Teams Play In Hamilton Friday

Mavette Team

The next stop on the Eastland High School Basketball schedule will be Friday at Hamilton with the boys' and girls' varsity playing at 6:00 p.m.

The Comanche Indians were on the warpath Tuesday night as they downed all three of Eastland High School's basketball teams.

The Mavericks A and B teams were defeated 84 - 46 and 69 - 54. High point man for the varsity was Jerry Bowles with 18, closely followed by Tommy Morren with 12.

The Mavettes barely lost a close game 53 - 45. Ann Haun sank 15 points, Cynthia Pinkerton, 12; Jill Price, 11; and Carol Smith 7. Karen Jones, Jerri Simms and Dollie Moseley and Teresa Tankersley were excellent on defense. It was a tight contest in all

NOTE, NOTE, NOTE: If your youngster walks or cycles to "night" school, these early mornings, do him or her a safety favor and put him in light clothes, or stick reflective tape on him, or maybe a flashlight or lantern might be safer. Many, many narrow misses are being reported, and if you're driving yourself, it's mighty wise to drive slow and keep extra - special lookout.

BUTCH EIDSON, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Eidson and an EHS graduate, has been named to the Dean's Honor Roll for the second semester in a row, at Angelo State College where he is a business education major.

HAROLD FREEMAN of Forestburg, Montague County, a third year law student at SMU, informs us that he will announce as a Democratic candidate for State Representative, 54th District.

ENERGY SHORTAGE, indeed. Bill Morehead tells this: His four - year - old nephew Jeff was asked to remove a new Christmas toy truck from the family driveway. The reply: "I can't, it's out of gas."

"MRS. CECIL COLLINGS is moving to Glen Rose. She said to thank you for all the articles about the Library." That's the message in a note you find on your desk from an efficient secretary. You but can think how all Eastland will miss Judge and Mrs. Collings, and remember what wonderful citizens they've been while living here.

THE SEARCH for economy being what it is, have you seriously CONSIDERED CLASSIFIEDS?

IT'S MID - TERM time at EHS and on top of that, there's a batch of flu bugs making the rounds. Happy New Year.

ISSUING A year end report, Police Chief John Morren reports 100 accidents for the city in 1973. That's up, and the reason: less - than - good driving habits. Seventy eight of the accidents were at intersections properly signed. Crime generally was down with 74 total arrests for the year for the usual assortment including drunkenness, shoplifting, burglary, theft, etc. Both of the burglaries have been solved as have three of the eight minor thefts.

ALL COUNTRY newspaper babies are born on pressday! Can't report that, but this Wednesday was typical. Waiting for key parts from New Jersey for the all - important offset camera for a week; wouldn't you guess they come in, that's right, Wednesday morning. And Master Electrician F.L. Bond bounced right on the job as cued. We've maintained schedules thanks to the courtesy of Everybody's Friend Mr. Victor Cornelius and his super - efficient personnel, who have done our shooting for the week we've been camera - less. And that includes our contract jobs including Coleman and Bangs. Only thing that helps keep your sanity while waiting for parts and repairs is the interesting people who come to visit the news office.

We sat glassy - eyed hearing of the new invention of one of our local citizens. It's laxative - laced toothpaste for the chronically constipated. Who knows? It might sell, we told him.

Stamey To Retire - 3 File For Supt.

James Hughes

Carbon School Superintendent James (Jimmy) Hughes has authorized this newspaper to announce that he will be a Democratic candidate for the office of Eastland County School Superintendent in the May primary.

Alton Roan

Alton Roan, who this year retired from the Cisco Junior College Faculty after five years as director of the college stage band and serving as college entrance counsellor, this week authorized Eastland Telegram announce that he will be a candidate for County Superintendent of Eastland County, succeeding O.L. Stamey who announced his retirement.

Carlos Turner

Mr. Carlos Turner, native Eastland Countian and longtime educator, has authorized this newspaper to announce that he is a Democratic candidate for the office of Eastland County School Superintendent in the May Primary election.

