"SQUIRE" HORN ATTAINS AGE OF 90 YEARS

Celebrates Birthday Anniversary With Family Reunion Of Five Generations.

H. B. (Squire) Horn of Eastland, celebrated his ninetieth birthday last Sunday with a birthday party and family reunion, which was attended by his relatives and friends. The scene of the gathering was a shady oak grove at the picturesque and beautiful Eastland Tourist Park. This has become an annual affair with Mr. Horn and his relatives observed by him and his relatives for the last ten years.

H. B. Horn, affectionately known as "Grand-dad" was born in Leesburg, Ky., on July 22, 1838, and came to Eastland county, September 15, 1875, and settled on what is now known as the "Lue Martin Place" a few miles southwest of Eastland, near the Grapevine community.

In 1904 Mr. Horn was elected justice of the peace of the Eastland precinct. He held this office for 18 years without opposition, and became known as the "marrying justice," having married several thousand during his tenure of office. He resigned about six years ago when his health grew bad and he felt that he was unable to attend to the duties of the office as he thought they should have attention.

Mr. Horn greatly enjoyed the celebration and seemed quite enthusiastic as he talked of the pioneer days of Eastland county. (Continued on Page 2.)

Moody Answers Traducers Tonight, Radio Broadcasts

SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM.
AUSTIN, July 23.—Moody headquarters at Austin announces that Dan Moody will speak at Caps Park, in Fort Worth, tonight at 8:30 o'clock. The speech will be broadcast over Station KFQB, Fort Worth. Preparations are being made for an immense crowd.

Lee Postpones His Eastland Date On Weather Account

YOUNG FOLKS OF GRANDVIEW ANNOUNCE PLAY

Will Present Comedy-Drama, Free Entertainment, in Schoolhouse Next Friday Night.

The young folks of the Grandview community will give an entertainment Friday night at the schoolhouse. The young people have been working on a comedy drama under the direction of Mrs. Tom Tucker, for some time. The play, "Mammy's Lil' Wild Rose," will be put on by a talented group of young folks.

The entire action of the play takes place in the cabin yard of Mammy Celie and Uncle Joe. The orphan, Rose, who has been raised by her gloomy Aunt Hester, is now being made pay for the sorrow her mother's run-away marriage has caused her aunt. The mortgagor on the home falls due, and the holder refuses to renew it unless Rose promises to marry him.

But Rose meets her fate in a young novelist from the city, whom she loves and who loves her in return. The play is rich in humor, having several straight comedy roles. It will keep the audience sitting on the edges of their chairs until the final curtain. No admission charges.

The cast of characters:
Daniel French, from the city—E. B. Clonte.
Lester Van, his chum—Alvis Denton.
Wade Carver, an unwelcome suitor—Barney Browning.
Orphan Jackson, a native Romeo—Aaron Cozart.
Old Joe, "Dac" a fac"—Marvin Jones.
Rose O'May, "Mammy's Lil' Wild Rose"—Clara Goodwin.
Mammy Celie, a black treasure—Charlotte Antha Prestidge.
Hester O'May, Rose's maiden aunt—Pearl Goodwin.
Peggy French, Daniels sister—Zena Brightwell.
Leity Van, her pal—Cleo Cozart.
Babe Jones, a mountain charmer—Nettle Mac Denton.
Mrs. Courtvaine, a lonely woman—Estell Dickey.

Senator Smith Of Breckenridge Seeks Re-election

State Senator Jesse R. Smith of Breckenridge, who has served one term in the Texas legislature and now seeks re-election, is recognized as one of the quiet, strong men of the senate. When he rises to speak he has something to say that never fails to enlist and hold the attention of his colleagues, and because he speaks only on measures of importance to his district or special importance to the state, his views and opinions always carry weight.

Senator Smith is assured of a large share of the Stephens county vote. He should have an equally large proportion of the vote of all other counties in his district, for he has represented all of them faithfully and impartially.

WEAVER WINS FIRST PLACE IN TOURNAMENT

He and Dan Garrett Leaders in Golf Tournament At Ranger. Scores Of Contestants.

ALTHOUGH members of the Ranger Country Club took 12 out of 22 matches with members of the Eastland Golf and Country Club, at the inter-city tournament held at Ranger Sunday afternoon, the Eastland golfers, from the prize standpoint, were successful in their invasion of the Ranger course.

There were 23 matches played in twosomes during the afternoon, but one match was between Ranger players, Abe Shaw and Walter Cash. Cash took the match with a 99 and Show register a 104 for the 18 holes.

Frank Weaver of Eastland was winner of flight one with a score of 75, three strokes above par. Dan Garrett, Eastland, recent winner of the Eastland tournament, was runner up with a score of 77.

Ranger's youthful flash, Ken Russell, who was expected to place high in the first flight dropped into fifth place, with a score of 83. He was matched with John Knox, Jr., Eastland, who shot a 92.

TEXAS EDITORS EXPRESS VIEWS AS TO SENATE

Poll By Mail Shows Connally Leading and Mayfield Likely To Be With Him In Run-Off.

(Editor's Note.—The Dallas Dispatch presents a forecast of the outcome of the Democratic primary one week from Saturday in the races for Governor, lieutenant governor and United States Senator. The forecast is based on estimates of the vote for the different candidates by editors in their respective counties.)

By GLENN PRICER
Senator Earle B. Mayfield and Congressman Tom Connally are in a neck-and-neck race for the runoff in the United States senate race. Connally will possibly lead in the first race and should win easily in the second, as most of the scattering votes are expected to go to him in the second race. Alvin Owsley will be third and Congressman Tom Blanton fourth.

Polled by Letter.
This forecast of the results of the July 28 primary may be fairly accurately made from a poll taken among Texas editors. The Dallas Dispatch has sent out letters to editors throughout the state asking them to make an estimate of how their counties will go in the three most important races.

Replies have been received from 70 counties, including most of the large cities, and accounting for 350,000 votes, probably more than half of the vote which will be cast.

