Turkey feathers, when properly prepared, are quite valuable and command good prices—a good reason for saving them. These feathers are marketed principally in the East, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the quill feathers being used for feather dusters and the down feathers for beds and pillows. Dry pluck the turkeys and thoroughly dry and separate the quill feathers from the others.

HARLAND—Local rancher recently shipped 16 carloads cattle from here.

A good poison wash for young trees, which will quickly kill any rabbits attacking them, can be made of starch, glycerin, and strychnine, according to the Biological Survey of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Dissolve 1 quart of strychnine (sulphate) in 3 quarts of boiling water; and dissolve 1-2 pound of laundry starch in 1 pint of cold water. Stir the starch solution into the strychnine liquid and boil the mixture until clear. Then add 6 ounces of glycerin and stir thoroughly. Let the mixture cool before applying it to the trees. Use a paint brush.

The most effective means of reducing disease infestation of muskmelons, or cantaloupes, is crop rotation, and the best rotation is one in which the melon or other related vine crop is not planted oftener than once in 5 or 6 years. Land that has been in alfalfa or clover, or in pasture for a period of years is most likely to be free from muskmelon-disease organisms. The muskmelons should not as a rule follow corn or any crop that draws heavily on nitrogenous plant-food in the soil. In the western sections the best yields can be obtained on old alfalfa land. In the eastern sections clover or alfalfa sod or land where annual legumes grown as cover crops have been turned under is best. In market-garden districts muskmelons can be grown on land that has previously been in potatoes or sweet potatoes followed by a cover crop.

JINGLING BELL JINGLE
SANTA'S BELLS JINGLE AND ON THE CHRISTMAS TREE THEY JINGLE

Our hearts jingle and tingle. Bubbling over with fun the children clasp in their young hands the gifts from mother and father and from Santa Claus. The older folk join in the merriment for there's nothing more sacred than pure joy. No better way could we celebrate this Christmas Day than to be happy. Glad tidings of a new hope for the world was the joyful news of twenty centuries ago when the Christ Child was born. Today, we, in all sacredness, remember that day and rejoice.

1928 By NEA Service Inc. RUTH DEWEY GROVES AUTHOR OF "WHEN A GIRL LOVES" "LOVE FOR TWO" etc.

CHAPTER XXVII

Al's first doubt of the success of his plan to put Jerry's obligation to him grew into quieting conviction during the weeks she was rehearsing. Her own fear of having put her beyond his reach inspired feeling that he had made a mistake. And as his conquest seemed to be reaching the stage of a dream he became more aware of her than ever.

Her lightness in which he had her in his mind vanished—she was even more desirable, a more important person in his life.

He had always taken it for granted that Mrs. Alester Carr would be a girl from his set, a smart, finishing school girl, one who could do his shopping for him while he followed other pursuits more pleasurable to him.

Beautiful, alluring Jerry would be utterly lost among a crowd. He thought of her at country club; thought of her in the city; thought of her in the theatre. He thought of her when he was in his cups trying to get a girl as attractive as Jerry didn't hope to escape the attention of men who had been engaged by bored young golf widows and neglected wives to make to them. Alester told himself that Jerry would expect a man she married to protect her.

Think of a girl like that trying to stand on equal terms with women who sought trouble as a thrill. She knew how, when and where to open her arms without creating a scandal. She didn't want to marry Jerry—it would be a nuisance. Jerry was vaguely aware of a change in his attitude toward her. He had a sense of his perplexity, feeling that he toyed with a fascinating but objectionable idea. He had a sense of his perplexity, feeling that he toyed with a fascinating but objectionable idea. He had a sense of his perplexity, feeling that he toyed with a fascinating but objectionable idea.

Honor "Modern Carrie Nation"

After Mrs. Maude Wilson of Kansas City took ax in hand and wrecked a bar where her daughter and her husband were said to have been served liquor, business men of the neighborhood bought her a nice basket of flowers to show their approval. Mrs. Wilson is pictured here receiving the tribute at a luncheon in her honor.

Even hay that has been properly cured and sweated is likely, if it becomes wet from snow or rain while being hauled and loaded for shipment, to arrive at the market in poor condition and with a resulting lower sale value. Hay that has become wet in this way will sometimes develop mold or heat in transit even at freezing temperatures.

