Grass Termed Basic Need Of Cattlemen

"The basic need of cattlemen in this area is grass—an abundance of grass, both as feed for our livestock and as cover for our land," a Soil Conservation worker in Eastland said Saturday.

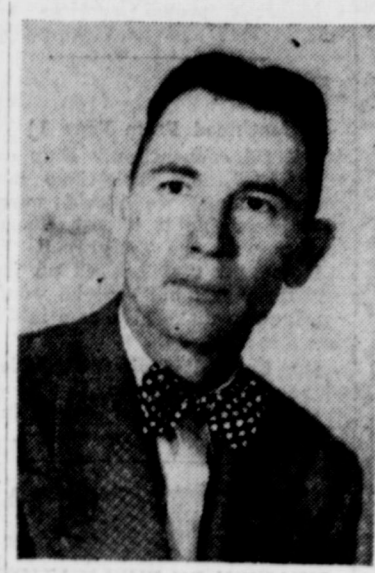

"Much of our range in both the Upper Leon and in the Palo Pinto Soil Conservation Districts is almost bare," he said. Only a small portion has sufficient cover to retain our winter moisture for next summer's grass growth.

As a result cattlemen in this area are faced with certain hazards which must be considered in planning their operations for 1955.

Some of these are:

1. Erosion or soil loss: Studies in conservation reveal that as much as 30 tons of top soil per acre can be lost from an intensive two inch rain when the range is in a poor condition. Only 2000 pounds of grass litter per acre will reduce this loss by about 90 percent.
2. Run-off water loss: Range land with poor cover seldom has the physical structure of soil necessary for absorbing much water in short periods of intensive rain. Poor range normally has a water intake rate of one inch of rain per hour—and often even less when badly eroded. Excellent range with its deep rooted grasses normally has a water intake rate of 10-12 inches per hour. Since we have so much range in poor condition we lose tremendous amounts of water down stream after every intense rain. This annual loss of water represents an enormous potential of grass growing wealth, which could be captured by covering our land with a litter of grass.
3. Flood hazard is another danger which must be faced by farmers and ranchers. With range conditions at their lowest point in history intense rains as have been recorded could bring floods the like of which have never been observed.

Because of these and other hazards every owner and operator of range land should use all range management practices which will help to cover our land with a protective cover of grass. Many livestock men have recognized these hazards and plan to rest their ranges through the spring and summer growing season, in hopes that their better native grasses may grow strong again and cover the soil with a mat of litter.

Dick Announces Sale Of Paper To Casebolts

"I want to recommend Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Casebolt to the citizens of Eastland and Eastland County," O. H. Dick, co-publisher of the Eastland Telegram and Ranger Times for the past seven years said Saturday when announcing the sale of his interests in the papers to the Casebolts.

Dick, who has been co-publisher of the two papers since May 15, 1947, termed the new owners as "two outstanding journalists."

When Dick and Joe Dennis acquired the Telegram and Times in 1947, the Telegram published only once weekly. The Telegram now publishes three days weekly and has one of the largest circulations in the county.

During the seven years Dick has been associated with the paper, he gained control of the Eastland County Record, combining the circulation of the two papers.

Rhodes Names Captains For 'Army' Fund Drive

Five Eastland business and professional men, and two women were named captains of the Salvation Army Campaign here Saturday by Gene Rhodes, fund drive chairman.

Captains will be John Goode, Dr. F. H. Lund, Virgil E. Moore, Frank Sayre, Wayne Jackson, Mrs. Claude Bell and Mrs. Howard Brock. Rhodes said each captain would have a team of four workers.

The annual campaign is conducted to raise funds for both the Eastland program and State services of the Army, Rhodes said. The local committee can use any of the state services at anytime without cost to the local committee, he explained. Aiding Rhodes in the drive is Jack Sharkey, a Salvation Army field director.

All of the State services are partly supported by the 120 Service Units now operating throughout the state. This gives the local committee the opportunity to aid a greater number of people who are in need of specialized assistance that cannot be supplied locally by the volunteer workers who serve on the local committee, Sharkey pointed out.

