YOUNG FARMERS-YOUNG HOMEMAKERS WEEK SCHEDULED--Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy White and their young daughter watch as Muleshoe Mayor Irvin St. Clair signs a proclamation designating the week of September 18-25 as Young Farmer-Young Homemaker Week in Bailey County. The Mayor's proclamation said, "Whereas, the Young Farmer and Young Homemaker organizations of this community form a vital contribution to its growth and betterment, I, Irvin St. Clair, Mayor of Muleshoe, declare September 18-25 as National Young Farmer-Young Homemaker Week." An estimated 300 people attended a one-day Young Farmer-Young Homemaker district convention in Muleshoe Saturday. They represented 35 district chapters.

Cotton Production Here Boosted By Moisture

With Good Weather Top Yield Expected

If there is a normal freeze date, and if there are no particular adverse weather conditions early in the fall, the South Plains area will harvest the biggest cotton crop since 1965, is the present prediction. This would be the sixth largest crop on the South Plains in history with the present estimate being 2,015,000 bales of cotton in the 25-county area covered in the South Plains. Both Lubbock Cotton Exchange and Plains Cotton Growers have set the prospective cotton yield. Bailey County is expected to come in for 48,000 bales, down from 62,000 last year. Cotton crops in Bailey County are showing slow maturity due to lack of moisture and late planting dates, but present prospects by farmers indicate an expectation of good yields due to late summer moisture. Normal rainfall for September is about 2.25 inches, and the average minimum temperature is 57 degrees, with the average maximum set at 85 degrees. The first frost date is generally November 4, although the first freeze in 1970 was October 8 and in 1969, the first freeze was October 13.

The estimate is up 214,000 bales from the guess made on August 1, primarily due to errors in acreage figures on the earlier assessment and to beneficial rains on dryland cotton during August. Standing acreage is now estimated at 2,392,000, up from 2,222,000 estimated on August 1 before firm criteria were available on which to judge the extent of cotton plantings. Farmers were required to certify planted acreage to county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices by August 1, and ASCS office mandate of the acreage devoted to cotton production. Some however still have not announced an official total. Value of the Plains crop, at 2,015,000 bales, could pass the $400 million mark this year. Cont'd, on Page 10, Col. 4

Bailey County Hospital Board Met Tuesday

Members of the Bailey County Hospital District met Tuesday night with no major business pending, and no action taken. Major discussion concerned outstanding bills, but no decision was made as one member stated, "We don't have the funds available to pay any bills at this time."

DL Office Will Close For Part Of Next Week

Mrs. Eugene Black, in the driver's license office for the Texas Department of Public Safety, said the office will be open during regular office hours Monday, September 13, then close for the rest of the week. The DL office will re-open on a regular schedule on Monday, September 20. DL Examiner for the DPS, C.D. Fitzgerald, will be here on Monday, but not in Muleshoe for the rest of next week.

Young Farmers, Homemakers 'Week' Slated

September 18-25 has been officially designated as Young Farmer Week in Texas by proclamation of Governor Preston Smith.

The proclamation, signed recently, gives additional recognition to this rapidly growing farm group. The Young Farmer Association is sponsored under the auspices of vocational agriculture departments in high schools across Texas and the Texas Education Agency. President of the Bailey County Young Farmer Association is Jimmie White. His wife, Jaquita, is president of the Young Homemakers Association, who will also be celebrating a special week September 18-25.

Over 250 Young Farmer and Young Homemaker chapters have been organized on a local school district or county wide basis to carry out educational activities which will help the members keep abreast of the technological advancements in the fields of agriculture and homemaking and to develop greater skills and efficiency in management, production, and marketing, as well as phases of homemaking. Governor Smith points out in the proclamation that, in addition to educational activities, Young Farmers incorporate in their planned chapter programs civic and community service projects and leadership activities that are

Mules Celebrating Dimmitt Downfall

WHEE!! WE WON

SEASON OPENER 18-16

Donnie Wheat attempted a straight down the middle dive for extra points, but his attempt failed. Heartstopping action marked the next several minutes when Frierson broke away for a seven yard TD run and added two more points to make it an 18-16 game. The Mules managed to reclaim the ball until the last 45 seconds of the game, and stubbornly held the Bobcats away from the elusive goalposts until the clock ran out.