A county resident for 52 years, this is the first time Mr. Turner has asked public office. Born and reared in the county, he graduated from Eastland High School and attended Ranger Junior College during the depression, working his way through school. Educators at the time were Dr. H.S. Von Roeder, dean; Mr. O.G. Lanier, registrar and secretary; Mrs. Wilbanks Hunter, English; and Mrs. A. Neil, American Literature.

Mr. Turner began teaching at Shady Grove, a one - room, one teacher school accommodating first through the seventh grades. He was there three years, and moved to Cisco under a consolidation program and worked under the late Mr. R.N. Cluck, Supt., four quarters. "It was a fantastic basketball game", said coach Charlotte Mason. "One of the most exciting I've ever been at". It was just one of those back and forth games where somebody's got to win and somebody's got to lose. This time the Mavettes were on the losing end.

Taxi Service Comes To Town

The Eastland Chamber of Commerce is happy to announce a much needed service for Eastland. Beginning Friday, Jan. 11, Earnest M. "Bo" Hood will operate a taxi service in Eastland. The taxi company will operate from the Village Hotel under the name of City Cab. Hours will be from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. week days and 7:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. on Sundays. The telephone number is 817 - 629 - 2812. City Cab Company is bonded and insured and will offer prompt courteous and efficient service. The Chamber is also happy to have City Cab as a new member.

The Chamber is much indebted to Victor Cornelius for his generous help in starting a fund to help get the company started. Also contributing were Zinnah Bourland and others who preferred to remain anonymous. We know many people will appreciate this service and we wish Mr. Hood much success in this new business.

Eastland City residents will be glad to know that they now have a cab service, operating out of the Village Hotel, 209 W. Main.

"I'll be there at 7 a.m. Thursday morning ready for business", said Ernest M. "Bo" Hood, the Chamber of Commerce's newest businessman. Hood began the service because he thought that Eastland really needed a taxi. "I want to cater to local business, especially the senior citizens", he added.

The new City Cab is a 4 - door Rambler deluxe. Its operating hours will be from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Saturday and from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Sunday. For service call 629 - 2812 during business hours. For night emergency call only, phone 629 - 8097.

Bo Hood has lived in Eastland County all his life and has been a mechanic for the past 18 years as well as working in and managing various area restaurants. Presently he and his wife are managers of the Hillside Apartments.

More And More People Turn To Telephone Industry Because Of Energy Crisis

With the energy crisis expected to curtail travel in the future, you would think it might be a "windfall" for the telephone industry as more and more people turn to "the next best thing to being there".

But that's not necessarily the case, according to T.O. Gravitt, Southwestern Bell vice president who heads up the company's operations in Texas.

"We may see some increased usage because of the energy crisis, but I am afraid any significant increase would be short lived", Gravitt explained. "It is not so much what it does directly to the telephone industry but rather what it does to the general economy."

"The telephone itself requires little electricity to operate, and we maintain storage batteries and emergency generating equipment as a safeguard against commercial power failures of short duration. When the 'brown-outs' occurred on the East Coast a few years ago, telephone service was never interrupted."

"Still, we may be one of the state's largest energy users, with 1,350 buildings to light, heat and cool, and a fleet of 7,400 motor vehicles. But we are doing everything possible to conserve energy, consistent with the need to maintain telephone service around the clock and to protect the health and safety of our 37,000 employees."

"Should the energy crisis worsen and continue over a prolonged period, leading to a general economic slowdown, the telephone industry has no immunity", Gravitt said.

"In fact", he pointed out, "a decrease in Long Distance volumes is oftentimes one of the first tangible indicators of an economic slowdown."

"While a public utility's position is, admittedly, unique, it can do no better in the long run than the customers it serves".

But the energy shortage is not the only problem with which the telephone industry is confronted, Gravitt noted.

