RANGER MAN NEARLY LOST LIFE IN FIRE

Tried to Save $300 Hidden in Burning Building — Money and Home Burn.

An attempt to save $300 in currency which he had placed in two small tin cans, caused the serious burning and almost cost the life of G. O. Kimbrough, tank builder, residing on Eastland Hill, Ranger, late Sunday afternoon when the dwelling was burned.
While Kimbrough and his wife were seated in the front room Sunday afternoon at 5:10 o'clock, their three-year old boy, Joe, who was playing in an adjoining room, toddled into the room where his father and mother were and said "Fire."
Kimbrough ran into the room from whence the boy came, and seeing smoke pouring from a closet, in which his savings were concealed, jerked the door open. As he did so the flames shot across the room. Kimbrough, however, attempted to reach the money and in doing so was seriously, though not critically, burned about the right arm and shoulder and about the head.
The blackened cans that had contained the money were found in the ruins and in them the charred bills. The denomination of only one, a ten, could be distinguished.
Mr. Kimbrough stated that the charred bills, however, would be sent to the treasury department in the hopes that they would be able to reimburse him for his loss.

Morning at 5:00 o'Clock
From Injuries; Body to Arrive Here Late Today.

Persons of Eastland and Eastland county were shocked today to learn of the tragic death of Mrs. Frankie Johnson, wife of A. H. Details of the accident were meager. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left Eastland about 4 o'clock Sunday morning and were said to have been en route to San Antonio to see a sister of Mr. Johnson's whom it is stated was ill. Other information is that it was Mrs. Johnson's sister that was ill that they were to visit.
The accident, according to information received here, occurred near Mason, another car striking the Johnson car, which was being driven by Mr. Johnson, and turning it over.
Mrs. Johnson was prominent in Eastland and the county club, social and church activities. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Eastland, the founder of the Eastland library and an officer in the Thursday Afternoon Study club. She was a quiet, unassuming and low-keyed woman.

POLICE DRAG RIVER FOR GIRL'S BODY

Believe Beaumont, Tex., Girl
Jumped Into New York
Stream.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—While police dragged the East river today for the body of Miss Lola Enloe, who came here in the hope of becoming a great song writer, her mother telegraphed police that she feared her daughter, "who had a great sorrow" had committed suicide.
The telegram, signed by Mrs. Florence Enloe of 102 Branch avenue, Beaumont, Texas, read:
"Please do everything possible to find my girl. I fear it was she who jumped into the river Saturday night. She had a great sorrow and had written it in song and was in New York to sell them."
Saturday night the woman accosted a little Italian girl in Brooklyn, asked her the way to the river, and gave her a dollar and a note to be delivered "to the nearest policeman." The note read:
"I'm leaving on a long journey; will you please send this stuff to my mother."
With the note was a baggage check for a suit case which police found in the Pennsylvania station.
In the valise were letters from Floyd C. Williams, brother of vice president Curtis' secretary, introducing Miss Enloe to two New York music publishers.
It was learned that a young woman called on Curtis in Washington last week on a career as a singer in New York. The vice president referred her to Williams, a composer.
Police at first held the affair to be a publicity stunt, but the worn appearance of clothing found in the valise led detectives to arrest her.

Fighting The 'Pesky' Mosquito

J. Phillips, Eastland sanitation officer, is making a plea for closer co-operation with the department by the citizens of Eastland.

Mr. Phillips, who has been in charge of sanitation work in the city for eight years, has been very successful. In fact, his efforts at combating the mosquito have been so successful that apparently the people have become careless and are not cooperating with him as they should. Recently mosquitoes have become numerous in many parts of the city.
Mr. Phillips states that he has found a number of open-top cisterns, accumulated water around hydrants and pools of water under floors where ice boxes have been permitted to drip. All of these places provide breeding places for mosquitoes, he says.
The adult mosquito lives from 70 to 90 days and harbors in cool, damp or shady places about the house in daytime and gets into the house at night.
It requires only 24 hours for days after they hatch the young mosquitoes to hatch. Fourteen mosquitoes is flying about.
Mr. Phillips can do nothing with the adult mosquito. He can only combat them before they hatch by destroying their breeding places and it is in doing this that he seeks the co-operation of the people.

