led the pledge and a welcome address was given by Tommy Beck, president of the senior class. The senior quartet, composed of Julie Frost, Judy Lewis, Carol Walter and Judy Seaberry, sang "An Apple for the Teacher" after which Eddie Sargent gave his trumpet rendition of "Over the Rainbow" accompanied by Patricia Liles.

J. B. Tankersley sang "Sweeter Than You" and accompanied with his guitar. The school song by the entire student body and accompanied by Patricia Liles, concluded the program.

NO SHAVING?

UF Goal Is Only 39% Short; Last-Minute Surge Expected

"We only lack about 35 per cent reaching the top," United Fund President Jim Parks announced late this week.

The goal of $7,300 was over 60 per cent in Thursday and receipts from several projects are yet to be received.

Campaign Auditor Glyn Gilliam reported a total of $4,454 had been handed in.

This leaves only $2,846 to be raised, Parks said, as he urged drive chairmen to make their last-minute efforts this coming week so the campaign can be "wound up" as soon as possible.

Seven Eastland organizations are already reported as completing solicitations, 100 per cent. They are Hollywood-Vassarette Manufacturing Co., Texas Highway Department Engineers, Victor Cornelius Theatrical Printing and Menu Service, Eastland National Bank and the post office.

A basketball game between Carbon and Olde housewives and business women will be played Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Olden gym, with a rematch set Nov. 1st at Carbon. All proceeds will go into the Eastland UF.

A yearly event, over $200 was collected at the 1961 game for the Eastland fund.

Evelyn Fox of Olden and Donna McAfee of Carbon are in charge.

"We will reach the goal," Chairman Ben McKinnis announced "even if we have to go into a crash program and outlaw shaving in Eastland until the goal is met."

Parks seconded the suggestion and razors may get a rest if the fund isn't wound up soon, it would appear.

44-14

Albany Hands Mavs 2nd District Defeat

The Eastland Mavericks went scoreless for three quarters, turned on the steam in the fourth for two touchdowns, but saw the Albany Lions rack up their second district win of the season, 44-14, Friday night.

Eastland's first touchdown came early in the last when Jim Moylan got through for 25 yards and scored. Gary Graham ran the conversion over for two more points.

Albany had already netted 38 points, however, scoring in every quarter and scoring 24 in the second.

It was 6-0 at the end of the first quarter and 30-0 at the half.

Lacking depth, the Mavericks got little rest and had to hustle on every play.

With Quarterback Tommy Beck out with a broken wrist, Joe Cooper piloted the club until late in the third when he bowed with a charley horse, which have been deviling him all year.

A "B" team slot-man, Jimmy Dukess came on in the fourth.

Cooper, who had moved back to his back position, intercepted an Albany pass and set the stage for the first Eastland score.

Dukes had deft off to Moylan on the second play, and the big back made it across. It was Duke to Graham for the extras.

With two minutes left in the game, Dukess passed to Norman Rhodes for 15 yards and the TD. Extra try was no good.

The Maverick's stellar production came in the third when they put on a ground-gaining drive that netted six first downs in a row, behind Cooper's engineering. The ball went over without a score however.

Key Blocks and assists were turned in by Cooper, 3; Dickie Byars, 4; Larry Howie, 1; Moylan, 1; (which was accomplished with a hand-full of jersey); Ray Edwards, 3; Dan Phillips, 1; Stanley Underwood, 2; Gaylon Griffin, 1 (which resulted when he downed an Albany interceptor who had successfully eluded just about every other Maverick); Graham, 3; Don Griffin, 1; Bill Garner, 1.

Graham had his best punting night with three exceptional, for a 40-yard average.

Terry Family Is Honored At Reception

white flowers. Deacons of the church alternated in receiving guests along with Rev. and Mrs. Terry and Homer.

Ministers and their families of other Eastland churches were special guests at the reception.

The Church presented a red carnation and red boutonniere to the honored family.