Southwestern Bell has already been hit with the paper shortage. The printing of new telephone directories is on the company's "critical" list.

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

Good things, when short, are twice as good.

Psalm 117 is a good chapter, the shortest in the Bible. And it is sweet. Look at this B-hive of blessedness.

The first B - boundlessness. "Praise the Lord, all ye nations," exhorted the Psalmist. The Lord is not limited to one land. The Father did not send the Son to be the Saviour merely of many men, nor of most men, nor of all men except one. The Bible says, "The Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world."

The second B - benefits. Exclaimed the Psalmist, "The truth of the Lord endureth forever." By this is meant

His Word - His pledges and promises. The Lord is rich in promises. But He never multiplies them unnecessarily. And He differs from man. What the Lord promises, He performs. His deeds match His declarations.

The third B - beneficiaries. "His merciful kindness is great toward us," sang the Psalmist. This is seen in His giving His Son for us. When the Lord loves, He loves the world. When He gives, He gives His Son. But there are two sides to a gift, giving and receiving. He loved, and He gave His Son.

What will you do with Jesus?

COMBAT THE ENERGY CRISIS --- ATTEND CJC NIGHT CLASSES NEAR HOME!

Question:

Will you have enough natural gas for your home this winter?

Answer:

Yes!

Let's lay this question to rest once and for all. Lone Star Gas Company has enough natural gas reserves under contract to adequately supply our residential, commercial and other higher priority customers for many winters.

To be sure we have enough for these consumers, we will make some extensive curtailments of service to our large volume customers during extreme cold weather this winter. In fact, our contracts with large volume customers anticipate the need to curtail up to 100% of their needs during these cold periods. This allows us to assure service to residential, commercial and other higher priority customers.

We're taking major steps to make sure you have gas for the future. New gas we're buying costs more than four times the price we paid just a few years ago. This is an astonishing amount of money! But it's the price all of us must pay for a continuing supply of natural gas energy.

This winter, and in the future, natural gas from Lone Star will continue to be your best method of home heating, water heating and cooking...just as it has been for more than 40 years. But we all must remember to help conserve this precious energy fuel.

New Brucellosis Regulations Adopted
The new brucellosis regulations (Proclamation of the Texas Animal Health Commission No. AHC - 1) were adopted unanimously by the Texas Animal Health Commission at an official Commission meeting in Laredo, Texas, on October 15, 1973. These new regulations will bring the Texas Brucellosis Program into compliance with the National Uniform Methods and Rules which are considered minimum standards.

Southwestern Bell Plans Construction Program
Southwestern Bell is planning a record construction program for Texas in 1974, despite the recent clouding of the state's economic picture due to the energy crisis.

"Our projections indicate it will take more than $10 million a week, on the average, to keep ahead of the expanding telecommunications needs over the state in 1974", according to T.O. Gravitt, Southwestern Bell vice president and head of operations in Texas.

It will mark the second year in a row in which the company has spent more than a half billion dollars expanding and improving telephone service in the state.

While the final audit of 1973 cannot be completed until about mid - January, Gravitt estimated the year's capital expenditures will total about $515 million. "If the energy crisis does not precipitate a sharp decline in economic activity", he explained, "we may well need an 8 to 10 percent increase in construction dollars in 1974 over what we are spending this year".

Although not a record year in telephone growth, 1973 has been one of the better years, according to Gravitt, with more than 300,000 phones added.

While Southwestern Bell is the largest telephone company in Texas, it is far from being the only phone company. There are 94 other operating companies serving more than 1,200,000 telephones. The total number of phones is now in excess of 7,100,000, which is more than in all South America.

In addition to being the state's largest phone company, Southwestern Bell may be the state's largest private employer, with 37,000 employees.

Taxes and payroll continue to be far and away the company's largest operating expenses but, at the same time, a significant factor in the Texas economy, totaling over $600 million.

