War Labor Board Rejects Pay Demands Of Miners

Contract With Illinois Mines Is Disapproved

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—The War Labor Board has rejected John L. Lewis' bid for portal-to-portal pay for his United Mine Workers.

The board voted 8 to 4 against approving a provision in a contract between the UMW and the Illinois Coal Operators association whereby the miners would receive $1.25 a day additional to cover their underground travel time.

WLB sources said the board made the decision yesterday. It approved other provisions of the contract, including one which permits payment of time and half for the eighth hour in any day.

This excluded travel time. The board voted on a motion offered by Matthew Woll, AFL member, who is preparing a minority opinion.

The Illinois agreement was the occasion for Lewis' recognition of the WLB, after a period in which he ignored and defied it.

The Illinois coal operators, in announcing the agreement with the miners, said they had concluded that, in view of the mounting hostility and a threat of impending suit by the miners over portal-to-portal pay, "an attempt to make a compromise settlement should be made."

In its first decision on portal-to-portal pay several months ago, the board turned down a proposal of $1.30 a day. In that case the board said that if the miners felt they had a case under the wage-hour law they had a right to sue in the federal courts.

Father Speaker For Son's Class

Robert R. Boswell, father of Cadet Bill Boswell, will speak to his son's class, Class 43-12, in graduation exercises Thursday morning from the Big Spring Bombarrier school post theatre at 9:30 o'clock.

The speaker, who is a native Kentuckian, has lived in Kansas City, Mo., for the past 11 years where he is connected with the First National bank.

Boswell is a veteran of World War I where he enlisted in the marines and served under the late Col. Henry L. Roosevelt and was commissioned as second lieutenant near the end of the war.

Mr. and Mrs. Boswell have three sons and a daughter and all their sons are in the service. Bill, who will become a lieutenant bombardier Thursday, Tom, 21, cadet midshipman with the merchant marine in the southwest Pacific, and Marion, 20, in primary training at the Thunderbird school, Phoenix, Ariz.

The guest speaker will also talk Thursday noon at the Kiwanis club luncheon before returning to Kansas City.

Gen. M'Arthur Reports Progress On Pacific Front

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Aug. 25 (AP)—The thunder of New Georgia jungle on Japanese making a last stand at Bairoko and from New Guinea mountain ridges on other Japanese in a last stand at Salamaua, accentuated the fact today that the offensive remains firmly in Allied hands.

As the drive neared the end of the second month, a spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported progress today on both flanks of the 750-mile-long battle arc.

On New Georgia, American jungle troops who captured the Munda airfield Aug. 5 have succeeded in pushing through harassing enemy patrols barring the way to Bairoko, 12 miles north, and have brought up artillery to blast away at the Japanese garrison holding that Kula Gulf harbor.

On New Guinea, where Allied troops have the Salamaua airfield almost within their grasp, Australian troops advanced north of the Francisco river, while mountain artillery behind them shelled the defenders.

These troops crossed the river Monday at a point only two miles west of the air strip.

The latest successes on New Georgia do not represent, however, the point of deepest penetration in the Solomons. Above there, on past Japanese-held Kolombangara Island, American forces are consolidating positions occupied Aug. 15 on Vella Lavella in the face of enemy opposition.

Today's communique reported an attempt by two formations of Japanese fighter planes to raid the American positions. United States fighters broke up the attempt, shooting down nine of the raiders and damaging two others.

Coffee Resigns From Ration Price Panel

Resignation of Thomas J. Coffee from the local ration board price panel was set to the district office at Lubbock, B. F. Robbins, chairman, said Wednesday, for approval of J. B. Mooney, district price officer.

Coffee stated in his resignation that he was unable to give sufficient time to the work and asked to be relieved of his duties.

Also sent to Mooney for his approval was the appointment of Mrs. J. R. Manion as price panel chairman to replace Coffee. She is already a member of the panel. The panel would be composed of Mrs. Manion, E. L. Deason, Rube S. Martin and Fred Roman of Knott, according to recommendations of the local ration office if the membership is approved by Mooney.

LONDON, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Red army continued today to hammer away at the off-balance Germans retreating from Kharkov, and a Soviet communique announced new successes all along the line as the Russian forces drove toward Poltava, 75 miles to the southwest and little more than halfway to the Nazis' Dnieper river defense line.

The war bulletin—broadcast from Moscow—said the Nazis, exhausted by the battle for Kharkov, were rushing reserves into the line but in spite of this the Red army advanced both south and west of the city, killing 2,900 Germans and disabling 25 tanks in sharp fighting. Northwest of the city other units of the Russian army captured several villages.

The communique indicated that the German retreat from Kharkov was reaching the proportions of a rout with the Nazi troops abandoning considerable stocks of war material and armored equipment.

The Kharkov area continued to be the focal point of the Russian advance. The fall of the city gave the Soviets several objectives to aim at, but the most likely choice was Poltava with Kiev, Ukrainian capital 250 miles to the west of the Dnieper, as the big goal of the summer offensive.

In the Donets basin, southwest of Voroshilovgrad, where the Russians previously reported they had breached the Nazi lines, the Red army broke up German counter attacks, inflicted heavy losses and captured several towns, the Soviet communique declared.

Heavy fighting was reported south of Izum, where 1,000 Germans said to have been killed.

On the Leningrad front Russian troops were said to have killed about 400 Germans in local actions while heavy artillery pounded Nazi positions.

Assault Case Nears Jury

OLTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—A district court jury is expected to receive today the case of Dr. W. R. Newton, charged with assault to murder Dr. Roy Hunt, a physician and hospital owner of Littlefield.

Dr. Hunt was wounded by gunfire on a lonely roadside shortly after midnight of May 20, 1942. Mrs. Newton, co-charged with her husband, obtained a severance and her trial is set for Thursday.

Witnesses testified that Mrs. Newton was seen in a Littlefield filling station at midnight May 20, and that a woman left the station, got into a car with a man and drove off. Fifteen minutes later Dr. Hunt was shot two miles away.

Dr. Hunt testified Monday that he was shot when he got out of his car beside another he had been told on the telephone to meet there. He said he knew of no motive for the shooting.

State witnesses testified they were in Dr. Hunt's home when he received the call and were told by him the party was a woman.

United Nations Cooperation Is GOP Suggestion

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Clarence Budington Kelland presented to the republican party today a post-war foreign policy based on "United Nations" collaboration, but added that the United States regardless must ring itself with such a defense that "no nation, no coalition of nations, shall be able to penetrate our fortifications or reach our shores."

Kelland, author, executive director of the republican national committee and republican national committeeman from Arizona, conceded that the collaboration program he proposed might fail, leaving this nation alone to face a hostile world, and declared: "Come wars of peace, come upheaval or revolution, come whirlwind or convulsion, come hell or high water, the United States of America must and shall be made impregnable."

Brittie Cox On State Board Of Chiropractors

Dr. Brittie S. Cox, Big Spring, Tuesday was announced by Governor Coke Stevenson as a member of the state's first board of chiropractic examiners.

He was named as a member of the nine-man board provided for in a law passed at the last regular session of the legislature.

Dr. Cox, although not a native of Big Spring, has been residing in and near the city since his family came here in 1907 from Rannels county, where he was born. He entered practice here first in February of 1927.

His appointment, for two years, was announced by the governor along with these (with length of terms):

Drs. M. M. Mihovil of Galveston; Paul L. Meyers of Wichita Falls and Dr. M. B. McCoy of Paris (six year terms); C. C. Phillips of Mission, J. Stanley Wright of Austin and L. Wells McClen-don of Childress (four year terms); Brittie S. Cox of Big Spring; Walter D. Arnold of Hillsboro and Charles C. Lemly of Waco (two year terms).

RAF Mosquitoes Sting At Berlin

LONDON, Aug. 25 (AP)—RAF Mosquito bombers stabbed at targets in Berlin last night on the heels of a saturation assault by a fleet of heavy bombers Monday night, the air ministry announced today.

None of the fast wooden bombers was lost as they put Berlin under air raid for the second successive night. Other planes laid mines in German waters.

The Nazis acknowledged "nuisance raids" on the capital. Radio France quoted the German underground station "Atlantic" as saying that at least 73,000 Berlin residents were homeless as a result of Monday night's attack.

American Flying Fortresses which rained destruction upon Regensburg Aug. 17 and continued on across the Alps to air bases in North Africa completed the Homeward leg of the trip yesterday, losing their cargoes of bombs en route upon an aircraft plant in Bordeaux, France.

