Connection with State authorities and my impression is that the State Government furnishes a part of the money which would go to pay one-third the salary of a trapper. The representative explained that this was the practical method of exterminating wolves...

After a thoughtful consideration of the law on the subject, I reached the conclusion that the Commissioner's Court was authorized to pay for the services of trappers out of the general fund of Eastland County not bounty of $2.00 for each wolf and $1.00 for coyote...

The Government trapper examined to those present that counties to the east, south and west of Eastland County were attempting to destroy wolves, and stated that the amount appropriated by the Government for said purposes was limited, and suggested that if Eastland County wanted to engage in this work, she should do so at once, in order to be able to secure a part of the funds appropriated for said purposes.

Personally, I should like to see Eastland County offer the bounty under the laws of Texas, and also to put on as many as two trappers in order that we may carry forward this work. Many people recognize the fact that the growing of cotton and peanuts may not be profitable in Eastland County, and I really believe that if we could destroy the predatory animals, we would then raise sheep, goats, turkeys and chickens profitably.

When the matter came before the Commissioner's Court for consideration, a number of gentlemen who are the owners of hounds, and others appeared, and in substance urged the court not to make appropriation to secure trappers. One gentleman in particular, who owns hounds, frankly stated that he had never killed a wolf in his life, did not wish to kill them, that he had wolves put up in a pen, than he hoped to raise more wolves and turn them loose in the country in order that he could have wolves to hunt. Some gentlemen present expressed the opinion that many hunters did not really wish to kill the wolves, but simply desired the pleasure of a good chase and hearing the dogs run the wolves. It does seem like that the best interest of Eastland County requires that we should destroy some of these predatory animals in order that farmers and stockmen may profitably grow sheep, goats, turkeys and chickens. Is it really to the best interest of the county that the wolves and coyotes should live upon the sheep, goats, turkeys and chickens of needy people, in order that a few of our citizens may have the pleasure of hunting wolves? It is not the purpose of this article to call in question the good faith of anyone, or to speak derogatory of any one, but to invite thoughtful consideration of this question which so vitally affects the welfare of our people. It is believed that we can grow sheep, goats, turkeys and chickens profitably in this county, and increase the assessed valuation of our property materially by exterminating predatory animals, and at the same time enable many needy people to better their financial condition and supply the actual necessities of life to their families.

And the Gorman Lad Takes The Teething Ring

A few days ago the two-months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Webb, formerly of Eastland, thought he had more living grandparents than any other child in this part of the state.

New comes a tot from Gorman, who claims the title. His string of grandparents and great-grandparents, makes the entry from Eastland look like an orphan.

The Eastland baby had four living grandparents, and five living great-grandparents. Billie Charles Underwood, the new title holder, has four living grandparents, but has seven grandmothers and grandfathers to find his shoes for him.

The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Underwood, and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sims. His great-grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Underwood, and Mrs. Barbara Sims. Nine of his guardians live in German, Mr. and Mrs. Hudson living at Rome.

Adams Hearing Is Recessed Until Monday

DALLAS, Dec. 8.—V. Ray Adams Bartlett, farmer on trial for the murder of Orville Matthews, of the Republic National Bank of Dallas, closed his testimony in his own behalf Saturday by asserting that he believed that Matthews was Ben C. Richards, Dallas insurance man, with whom Adams made a $2,000 election bet, stole the money.

Under grilling cross examination by special Prosecutor R. B. Allen, Adams refused to be shaken in his story of the killing and the events leading up to it. He testified he remembered nothing of what occurred after he fired the second shot, which sent the bank employe to his death.

"In your mind, who do you think stole your money?" asked Maury Hedges, defense attorney when Adams went on the stand on direct examination for the second time.

"Mr. Matthews and Mr. Richards," Adams replied.

After two more defense witnesses had testified following Adams, the defense rested its case and Judge Rippen recessed court until Monday morning when argument will commence.

Lillard Miller, deputy county clerk of McLennan county, the last defense witness today, testified that Vest's name was not listed in the Waco city or telephone directories. Vest is alleged to have collected the $2,000 election bet the day before Adams arrived to get his winnings.