WAR CLOUDS GATHERING IN FAR EAST

Both China and Russian Mobilizing Troops in Strategic Places.

Mobilization of Manchurian full war strength, estimated at 150,000 Chinese, was reported today to have been ordered by the military commanders of the country as they reported border clashes between Soviet and Chinese troops along the border continued to exist in from various sources.
At the same time C. C. Wu, Chinese minister to the United States, announced in Washington that the Chinese government had ordered the 60,000 troops to be moved to the border "to prevent violation of the territorial integrity of Chinese territory by Russian troops."
The minister added, however, that this tremendous troop movement did not mean war.
From the Manchulian district it was reported that a row of guns had broken out between the Soviet and Chinese border patrols. The dispatches stated that, information firing had been heard in the vicinity of the frontier town of Dulain or since 8 p. m. Sunday.
The dispatches failed to say whether the Manchurian side of the border was occupied by Red army troops or by the Chinese. Recent dispatches said Soviet troops had occupied the town.
A war conference was ordered to take place in Mukden tomorrow to cope with the new developments. All the high Chinese and Manchurian military authorities have been ordered to participate in the conference.
Chinese newspapers carried unconfirmed reports that 10,000 Soviet soldiers were marching on Hsiling, an important Manchurian town near the western boundary line. Other reports said the Russians were surrounding Manchulian in an effort to isolate it.

Grade Crossings Must Go

Every grade crossing is dangerous, and is apt to claim its toll in human lives. This has been demonstrated time and again. Even guards and gates will not prevent autos crashing through. And careless or reckless drivers will get caught by speeding trains.

It has not been so long ago since an auto crashed midway into a freight train as it had stopped across the highway. And to do this a driver must be blind. If not blind, then there must not have been a brain cell working.

That crossing accident a Forney recently, that claimed 13 lives, was one that could have been avoided and was the result of carelessness it would seem. And the crossing accident at Round Rock some years ago that claimed 11 of Baylor university's athletes was another instance of carelessness, according to report.

People just won't exercise proper caution.

So it becomes necessary to do away entirely with grade crossings and in time this will be done.

Mrs. Ropavic of Chicago testified in a divorce suit brought by her husband that she married him because of his "golden voice," but that he never sings for her. HERSE AND MAIL CAR CRASH

AUSTIN, Aug. 19.—Hearses and mail-wagons have the right of way on Austin street. Today both rived at the entrance to the State Capitol grounds at the same time. Both stopped—one on the sidewalk with a crushed fender and the other against the curb with a tire knocked off. No one was hurt.

"Goodness Only Knows What I Spent" She Says

Well known Ranger, Tex., Woman Says She Suffered for Ten Years—Orgatone Ends Troubles.

"This Orgatone has set me right after I had suffered for ten years," said Mrs. Ollie Gun, residing at 115 S. Commerce St., in a recent interview the other day.

"I tell you no one who has not gone through it realizes what ten years of suffering from indigestion and stomach trouble will do for a person," she continued.

"This course, was followed with other complications which put me in a badly run-down condition. I took all kinds of medicines but not until I took Orgatone did I get relief. Always after eating gas would form on my stomach and keep me in misery for hours. My food would nauseate me and make me nervous and my head ached a great deal. My liver was sluggish and I suffered constantly from a weak or dizzy feeling. I could never get a good night's sleep and had no vim and energy and nothing seemed to do me any good.

"This is just the condition I was in a few weeks ago until I bought a bottle of Orgatone and the first week I took it I felt that I was getting relief. I kept it up until I had used my first bottle and all my troubles were leaving me and I haven't been bothered with them since. I can sleep now like a baby and eat just anything and everything I want. I had treatment three after time and goodness only knows how much money I spent for all sorts of medicine, without getting any benefit until I took Orgatone. Orgatone certainly did a good job for me and I'm glad to recommend it as the best medicine of all medicines."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs manufactured by one of the world's largest laboratories and sold in Eastland, exclusively by the Texas and Corner Drug Stores, phones 345 and 588.

