Federal Agents Join In Search For Bank Head

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The federal government today joined New York and private detectives in a search for Charles Delos Waggoner, president of a bank in Telluride, Colo., who allegedly obtained $500,000 credit from six banks here by fake telegrams in banker's code.

Justice department agents were assisted in the hunt by postal inspectors after word had been received that the mails were used as part of the scheme. A federal grand jury will convene Monday to hear the bankers tell how the man they described as poorly dressed and "unwholesome looking" came out of the West to impose on them.

The bank decided Waggoner might be unable to cash in on the coin, as the credit was in the form of a check and his bank was turned over to Colorado state examiners yesterday, but they weren't exactly sure about anything except that when the telegram said "credit Waggoner at the Chase National Bank," they did.

The Chase National Bank disclaimed responsibility, saying its officers recognized Waggoner, a seaman, not at all repossessing man, when he entered the bank, and transferred the credit to him as instructed.

The Central Hanover Bank where Waggoner negotiated his transfer of credit passed the certificate check through the New York clearing house and hence maintained the transaction, so far as that bank was concerned, was legal.

The Chase National Bank where the credit was pooled took the position that the balance of the $500,000 outstanding as a bank check could not be stopped if paid to the proper payee. The six banks which transferred the credit to the Chase National agreed to pay any damages resulting from stopping payment on the paper and officials of the Chase National thereupon made a test case by refusing payment. No legal action developed.

Commissioner J. T. Robison Is Dead

AUSTIN, Sept. 7.—The man who served as an official of his state longer than any other lay dead today.

Land Commissioner J. T. Robison, 68, died at the home of his son, Dr. J. T. Robison, Jr., in New London, Conn., at 11:30 p. m. yesterday the land office here learned today. The death of the venerable commissioner did not come as a surprise as he had been sinking slowly for the past two days.

Commissioner Robison went to New London soon after the state legislature adjourned in July in an attempt to recuperate his failing health. A combination of stomach trouble and pneumonia confined the commissioner to his bed some time ago and since that time he had gradually failed in strength.

No funeral arrangements have been made as yet, according to acting land commissioner J. H. Walker. It is believed, however, that the body will be brought back to the state which the commissioner served so faithfully during more than half of his lifetime.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Sept. 7.—The body of James Thomas Robison, 68, state land commissioner of Texas, who died at the home of his son, Dr. J. T. Robison last night, was started for Austin Tex., late today.

His wife was at his bedside. Two other sons are in Texas.

According to tentative plans made today, the body will be laid to rest in the family plot at Oakwood Cemetery, Austin, where the commissioner's only daughter and a son are buried. The funeral will probably be held Tuesday.

Flags on both the state capitol and the land office building at Austin were flown at half mast today.

DEATH TOLL MOUNTS

MANILA, P. I., Sept. 7.—The death toll of the typhoon which struck the Philippine Islands earlier this week, leaving devastation in its wake, today had reached the staggering figure of 120. There are still 210 persons reported missing.

Death Toll In Philippines Is Mounting Higher

MANILA, P. I., Sept. 7.—Typhoon deaths are mounting steadily today and tales of starvation, pestilence, disease and havoc are increasing. Latest reports place the known dead at 164.

As Manila's water supply rapidly diminishes, with no immediate relief in sight, property holders are demanding the resignation of waterworks engineer Gideon. Supporters of the engineer, however, point out that the break in the water mains is due to the typhoon—"an act of God" and that Gideon is not responsible.

The army airplane carrying Red Cross officials flew over the mountains at an altitude of 8,000 feet, surveyed Tayabas Province from the air and returned with a tale of deplorable conditions.

All resources in the Philippines have been mobilized to cope with the disaster. The destroyer Edsaw is steaming for Infanta with relief supplies and will also give water to the inhabitants of Polillo Island, where the people are reported in dire straits—suffering disease and starvation.

Governor Dwight Davis has won the admiration of Americans according to "old timers" who are usually critical of the governor general.

This crisis is Governor Davis' first real test. Observers declare he has risen nobly to the occasion.