Coinciding with the attack on Bordeaux other formations of Flying Fortresses bombed three Nazi airfields in France. A total of 15 enemy planes was shot down by the fortresses and Allied fighters during these combined operations, a communique said. Four of the American bombers were listed as lost.

'Son Of Heaven's' Mind Not At Ease

By The Associated Press The Tokyo radio, declaring that Emperor Hirohito is deeply concerned over Japanese war production, appealed to the Japanese people today to "set the mind of the emperor at ease" by exerting new efforts to boost production, the Office of War Information reported.

The appeals, the OWI said, were made in broadcasts describing a series of audiences to which the emperor summoned leaders of various industries to discuss "increased production for the elevation of fighting strength."

No Opposition For Allied Planes In New Italy Raids

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 25 (AP)—Allied air squadrons—significant meeting no opposition from axis fighters—hammered communications in southern Italy again yesterday, including a block-buster assault near Naples last night, and left an Italian cruiser afire off the south coast, headquarters announced today.

Deadly U.S. A-36 dive-bombers rained home two hits with 500-pound bombs on the cruiser, blowing off its stern. Fires leaped from the ship as the attackers winged away.

Other A-36 invaders blasted railroad facilities at Sapri, on the Gulf of Policastro; at Castroville, in the center of southern Italy; and at Sibari, on the east coast yesterday.

RAF and HCAF Wellingtons poured two-ton block-buster bombs on steel works and railroad yards at Torre Annunziata, on the Gulf of Naples below the big port, despite heavy anti-aircraft fire.

Four Allied planes were missing from all attacks, headquarters reported.

The only opposition encountered was by a Beaufighter which blew up and sank a schooner off the Italian coast off Rome. It was jumped by two Focke Wulf-190s which opened fire and then broke off the attacks without causing damage.

The Beaufighter also left one of two barges afire. The cruiser attack was the first chance the A-36s had to employ dive-bombing tactics on a large enemy naval vessel, although the new planes—already proven to be one of the most effective attack units of the Allied air fleets—sank many smaller vessels during the battle for Sicily.

War Labor Board's Order To End Strike Meets Opposition

JOHNSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 25 (AP)—A War Labor Board order to end their two-day-old strike immediately and unconditionally met continued resistance today from workers at the Brewster Aeronautical corporation's Johnsville plant despite a WLB threat to take "all steps within its authority" to force compliance.

Repeating their demand for the release of four plant guards whose arrest by the navy precipitated the walkout, officers of United Automobile Workers Aircraft local 353 (CIO) also insisted on withdrawal of 200 armed coast guardsmen from the plant before they would offer to negotiate with the company.

Thomas De Lorenzo, local president, added that it would be "physically impossible" for the membership to act on the WLB order until tomorrow morning, when a mass meeting is scheduled.

Civilians To Get 75 Per Cent Of Nation's Food

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt advised American civilians today they have been allocated 75 per cent of the nation's food production for the current fiscal year.

In a quarterly lend-lease report to congress, the president traced current "domestic food shortages" to increased consumption by the armed forces and civilians and said they were not due to any appreciable extent to lend-lease shipments abroad.

Detailing lend-lease food news which in the case of Russia have necessitated leaving munitions at the dock to cram edibles into shipholds, the president added: "While these allocations (made by the War Food Administration) means that civilians will receive less in the current year than they had in 1942-43 they will on the average get as much food as was available annually in the years 1935-39."

BAPTIST MEN'S MEETING DUE TO DRAW 200 HERE

Around 200 persons are expected to attend the two day district 8 Baptist men's brotherhood meeting to be held at the city amphitheatre on August 31 and September 1.

The meeting will open at 7 p. m. Tuesday night and speakers will be Lawson H. Cooke, south-wide brotherhood leader, of Tennessee, R. A. Springer of Dallas, state brotherhood leader, and Judge E. S. Cummings of Abilene, state president.

Wednesday morning, Layman Wren of Snyder and Owen Taylor of Lamesa, will open up the meeting and Cooke will again speak followed by Chaplain James L. Patterson of the BSAAFBS. The meetings will adjourn at noon. Invitations have been sent to 94 churches in the district to attend the meet.

Japs Admit American Offensive Is Strong

By The Associated Press Japanese imperial headquarters admitted today in a Tokyo broadcast recorded by the Associated Press that the American offensive centering around New Georgia Island in the Solomons was continuing on a scale of considerable magnitude although it insisted all attacks were being repulsed with heavy casualties.

Several times the chief executive applied a favorite epithet—gangsters—to the axis. "We spend our energies and our resources an dthe very lives of our sons and daughters," he said, "because a band of gangsters in the community of nations declines to recognize the fundamentals of decent, human conduct."

"We have been forced to call out the sheriff's posse to break up the gang in order that gangsterism may be eliminated in the community of nations. x x x

"Every one of the United Nations believes that only a real and lasting peace can justify the sacrifices we are making, and our unanimity gives us confidence in seeking that goal."

Says Conference Information To Reach Enemy In Language Their 'Twisted Minds' Can Understand

OTTAWA, Aug. 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt told the people of Canada today that if Hitler and his generals had attended the Quebec war conference they would have realized that "surrender would pay them better now than later."

The American chief executive came here directly from the war council meetings at Quebec, which ended yesterday, to extend a virtual invitation to the enemy in Europe to lay down its arms now, in an address from the archway of the peace tower in the main parliamentary building of the dominion.

The United States chief executive talked of Canadian-American friendship and extolled the part the dominion is playing in the war. Not a hint did he drop as to the specific matters of war strategy on which he and Prime Minister Churchill of Britain had agreed upon in Quebec.

"But, in due time," he asserted, "we shall communicate the secret information of the Quebec conference to Germany, Italy and Japan. We shall communicate this information to our enemies in the only language their twisted minds seem capable of understanding."

"Sometimes I wish that that great master of intuition, the Nazi leader, could have been present in spirit at the Quebec conference—I am thoroughly glad he was not there in person. If he and his generals had known our plans they would have realized that discretion is still the better part of valor and that surrender would pay them better now than later."

The talks in Quebec, the president said dealt constructively with a determination to "achieve victory" in the shortest possible time and with "our essential cooperation with our great and brave fighting allies."

It is no secret, Mr. Roosevelt said, that there was much talk of the post-war world at Quebec, but he failed to go into any details. Dramatically, for the hundreds of thousands of Canadians of French descent, the chief executive had a closing paragraph in their own language.

"My visit to the old city of Quebec," he said, "has recalled vividly to my mind that Canada is a nation founded on the union of two great races. The harmony of their equal partnership is an example to all mankind—an example everywhere in the world."

Today, in devout gratitude, he added, the two peoples celebrate a brilliant victory won in Sicily and rejoice in the headlong retreat of the Japanese from Kiska Island, their last foothold in the new world.

Absolute victory in the war, the president predicted, will give greater opportunities to the world, since the winning of the conflict itself is proving that concerted action can accomplish things.

"I am everlastingly angry only at those who assert vociferously that the Four Freedoms and the Atlantic Charter are nonsense, because they are unattainable. If they had lived a century and a half ago they would have sneered and said that the Declaration of Independence was utter piffle."

"If they had lived nearly a thousand years ago they would have laughed uproariously at the ideals of Magna Carta. And if they had lived several thousand years ago they would have derided Moses when he came from the mountain with the Ten Commandments."

Several times the chief executive applied a favorite epithet—gangsters—to the axis.

"We spend our energies and our resources an dthe very lives of our sons and daughters," he said, "because a band of gangsters in the community of nations declines to recognize the fundamentals of decent, human conduct."

"We have been forced to call out the sheriff's posse to break up the gang in order that gangsterism may be eliminated in the community of nations. x x x

Health Unit In New Place Soon

The Big Spring, Howard County Health unit will move to new and larger quarters in the Reed Hotel building on East 2nd street on September 1, it was announced today by health unit officials.

With the approval of the city-county authorities, the venereal disease clinic and activities now carried on at the city hall, will be transferred to the new location.

Dr. W. J. Olean, director, will be assisted by V. A. Cross, sanitarian; Mrs. Robert Stripling, clinic nurse; Mrs. Ann Fisher, emergency public health nurse and Doris Satterwhite, clerk.