During this, the initial game for the Mules and Bobcats, the Mules picked up more than 390 yards on the ground play. A long pass attempt failed and short pichtouts were successful for the wily Mules. Cont'd, on Page 10, Col. 1

Longhorns Win Opening Game With Hart, 6-0

Lazbuddie's Longhorns narrowly squeaked by Hart Friday night to take a 6-0 opening season game, on the Lazbuddie field. Arthur Graves put the only tally on the board for the night when he scored from around the right from four yards out and the PAT failed.

MCIB Starts Working On Cleaning Up City

All members of the Muleshoe Community Improvement Board were present for a meeting Friday morning at the Corral Restaurant at 7 a.m. Discussed was a survey which was made of junk and abandoned cars and a decision was made to meet with City Manager Albert Field and present the lengthy list of cars to him for action by the Muleshoe City Police Department. City Manager Field will be asked to follow through on the existing city ordinance and eliminate the junk cars from the streets, alleys and lots where they are located. Members of the MCIB also plan a series of pictures, showing areas which need clean-up and improvement. The pictures will be taken during the next two weeks.

Bula Tallies 100-12 Victory At Hermleigh

Bula Coach Lloyd Halbrook took his team to Hermleigh to meet the B team Cardinals Friday night, and the score was more like a basketball score, with the Bulldogs defeating the Cardinals, 100-12. Jim Risinger quarterbacked his team to the one-sided tilt. The Bula coach said next Friday night will be open for the Bulldogs, and they will start district play after that time.

Nino Sparks 14-6 Three Way Gridiron Win

With a stand-off in the first half, and neither team getting on the scoreboard, Manuel Nino sparked his team to a 14-6 victory over Dawson Friday night. He ran back the opening kickoff in the second half a full 80 yards to paydirt. Later in the same quarter, Larry Neutzler added another TD on a 70 yard romp and Kenneth Meyers added two for Three Way. Ramon Hernandez tallied up the only score for Dawson with a one yard TD plunge.

New Bicycle Laws Become Effective

Several new bicycle safety laws have been passed by the 62nd legislature, and because of the great number of bicyclists in this area, The Journal is reprinting the laws at this time.

Texas Highway Patrolmen Gene Sisemore and Joe Young, who live in Bailey County said any person performing any forbidden act, or failing to comply with the new laws will be charged with a misdemeanor.

If a bicycle operator is caught disobeying any of the new laws or existing bicycle laws, he will be taken to his parents or guardian, if a minor, and the parent or guardian will receive the citation for the misdemeanor.

The parent of any child or guardian of any ward shall not authorize or knowingly permit any child or ward to violate provisions of the new laws. It is strictly the responsibility of the parents or guardians or their child or ward to see that a child obeys these laws, the patrolmen continued. All bicycles will come under the same laws as a motor vehicle according to the new laws.

No bicycle shall be used to carry more than one person at one time other than the number for which the bicycle is designed or equipped. This means no more handlebar riding or riding in front of the operator.

Named chairman for the drive in the four-county bookmobile area is Bailey County Judge Glen Williams, who will be assisted by Mrs. Joe Sooter, bookmobile librarian. Muleshoe Jaycee-ettes will handle the business drive and other chairmen will be announced as they are designated. Smith reminded that memberships are $1 and up for individual memberships each year, $5 and up for a family; $25, $50 and up for organizations, and $100 and up for life memberships. He also said that special gifts, memorials and life membership above $100 will be specially recognized in the new

Prowlers And 'Peeping Toms' Get Warning

If you are a prowler or window-peeper, beware !!! Numerous reports have been received in recent weeks by the Bailey County Law Enforcement Center concerning prowlers. It seems the prowling is not concentrated in just one area of town, but have been reported from east to west and from north to south. A number of jittery residents, especially those who have had 'repeat' performances for several nights in a row, have said they are loading guns and will stop the prowling one way or another.

One Muleshoe man recently chased prowlers in the early morning hours for several blocks. This chase, after an all-night seige, ended when it started getting light and the man who was pursuing the prowlers realized he was ill-clad to be seen in daylight hours. He is one of the local residents reporting repeated incidents of prowling to law enforcement officers.