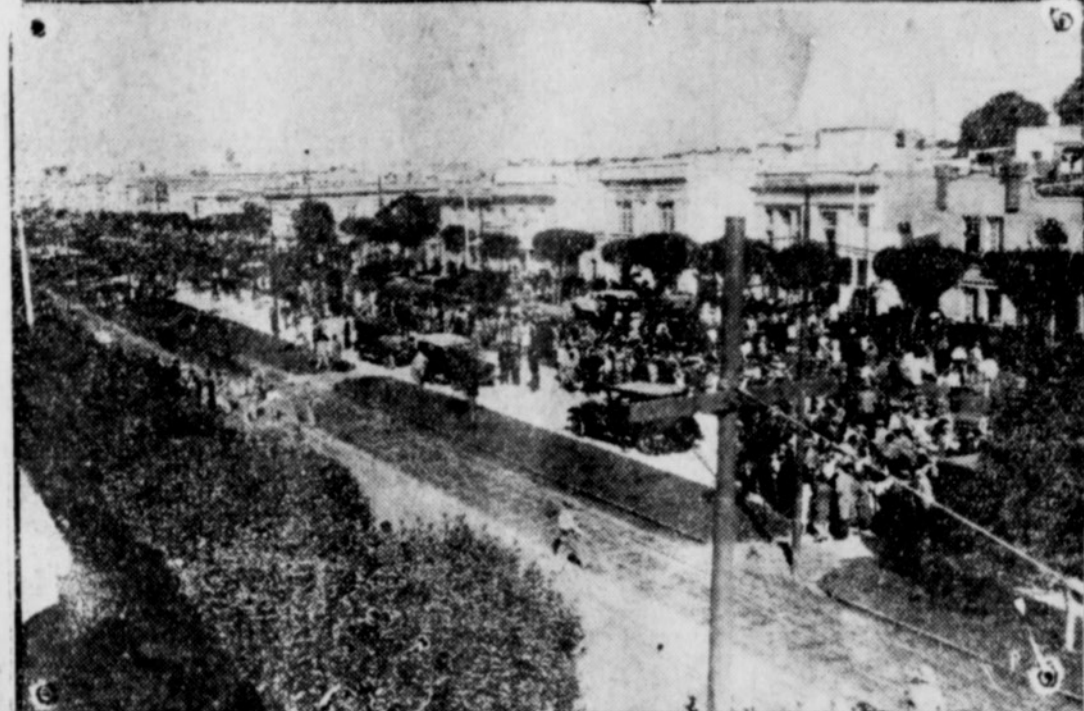

The poll in the senate race shows Connally leading in 27 counties and Mayfield leading in 26. Owsley is leading in four counties and Blanton in six. Mrs. Cunningham is leading in one county and in four counties there is a tie vote either between Mayfield and Connally or between Blanton and Owsley.

Blanton fails to show much strength outside his own congressional district, while Mayfield, Connally and Owsley have good strength in almost every county. Connally is especially strong in his own congressional district and will possibly come out of that district with a majority over all candidates.

The poll of 70 counties shows Connally leading Mayfield by 8275 votes. Editors forecast that Connally will carry the majority of the large cities, including Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio. The poll does not include Waco, which is in Connally's district, and will go for him.

Run-Off Forecast.

WEAVER URGES AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT

County Agent J. C. Patterson Addresses Rotary Club On County Fair and Community Fairs.

"If Eastland is to continue to grow and develop it will be largely because of the development of the agricultural resources of the surrounding section, Joseph M. Weaver, president of the Eastland Rotary Club, told the members of that organization at today's meeting. "The oil and gas business is a broken reed so far as this section is concerned," he said. "I think we may depend on them to a great extent for a number of years, yet, possibly fifteen years, but if this town is to develop into a substantial, thriving city, we must thoroughly develop our splendid agricultural resources," Mr. Weaver said.

Mr. Weaver's talk followed addresses by J. C. Patterson and C. H. Colvin, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, in which they stressed the importance of agricultural development.

Mr. Patterson spoke briefly in connection with the rural community fairs and of the County and state fair. He stated that already more than a dozen of the one-day community fairs had been arranged for in the County. These begin the first week in September and continue for two weeks. Following these the county fair will be held at Eastland, the exhibits for the county fair being taken largely from the various community fairs. The state fair exhibit from Eastland county will be made up from the county exhibitors.

Dr. J. T. Wilson, president of the Warner Memorial University being built in Eastland, told the club of the progress being made in that work. "It was our plan to open the school this fall, but we find that we cannot do that and have deferred opening until 1929. Otherwise our plans have not been changed," Dr. Wilson said.

Among the visitors at today's meeting were: Louie Davis, Ranger; Geo. P. Fee, Cisco; B. H. Peacock, Ranger.

Three Quarters of Inch Rainfall In Eastland Today

Rain began falling at 11:45 o'clock this morning, at noon was pouring down fast and continued to fall until about 12:30 o'clock. The rainfall up to one o'clock measured a little more than three-quarters of an inch.

Some thunder and a little lightning accompanied the rain. Heavy clouds continued in nearly every direction during the early afternoon, and indications were that more rain would fall.

The rainfall was reported general over Eastland county and scattered over West Texas.

FALL'S FAMOUS RANCH MAY GET NEW OWNERSHIP

New Mexico Grazing Domain of 750,000 Acres May Be Sold For $800,000 To Texas Interests.

DENVER, Colo., July 23.—The famous ranch of Albert B. Fall in Southern New Mexico soon will pass from the hands of the former secretary of the interior, according to Clat Mann, president of the Mann Commission company of San Angelo and Dallas, Texas.

Mann said here today that he had contracted for purchase of the Fall ranch for $800,000 in behalf of the Empire company of Texas. The company which plans sheep raising, will not take possession for at least four months.

The Fall ranch, embracing some 750,000 acres, is in one of the best known districts of the Southwest. It lies near Three Rivers, in the Pularosa basin, adjoining the Lincoln national forest and the Mexvalero Indian reservation.

Mann said that Fall decided that affairs of the ranch were too great a burden for him.

Possibilities Of Pecan Cultivation Very Promising

Pecans are the most popular of American nuts, and the most important item in nut exports. Plant breeders have developed from the bitter hard-shelled seedling the choice paper-shell product for which retailers ask eighty cents a pound.

The pecan surpasses all other nuts in the percentage of fat, having 70.7 percent. This is more than six times as much as is contained in round steak and nearly twice as much as is contained in cheese. It is seven times as much as is contained in a boiled egg. It also contains 12.1 percent of protein.

It is now about ninety years since a Spanish named Delmas settled in Pascagoula, Mississippi, and found a nut tree growing wild on his plantation. He liked the nuts, cultivated them, and thus gave the paper-shelled pecan its start in America.

Before his death Luther Burbank declared that if he were a young man, he would go to Texas, and knowing the possibilities of the pecan industry, would devote his life to it. He considered the pecan superior to any other nut and sure to repay well those who give it attention. Pecans can be grafted upon the worthless pignuts, which grow wild in the northern states.

GRISHAM TOURS WESTERN PART OF DISTRICT

Speaks In Several Counties. Party of His Supporters Also Campaign For Him.

More than 100 supporters of Judge R. N. Grisham of Eastland, candidate for Congress, made a tour of the western part of the congressional district Saturday in his behalf. In addition to the Eastland band and numerous citizens of Eastland, there was a big delegation of Abilene citizens in the motorcade. They visited Stamford, Arson, Hamlin and Sweetwater and everywhere they reported a big sentiment in favor of the Eastland man.

Large crowds greeted Grisham at his three speeches Saturday in Jones county. The throng at Hamlin, estimated at more than a thousand, was remarkably demonstrative and several hundred shook hands with the speaker after his address.

His advocacy of a tariff on oil drew the greatest applause as he pointed out how the great imports of foreign oil had taken millions of dollars from the value of West Texas oil and had lessened the development of this section. He favored tariff benefits for farm and ranch products and lower transportation rates on products of the farm and ranch.

Entering upon the final week of campaigning preceding the July 28th primary, Judge Grisham will invade his old home county—Nolan—with three speeches today. He will speak at Roscoe, Blackwell and Mayneal. Tuesday night he will speak in Sweetwater, where he lived for six years before moving to Eastland county. He was formerly district attorney of that district and has hundreds of friends in Nolan county. On Wednesday night he will speak in Abilene. Then he will come back to Eastland county where he will speak three times Thursday—in Rising Star at 10 a. m., in Desdemona at 2 p. m., and in Ranger at 8:30 o'clock Thursday night. He will speak Friday night at 8:30 in Eastland.

EARTHQUAKES RENDER 275,000 HOMELESS

The earthquake in the Balkans have rendered 275,000 persons homeless. During the last week of April the government observatory at Athens recorded as many as a hundred shocks in a day. The cracking of power plants left the falling cities in absolute darkness, and in the midst of it all cold rains fell upon the unhappy refugees. Many of these rushed from their homes with no earthly possessions except sheets snatched from their beds as they rushed to places of safety.