County Assigned Doubled Quota Of $1,791,400

Howard county faces an historic task in meeting its record quota in the third war loan drive in September.

The quota, announced Wednesday by Ted Groebel, chairman head of forces organizing for the all-out drive, is: $1,791,400.

This is, he explained, approximately two and a half times the big quota of $700,000 given the county last April in the second drive. The quota this time is confined largely to series E subscriptions and to home corporations and concerns.

"This," said Groebel, "is undoubtedly the biggest test of our patriotism and willingness to go all-out for Uncle Sam. It's a tremendous job, and it will call for tremendous effort on the part of every person in the county."

"I am confident we can make it."

Already plans are being developed by the executive committee composed of J. A. Coffey, T. S. Currie, G. C. Dunham, J. H. Greene, W. G. Hayden, G. H. Hayward, Charles Kobeg, K. H. McGibbon, J. M. Morgan, H. D. Norris, Rev. P. D. O'Brien, R. T. Piner, J. Y. Robb, C. L. Rowe, Willard Sullivan, Ira Thurman, R. L. Tollett, R. W. Whipkey, Thurman is county chairman of the war finance committee, Groebel is chairman of the third war loan drive and Carl Strom is vice-chairman.

Patterson Sees New Blows Soon

By WILLIAM F. BONI ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Aug. 25 (AP)—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson arrived at General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters today and shortly thereafter predicted that "blows of increasing strength" will not be long delayed in the war against Japan.

He said the twin Allied offensives in the Solomons and on New Guinea were playing a vital part in bringing the Japanese nearer surrender.

In a statement Patterson noted that the United States was producing more than 7,000 planes a month. And he pointed out that "growing striking power" was being sent to the Southwest Pacific war zone.

The undersecretary of war was accompanied by Lt. Gen. William S. Knudsen, army war production advisor, and high ranking general staff and service of supply officers of the army.

They were to inspect Allied bases in the southwest Pacific.

Heavy Bombers In New Burma Attack

NEW DELHI, Aug. 25 (AP)—American heavy and medium bombers attacked Japanese railroad installations and communications in central Burma yesterday while RAF Beaufighters and Hurricanes struck at enemy shipping and railroads along the Irrawaddy and lower Chindwin rivers, Allied communique announced today.

B-25 medium bombers of the Tenth U.S. Army Air Force damaged tracks and installations at Kanbalu and destroyed a number of railroad cars.

No American planes or personnel were lost in yesterday's operations.

DOWNTOWN STROLLER

Mrs. MARY J. EDWARDS has as guests for ten days her daughter and children, Mrs. ERNEST MCCOY and LOWELL DEAN and LAFON DORENE, all of Seymour.

Mrs. R. R. McEWEEN and Mrs. HAYDEN GRIFFITH were lunching downtown the other day and visiting also with FERN WELLS, who happened along by their table. The cool coffee shops these days are the most popular spots in town.

Mrs. HOWARD HODGE of Midland, president of the 8th district of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, was a visitor in town Tuesday. Club work for the women will be getting under way again, we suppose, with the advent of cool weather.

MARY ANN COX of Odessa, and a former Big Spring resident, will arrive today for a visit with some of her former school mates and friends. She'll be the guest of MARJORIE and BARBARA LASWELL, and other members of the High Heel Slipper club of which she was one time president.

Mrs. ROY JOHNSON has just returned from Van Horn, Tex., where she was visiting with her family. Sgt. JOHNSON, who is stationed at Del Rio, accompanied Mrs. JOHNSON to Van Horn. Mrs. JOHNSON works at the post here and they both managed to get leaves at the same time for vacations.

Hear tell that all the college kids are getting together new clothes and all the equipment that goes with school in order to be ready to leave soon. It won't be long now until they'll all be studying, we hope, for all they are worth.

Girls Get GI Glamor

By CORP. TRUDY WHITMAN AP Features

What a mad scramble was our first response to the "Fall in" which greeted us, it seemed, only five minutes after we were awakened. And what a blow to our civilian conceived notions — we had thought that reveille was what woke soldiers. On the contrary. The sergeant is what wakes soldiers. Reveille is something you fall in for — fall in completely clothed, with coats, hats and gloves on.

No sooner in than out, and in again for mess call. It seemed not a little odd to be escorted to the mess hall, and even odder to sit down to breakfast in full outdoor regalia. We took off our gloves, but nothing else.

After a brief interlude of bed-making, cleaning up barracks and polishing the area, we were marched off to the clothing warehouse and here experience greeted us. No one could tell any of us much about shopping for clothes. But this was not shopping. The situation was completely reversed. Rows of fitters sized us up and decided what sizes would best fit the various sections of our bodies that constituted their responsibilities. We tried on shirts, blouses, pants, and shoes. The fitters were our mirrors. If they were satisfied, okay. We didn't get so much as a look-see.

Dressed again in our civvies, we lined up before a counter and as we marched past each clerk, items of clothing were pushed in front of us. We, in turn, pushed our growing piles of GI's until we reached the end of the counter. There the items were called off and put into a barracks bag. We signed on the dotted line for receipt of same.

Back at the barracks, we tried on our clothes. Some lucky gals with regular shapes made out fine. Others, too small for one size and too large for another, will have to wait for alterations to take them in hand. Meanwhile, we wear what fits and fill in the balance from our own civilian stock. There was much admiration for the GI's. Was there ever a time when we didn't know that meant Government issue?

Hair up above the collar is an Army order and not to be taken lightly. One girl with long tresses handed her bed partner a pair of scissors the second night we were here and, snip, snip — she was shorn while we stood by heckling and cheering. The finished product was not by Antoine, but it was adequately GI, and becoming.

Somehow from the very moment we were even partially outfitted we began to take on a WAC silhouette. We didn't look like soldiers yet, but you could see we had possibilities. We couldn't see ourselves, so we admired each other. Mirrors are a luxury item, exclusively civilian.

Shopping Lounge Opened For Colorado City Women

COLORADO CITY, Aug. 24. A lounge and rest room for the use of Mitchell county women who come to Colorado City to shop was opened here Saturday in the City-County building. The project was begun by the Home Demonstration council, working under Vera Crippen, HD agent, with Mrs. O. L. Simpson as chairman of the planning committee. Working with Mrs. Simpson were Mrs. Holley Jackson, Mrs. W. W. Jenkins, Mrs. A. J. Hooks, and Mrs. C. C. Berry.

Earl Bibby headed a Chamber of Commerce committee which raised funds for furnishing and operating the room. The city will pay a matron, who will be on duty six days a week, in the lounge. Mrs. H. S. Iglehart has been employed as matron.

The lounge will be kept open from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m. each week-day and until 9 p. m. each Saturday. Bulletin boards for marketable produce exchange information, easy chairs, reading lamps and beds for naps for visiting babies are part of the room's equipment.

VFW Post Would Hold Officers Accountable

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 25. (AP)—The San Diego council, Veterans of Foreign Wars, believes the two commanding officers in Hawaii on Dec. 7, 1941, should not be allowed to escape a court martial trial.

A resolution adopted by the council yesterday urged early prosecution of Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, commander of the Pacific fleet, and Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short, commander of the Hawaiian department for the army, on charges of gross negligence in connection with the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Of the two officers are not tried before Dec. 7, 1944, the veterans' group declared, they will become immune from prosecution under the statute of limitations.

A presidential commission after investigating the Pearl Harbor disaster concluded that it was a "dereliction of duty" for Kimmel and Short not to confer with one another on joint defense matters. Both men retired on half pay after being relieved of authority.

Outstanding Record: During its initial year of operation, the Big Spring Bomber School has accomplished a commendable record in their salvage campaign. One of the best parts of the record is the salvaging of cardboard bomb shell cases. These are unloaded (upper left), baled and stored in warehouses (bottom) and later shipped. Another phase is the bottle salvage (upper right) where bottles are stacked according to size and type.

Quartermaster Salvage Saving Much Material

So effective has been the program of salvage by the quartermaster department at the Big Spring Bomber School that it has been made an example by the headquarters of the Eighth Service Command at Dallas. This school, since it is a bomber training field, has a particularly large quantity of waste cartons in which the bombs come packed. The unpacking and filling of bombs is handled by a civilian crew, who assemble waste material at the ordnance department.

and was constructed from salvage materials at the local post, by soldier labor, which resulted in no material cost. Yet the baling machine is doing a splendid job in compressing the bales to such size and weight that prove economical loads in ordinary freight cars. As produced, they are stored in a large warehouse on siding, where they present a minimum of fire hazard, awaiting rail transportation back to the company which produces them.