Miller also said there was no Worth hotel, given as Vest's address and that no Ora Millican was listed as a notary public in the county records. Millican was the name of the notary attesting to a letter from W. Tom Ramsey to Matthews, introducing Vest.

Man Panthers Put Blizzards At Cisco

District Championship Crown Won By Eastland County Crew, 13 to 0, Friday.

Blizzards of Winters were the only end of a taste of County's tepid football Friday afternoon at Cisco. The blizzards did not drop the blizzard championship to the Gorms, by the score of 14 to 0. The Gorms are the invading team, to come on ice. The Panthers played some of the prettiest football at times, that has been seen this year, not excepting games of class A foes. Perfect clockwork drives were responsible for the touchdowns of the Cats.

$30,000,000 Couldn't Buy Happiness for the Richest Girl in the World

By NEA Service. MICHIGAN CITY, Ind.—The woman who used to be called "the richest little girl in the world" has discovered once more that $30,000,000 is no insurance against unhappiness.

Catherine Barker Spaulding whom the newspapers of 15 years ago called "America's Bertha Krupp," has filed suit for divorce in Chicago against Howard H. Spaulding, Jr., well-to-do Chicago clubman and lumberman, to whom she was married in 1915. She accuses him of drunkenness, saying that he has been habitually a heavy drinker for two years.

Although she was born into conditions seemingly as fortunate as a girl could ask, this heiress has had a life clouded several times by trouble. Is Left an Orphan. It was in 1896 that Catherine Barker was born, only child of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Barker. Barker was the head of the big Haskell & Barker Car Company plant here, and was extremely wealthy. As a child, Catherine had everything that wealth could bring. She made a number of trips to Europe before she had reached her teens, had private tutors to give her lessons, spent her summers—when not traveling with her parents—at their summer mansion at Harbor Point, Mich., on picturesque Little Traverse Bay. One would have said that life was bound to be very good to her.

But it was not. When she was 14, attending a private school at Detroit, she was called home to the death bed of her mother. Six months after her mother died her father also died. She was an or-tenant in the American army during the World War; after the war they made their home principally in Chicago, although they maintained the magnificent Barker mansion here.

Have No Children. Some time ago rumors were current among their friends here and in Chicago that there were differences and disagreements between the two, but these were believed to have been settled satisfactorily, and the filing of the divorce petition came as a surprise even to close acquaintances. They have no children.

Mrs. Spaulding's father, during his lifetime, was known for his philanthropy, and Mrs. Spaulding followed in his footsteps, giving large sums to various projects here and elsewhere. Three years ago her benefactions won her the papal decoration of Matron of the Military Order of the Holy Sepulchre.

MODERN DAMON IS GIVEN HIS LIBERTY

By United Press. SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 8.—John Crosby Jr., who gave himself as a hostage for his friend, Forrest Whitehead, Del Rio rancher wanted in Mexico following a fight at Villa Acuna and the subsequent death of John Kastner, has been unconditionally freed by Mexican authorities.

Mr. Crosby, the Damon of a modern Damon and Pythias episode, who vouched for his friend, Whitehead, and this was held accountable under Mexican law for the latter, already had been released on bond. Meanwhile Mr. Whitehead took advantage of his freedom to obtain evidence declaring that Kastner's death was due to a hemorrhage and not to blows in the fight—evidence he might not have been able to get had he been behind Mexican jail bars. This proof exonerated him and, in turn, his friend.

BLIND FATHER FINDS LOST BOY

By United Press. HUGO, Okla., Dec. 8.—A blind father at Kent, Okla., was grieving Saturday over the loss of his seven year old son, although late in the day the mystery of the boy's kidnapping Friday was suddenly cleared.

A message from police at Clarksville, Tenn., sent to Sheriff Edils of Choctaw county ended the two-day search for Lewis Edgar, who was snatched from his school room at Soper near here.

Mrs. R. A. Fambrough, who before the death of Lewis' mother had, promised she would care for the son, had the boy and was on the way to her Tennessee home, police learned.

