Mavericks Down Lions 29-16 Friday Night

BY STEVE HAINES Do you remember that bright and promising season we were telling you about? Well it looks even brighter now. Yes, those mighty Mavericks came thru Friday night in a score of 29-16 over the Lions of Dublin.

As the game opened in Lion Stadium under beautiful skies and a just right climate, the Mavericks lost the toss of the coin, and thus lost the right to claim the ball first. As the first few plays unfolded it looked like the Mays might have themselves a quite exhausting ball game on their hands, as Dublin's Mike Jurney along with quarterback Mark Perrin proceeded to move the ball deeper and deeper into Maverick territory. They moved the ball down to the Maverick 33-yard line where finally they were forced to punt.

The Mavericks took the ball on their own 20 vard line. From Eastlands 20 Tommy Morren. for the Mavs, took the ball from Quarterback Gary Wheat and scrambled for the Mays first down. On the Mays second down Wheat threw to receiver Brent Parker who took for the Maverick's first touchdown, but the touchdown was called back because of a clipping penalty against the Mays. This was just one of two Maverick touchdowns that were called back because of penalties.

With little less than two minutes left in the first quarter, Dublin was able to put the first score on the board, which came from a 32 yard drive, by Perrin, Jurney and Monte Burke for Dublin. The touchdown itself came from a handoff from score of 22-8 over the Lions.

Perrin to Burke for a 20 yard during the half, the Mavericks touchdown run. And at the end came back onto the field with of the first quarter the score even more vigor than they had stood at Dublin 8, and Eastland shown in the first half.

As the second quarter unfolded the Mays looked like they were just getting warmed up. After the ball had swapped hands twice Maverick end Randy Wharton received a punt and ran for a touchdown which was called back for holding against the Mays. Following the penalty set back, the Mays started from their 20 yard line and from there Wheat threw a pass to end Mike Lewis who galloped 55 yards to bring the ball to rest at the Lions 25 yard line, followed by a 12 yard run by Wheat for another first, and then a handoff to Tommy Morren for the Mavericks' first touchdown, which was followed by a two point conversion pass from Wheat to Parker, that brought the score to Eastland 8 and Dublin 8.

Shortly after the touchdown fullback for the Mays John Marshall made a fantastic tackle, along with a tremendous pass block by Wharton, which helped set the Mavericks up for their second scoring drive.

The drive in which the Mavericks profited by their second score, started from their own 30 yard line, from there Wheat made use of Morren and Lewis to bring the ball to rest at the Lions 17 yard line, where Wheat threw once again to Parker to bring the Mavericks into the lead. At the end of the first half, with the extra point good, the score stood at Eastland 15, Dublin 8.

off by quarterback Mark Perrin for the Lions.

This left the Lions with a first and ten situation at the Mavs 22 yard line. On the Lions first play Mike Jurney bounded for 10 yards followed by a TD lunge which was called back because of a penalty against Dublin. After the penalty was stepped off the Lions once again brought the ball down to the goal to go situation, this time it was for keeps though. Jurney jumped in for the final Lion TD and then the two point conversion run, set the final score at Dublin 16 and the Mavericks 29.

As head coach Doug Dallas had said earlier in the week, that the Mavericks execution looked much better this year. I feel that he was exactly right. Some key players for the Mays were Mike Stutts, who provided some excellent kick off returns, Bryan Haun who showed tremendous capabilities in back field defensive play, Bryce Garrett whose size and great maneuverability will be essential to the Mays on the defensive side, and Mike Lewis whose sure handling of the football and good judgment will help the Mavs much offensively

CHESTER COUNTY IS MODEL FOR LOCAL PROGRAMS

West Chester, Pa. - While tumultuous Philadelphia goes on struggling under the best laid plans of mice and men, 30 miles down a dogwood trail, to the west, picturesque Chester County is developing a thorough and solid Bicentennial program that could be a prototype of community organizing. Dependent on little money, no new buildings, and a minimum of county legislation, the homespun Chester County plans are aimed at getting "ordinary Americans from around the country" visiting the ordinary Americans of Chester Countysleeping in their homes, watching plays presented by their children, and visiting farmfields and battlefields described by the local residents.

Chester County Tourist Bureau Chief Wilbur Kriebel, who is Administrative Director of the county's American Independence Bicentennial Committee, is confident that visitors to the big cities of the American Revolution will be looking for rest, relaxation, and a change of scene. They will be ready for West Chester's cobbled streets, English pubs, and friendly people, for its church-yard legends, Brandywine battlefield, and plain old country get-togethers.

