DOLLAR DAYS

A FRIEND sent this letter to his Senator, and thought others might want to consider it:

Dr Sir:
"WHY do we have rampant inflation? I think I can answer a major part of this question. When we have millions of people who don't work and don't contribute to productivity and yet have the same buying power as the people who do work, then we have more demand than supply.

You, as a Senator, could help this situation by reducing the factual expansion of welfare and let a large percentage of the able bodied go to work.

Please do not tell me there is no work. I read newspapers from Snyder, Dallas and Boston, and I always read very carefully the want - ads. I contend there is no unemployment unless there are no more want - ads, and these papers have many ads for employment. Also, I am sick of the bleeding hearts in Washington saying these unemployed must have "suitable" employment. It used to be that people started at the bottom and worked up, but now government gives the impression that people should start at the top.

I think what it boils down to is that the people have watched our legislators so long that they figure, "Why Work? Big Brother will feed us." Who is going to help Big Brother when all the people lie down?

Government is killing the incentive of people who want to achieve and get ahead. It makes it plenty hard to watch these leeches to society demand the same standard of living as those of us who work for what we get.

I, for one, would like to do something to change this sordid mess, but unfortunately I have to work so the government can take my tax money and support those that will not work."

"Catch the bride's bouquet and you will soon be a bride." Mere superstition? The Gene Boneys are wondering. In December 1972 their daughter Carla caught a bride's bouquet. In December 1973 Carla married and her sister Ann caught the bridal bouquet. Ann will be married in January.

Goodfellow Spirit Helps
Many People

Thursday night's cold snap - which dropped temperatures to near the freezing point and threatened snow - is seasonal, needed and appreciated by most people who have to get out: if they've got adequate clothing.

It's not always so! There are some who don't have that extra warm coat, or those snugly shoes that keeps toes warm.

And that's where the Eastland GOODFELLOWS come in. Early Friday, GOODFELLOW Preside Ed Sargent was out rounding up a coat or two, and seeing about getting some groceries for some people who didn't have.

That's the GOODFELLOW way.

And it works: with your help. Your contributions go help those in need right here in the Eastland area.

So be generous, and for the sake of time, be quick. Checks may be mailed to GOOD FELLOW Treasurer James Reid, Post Office Box 391, Eastland, 76448, or handed to President Sargent.

GOODFELLOW officers, directors and volunteers are reminded of a board meeting

Tuesday evening at the Eastland National Bank Conference Room beginning at 6:30 p.m. Visitors are welcome.

Miss Allmon Is Queen Of Olden Homecoming, Students

MISS NANNIE

Miss Nannie Allmon was Queen for the Day as she shares honors with former students and friends during the Olden Homecoming on Saturday, Nov. 30, 1974.

Sharing is a way of life for the gracious lady whose birthdays number four-score and five.

Great deal of history has been made and recorded in our country in general and Olden in particular since the 17 year-old Miss Allmon became a Simmons College (H-SU) dropout early in the century. With a second grade certificate, she accepted a substitute teaching position with Olden Public Schools which marked the beginning of a career of 53 years, 47 of these at Olden. Summer vacations reversed her role from that of teacher to that of student at NTST and later at Howard Payne College where she received the Bachelor of Arts Degree.

Her initial teaching experience was with 32 students, grades one through four, in a building located at the present Stedum homesite. Mr. Bascom Morton was principal of the two-teacher school where the six month term began the first Monday in November and ended the last Friday in April.

W.Q. (Shorty) Rayford was an early day trustee who helped elect Miss Allmon as elementary teacher at the Magnolia Building north of the football field. The High School was housed above the Post Office and grocery store, the present W. C. Crone property.

Miss Allmon witnessed the influx of students during the oil boom, saw the construction of the spacious and modern building where she completed her career, retiring in 1959 at the age of 70 years.

Maintaining a sever-room house, yard and garden across the street from the beloved school building is all in a days work for the lady who lives alone but never finds time to be lonely. She is a member of the Olden Baptist Church and enjoys frequent visits of former students, many accompanied by children and grandchildren.