The re-sale of this material is not only a saving to the army, but also is a saving in paper pulp due to the re-use of such material.

Paper salvage is only one of the many types of salvage being practiced at the local field. Bottles of varied sizes (coming from the mess halls and other places on the post) are assembled by size and shape and re-sold to firms which have use for them.

In addition, even the kitchen fats and food waste are both saved and sold by contract for hog feed, processing into animal food products, and for the manufacture of war munitions.

Included also is the salvage of tin cans, which are flattened and processed into bales. Mangled bomb cases picked up on the scattered target areas, are also processed into bales.

Capt. William H. Gann, former resident of Chattanooga, Tenn., is salvage officer at the local post. He attended McAllie Prep School, and was graduated from Mississippi State College in 1941. He has eight years of Reserve Officer's Training Corps in high school and college and was commissioned May 19, 1941 at Mississippi State College. He attended quartermaster school in Philadelphia, Pa. and motor transport school at Camp Normoyle, Tex. Prior to assignment at the local field he was stationed at Moore Field, Mission, Tex.; Army Air Forces Navigation School, Hondo.

Migration To War Jobs Is Creating Teacher Shortage

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (AP)—Thousands of classrooms will be closed and others will be consolidated when school opens this fall because of a teacher shortage. The military services and war jobs are taking them. A recent check by the National Education Association showed 75,000 fewer teachers than usual for this time of year had been signed up by the country's elementary and high schools. Benjamin W. Frazier, U. S. education office analyst, expressed belief in an interview that even late sign-ups would leave a shortage of perhaps 15,000 to 25,000. He warned there almost certainly would be a "substantial" increase over last year's 13,000 classroom closings. School officials throughout the country driving to overcome their teacher shortage are using these methods:

Increasing salaries, reinstating married women, replacing men with women, using college but non-teaching trained persons; hiring teachers from other school systems; increasing the number of pupils and courses per teacher; employing out-of-state teachers; recalling retired teachers; discontinuing courses; transferring teachers to subjects where the shortage is most acute.

WAR TODAY: FD, Churchill Disclose Exactly Nothing

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

This columnist once consulted the Delphic Oracle at the shimmering base of Mount Parnassus in Greece, and came away with more concrete information than was disclosed by Messrs. Roosevelt and Churchill in their full-dress press conference on the promontory of Quebec at the close of their momentous parley.

Both men made smooth speeches, but neither disclosed much. However, joking aside, we didn't want them to do a lot of talking for the benefit of the enemy.

What really matters is that the conference radiated supreme confidence, and we know from past experience that another big job has been well done. The two leaders did emphasize that the Allied war machine is grinding ahead and that great events are impending. That's something satisfactory to get ahead with.

One of the most interesting—and likely important—points brought out was that since the Quebec conversations had much to do with planning the offensive against Japan, Russia wasn't invited to participate, because the Soviet union isn't at war with the Nipponese. The fact that Russia and Japan are not fighting each other may mean much to us when we come to final grips with the mikado's forces. Our greatest need will be air-bases, and if we aren't able to use Russian soil we shall have to carve bases out of Chinese territory now held by the enemy.

While we should like to hear Moscow say that Siberian air bases would be available for the offensive against Japan, it's likely Marshal Stalin would be equally happy to hear that a "second front" is being opened in western Europe. Maybe he will hint in that matter the Sphinx twins held their peace. That did indicate, however, that a conference among the big three—Russia, America and Britain—is projected, and that's of vast importance for complete understanding.

Speaking of the second front, F. D. R. introduced a line of thought which interested the press greatly. He pointed out that offensives can't be put into effect over night, and cited that what was planned in June of 1942 wasn't effective until November. That was the invasion of North Africa. The plans made at Casablanca in January of 1943 didn't materialize until Tunisia and Sicily.

With that the president paused. He didn't mention that he and Churchill met in Washington in May and planned fresh adventures, which haven't yet developed. However we undoubtedly are on the verge of something big in Europe—something devised in the May conference. And, of course, the Quebec meeting has laid a course to knock out the Japs—a project which it may take considerable time to develop.

Gas Board Studying Alleged Violations

The ration board's gas panel was in session Wednesday morning to investigate several cases of reported violations of supplemental gasoline cards as given to the office by OPA inspectors. Of seven cases investigated by the panel, however, several proved bonafide business, and one proved only an "A" card holder. All of the cases investigated were of persons attending rodeos at Snyder and Pecos and checked by the OPA.

Dry Weather Is Damaging Crops

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN, Aug. 25. — Moisture shortage in many sections of Texas was having a generally adverse effect on crops, although the dry weather favored harvest of cotton, corn, peanuts, grain sorghum and rice, the United States department of agriculture reported today.

The department's survey of crop conditions during the week ending Aug. 22 brought out these damaging effects from lack of moisture:

Development of most late-maturing crops retarded; further deterioration occurring in the more critical areas in North and West Central counties; Prospects for late-planted corn very poor; Prospects for late sorghum feed crops discouraging; Development of cotton retarded, with shedding of blooms and premature opening; Active harvest of East Texas commercial sweet potatoes awaiting a good rain that would improve the yield prospects; South Texas fall-crop commercial vegetable conditions unfavorable; early tomatoes blooming but sets not holding; preparation of land in the lower valley for transplanting much behind usual schedule; Range feed becoming short and very dry over much of the state except in parts of high plains and southeastern counties; feed and stock water situation serious from lower Rio Grande valley through West Central Texas.

By all means, let 'em eat cake . . . and candy, too

Nature has her own way of telling us that there is energy in sweets. Today, corn syrup, rich in dextrose, is playing a more important role than ever before in supplying active America with the sugar that gives power to the body and keeps wits sharp.

Candy is part of the field ration and sweets are served generously to our armed forces everywhere. Sweets served in war plants have greatly stepped up human energy and production.

Tremendous quantities of corn syrup are used to make fings, cookies, cakes, candies and pies so temptingly good—and good for you.

Immense amounts of corn syrup for the army as well as for civilian consumption are produced by the Home of Budweiser. Our Corn Products Division—working entirely apart from the brewery—grows out of the experience that developed from years of laboratory research. The quest for better methods and facilities for brewing the world's most popular beer never ceases.

Grid Season To Open Tonight

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 25 (AP)—It's kickoff time for the 1943 football season. And the college all-stars and a professional team this year the Washington Redskins—are providing the usual dramatic and colorful start tonight as they have for the last 10 years.

This is the football season prelude—the first two teams of the year to face each other in formal competition.

It could be a great passing show tonight—the vaunted Sammy Baugh of Washington pitching on one side, able Glenn Dobbs of Tulsa and Otto Graham of Northwestern throwing on the other.

(The kickoff is scheduled for 8:30 p. m. CWT.)

Bailey Apparently Is Winner In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 25. (AP)—Thomas L. Bailey, 53, of Meridian, who served 24 years in the state legislature, appeared today to have defeated former Governor Martin Sennett (Mike) Conner for the governorship of Mississippi. With less than 200 precincts missing from yesterday's democratic runoff primary, Bailey held a 11,000-vote lead on the basis of unofficial returns.

Returns from 1,500 of the 1,691 precincts gave Bailey 119,864 votes and Conner, 108,792.

Democratic nomination is equivalent to election in Mississippi. The winner succeeds Governor Paul B. Johnson in January.

Pantywaist Days Of Collegiate Athletics Over

TOPEKA, Kas., Aug. 24. (AP)—The war has ended the pantywaist days of American college athletics, in the view of D. K. Bible, general football coach of the Texas Longhorns.

Replacing them in the postwar period, he believes, will be a rugged, all-around college sports program. "And I mean rugged," he emphasized today in an interview. "Fact is, we were getting soft and didn't know it. We had a lot of lounge lizards and drug store cowboys."

"I hope we don't go back to the lounge lizard type of thing and I don't think we will." Instead, Bible predicts an athletics boom for the nation's colleges when the boys come marching home, toughened by their training.

Bible, here to instruct the high school coaching school at Washburn University, says educators must shoulder part of the blame for big rejection percentages among boys disqualified from army service.

"Our programs haven't been broad enough," he explained. "My idea of physical education isn't three hours a week with half of the time spent dressing and undressing. Physical education means making our boys rugged enough to take whatever they have to face in life."