THREE FRENCH FLYERS NOW ON WAY WESTWARD

Hop To Azores, Then Two Hops To U. S., and One Hop To Carry Them Back To Paris.

HORTA, Azores Islands, July 23.—The first round-trip across the Atlantic ocean was successfully under way today, after the arrival here of the French plane La Frigate from Brest.

Lieut. Paulin Louis Jerome Paris, of the French navy, landed his big seaplane here at 2:20 a. m. after a successful flight from Brest, France. The French flyers had been in the air for more than 14 hours on the difficult flight from the French port.

Two companions accompanied Paris and will continue with him in the ship on the next two flights to the United States—either by way of Bermuda or Nova Scotia. It was highly probable that Paris would attempt a non-stop flight back to France—he has been given permission to do so by the ministry of marine—after he lands in the United States.

Naval Mechanic Mared and wireless Operator Cabon accompanied Lieutenant Paris.

Rev. L. R. Hogan Resigns Pastorate Of Church Here

At morning service in the Presbyterian church Sunday, the Rev. L. R. Hogan presented his resignation as pastor of the church. While no date was set for it to take effect, it is understood that it would be in about 60 days. The resignation must first be acted on, however, at a congregational meeting and one has been called for Sunday, August 5.

It is understood that Mr. Hogan is likely to get an appointment as a field evangelist, in which event it is likely that he and his family will continue to make their home in Eastland.

forecast with any degree of certainty which will lead in the first primary, but the figures indicate that there is little doubt but that Mayfield and Connally will be in the runoff.

Mayfield is showing strength in Dallas county, but not such a strength as he did six years ago. Owsley, too, shows strength in Dallas county. Blanton will carry his home town of Abilene by a good vote and Connally will carry Falls county, his home county, with a majority over all.

In Mayfield's home county of Bosque he is shown to be tied with Connally. This county is also in Connally's congressional district.

Mayfield and Connally are running close and will be in the runoff in the second primary. Owsley is running third but with little chance of being in the runoff.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN AND DAYLIGHT SAVING

It is one hundred and forty-eight years since Benjamin Franklin invented or proposed daylight saving to the French government.

The immediate reason was to save in the cost of candles. To aid in putting the daylight saving into effect the church bells were rung every morning at sunrise and coaches except for medical purposes were ruled off the streets at night.

It was his daylight-saving plan that led Franklin to propose the motto, "Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise."

Diogenes, Put Your Lantern Away Two Boys Prove There IS Hope

RICHMOND HILL, Long Island N. Y.—Two Boy Scouts—Frank Bennett and Charles Miller—walked into the police station here and shoved a roll of currency across the desk to Sergeant Edward Brady, who was on duty.

"Here's $140. We found it, but it doesn't belong to us."

The circumstances in this case were to Sergeant Brady just a part of the day's work. With few words he learned—and entered it in his blotter—that the boys were pupils at Public School No. 57, Richmond Hill, Queens, and that, while they were on their way to a store, they found a package in a store, upon opening it, discovered a roll of currency.

Straight to the police station they took it. When all this was written, Sergeant Brady looked squarely out at the boys.

"Thank you," he said. "Asked about it over the telephone, Sergeant Brady said: 'There's nothing mysterious about it. The boys were simply honest, and that's all there is to it. I don't see why everyone should regard it as an unusual thing that a boy should return money that doesn't belong to him. These youngsters were only living up to what they had been taught.'

At the time this was written, there is $140 in currency at the police station, awaiting its rightful owner.—Christian Science Monitor.

Preliminary to the Big Fight

The steel of pride kept a mock smile on their faces when they were together and neither guessed what the other was suffering.

Virginia's boat sailed at noon one bleak November and Nathaniel was not present to bid her farewell. He had purposely gone out of town to avoid this moment. To Virginia it was a gesture of callousness.

But that night, after she had done her best to be an ideal hostess, she admitted in a moaning whisper to her pillow that she couldn't have endured the parting if Niel had come to the boat.

She spent a sleepless night and appeared on deck the next morning looking pale and exhausted. There were few to comment upon her appearance, however, and those who did take notice accounted it to a result of the gale they had run into.

Virginia received their chaffing good naturedly and permitted them to believe she had suffered from seasickness.

She was very busy that morn-

And it was all so futile, he thought. For what could she buy to match the jewels of the sky? Gems were only to look at. Why did men lay down their lives to acquire precious stones when they had but to walk out into the night and look upward to see the greatest gem collection human eyes could behold?

And a daisy in a window box could mean more to a happy heart than orchids or roses to misery. Nathaniel knew. He was unable to believe that a mortal could be nappy who loved material things more than his soul, and anyone who thought he could was due to make a sad discovery, he added in his mind.

"If I'd lost her because she loved someone else I could still respect her," he thought bitterly. It had cost him dearly to discover, as he believed he had, that Virginia lacked appreciation of her soul. She had been a shining light of truth and beauty to him, an inspiration, and now she had turned his heart to a lump of mud.

His mural work was suffering. The face of his central figure was taking on a hard, worldly expression that Nathaniel knew would ruin him if he could not correct it. And he could not.

He was working now on a contract he had received as a result of his success with his first serious endeavor in art. It was a bad time for him to lose faith in mankind... the one person he could have staked his life upon as being real was a fraud.

His bitterness was reflected in his work. It was driving him to distraction, for when he could not lose himself in his work he could not forget Virginia, even for a moment.

Sleep had departed and he was haggard and disheveled. His only measure of solace was found in tramping through the streets from dusk to dawn, as he was doing now, finally returning to the studio to drop exhausted and fully clothed upon his bed.

Chiri assiduously thrust her sympathy upon him, persisting in spite of his rebuffs, until he paid no further attention to her.

While he tramped, and followed a far-off ship with poignant long- ing, this girl who had patiently stalked the man she wanted, was waiting, knowing that sooner or later the night would come when he would return before dawn and feel the need of someone who could understand.

DODGE BROS. INTRODUCE NEW SCHOOL BUSES

Four-Wheel Hydraulic Brakes And Six-Cylinder Engines Featured.

Introduction of a new line of six cylinder Graham Brothers, school buses with carrying capacities of 18 to 52 children and having im- proved safety features, riding com- fort and increased power, has been announced by the motor coach di- vision of Dodge Brothers, Inc. Four wheel Lockheed hydraulic brakes making for operating safety, and four-speed transmission are fea- tures of the new buses. Larger school districts can be served with the buses in less time, it is claimed. Beauty in color and general appearance has been emphasized on all models. The exteriors are fin- ished in blue from the lower belt molding to the roof. Lower sides are finished in Colorado tan, and the roof is black. Interiors are finished in dark green with white ceilings.

With the body and chassis both designed and built within Graham Brothers plants, a proper relation of each to the other has been ef- fected. Seating arrangements have been designed with maximum com- fort and roominess considered. Measurements of children of all ages were taken to find actual room they required, and the best combination of installing seats lengthwise or crosswise. The sur- vey, which is the first one of its kind ever attempted, produced re- sults far different from the esti- mate of seating capacities hereto- fore used in the industry. All seats are of leather with spring cush- ions and heavily padded seat backs.