Perhaps the major factor of longevity with corresponding community esteem is her wholesome attitudes such as expressed in the following statement: "People who get married and have families have only a few children and grandchildren-I have hundreds!" She taught an estimated 1,500 students in 53 years. "I am convinced that if you love a child and show him that you do, he will love you and do what you want him to" she concluded

Editor James T. Wright Manager Eastland Chamber of Commerce

Dear Mr. Wright: Thank you very much for your note on Texas '74. We enjoyed putting together the report on the V-C Menu plant and Mr. Cornelius, and we've received a good deal of favorable reaction to the story.

Most viewers, unless they feel offended by a television story, don't take the time to let us know their reaction to our work. And it is always nice to know that someone enjoys the results of our efforts.

I think you, the Chamber, and the City of Eastland can be justly proud of your efforts in recent years too. When I last drove through on the old highway, the square was nearly empty and cobwebs decorated most of the windows along the street. The change has been dramatic and certainly indicates that your town is moving ahead.

Thank you again for taking the time to write.

Sincerely,

Case Loads Reported By State Judicial Council

AUSTIN--The Texas Civil Judicial Council released figures today on the judicial activity for the reporting period of January-June 1974.

An analysis of the statistics gathered during this reporting period indicates a very large number of cases filed in these courts, amounting to a crushing burden for the judges of these courts if the rule of law and the principles of equal justice under the law for all citizens is to prevail in our judicial system.

Statewide there are 254 constitutional county courts, 70 county courts at law, 934 justice of the peace courts, and over 1,000 municipal courts. While all the 68 active statutory county court at law judges are licensed attorneys, 184 of the judges of the 254 constitutional county courts are not attorneys; and of the reporting 215 municipal court judges (located in cities with a population of 5,000 or greater) approximately 65 percent are licensed attorneys.

During the six month period a total of 1,716,697 cases of all types within the jurisdictions of the courts were filed in or appealed to the reporting courts and during this same period these courts disposed of a total of 1,539,931 cases. Of major significance in the disposal of these cases is that 53 percent of the county court criminal cases and 38 percent of the civil cases were dismissed or settled prior to trial. In the reporting justice of the peace courts, 12 percent of the criminal non-traffic cases, and 17 percent of the civil cases were dismissed or settled prior to trial. The reporting municipal courts dismissed 18 percent of the traffic cases and 15 percent of the non-traffic misdemeanor cases prior to trial.

A special interim report of the Texas Civil Judicial Council, released today in Austin, shows that 157 new cases were filed in or appealed to the county court of Eastland County during the first six months of 1974. This total included 100 criminal and 57 probate cases.

Three of the 5 justices of the peace in the county submitted reports to the Civil Judicial Council for all or a part of the January-June, 1974, period. The statistics for these courts show that a total of 1,279 cases were filed, including 1,204 misdemeanor cases and 26 civil cases.

Of the criminal cases tried in county courts, the defendant was convicted in 99.4 percent of the cases and acquitted in 0.6 percent. During this period 313 defendants were acquitted, compared to 51,120 convicted.

This high rate of convictions should be viewed in relationship to the high rate of dismissals prior to trial in these same courts to obtain a true conviction-acquittal ratio in the county courts. The reporting justice of the peace and municipal courts received $24,454,141.00 in revenue during the six month reporting period, which funds were deposited in the treasury of the respective city or county served by the courts, except for a $2.50 court cost per case which was remitted to the state Criminal Justice Planning Fund.

Some 137,875 new cases were originally filed in or appealed to the county courts from the municipal and justice courts. Criminal cases constituted 70 percent of this case load, civil cases 15 percent, probate 14 percent and juvenile cases less than 0.5 percent. (Most juvenile cases are filed in either the district courts or in specialized juvenile courts since by statutory provision all juvenile cases must be heard by a lawyer-judge.)

Traffic cases accounted for 76 percent of cases filed in the justice of the peace courts during this period. Non-traffic misdemeanors accounted for 12 percent, and civil cases, including small claims for another 12 percent. Ninety-five percent of the traffic cases were disposed of as a result of a guilty plea, bond forfeiture, or payment before trial. Disposition by trial occurred in 2 percent of the cases filed while 3 percent were dismissed. Pleas of guilty, bond forfeiture, or payment before trial accounted for 81 percent of the dispositions of non-traffic misdemeanors; trials were held in 7 percent and 12 percent were dismissed. In civil cases, 63 percent were disposed of by agreement of the parties prior to trial, 20 percent were tried and 17 percent of the cases were dismissed. There were 3,021 appeals filed from the decisions of the justice of the peace courts during this period. A total of $9,265,904.00 was collected by these courts.