At another Muleshoe home, scratching on windows seems to be the favorite pastime of the nighttime intruder. He keeps four children awake and frightened as he scratches on the windows around the home. Understandable, the father of the family is becoming agitated about the recent events, said a local law enforcement officer.

Window-peeping has become more prevalent in recent weeks, and a number of calls have been received concerning a person or persons standing outside with their faces glued against an undraped or partially draped window or door.

Another intruder has been reported to officers recently. Several local residents say they are receiving telephone calls with no one answering when they answer the telephone. Some persons say there is only the sound of heavy breathing from the other end of the phone before the phone is hung up. So, prowlers, beware--!!!

SYLP Slates Special Guest Speaker Soon

According to an announcement by the Support Your Local Police Committee, a special guest speaker will be held in Muleshoe on Tuesday, September 28. David Emerson Gumaer, who has worked as an undercover agent for police intelligence units and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, will speak in the Muleshoe High School auditorium at 8 p.m. that night. Prior to his evening talk in the auditorium, Gumaer will speak in a high school assembly program.

Mrs. Gene Lowe, president of the Support Your Local Police Committee, said tickets are available now for $1.50 advance sales and $2 at the door.

HOLD UP, THERE, FELLA--Coming in to assist Bobby Hayes, who has Jerry Mathews pinned down is Julian Vela, No. 20. Racing in to help is George Mitchell, No. 68, as Tommy Clements, 89, as the Mules congregate to stop the Bobcats.

Calvary Baptist Church Has Special Missionary Speaker

The special speaker at the Calvary Baptist Church Wednesday night, September 1, was Jim Foster, missionary to Honduras in Central America. A presentation of the field was given with colored slides. It was interesting to know that the area to which Rev. Foster is going is very mountainous. He said he will need two mules for transportation. Because the mule is more sure-footed than a horse, requires less food and does more work are reasons for using the mule.

Rev. Foster is married and has four daughters. The family was not able to accompany him on this trip to Texas. His wife, Dorothy, and daughters, Linda, 16, Hollie, 14, Connie, 11, and Alison, 3, are at home in Livonia, Michigan which is just outside Detroit.

The Fosters are sent to the mission field by the Covenant Baptist Church of Sterling Heights, Michigan. They are going out through the World Baptist Church of Sterling Baptist Fellowship Missions of Arlington, Texas.

While in the Muleshoe area, Rev. Foster assisted Rev. Charles Harvey, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church. He attended the Agri-Business Tour sponsored by the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, driving the bus. Later he assisted the men of the church as they tore down an old house given to the church for the lumber.

Sunday, September 5, Rev. Foster spoke in both services

On Board Meetings

The public is entitled to an account of public meetings --and in this area a newspaper tries to serve through its reporting. It has been suggested to us, however, that a more accurate and unbiased "coverage" could be obtained through publication of board minutes solely. Also we have been told that board members often must go over problems unofficially in between meetings and so a news reporter is not qualified to report a final action when he has no knowledge of the whole background.

This would certainly eliminate a lot of time and effort for the reporter! All he would have to do before publication is to pick up a set of minutes which might even be typed and delivered to him.

But remember, minutes reflect only final action which would give the uninformed public only "after the fact" information. The public would have no opportunity to protest or endorse action on issues under consideration.

Let us also remind board members that the Attorney General ruled on May 26th: "The process by which a board or commission arrives at its decision is so closely akin to the final decision itself that the two cannot be separated..." Therefore, he ruled, boards must conduct all their business in the open. After all, it is not their "private" business but that of the public.

A good example of how the public can get misinformation by no newspaper reporter being present is illustrated by the two "no quorum" accounts given by Defensor Chieftain last week on the scheduled City Council meeting. (Our apologies for being obliged to be out of town and not having a reporter available.)

Had we been at City Hall that Friday evening at 8 p.m. we would have reported that the Council meeting was indeed called to order by the mayor and "no quorum" was determined. As it was, we depended upon secondary sources for information (even calling City Hall) and never learned the facts, although we hasten to say our secondary sources were completely accurate in that some councilmen did arrive and did find the doors locked--which had to be after 8:15 p.m. when those present with the mayor had already left. Also City Hall officials must be excused since one was on vacation and the other had just returned from vacation, so like this reporter, had no knowledge of the meeting.