BALUCHISTAN HAS CHANGED

By United Press. PESHAWAR, India.—Divorce used to be any easy matter in Baluchistan, the little-known state which lies just over the northwest frontier and to the south of Afghanistan. All a Baluchi had to do was to appear before the local court or "Jirga," composed of a committee of respected elders, and state that his wife was unfaithful. He would at once be granted a divorce, which, incidentally, gave him the lawful right to kill her.

Patent Examiners Are Need by U. S.

WASHINGTON.—The patent office at Washington is receiving applications for patents at the rate of 8,000 a month, the civil service commission said today. The increasing inventive activities of the American people require the patent office constantly to enlarge its force. Junior patent examiners are needed in considerable numbers, the civil service commission said. Applications for the positions will be received by the commission until Dec. 31.

Suicide Clears Ohio Killing

The mystery that clouded the slaying of Vernard E. Fearn of Canton, O., by "a flapper murderer" has been cleared, Mrs. Margaret Heldman of Lorain, O., shown here with her husband, killed herself on the way to surrender to police. She left a note, explaining she had killed Fearn because he had forced his attentions upon her with the "threat to expose me if I didn't do what he wanted me to do." Fearn was shot down at his door.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION

Rabbits can be cooked in any of the ways chicken is cooked—fried, baked, en casserole, or fricasseed. Have them often while the season lasts.

Jerusalem artichokes are plentiful in winter time. They may be scraped and cooked in the casserole with butter and other seasonings, or used raw, in very thin slices, in salad or as a side dish, such as celery is used.

Farmers' Bulletin 1523-F "Leather Shoes," will give you some good suggestions on caring for shoes, especially in rainy and snowy weather. Several formulas are included for waterproofing the shoes.

Have spare ribs and sauerkraut for a change. Select 2 well-padded ribs. Wash and cut them into pieces suitable for serving. Cook for about an hour in 1 quart of sauerkraut in sufficient water to cover. When tender drain off the liquid and serve.

Here's a recipe for an easily made potato soup, from the Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture: Cook 2 cups of raw diced potato in one quart of boiling water until soft. Drain off the water and save it. Rice the potato. Heat 2 cups of milk in a double boiler with 1-2 an onion, sliced. Meantime cook 2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley in 4 tablespoons of butter, add 2 tablespoons of flour, and stir until well blended. Pour in 2 cups of the water that was drained from the potatoes, add the diced potatoes, stir until smooth and cook for 2 or 3 minutes. Mix with the hot milk. Season. Remove the onion before serving.

RADIO RECORD TO BE SET ON HOOVER RETURN

U. S. S. Utah's Modern Equipment Will Permit 6,000-Mile Transmission.

WASHINGTON—A high record for transmitting lengthy messages between battleships and the Navy department will be set when President-elect Hoover starts up the "East coast of South America on the Utah. Capt. S. C. Hooper, director of Naval communications, said today. For the Utah, he explained, has a radio apparatus which is modern to the last degree and is capable of transmitting messages over much longer distances than the Maryland, the vessel that carried Mr. Hoover down the West coast. Communication with the Maryland was maintained through a relay station at Balboa, C. Z. Even then some difficulty was experienced in getting day messages through. When the Utah takes Hoover on board at Montevideo late this month, it will be more than 6,000 miles from Washington. Nevertheless, Captain Hooper expects to maintain communication with the ship without the aid of a relay station. This distance, 6,000 miles, it was pointed out, is as great as that from Washington to the customary station of the Asiatic fleet in the Pacific. And communication with our far eastern war vessels is had only through relay stations. The Maryland, Captain Hooper said, sends messages from a high-frequency set on a wave length of 8,600 kilo-cycles or 40 meters. The Utah's wave length, however, is only 20 meters, which permits a much longer sending range. The Utah may be three days out of Montevideo before radio messages can be exchanged satisfactorily during the day, Captain Hooper remarked. But in the dark hours, which are more friendly to radio waves, messages will be sent on the first night Hoover is at

How Rough is Rough? WAUKESHA, Wis.—How rough is a rough dance, and how loud do the dancers have to become before they are boisterous? That's what's puzzling the Waukesha county board. Estimates on the general conduct and demeanor of 1,190 supervised dances ranged from "drunk-mess," "bad," "very rough," "very boisterous," "rather noisy and loud," to "not bad," "fairly good" and "not good" to "excellent."