Wages and salaries in 1973 are up $70 million, to a total of more than $400 million. Taxes paid to state and local taxing entities increased $20 million, to a total of $255 million.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible

"And now I will send the Holy Spirit upon you, just as my Father promised. Don't begin telling others yet—stay here in the city until the Holy Spirit comes and fills you with power from heaven." Then Jesus led them out along the road to Bethany, and lifting his hands to heaven, he blessed them, and then began rising into the sky, and went on to heaven. And they worshiped him, and returned to Jerusalem filled with mighty joy, and were continually in the Temple, praising God.

Watergate and Beyond

With great relief we say goodbye to what has been one of the most exasperating years of America's history. But now, however, we apparently are confronted with more of the same frustrations in the year ahead. The events of Watergate and the ensuing vengeful investigations have sapped the vitality of America. Watergate threatens to destroy us, but on and on it goes. Is all this necessary?

Let us try for a moment to put Watergate in its proper perspective. Though many diligent people have been working months trying to do so, no substantial evidence has been presented to connect Mr. Nixon to Watergate. But, let us assume he is guilty of planning and cover-up in this event. Of what would he be guilty? Conspiracy and obstruction of justice, cries the enemy. What horrible words to hang on the President of the United States. In any crime, the most important part is the motive. The biggest question about the whole affair is, why did it happen? The experts seem to agree that had the instigators been successful, the most they could have gotten was a little information with which to embarrass their political enemies or prevented the enemy from embarrassing them. For many years, this kind of activity has merely been passed off as "politics."

If a news man would have planned Watergate and had been successful, whether he went in with false credentials or no credentials, whether through the back door or through the transom, he more than likely would have received an award for good journalism. If he had gotten into any trouble, he would merely refuse to tell the source of his information. Mr. Nixon's relations to the news media have never been very good. It is possible this could be part of his own doing. During his first administration, when most all the things he's accused of took place, his conduct of the war almost completely alienated him from the news media. I am sure he felt he could not compromise on this nor keep them informed of what he was doing. In spite of the vicious assaults on him, the people of the United States overwhelmingly put him back in office. Could this be what is bugging some people?

In their frustrations at the failure to tie Mr. Nixon to Watergate, these people have dedicated themselves to his destruction at whatever cost to America. I believe the cost has been too great already.

One of the greatest criticisms of Mr. Nixon is the fact that so many people gave a lot of money to his campaign. Implication is that he was handing out favors right and left. This is pure speculation. There are many people in America who will give substantially of whatever they have to insure the election of a man they believe to be best qualified to run the country. As far as corporate funds were concerned this is strictly the fault of those who gave. They knew what the law was. I never received a solicitation of money from the Republican National Committee that did not warn of that law.

As the investigations got under way as to improvements on Mr. Nixon's homes, I am sure they found it would take a wiser man than Solomon to say what was spent on security and what was nothing more than improvements. I don't recall hearing much about this in previous administrations. If those in charge gave Mr. Nixon the benefit of doubt, in some cases, I think the amount of money involved would be minimal when compared to the millions of dollars we have spent in recent years to protect our Presidents. Most agree that it is money well spent. It seems to make little difference to some that at least one home will be given to our government.

Mr. Nixon's tax returns have come under close scrutiny. His critics would have him subject to all laws other people are subject to except he is not to get tax deductions other high government officials have taken in recent years. His net worth increase has been criticized, yet his predecessor came out of close to the same number of years of government service with a reported net worth of twenty million dollars. I don't say there is anything wrong with this, only comparing.

He has been accused of doing special favors for special groups. This is a very difficult area of American politics. I would only remind you that a presidential candidate in 1968 went before a teachers group and told them they should have the right to strike. He went away with a pledge of quarter of a million dollars for his campaign.

Mr. Nixon reportedly has surrounded himself with a lot of crooks. Let us go back to his first administration, when on television, he introduced to America and Congress, those whom he had chosen to serve with him. As he introduced them one by one, "good man", "good choice", and as he finished they were applauded as a "wonderful group". Few negative remarks were heard.