We firmly believe scheduled meetings should begin at the set time of the agenda. However, it has been our experience that not always do boards follow the letter of the law in this regard. There have been times when this reporter and a few board members have waited around (sometimes uselessly) for a quorum to materialize. And this has been an exasperating experience for all concerned--although extenuating circumstances do occur which make "no quorum" meetings unavoidable.

But this should prove to the reader, we hope, that the public is entitled to a report other than from the government body making the decision--including HOW it "arrives at its decision" on issues directly concerned with the public.

Socorro, N. M.

Club Reporters:

Do You Have A Feature Story?

Has your club performed an unusual service, staged a dramatically successful benefit or developed a project that filled a civic need? Organization reporters should ask themselves if there is an activity other clubs and other communities would want to learn about. If the answer is a strong yes, there may be a story for the Journals.

The feature story needs the same WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE, WHY and HOW of a news release. The HOW of this kind of publicity has great importance.

Collect the most dramatic facts, organize them well and bring them to the society reporter. The greater number of people the story is likely to interest, the better the chance of attracting the reporter's interest.

Don't be afraid to suggest feature ideas. The editor may decide to play it up differently than you suggest. He knows his readers. Be grateful that the club's activity will enjoy this special publicity boost.

Newspapers will sometimes support worthy organization projects in the form of an editorial in addition to features. If any organization is engaged in a project that will benefit the civic-social, educational, recreational or spiritual life of the whole community, the president, reporter, member or other interested party may submit the project's merits. If it is in line with the newspaper policy and when there is space for it, the news article or feature will be appreciated by both the paper and its readers as a special newsworthy project.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm sounds about half-way serious this week.

Dear Editor: Every time somebody gets taken advantage of, somebody wants to pass a law to stop it, and it was with amazement I read an article in a newspaper last night that Congress is considering a law to keep airlines and telephone companies from losing money by prohibiting them from extending unsecured credit to political candidates.

The reason is that the airlines are stuck with more than two million dollars in unpaid debts by political candidates and their campaign organizations, and the telephone companies have nearly $400,000 in similar unpaid bills. The article pointed out that the debts cross both political party lines, and in addition to the Democratic and Republican National Committees, debtors include Richard Nixon, Hubert Humphrey, the late Robert Kennedy, and Eugene McCarthy, the unpaid debts running into the thousands of dollars.

So, Congress is considering passing a law protecting the airlines and telephone companies by prohibiting them from extending credit to candidates.

We've got so many laws now I don't guess one more will hurt anything, but it's too bad the airline and telephone companies aren't smart enough to catch on like newspapers did years ago. It didn't take newspaper:

more than one political campaign 50 years ago to find out the most uncollectable debt on earth is one owed by a defeated candidate.

They sized up the situation, and instead of rushing to Congress to get a law passed preventing them from giving credit to political candidates, each newspaper just set up a simple rule: All political Advertising Is Cash In Advance.

Of course, this eliminated a lot of jobs by bureaucrats combing the country to make sure no newspaper was risking losing money by letting candidates charge their advertising bills, but anybody with any confidence in Washington knows they probably got jobs with some other bureau.

In time, the big airlines and telephone companies may get as smart about human nature and bad debts as The Journal and The Clovis News Journal. Yours faithfully, J.A.

Cotton Growers Can Now Save On Harvesting

Raleigh, N. C. -- Cotton producers can now save from $10 to $20 per bale on their harvesting, handling and ginning expenses by using a newly developed handling-storage method, Cotton Incorporated announced today.

"Special equipment needed for this seed cotton handling system is commercially available in the High Plains area of Texas," J. Duker Wooters, Jr., executive vice president and general manager of Cotton Incorporated, said.

Savings result from an increased harvesting capacity, reduced dump time, greater utilization of trailers, continuous operation of the gin and an over-all reduction in labor.

Cotton Incorporated, in cooperation with the Texas Tech University, Industrial Engineering Department, has perfected this system for the High Plains area and is continuing research to develop low cost handling-storage methods for other areas.