"That's the only word I know for it—rugged."

All snakes are capable of swallowing prey many times larger than themselves.

Senators Gain Grip On Second Place In Loop

By JUDSON BAILEY Associated Press Sports Writer The heat is on the New York Yankees.

Before you take another look at the baseball standings, give us time to explain that it isn't pennant pressure but the pressure of pride which is bearing heavily on the American league champions.

They need to win a doubleheader at Detroit today to take the seven-game series and extend their record-performance to victory in 12 consecutive series.

This is a feat never accomplished even by the famous Yankees of other years and is a dearly sought goal by the 1943 club, which has been described as the weakest ever managed by Marse Joe McCarthy.

The Yankees got themselves into a hole by losing a doubleheader to the Tigers Sunday and until now they never have been able to work themselves out of it. They won a single game Monday and yesterday took the first half of a double bill 2-1 with Spurgeon (Spud) Chandler pitching fourth hit ball.

The Yankees have the only record-breaking streak now in existence in the American league. The Philadelphia Athletics had one of a different kind going strong until last night, but, after losing the first part of a doubleheader to the Chicago White Sox 6-5 for their 20th straight setback, the A's finally submitted to the law of averages and won the second game 8-1.

Washington strengthened its grasp on second place by beating the St. Louis Browns 10-4 as Clayton Heafner pitched four-hit ball.

The Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians divided, with Cleveland capturing the first game 5-2 on Allie Reynolds' five-hit hurling and the Red Sox surging back to a 7-0 shutout with Heber (Dick) Newsome producing a two-hit masterpiece.

In the National league the St. Louis Cardinals edged out the Boston Braves 1-0 when Stan Musial tripled a run home in the tenth inning to decide what had been a spectacular, scoreless pitching duel between Mort Cooper and Al Javery.

Truett (Rip) Sewell was given his 19th success against defeats as the Pirates took a slugging session from the Brooklyn Dodgers 9-6 in a twilight game abbreviated to six innings.

A two-run ninth-inning homer by Buster Maynard gave the New York Giants an 8-7 decision over the Chicago Cubs in the first game of a doubleheader, but Ed Hanyzewski pitched a four-hitter to win the nightcap 6-1 for the Bruins and Cincinnati completed a sweep of its series at Philadelphia with a 4-2 triumph in a night game.

Jap Attempt To Cross River Is Frustrated

CHUNGKING, Aug. 24. (AP)—An ambitious Japanese attempt to force a crossing of the Salween river in western Yunnan Province on Aug. 13 was frustrated by Chinese troops who forced them to retreat after a two-day battle in which several hundred Japanese were killed, a Chinese communique said today.

Nimrods Contributing To Filling Of Family Larder

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—War has put hunting back on its cousin cap. Long Tom rifle basis with powder-thriftily, sharp-shooting nimrods going a-gunning—not for sport—but to fill the family larder with fresh meat.

For, take it from the interior department's fish and wildlife service, hunters are making a substantial contribution toward easing the meat shortage.

They bagged a total of 255 404-000 pounds in the 1942-43 season and in terms of the coupon beef values that represents 3,064,848-000 rationing points. Included were such succulent items as wild duck, deer, quail, elk and pheasant.

The War Production Board last night upped the quota of rifle and shotgun shells to be made available to farmers and ranchers for use against "predatory animals and game birds now threatening crops and herds in certain parts of the country."

Those who take advantage of the order will get an extra 100 rounds of .22 calibre cartridges, 20 rounds of center fire rifle ammunition and 25 rounds of shotgun shells of any gauge in addition to their regular quarterly quotas.

Simultaneously, WPB advised sportsmen hunters that they would be allowed 50 rounds of .22 cartridges, 20 rounds of center fire ammunition and 25 rounds of shotgun shells after the needs of the farmers and ranchers have been met.

Tex. Aggie Swimmer Lowers 220-yard Time

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 25 (AP)—Danny Green, Texas A. and M. swimmer, lowered the Southern Amateur Athletic Union's 220-yard freestyle record by almost five seconds here last night, churning the distance in two minutes, 22.6 seconds.

The old record of two minutes, 27.4 seconds, which the little Texan erased, was set by Paul Smith of the New Orleans YMCA in 1939.

Favorites Gain In Junior Meet

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 25 (AP)—A field of 16 of the state's better junior golfers battle through two rounds over Brackenridge Park's tough layout today in the championship tournament.

Twelve will lose by nightfall, leaving four for tomorrow's semi-finals. The 36-hole final comes up Friday.

Most of the favorites stood the test in yesterday's first round but faced strong opposition today. Medalist Claude Wild of Austin ousted Roy Moore of Houston, 3 and 2 in the first round and meets Tony Holguin of San Antonio in his first match today. Holguin entered the round of 16 by defeating Jay Smith of Vernon, 3 and 2.

Bomber Explodes In Mid-Air, Kills Four

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 25 (AP)—A B-26 bomber which exploded in mid-air near Floresville late yesterday and then crashed, killing its four occupants, has been identified as a plane from Laughlin Field at Del Rio, Brooks Field officials here said today.

The bomber crashed about five miles west of Floresville and about three miles north of Dilts Field, one of Brooks' auxiliary fields.

MARKSMEN OPEN NAT'L TRAPSHOOT

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 25 (AP)—More than 400 marksmen, including about 80 of the armed services, opened fire today with 12-gauge shotguns in a three-day quest of gold and glory at the 44th Grand American trapshoot.

A dozen national championships were up for decision. The 200-target North American championship for both men and women was today's headliner and the defending champions, Mrs. George Cameron of Houston, Tex., and big Bill Drennon, Utes, Ill., farmer, were on hand to defend their titles.

Do you know a fellow like Joe?

JOE'S MY KID BROTHER. We've always stuck together and I've sort of watched out for him these last few years.

Well, Joe's in Africa now. His wife gets her allotment from him, and I guess when that's taken out of his check he doesn't have much left. Privates don't get paid much you know.

I figure this way. Here I am, making more money than I ever did before. You bet I work for it! But Joe's working hard too . . . and not just from 7 to 5, either.

We've been taking 10 percent out of my check every week for War Bonds . . . they're going to come in mighty handy when the War's over, we figure. But I got to thinking about Joe. What's he going to have after the War?

So we talked it over, my wife and I. We think Joe should get a cut of the bigger money, too. So now I'm buying an extra bond every month—in Joe's name.

Maybe you've got somebody in the War, too. If you have, couldn't you squeeze out an extra bond now and then, for your "Joe"?

Widows Entitled To Benefits Under Social Security

"Every widow of an individual who is insured under the Social Security program may be entitled to receive either monthly survivors insurance payments or a lump-sum payment," says J. Hassler Strickland, manager of the Big Spring office of the Social Security Board, but he added that not all widows know about their rights.

"Recently an official of a Big Spring corporation died," Strickland said. "Because his widow had not filed a claim for the insurance to which she was entitled, the claims supervisor of our office called the widow by telephone to inform her of her rights."

"The widow, who will not be 65 for several years," Strickland explained, "was surprised to learn that she is entitled to a lump-sum payment of more than $250 now." She knew that when she becomes 65 she will be eligible for monthly benefits for the remainder of her life, unless she should remarry, but in view of the fact that she is not 65 and has no children under age 18, she thought there was nothing due her now.

"Widows of men who are insured under the law, who have children of the deceased insured wage earner in their care under age 18," Strickland pointed out, "may be entitled to monthly survivors insurance payments regardless of the widow's age, and the children also can receive monthly payments. Young widows of insured men who do not have children under age 18 may be entitled to lump-sum payments immediately, and at 65 become entitled to monthly payments, if they have not remarried. Widows who are 65, of insured wage earners, may be qualified to receive monthly benefits immediately."

"All widows," Strickland said, "should contact the nearest Social Security office within 90 days after the death of the husband to discuss the filing of claims for survivors benefits to which they are entitled. The reason for doing this within ninety days," he said, "is that payments on survivors claims cannot be antedated more than three months from the date the claim is filed. Lump-sum payments can be made if the application has been filed no later than the second anniversary of the death of the wage earner."

The Solomon Islands were named after King Solomon because they were supposed to be the source of gold with which the King decorated the temple of Jerusalem.