Chamber of Commerce Chips

By the Secretary
 DR. H. B. TANNER

The First Christian church and the Church of Christ are both having their places of worship treated to an over hauling and the external surface of each given a fresh coat of paint.

The chamber of commerce cannot take any credit for this work but we can congratulate the trustees and members of these churches for the good work they are doing in helping to beautify our city. Freshly painted houses are attractive not only to our visitors but a source of pride to our citizens in general. This is a good time of the year to paint if you think your house, store or church needs it. How about a general brush up where needed?

The secretary of the chamber of commerce of Colorado, Texas, writes us that the new paved highway across the Iatan flats will be opened August 23. This will be good news to all those using the Bankhead Highway to and from El Paso as this stretch of road was almost impassable heretofore in wet weather.

We are all interested in that handsome booklet issued by the Warner Memorial University announcing the opening of this institution on September 17. This institution is bound to be a great honor to Eastland and the chamber of commerce can take credit for locating it here, all made possible by the liberality of our citizens who contributed the cash to purchase the sixty acres of land that was presented to this university. Let us have more schools of this kind and grow to be a college city.

Do you know where Coxville is? If not, motor out north on State Highway 67 about three miles from Eastland and on the right you will see a cluster of neat cottages erected by some of our former famous high school football boys. Look close as you pass and you will see a familiar figure peering high on a platform supported by several sections of steel tubing stands the Goddard of Justice, one arm supporting the scales. This familiar figure formerly surrounded our court house in whose cornerstone "Old Rip" serenely awaited the opening of his tomb for some 21 years.

We congratulate these boys of ours in decorating their front yard in so unique a manner.

Wall Street

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Under the leadership of United States Steel, American Telephone and Telegraph and International Telephone and Telegraph, all of which soared to record levels, stocks moved ahead again today but on a less broad front.

All these issues were taken in large blocks at advances of four to eight points and stimulated strong support for issues in other sections of the list. Oils were persistently heavy but strength in the leaders kept segling from gaining headway in this section.

Other high grade industrial and utility issues met a strong demand, notably Western Union, American Can and Consolidated Gas but rails continued generally featureless, aside from a brief buying movement in Pennsylvania. Commercial solvents was a strong feature of the high priced issues.

The main body of stocks held within a comparatively narrow trading range with prices slightly higher but another burst of strength occurred in the amusement group under the leadership of Warner Brothers pictures and Paramount, the latter issue attaining a fresh record high.

Loew's Inc., the Pathe Exchange issues and Radio-Keith-Orpheum were strong and active. Radio corporation common was active and slightly lower, while electrical equipment issues were quiet after their initial spur.

Selling of the oils came unexpectedly despite reports in responsible oil centers here that the industry can look forward to little improvement the rest of the year. However bullish interests had been looking forward to renewed demonstrations in these issues this week in view of the impressive action of the group last week.

Standard Oil of N. J. led the down swing, breaking more than three points.

Utilities with the exception of Consolidated Gas and the related communication issues were quiet and little changed, while coppers were featured by renewed selling of Anaconda. Auburn Auto was a feature in the late afternoon, soaring 30 points to a new record high at 450.

Graf Zeppelin Arrives Safely Japanese Port

By MILES VAUGHN
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 TOKIO, Aug. 19.—The second leg of the longest and most perilous flight ever attempted in the history of aviation came to a triumphant end this afternoon when the giant German dirigible, Graf Zeppelin, alighted at the Kasumigaura airport near here after a 6,000 mile non-stop flight through uncharted skies of Northern Japan.