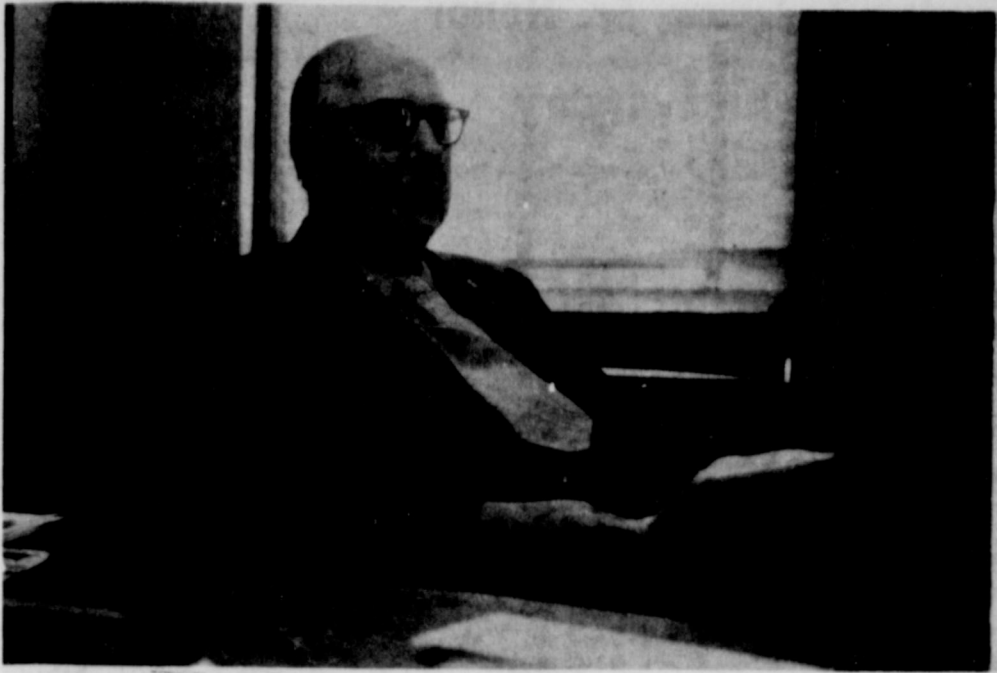

I have said all this with the full knowledge that Mr. Nixon and those who work with him have made a lot of mistakes. Mr. Nixon admits this. I do not believe, however, that the gravity of these mistakes warrants all the abuse that has been heaped upon them. I believe you will be disappointed if you think you will get any better government in Washington than you will get in your State Capitol, Court House or City Hall. The men in Washington are no more and no less than a composite of those in your home town. Your Doctor, Lawyer, Postman or the man next door. If the moral climate in Washington has deteriorated in recent years it is because it has deteriorated in the Grass Roots of America. Instead of looking to Washington to solve this problem, we must look to ourselves. That's where it all started and that's where it must end.

My advice to those Scribes and Pharisees who would destroy Mr. Nixon at whatever cost to America, cut off your flow of venom, pull out your self-righteous fangs and get off his back. He is my President too, you know.

Eastland Courthouse patrons will miss sight when County School Superintendent O.L. Stamey retires next year. He recently announced he will not seek re-election to the post in this year's elections. Stamey has been school superintendent for the past 10½ years. He has been active in Eastland County Education for the past 50 years. What will he do? "Well," said O.L. with a smile, "I can always try to work in education somewhere else for a while."

A Tribute To Jim Isbell

The following pieces are written by people who loved and admired Jim Isbell:

This first one is written by Fletcher F. Isbell, Jim's cousin who is a retired reporter and copy editor on the Washington Star.

Teachers have one great advantage over those of us in other callings. Their lives on this earth do not cease with their last heartbeats, but continue after them in the lives of their former students and then, like spreading ripples, to the generations beyond.