What the county fathers are after is a set of standard definitions which will enable them to punish offenders against an ordinance prohibiting "rough, loud or boisterous dances." Versus P. H. Davis, and placed in my hands for service, I, John S. Hart, as Sheriff of Eastland County, Texas, did on the 24 day of November, 1928, levy on certain real estate situated in Eastland County, described as follows, to-wit: All the right, title and interest of P. H. Davis in and to Lots 6, 8 and 10, Block 36, Daugherty Addition to the City of Eastland, Texas, and levied upon as the property of said P. H. Davis, and on Tuesday, the 1st day of January, 1929, at the Court House door of Eastland County, in the city of Eastland, Texas, between the hours of ten a. m. and four p. m. I will sell said real estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder as the property of said P. H. Davis by virtue of said levy and said alias execution. And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Eastland Daily Telegram, a newspaper published in Eastland County.

With HOOVER in Latin America

RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Writer
 (Copyright, 1928, NEA Service, Inc.)
ROUTE WITH HOOVER IN LATIN AMERICA—Herbert
 Hoover has been making his way through the Spanish-speaking Americas as the high priest of his country's new policy of economic penetration in this hemisphere.
 Hoover is to guide the United States through its next four years of industrial and business expansion. He has sought first to sow the seeds of permanent friendship in the field which offers the nearest opportunity for American manufactures and American capital.
 Hoover has functioned as an advance scout, a contact man or as a visiting overseer of our vast investment and trade interests below the Rio Grande—whichever one cares to call it.

A Go-Between
 Hoover is the least part of his task is to bring these countries that the United States harbors no wicked designs against them, and his attempts were well timed. Our previous policy toward Mexico and Central America advanced our interests in this hemisphere in no respect Hoover. Hoover appears to have learned that, and Coolidge as well.
 Hoover, in referring to Hoover
 the high priest of our new economy policy, one does not picture Hoover as traveling with a considerable entourage. He is not dissatisfied with the political or military situation in Latin America. But he is intensely concerned with American future prosperity and expansion. In the recent campaign he has already assumed that burden.
 Hoover, he made clear in a previous informal conference with his lieutenants, was not based on sentiment. In his opinion, the three essential factors for happy commercial relations between nations are: understanding, respect and common sense.
 Hoover, as he is able, Hoover is on tour with these factors in mind. Freer intercourse between the leaders and peoples of these nations, better communication between nations and widespread exchange of news, views and information, and reassurance as to the honorable motives of all concerned, are some of the ways in which they can be more completely attained.

What Industry Faces
 The future is inscrutable, but it is certain as anything can be that the 29 Latin-American republics are bound to play an increasingly important part in our domestic industrial welfare.

What They Have On Their Chest

FOODAL
 Sweetwater Reporter: State Press of The Dallas News took occasion to upbraid the editor of the Sweetwater Reporter for publishing certain remarks concerning rules for dieting and growing thin. S. P. seemed jealous of the fact that the editor of the Reporter is neither fat nor forty, but slender and sylph-like. Not only did S. P. insinuate that this editor lives off of "rabbit fodder" and knows nothing of the joys of rabbit hash and chicken pie and other toothsome dishes rich in fats and starches, but, evidently ashamed of saying in one piece all he had in mind, he wrote another under the subterfuge of commending Mr.
 Hoover and Mr. Coolidge, in which he attributed the latter's dour appearance to a lack of ham and eggs for breakfast and fried tripe at midday. He insinuated that all wild men are lean men, and indicated he would like to insinuate that all lean men are wild.

There is no need of a controversy over this thing. Just show State Press a fat wild man and he will retire from the argument, admitting defeat—a new experience for him. There is no civilization like for him. There is no civilization adipose tissue. The civilized tribes are composed of starvelings altogether. It was not the intention to insinuate that the editor of the Sweetwater Reporter is a wild man. But it will now be asserted that if he will take the trouble to weigh two hundred pounds he will avoid all risk of going wild. It is the lean steer which nips the crazy weed and runs amuck. Who are the cannibals? They are wild, thin, hungry men who eat fat missionaries and such like. Wasn't it the lean and hungry Cassius who led the conspiracy against Cesar, the equally cadaverous Brutus who stabbed him? They were wild men, who led the way to Rome's decivilization. The fat Romans were at home, tranquil and contented and opposed to the rough stuff the bony patriots were pulling. Was Robespierre a thin, dyspeptic homicidal specimen? There is no civilization without fat. And the anxiety of the women to ex-

To Mend Stockings "While You Wait"

Announcement is made of the perfection of a machine that will repair runs in women's stockings

 rights.
 In various cities, shops are to be opened where the mending can be done "while you wait." A womrejoicing.