Carrying 20 passengers, a crew of 40 men and Germany's ambitious hopes in commercial aviation, the mighty airliner officially landed here at 6:25 p. m. (3:20 a. m. CST), just 100 hours and 45 minutes after she started from Friedrichshafen for the second leg of her flight around the world. She left at 10:40 p. m., CST, Wednesday.

The reception was the most wildly enthusiastic ever received by the Graf, long accustomed to enthusiastic receptions after history-making flights.

The launching field was crowded with thousands of persons and the areas outside the field were packed with many thousands of others. Some of the people had waited throughout the night and through the long hours of the day.

They were bivouacked, camped, for a long distance around the field. They did not mind the rain which fell through the early hours of the morning. They were oblivious to everything except the news which was broadcast throughout the country that the Graf was over Japan.

A crowd of nearly 250,000 swarmed about the field as the passengers went through a brief customs inspection. Darkness had fallen and the moon was rising as they disembarked and motored to the Imperial hotel in Tokio.

Other hundreds of thousands swarmed in the streets, discussing the strange sight of the Graf Zeppelin, which spent a considerable time over the capitol before coming to rest at the airbase.

The Zeppelin flew so low it could be seen. At 5:50 p. m. it flew over the United Press office, at a height of about 350 feet and the passengers could be seen dropping greetings to the city.

The landing at the airport was perfect. The Zeppelin dropped lines at 6:16 p. m. and ten minutes later had nestled down smoothly outside the hangar.

Commander Hugo Eckener had wireless in advance that he hoped to leave Tokio at daybreak Thursday for Los Angeles, continuing his flight around the world. When the Zeppelin landed here, it had completed more than half of its journey, having flown approximately 10,800 miles from Lakehurst, N. J., its starting and finishing point. From Lakehurst to Friedrichshafen, the airship covered approximately 4,200 miles, and from Friedrichshafen to Tokio another 6,600.

The second longest stage will be the many miles from Tokio to Los

Twenty-Five Drown When Ship Is Sunk

By United Press
 GRIMSBY, ENGL., Aug. 19.—A graphic and thrilling tale was told here today of the sinking of the Spanish freighter Ogrono in the North Sea 30 miles from the mouth of the Humber river here by the British tugboat King's Cross. The Ogrono, loaded with 246 tons of iron ore, sank within six minutes. Fifteen of the crew of 25 were drowned. The King's Cross rescued ten of the crew and recovered one body.

"The mate was on the bridge at the time of the collision," Capt. G. Anderson of the King's Cross said. "He asserted that he did not see the Ogrono until we were right on top of it.

"The Spanish ship sank like a stone. It was terrible. We heard the frenzied shouts and screams of the drowning crew. But the night was too dark for us to see them. Two of our crew launched a boat and rescued three clinging to the wreckage. Then I saw five clinging to an overturned life boat from which we rescued them by means of lifelines. We cruised for two hours but saw no further signs of life."

FOUR DROWN AS BOAT EXPLODES

By United Press
 MADISON, Wis., Aug. 19.—Four persons lost their lives when a home-made speed boat equipped with an automobile motor blew up and sank today in Lake Mendota.

Campers on shore said four men and a boy started out in the boat. A few minutes later they heard an explosion and saw the occupants of the boat struggling in the water. The first bodies recovered were identified as those of Leslie Davidson, owner of the craft, Carl Scheller and Paoli and Walter Burgisser, brothers.

FRED FITZSIMMONS
 WHITEWASHED THE REDS FOUR TIMES IN A ROW

THEN LOST A FOUR-HIT EFFORT IN THE FIFTH GAME

THE Cincinnati Reds have had their share of grief and misery this summer, but no one man contributed more to their woe than did Fred Fitzsimmons, burly right-hander of the New York Giants.

When the Reds beat big Fred, Aug. 1, on four dinky hits, it was the first time in five starts against him this year that they escaped a whitewashing. For 35 consecutive innings Fitzsimmons had turned them back scoreless, which no doubt sets a new endurance record for holding the Indian sign.