A high degree of safety in opera- tion has been attained by the gen- eral construction of the buses. A full vision windshield affords the driver unobstructed view at all times. The entrance door is on the right front side, and is controlled by a lever which can be operated only by the driver. An emergency door at the rear is equipped with a safety device to prevent unau- thorized opening, and the rear step folds up when not in use.

Introduction of the line follows marked public approval of Graham Brothers school buses last year, in which a sales gain of 36 per cent, in which a sales gain of 36 per cent, These figures are regarded all the more important when statistics show that at the close of 1927 school buses comprised approxi- mately 42 per cent of total bus registrations in the country. of the ship turned to her for instructions whether or not it lay in her line of duty to advise and assist them.

They were all under orders and a promise of a bonus to make the cruise a memorable one and they knew Virginia Brewster's back- ground and that she represented the standard of hospitality the Blue Capella wished to establish on the Agena.

There was little time for Vir- ginia to think of her own troubles. For as she began to make acquain- tances among the passengers she found that not a few of them ex- pected to make her a repository for tales of woe that they consid- ered very dreadful but which caused Virginia to smile.

Trouble with servants! Trouble with obesity! Trouble with the sources of supply and what vile stuff it was when you got it!

Virginia listened politely but al- ways got away as soon as she could. She was grateful at these times for her many and varied duties that afforded her pretexts for excusing herself.

By the time they reached Cuba and steamed into the historic har- bor of Havana she had recovered from the first pain of Nathaniel's failure to bid her bon voyage. Her chief emotion now was one of agonized suspense. Would she find "Oddly" Leigh? And if she did would he help her?

It set her frantic when some of the passengers remarked that they wished the Agena would stay in the harbor a few days longer than the Itinerary called for and spoke of asking the cap- tain to make the change.

Haiti would be their next stop. Any unnecessary delay in getting there would be unbearable for Virginia. Her limit of endurance was already reached by the extra demands made upon her time and strength while they were in Ha- vana.

On the last night in port there was a roof dinner given to the captain. The guest of honor showed a decided disposition to mon- opolize the attentions of the ship's hostess and so Virginia found her- self compelled to dance with an old seadog whose steps might have been perfect on a heaving deck but impossible to follow on a dance floor.

She was sure it pleased certain of the wives to see her so dispo- sed of and accordingly made no effort to induce him to choose another partner. It was his night and he knew it.

But it filled her heart with sad- ness to be whirling around in his arms under the low-hung moon and brilliant stars of a land that was fashioned for romance.

If only she could close her eyes and imagine she was dancing with Niel! But when she tried it she promptly got her toes stepped on and the illusion, if it had existed, was instantly dispelled.

It was a very gay crowd, except for those who had walked too much in the tropical sun and drunk too much beer at the Tropi- cal Gardens.

The roof was a garden of the palms and flowers and the deli- cately-colored buildings of the city below stretched out to a moon-shimmering sea like a wa- ter color painting.

The beautiful evening dresses the women wore and the white dress suits the men had donned were in perfect harmony with the scene, but Virginia wished she could stand a moment at the para- pet and be alone with the spirit of beauty that hovered over the city.

There was laughter; there were toasts, stories and music.

And far away, under a cold northern sky, a man tramped for miles and miles in a great city's midtown park and thought of a ship at sea with a girl whose heart was laid down in worship at the feet of Mammon.

PERTINENT REMARKS

S. S. Baker: "The pulpit in many instances needs to be lifted above the sordid mass thinking of the crowd, and not lowered commensurately to the level of street discussion or drawing-room chatter."

A. C. Penney: "The employee in any industry is more valuable to his organization when he lets ethical alone. I don't think any employee of labor will question that fact."

William T. Scanlon: "Yes, the eighteenth Amendment interferes with personal liberty—and so do the Ten Commandments."

Sir Reginald Macleod: "No investment is so good that it may not lose from time to time—and at the right time—be bettered."

W. S. Hodges: "No scientific discovery is a failure; the worst that can be said of it is that the discovery was made too soon."

PARNELL SLAM AT "BOLTERS" IS A FEATURE

Says Hoover Owns Stock in Canadian Club Whiskey—'Why Join Him?'

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, July 20.—Birth of two new political parties retaining only the names of democrats and republicans is apparently threatening in Texas.

Former prominent democrats are openly organizing and declaring for Herbert Hoover. Former influential republicans are openly organizing and declaring for Smith.

How serious the deflection will be in either case remains to be seen. The republican high water mark in Texas is 294,979 votes cast for Butte for governor. If the real opposition to Smith is religion and not his prohibition views, that should approximate the possible republican vote for Hoover. Butte's vote was based on Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson's anti-klan declarations.

Of course the republicans will not lose that many by defection. They haven't that many to lose. The revolting republican leaders claim they can carry 25,000 to Smith. Taking that 25,000 from the 294,000 leaves less than 270,000 votes for Hoover. The democratic vote when Butte received the 294,000 was 422,588. Practically 250,000 more votes must be changed to give the republicans a chance of carrying Texas.

Former State Senator J. D. Parnell, candidate for lieutenant governor, has opened the attack on the "bolters." At Austin this week he charged Hoover with being a heavy stockholder in Canadian Club whiskey. He stressed also Andrew Mellon's distillery interests.

"Why join their party?" Parnell demanded of the ultra-drys. Women's votes are expected to form the majority of those who switch parties. This is not only because of the activities of women's organizations for prohibition but because women have more recently become voters and do not have the habit and training of party regularity that holds many men in line.

What will become of the negro vote if the parties realign is giving many politicians a topic for study. With party strength nearly even in Texas they could be made the controlling influence.

The former Texas law calling for a white democracy primary having been held unconstitutional, the new law permits the state executive committee to bar the negroes. Now that law is being attacked. It is due for hearing in federal court in Harris county today. It is considered significant that Attorney General Pollard has declined to intervene in the proceedings, according to the democratic county chairman there.

A new explanation has been found for the failure of many candidates to file first campaign expense accounts with the secretary of state within the specified time. Stationary houses are selling old blenks prepared in accordance with former laws. These blank expense accounts carry the direction to file them with the county clerk. Many candidates did so. District and state candidates should file with the secretary of state.

Governor Moody's election proclamation issued this week is the 2,096th such proclamation issued in Texas.

It calls for the election of 355 people on Nov. 6. There are 20 "electors" to be named to cast Texas' vote for president and vice president. There are 16 state senators to be elected, 150 state representatives, one U. S. senator, 69 district judges, three criminal district judges, 51 district attorneys and four criminal district attorneys in addition to state officers, higher court officers and congressmen.

All district attorneys, come up for election this year "as their terms are two years. This includes the special criminal district attorneys for Harris, Dallas and Tarrant counties and the criminal district attorney for the district composed of Cameron, Kenedy, Kleberg, Nueces and Wilbrey counties. One judge is to be elected for the supreme court, and the eleventh, where two are to be named.

Figures compiled by the Texas election bureau in making its plans to cover the election returns show that in the democratic primary this month there are nine contested races for state offices, 11 for congress, 13 for state senate and 86 for the state house of representatives. There are nine women candidates—one for U. S. senator, one for governor and seven for representatives.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

Land Pays For Itself In Year
HEREFORD, July 20.—Deaf Smith county lays claim to a remarkable record in wheat lands for the year 1928, according to the agricultural committee of the Hereford chamber of commerce.