In order to compare the new operation with the present method, research was conducted in two Lubbock ginning communities. This research, under the direction of Dr. Milton L. Smith of Texas Tech, involved 93 growers with over 18 thousand acres of cotton. Results from the investigation showed a potential 30% increase in harvesting field efficiency. Cost reductions averaged $4.87 in handling, transport and temporary storage and $7.19 in ginning costs for an 8-bale-per-hour gin operating only 33 days. Greater savings can be made on higher volume gins operated over a longer period of time. More details on the new system can be obtained by writing Cotton Incorporated, 3901 Barrett Drive, Raleigh, N. C. 27609.

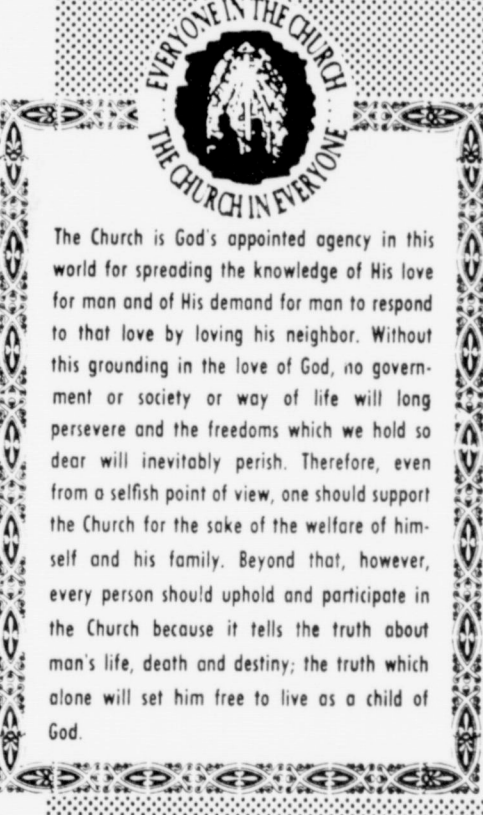

Generations

Isn't it grand when the whole family reunites on holidays or on anniversaries! How good to see grandparents and great grandparents and the new crop of babies. Seeing them all together gives you a feeling of continuity, and a sense of oneness with all creation.

It gives you, also, a glimpse of God's plan in the life cycle. When you see the off-spring of the patriarch grandfather, you marvel at the great legacy he is bequeathing the world. All the children that have issued from him are in themselves a great contribution to the world of mankind.

There is marvelous potential in all these spirits. The great things they will do thrill your heart when you contemplate them.

This legacy of lives and spirit can be strengthened, sweetened and nourished by the church. We invite you to take your family to church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

In this space a couple weeks ago were printed remarks made by Donnell Echols of Lamesa, President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., to the effect that farm income from cotton production, and therefore cotton production itself, is facing perilous times. Reference was to that portion of producer income that since 1966 has been in the form of direct Government price support payments which compensate for the difference between cotton's market price and the farmer's cost of production, including a meager return to capital, labor and management. It was noted that the danger lies in strong and growing opposition to cotton program payments in Congress for both legislation and for annual appropriations.

"There is now no doubt that a majority of both the House and the Senate is opposed to farm program payments to producers in proportion to their volume of production," Echols said, "and this situation makes it imperative that we begin now to search for another type farm program that will be acceptable to Congress, or for an alternative source of income." House Appropriations Committee Chairman George Mahon, who is in an excellent position to assess the mood of Congress, has since expressed his concurrence in Echols' belief. The Congressman said he sees no chance for continuing a direct payments type farm program without a limitation on payments at the $20,000 level -- or below. When Congress stipulates how much a farmer may receive, without considering how much he produces, they are placing farm payments in the category with welfare payments, "and payments on that basis cannot be expected to sustain the cotton industry," Echols states. So the poser becomes "What are the alternatives?" This question was asked recently at a meeting of the Texas Association of Cotton Producer Organizations (TACPO). Discussion did not reveal a pat answer, but some conclusions were reached. It was agreed that Government aid for the cotton industry in the future, if aid is to be had and if it is to bear any degree of permanency, will have to be in the form of a "hidden subsidy," such as the subsidies enjoyed by industries getting tax-write-offs and other forms of preferential treatment. The nearest thing to a hidden subsidy seen in the cotton industry was the pre-1966 high loan which provided a floor under the market price for cotton at a level reasonably adequate to cover production costs. But there are severe problems with this approach. A market price for cotton at the higher level, without a subsidy on cotton for export such as was in effect under similar programs of the past, would virtually exclude U. S. cotton from foreign markets. And an export subsidy would take the industry back to "two-price cotton," which is something to which U. S. mills are violently opposed. Most producer groups, too, and others in the industry would be reluctant to give up the one-price system established under the first direct payments program, the Agriculture Act of 1965.

