Top Court Denies Writ For Curry

The Texas Supreme Court has denied an application for permission to file a writ of mandamus, which sought to free Natha Curry, 17, of Cisco from the State School for Boys at Gatesville, a clerk for the court reported Tuesday.

Curry was sent to the state school in July, 1961, for burglary in connection with the murder of Mrs. Florence Hussey in Cisco.

His defense attorney, John J. Watts of Odessa, filed the application after County Judge B. M. Bennett declined last Thursday to rule on a petition filed in his Eastland County Juvenile Court asking that Curry be restored to custody of his parents.

In the mandamus action filed against Judge Bennett, the document asked that Curry be dismissed from school or that the high court require the county court to hold a new hearing on Thursday's petition, and that County Attorney Earl Connor be required to file a statement of facts in the case.

State to Get Some $5000 In Escheat

The State will pick up almost $5,000 from this county from recent escheat legislation, and District Clerk Roy Lane has received a "pat on the back" for the manner in which he reported dormant accounts.

Present law requires that an accounting be made to the state treasurer of all monies held by courts for more than seven years.

As of Dec. 31, 1954, there was $4,727.56 being held by the 91st District Court in Eastland, according to Lane's report, which was filed at the first of this year.

An assistant attorney general called Lane this week and told him that Eastland's apparently would be among the larger accounts, and also complimented him on the manner in which the funds were reported.

A court order is expected soon, ordering that the funds be paid to the state treasurer.

The district clerk will also begin soon to compile a report for the year 1955.

D. S. Buchanan of the Eastland Auction Co. has been invited to participate in a regional conference of livestock auction market owners and operators to be held in Cisco on Sunday, Dec. 16.

The important meeting of marketmen within a 100-mile radius of Cisco is being sponsored by Texas Livestock Auction Assn. The business session will follow a noon luncheon to be held at the Victor Hotel in Cisco.

Gorman will be hosts to the regular third Sunday singing on Dec. 16th. The singing will begin at 1:30 p. m.

Several directors and two good quartets will also be present. Everyone is invited to attend.

Eastland Girls Take Trophy In Carbon Invitational

The Eastland High School girls basketball team is starting off another winning year, after sweeping the Carbon Invitational Tournament this past weekend.

In the finals Saturday night, the Eastland sextet downed Carbon 47-29. Kay Morton and Judy Seaberry shared scoring honors with 18 each.

The boys team from Lingerville beat Olden, 40-37, to cope

SANTA CLAUS DUE HERE SATURDAY BY AIR

'NOW LET'S SEE'—Mrs. Doyle Rhodes of Eastland ponders the pattern of socks, as Mrs. M. G. Cartwright of Harelik's looks on. Most women seem to agree "Men are the hardest to buy for." But then, of course, the men have their troubles too.

Free C-C Movie Set at 9:30 a.m.

Saturday will be free movie day for the children of Eastland and surrounding area. The chamber of commerce is sponsoring the 9:30 a.m. movie at the Majestic Theater and member merchants have tickets "for the asking."

C-C President A. D. Taylor said that it is felt that offering a special attraction for the youngsters here, on Saturday morning would be a service for the parents who wait to be about their Christmas shopping here.

BULLETIN

Word has just been received here that Santa Claus will arrive in Eastland shortly after noon Saturday and will be in the downtown area throughout the afternoon.

Reports are that he will have candy for all the children, and will be prepared to receive requests for his later appearance here on Christmas Eve.

Santa's mode of transportation and exact ETA (estimated time of arrival) were unknown at press time, except that he will appear shortly after noon.

In a brief telephone interview with one of Santa's assistants it was learned that Santa is looking forward to his visit in Eastland and has expressed hope that all his little friends will be on hand to meet him.

It is understood that his arrival will be by more conventional means than was last year's when he came in a rocket ship.

'JUST RIGHT'—Mrs. Mason Altman of Abilene has just about decided on a lovely two-piece wool suit, being shown here by Mrs. Floyd Robertson of Altman's in Eastland. The cool weather this week has added zest to the steps of shoppers in our town.