In municipal courts, traffic cases accounted for 84 percent of the cases filed in this period, for a total of over 858,000 traffic cases. Non-traffic misdemeanors provided the remaining 16 percent of the new cases filed as municipal courts have no civil jurisdiction. These courts reported disposing of 953,924 cases or 94 percent of the 1,023,110 cases filed during the six month period. Of the traffic cases 74 percent were disposed of as a result of guilty pleas, bond forfeitures or payments before trial; disposition by trial occurred in 8 percent and 18 percent of the cases were dismissed. Pleas of guilty, bond forfeitures or payments before trial resulted in the disposition of 74 percent of the non-traffic misdemeanors, trials were held in 11 percent and 15 percent were dismissed. There were 11,397 appeals filed from the municipal courts during the reporting period. A total of $17,188,237.00 was collected by these courts.

COLLEGE STATION - Why not give a little of Texas to those on your Christmas list this year?

"Texas boasts an abundance of high quality agricultural products that will make excellent Christmas gifts," points out Dr. William Vastine with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Giving a choice Texas agricultural product is sure to please anyone on your gift list. Gifts of meat, dairy and poultry products can highlight the table fare during the Christmas season and can lend a special note of cheer and good will during the holidays," adds the economist in marketing and food distribution.

The Texas Farm Bureau and many grocers are participating in this effort to promote the gift - giving of Texas food products, notes Vastine. Special booths and displays are being set up to attract shoppers' attention to the wide choice of available products. Certificates for food products may be purchased or the shopper may desire to select a particular product for that someone special on the Christmas list.

"Texas agricultural products offer unique gift ideas," contends Vastine. "The selections are unlimited, so you're sure to find items pleasing to everyone. Of course, the gift certificate allows the recipient to make his or her own selections."

What could be a better choice!

So, plan now to add Texas agricultural products to your gift list, suggests Vastine.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service plus many other agricultural agencies and organizations are promoting food product gifts for Christmas, with special leadership by the Texas Farm Bureau and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Cisco College Sponsors
Bluegrass Concert

On Thursday, December 5, 1974 at 8:00 p.m. the Cisco Junior College is sponsoring a Bluegrass concert to be held in Cisco Junior College auditorium. Appearing on the program will be the Double Mountain Boys of Lipan, Texas and the three time national fiddle champion, Byron Berline with the highlight of the program being the Country Gazette of Hollywood, California. This show is produced by Mike Robinson, Lipan, Texas.

JOE BASS AND THE DOUBLE MOUNTAIN BOYS are one of the top amateur Bluegrass Bands in Texas. When professionals arrive at an auditorium in the state of Texas it has become an increasing custom for the promoters to call for the Double Mountain Boys. This group also backs Chubby Wise on most of his Bluegrass concert appearances. They have just finished recording a single and an album with Chubby Wise, call "The Double Mountain Boys at the Blue Ridge Cabin Home." Other albums and strong singles can be expected from this group.

Adult tickets will be $3.00, children age 6-12, $1.50 and with the presentation of his I.D. card any college student can get in for $2.00.

The Country Gazette has just won the Bluegrass Award for the best Vocal group of 1974.

In three short years since becoming a group COUNTRY Gazette has landed a major recording contract, toured throughout the United States and Europe, and received Rolling Stone's nomination for a Grammy award. They have gained the appreciation of Bluegrass fans while turning on thousands of crowds who've never heard Bluegrass before.

How To Fight Inflation

Washington, D.C. - Motorists can fight economic inflation with proper tire inflation this winter, says the Tire Industry Safety Council.

Underinflated tires can increase fuel consumption by as much as one mile per gallon, according to a recent report by the Federal Energy Administration entitled, "Don't Be Fuelish."

The FEA recommended checking tire pressure at least once a month, and says, "For the best gas mileage and for driving on long trips with heavy loads, inflate your tires 3 to 4 pounds above the recommended pressure but do not exceed 32 psi," or other maximum imprinted on the tire.

"This winter, with bad weather and fuel shortage besides, motorists should utilize all the safety and gas savings tips they can get," declared Council Chairman Malcolm R. Lovell, Jr.