Cleveland ring recently, has had an odd career. He was a classmate of Babe Ruth's at St. Mary's Industrial School in Baltimore and in those days frequently went behind the bat to catch Ruth in a baseball game. At 29 Christner was working "in the pit" in the Firestone tire plant in Akron. It is the hardest labor in the factory. Christner never took up boxing until three years ago. It all happened because a foreigner working "in the pit" with Christner tried to bully him. Christner knocked down the foreigner with a right hand punch which broke his tormentor's jaw. The foreigner bit the floor so hard that he fractured his arm.

That punch rained Christner the nickname of "K. O." He had been christened Myers when he was born at Garrett, Pa.

Professional One Year After knocking out the foreigner of Christner's fellow factory workers induced him to appear in an amateur boxing show and he made a good start. He continued his success as an amateur, but did not begin his professional career until January 1, 1928. He received $75 for knocking out his opponent.

Tom E. Lennon, former chairman of the Canton Municipal Boxing Commission, is Christner's manager and has signed for him to meet Jack Sharkey in Madison Square Garden on Jan. 25, 1929. In making the match, Lennon agreed not to allow Christner to engage in a bout in the meantime.

"I won't let Christner fight before he meets Sharkey because any bum might beat him," Lennon said. "He isn't much of a fancy boxer and might be outpointed. But he can hit and he has a chance to win every time he lands."

Christner has engaged in 45 bouts and won 38 by knockouts. He has knocked out among others, Johnny Urban, Romeo Rojas, Geo. Gemas, Sergeant Jack Adams and Hansen. He lost to Lut German and Joe Sekyra on decisions, but won on a foul from the latter in a previous bout.

Christner is an all-round athlete. He played tackle on the Akron Indians when professional football was booming around Akron and Canton. He is still a good baseball catcher and played with semipro teams around Akron until he entered the professional ring.

Was Top Sergeant He was in the regular army during the war and rose to the rank of top sergeant from a private. He spent most of his time in Texas training camps, but never boxed any in those days.

He is married and has two children, a boy of 9 and a girl of 6. When his wife married him, her father died in October and left her a share in a 1900 acre ranch 29 miles from San Antonio, Texas.

Christner himself is well-fixed although he has never collected a big purse in the ring. He, however has saved $800 out of every $1000 he has made. If Christner can get by Sharkey the former Akron tire worker will be in the choicest spot in the heavy weight division and will be able to dictate terms for future matches. But few believe he will be able to stop an improved Sharkey who gives every indication of going after the vacated heavyweight title in a serious way. After several months payoff with an injured knee, Sharkey returned to the ring recently and won easily from Arthur DeKuh, Italian heavyweight who had shown a punch in knocking out Tiny Roebuck in one round.

STATUE IS PRESENTED TO LIONS

Produced By Sculptor, Son of Judge A. E. Firmin.

From Ranger Times A lion was presented to the Lions today. It was a realistic statue about two feet in height and was presented by Judge A. E. Firmin and himself. The statue was made by their son, who has attained wide note as a sculptor. B. H. Murphy, manager of the Gholson hotel, made a classification talk. There was a good attendance.

NEW IDEA IS ADOPTED HERE

Dr. W. L. Jackson, president, presided. The club will not hold a meeting next week. One Ranger man has adopted a novel and profitable way to assure a supply of good rich milk. He has bought a registered Jersey cow costing $200 and one of the boys of the agricultural class will take care of the cow. The boy will receive all the milk, with the exception of half a gallon a day and as the cow will yield from four to five gallons daily and the cost of feed is only 30 to 50 cents a day, the lad should make a handsome return for his work. The owner, in addition to receiving $7.50 worth of milk each month on his $200 investment, will have the Jersey's offspring. The value of a two-year old heifer from this animal would be $200, which would alone re-pay the original investment.

DOG'S ABILITY TO THINK STILL IS IN QUESTION

Psychologists' Report on "Fellow" Detroit Canine, Leaves Topic Moot.

DETROIT.—The question of whether a dog responds to commands because of an innate intelligence or sensory capacity or just because, like an automaton, certain commands, expressions or gestures have become associated with certain reflex actions, has been raised here.

The average owner will probably answer that he is certain his dog has something approaching human intelligence, but Jacob Herbert of this city who owns and what is more important has the complete affection of "Fellow," isn't so sure.