With any sort of luck, Fitzsimmons would have made it five straight wins if not five at-a-trait shutouts, but faulty support by his mates enabled the Redlegs to break the long-standing jinx.

Grover Cleveland Alexander, during his prime, held a similar evil eye over the Cincinnati club. Over a period of three years, the Reds beat Alex but three times in more than 20 games. It seemed all Big Pete had to do was throw his glove out into the pitcher's box and the Redlegs were licked.

Until very lately Walter Miller of the Cleveland Indians had a fancy Indian sign working against the New York Yankees. The American League champions would murder every other Cleveland hurler, but when Miller was on the rubber their war clubs were stilled. He kept the Yanks eating out of the crook of his slim left elbow until one day the Yanks overcame the complex. And with a mighty shower of base hits.

Several years ago, Virgil "Chief" Cheeves of the Chicago Cubs could beat the strong New York Giants most every time he faced them. Even though he was "dunk soup" to every other club in the league. He was the most ineffective pitcher on the Cubs' staff except when working against New York. They called him "Giant Killer" and it was this propensity that kept him in the big show as long as he was. But he finally lost his rabbit's foot and drifted to the minors.

But getting back to Fred Fitzsimmons, the Indian sign he employs against the Reds is by no means his only endorsement. Other teams have just as much trouble with him as do the boys from across the Rhine.

Since coming to the Giants from Indianapolis in 1925, he has never fallen below the .500 mark in the pitching percentages. Last season was his best to date with 20 victories and nine defeats.

This year, with the collapse of Larry Benton, he has been the big noise in keeping the Giants as well up in the race as they are at present.

about making a silk purse out of a sow's ear? What's a sow, Molly? "An adult female swine," she told him promptly. "All little girls from Snodgrass know that one. You're not a sow's ear, Red. You're the cat's meow. Speaking of swine—Bob Newton left shortly before you came. You know, Red, he's simply impossible! What do you think he said tonight? He asked me if you made love to me!" Red grinned. "He's got a nerve. What did you tell him?" "I didn't tell him anything. I sent him home." Molly considered her guest quizzically. Her eyes were smiling, but her voice was serious. "You don't ACTUALLY make love to me—do you, Red? You're just sort of casually affectionate. Of course you put your arm around me, sometimes... And you hold my hand in the theater. But I shouldn't call that 'making love.' Should you?" Red looked startled. "Good lord, Molly, you don't want me to make love to you, do you?" She laughed at his alarm. "No," she said. "I think it would be simply poisonous. I should probably want to slay you."

sooner spend an evening out with an American girl. This enterprising young man drew up a complete budget of expenses for both the girls, whom he declares to be representative of their respective races. The French girl cost about 80 per cent more than her trans-Atlantic cousin. The main difference between the two types of womanhood appears to be that the American girl, being more used to being taken out for an evening, eats and drinks normally. The French miss, however, regards an evening out with a boy friend as a fête and proceeds to enjoy herself with all the best there is to be had. Out of five hours spent first with a French girl and then with an American, the young seeker after truth found the money and time dividend as follows: Miss America (cocktails, dinner, champagne, liqueurs...$15 Half hour taxi ride...2 Total...$17 Miss France (no cocktails,iced champagne cup, ten course dinner, rare lokay wine, 70 years old Otdard in Turkish coffee)...$25 Three hours taxi (midnight rate)...5 Total...$30 And That Isn't All Another thing in favor of the girl from across the Atlantic is that she is much more easy to entertain, thus involving less effort on the part of the man. The French miss, on the other hand, is most exacting, conversationally and otherwise, and thereby demands more on the part of her escort if she is going to enjoy her evening out as she expects to. The investigator's verdict is that the American girl is simple in her tastes, scans the menu with an eye to the price, takes her fair share of the task of making the evening a success and is generally more of a pal.