'EXCELLENT' Officials View Film

Civic and school officials saw the history of Communism from the birth of Marx to the escapes through the Berlin Wall, reviewed in Eastland this week.

Viewing a special showing of the important movie, "We'll Bury You", the Eastlanders agreed that the film is "educational" but certainly not "entertaining."

The film is the result of an American G. I.'s question to himself, "Why am I in Korea?" Using rare, and heretofore, unseen film clips, and the effective use of animated still pictures, the movie tells the story of Communism from the birth of Karl Marx in Germany, through the succession of leaders down to today's Kru-shev.

Lenin, a Russian, discovered Marx doctrine, the film points out, and expounded the all-current theory of "two steps forward, and one step backward", in welding the state-ownership theory with the people of the Soviet Union after the Revolution.

The film traces the death of Czar Nicholas and the fight for control between Stalin and Trotsky after Lenin's death.

The film credits World War I as bringing Communism to Russia and World War II as forcing Communism on to China.

One viewer summed the movie up by saying that it is a stark telling of truths most Americans know, but need to be constantly reminded of.

Theater Manager Dick Dixon has announced that the film will be shown for the public beginning Sunday.

He added that he hoped as many people as possible would see the film, especially those who plan to enter the Anti-Communism essay contest being sponsored by the theater and this newspaper.

Participants are to write this statement in 200 words or less for prizes: "To help combat Communism in America, I will..."

Brucellosis Meet Set Here December 17

Plans for testing of cattle for brucellosis will be made at a mass meeting of producers, Monday, Dec. 17th, in the Eastland High School Auditorium, Ross Wilson, Gorman, president of the Eastland County Livestock Raisers Association, has announced.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m., according to Wilson, whose organization is sponsoring the movement.

Testing of cattle for the same bugs that cause undulant fever in humans is expected to get underway in the county early in 1963 it was said by Dr. J. B. Henderson of Coleman, area supervisor of the Texas Animal Health Commission. Dr. Henderson and other officials of the Animal Health Commission will explain details of the testing program at the meeting.

Wilson urged all livestock producers who can possibly do so to attend the meet.

Testing of cattle in the various communities will start in January as soon as the producers can be lined up it was explained.

Testing of cattle, in compliance with the brucellosis law has been completed in Stephens, Shackelford, Callahan, Brown, and Comanche counties. Testing crews will move directly from Comanche into Eastland County.

'SANTA IS FOR CHRISTMAS'—After all Santa comes but once a year, and when youngsters like Kevin, 3, and Keith, 7, find a likeness of that famous old gentleman, they don't mind spending some time. They're the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Miller of Ranger. They're shown here exploring the wonderland of Perry's in Eastland. (A&C Photos)

16 Degrees Wednesday; 'Slight' Warming Due

A slight warmup is expected to begin Thursday after the coldest snap of the year in this area.

Eastland County shared with the rest of the state a severe cold freeze which is blamed on cold air moving down from Canada.

Low temperature was recorded early Wednesday morning when the mercury slid to a crisp 16 degrees, Official Weather Observer James Smith reported.

The cold weather began with the week and Monday's low was 30 with a high of 59. Skidding further down Tuesday, the temperature dropped to a low of 28 and got up to a high of only 48.

High temperature expected Thursday will be between 40 and 45 degrees.

Beer Election Defeated Saturday by 198 Votes

The third election held in Ranger this year to legalize the sale of intoxicants within the city limits, was defeated by 198 votes, the most decisive defeat of the three elections. The Saturday vote was 523 to 325.

A total of 855 votes were cast, according to Calvin Brown, election judge. In the June 9 election, a total of 928 votes were cast and in the Sept. 8 election, 934 votes were cast. The first election was defeated by 76 votes and the second election by 28 votes.

Leon Leonard, chairman of the Citizens of Better Community said that he wished to thank all the voters "who helped to defeat the intrusion of alcohol into our community."

"Once again the majority of Ranger citizens have shown themselves to be opposed to beer in our city. We are grateful to their support, now we hope the others will respect the majority decision and abide by it," said Leonard.