Rhodes said, "During the past year your committee provided emergency relief to some 300 people right here in Eastland. This included aid to both transients and local cases.

"The Committee here follows the general policy of the Salvation Army and provides assistance at the point of need. There is no race, no color or creed. There is no red tape, no waiting period for investigation. If people are hungry they are given food. If they have no place to stay, they are provided lodging. If they need clothing, they are clothed. If children need special foods, or glasses or dental work, they receive the help they need. Your committee attempts to fill a gap in Eastland's welfare program. They simply help people who need help."

Hubert Westfall, local chairman, said, "I do not know of one single case that we have refused to aid. We give the aid that is needed when it is needed."

State services that can be used for local need by the committee include the home for unmarried mothers in San Antonio; the Men's Service centers, where furniture and clothing can be secured; the prison parole system; and the Lone Star Salvation Army Summer Camp for boys.

"The Eastland committee serves without compensation of any kind other than the inner feeling

Casebolts Buy Half Interest In Paper

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd W. Casebolt of Ennis have bought half interest in The Times Publishing Co., publisher of the Eastland Telegram and the Ranger Times, from Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Dick of Eastland. Owners of the other half interest are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dennis of Ranger.

The Casebolts will actively operate the Eastland property as editors and publishers, and the Dennises, as in the past, will have charge of the Ranger property. The Dicks plan to rest a while and then enter another type of business.

Mr. and Mrs. Casebolt, who are moving to Eastland this weekend, have had many years' experience in the newspaper profession. Mr. Casebolt was editor and general manager of The Waxahachie Daily Light and three allied weeklies for 17 years, later headed the Department of Journalism at Sam Houston State Teachers' College in Huntsville, and was editor of The Ennis Daily News the past seven years. Mrs. Casebolt has held editorial positions with the Waxahachie and Ennis papers and, also, The Item at Huntsville.

Both are college trained in their profession. Mr. Casebolt is a graduate of the University of Missouri School of Journalism, where he was a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity and Sigma Delta Chi. Mrs. Casebolt who was associate editor of the Waxahachie Daily Light several years, was staff writer and society editor of the Ennis Daily News and Huntsville Item. She studied journalism at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, and attended Trinity University, West Texas State Teachers College and Howard Payne College. She will write the Woman's Department of the Telegram, as on other papers where she has worked.

The Casebolts have been active in community life wherever they have lived. Mrs. Casebolt is well-known in club circles. At Waxahachie she was president of the City Federation of Women's Clubs and the Garden Club and was president-elect of the Shakespeare Club at the time they moved to Ennis, where she also was active in club work. For a number of years she was a board member of Second District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Prior to engaging in newspapering, she conducted a speech studio, having been graduated from Mrs. Harry Fugate's Private School of Speech. Both Mr. and Mrs. Casebolt are press photographers. For two years she published her own slick paper magazine.

Eastland Bank Loses Two Of Their Employees

Two employees of the Eastland National Bank will terminate their services with the bank this month, it was announced Saturday by President H. T. Wilson.

Wilson announced that Jack Pylon, assistant cashier at the bank, and Mrs. Marie Cox, assistant secretary, have both resigned their positions.

Pylon has accepted a position with the Comptroller of Currency, Federal Treasury Dept., as assistant bank examiner, Wilson said. He had been with the bank five months since his discharge from the Army, and had been with the Eastland National for five months before his induction into the service.

"We regret that we must lose the services of Mrs. Pylon," Wilson said, "but we are pleased to see him make the advancement."

Wilson also voiced the bank's regrets at losing the services of Mrs. Cox, who has been with the bank for six and a half years.

Mrs. Cox's husband has accepted a position with the Magnolia Petroleum Co. in Midland, and she will join him there.

Wilson said replacements for both Pylon and Mrs. Cox would be announced in the near future.

THE BAD—Overgrazed range without a protective grass cover retains only a small portion of intense rainfall and loses valuable topsoil in run-off. This condition is most common following severe drouth, when range plants do not have sufficient vigor to grow a protective cover.