REGULARS BACK FROM LAST YEAR

'Prospects Look Good,' Says Coach E. Curtis; Training Starts Monday. RANGER, Texas, August 18.—The football team will plunk the pigskin Monday when the Ranger High school Bulldogs assemble with Coaches E. Curtis and T. E. Ward for preliminary practice. A week's preliminary work-outs will be engaged in before stiff training begins, the coaches announce. All candidates for the Bulldogs eleven are asked by the coaches to assemble at the high school at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Bumpers (captain), guard; Duane Bassett, guard; Monroe Blackwell, guard; Veltou Moser, guard; Randall Blackmond, tackle; Melva Love, tackle; Rawls Bowden, end; James (Arkansas) McLaughlin, half, and "Bull" Carraway, full. Katy Employe Loses Overalls and Small Amount of Money in Tussle With Hijackers Here Late at Night

CISCO, Aug. 18.—Lee Irvin, uncle of "Honk" Irvin and an employe of the M. K. and T. railroad, lost a pair of overalls and two or three dollars of odd pocket change in a session with a couple of hi-jackers about 12 o'clock Friday night. The affair took place on the Katy right of way a few feet east of the viaduct on Broadway. Mr. Irvin, a member of the crew which was replacing a Katy freight engine on the tracks from which it slipped Friday afternoon, still bears the marks of his tussle with the robbers. The pair was unarmed except for long fingernails which they used to painful advantage. The skin on Mr. Irvin's chest was lacerated as one of the two apparently grabbed for his watch and chain worn in the bit pocket of the overalls. Mr. Irvin still has the watch and the scratches, too. The knuckles of one of his hands were barked by a blow he delivered one of his assailants and his left hand was badly scratched. Went to Cafe. Mr. Irvin had left his work with the wrecker crew in the east end of the Katy yards shortly before 12 o'clock Friday night to go to the Railroad cafe for a lunch. Returning he had reached a point just east of and under the Broadway viaduct when two young white men, wearing caps, accosted him. "Mister," said one, "have you got a watch?" Mr. Irvin ran his right hand into his pocket for the article and at the moment one of the men, standing behind him wrapped an arm about his neck. The other clutched him in front and a struggle ensued. Mr. Irvin was thrown down across the rail with the rob-

U. S. GIRL NOT AS COSTLY AS MADemoiselle

Frenchman, Balancing Budget for Two Evenings, Prefers American By RICHARD D. McMILLAN United Press Staff Correspondent PARIS.—It is a libel on the American girl to say she is the most expensive young woman in the world to entertain for an evening. Until now Europeans, even Europeans of experience and culture, have accepted as fact that the girl from the other side of the Atlantic is a dear little lady in more ways than one. Reared amidst the glittering wealth of American homes, she is supposed to eat, caviar for breakfast, pate de foie gras for lunch and half a dozen other expensive delicacies for dinner. That is the picture drawn of her over here. And that explains why most Europeans, even wealthy ones, rush to cover when they learn that some young girl friend Red and Bob. Not because she wouldn't help it. It wasn't, she felt, quite honorable. "Now if I were only married," she thought, "everything would be different. Bob wouldn't try to make love to me. And Red wouldn't get all bothered. "But Jack won't marry me?" she moaned, and put her head in the

NORA HEFLEY MAHON HAS POEM IN DALLAS NEWS

A line of poems by contemporary Southern poets is being reproduced in The Dallas News book page and are taken from whatever publication has originally printed them. With this heading, at the top of the poem, "Summer," Mrs. Mahon's poem is re-issued and at the end, carries the note: "Nora Hefley Mahon in the August Kaleidoscope. Nora Hefley Mahon lives in Eastland."

It may be observed that Eastland comes in for her share of publicity as well.

SUMMER

Spring dancer her little slippers out

(A sight they were to see) And tossed them with discarded gowns.

Beneath a sheltering tree— Here languid Summer, seeking shade,

Espied the ruffled mass, And thought, if renovated,

They might be made to pass. Before she started on the task,

She chose to loll and dream And as she tarried overlong,

She never pressed a seam. But donned the garments worn and limp— Now, sprawled upon the grass,

She lolls and dreams the livelong day—

A lazy, carefree lass.