"We already know that properly inflated tires improve a car's braking, traction and steering capability," he explained.

"Now it's been established that underinflation increases a tire's rolling resistance, causing the car to use more gas - and money - per mile," Lovell said.

These other cold weather tire tips are offered by the Council: Changing weather changes tire inflation pressure. Tires lose about one pound of air pressure for every 10 degree drop in temperature.

In parts of the country with periodic snow and ice, snow tires are recommended. They have deeper grooves and an open tread pattern for extra traction.

Do not mix radial tires on one axle with snow tires of bias-belt or bias-ply construction on the other axle. If you have regular radial tires and are considering replacing two of them with snow tires, the replacements must be radial snow tires.

Tread grooves funnel water out from under tires in wet weather. Bald tires, those with less than the safe minimum of 1-16 inch of tread between the grooves, have a tendency to "hydroplane" and skid.

Snow tires are made to carry the same amount of air pressure as recommended for conventional tires of the same size classification.

In winter and wet weather, when traction and braking really count, remember new, or best, tires go on the rear.

Hazardous weather also means you should make sure tires are properly balanced and aligned for the best possible steering response.

Store your regular tires in a cool, dry place, away from furnaces or batteries which may produce ozone, when and if you switch to snow tires. Store white sidewalls facing each other.

If you store radials, mark the wheel position when you take them off. Put them back on the same way on the same wheel, to maintain the direction of rotation.

Make sure your spare tire is in good condition and properly inflated before you start out in bad weather.

Survey Made
On Housing
Division

Mobile home owners in Texas feel their home is built better or as well as a single family stick built home, and they would buy another mobile home even if they could afford any choice, according to the findings reported in a mobile home survey sponsored by the Housing Division of the Texas Department of Community Affairs.

Sixty-five percent of the families surveyed said they felt mobile homes were constructed better or as well as regular single family housing. Fifty-eight percent said they would buy another mobile home even if they could afford a conventional home.

The owners in 86 percent of the families said they felt their mobile home would be used as a residence, vacation home or rented home after 10 or more years.

The biggest single complaint on mobile homes was the faucets followed by draperies, carpeting and storage space. The homes' floor and appliances received the most favorable comments.

GIFT CERTIFICATES AVAILABLE

The local FB leader said there are two ways this can be done conveniently:

1. Through buying gift certificates (redeemable in those commodities) at grocery stores. "We are providing gift certificates to stores which do not have their own, along with colorful gift envelopes," he said.
2. Through giving a check or money order. Farm Bureau will provide an attractive message card (explaining the gift idea) along with a nice gift envelope. The Eastland County Farm Bureau Office in Eastland has a supply of both items, free of charge.

Committees of the county organization are calling on grocery stores to encourage their participation, he added. Farm Bureau is also providing the necessary supplies (certificated, window posters, etc.).

and will publicize the promotion through advertising and publicity releases. Committees are already busy on these projects, he said.

The Texas Farm Bureau is helping to coordinate the effort on a statewide basis along with many other agricultural groups. The Texas Department of Agriculture has committed its TAP (Texas Agricultural Products) program to the promotion. The Texas Retail Grocers Association and large food chains are also participating. State Farm Bureaus in several other states are carrying on similar promotions, Mr. C.M. Guthery said. "This can truly be an effective campaign if we all work at it," he declared.

Friends in Eastland have started a blood drive for young Doug Crowder, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Crowder, who has been a patient at M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston for the past three weeks.

The Eastland Sixth Graders condition was not listed as good Friday and need for the blood began.

Persons who wish to donate may do so at the Meek Blood Bank at Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene. It is requested that the blood bank personnel be advised that only the red pack cells and plattes are needed and be credited to Douglas Crowder at M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston.

Turkey Doubles In Value According To Specialists

COLLEGE STATION-This just may be the year of the turkey. Although the turkey roamed over Texas and Mexico long before Columbus came to our shores, the All-American bird is looking its best this year. Turkeys are plentiful, and, to top it off the price is right. Of course, at any price, turkey is an excellent value, nutrition-wise. But now turkeys are a double value, according to two poultry specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Nutrition is presently the name of the game and turkey wins this game hands down," content Dr. David B. Mellor and Dr. William O. Cawley. "Turkey is highest in protein and lowest in fats of all our common meats. It is also a meat that is high in riboflavin and niacin-two of the more important B vitamins."