Fort Worth Court Fistic Encounter

FORT WORTH, Sept. 7.—Spectators in 48th district court were treated to a fistic Saturday morning to break the monotony of routine court testimony.

Marvin Simpson, Fort Worth attorney, and Will Allen Smith, former nephew by marriage of Simpson, were the combatants.

The fight started over Smith's 8-year old daughter, Betty Ruth, whom her grandmother, Mrs. S. M. Scott, Simpson's sister, sought to obtain by court order.

A few words were passed between Smith and Mrs. Scott followed by Simpson's hasty entrance upon the scene.

Simpson struck Smith, knocking him backward, and Smith retaliated while spectators got out of the way and deputy sheriffs separated them.

Simpson claimed that when Mrs. Scott sought to speak to the girl, Smith shoved her away and struck Smith for that reason.

Smith's story was that Mrs. Scott tried to take the girl out of his lap and he resisted her.

Man Is Rescued From Quicksand In Well

OTTUMWA, Ia., Sept. 7.—Wilkins Priest, 55-year old well digger who was imprisoned in a well here Thursday by quicksand, was rescued at 6:07 o'clock this morning. Priest was conscious, and his first request was for water. Dr. Leo Rater, who had remained at the scene since Thursday night, administered an opiate and ordered him rushed to St. Joseph's hospital.

Dr. Rater did not make a close examination of Priest at the well, but it was feared the man had suffered serious injuries to his legs and that internal complications might result from the crushing and sucking of the quicksand. Priest's rescue came when hope

Moody Reappoints Education Board

AUSTIN, Sept. 7.—Governor Dan Moody today reappointed eight of the new nine-member board of education, the action following a ruling by the attorney general's department that the appointments made under the act of the first called session were invalid because the caption of the bill was defective.

Miss Minnie Fisher Cunningham of New Waverly declined reappointment. Governor Moody has not named her successor.

Members of the board are: Ben Tysinger, Dallas; C. H. Charnosky, Houston; W. J. O'Banion, Denton; T. E. Jackson, Dallas; Mrs. Noyce D. Smith, Austin; Nat M. Washer, San Antonio; P. L. Henderson, Dryan and Tom Garrard, Lubbock.

Wash of Montana to Ask Probe of Soviet Contracts

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—A resolution for a senatorial investigation to disclose whether the United States Steel Corporation recently obtained a five year contract with the Soviets for $8,000,000 to 150,000 tons of Georgian manganese ore a year will be introduced in the senate soon, Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana told the United Press today.

Walsh said his resolution would seek to disclose whether republican members of the senate finance committee had been influenced by this contract to put manganese ore on the free list, after having voted previously to keep the present one cent a pound duty on it.

The report from Moscow that the contract had been signed came about the same time as the committee reversal but the facts of the situation had not been officially developed.

The Montana Democrat, coming from one of the chief of 30 manganese producing states, asserted he had read reports that the change was made to influence his vote on the tariff bill, and also that of his colleague, Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana. If the republicans were prompted by the latter motive, Walsh said, their efforts will not be successful, but if it is true the United States Steel Corporation will be by the committee's action save from $5,999,000 to $6,000,000 a year, in duties to the government from its Russian contract alone the fact should be made known to the senate.

Youth Is Killed In Attempted Station Hold-Up

HOUSTON, Sept. 7.—Wynne Woodworth, 20, was shot and killed in attempting to hold up a filling station here last night.

Jack Stallings was standing at the cash register, ringing up a sale, when the youth sauntered in and jammed a pistol into his side. Two customers were ordered to line up outside the counter with Stallings.

Woodworth went to the cash register and Stallings, who told police that he always carried a pistol when on duty as night manager of the filling station, drew his pistol, stepped to the door and shot the hijacker twice.

It was the second time within a year that 25-Urge had frustrated a robbery. In January two Mexicans attempted to hold up his filling station, and he took the gun away from one, captured him, and police caught the other.

Noted British Flier Killed In Plane Fall

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Capt. A. C. Woodbridge, British world war hero and the flier who in June 1917, shot down the most celebrated German aerial ace, Baron Von Richtofen, was killed at Jask, Persia, when the London-to-India plane which he was piloting crashed after catching fire. It was announced today by the Imperial Airways company.