"How much better," Leonard continued, "our community would really become if all ef-orts were aimed at something really helpful. It is our hope that all Ranger citizens will work toward this end."

Dogs Special in Season

Special care during the winter season to prevent dogs from becoming ill. Dr. C. M. Patterson, veterinarian at Texas A&M College, says that cuts and scratches on dogs can become infected if not treated and should be cleaned and bandaged. If cuts are severe, they should be sutured and treated by a veterinarian. Patterson recommends removing burrs from the dog's coat after each hunt to prevent skin irritation and pain. Dogs should be conditioned gradually at the beginning of the season because if they are allowed to run with conditioned dogs they may collapse from exhaustion, Patterson says. Dogs should be vaccinated for rabies, distemper and hepatitis to protect them from any infected dog or wild animal they may come in contact with. Unvaccinated dogs may become infected themselves and also may become transmitters of disease. The veterinarian reminds you to watch your dog and if his stamina and performance are not up to par, have him checked for heartworms or intestinal worms. Care you give your hunting dog during the season will add to his health and your enjoyment of the hunt.

Soil is earth to some and dirt to others; a nuisance to mothers and a necessity to farmers. All people have different impressions when they hear the word soil, says L. P. Pittard, extension soil and water conservation specialist at Texas A&M College. To the small child, soil is mud pies and fun; but to his mother it is the material which is tracked

Soil Is Many Things to Many People

ed on the carpet, Pittard observes. To the geologist, soil is the barrier between him and the material he is trying to study, and to the construction engineer it is sometimes a good and sometimes a bad place to build a home. To the homeowner, soil is an unmanageable mixture of clay, cement and stones on which grass will not grow and weeds will not stop, he says. To the farmer, soil is a precious mixture of mineral and organic matter, air and water on which life depends. He considers soil the medium through which he earns his living and produces food and fiber for the world, and also believes that its wise use is basic to the economy of the nation, explains the specialist. According to agronomists, work is done every year to learn more about soils and their management to contribute to a stable and permanent economy. Studies are being made of ways to use soil to the best advantage of agriculture and for other purposes. Can we use our soil wisely and make them last? This is the great challenge today, says Pittard, and the answer may determine if children have mud

Home Accident Toll Heaviest In Winter Months

The greatest number of fatal home accidents occur during the three winter months, according to Texas Safety Association records.

"Based on these records," Lone Star Gas Company Manager Gene Abbott said, "451 or 35 per cent of all home accident fatalities for the next 12 months will occur in December, January and February."

Lone Star is sponsoring a home safety program in Cisco for the second straight year. Co-sponsors are the Texas Safety Association and The Cisco Press.

"Fires and falls, in that order, will offer the greatest threats to life and limb during the winter months," Mr. Abbott said. "We must find and remove accident hazards of this type before our loved ones are injured or killed."

"Leading causes of fire deaths are smoking in bed, children playing with matches, faulty electric wiring, defective flues chimneys, and overheated equipment."

Children of less than five years of age and senior family members in the 65-and-older age bracket will be the most frequent victims of home accidents, with 286 or 63 per cent of the expected 451 fatalities in these age groups. A total of 169 of the 286 victims will be 65 or over and 117 will be less than five.

Fatalities will occur among other age groups as follows: 5-14, forty-seven; 15-24, twenty-four; 25-44, thirty-five; and 45-64, fifty-nine.

UNJUSTIFIED KID GLOVES

One of the difficult domestic problems with which the last Congress wrestled was the huge post office deficit. The result was a Postal Service Bill creating increases in various classifications of mail rates. Newspapers, for example, will pay three 10 per cent increases with the first day of the coming year.

However, Congress wore kid gloves when it came to publications of the Rural Electric Cooperatives. Formerly, according to Editor and Publisher, these publications paid a one half cent rate. The new bill gives them a special rate of about one-eighth cent per copy.

