

RANGER'S SOIL IS FERTILE

Luscious Strawberries Produced by Dr. F. R. Bowles.

RANGER, Texas, May 15.—Strawberries, the best flavored and most attractive in appearance, without a blemish of any kind, that this writer ever saw can be raised in the Ranger territory. Not only can such strawberries be raised but they are being raised, in the city limits at that.

A visit to the little farm of Dr. F. R. Bowles is a revelation of what this soil is capable of yielding when properly encouraged.

Dr. Bowles has two rows of strawberries, 40 yards in length, and from this he gathered—in addition to what was used at his home—14 1/2 gallons last week and 18 quarts Monday.

He has three varieties of strawberries—the Mastodon ever-bearing, the small (common) ever-bearing and the Klondyke, spring-bearing. The Mastodon, as the name indicates, is unusually large—the berries sometimes reaching an inch and three-quarters in length.

Although he uses irrigation, Dr. Bowles has found it necessary to water the strawberries only twice as the rainfall has been sufficient most of the time.

Besides the berries, he has a long trellis of grapes—including the black, white and pink varieties, and one vine of seedless grapes. He has a Burbank Abundance um tree that is literally covered with fruit. Then he has a dozen more peach trees and apple, pear and cherry trees. Hail and storms have not damaged his crops.

In addition, he has a vegetable garden—beets, beans, cabbage and other plants. And in the front yard are beds of beautiful flowers.

Of this is on two lots—and not two full lots at that—as of course his home and garage occupy part of the space.

This "garden spot of Ranger" is several hundred yards west of Acres, right on the highway with a wide, flower-lined driveway just west of the house. Dr. Bowles has lived in Ranger for three years. Prior to that he lived in Throckmorton where he still owns a fine home. For a while, he was editor of Throckmorton newspaper for 30 years—he practiced

Frozen Goggles and Bloody Nose Only Mishap in Record Altitude Flight

Lieutenant A. Soucek, upper right, has been more of this earth at one time than any other man. For you see him here being congratulated by David S. Ingalls, assistant secretary of the Navy for Aviation, upon establishing a new world's altitude record. The plane, before which they are standing, is a Wright Apache powered with a Wasp motor and a supercharger. Just before his take-off, the navy flyer is shown, lower left, wearing the goggles, oxygen helmet and heavy clothes to protect him at an altitude of nearly eight miles. Ice formed on the goggles and he had to remove them at the top of his climb, when the temperature was 76 below zero. At the right he is shown nursing a bleeding nose, caused by the great height, after having been helped from the plane.

DIVORCED 7 TIMES SHE HAD BUT 2 SPOUSES

SEATTLE, Wash., May 14.—Everyone concedes woman the right to change her mind. Even judges. Mrs. Betty Leos, 33, is a woman and has exercised her prerogative to such an extent that she divorced one husband six times and has just been awarded her seventh divorce in 15 years from a second spouse.

Court records indicate this is a very profitable business, as they show Mrs. Leos has gained between $60,000 and $75,000 from her first husband in the six divorces granted her. In 1914 Mrs. Leos began her varied matrimonial adventures in Nebraska at the age of 18. She married Stearn and divorced him in 1918. In the same year she remarried him and again divorced him. The next year the "Stearns" went according to their own allegations battled continually—remarried in San Francisco. The same year she filed another suit for divorce which wasn't finished, but before the year had ended, she had divorced him again for the third time. Three months later, they remarried in Vancouver, B. C., and four months later, Stearn himself filed suit for divorce which was dismissed.

Three months later Mrs. Stearn again brought divorce proceedings and obtained her fourth divorce. In each instance Mrs. Stearn was awarded large alimony.

The fifth decree came in 1923 and the final one in 1925. Less than a year later she married Leos at Mount Vernon, Skagit county. She was then receiving $350 a month alimony from Stearn. Her first husband died in Seattle last March and is said to have left her $10,000 in insurance.

West Texas comprises the area west of the M. K. & T. railroad to Waco and thence southwest through Fredericksburg to Del Rio.

It includes 135 counties which contain approximately 91,000,000 acres.

Into this area could be dropped the state of Main, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, and still leave unoccupied 10,000 square miles or eight more Rhode Islands.

So far, so good, and we are indebted to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for this information.

AVIATION'S GIFT TO MOTORISTS

ON the ground or in the air, -TP- Oils keep the engine running smoothly. This new type of oil was originally developed for aviation. Endurance tests soon demonstrated its superiority for airplane engines, and there was an instant demand for an oil that would offer the motorist the same advantages.

This process has marked advantages over other methods. It preserves all the lubricating bodies of the crude oil just as they occur in nature. It eliminates the necessity for blending light and heavy oils to produce various grades, and it positively removes all the paraffine wax.

Now you can purchase -TP- Aero Oils in grades adapted to automobile engines. These oils are produced from pure, paraffine-base crude by a process for which patents are pending.

In terms of performance this means perfect lubrication at all times, smoother, more efficient operation for your engine, longer life, reduced repair bills, and more mileage at less cost per mile. It is wise economy to pay 45c a quart for -TP- Oil.

Walter Tauscher, Dallas, both pitched and batted Dallas to 5 to 2 victory over Beaumont. Tauscher allowed only six hits to Beaumont and drove in two runners with a double in the fifth inning.