The Victory Bible Class served punch and assorted cookies from a table laid in lace over pink linen. Centering the reception table were a floral arrangement and a large open Bible. Pink and white napkins and crystal appointments completed the table decor.

Background music was furnished throughout the calling hours by members of the Intermediate Class.

Guests were given a tour of the church which was decorated throughout with floral arrangements.

Cisco Bond Petition Request Dismissed; Appeal to Higher Court Expected Monday

The petition asking that the Cisco school bond election be made null and void, has been dismissed in 91st District Court but indications are that the matter will be taken to a higher court.

Judge Turner Collie of the District Court dismissed the petition Friday.

Filed by Park P. Plambeck, Cisco stock farmer, the petition asked that the September 8th school bond election be declared null and void.

Speculation among local attorneys here was that the petition "failed to make a case", in that no cause of action was stated in the original petition.

Proponents of the petition asked during the opening hearing, which had been re-set after postponement, what costs would be involved in an appeal.

A CONTROLLED PRESS?

Editor Butler Speaks At Rising Star (Reprinted from the Rising Star Record)

The other day I received through the mails a piece of literature — the term is entirely euphemistic — the obvious intention of which was to cast smutty reflections upon the ownership and motives of some of the newspapers of this county.

It was unsigned. There was no indication of any sort of its authorship and those responsible for its circulation through the anonymity of the United States mails.

But there is absolutely no doubt in my mind about who did it, and why. Unfortunately, in this case, the laws concerning libel require that I be able to prove it by tangible evidence in court. Obviously, I cannot.

The postal laws and regulations of the United States provide that any newspaper, magazine or other publication admitted to second class mailing privileges publish each year a sworn statement of its ownership, management and circulation. It is certainly a good law. I don't think I need to go into any detailed reasoning why, except to say that the people are entitled to know who, what and why about any publication to which they subscribe. Even so, a lot of filth circulates under the protective umbrella of some classes of our mails, not governed by this requirement exposure.

The piece of literature — is still euphemistic — which I received, and which many others also received no doubt, (Continued on page 2)

Spooks To Be Day Early This Year

Spooks and goblins will be on the lurk a night early this year due to the annual Halloween Carnival which will be held on Tuesday instead of Wednesday, which is Halloween night.

The carnival is an annual event sponsored by the Eastland P-T-A and will be held in the Eastland High School gymnasium from 6 until 8:30 p.m.

After an evening of entertainment at the carnival, trick-or-treaters will be on their merry way to make the usual house to house calls.

Featured at the carnival will be the following booths: Fish pond, Bean bag toss, Grab bag, Dart throw, Spook house, Basketball throw, Pitch-a-plate, Pound-a-nail, Whirl-a-turn, Country store and the food booth.

Mrs. Claud Boles, representing South Ward, and Mrs. J. O. Jolly, representing West Ward, are finance chairmen for the carnival.

President Henry Sims of the association announced the vote totals as follows: Ranger 122, Cisco 112 and Eastland 17. Postcards were mailed to all association members recently for use in voting for the show site.

Other routine business was transacted as the board meeting.

The association also decided to purchase a pair of scales and a shelter. These tools will be used to speed up judging and evaluation of entries.

The show was held in Ranger last year, and the previous year in Cisco. A record number of entries was recorded last year, and a similar participation is expected this year.

Moran's lone score came in the fourth quarter on a 40-yard sprint by Sidney Collinsworth.

It was the first league outing for the Bulldogs, who host Strawn Thursday night. Carbon is 1-1 in conference warfare.

Range and Pasture Tourists See Exceptional Grass Crops

Some 25 Eastland Countians saw examples of good grass crops on a soil Conservation Service-sponsored range and pasture tour Thursday and learned that good management is the key to good ranges.

The delegation left Eastland at 1:30 p.m. and went to J. H. Aaron's place, south of town and looked at four different types of grazing land.

The first of a dozen spots showed development of "abused" land. Both had been WPA-cleared several years ago and had suffered from the common clearing problems — the grass usually is taken with the brush.