The general manager of the American Newspapers Publishers Association states that there is "no justification for this special privilege." Another comment says, "So REA groups will now be able to enjoy a financial advantage which for propagandizing against their prime target, the investor-owned private power industry. Meanwhile, the publications of the private power industry will be compelled to pay the regular rates to tell their side of the story."

There are 28 REC publications. Their circulation is about 3 million. They carry advertising. They are all actually engaged in attempting to extend the REA scheme. And no one can say the REA co-ops, or anything connected with them, are poor and struggling enterprises in need of special help. The REA movement is big business — and it is a big business conducted with government loans at below-cost interest rates, plus other special privileges, including tax advantages, which are denied to private enterprise.

The least one can ask is that the REA co-ops operate on precisely the same basis as do comparable utilities in the production and distribution of electric power. This means paying the same costs — whether those costs be taxes, interest rates on borrowed money, or the mail charges on their publications. This country's rural electrification problem, was solved long ago — more than 95 per cent of all farms are using central station power or have it available. There is no longer an excuse for giving the co-ops special privileges.

Shrinks Hemorrhoids Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dynex)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

HD Club Holds Party In Home Of Mrs. McCain

The new ranch home of Mrs. Clint McCain was decorated throughout with Christmas motifs when members of the Flatwood Home Demonstration Club met for their annual Christmas party Monday afternoon.

The covered dish luncheon was served from a table laid with green and gold net cloth and centered with white net handmade Christmas trees with gold glitter encircled with Christmas balls.

After the luncheon the group passed for a silent moment of sweet thoughts for their late club mother, Mrs. Annie Palmer.

Mrs. Balah Turner was elected as the new club mother. Mrs. Turner, president, presided over a short business meeting followed by recreation of Christmas songs and "Texas Jokes".

"Santa Claus" was played by Mrs. Zelma Lusk who distributed the gifts from the decorated Christmas tree. Mrs. Dere Sherrill was "Santa's" helper. After looking, talking "ooing and aahing" over the gifts the club adjourned to meet Thursday, Jan. 3rd, with Mrs. J. Massengale.

K. B. Tanner Called 'Do-Gooder' In Star-Telegram Interview

(Editor's Note: The following article was written by E. D. Alexander for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram last Sunday).

Kenneth Boyd Tanner of Eastland is a man of compassion — the last man in the world you would pick to lead a revolution.

All his life he has been a "do-gooder," and for 13 years during revolutionary times, he suffered with the Mexican peons, dodged bandits' bullets, fed the hungry, doctored the sick.

And, as his late wife once said, if a job without pay is offered, Tanner managed to be the recipient.

Tanner's latest "acceptance" was of the temporary post as city manager of Eastland, a job he once held for four years and resumed a few weeks ago until a permanent manager can be chosen.

To say that Tanner is not the revolutionary type is putting it mildly. He wouldn't harm a flea on the back of Chacho, the fox terrier dog that adopted him two years ago. Chacho (a contraction of muchacho, meaning boy, in Spanish) is Tanner's shadow, his constant companion at home and in the manager's office.

Despite all the build-up for this kindly senior citizen, now 79, it is surprising to note what happened to Tanner in Mexico during the revolutions more than 40 years ago.

Tanner had been sent down to manage a 13,000-acre sugar plantation, owned by an American corporation and located about 100 miles west of Tampico.

There was a great commotion in the patio of the hacienda one night in April 1914. Tanner, known as El Senor, was sleeping soundly as the clock struck midnight. Then came a loud rapping at his bedroom door.

The house mozo (boy) had awakened his master to report that a large group of soldiers wanted to see him.

For a moment, Tanner was horror-stricken. He had visions of a bandit raid, and rightly so, because those were perilous times in Mexico.

He knew that trouble had been brewing between the United States and General Huerta, president of Mexico, who had overthrown Francisco Madero in a revolution.

During those hectic days, banditry was rampant. A detachment of 25 soldiers, under command of a first lieutenant, had been stationed at Tamposo to guard the railroad that connected the plantation with Tampico.

Tanner had made friends with the soldiers, who called often at the hacienda for quinine to fight off malaria. A friendship developed between Tanner and the lieutenant, who was presented with a sword. That made the two "Blood brothers" in the thinking of the Mexican.