Turkey is a common fare for holiday meals but really deserves more use by most families on a year-round basis. Size should not be a deterrent, as the raw frozen turkey may be divided, wrapped and refrozen for delicious meals. A publication, "Freezing Poultry For Home Use", provides helpful hints and is available from any county Extension office.

"Turkey also works well when the cooked meat is refrozen for later use," note the Texas A&M University specialists. "Some families serve turkey for an evening or Sunday dinner and then debone and freeze the remaining turkey for later use--saving just enough for cold turkey a day or so

Turkey Doubles In Value According To Specialists

No matter how you cut it, turkey is usually one of the better protein values. Have you ever compared the foods you buy on the cost of the protein they are supplying to your menu? Just use the protein content and price per pound for any food. Your county Extension agent has this information for several foods and can assist you in calculating your own cost of protein in foods.

Turkey meat is naturally low in fat. One would expect to find 125-150 calories in a serving. Of course, if the serving were just white meat, it would be less. Self-basting turkeys are a little higher in calories due to the added basting sauce. But the calorie count is still low when compared with chestnut and sausage stuffing or gravy made from pan drippings.

"One of the biggest secrets in roasting turkey is keeping the meat moist", content Mellor and Cawley. "Since the birds are so young when processed for market, the naturally low-calorie meat has really little fat. Keeping this meat moist requires more care than for meats having more fat. You can conserve moisture by covering the bird in a roasting pan, placing it in a special plastic bag, or 'tenting' it with foil and cooking at 325 degrees F. The turkey is cooked when a meat thermometer placed in the center of the thickest portion of meat registers 180 degrees F."

Any time is turkey time. Plan now to make this double-value meat a part of your menu each week.

A Look at Russian People Makes You Appreciate Freedom More

BY GAY NELL O'BRIEN
 "Equality is not an end in itself; there are other things that human beings need and crave more. One of them is liberty. Liberty, that is, to plan, so far as possible one's own life and that of those dear to one. Full success in such an ambition is seldom attainable, but no one can feel any self-respect unless he is allowed to make that attempt."

Arthur Bryant—
 Illustrated London News

Communism's long range goal, of course, is a society that provides equality and economic security for all. They find this a real difficulty simply because of the impossibility of it. This would be a more noble pursuit if it were an honest one by the leaders. It is common knowledge now that the "higher ups" enjoy special privileges and luxuries. Even the tourists can see a difference in classes in this so-called equal society!

H.V. and I only visited two of the 15 Soviet provinces but since one of the cities (Leningrad) was the cradle of communism and Moscow is the capital of all the Soviet Union, both in Russia, we felt we had a better insight into the history of the slave states. Visiting Kiev, in the beautiful Ukraine, made us feel a great sadness for the people there and in every country which has come under the "Bear's Claw".

To try to forget, for a moment the vast differences in our two countries' systems, we, on our people-to-people mission, had to think how much the people are like us. They have much the same needs, joys, hopes, sorrows, problems, disappointments, and even aches and pains as we. Heart disease and cancer are the leading killers there, too.

We share a common hope for peace with the people. War is very real to many who remember World War II and the heavy loss of lives, including husbands and sons and fathers, on their own soil. Leningrad's population was virtually wiped out in one battle with Hitler and one out of every four persons in Kiev was killed, as in many other cities in the country. These people do not want another war.

The state ideology may be to make us communists but not through all-out war. They hope to beat us economically, politically, and scientifically.

Because of the shortage of men (millions being killed in World War II) and in order to make ends meet, most of the women in the Soviet Union work. Over one-half of the total workers are women.

Women do the same labor as men or even physically harder. They have women's lib extraordinary but I feel certain many would trade places with us "unliberated". We saw: women trolley drivers, brick layers, painters, construction workers. On the other hand we saw actresses, ballet and folk dancers, opera and choir singers. These are just to name a few in each group. We all know over 90% of Russia's doctors are women as well as most of her lawyers.

We were in direct contact with women tour guides, a judge, teacher, sociologist, hotel clerks, sales clerks, beauty operators, train porters, ice cream vendors, etc. Generally they were all kind and eager to please.