Meeting Monday To Study 'Y' Movement

Representatives of the city, the Civic League, the Chamber of Commerce and most other civic clubs and organizations in the city will meet Monday night at 7:30 at the Women's Club to decide whether or not to organize a Y.M.C.A. movement in Eastland.

Mrs. Horace Horton, president of the Civic League, which is spearheading the youth movement here, said that Col. Dan Pitt Jr., area executive for the Southwest, would be present to explain the "Y" program. With Pitt will be another YMCA leader.

Mrs. Horton said plans call for setting up a year-around program with special emphasis on the summer months. She said it was hoped that a full-time recreation director could be hired for the summer months. A swimming program is already assured, with Mrs. Tom Lovelace Jr. in charge.

Mrs. Horton said the typical program of the YMCA for boys and girls of all ages is built on and around small organized clubs and groups. This is particularly true in the YMCA with limited or no building facilities of its own, she explained.

She said many Associations limit their youth program to Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y, which has become the basic and traditional program of the Association in hundreds of rural communities.

Mrs. Horton urged all persons interested in the "Y" movement to attend.

'Pay By Mail' Poll Tax Plan Announced

Poll tax payments in Eastland County continue to lag far behind, Tax Assessor - Collector Stanley Webb said Saturday. Webb said that approximately 1,400 Eastland Countians have paid their tax so far.

He reminded voters that the deadline for paying poll taxes is Jan. 31. Webb also announced that he would accept application for poll tax or certificate of exemption by mail. The Telegram, in cooperation with Webb, will run a form in today's edition that, when properly filled out and mailed to the Tax Assessor - Collector's office with $1.75, will gain a poll tax for Eastland Countians. Webb said his office would even pay the cost of return postage, giving tax payers every break.

The Tax Collector pointed out that persons 60 years of age before Jan. 1, 1954, or 21 years of age after Jan. 1, 1954, are eligible for exemption. If a voter will become 21 years of age 30 days prior to an election he is also eligible for an exemption. No fee is required for exemption. Exemption certificates are required to be renewed each year, however. Over-age exemptions are not required of residents of communities smaller than 10,000 population. Twenty-one-year-olds are required to obtain exemptions regardless of where they live, however.

Christian Science

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read Sunday in Christian Science churches. The Golden Text is from Psalms: "God shall send forth his mercy and his truth" (57:3).

Biblical selections and passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, which make up the Lesson-Sermon, will emphasize that Truth is God, and can be discerned only through a spiritual understanding of God which comes through prayer and gratitude.

"I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men. For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour; who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth." This passage from I Timothy 2 (1, 3, 4) and the following from the Christian Science textbook will be included in the Lesson for this week:

"The true understanding of God is spiritual. It robs the grave of victory. It destroys the false evidence that misleads thought and points to other gods, or other so-called powers, such as matter, disease, sin and death, superior or contrary to the one Spirit.

"Truth, spiritually discerned, is scientifically understood" (page 275).

A Tribute To Our Ministers

Each Sunday and oftentimes throughout the week, the ministers of your church lifts his head in prayer and envisions the heaven of your faith. He is a patient man. He is an understanding man. He's there, your loyal friend, in sickness, sorrow. He officiates at weddings and visits the homes of his parishioners. Yet with all his biblical knowledge and his interest in his sermons, he is a man. A fine man. And he should be treated as a friend and companion, not merely as a cleric. Your minister and his church deserve all the support you can give them. Attend services regularly and be generous with your contributions.

What's Ahead for the New Year—

... is the 64 dollar question. Locally, we are plagued with problems of crop failures, readjustments in industry and an ever increasing shrinkage in buying power. Nationally, it may be more uncertainty and propaganda. On the brighter side people seem to be more concerned about what ails them. When we reach the point of concern—or alarm—we usually wake up and do something. So whatever problems may lie ahead let's keep the home fires burning. Keep adequately insured in 1955 and play safe by buying only old line insurance.