Could the soldiers have honest intentions, calling at midnight? Tanner wondered as he went to the door, where he encountered an army major. The major wanted to speak privately with me.

Tanner recalled last week in Eastland. "I got down a bottle of brandy and took the major to the dining room."

After the niceties of the night were exchanged, the major went straight to the point, reminding Tanner of his conversation a week before with the lieutenant.

Sure, Tanner remembered the conversation, but he was surprised to learn the major had heard about it.

Tanner chuckled last week as he explained, "I jokingly told the lieutenant I thought I would start a revolution of my own because the revolutionists seemed to live off the fat of the land while the generals got rich."

The suspense grew and Tanner's eyes popped as the major solemnly reported he had talked with the general about Tanner's wish to lead a revolution.

"There are 5,000 soldiers out in the patio," the major said dramatically. "They are now at your command because the general has accepted your offer to lead the insurrection."

Tanner was shocked. "knocked for a loop," he said.

It took Tanner a long time to squirm out of the deal. But the major and Tanner parted good friends after the liquor level had dropped in the bottle.

Tanner now lives with his memories in a comfortable adobe brick and stucco home all alone except for his shadow, Chacho, who bobbed up two years ago at the home and refused to leave. At that time, Tanner scoured the town until he found Chacho's owner, who in turn gave the dog to Tanner.

A complete story of Tanner's life would read like fiction, yet it has been said that truth is stranger than fiction. He was a rolling stone before he settled in Eastland about 1926.

Tanner "almost" became a physician in his youth but he got about as close to an M.D. degree as he got to leading a revolution.

He was born in Kaukauna, Wis., July 20, 1883, the son of a doctor. He was graduated from high school in 1900 and enrolled as a pre-med student at the University of Wisconsin, where he received his B. A. degree in 1904. Then Tanner received a scholarship at the Wisconsin College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Tanner had been in the medical college for two weeks when the dean asked him to lecture and conduct quizzes in histology. A few weeks later he was asked to take over the department.

Soon thereafter, he got into what he called a "row" with the anatomy department and said to the dean, "good gosh, Dean, I don't think much of your college when you offer me a professorship!"

"You can see, I am a garrulous old buzzard," said Tanner as he laughed over his decision to quit medical school.

Quit the college he did, and he went off to Mexico to hunt on a sugar plantation, of which his father was president. He had been in Mexico for a month when the man in charge told Tanner he was quitting.

"I got a wire telling me to come home immediately," Tanner said. "Then I was sent back to run the plantation until a new manager could be found."

As it worked out, Tanner stayed on for 13 years, becoming assistant to the manager.

On one occasion during the revolution, Tanner went to Mexico City to get $5,000 to meet a plantation payroll. After a visit with his family in Mexico City he started for the ranch with 10 bags filled with half pesos. He finally made it safely by train, ship and mule-back. But he had a scare one night when the mule train was stopped by Mexican horsemen. One asked, "What are you doing out at night?"

Tanner gave the plain truth. He was taking $5,000 to Tamposo to meet a payroll. The horsemen formed a body-guard for the rest of the trip.

Although he never got a license to practice, Tanner was a medico in Mexico. He fought in battles against malaria and dysentery, and he bandaged the wounds of the soldiers injured in battle. He fed the poor — children and adult — who were starving.

"You know there is a motto in Mexico that says, 'In the land of the blind, a man with one eye is king.'" (Tanner had lost sight in one eye and that made him king among the Mexicans.)

Out of Mexico in 1915, Tanner rejoined his family in San Antonio, enlisted in the field artillery, went to officer candidate school and was commissioned in the Reserve after the close of World War I.

After a siege of pneumonia in the Army, Tanner developed tuberculosis. He recuperated for a while in bed, then went with his father to Ranger during the oil boom in 1919.

Soon thereafter, Tanner settled in Eastland but continued as a rolling stone, from one job to another. He ran a store that catered to Mexicans, then opened a rock quarry.