"Grandpa" Womble, a resident of this county for many years, less than one year ago, sold a 160 acre tract of land to Harry Elam of Wildorado. The land was sold at $25 on the crop payment plan, which calls for the payment of one-half of the crops produced each year. This is generally figured as taking about six years to pay for the land.

Mr. Elam broke the land out in wheat. According to conservative wheat growers, the crop on this place will produce about fifty bushels per acre this year. Mr. Elam states that the crop raised, will pay the purchase price of the land, the expenses of breaking, seeding and all other expenses incidental in making the crop. In addition, he expects to get $5 per acre profit for himself.

WILL HAVE SINGING
There will be a "singing" at Pleasant Grove, the first Sunday in August, and everyone is invited.

Interest in singing is growing and it is hoped that Pleasant Grove will join the league, which already consists of Colony, Morton Valley, Yellow Mountain and Mangum. Many singers of the league are expected at the Pleasant Grove meeting.

If that legless aviator fails to fly the Atlantic at least he'll have no kick coming.

Associate Justice, Place No. 2, 11th Court of Civil Appeals—B. W. PATTERSON.
County Commissioner, Precinct One—V. V. COOPER (Re-election), J. T. SUE, LON TANKERSLEY.
Conn'y—Clerk—H. J. JONES.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

MOM'N POP

Another Little Drink Won't Do Him Much Harm

"This prohibition business is all right," declared Napoleon, who is playing a long engagement as the star chimpanzee of the Philadelphia zoo. "I haven't seen a case of intoxication around here since Mr. Volstead made this country fit for camels. You never see ostriches going around sticking their heads into the sand any more. Lady owls no longer sit up all night waiting for their husbands. Even the snakes here in the zoo are getting so they can travel in a straight line, and I haven't seen a monkey hanging on a lamp post in years. Yes, sir, prohibition's all right. But as for soda pop—that's a different matter. Make the next one orange, will ya?"

FARMING CLASS SHOULD HAVE A REPRESENTATIVE

CISCO, July 21.—"The situation looks more encouraging every day, and despite reports to the contrary I cannot discover where any of my opponents have made any inroads on my support." This is the way Col. R. Q. Lee, candidate for congress from this district summed up the situation when he returned to his home here for the week-end.

Mr. Lee is very emphatic in his statement that the farming class should be better represented in congress. He declared that the south, an outstanding agricultural section, has never sent an outstanding advocate of better farming conditions to the national government.

"The brilliant men of the south and southwest who have been in Washington," he said, "have been devoting their thought and energy for more than 50 years to reconstruction, tariff, free silver, world war, the League of Nations and foreign relations to the evident disadvantage of their farming constituents at home.

"If I am elected to congress," he said, "my time will be devoted very largely to a study of better agricultural program and more economy in the administration of our national government." He pointed out that dispatches out of Washington following adjournment of the recent congress revealed the fact that congress made appropriations aggregating approximately $9,000,000,000, by far the most expensive peace time congress in history. He pointed out further that the appropriations for 1919 were nearly $700,000,000 in excess of the appropriations for 1927 and that this excess alone is equal to the total cost of the national government in 1914.

Wheat Booms Texas Towns
AMARILLO, July 10.—The bumper wheat crop of the Texas panhandle has caused several towns to take on the appearance of oil boom towns.

Hansford and Ochiltree counties are producing one third of the Texas wheat crop this year, while the panhandle area will produce 8 of the wheat grown in Texas.

Elevators are brimming full of the golden grain and more than 1,000 railroad cars are in service carrying the grain to market. Spearman, Hansford county, two weeks ago had a production of 1,700. Its population has jumped to 3,000 as a result of the wheat harvest. Beds are at a premium every night.

Even the counties are making money on the crop. Potter county commissioners announced that wheat produced on 100 acre of land owned by the county enriched the county's coffers by $2,000.

At Spearman, Perryton, Huntton, Hooker and other towns all elevators are filled and grain has been piled on the ground to await shipment.

Bank deposits in the panhandle have increased more than 100 per cent in the past month. In addition to wheat, other small grain crops are producing bumper yields. Barley is producing from 40 to 75 bushels per acre and bringing 65 cents a bushel. Oats are averaging 60 to 75 bushels per acre.

Why is it that so many of the men folks prefer to take their vacations at the sea-side?

ONE DIAMOND MINE IN U. S.

ST. LOUIS, July 21.—The only diamond mine in the North American continent is located in the Ozarks near the town of Murfreesboro, Pike county, Ark.

The Ozark Diamond Pipe constitutes a hole in the ground 77 acres in extent and shaped like a goose egg. A public road ran across this diamond field for nearly 100 years before diamonds were discovered there.

The pipe produces about 18 carats of diamonds to 100 loads of dirt. A load is figured as 16 cubic feet, weighing 100 pounds. Approximately 20,000 diamonds have been found to date, it is reported. The largest one weighs 20 1-2 carats.

Irate Woman Fan Uses Umbrella

J. Monroe Sweeney, most popular of all football referees in the Oil Belt, had an unusual experience the other day when the courteous and gallant Irishman had to retreat before an indignant baseball fan who was a member of the fair sex. The incident is thus described in the Fort Worth Record-Telegram:

"It seems that Sweeney was officiating in a game at Portland on ladies' day. Sweeney made a decision that did not please one of the fair fans.

"She charged him, beating him over the head with her parasol and forced him to retreat into the players' dugout for protection."

Boys, Girls Will Shoot in Match

Hundreds of boys and girls, many of them only twelve years old, have entered the junior events of the National Rifle Matches to be held at Camp Perry, Ohio, in August and September.

In the past a number of youngsters have entered the great marksmanship derby on the shores of Lake Erie, but most of them have been the sons of officers of the Army, Navy or Marine corps.

Since the organization of the new Junior Rifle Corps, sponsored by the N. R. A., shooting has caught on like wildfire. There are now junior teams in every state in the union, and most of the high schools take part in local rifle competitions.

The unofficial motto of the N. R. A. junior leaders is "catch 'em young," for they realize that most champions have started on the road to fame while still in their "teens."

Beauty Parade, At Lake Worth

Casino Park on Lake Worth is planning to care for thousands of visitors Sunday, July 29 for the annual bathing girl revue. Casino Park, the "Atlantic City of the Southwest," will present between 75 and 100 beauties in the parade and contests which will be held both afternoon and night.

Any city, commercial or civic organization, industrial concern, studio, school or county is eligible to enter contestants. Entries should be sent to the revue director, Miss Jessie P. Street, 303 Continental Building, Fort Worth.

First prize will be a round-trip to California with all expenses paid. Second prize will be a paid trip to Colorado. Third prize will be $100. Three prizes of $50 each will also be given.

A dinner in honor of the contestants will be given at 6 p. m. on the day of the revue.

Last year about 75 girls were seen in the revue and a larger number will be presented this year according to E. C. Furnas, manager of Casino Park.

The program for the day will be ended with a gigantic fireworks display. The display will cost several thousand dollars.

W. T. C. C. Gives Cisco Publicity

Cisco received splendid publicity in the latest issue of West Texas Today—the official publication of the West Texas chamber of commerce. There was a double-page spread of pictures in the middle of the magazine, showing the big dam, lake, bathing beach, new hotel and other Cisco sights.

Other interesting features, including views of the Fort Worth convention and the first message of the new president, "Andy" Bourland, were contained in the magazine.