Fellow, a beautiful German police dog almost six years old is probably the most "intelligent" dog in the world, according to the common use of that term in dogdom, but Herbert who professes to be a layman in psychological lines despite his ability to discuss psychology has an open mind on the subject of brain capacities of dogs or their so-called "intelligence."

Fellow has been trained by Herbert to distinguish almost 400 words and can go through his paces obeying only Herbert's verbal commands. The word knowledge of Fellow is exactly that—Herbert can go behind a screen or in another room and his commands will be followed implicitly by the dog to show there is not the slightest gesture or other hint to help the animal.

Obeys Many Commands. Herbert can tell Fellow to look out the window, sit down, turn around, stand still, place his head in one's lap, guard a prisoner, go to another room to get any object, and the dog will obey without an error.

"Marry Jane" is the mother of a late brood of Fellow's puppies. "Let's go see Mary Jane," Herbert will say and Fellow's pleasure seems almost human.

"Nice dog," Herbert will approve, and Fellow will come near to smiling. "Shame," or "That's no good," and Fellow will act disappointed.

Herbert believes Fellow 'knows' as many words as the average eight-year-old child, but he is careful to explain that he does not claim Fellow has the intelligence of the same child or of any child. "And yet, perhaps, he does think," Herbert says. "Sometimes in his sleep he stirs and growls just like other dogs, and if he dreams, he must think."

Of course, Fellow may be growling at some stomach complaint, but that theory.

HOKY AND SLIDES Henry L. Farrell

Listen, My Children! IN the absence of any hot news, the space in this department will be filled today with a little story of a baseball pitcher who had one great season, and why he had it.

The pitcher was a nice fellow and absolutely honest. His trouble was that he liked a shot or two and that he couldn't pitch very well the day after he had had his shots.

He went to Philadelphia with his club early in the season. He had dropped three or four games, but he was always particularly effective against the Athletics, and it was a disappointment to his manager when he blew clear out of the park in the seventh inning and lost the game.

After the game Kid Gleason called one of the coaches of the pitcher's team.

Circumstantial Case "DID your fellow kick that game today?" the Kid asked.

"I should say not. You know he wouldn't do a thing like that," the coach answered hotly. "He musta been out last night."

"He was out, and that's the thing. A bunch of rascals here in town said they had the word from him that he was going to pitch today, and to shoot the bankroll that he'd blow. He's always been good against us and they got good prices. I think we'd beat him anyway today, but those stories don't go good in Philadelphia. Better look around a little. We don't want our fellows gettin' any tickets from Landis. I'm sure he didn't, but he'd better be careful where he goes and what he says."

The coach looked up the pitcher in the hotel that night.

"You big (something terrible)," the coach called him. "You'll be gettin' a telegram from Landis, and don't come cryin' to us. We won't sink for any bum that kicks away ball games and tells about it."

"Whaddye mean, kickin' ball games?" the pitcher gulped, turning pale. "I never kicked a game in my life, and you know it."

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

CHUCK CARROLL, the noted football fellow from Washington, may be in there next to Christian Cagle for the West Point next fall. He's trying to decide whether he wants to be a lawyer or a second hobby. Johnny Farrell confesses that he cashed in 75 grand clear on the open title since mid-summer. George Uhle says his late season suspension by the Cleveland cost him 15 cees. The Ebbetts half interest in the Brooklyn ball club was appraised at $833,846 in court. Only the 11 regulars of the Brown University team got varsity football letters. Jimmy McFarlin not $86,600 for five fights this year. An average of $395 a year. Hogan and Cohen, the famous Jint vaudevillians, are now playing basketball. Jim Barrett, the new Harvard football captain, wants to play Princeton again. And they'll be playing again before long. Because Harvard has learned how to defend herself.

Just a Little Talk "YES, I was in that joint last night, and I did take on a lot of balls. There was a beer man in there buying drinks for the house, and I just knocked 'em off as they put 'em up. We didn't say anything about baseball."

"Did you tell anyone you were going to work or what was going to happen?" "Well, now that I remember, some little guy who was hiked asked me if I was going to work the next day, and I told him it was my turn and that I supposed I would work. That's all I said. I didn't say anything else."

The coach gave him a lecture about playing joints and talking to hiked fellows, scared him to death about the call from Landis and the pitcher went on the wagon and won almost 30 games.