In 1921 Tanner returned to Mexico to salvage and develop 2,000 acres he owned 60 miles off a railroad. He awakened one morning to find that the poor farmers and ranchers had taken over his property. They had heard they were entitled to the land under the agrarian movement then in full swing.

Tanner went to the nearest town, complained to a judge, who sent a colonel and 75 soldiers to round up the agrarians.

"The colonel," said Tanner, "rounded up about 50 of those poor people against a wall. Then the colonel turned to me and asked, 'Shall we shoot them?'"

Tanner answered with a loud "no."

In 1923, Tanner, having lost everything in Mexico, returned to Eastland, became sales manager for a gasoline corporation for 10 years. From 1933 until 1945 he was in the insurance business, despite the fact he knew nothing about it.

In 1943, Victor Cornelius was elected city commissioner and asked Tanner to be city manager. Grudgingly, he took the job, which he didn't know anything about, and held it for four years until he retired in 1947 because of illness.

Then he was parole officer for the state in Eastland County for two years.

With time on his hands, Tanner has conducted classes in Spanish at his home for five years. Most pupils are women who learn quickly how to say "hasta la vista", "buenos dias" and conversational Spanish. There is no charge for the instruction. Recently, when the city

Rev. Fisher Tells Rotarians Meaning of Christmas

The Rev. Bill Fisher, pastor of the First Methodist Church, spoke on the meaning of Christmas for the Eastland Rotary Club Monday.

Commenting on the present Christmas lights that adorn the city's downtown area, Rev. Fisher said, "We need more. We need them from one end of Main St. to the other, and all manager quit, Tanner accepted the job under protest until a successor is found. Again it is a moot question whether he is working for pay or for free.

Tanner has two brothers, H. J. Tanner, retired manager of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce, and H. F. Tanner of Fort Worth, a retired engineer. His only daughter, Dolores Tanner, is associate professor of Drama at TCU. His two sons were lost in World War II.

Fertilizer Pays Farmer-Rancher

Thousands of demonstrations have proved that money spent on fertilizing crop land is returned with dividends. Reports indicate that more farmers in many counties are applying it this fall than ever before.
A report from D. F. Bredthauer, county agriculture agent of Refugio county, shows the results farmers are getting from fertilizer.
Lloyd Jones of Austwell reports that he received a $10.83 return for each dollar spent on fertilizing this year's cotton crop. He planted 50 acres of Stoneville 213, March 7 and harvested 797 pounds of lint per acre in August. The field was fertilized with 240 pounds of 20-20-0 placed in the rows and rebanded.
Jones says he received similar results with the use of 44 pounds of anhydrous ammonia applied as a sidedress to 49 acres of Coastal milo which had received 42 pounds of superphosphate the previous year. The milo averaged 3,775 pounds of grain per acre compared to 2,600 pounds on a check field that received no fertilizer. Figuring the grain at $1.83 cwt., this return per dollar spent was $8.77.

Texas farmers, business and civic and industrial leaders are aware of benefits derived from the use of fertilizer and are pushing programs aimed at increasing the net returns from farming and ranching, the county agent said.

CHEVROLET... on the road every day!

ITS RELIABILITY COMES FROM ITS QUALITY

A nutshell description of Chevrolet trucks could be "Trucks That Work". It's not exactly earthshaking but it says a mouthful. It's what Chevrolet trucks are best known for—their reliability. Ready to work, day after day, whenever you are.

You can't build trucks that perform like this if you don't put quality into engine, chassis and body. Chevrolet does: double-wall construction, insulated cab, select-wood body floor, chassis supported tailgate, ladder-type frame, the care and attention to upholstery and finish. It's this kind of quality that makes any Chevrolet truck—from pickup to heavyweight tandem—worth more than the average at trade-in!

2 NEW 6-CYLINDER ENGINES

New High Torque 230-cu.-in. Six is more powerful than its predecessor. Standard in Series C10 through C50.

New High Torque 262-cu.-in. Six—most powerful truck 6-Chevrolet has ever built! Standard in Series C60.