ORGANIZE POLO TEAM

MIDLAND, July 20.—A polo team is being organized in this city and games with nearby cities are expected to be scheduled within the next sixty days, according to Leon Goodman, president of Midland chamber of commerce. Midland residents have agreed to raise $500 a month to support the organization. "We will employ a coach and bring in regular polo ponies. Every one in the country rides, as there will be no trouble in finding plenty of material," Goodman declared.

The first game has already been scheduled with Sweetwater.

fought only in flashes against Johnny Risko, losing a 15-round decision.

World-Beater and Bum Those two haphazard efforts cost Sharkey a bout with Tunney and thousands of dollars. Sharkey regained himself in his next bout and knocked out Jack Delaney in 73 seconds, catapulting himself back to the top of the contenders, only too late to get the big chance.

One night Sharkey is a world-beater; the next night a bum. If Sharkey should happen to get his title shot on one of his good nights a new heavyweight champion is quite likely to be crowned.

The following are Sharkey's three best fights and in all of them he resembled a coming champion:

1926—Won on foul, 13th round from Harry Wills. 1927—Knocked out Jim Maloney in five rounds. 1928—Knocked out Jack Delaney in 73 seconds.

The following are Sharkey's three worst fights and in all of them he looked as if he couldn't take it: 1924—Knocked out by Romero Rojas in nine rounds. 1927—Knocked out by Jack Dempsey in seven rounds. 1928—Defeated by Johnny Risko in 15 rounds.

Animus Toward Tunney. Sharkey has a natural animosity towards Tunney and openly predicts he'll knock out the champion if he ever meets him. Sharkey boasted he'd knock out Maloney and Delaney and he lived up to his word.

Tunney says Sharkey is a "coward at heart," and Sharkey says Tunney is afraid to meet the logical contender. "Tunney handjicked Heene for his opponent," Sharkey says, "because he know he couldn't whip me or Risko. This isn't the first time Tunney refused to meet me. He hoisted the white flag and ran out of a match with me at Madison Square Garden, March 17, 1926, picking on Dan Dowds, Italian Jack Herman and Bartley Madden, a bunch of set-ups.

A British rubber paving block company has been formed, with the idea of selling such roads for special "quiet areas" such as around hospitals, historic buildings and bridges.

SURE HE'D WIN

IOWA CITY, Iowa, July 20.—If confidence counts for anything George H. Blair, star University of Iowa quarter-miler, should be a big help to the United States in winning the 1,600-meter relay at the Olympic games at Amsterdam.

University of Iowa friends tell a story of Blair's first race. When a boy of 10 at Grand Island, Neb., George one day heard that there was going to be a 100-yard dash for boys. A rabbit was to go to the winner. Straight home went little George to start building a pen for the rabbit.

House of David Torn Again By Troubles King Ben Left

By NEA Service.
BENTON HARBOR, Mich.—The turmoil that "King Ben" Purnell created during his life lives after him.

The House of David, much-attacked cult that the long-haired leader took through an endless round of trouble, notoriety and dissension, is still in a ferment, although Purnell himself has been in his grave for months.

Latest in the chain of rows to disturb the colony is a bitter fight between "King Ben's" widow, Mary Purnell, and H. T. Dewthirst, lawyer-member of the sect, for control of the remnants of the once-powerful organization.

Dewthirst has been gathering the reins into his hands. And now "Queen Mary," as the colonists used to call her, has filed suit in the circuit court here for an injunction to restrain Dewthirst and his aides from selling colony "literature," which does not bear her name. When Purnell lived, all the tracts, pamphlets and doggers distributed by the colony was in the name of "Mary and Benjamin."

Mary's suit is a counter-attack to an offensive originally launched by Dewthirst. The board of control, which Dewthirst controls, not long ago voted to oust Mary as a trustee. The three or four hundred members of the colony are said to be about evenly divided on the matter.

Fist fights and rioting have marked clashes between the rival factions, and Governor Green of Michigan is considering asking the courts to appoint a temporary receiver until present litigation involving the future of the colony.

Above is the first posed picture of "Queen Mary" Purnell to be taken in ten years. Below is H. T. Dewthirst, now fighting her for control of the colony.

BUSINESS MAN IS PRAISED AS BIG ORIGINATOR

Auto Official Attacks "Intelligent" As Having Inferiority Complex

NEW YORK, July 20.—Is the American business man really the crass, materialistic, unimaginative Babbitt that his critics, the so-called intelligentsia, declare him to be? Or is he a great creative adventurer, blazing a romantic trail of progress in an age when the arts are befuddled and sterile?

He is the latter, "the greatest creator of his age, if not of all time," says J. D. Mooney, vice-president of the General Motors Corporation, who reserves the usual procedure and makes a scathing indictment of modern artistic and intellectual activities in an article written for the August issue of Century magazine.

"The urge to perpetuate himself in his works is the trait that distinguishes man from the lower animals," the industrial points out. But, he holds, men have expressed themselves in the arts for many centuries until "today little remains to satisfy the creative urge in the recognized arts beyond an occasional interpretation into modern terms of things that have gone before. To an increasing degree, standardization and mass-production are the horrible by-words that mark the output of current artistic inspiration."

Money Not Inspiration
Meanwhile, he believes, great industrial and business projects have attracted the potent creative talent which would have gone into art in past eras by offering a comparatively uncharted field for self-expression. Such men, he holds, do not work for the fortunes they build, but for the self-satisfaction of creating railroads, globe-circling enterprises and great enterprises and great philanthropies.

Mooney blandly accuses the "intelligentsia" of exercising an inferiority complex in its ridicule of the business world. "The superficial critic makes a subconscious acknowledgment of inferiority when he views the tremendous responsibilities and ramified complexities of the business man's daily tasks," he asserts. "He gins cause for envy in the substantial-

GIRL, 5, PIANO PLAYER NEVER TOOK A LESSON

NEA Indianapolis Bureau

FIVE-YEAR-OLD Lillian Mae Caze of Evansville, Ind., never had a music lesson, but she can play any piece she has ever heard on the piano. Her mother says no one in either parent's family displayed any such talent.

Lillian Mae doesn't know how she does it herself.

"My fingers just go to the right place—I don't know why," she says. The little girl has been playing almost ever since she was able to stand. One Sunday, after church, she amazed her parents by playing a hymn that they had heard that morning.

ty of the business man's creative endeavors.

"I know a man who has built a railroad, thrown a few bridges across streams and erected a dam that turned arid wilderness into a land of flowers and grain," his Century article continues.

"But when he comes home he finds an atmosphere charged with a sense of superiority that he does not quite understand. For Mother is doing worth-while things. She meets with a little group of serious thinkers to abolish war or eradicate the social evil. Sister has taken up painting in the free, untrammelled manner of the new school, and Brother sits up nights writing indictments of the American peasantry. Last week Father had to sit through a soiree at which the latest neo-psychiatrist expounded his views on the sublimation of the unconscious. When it was over the lady next to him turned and said, 'Oh, Mr. Jones, don't you wish you could do something constructive? To me that man is a hero if ever one lived.'

Whoofus Whiffletree's Woozy Wonderings

Two members of the oil belt district will present new coaches next fall. Dave Pena, who coached the Eastland Mavericks for two seasons, did not apply for re-election last spring. Fans will be interested to know that he has become connected with the Prairie Oil & Gas company and recently was given a promotion which resulted in his transfer to Independence, Kan. Football followers of the oil belt regret the departure of the big coach from this section. With light and inexperienced material—and not a great deal of that—he produced two fighting teams for Eastland High. He will be succeeded in Eastland by Gibson, former assistant coach of Abilene.