So it is with Jim. He led a life devoted to learning and to imparting that learning to the young, and his children are legion. He was born with that independence of thought and desire to know for himself which are a mark of his clan, but he did not let his pursuit of excellence cloud either his compassion or his modesty. He was frank, generous and gentle. Circumstances required him to show courage and determination from his boyhood days, and he rose to the challenge. His resolve was great, his tastes wide-ranging, and he followed reason rather than impulse, but he did so always with the leaven of good humor. He goes to his rest leaving us secure in the knowledge that with the ready absorption of youth hundreds have acquired his mind and heart, and that he leaves them and us a rich legacy. Somehow, somewhere, when he receives his own final grade on a life well spent, surely it will be A, summa cum laude.

The next piece was written by John Page Williams, headmaster at St. Christopher's School, Richmond, Va., when Jim Isbell was there. He is now Dean of Episcopal Schools:

"We thank thee, Oh God, for all the goodness and courage which have passed from the life of thy servant into the life of others and have left the world richer for his presence - for a life's task faithfully and honorably discharged; for a love of the creation, people and truth; for affection and kindness; for sadness met without surrender, and weakness endured without defeat; we thank thee, through Jesus Christ Our Lord".

All of us have shared in the joy of conversation and correspondence with Jim. As I recall his letters and his comments, I am humbled by the responsibility he wanted me to take on this occasion.

The first thing that comes to mind is the joy which he had in all of creation, people, places, history, sports, politics - all of them were objects of his interest, his care and his enjoyment. He had the seeing eye which helped him find good in people and in places. As he rode on buses in cities or around the country he found delight in the variety of people and the variety of scenery which he encountered. The spirit which was the source of his joy and kindness and the perspective gained from his knowledge and understanding of history gave him a freedom and independence which is all too rare in our age.

I cherish the memory of watching him sit in the faculty room telling an excited little girl at his knee the dramatic Greek stories. The epithets which he could use with boys who had reached the age of reluctance about learning were full of classic color and is Isbellian good humor. His generous concern and continuing support and loyalty for two colleagues, one a victim of various frustrations and the other a victim of Nazi persecution, were characteristic.

These qualities meant that he was no ordinary teacher. People who think of teaching as preparing young people for the set patterns of thinking and living were not always sure

JACK LEACH proudly holds a good size rack of 16 points that he got off a big buck eight miles north of Eastland on his farm. He shot the deer late in the evening of Dec. 30, with a 308 Remington with scope and 180 grain bullet. "I'd been after this smart, big buck all season", Leach said. "I laid on the cold ground so long I almost froze death", he admitted, "and was shaking so badly I thought I'd missed at first." It took both Leach and his son, Don, 18, to load the big buck onto his pickup. He estimated the deer weighed about 170 - 180 lbs. This was the first time Leach has used a scope. He plans to from now on, saying you can do so much better late in the evening.

about some of Jim's procedures. He was either too much in the tradition of great teachers of the past, or ahead of his time in freedom from some of the conventional patterns of education which had taken some of the life out of classrooms of the mid-twentieth century. He had a wise man's skepticism of many routines which may have blinded some youngsters to those greater ideas in which he delighted, routines which are now less revered among educators. The fortunate student was the one who was able to respond when he opened the windows and exposed them to the fresh air of great thinkers ranging from his beloved Greeks to Schweitzer and Niebuhr. Too many teachers preach more about reading than they practice it. Jim, however, was to any young person a magnificent exemplar of the true love of books and reading, the continuing readiness to learn more about mankind and the creation. He had an appreciation of genuine thinking and indulgence for the foibles and contradictions of emotional young militants. He maintained a continuing concern for his former students and took great pleasure in the progress of their careers and their ideas. The result was a growing appreciation on the part of the brightest and best of his students, those who could approach his level of thinking.