The first area had one-year-old seedlings and the second area was in its third year. Both contained King Ranch blue stem and other varieties now, where there had once been needle grass and grass burrs.

E. E. McAllister, SCS staff member, told the group that good cover such as was demonstrated can retain 85 per cent of the rainfall for a range.

Third stop for the tour was at a low, bottom patch of extra-lush, thick coated bermuda grass, which Mr. S. S. Powers of Desdemona, a coastal raiser, told Aaron would produce 100 bales to the acre.

A clipping had been made in the grassy crop by SCS Man W. L. Garner and he reported that it weighed out at about eight pounds per square yard. This would dry out for about one-third of that, he said.

A sandy, less-than-perfect piece of the land which was covered in coastal was next stop on Aaron's place, and here the group agreed that good preparation for grass planting and proper care afterward is the key to good ranges — of coastal bermuda or others.

The group then went on south on Highway 6 to H. B. MacMoy's place near Carbon. (His is the old Eli Boyett farm).

Here they saw a vivid demonstration of land reclamation. Mr. MacMoy has had some 25 acres of scrub brush pushed and is in the process of turning the area into grazing land.

Exceptional stands of weeping love and little blue stem were seen, which are expected to be virtual covers in another season.

To clean up the brush, MacMoy is alternately running goats on and off of it, to favor the growing grasses.

It was also pointed out that through good conservation methods, he had eliminated several extreme sand dune problems on the place. Mr. MacMoy credited the SCS men for their help in teaching him how to restore the land.

Carbon Adult Class To Be Held Tuesday

A film, "That They May Live", will be shown Tuesday at the Carbon school during a meeting of the adult class in First Aid.

Conducting the class will be Miss Martha Graves, Director of Home and Family Life Education at Cisco Junior College. No admission is charged for the classes and all interested persons are invited to attend.

Making the tour other than the SCS staff which also included Guy Horton, were Powers; C. M. Strickland, Henry Schaeffer, Elmer Berry, J. K. Reynolds and Austin Flint, all of Cisco.

J. O. Jones, J. M. Daniel and O. L. Jumper, of Ranger; County Agent J. M. Cooper, Aubrey Easter, Ben McKinnis, E. E. Powell, Glyn Gilliam, W. R. Aaron, H. B. MacMoy, all of Eastland.

4-H Council Presents Quarterhorse Program

Roger Blackmon, Assistant County Agent, assisted the Eastland County 4-H Council in presenting a program on quarterhorses Tuesday night. The program began at 7:30 p.m. in the Eastland High School auditorium.

The welcome was given by Rodney Harrelson, chairman of the County 4-H Council. Roger Blackmon explained the program and Jimmy Horn, local 4-H Club leader, explained that the program was given due to the interest in this part of the county on quarterhorses.

Two hours of technicolor sound film followed. The first hour was "Youth and the Quarter Horse." The second hour featured the quarterhorse at roping, cutting, reining and showing at halter.

"The program was enjoyed by all", according to Mr. Blackmon. Approximately 130 persons attended the program.

The show was presented for adults as well as 4-H members. No admission was charged and free coffee was served by the Girls' 4-H Clubs following the program.

Blackmon said, "We feel the program was well worth the time of everyone who attended."

reproduces in smutty fashion, the statements in ownership, management and circulation of the Eastland Telegram and the Ranger Times recently published in those papers. These statements show that Mr. J. W. Sitton of Cisco, and Mr. Ted Reed of Austin are the owners; that Mr. Sitton is the publisher, that Mr. H. V. O'Brien and Mr. Dwaine Dennis are the editors, and that financial obligations of the two papers are held by Mr. Joe Dennis and Mr. Dwaine Dennis of Ranger and Mr. O. H. Dick of Olden, whom I know to be the former owners of the paper and who sold their interests to the present owners.

I know all of these men, most of them for many years. They are all good men, respected, deeply interested in their communities and energetic in their efforts to give their towns good newspapers. They are not cowards. They have a right to own newspapers, to buy and sell, to borrow and to hold, just as all of us have rights in the premises.