Dr. Russell L. Sturzebecker, Chairman of the Committee, Professor of Health and Physical Education at West Chester State College, affirms that the success of local Bicentennial celebrations will lie with the people themselves. He believes that visitors will be interested in people-to-people contact, simple entertainment, and, in the case of 1976, an inside look into Revolutionary America. Chester County is gearing up to provide just that.

This county commission's secret of success lies in bridging the gap between providing too much direction and leaving the local groups to rely too much on their own initiative to get started.

Local groups need ideas to play with, respond to, rally around. That's what is behind the Chester County Commission's think-tank barrage of suggestions: To service clubs, students and businessmen - invite people from around the country with the same name as yours or people from other Chester Counties. To parents ---invite families to stay with you, have the kids sleep in the backyard. Set up a local housing authority to screen hosts and guests. A few contacts will lead to many more. To members of nationally affiliated societies -- invite fellow members to visit West Chester. To scouts, doctors, and lawyers - organize welcoming committees. To retired folks - undertake historical research and then serve as guides to local historical sites.

Additional ideas kicking around Chester County include using existing facilities for a variety of purposes: school yards could become trailer parks - with, perhaps, plays pre-

Chester County has the natural resources to be an attractive place to visit in 1976 - Valley Forge Park, St. Peter's Village, a number of covered bridges, Longwood Gardens. It also has the human resources - and an organizing process under way which promises to be effective in getting people to work together and play together, now and in 1976.

Dear friends,

Man is basically a social creature who lives his life in fellowship with others. At no time does he need an expression of this supporting fellowship more than at the time of mourning. Jesus said, "Blessed are they who mourn for they shall be comforted". He certainly was referring to the comfort afforded by our relatives and friends as He was of God's supporting presence.

Motion Filed

A motion for a new trila for former Justice of the Peace Wells Dalton was filed Thursday in 91st District Court in Eastland.

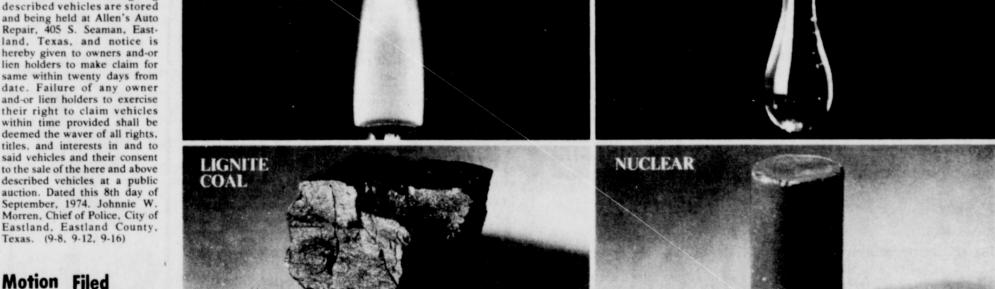

Dalton's attorney Bill Hart of Eastland said the date for a hearing on the motion has not been set. Hart said he could ask Judge Earl Conner Jr. to amend the motion at a later date but didn't know yet whether he would.

Dalton was convicted in 91st District Court of fraudulent misapplication of county funds. He was given a five year sentence and denied probation. Dist. Atty. Ed Paynter of Abilene prosecuted the case.

Visiting in the homes of Mr and Mrs. Wince Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Tankersley of Morton Valley during the week were Paul Sturm, wife, and son David; Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Sturm, Tim, and Kurt; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Sturm of Vidor, Texas. ****************

We're building power plants that use different fuels so you'll continue having the electricity you need.

Natural gas is the major fuel we use in our generating plants, and will be for several years. Oil is used on a standby basis.

But new supplies of these fuels are extremely difficult to obtain and increasingly expensive. To reduce our dependence on them, we've begun using lignite coal. We now have one lignite plant in operation, and two others under construction.

We have adequate supplies of lignite for the operating life of these plants and for some additional planned units. Even so, we will need another dependable fuel source for the future. That's why we're planning to have a nuclear-fueled plant in operation by 1980.

The use of lignite and nuclear fuels is necessary to provide enough electricity in the years ahead. Supplies of these fuels are more abundant and neither is being used extensively for any purpose other than the generation of electricity.

But building plants that use these fuels is a difficult and expensive job. Lignite and nuclear plants cost much more to build than gas/oil plants. While this means electricity will have to cost more in the future, the cost won't be as much with lignite and nuclear fuels as it would be with natural gas and oil, even if adequate new supplies were available.

We're continuing the orderly development of our power system so that you'll continue having the electricity you need.