Water Facility Loans Available

Farmers in Howard county who need government financing with which to repair their home and farmstead water facilities or to install new equipment with which to produce food and care for livestock may obtain loans for these purposes from the Farm Security Administration, U. D. Kindrick, rural rehabilitation supervisor announced this week.

Farm Security loans, Kindrick advised, are now available to farmers who cannot obtain credit elsewhere for farmstead and domestic water needs. Loans are open to both tenants and owners.

Drilling wells, windmills, stock tanks, storage tanks for home and farm supplies and for irrigating gardens up to one acre are some of the purposes for which these loans will be made.

The water facility loans available now in Howard county will be made immediately to all qualified borrowers of this agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Applications for loans should be filed with Mr. Kindrick at his office in the basement of the Post Office at Big Spring.

Rites Today For Mrs. E. B. Bethell

Funeral for Mrs. Earnest B. Bethell was to be held Wednesday in Italy, Tex., where her body will be interred beside other members of her family.

Mrs. Betsell succumbed at 5:30 a. m. Tuesday at the Methodist hospital in Fort Worth following a prolonged illness. She had been in the hospital for the past five weeks. Her husband, clerk for the Big Spring Bombardier School fire department and for a decade a member of the Big Spring police department, had been at the bedside for the past 10 days.

Among survivors are two sons, Joe Bethell, Camp Peary, Va., who was home on a furlough at the time of her death, and Harold (Lefty) Bethell, who is in the Southwest Pacific with the Seabees; one daughter, Mrs. Maurine Amick; and one granddaughter, Beverley Amick. Mrs. L. A. Eubanks, a sister-in-law, resides here.

Mrs. Bethell came with her husband to Big Spring in 1929 and had made her home here continuously since.

During the American Revolution, the state of West Virginia supplied Gen. Washington with more soldiers than any other state.

FOR the protection of your health -- your family's health and the community's as a whole, you should be vitally interested in and participate wholeheartedly in the Clean-Up, Sanitation, Rat Extermination program which goes into full swing tomorrow.

Let's Swat the Fly and eliminate this germ-carrying pest at the source by cleaning up rubbish-piles and other breeding places!

Let's get the Weeds out of vacant lots and back yards . . . put and keep lids on garbage pails!

Let's Kill the Rats and Mice
it is all important for the City of Big Spring to rid itself of these carriers of many contagious diseases, including dreaded polio!

Downtown business houses as well as people in the residential districts are urged to cooperate with the City Health Department and the Chamber of Commerce in this Clean-Up Campaign. Rodent poison bait will be put out today and tomorrow, by a specially trained crew, in the downtown area and through committees this bait will be distributed free to all residences and householders who will do their part in this vitally necessary sanitary program. If the committee in your district should not be able to contact you . . . call your Chamber of Commerce for detailed information.

This job must be done . . . if just one life or one limb is saved it will be well worthwhile and repay this community a hundred fold!

Everybody Join in and make Big Spring a truly Clean and Sanitary City

The City Health Department in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce is today inaugurating a special mid-summer CLEAN-UP Campaign to and make this a cleaner, safer place in which to live and work. To this end the City Health and Sanitary Departments with their garbage and rubbish pickup trucks are cooperating by hauling garbage free of charge. In addition the city has purchased a supply of rodent poison bait which will be distributed free throughout the residential districts by volunteer crews. All householders are urged to avail themselves of this opportunity.

Let's guard against diseases of all types -- eliminate flies, rats, mice and other disease carriers with poisons and disinfectants--clean out rubbish piles and other possible breeding places.

Let's Clean Up Now!

HEALTH DEPARTMENT, CITY OF BIG SPRING, TEXAS.

Clean-Up Depends On Your Efforts

Tomorrow evening scores of volunteer workers will be knocking at every door in the city in an effort to furnish residents with the materials for the most effective attack in the city's history on rats and mice.

This, first of all, is an appeal for each householder to make it a special point to see that some adult is at home between the hours of 6 p. m. and 8 p. m. to receive the poisoned bait.

Secondly, this is an appeal to make immediate use of the bait. Directions will be furnished and it calls for no more skill than being able to read these simple instructions.

The work poison will have a tendency to unduly alarm some people. There is no danger involved in using the bait furnished free by the city, although some discretion may need to be exercised in keeping up chickens and pets for a day or so until the rodents have had an opportunity to consume all they will of the bait. Then it might be a good idea to gather up the surplus and put it in the garbage can or other waste dispose of it. However, it is not likely that there will be sufficient concentration of it to harm animals and even children if some should get it.

If every home in the city will arrange for putting out the bait, it will reduce the possibility of rats and mice seeking refuge from the campaign. The cleaner job we make of it the longer it will take these creatures to come back. The longer it takes them to come back, the healthier will be our city.

Do your part, protect your own home and play fair with your neighbors. Accept this bait Thursday evening and then use it.

Army Slang Too Much For Colonel, A Recent Civilian

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—A heater-dealer (plumber to you and me) got a contract from the War Department to install 40 heaters in the sentry boxes that surround the White House, State Department and other government buildings here.

He had gone to work on the order when much to his amazement it was cancelled. Trying to trace the reason, he discovered that the original requisition had been drawn by an old regular Army sergeant, now a first lieutenant, who had written:

"Forty heaters for dog-houses."

The colonel to whom it went was too soon out of civilian life to be aware of Army slang. He killed the requisition, with the indignant postscript: "I can see no reason for spending taxpayers' money on coddling dogs."

Probably the worst pun that ever came out of OPA is this one: There being no ceiling price on snuff, the uppers will have to pay through the nose for the duration.

And one of the big laughs here today is the worry in some pretty high places that the Russians will reach Berlin before the British-American armies do.

The reason for the laughs are four-fold: (1) That only some months ago, the big question was: Can the Russians hold out until we get there?

(2) That if the Russians do get here first, the British and Americans will be sitting at the right and left of the peace table and "Papa" Josef Stalin, whom, less than a few years ago, both nations had jagged as No. 3 man on the "Liquidation List."

(3) That it's a lot further to Berlin from Khar'kov and Bryansk than it is from the Straits of Messina or the Channel coasts, which may become a "third front" any day now.

And (4) That if the "blood-thirsty Russians really do start knocking on Germany's front door, the war-wise Huns will open the back door to let the "humanitarian" Allied Nations armies in first.

THE LONG NIGHT

By Eleanor Atterburg

YESTERDAY: Lieut. Bette Stuart, Army nurse, disobeys orders and goes up on deck of the transport she is on during an attack by a Jap submarine. She is reprimanded by handsome Scott MacQuaid, Air Force captain.

Chapter 3

Bette was grateful for the Stygian darkness as she slipped back into the crowded stateroom. "That you Bette?" Her sister's lovely voice sharpened now, came out of the pitch darkness of the room.

"Yes. Anything the matter?" "Where have you been?" "Oh—up on deck." Bette confessed, kept her tone careless.

"Why, Bette!" Sue Stuart's amazement broke into a little chuckle. "You of all people to be breaking rules! Did you get caught?"

"Yes, I did." Stumbling, she found her way to her own bunk. "Dr. Farrell?"

"No Captain Scott MacQuaid—who probably won't hesitate to report me to the proper authorities!" she said and tried to muster a little laugh lest Sue suspect her true feelings.

"Scott MacQuaid!" Sue gasped. "Oh, darling, that was rotten luck. What did he say?"

"Nothing—much."

"I'd have given anything to be in your place," Sue said then. "I'm dying to meet him."

"You will, then," Bette answered. "But don't let him know you're any relation to me. He'll be prejudiced."

"No danger!" Sue laughed her lovely silvery laugh. "And that was only too true. Sue, five years younger and three inches taller than her sister, didn't look anything at all like her. Slim, sable-haired, cool grey eyes in whose depths more than one man had already lost his heart, Sue had always been the beauty of the family."

Bette had red hair, freckles and a temper exactly to match. Plenty of boys had teased her just to see the green eyes unseath lightning, but none had lost his heart.

"Incidentally, was there anything to all that noise up on deck?" One of the other girls interrupted laconically from another corner of darkness. "Or were they just practicing with sea-gulls as targets?"

"Not sea gulls, sweet. A real sub surprised on the surface."

"Really?" A chorus of excited whispers. "Did we get it?"

"Probably."

"Oh, you lucky girl. Did you see it go down?"

"Yes. It crashed but not soon enough."

"Oh, Bette I'd have given anything to be in your place," Sue said again.