They have the right to choose whom they wish to support for public office and to express themselves upon that issue, or any other issue which may be of public concern. They have the right to resent what they consider invidious and unfair tactics in public affairs. And Mr. Dick certainly had the right to bring a suit to test the legality of a political action. He cannot be condemned for wanting a public office. He asked for it and worked for it hard enough and those who supported him is, in my opinion, a cheap, contemptible and un-American attitude to take.

When I was in Cisco, Mr. Sitton and I were upon opposite sides of some very critical community issues. But I didn't accuse him of being a "controlled" press because he opposed me. I didn't sneak into the post office and circulate scurrilous and suggestive pieces of anonymous mail in an effort to smear him.

The people of Eastland and Ranger know who "control" their papers, just as they know who controls their radio station and other quasi-public institutions which exist by what we term pre-emptions of public areas and avenues. They know that the columns of those papers are open to those who disagree as well as those who agree with the humans who own and operate them. They know that they are not controlled in any sense other than in the fact that the public mind and morals and economic laws govern their operation.

The secretive sheet I received — and you also, perhaps — says that the "mailing of newspapers is highly subsidized by the Federal government," plainly suggesting that the federal government controls the Eastland county papers and all other newspapers. If so, why are so many critical of the government? If so, who do so many papers find it cheaper to distribute the bulk of their circulation by private means? Second class rates were established by Congress as one of several lower rate classes to make it possible for the people to receive informative material under orderly and protected conditions at rates they can afford to pay. Not to subsidize anybody. The privilege is open to anyone who wishes to publish and can show that the people want his publication. It is a service, not to the newspaper or magazine, so much as to the subscriber.

"Your tax money is used to deliver a great amount of junk mail, some of it openly helps the enemy," says the sheet. Yes, and this piece, also. It took printed rates. It is a pity that the postal laws do not require an honest exposure of who and what in such cases.

I know that the candidate for county judge on the democratic ticket is an honorable man. He has a right to ask for the office he seeks, and I know he wished to win it honorably and without taint. I am certain he will make a public disavowal of any connection or any wish to profit by the contemptible tactics represented by this subterranean mailing.

There is one fact for sure, the people of the county don't want their public offices subjected to any such "morality".

Brides Parading At Majestic

Brides have their day, and Eastland moviegoers are giving an entertaining field day in the captivating dual program showing of "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" and "Father of the Bride."

"Seven Brides for Seven Brothers," a big musical romp in Cinema Scope and color, stars Jane Powell and Howard Keel, with Jeff Richards, Russ Tamblyn and Tommy Ball featured in a cast of 20 principals recruited from Hollywood, Broadway, light opera and the ballet stage.

"Father of the Bride" has Spencer Tracy as the father, Elizabeth Taylor as the bride, Joan Bennett as her mother, and Don Taylor as the bridegroom, with other leading roles played by Billie Burke, Lea G. Carroll and Russ Tamblyn in a comedy as heart-warming as it is laugh-inducing.

"Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" unfolds the story of a family of brothers in the Oregon backwoods country of the 1850's who carry off the prettiest girls in the neighborhood to make them their brides — with uproarious results.

Christian Science

An assuring message about immortality will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in a Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Probation After Death."

Opening the Responsive Reading will be these verses from the Bible (John 14): "Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also."

One of the citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (p. 487): "The understanding that life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality."

CINNAMON BUTTERMILK COFFEE CAKE

Buttered square pan, 9-inch
Preheated 325 degree oven
2 cups sifted flour
2 cups firmly packed brown sugar
1/2 cup (- stick) butter
1 egg
1 cup buttermilk
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/3 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Mix flour and brown sugar. Cut butter in until the mixture resembles coarse meal. Set aside three-fourths cup of this mixture to be used for topping. To remaining flour mixture, add egg, buttermilk, baking soda, cinnamon and the one-third cup sifted flour. Mix only until dry ingredients are well moistened. Pour into buttered pan. Mix sugar mixture that was set aside and chopped nuts; sprinkle over the top. Bake 50-60 minutes. Let cool in pan and cut in rectangles about 1 1/2 by 3 inches.