The other coaching change will, of course, be in Ranger, where Blair Cherry and Wallace Davis have resigned and their successors are yet to be selected. Cherry will coach at North Side, Fort Worth. He expects to bring his team to Ranger for a game—but not until '29. "Only two letter men back from last season," he said, "a tackle and a halfback." Davis will go to Bryan High, Dallas. This is the school where Paul Erney, one of the best known coaches in the state, has been coaching for the past two seasons. For a number of years Erney coached Cleburne and the Yellow Jackets always went high.

The Abilene Reporter's "Morning Muse," intimates there may be a third change in coaches in the district. However, the newspaper of that city some time ago published the news that the coach there had signed up for next fall.

our recent comment on the conference schedule particularly as it applies to Ranger and Eastland. He discusses the complaint with an airy wave of the hand but as a matter of fact there are too few schools in the district and there are too many gaps in the schedules of various schools. Either a concerted effort should be made to get one or two more members for the oil belt district or else the opening of the conference season should be delayed until real football weather begins to turn the leaves to brown and there is an invigorating tingle in the air each morn—which is around Oct. 20.

VOTE FOR OSCAR CALLAWAY OF COMANCHE For Congress

17TH. CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT
He Can Serve You Now
HE HAS HAD THE EXPERIENCE

It will take any new man in Congress two years to learn how to get measures through. TWO YEARS FROM NOW WILL BE TOO LATE to help many of the farmers, stockmen and oil men of this section.

Unless some form of "Farm Relief" is effected the abandonment of the farm will soon become a national calamity.

Farm relief can be accomplished by Legislation if you will send men to Congress who have a genuine sympathy for the farmer and stockman and who have the capacity to frame proper laws and the experience to get them through Congress.

Just as the Financial and Industrial groups of the United States have protected their interests by sending men to Congress who know their needs, so can the farming industry be protected when represented by a man in real sympathy with the farmer who at the same time has the ability and experience to farm and put through legislation in its favor. Oscar Callaway has these qualifications.

Oscar Callaway is an actual farmer. When the price of your chickens, your turkeys, your cotton, your grain, your cattle or your wool slumps, the price of his slumps too. There is no farm problem that is not his problem every day by experience.

Mr. Callaway has the capacity to devise helpful legislation for the farmer and stockmen and the vision to know hurtful legislation when he sees it.

Mr. Callaway's six years experience in Congress will enable him to serve you now.

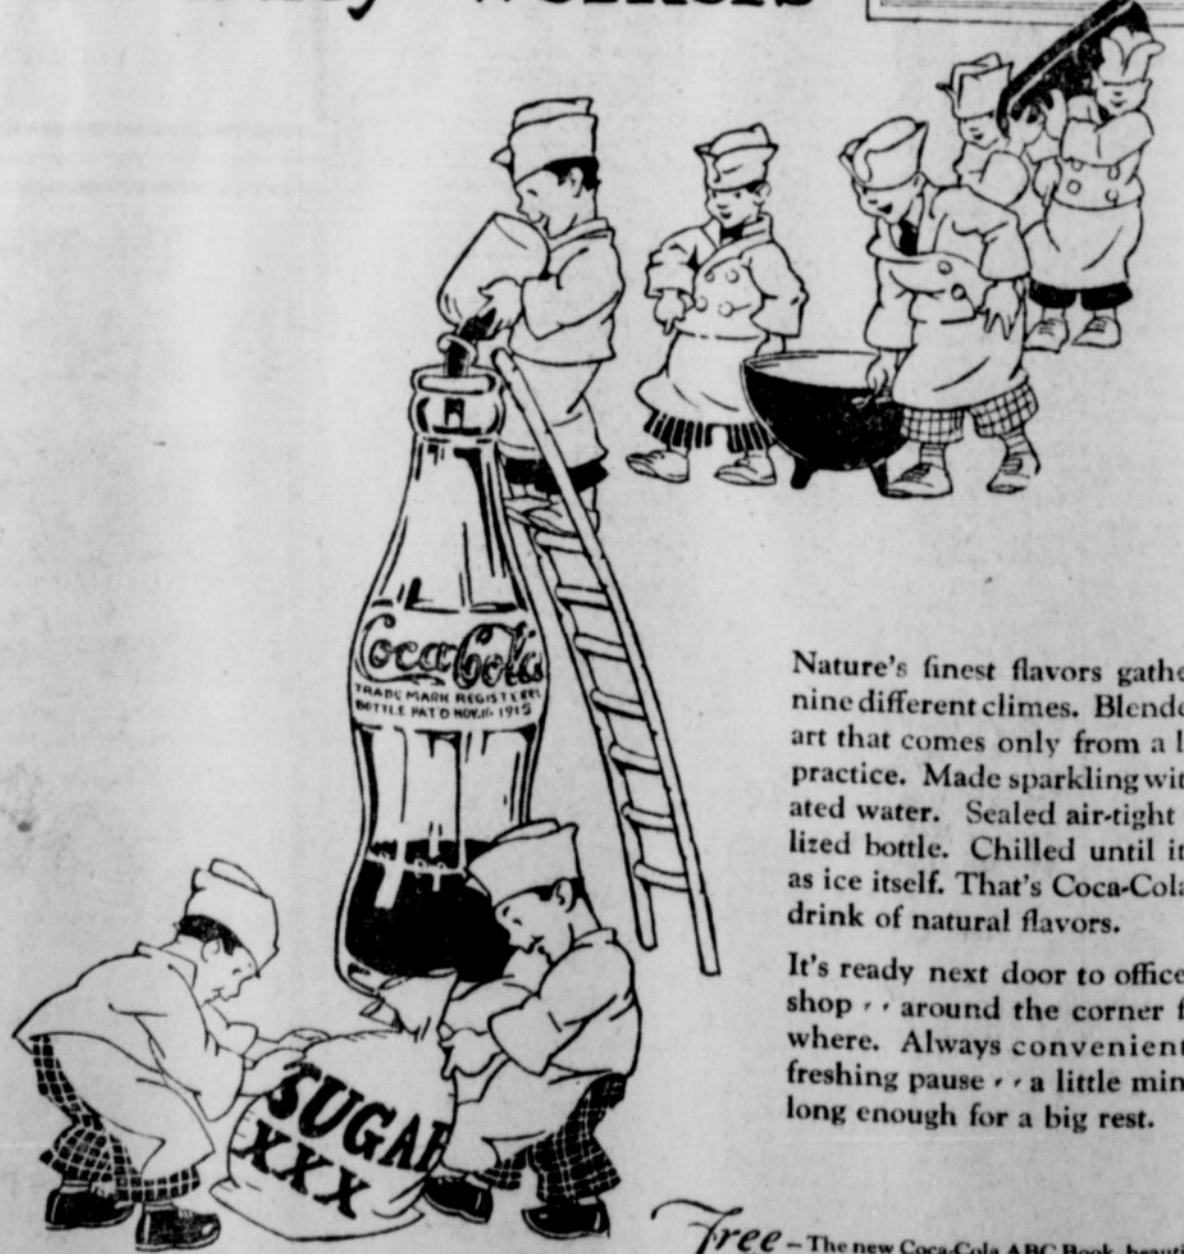

Mr. Callaway opposes the tendency to turn over to Boards and Commissions the powers which belong to Congress, and favors the return of such powers to those directly responsible to the people. One Commission has given away the water rights to the people on the water shed of the Colorado River to a great power grabbing concern. ASK BROWNWOOD. Another Board, by a misleading report, caused thousands of dollars less to the farmers of this district on cotton last year. LET'S STOP THIS AND STOP IT NOW.