"And I," Bette replied drily, "would give anything if you had."

She dreaded her hours on duty the next morning. But Dr. Farrell greeted her with a casual "Good morning, Miss Stuart" and nothing interrupted her routine in the wardroom. Captain MacQuaid had, apparently, held his tongue. Why, she could only wonder. Maybe he didn't consider it his duty. Maybe in the excitement, he had forgotten. Maybe—

But he hadn't forgotten. She saw that several hours later when he came into the wardroom. Most of the beds were empty, of course. Except for a few cases of flu and some bad colds, there hadn't been any patients.

"Is Lieutenant Pete Martens here?" he asked, looking past her toward the end bed where his buddy was convalescing from a stiff bout with flu. "May I see him?"

"Certainly," Bette murmured, trying to withdraw before Scott really saw her.

Evidently her voice identified her, however. Scott looked down quickly. "Oh, you're the girl who was on deck last night during the show, aren't you?"

Bette felt the flush mount into her cheeks. "Yes, I was."

He almost smiled—almost. "Do you make a practice of poking around where the chances are best for getting in the way of a bullet?"

"No."

"Just when it's really dangerous, huh?"

"After all, it's my own risk," she said more tartly than she'd intended.

"Not exactly. Uncle Sam sent you here to help save lives—not throw your own away. A good soldier obeys orders."

Bette's temper unfurled danger signals. Her green eyes flashed, her chin slanted. But she hesitated, searching for the right words with which to hit back in defense of her pride! He'd touched it in its tenderest spot—her devotion to duty.

He grinned, obviously enjoying her distress. "Of course, it's none of my business. And you'll undoubtedly go on doing as you please. Well, don't say I didn't warn you, Miss Stuart."

Bette fled back to her desk, cheeks blazing, emotions churning like a rip-tide. He was so absolutely right, of course. A good nurse, like a good soldier, obeys instructions implicitly. She'd never forgive herself—never. And with something between joy and despair, — he'd remembered her name, too!

New Generation In Hollywood Spots

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Constance Dowling works on the same stages where Mary Pickford made her later hit pictures. Miss Dowling, who is brown-haired, dark-eyed, arrestingly attractive, has never seen a Mary Pickford movie. They talk about a new generation of theater-goers, but here's one right in Hollywood, making movies:

Miss Dowling is leading lady to Dana Andrews in Danny Kaye's comedy, "Up in Arms." Her screen test was highly dramatic, and she was so good in it that Sam Goldwyn put her right away into his musical comedy. She is pining for emotional drama.

Even so, this 20-year-old is back where she started. When she was barely 16, she put one over on her parents (she knew they wouldn't approve) by launching her theatrical career in the line at the Paradise club on Broadway. For almost a year the folks thought she was really a telephone operator, and for almost a year Connie paid her way to dramatic school by dancing nights. When the folks found out, Connie left the Paradise abruptly. She kept on in the theater, however, understudying, dancing in musicals, plugging away at "the drama." Good notices for an experimental play at the Provincetown theater were her passkey to a Goldwyn test. . . .

Another 20-year-old is Carol Thurston, the Three Martins of DeMille's "Story of Dr. Wassell." This is the naive girl role for which DeMille interviewed nearly a hundred girls. Carol, the newcomer, won it. She had never faced a camera until her wardrobe test (the wardrobe is a sarong) and had never acted before one until her first day on the picture. But she had acted at home in her father's small repertory company since she was 12. Home was Forsyth, Mont., until her dad took a job at Lockheed.

Once, in Montana, Carol visited DeMille's location for "The Plainsman." She was too shy, she says, to ask him for a job, although even then she wanted to act in pictures. Today she goes about her work without shyness or even nervousness. DeMille calls her a "combination of Maude Adams and Lenore Ulrich," and expects to use her again in his next "Rurales."

Newcomer June Vincent, 23, blue-eyed, blonde, has a notion that the "right things" will happen. So far, she has been right. Daughter of a Congregational minister, June was going to be a concert pianist until interest in acting changed her mind. She spent a year at Oberlin College, then did summer stock at Keese, N. H., her home town. More study in New York, paying her way as a Powers model, led after two years to a job as understudy to the ingenue in "The Family."

The right thing—right for June's career—happened there. The ingenue became ill the day after the opening, and June played the role for the run of the show.

Anti-Fascists Tell How To Win Italy

The authors of this article, Professors Gaetano Salvemini and George La Piana, are members of the Harvard faculty. Born in Italy, they have been prominently identified with the Italian-American movement against Fascism. They have just written a book, "What To Do With Italy," (Duell, Sloan and Pearce) to be published next month.

But our diplomats have done their utmost to prevent such strategy. They prefer to conquer Italy inch by inch, rather than allow democratic anti-Fascist forces to play any part in Italy's deliverance. They have sternly forbidden anti-Fascist political refugees to set foot in Italy.

The new military dictatorship neither solves the problem nor works in our favor. It has merely enabled generals and officers of the regular army to satisfy old grudges against the Fascist parvenus and their corrupt bosses. It is, of course, seeking to saddle on Mussolini alone the blame for military disasters. To save the monarchy the new dictatorship is shooting the people.

Badoglio's main task is to strangle any revolutionary attempt made by the people. The task of chasing the Nazi armies from Italy is exclusively ours. When that is done, our diplomats will see to it that the monarchy and its Badoglio remain in control to stifle any future revolution.

By GAETANO SALVEMINI AND GEORGE LA PIANA AP Features

The Allies were caught unprepared by Mussolini's downfall. We blundered in our political warfare. We were not prepared, as a result, to take immediate advantage of the chaos in Italy following Mussolini's fall because our diplomats were determined that there should be no real democratic revolution in Italy.

We hope it is not too late to change such disastrous policies. At any rate, the first golden opportunity to solve the Italian war problem has gone.

Mussolini's downfall was hailed as a sure sign that Italy was ready to accept our terms of unconditional surrender. According to Winston Churchill, "one man and one man only" kept Italy in the war at Germany's side. Yet the new Italian government has called for more German divisions to strengthen the defense of continental Italy. The war goes on.

Our diplomats had long cherished the hope that a coalition of ex-Fascist chiefs, clericals, monarchists and industrial and agricultural lords would one day unseat Mussolini and hand us Italy without fighting.

They had not learned that dictatorships like that of Mussolini can be unseated only by revolution in the wake of military disaster. Anyway, our diplomats did not want revolution.

Now that Mussolini has fallen, they are pleased to see Badoglio ruthlessly putting down the attempts at rebellion by the Italian people. At the same time, however, angered but not disillusioned by Badoglio's refusal to surrender, the same diplomats with cold cynicism appeal to the helpless Italian people, machine-gunned by Badoglio's carabinieri, and tell them to force their government to surrender or else be bombed out of existence.

Our policy toward Italy before the Sicilian invasion raised doubts whether the ideas prevailing in Washington are compatible with our solemn avowals that we in this war seek freedom and democracy for all.

Our State Department defeated the attempt to organize in this county an anti-Fascist legion open to Italian anti-Fascist volunteers from the concentration camps in India, Africa, England and America and under the direction of American officers. Such a legion, making possible the dropping of thousands of men from the air over Rome, Turin, Milan, and Genoa at the moment of Mussolini's demise, would have rendered the Italian revolution successful.

It is reasonable to assume that the rank and file of the Italian army, which refused to fire upon the population, would have joined the revolution. The ports of Civitavecchia, Leghorn, Genoa and Bari would have been opened to receive American and British divisions ready in Sicily. In a few days all southern and central Italy would have been in our hands, and our armies would have been solidly entrenched in Northern Italy's vital points.

Coast Resident

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Jim Maloney, who abandoned hopes of becoming world's heavyweight champion after he was knocked out by the late Ernie Schaaf, has been a resident here for several months. He's 40 now and manages a night club.

The original Order of the Purple Heart consisted of purple sprigged silk edged with silver braid, and was sewn on left breast of the uniform. The present decoration is a heart-shaped medal bearing a bust of General Washington on a field of purple enamel.

Lend-Lease has had its ups and downs. But from now on, Washington observers are predicting freely, it won't have such easy going. The principal reason: U. S. industry is getting plenty worried about post-war competition. Why, industrialists ask, should American taxpayers pour out billions to strengthen foreign industries which will be competitive in post-war world trade?