The motive for the manner of securing the boy was not divulged. Lewis Edgar, Sr., the blind man, had lived near the Fambrough family at Clarksville until their removal to Oklahoma in September.

ACCIDENT FATAL TO DALLAS BOY

By United Press. DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 8.—O. S. Boggess Jr., 15, son of O. S. Boggess, vice president of Higginbotham-Bailey - Logan Company was fatally injured Saturday afternoon when the small roadster in which he was riding overturned on the edge of town. His skull was fractured and he died a few minutes later in the hospital.

Three youths were the guests of Manning B. Shannon Jr., in celebration of his 13th birthday when the accident occurred. O. S. Boggess, Jr., Bowen Moore and Frank Lanham were spending the day when late in the afternoon they started in a small roadster to Love field to post a letter.

Manning Shannon was driving he said, and the car overturned when he headed the machine into a ditch to avoid colliding with and, in turn, his friend.

ART AND CRAFT

a Texas artist in oils, gave an interesting and deep study of "Pictures and How to Look at Them." Interpretation of "Art and Craft" most fully given by Mrs. M. H. Hagaman of Ranger, included contrasts, when arts and crafts of different localities of the United States, were presented with special descriptions of the peculiar talents found in the Tennessee Mountains in North Carolina; the Rookwood Potteries in Illinois, and glazed pottery series in Arkansas; lace making, all kinds of skillful handwork and the brilliant weaving of the Indian rugs, each telling its history.

Two wonderful violin solos were presented by Mrs. Grady Pipkin, "Hochstetien"; "Minuet" and "Schoen Rosemarin (Schubert.)" with Mrs. Charles G. Norton at the piano.

The business meeting prefaced the program, and was opened by Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, president.

Report of the Stunt entertainment showed a profit of $72.20 with more to come from individual contributions.

The club voted to co-operate in a coffee sale, with the other Eastland clubs, in order to earn the trophy of a coffee urn, for use of the clubs in the Community clubhouse.

The committee to represent the Thursday Club will be Meses James Horton and A. H. Johnson.

Special thanks were extended Mrs. Earle Johnson, for her assistance in securing the College of Industrial Arts exhibit.

The president announced that four donations of $5.00 each had been made by interested parties for the purchase of a clubhouse clock, on which $4.00 still due, remains to be subscribed.

The clock is a handsome square wall electric clock.

The Thursday club will plant a Xmas tree on the Court House lawn, in cooperation with the Civic League movement.

All members were requested to assist Mrs. Earle Johnson, and Mrs. McGlamery in disposing of Xmas seals in the Public Health campaign.

Transportations expenses of the College of Industrial Arts exhibit were shared between the League and Thursday club.

An investment of the money from the stunt show was discussed. The club voted to sponsor a "Club house Show", and a committee to formulate plans for the same was named, Meses. E. Roy Townsend Carl Springer, and Harry Semple.

The next meeting January third Mrs. Theodore Ferguson will serve as chairman of the program, to be given by the new club members under title, "Around The Calendar With New Books."

The annual election of officers will be held at this meeting.

SOUTH WARD SCHOOL NOTES

Edward E. Layton, principal of the South Ward school, is greatly interested in this the last quarter of the semi-second school quarter, and which carries reports of pupils work, to the parents next Wednesday.

The report should be carefully examined, in order to see if the child is on the safe side on the average of seventy-five on each subject.

Just now, the music committee, Mrs. A. F. Taylor, Miss Green, Mr. Layton, Meses. H. O. Satterwhite and A. J. Campbell, is now ready to place an order for a new Victrola, and the records required for the music memory contest.

Efforts are being made to have everything in readiness to begin memory contest work right after the holidays.

Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Hayes will be in charge of this work.

The individual school rooms, are glowing with decorations in Xmas spirit made by the children, showing their Xmas designs and other holiday features.

Mr. Layton the principal, and teachers who attended the State Teachers Association the past week received fine inspiration from the addresses and general sessions of sectional meetings, as well as from the good fellowship, which could not help but inspire them to greater efforts.

He estimates that twelve thousand teachers were in attendance.