Try this tip and make it easier for yourself: If brown sugar is lumpy, press through coarse sieve or heat in slow oven or crush lumps with rolling pin. Measure it just before you use it.

To go along with the cooler weather we have been having, people have been making waffles, either for breakfast, lunch or supper. They are good anytime. Here are some P's and Q's that might help you in using your waffle baker: The majority of waffle bakers require no greasing. The waffle baker should be preheating while you are mixing the batter. If the waffle baker has no automatic heat control, test by sprinkling a few drops of water on the grids. It is ready for use if water "dances" before evaporating.

Pour batter quickly over the grids. Start from center and work out to the sides. Do not keep open longer than necessary. When steaming stops or signal goes off (4-5 minutes), lift lid and gently remove waffle with fork. After baking, allow waffle baker to cool with lid up.

DALLAS TIMES
HERALD, Oct. 7, 1962

"John Connally continues to emphasize the vast importance of improving education, bringing new industries to the state, and telling the story of Texas to the millions of outsiders who would visit us if we would only go about the business of tourism seriously . . ."

"These are proposals of Mr. Connally and the Democratic Party of Texas that would, if implemented, prove of inestimable value of people in every walk of life. No one could lose. We need a governor who is "For" things, for things that will do the most for the people of Texas. Mr. Connally would be that kind."

BEAUMONT ENTERPRISE, Oct. 3, 1962

"We feel that the people of Texas would serve themselves better to put into the governor's chair a man who has established that he can work effectively with groups of varying shades of political philosophy, which indicates he can maintain harmonious relationship with the legislature . . ."

"This is important, because a deadlock between the chief executive and the lawmakers can result in no good purpose for the state . . . John Connally . . . has not pleased the extremists at either end of the political spectrum . . . this is an evidence of sound leadership. We believe he is a man of moderation and good will, a man possessed with a keen mind, strong character and an ability to get things done. He can lead Texas in an era of progress with less turmoil. The state can use this."

SAN ANGELO STANDARD - TIMES, Oct. 5, 1962

"It was like a breath of fresh air to hear John Connally lay it on the line . . . professional politicians perked up their ears when Connally made the flat statement that if he is elected governor of the state, the decisions will be his and his alone without fear or favor and only in the interest of the people of Texas as a whole . . . Texas with all its problems could have no better leader during these trying times."

TEMPLE DAILY TELEGRAM, Oct. 3, 1962

"Connally is getting stronger for one other reason . . . Texas won't buy the Republican package this year because it is too filled with venom and hate. Many of those supporting the Republican nominee, a Democrat two years ago and perhaps destined to belong to some other party two years hence, are downright vicious in their attacks . . . John Connally is conducting himself with dignity worthy of a candidate for governor . . . it is one thing to furnish opposition . . . but quite another to pour the personal venom along the trail by the barrel. The Baytown Sun urges East Harris County Democrats to leave personal differences at the door of the ballot booth and to support the ticket John Connolly heads."

BAYTOWN SUN, Sept. 30, 1962

"We were in Quanah last Saturday to meet and hear Connally talk. We also heard Jack Cox . . . we were already sold on Connally, but had an opportunity to compare him with the Republican nominee . . . we came home convinced our choice was good and sound . . . Cox dwelt on the need for a two party system in Texas . . . if Mr. Cox doesn't know we already have the two-party system in Texas he isn't qualified for the office he seeks. Isn't he the candidate of the second party?"

"There has always been a two-party system in Texas . . . on very few occasions have the Republicans offered a candidate or a platform that won the votes of Texas . . . what Cox was really saying was . . . if this gimmick of a two party state will get votes, I'll use it." The Reporter endorses Connally because we think he is best for Texas. We like his middle of the road position. He recognizes both liberals and conservatives have rights and are a part of our state."