SHOW WINNER--Rick Henry, who was born in Muleshoe, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Henry, displays his Reserve Champion Steer of the Sweetgrass County Fair in Big Timber, Mont. His older brother, Ronnie, won showmanship in the beef show and was named outstanding showman, he also had the re- sultantly drive our customers level high enough to make production profitable will not be easy. It could be done only if producers had (1) the mechanism for stringent production controls, (2) a means to prevent the price depressing effects of an adequate annual carryover, and (3) tools sharp enough to carve and hold for cotton a significant share of the fiber market against stiff competition from competing fibers and foreign growths. These are big orders. Orders nothing yet on the horizon can fill. But with the threat that hangs over the head of cotton production in Congress, they are will worth pondering.

Early Winter Pasture Has More Forage

COLLEGE STATION -- Short pastures and limited hay supplies created by the drought conditions that have gripped Texas are pointing to early winter pastures as an increased supplier of nutrients for cows and calves. A well prepared seedbed is a must in any effort to produce winter annual forage crops. Most soils should be plowed to turn under crop residues and other plant material early enough to allow for decomposition and setting of the seedbed before planting. The final seedbed should be clean, firm and fertile.

While winter pastures are most profitably used when grazed by animals with high market value such as dairy cattle and stocker calves, they can also be successfully used with cow-calf operations, says Neal Pratt, Extension agronomist. The cool season pastures provide vitamins and minerals that improve conditions of cattle suffering from nutritional deficiencies and they also stimulate milk flow and encourage heaviest weaning weights of calves. Early planting, high rates of fertilization, and adequate amounts of good-quality seed should give an extra boost in producing winter pastures, Pratt says.

While early planting offers a target for insect pests such as armyworms, the advantages of getting the seed into the ground early far outweigh any insect threats since insecticides can effectively and inexpensively control the pests, the agronomist adds.

While planting dates vary widely, small grains should be planted by about Sept. 1 in the central and eastern parts of the state. In the southern part of the state, Sept. 15 - Oct. 1 plantings are most desirable. The high rates of fertilization tend to promote deep root systems, early growth and high quality forage. Soil tests made well in advance of planting time are recommended. One or possibly more sidedress applications of nitrogen, made after some forages have been grazed for a while, are sometimes needed for continued production. This is because large temperatures decline and the days grow shorter, meaning less favorable growing conditions for cool-season plants each day closer to winter. Pratt reminds producers that early planted winter pastures consistently out-produce those where planting is delayed. POLICE WIVES ORGANIZE Seattle -- When a recent survey of Seattle police showed that nearly two-thirds of the officers were divorced in the first three years of marriage, the wives met to find out why. The result, a 10-week course in teaching wives what their husbands are called on to do has been termed successful.

Legal Notice

LEGAL NOTICE BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SENATE BILL 249, Section 1, (a) This Act shall apply to every county in this State. In all the counties, each owner of any livestock mentioned in Chapter I of Title 121 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925 shall within six months after this Act takes effect, have his mark and brand for such stock recorded in the county clerk of the county. These owners shall record the marks and brands whether the brands and marks have been previously recorded or not.

FACTS CONCERNING RERE-CORDING OF BRANDS IN TEXAS.

All brands and marks on Texas livestock must be rerecorded with County Clerks after August 30, 1971, according to a new law passed during the last session of the Texas Legislature. Producers will be given a six-month period (August 30, 1971 through February 29, 1972) in which to register these brands and marks and the location on the animal which they are currently using, after which time any unrecorded brand will be available for use on a "first-come" basis.

The law further states that all such brands and marks must be rerecorded every 10 years. Each County Clerk records for his given county only, so many producers may need to record their brands in additional counties if their operations are extensive.