His courage and endurance were shown in many ways. He was so uncomplaining about his own pain and suffering, that it was not easy for all of us to be as aware as we should have been of the physical pain and limitations which he had daily to overcome. I understand that these qualities of courage were manifested even more strongly during the past year. His appreciation and understanding of the simplest laborer, the dullest functionary, the unimaginative athlete, or the most brilliant writer or scholar, was surpassed only by the tenderness and steadfastness of his devotion to his family and his intimate friends, to take delight in one who had cultivated so faithfully enjoyment of the things, the people of the creation and their history, one who always looked for what was good in his fellowman, loved and served them with such loyalty, and bore with such patience his extra share of sufferings. I am not sure how Jim might have formulated in a creed his understanding of the spirit who created the world and its beauty, who came at this time to live among men and to go about doing good, and who has worked in the hearts of men through the ages. Surely we can trust Jim to the never failing, care and love of Him with whom he shared

THE BACKBONE'S CONNECTED TO THE...

Three fourths of all products shipped in America move over the highways . . . and 90% of all the people who travel . . . drive. Highways are the backbone of our total transportation system. But - the backbone's connected to airports in the state . . .

to city and intercity bus lines . . .
to the railroads . . .
to waterways . . .

We do more good for ourselves in our personal and business lives, if we believe in improvement and integration of each of the important parts of our transportation network.

In our state the backbone's connected . . . and let's keep it that way.

Miss Lanet Gilley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Gilley of Littlefield, and Tommy Gregory, son of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Gregory of Carbon, exchanged double-ring wedding vows Saturday night, December 29, in the Crescent Park Church of Christ in Littlefield.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gilley wore a formal-length turquoise double knit dress, trimmed in rhinestone lace. The groom's mother wore a formal-length pink double knit dress, trimmed in silver.

The new bride is a 1969 graduate of Littlefield High School, and a 1973 graduate of Lubbock Christian College with a BS degree in education. She is currently employed by Lubbock schools as a substitute teacher.

been filled with the things that make pleasant memories. My first pastorate was Mitchell, followed by East Cisco, Nimrod and Pleasant Hill. Then to my utter surprise the church at Carbon called us. We remained with them six happy years and was called to Moran. This pastorate was followed by Baird, Munday, Floydada, and Colorado City. Next came Stamford and Big Spring. We stayed at Big Spring exactly twenty years. These pastorates covered 48 years and eight months. Then we spent six years in independent evangelism, holding more than a hundred revivals. Our last regular assignment was associate pastor of Second Baptist Church in Houston.

What memories these 60 years hold! The baptizings, weddings, funerals. Hours of counseling, preparing sermons, visiting the sick and consoling the grief stricken. "Rejoicing with those who rejoiced and weeping with those who mourned". It is indeed a great life. If a fairy should wave a wand over me and turn back the years, I would choose the same course of life. I could not do much more, but I would try to do it better. Thanks Lord for all the wonderful friendships this profession has afforded me!

Lions Club Holds Meeting Tuesday At Ramada Inn

Development of safety sidewalks and the availability of higher education locally were topics for members of the Eastland Lions Club at their Tuesday luncheon meeting at the Ramada Inn.

Principal speaker was Eris Ritchie, public relations director for Cisco Junior College, who described the college's expanding night and vocational programs.

President Darwin Miller presided and reported that at the board of directors meeting held Tuesday morning it was agreed that the club would explore its two year old project for helping develop a safety sidewalk for school students on W. Sadosa and S. Madera Sts. It was agreed that these are especially needed now that the schools are on daylight savings time, and students are walking and riding bicycles so early in the morning when it is still dark.

Guest introduced was James Wortman, new State Farm Insurance representative.

E.G. Rice was program chairman and Mr. Ritchie pointed out that an employed person could get 12 hours college work by going to night school. Any catalogued course can be offered to as many as 10 persons, he said. In its extension program, the college has a board program at Clyde (where it even has its own building). Coleman Graham and Dyess AFB. The school also maintains a Licensed Vocational Nursing program benefitting hospitals and nursing homes throughout this area.