With two substitutes in its infield, Wichita Falls batted its way to a 9 to 5 victory over Waco. It was the first loss in seven starts for Caldwell, Waco pitcher. The league leaders outbatted the Spuddees 14 hits to 11.

Houston gained on Waco for the circuit leadership by defeating Shreveport 4 to 1. A base on balls and two hits in the third inning kept Jim Lindsey from pitching a shut-out. The victory was his fifth win of the season.

San Antonio defeated Fort Worth 7 to 0, four of the winners' runs coming by the left route. Andy Messenger kept six hits made off him scattered.

MAJOR LEAGUES
Yesterday's hero—Al Spohrer, Boston Braves' young catcher, whose single in the twelfth inning drove in the winning run enabling his team to beat the Chicago Cubs, 6 to 5, in the only National League game. The defeat dropped the Cubs back into a tie with the St. Louis Cardinals for the National League leadership. It was the first loss of the season for Pat Malone, Cub pitcher.

Hard and timely hitting enabled the Philadelphia Athletics to beat the Detroit Tigers, 10 to 8, and regain the American League lead.

Al Simmons hit a home run and Joe Bolsy clouted two triples. The teams used four pitchers. Fothergill drove in five runs with a homer and two singles.

Fred Marberry stopped a St. Louis rally in the ninth after four runs had crossed the plate and the Washington Senators won from the Browns 9 to 7.

Bill Cissell's home run in the seventh broke a 2-2 tie and the Chicago White Sox went on to win from the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 2.

Bob Weiland, White Sox recruit stopper, held the Red Sox to five hits.

Why Airmail Pilots Get Gray

If motorists had all these instruments and controls to watch and operate, our streets would be as free as the air. Yet this is just what the modern airmail pilot has to worry over while he's in the air—instruments of all descriptions and controls enough for a four-armed man. This cockpit happens to be one of a new type Boeing transport mail plane.

NEW INSTRUCTOR A FLIGHT HERO

FORT WORTH, May 14.—Twelve days in a wilderness of ice and snow! Lieutenant Al Harvey, newest instructor in the T. A. T. flying school knows what it feels like to wander along through barren cold, hoping to reach some outpost of civilization before food and strength are gone.

He had such an experience when the plane in which he and Major F. L. Martin were flying on an "around-the-world" cruise was wrecked against a mountain peak in Alaska. In 1924, newspaper readers will remember, four planes started at San Diego to girdle the globe. Harvey and Martin had taken off from Chignik, Alaska, for Dutch Harbor in the Aleutian Islands. Flying through a thick fog along the Alaskan peninsula, they crashed into a peak, badly wrecking the plane, though the fliers miraculously escaped injury.

Then followed the 12 days of weary trudging toward Fort Moller, a salmon fishing camp. The sole food of the two was a quart bottle of concentrated beef. A spoonful of the precious fluid in a glass of water composed a meal. There was no fire to warm by at intervals during the nightmare of stumbling over the frozen wastes. The airmen had matches but there was no wood to burn.

A Bad Manager?

THE Cobb, the records always show, was one of the ball players of all times. He was the greatest. He was better than any other ball player. With one exception. He didn't hit the ball out of the park as often as the Babe.

But Ty Cobb as a manager will not be recorded as a great manager or even a successful manager. His Detroit team won no pennants. They weren't even up close, and smart baseball men said it was the fault of Cobb that a strong ball club didn't go better than it had gone.

Haney Says No

FRED HANEY, who is now in the employ of the St. Louis Cardinals, was a ball player in Detroit under Cobb and, according to our memory, he is the first ball player who worked under Cobb who publicly said something nice about him as a manager.

Haney in a recent interview expressed the opinion that Cobb was a great manager and that he didn't get better results because he was three or four seasons on the club who laid down.

Some of the older fellows on the club looked upon Cobb as the owners. Haney said he thought that he could get with anything. We all that he was making much money than any other player on the club and some of the boys used to argue that if they had too much they would only help Cobb to get more when time came for an contract. They figured that they would get the credit for any success that the club en-

Sitting and Watching

"I KNOW that Cobb was a smart manager," he said. "I sat next to him on the bench one day when we were playing in Cleveland. And he called eighteen pitches in a row. I asked him how he was catching them and he said: 'What do you think I have been watching Steve O'Neill for for ten years. He gives away every sign. You can learn lots by sitting and watching, young fellow.'"

This Mayor Gets 50 Cents a Year And They Say He's Worth It

Hoopeston, Ill., Is Debt Free and Lends Money. Councilmen Draw Annual Salary of 25 Cents.

By NEA Service HOOPESTON, Ill.—Once every year, the treasurer of this little Illinois city calls the mayor into his office and hands him a bright and shiny 50-cent piece. And the mayor, pocketing it, knows that he has received his entire salary for the year.

Six thousand people live in Hoopeston. Their civic pride has had other results than the installation of a low salary scale for their city government; Hoopeston, for instance, has loaned $22,000 of city funds to its citizens at 6 per cent interest and has $24,000 still in the treasury.

A few years ago someone started a movement to raise the mayor's salary to eight dollars a month, but the citizens rose indignantly and voted it down—and they vote and they'll never pay more than 50 cents, even if they get to be a city of 100,000 people.