Two other persons were killed in the crash.

When Woodbridge brought the German ace down in 1917 Richtofen was merely wounded and fell behind the lines, Richtofen was killed later in an air battle with Royal Brown, Canadian.

G. C. Powers Is Indicted On Murder Charge

G. C. Powers of Ranger held in connection with the killing of Aaron Waldrop of Ranger in that city on August 6, last, sought to be allowed bail in a habeas corpus hearing before Judge Geo. L. Davenport of the 91st district court Saturday afternoon. Judge Davenport, after hearing testimony ordered Powers returned to the county jail while he took the matter under advisement.

Powers gave bond in Justice McFatter's court at Ranger soon after the killing to await the action of the grand jury. The grand jury returned an indictment charging murder against Powers and he was taken into custody again Saturday.

Judge Davenport indicated that the matter would be taken up again Monday morning.

ALBERT B. FALL EAGER FOR TRIAL

EL PASO, Texas, Sept. 6.—Albert B. Fall, former secretary of interior, back from his ranch at Three Rivers, N. M., is hoping he will have enough strength to go to Washington on October 7 to stand trial on a charge of bribery growing out of the leasing of the Elk Hills naval oil reserve, he said today.

"I have long wanted this case to be tried," said Fall. "I have been building my strength so I could make the trip. I feel satisfied in my own mind that I will be able to make the journey."

AMARILLO JUNIOR College Work Is Making Progress

AMARILLO, Texas, Sept. 6.—Following the decision of voters of Amarillo to establish a junior college for the city, the school board, at a special meeting, has decided to begin work on the project on September 16.

A committee has been named to work out a location for the college. The committee also will purchase equipment, including chairs, desks and books for the library.

Prof. E. B. Masters is president of the junior college. He has begun preliminary work and has already answered hundreds of inquiries from prospective students.

At least 100 students are expected to enroll for the first term. Cost of tuition will be $100. Many of the students are to come from surrounding towns.

Consideration of the faculty members is under way. There will be six who will be heads of departments and instructors. Only instructors holding the degree of M. A. with completion of the work entitling them to a Ph. D. degree will be considered.

Ger Bulldogs Beat Gorman Panthers Friday

BOYCE HOUSE
The game that comes from hard work by a handsome mar- Ranger Bulldogs in the ball game of Texas this afternoon on Lillard in the Gorman Panthers 32 to 0. smoothness in the second half and the interference running—without which no ball-toter can get far—was there. The overhead game looked pleasing, too, for so early in the year.

On defense, the Bulldogs received no real test as the Gorman team apparently had worked out very little together and had no organized attack. The husky Panthers did some excellent individual work on defense particularly in the first half but their stamina was not as great due probably to their not having been in training very long.
The Bulldogs started slowly or the Panthers started vigorously, depending on which way you saw it. After a punt exchange, Hale of the visitors stepped neatly around right end for 12 yards. Two line plays and a Ranger offside brought the ball to the Bulldogs' 39-yard line but the attack was stopped.

A little later, C. B. Simms of the invading team intercepted a pass and raced 29 yards before he was pulled to earth on Ranger's 27-yard marker. Then came a play that ought to be in the book. A Gorman back fumbled. Another Gorman man recovered but fumbled. A third Gorman man covered the ball for a nine yard gain as the quarter ended.
The Panthers were held for downs and it was Ranser's ball on the Bulldogs' 15-yard line. McLaughlin, Caraway and McCarty reeled off three good gains in succession and McLaughlin hurled a 12-yard pass to Stevens but Burton intercepted the next pass. This was another freakish play. The intended receiver and the Gorman man both caught the ball simultaneously but Burton's grasp was firmer.

After Gorman had punted, the touchdown drive commenced. McCarty and Caraway made a first down through the line and then McCarty hit the line twice for a total of four yards and Bull Caraway made the final yard for the first score of the season. McLaughlin's kick was wide.
Weaver of Ranger intercepted a pass and ran 20 yards to Gorman's 26-yard line as the half ended with the score 6 to 0.
The visitors' last opportunity came when the second half opened. Ramsay recovered a fumbled kick-off on Ranger's 22-yard line but a fumble lost vital yardage and the Panthers failed to make first down.