Mr. Callaway favors modification of the Federal Reserve Banks to better serve farming interests. Two years from now is too long to wait.

In the readjustment of the tariff laws, Mr. Callaway favors the protection of the farmer, the stockman and the oil interests of this section. He helped to place a tariff on wool in his former service in Congress; YOU WILL NEED HIM IN CONGRESS when the tariff is readjusted again.

How Rescue Came to Lost Flyers

A thrilling chapter in the story of the Italia tragedy is pictured here. Marooned on an arctic ice floe, all hope of rescue abandoned, two officers of Nobile's crew kept a month-long vigil beside the frozen body of a companion. Then the plane of the Russian flyer Chukhnovsky came out of the fog and circled above them as they waved frantically. Rescue came later when the icebreaker Krassin reached them. Left to right are pictured Fin Malmgren, who died; Captains Filippe Anoi and Adalberto Mariano.

Review of Texas Cotton Crop Carries Burden of Caution Versus Optimism

AUSTIN.—During the past month the cotton situation has been largely a struggle between rather unfavorable crop-growing conditions on the one hand and an unusually poor period for the textile industry on the other, according to Bervard Nichols, editor of the Texas Business Review, issued monthly by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas. Moreover, he explained, mills in Europe are complaining of the continued dull business and the poor demand for cloth in India and China.

"Weather conditions in the eastern belt have been somewhat unfavorable to the crop, but in the western areas plants have made excellent growth," he said. "Higher temperatures obtaining in Texas after the May rains have greatly benefited the crop so that plants for the most part have overcome the handicap of a late start. Soil moisture is sufficient in most sections of the State for the next few weeks at least and less complaint is heard of grassy and weedy fields. Plants are blooming profusely and shedding is very light. Boll weevil damage is considerably less than was expected, but this insect has ample time before the summer is over to destroy a large part of the crop. Some root rot and other diseases are showing up in a few places. Acreage in the State this year was increased about nine per cent, to 18,000,000 acres, and harvesting is progressing in southern counties.

"In the last few months, the unfavorable growing crop has been the chief market influence. Possibly this factor has been somewhat over-emphasized and too little attention has been directed to the demand side. Despite the fact that growing conditions have not been as good as was hoped for, the crop has made progress, and a spell of warm weather at this time of the year will greatly improve the plants. On the other side of the picture, the textile industry has been in the doldrums for months and no immediate turn for the better is in sight. The demand side

Program For Agricultural Writers Conference During A. & M. Short Course

Following is an outline of the program for the agricultural writers' conference at A. and M. College during the farmers' short course, July 30 to August 4. Sessions will be held each afternoon throughout the week from 1:30 to 5 o'clock, and at each noon meal hour and each evening meal hour a short program of addresses and entertainment will be provided. The general theme for the week's program will be "What Do the Farm People of Texas Need and How to Get It."

for the Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News and president of the Agricultural Writers' Conference, has listed several definite topics for discussion under the general theme. These include: Development of State-wide pride instead of too prevalent sectional interest. More definite knowledge concerning the resources, possibilities and handicaps of Texas. The controlling of flood waters and their use where irrigation is needed.

Hoover's Uncle

Following his mother's death, when Herbert Hoover was a 10-year-old lad, the three orphaned Hoover children were taken to Pawhuska, Okla., then just an Indian trading post, where they lived at the home of an uncle, Major L. G. Miles (above). Hoover's aunt Agnes (Mrs. Miles) died last fall, but Major Miles still resides in Pawhuska.

Nuts Becoming More Plentiful, More Being Eaten

When Jacob sent his sons on their second trip to Egypt he sent along with them a little present to the man who had spoken so gruffly to them, but who had nevertheless returned their money. The present included almonds and pistachio nuts, showing that even back there they had discovered that humans enjoy these goodies. Walnuts are mentioned in Canticles 6:11. More nuts would be eaten, except that there do not seem to be enough of them to go around. They are becoming more plentiful, and people are giving more attention to them as a staple food. Nuts are so rich, having practically no waste in their composition, that they should be eaten as a part of the main meal, with other substances having greater bulk.

Washington Letter

By RODNEY DUTCHER (NEA Service Writer) WASHINGTON.—"Al's Pal" is the name of a new song which probably will tire many of us before the campaign is over. But heaven only knows how many voters consider Al as their "pal."

"Al" is a new sort of candidate. The last two presidents had certain types of political "it," as they say in the movies. Harding was advertised as "just folks" and Coolidge was cheered as just plain, ordinary Cal, who had worked on a farm and never put on any airs. Ordinary people probably trusted them more than they trusted bigger men like Wilson, Hughes and John Davis. But now here's Al. The appeal of men like Harding and Coolidge went to the great, middle class. Smith is going to draw votes from another class which ordinarily doesn't give a whoop about presidential elections. Bootblacks, truck drivers, barbers, waitresses, elevator operators, taxi drivers, cops, cabaret dancers and probably most laboring men will throw him the bulk of their support. These are mostly city folks. Hoover probably will beat him on the farms. Most of the foreign extraction vote is expected to go for Smith. Tammany never has high-baited the immigrants.

Almond Culture Making Headway In United States

Almonds, both sweet and bitter, are natives of Asia Minor, Northern Africa and Southern Europe. California is producing the finest almonds in the market today and has made more progress in nut culture in the past ten years than has been made on the shores of the Mediterranean in ten centuries. The almond is America's most popular nut. Large quantities are imported from Spain and France. Chocolate almond bars, chocolates with almond centers, and ice-cream with burnt almond flavoring, are among the good things familiar to most Americans.

Family Me

By SISTER MARY Breakfast Blackberry cream, baked eggs and coffee. Luncheon—Spinach with creamed eggs and raspberry tapioca, milk. Dinner—Lamb loaf, per salad, sliced peaches, milk, coffee. Instead of making ring try serving it in the sauce surrounding the quicker and easier to ring mold but is not Cook the spinach as before making other mound. Quick cake is delicious for hot days.

CHINESE AIR SERVICE WASHINGTON, July 21.—Airplane passenger service between Hong Kong and Canton, principal cities of South China, is expected to start soon, according to commerce department advices. A joint stock company plans to purchase several six-passenger planes and make three flights a day, starting probably in August, it was said.

Also a Wise One. "Brown is our greatest pedestrian." "How is that?" "He always looks both ways when crossing a one-way street."

Bechnuts are well known to the boys and girls of the highlands of New York State. These little triangular exerts packages of toothsome are particularly good roasted, but the city dwellers know little about them, except that they are used as trade names to advertise chewing gum and bacon. Holland has just taken official notice of the bechnut and will hereafter increase the edible oils of the country by gathering and using these delightful little parcels of food dropped by the beeches at the end of the year.

Current information is that he will employ the tactics that have always won for him to date. He's going to lay off the bunk and "talk down" to us. Nothing abstruse about Smith's campaign speeches. Easy to understand what he means.

Al has always been a politician. Hoover isn't, though he has learned an awful lot about politics in the last eight years. Question: Granting that Al can put his long