It probably will take a five-foot shelf of books and several foot-prints of world trade realities to answer that question. Nevertheless, the sideline crew here is positive that lend-lease is in for a real drubbing before the next appropriation bills (due to be passed this coming spring and early summer) get to a vote.

Three Nazi Divisions Required in Denmark

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 25. (AP)—More than three German divisions—between 40,000 and 50,000 troops—were reported quartered in Copenhagen today as the Nazis sought to stamp out riots, strikes and mass demonstration raging against occupation authorities in Denmark.

The German forces, which began moving in from Norway before dawn last Saturday, took over public halls, schools and other buildings as barracks.

Protest parades against German occupation were reported from Odense, where 5,000 persons, carrying American, British and Danish flags marched through the streets. Similar demonstrations took place in other Danish cities.

The Danish government has refused to yield administration of justice to the Germans, who have demanded that saboteurs, reported increasingly active, be tried under Nazi law.

In a period of three months, the Hydrographic Office of the Navy printed and distributed 12,900,000 charts.

Youths May Apply Now For Aviation Cadet Training

Air-minded youngsters throughout the nation are becoming increasingly aware of the important part which the airplane will play in the post-war world, and with this in mind, and the desire to do their part, many young men everywhere are making application for aviation cadet training.

Many young men in the Big Spring area and surrounding communities have already won their wings as bombardiers, pilots and navigators, and are now distinguishing themselves as they distinguish their country on fighting fronts all over the world. Many others, eager to begin training, have already passed examinations and are now awaiting call.

There are still several openings for young men between the ages of 18 and 27 years who desire to become pilots, navigators or bombardiers.

Men classed as essential workers now engaged in war industry or agriculture cannot be considered, but all others within the required age limits may address inquiries to Capt. John T. Bender, Jr., chairman of the aviation cadet board at the Big Spring Bomber School.

For those boys who have reached 17 years of age, and are not yet 18, the army will make special arrangements for a preliminary examination and will enroll them in the air corps reserve to be called for training on their 18th birthday.

Youthful Kidnap Suspects Nabbed At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Aug. 25 (AP)—Police captured two young kidnaping suspects last night after driving them and a dozen other excited customers from a drive-in cafe with tear gas.

Officers entered the cafe earlier and guns bristled but no shots were fired upon the plea of patrons.

The suspects, 24 and 20, were wanted in the abduction Monday night of Tom Stinson, Eliasville (Young county) merchant.

Two men forced John Hogan, a rancher near Eliasville, to telephone an order for feed to the merchant. They locked Hogan in a barn and when Stinson arrived at the ranch they took his automobile and forced him to accompany them on a drive to Fort Worth.

Stinson was released here after being robbed of $3. The car was abandoned about 2 a. m. Tuesday. Hogan meanwhile released himself and notified Young county officers. They advised Fort Worth police.

Detective Lieutenant Andy Fournier and Detective Jesse W. Montgomery went to the cafe after receiving a tip that two men answering the kidnapers' description were there.

Here's the excitement to which the customers were treated, as related by officers:

The detectives entered the crowded dining room through the kitchen. Montgomery recognized a man in a rear booth as a suspect. The suspect apparently as instantly recognized Montgomery as an officer, whipped out a pistol and shouted:

"Don't you take another step or I'll kill you."

Montgomery replied "You'll just have to go ahead and shoot," took a few steps away and ducked behind a booth as he drew his pistol.

The suspect had begun yelling: "Don't anybody leave here, don't anybody come in—they can't get me without a fight. I'll shoot the first one that moves."

Police Sgt. C. S. Hightower and Policeman Bill Hart brought tear gas and one gas shell was fired through a window.

A moment later the gunman and his companion, who was not armed, came staggering out with hands raised.

Local Men Named On Conservation Group At ODT Conference

M. E. Allen, manager of the Big Spring Cotton Oil Mill, and H. G. Keaton, ginners-farmer, have returned from Sweetwater where they attended a meeting of cotton oil and ginning representatives who convened at the Blue Bonnett Hotel August 21, for the purpose of naming a committee to formulate plans for the conservation of trucks, tires and gasoline within their industry, in the transportation of cottonseed and by-products.

John W. Reed, Office of Defense Transportation district manager, was in charge of the meeting, and explained the purpose and objective that the ODT hopes to reach through the formation of this committee.

George Hall of the West Texas Cotton Oil Company was named chairman of the committee to be assisted by J. B. Embry of the Sweetwater Cotton Oil Company, as secretary and treasurer.

Both Allen and Keaton were named to serve on the conservation committee.

The name Munda came from an ancient town in the southern part of Spain, which got its place in history as a battleground.

War Declared For 6 p. m. Thursday On Rats, Filth

War will be declared Thursday at 6 p. m. War on rats, filth, flies and rubbish heaps—breeders of the dread disease infantile paralysis that so far has miraculously bypassed Big Spring.

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the City Health Department, a clean-up and poisoning campaign will be held from 6 p. m. to 8 p. m. with a corps of 250 workers covering 14 districts in Big Spring.

The supervisors, each working with sub-supervisors and approximately 20 workers apiece, will canvass Big Spring armed with rat poison furnished through the city and the city health department. The poison will be delivered to each household in the district along with a questionnaire and instructions for putting down the poison.

With the workers covering the city at the same time, it is hoped that the job can be done in approximately two hours and neighbors will be asked to accept poison for householders who are not at home when the worker calls.

Each householder must sign for his poison, which is given him at no cost. Only adults may accept and sign for the poison and instructions are given to each household to protect their children, pets, and chickens from the rat poison until Sunday when it should be taken up and destroyed.

While the workers are canvassing the residential district, the city sanitarian will be working the business district where business houses have paid for their rat extermination. He will also take up the poison in the business section of town.

Each supervisor will receive his quota of poison from the fire station at the city hall for redistribution to his workers.

Each householder is asked to be at home during the time the workers will contact them, but if anyone should be missed in the drive, he is asked to call at the health department to receive his allotment. The questionnaires to be left by the workers should be filled out at an early date and returned to the district supervisors who will in turn give them to the city health department. The questions concern whether the householder is observing sanitation laws on his premises and also instruction in putting out the poison.

In addition to the poisoning campaign, each resident is asked to cut weeds and grass, rather than rubbish and trash and put it out for collection by either city or county trucks. Also, it is urged that after you have cleaned up your own premises, that you clean up vacant lots next door. Rats moved from a cleaned up house often find refuge in a vacant lot where the danger from poils and other diseases is just as prevalent as before.

A hundred per cent cooperation has been pledged by service club men who stand by ready to assist any supervisor whose workers fail to show up during the intensive poisoning campaign tonight.

If the same cooperation can be secured from residents, the war against disease and germs in Big Spring will be off to a successful start by nightfall Thursday night.

Vitamized Firewater Eases Pink Elephants

By H. W. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor
NEW YORK—Some of the pink elephants can be chased out of alcohol by placing vitamins in the liquor.

It is illegal under present government regulations to add vitamins to alcoholic beverages. That, however, does not apply to the enthusiast who wants to add some vitamins to his own mixed drink.

There has been a dearth of information about vitamins in liquor. Not about whether good whiskey possessed natural vitamins, which it apparently doesn't, but whether vitamins slipped into drinks would be cooked, or whatever method of destruction liquor is supposed to possess.

The Journal of the American Medical Association reports that A. F. Novak and S. L. Adams placed three 3 vitamins in bottles filled with a standard brand, 86.8 proof whiskey. Some of the bottles were clear glass, exposed to daylight, some amber, and some kept in the dark.

The vitamins were B-1, for nerves, riboflavin or B-2 for skin troubles, and nicotinic acid, which is niacin or B-3, for pellagra. At the end of two months the B-2 was fifty per cent destroyed, whether in daylight or darkness. But at the end of six months there was no sign of loss of the two other vitamins.

Many diseases associated with chronic alcoholism are primarily due to vitamin lack rather than to drink. Lack of B-1 causes peripheral neuritis, which has many painful or annoying symptoms, including, sometimes, the pink elephants.

Have a Coca-Cola = Sa-LAM-oo a-LAY-koom (PEACE BE UNTO YOU)

...or how Americans make pals in Palestine

Peace be unto you, says the hospitable Moslem when he greets a stranger. Have a "Coke", says the American soldier in return, and in three words he has made a new friend. It's a phrase that works as well in Haifa as in Harrisburg. Around the globe Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes — has become the high-sign between kindly-minded people.