Miss Ada Martin opened the pretty home of her mother, Mrs. C. A. Martin to a number of friends at three o'clock Saturday afternoon entertaining in honor of the bride-to-be, Miss Virginia Root, whose wedding will occur in the first week of September. TEXAS LEAGUE. Charles Glazner yesterday held the league-leading Wichita Falls Spudders to four scattered hits, no one of which was good for an extra base, and enabled the Dallas Steers to take the opener of a three-game series, 6 to 2. The game was played at Dallas.

Fort Worth came out of a losing streak when the Panthers took both games of a double header with Shreveport at Fort Worth. The scores were 2 to 1 and 4 to 2.

lone beat the New York Giants collectively, and Larry Benton individually, by a 1 to 0 score. Benton pitched a great game for the Giants, holding the hard hitting Cubs to four stinging blows. Malone, however, would allow only five hits. The only run came in the seventh when Cuyler doubled and came home on two sacrifice hits.

William Watson Clark pitched a five hit game at the expense of the faded St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn chalked up a 3 to 2 triumph. Clark was opposed by Haines, who allowed eight hits, and aided by Frederick who hit a home run in the first inning.

Cincinnati made a noble bid for victory but lost, 10 to 9, at Boston. Trailing, 5 to 1, the Reds scored six runs in the eighth inning. The Braves, however, countered with five in the last of the same chapter, rendering useless the two runs the Reds added in the ninth.

NEW PLANE FOR RANGER

Travis Boggs, Expert Pilot, Flies Travel Air Biplane.

RANGER, Texas, August 18.—The training plane for Ranger-Haugland airport has just arrived as a new and permanent addition to the port, which is situated one mile southeast of the city.

Charles J. Moore, chairman of the airport committee of the chamber of commerce and a member of the Ranger Air Transport company, Inc., which purchased the deal for the purchase of the plane from Texas Air Transport was consumed late last week, and the plane is now here as a permanent ship at Ranger-Haugland port.

The ship is a new Travel Air biplane, one of the best type of student and training planes, powered with a Curtiss OX-5, 90 h. p., eight-cylinder V-type motor.

Travis Boggs, a pilot of long experience and note, is pilot of the new ship. Boggs was in charge of the Robbins flying school in Akron, O., for a year and instructed 125 students. He is a transport pilot—the highest license issued. He was a lieutenant in the aviation corps of the United States Army and has "barnstormed" and done stunt flying over much of the country, but has "settled down" to straight-out commercial and training flying.

Boggs' home originally was in Dublin, Texas, and that is one of the reasons which has influenced him in coming from the East to Ranger—to be near his old home. He will make his home in Ranger.

Attractive lettering on the new Travel Air ship gives it the appearance of the truly Ranger-Haugland port plane which it is. The plane bears the lettering, "Ranger Air Transport company, Inc., Student Flying, Cross Country Hops, Passenger Flying. On the bottom of the lower wing, on the right side is "Ranger," and on the left "C-9993," the license number of the department of commerce.

port school, Mr. Moore states after conferring with the T. A. T. officials. Thus, flying training here may be transferred to the T. A. T. school without loss of hours flown here. It is thought that a number will take advantage at once of the flying school opportunity offered here, under the capable direction of Mr. Boggs.

Much of the success in bringing the plane to Ranger is due to Mr. Moore, J. B. Herrington, and C. V. Griffin, composing the Ranger Air Transport company, Inc., and these men have been untiring in their efforts to see a plane here permanently at Ranger-Haugland port.

Dad's Wheat Breaks Record

For the past five years the wheat fields of Fred Lapid, farmer of Lawrence, Kas., have been adjudged 100 per cent pure by official state inspectors. This is a record for the state and thought to be a national record. Lapid raises his wheat for seed purposes, sending the seed to farmers all over the United States and many foreign countries. His daughter, Lois, graduate of the University of Kansas, is shown here holding some of the 100 per cent pure wheat.

Will soon move to our new location. Wait for further announcement