Long Gains Made.
Then in four plays, the Bulldogs swept down the field. McLaughlin made two off tackle gallops, one for 14 yards and the other for 20. McCarty advanced 22 yards off tackle and Caraway, on a cutback, ran the remaining 20. Bull hit the line for the extra point.
Not much time was lost in scoring again, this time by passes. Mc

Carty hurled the ball to McLaughlin for 20 yards and then the pigskin traveled the same route, McLaughlin making a leaping catch and advancing the remaining 20 yards. The try for the point failed.
An off tackle gain by McLaughlin and a short run also by "Arkansas" netted another score.
The final tally came after King had circled end for 20 yards, then caught a pass for 15 yards, with McLaughlin then hitting the line for the remaining five yards. McLaughlin kicked goal.
A steady stream of substitutes had been going into the game for Ranger and the remainder of the struggle witnessed the Bulldogs on the aggressive but the Panthers were able to hold them scoreless. A shoe-string catch of Weaver's pass by Driehof was a feature.

Good-Sized Crowd.
The weather, considering that it was early September, was well suited to football, there being a cool breeze and a partly overcast sky. The crowd was a fair turnout for an "A" and "B" early season affair.
Among the lads who got into the game for Ranger were Crawford, Anderson, Faircloth, Smoot, Weaver, Gregg, Williams, Bassett, Reese, Beardon Ruble Miller and Driehof. Starting lineups were:
Ranger: Ramsay, Wright, Stevens

Right tackle, Pangle

Week's Bill At The Connellee Is Strong One

The showing at the Connellee theatre, starting Sunday for 3 days of "Dangerous Curves," the presentation, starting Wednesday at the Connellee theatre of "Divorce Made Easy" and the showing of "Studio Murder Mystery" at the Connellee theatre starting Friday mark the inauguration of the second week of "appreciation month" in Eastland. The attractions to be shown during the coming week, are considered by Manager Wilman as even superior to those which opened "appreciation month" last week.
Words of appreciation for the first week's showing of the new 1929-30 new show world productions, have been heard on every side.
Something of the superiority of the new product over that offered theatre goes everywhere during the past 12 months, has been quite evident in the new pictures. A general excellence is noted not alone in the perfection of voice recording and reproduction, but the stories and casts are being mostly favorably commented upon.
A number of new faces are to be noted in the line up of talent for 1929-30, several of whom may be remembered from their stardom on the legitimate stage, especially in New York. The screen has not only retained most of its leading stars but has augmented their ranks by the acquisition from the stage of many of the most noted of Broadway stars.
Now it is not necessary for one to go to New York city to see and hear the voices of those who have made Broadway Broadway. They are being brought into every city, town and village in the nation in close personal contact not heretofore possible except from an orchestra seat in one of the world's highest priced theatres.
With the final development of the new voice and close-up, the screen now supplants in a way little short of miraculous, the stage of yesterday and brings to the patron, as never possible in the old theatre, the face and voice of the favorites of the current period. A list of these new stars weaned from the stage would read like a Who's Who of stardom.
The new 1929-30 product of the studios also brings to the patron of the screen everywhere, the stories of the best writers of both the screen and the stage, the lyrics and music of the best song writers and the stase artistry of the world's foremost artists. Millions have been spent on the new show world pictures and the four corners of the earth combed for the leading talent in every phase of picture making.

During the current month, theatre-goers of Eastland will see and hear on the screen exactly the same productions which will set new world records on Broadway and will see and hear them exactly as they are seen and heard on Broadway, a miracle of the new show world that was not thought possible of attainment a short two years ago.