The owner shall have the right during this six-month period to file the mark and brand now recorded in his name. In the event it cannot be determined from the records who first recorded the brand and mark in the county, then the person who has been using such mark and brand the longest shall have the right to have the brand and mark recorded in his name.

It should be noted that it is illegal to brand livestock without first properly recording the brand with the County Clerk in the county in which the livestock are held.

When the brand or brands are recorded, the location on the animal on which the brand is to be applied must be dictated on the animal, it must be so recorded and each additional location for the brand on the animal shall constitute a separate recording of that brand. There is no limit to the number of brands and/or marks which may be recorded in a signated, if the brand is to be applied to more than one location by a person as long as requirements of this law governing the recording and rerecording of livestock brands are met. Minors may have marks or brands separate from that of the father or guardian which must be recorded or rerecorded as provided by the new law.

After the expiration of six months from the taking effect of this Act, (February 29, 1972) all records of marks and brands now in existence in the county shall no longer have any force or effect. And after the expiration of six months, only the records made after this Act takes effect shall be examined or considered in recording marks and brands in the county.

All brands and marks registered under the provisions of this Act shall be registered every 10 years in the manner prescribed in Section I of the Act. 36s-4stc HITTING PAYDIRT--Bobby Hayes, far right, with the football tucked loosely in his left arm, heads for paydirt, leaving several Bobcats lagging behind him as he swiftly moves into the end zone. He led the district last year in scoring and added two tallies for 12 points Friday night in the action against Dimmitt.

Dimmitt, who plays a good passing game, completed eight passes for good yardage and failed to complete three.

The Mules had 22 first downs and held the Bobcats to 15; Mules punted three times and Dimmitt two; Muleshoe had one fumble, which was recovered by the Bobcats and the Mules had 35 yards in penalties, as compared to 25 for the Bobcats.

Bobby Hayes picked up, unofficially, 192 yards; Ricky Black, 85; David Wheat, 82 and Donnie Wheat, 36.

A large crowd watched the first night of football action for 1971, although only approximately half of the reserved seat section was filled.

AND THIS IS THE WAY IT WAS--At the end of the game, the scoreboard looked good to Muleshoe football fans and good to the Mules. This was the first time in several years the Mules had defeated the traditionally tough Bobcats from Dimmitt.

designed to improve their communities, state, and nation, and to promote the welfare of all citizens. He further points out that through these efforts they are helping to strengthen the economy of our country and are promoting good citizenship.

In closing the proclamation, the Governor predicted that as the organization continues to grow, it will play an increasingly important role in the life of rural America.

for the first time, in 1961 when the Plains grew its biggest and most valuable crop, 2,457,703 bales, cash value to farmers was calculated at just below $400 million. Other years in which area production was greater than prospects now seen for 1971 include 1958, 1962, 1963 and 1965. Respectively, production for those years totaled 2.1, 2.4, 2.2 and 2.3 million bales.

The 1971 crop could pump a total of $412,355,000 into the High Plains economy, basing its value on an average 24 cents a pound for lint and $55 per ton for cotton seed, and including $136.3 million in price support payments already made in the area.

A crop in line with the current estimate would exceed last year's production of 1,734,767 bales by over 280,000 bales. It would even farther outstrip the crops of 1966, 1967, 1968 and 1969, when ginnings came to 1.3, 1.3, 1.6 and 1.5 million bales respectively.

Officials of PCG and the LCE point out that the September 1 estimate, as is the case to some extent every year, likely will require adjustments as the season progresses. "With ideal weather conditions for the next two months," says Jerry Boothe, Chairman of the LCE Statistics Committee, "this crop could yield as much or even more than the crop of 1961. On the other hand, "he cautions" if rainfall, temperatures and an early freeze should all work against us, our rosy predictions could go right out the window and production could drop to a million-and-a-half bales."

The long range weather forecast for the Plains calls for September temperatures one to three degrees below normal and for rainfall of two inches or more in most sections. Effects of such factors, if they materialize, will depend on timing of rainfall and low temperatures, conditions that follow in October, and of course on the freeze date.

Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of PCG, says "If weather conditions are not extreme, either good or bad, the estimate should be well within the ball park."

I have not observed men's honesty to increase with their riches.
 -Thomas Jefferson.
