Contributions For Centennial Library Fund Total $6,460<sup>00</sup>

A total of $6,460.00 in contributions to the Centennial Memorial Library Fund Afternoon Club.

The Fund was established by the club early in November for the purpose of purchasing the building at 210 South Lamar and remodeling it into an attractive, up to date library.

The building, built for the late J. O. Earnest, recently has been occupied by Sledge Market and was purchased by the club from Howell Sledge. A brick building with concrete flooring, it contains 8,000 square feet of floor space.

The Thursday Afternoon Club has maintained a library in Eastland since 1901. It has shared space with The Woman's Club at the present Plummer St. Location since 1925 but has long ago outgrown all available space there.

"The club hopes to have the help of the entire community in providing an improved facility," Mrs. Childress said. All gifts, large or small, are welcomed and may be designated as in memory or in honor of a loved one.

They may be made to any of the Fund's officials - James Reid and Mrs. Inez Bourdeau at the Eastland National Bank or to John Russell, treasurer.

Dear friends,

Man is basically a social creature who lives his life in fellowship with others. At no time does he need an expression of this supporting fellowship more than at the time of mourning. Jesus said, "Blessed are they who mourn for they shall be comforted". He certainly was referring to the comfort afforded by our relatives and friends as he was of God's supporting presence.

Respectfully,

Dale O. Bakker

At your service: Electricity that helps broaden the path to knowledge.

Project a herd of charging elephants onto a movie screen, and a student sees what is happening in a far away world. Test his ability against an electronic speed-reading machine, and he almost surely will respond to the spirit of the challenge. Educators today are much aware of the value of audio-visual equipment in the classroom. Modern education is a sight-and-sound world in which electricity helps bring history, geography, literature and languages to life. Electricity is hard at work for you just about anywhere you go these days. And the use of electricity is expected to increase in the years ahead. When additional power is needed, we'll be ready to provide it to schools and to all our customers. But getting ready and staying ready is an increasingly expensive, never-ending job at Texas Electric. Our construction expenditures are at a record high for facilities necessary to keep an adequate and reliable power supply at your service.

Gordon Pot

by DeMarquis Gordon

Livestock feeding is one of the necessary chores in Eastland County, and producers are faced with paying a high price for a major protein supplement, cottonseed meal.

What are the alternatives? Cattlemen should consider whole cottonseed as a substitute along with guar meal, castor meal, alfalfa hay, dehydrated alfalfa pellets and commercial dry supplements.

However, the price of whole cottonseed may increase due to pressure from the high-priced cottonseed meal which is now more than $150 a ton.

In determining whether to feed whole cottonseed or the 41 percent cottonseed meal, consider the cost of each as well as handling and hauling costs. Feed the whole cottonseed if 100 pounds of it can be fed cheaper than a mixture of 35 pounds of cottonseed meal and 65 pounds of milo.

In feeding whole cottonseed or any of the other alternative protein supplements, the main concern is to provide the minimal amount of protein for livestock.

Feed no more than five pounds of whole cottonseed per cow per day since it contains 22 percent fat which is laxative to cattle. The five pounds is usually more than enough to meet the protein needs of the beef cow.

Since other protein supplements are also high-priced, you might combine these supplements with a high quality forage to minimize the amount of supplement needed. Forages can be tested for protein content so that the cattlemen can determine the amount of supplement to feed along with the forage to meet the daily protein requirements of his stock.

Forage examples may be sent to the Forage Testing Laboratory at Texas A&M for a protein analysis. Information for submitting such samples as well as additional information on supplement feeding of beef cattle is available at our office.

More information on beef cattle feeding will be given at a beef cattle short course on January 29th in Eastland.

The new "Farmer's Tax Guide" is now available at the county Extension offices. The publication gives information on filing farm and ranch income tax returns.

Written in easily understood language, the guide gives a number of examples of completed forms.

The guide contains a new section on investment credit which explains what property qualifies, the amount of credit available, limitations, and how to complete credit on used property and recapture information.

The guide also has a chapter on credit for gasoline and fuels used on a farm for farming purposes. Another chapter deals with self-employment taxes for Social Security. It explains what income is and is not taxable for Social Security.

The tax guide is indexed so producers can easily find information on specific subjects such as selling a farm, sale of breeding animals, depreciation, involuntary conversion and other topics.

Whether you have your return filed by a tax practitioner or do it yourself, the new publication will be useful.

We will have a Farmers' Income Tax meeting in Eastland, Friday, January 26th. James Denton, Agricultural Economist, will discuss farm income tax.

Everyone is invited to attend. The meeting starts at 9:00 a.m. at the Eastland County Farm Bureau building.

I REMEMBER

By Dick O'Brien

I suppose I should head this column -- "I Do Not Remember. But I've Been Told." that on January 10th, 1892 I was born in an unpainted house on the banks of Sabano creek four miles out of Gorman, Texas. Dr. Kimball told me that it was a miserable, cold night, and that he lost a sturpp off his saddle as he rode out to deliver me at nine o'clock that night. I was the seventh boy in a family of eight boys and four girls. When they told mother it was another boy, she said she turned her face to the wall and asked the Lord what would she do with another boy when the house and yard was already full of boys. Then, she told me, she said: "Lord, I already have more boys than I can give proper rearing to, so I am going to give this one to You." However she soon forgot this monolog and threw me in with the others and gave us all and each the same motherly attention.

Twenty years later I felt a compelling conviction that God wanted me to preach. I had no desire to fight such a call, but found it hard to shake the conviction. When mother heard about it, her experience the night I was born returned and she exclaimed, "God is in this, and he will preach!" Forty eight years as a pastor, and five years in evangelism, confirmed her conviction. And here and now I record my gratitude to God and a wonderful mother for the joys these years have given. If I could live another 80 years I would give them all to the gospel ministry!

Thursday Club Holds Meeting

The Thursday Afternoon Study Club met Thursday January 3rd in the lovely home of Mrs. Grady Pipkin.

The meeting was called to order by the President Mrs. Nancy Childress and a short business session was held.

The club voted to extend an invitation to the Heart of Texas District to hold its convention in Eastland in the spring of 1974.

After the business session the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Iral Inzer, program chairman for the afternoon.

Mrs. Inzer led the club collect and then presented the program titled "Silly Old Grandmother with Picture in her Purse."

She presented Mrs. Henry Van Geem who gave a very interesting and amusing talk on Grandmothers and grandchildren.

Mrs. Ben Hammer brought a carnical of thoughts on amusing things about Grandfathers.

After this delightful program delicious spiced tea and cake squares were served by Mrs. Childress and Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins to twenty members and one guest Mrs. Rosa Lee O'Loretto.

Hostesses were Mesdames Pipkin and Inez Bourdeau.