Rifle, 164 Years Old, Fired At Big Contest

CAMP PERRY, Ohio—Carrying a flintlock rifle 164 years old, Capt. John G. W. Dillin of Medina, Pa., arrived for the national and pistol matches. He announced that he would show the great throng of marksmen assembled here how our ancestors shot deer and Indians. Archie Isaacs, the only Indian at Perry, has refused to pose as a target and there are no deer in the vicinity. However the captain will have an opportunity to try his antique gun against the swiftly moving targets of the running deer range.
Last November, Captain Dillin shot a deer with his old rifle in the Canadian woods and today he produced a friend, Charles White, of Aylmer, Ontario, as a witness. Captain Dillin is a connoisseur of old rifles. He has handled over 700 of them which have been sent to him by collectors from all parts of the country to be appraised and authenticated.
"The gun which I have with me," said Captain Dillin today, "is of the type known as the Kentucky rifle. It was made in 1765 and has been in use most of the time since that date. It is one of the finest specimens in the country, and is one of the few of these old models which history is well established. Letters and other papers which have been preserved in Pennsylvania show that this very rifle was used by an early settler of Berks county to defend himself against a hostile Indian in 1770. The Indian was killed. The gun is in as good condition today as it was when it left the gunsmith's hands 164 years ago.
"The old Kentucky rifles," continued Captain Dillin, "in spite of their name were manufactured in Pennsylvania. The best of them were turned out by gunmakers of Lancaster county where one may still see the ruins of several old gun factories. So many of them were sold to the early settlers of Kentucky that they came to be known as Kentucky rifles. They are not smooth bores but are actually rifled. This work was beautifully done with the crudest kind of machinery and tools."
As soon as Captain Dillin reached Camp Perry, he started to cast bullets for his old gun. The weapon is a muzzle-loader and the charge is black powder poured into the barrel from a powder horn. The bullet is wrapped in a match of cloth before it is rammed home and this match takes up the rifling, giving it the whirling motion which increases its accuracy as in the modern rifle. Captain Dillin himself traces his ancestry back to the time when the old Kentucky rifles were manufactured and to the section of his country where they were turned out. He comes of an old Pennsylvania family. Both of his great-grandfathers fought under Washington. Captain Dillin is the author of "The Kentucky Rifle."

doleful Tragedy of a young Lady of Seventeen

MARY JANE WAS in tears.
". . . and Grandma didn't bear the telephone," she sobbed.
"Not even when Jimmy called the second time! So Jimmy asked Helen Parks instead, and . . . and . . . now she's going to the dance with him."
"And no—nobody else has asked me!"
The tragedies of seventeen are dark and bitter. Disconsolate, Mary Jane buried her face in a pillow.
Mr. Mason looked down at the forlorn little figure on the couch sympathetically.
"You know," he said to his wife, "Grandma really doesn't hear as well as she used to. She needs an extension telephone in her room. I think I'll order one tomorrow."

Telephones where you need them can often prevent youthful woes—and be a source of pleasure to old folks, besides. They save time, patience, steps.
Few know that one or two additional instruments cost considerably less than the single telephone they now have!
By a wisely-placed "extension" or two, and perhaps a rearrangement of the equipment you already have, an expert telephone man can often double the convenience of your telephone service.

Thinks Orgatone Is Fine

Mrs. Cope of Breckenridge Says That It Has Completely Relieved Her Digestive Troubles

"I have been bothered by digestive troubles for about a year but Orgatone is entirely relieving my ailments," said Mrs. Charles Cope wife of a well known farmer who lives on route 1, Breckenridge, Texas, while talking to an Orgatone representative. "I had a bad taste in my mouth every morning when I first got up," continued Mrs. Cope. "I was often inclined to be bilious and had a burning pain in my stomach and throat. I frequently had palpitation of the heart caused by gas on my stomach and had some trouble with constipation."

"I saw in the paper where so many people were finding relief for their troubles through Orgatone that I bought a bottle and after taking only two bottles I am more than pleased with it. I have no more trouble with burning sensation in my stomach and the bad taste in my mouth is entirely gone. I am not bothered with gas on my stomach and my heart does not palpitate as it did. The constipation is entirely relieved. I think Orgatone is fine and I am glad to tell others about it." Genuine Orgatone can be bought at Eastland at the Texas and Corner Drug stores, phones 345 and 588. (adv.)