Older women were stationed in museums, restrooms, sweeping streets, cutting grass, cleaning hotels, etc. We learned that they were paid a small amount of money to help eke out their living from their retirement income. Russia boasts retirement at 55 years of age, incidentally, with no unemployment.

Generally the people have a low standard of living compared with us. In the cities, they live in very small apartments. (We did not see one individual home.) Most do not own an automobile.

They work six days a week, shopping only for necessities in which they find a shortage. Tourists are only allowed to visit the more developed cities.

Most towns and villages are without running water or electricity, and perhaps only one paved street. Little priority is given to material wealth.

But we must remember that Russia is politically, educationally, and economically really just a baby compared to the U.S. The revolution of 1917 put an end to the czars regime and was the beginning, economically and politically of the State. Then they suffered a heavy loss of lives and property in World War II.

Some of the men on our tour who fought with the Russians in WW II used this as a base for conversation with the Soviets.

Shopping isn't what it is in the States. We tourists were discouraged from visiting - Gums, the store of the common people of Russia, and were taken to new, modern, foreign currency department stores. However, we elected to visit Gums on our own and found out quickly why tourists are offered something else. Gums is a swarming mass of humanity trying to get their necessities—food and clothing—the highest priced and scarcest of all Russia's goods. At gums we saw fish offered in one cubicle; souvenirs next door; and clothing just 'round the corner in the double-level store. Store window displays were elaborate, however, facing onto Red Square.

All shops are state controlled and shopping is very time consuming for the mother who works six days and has little time to spend with her family anyway. She may have to visit many stores in hopes of finding needed commodities, sometimes in vain. Clothes are inferior in quality to ours. You find no perma-press, doubleknit or miracle fabrics for sale. There are no supermarkets either; no "white sales" or no "cake sales" for that matter. Even flea markets and "rummage sales" are state controlled.

In the Soviet Union, you pick out your purchase, receive a sales slip; take it to the cashier and pay her for it and then return with the receipt to pick up the purchase. This takes much time and the purchases are generally figured on an abacus. Very few adding machines are seen.

It's difficult to generalize about the Russians' attitudes. Only about two percent of the population are registered communists and of course there are no public opinion polls. The people are required to go and vote—with only one choice on the ticket. They may cross out the choice but almost never do.

One notices a lack of freedom in most all respects in this police state. Notably in religion, speech, press, personal and business. Everything and everybody is state-owned and controlled. Travel outside Soviet block is largely restricted. Most Russians wouldn't dare criticize their government in front of a stranger. They are expected to go along and do. Their faces show sadness and resignation.

News is not the same to them as to us, since the press is so controlled. For instance, disasters are not news. A Soviet plane crash at Leningrad, killing some 100 persons a few weeks before we arrived was not printed in Soviet papers. Only through a foreign correspondent did it reach the free world's press. The people there are in the dark about happenings in their own country as well as the rest of the world.

One UPI correspondent and an embassy official in Moscow told us that the Soviets print two issues of the Moscow News in English—one for the tourists and U.S. and her allies, the other, which calls us fascists, war-mongers, and such is sent to Egypt, Africa and potential adversaries of the U.S.

Religious worship is of course discouraged, chiefly through propagandism and education. Atheism is taught youngsters from the time they start to school or before. There are few public churches and mostly old people still attend, and sometimes they must wait a long time for the doors to open. Younger persons who put their faith to work often suffer educationally and economically. They may be denied the right to higher education and certain jobs or professions.

Some of our group found a church where people were waiting for a service. They were mostly old people but some were young. They seemed nervous and were not friendly with those taking pictures for obvious reasons. After a period of about an hour the people were still waiting for the church to open.

We had read about Russia's Constitution of 1917's guarantee of freedom of religion and worship. We asked our guide about this and the teaching of atheism, etc. She explained that since the Revolution of 1917 separated Church and State, the state was free to teach atheism.

The young people of the Soviet Union know their surest way to economic success is excellent intellectually. This alone is not enough. They must show good behavior, leadership, and cooperation. With their good marks, then, they may look forward to highly paid careers because higher education is provided by the state for those.

The state provides nursery care beginning at 2 1/2 months, kindergarten beginning at age 3 and public school beginning at age seven. Summer camps are also provided for children. The children must participate in children's political groups also.

The state provides hospital and health care, cheap housing and cheap mass transportation (by subway in the cities) and of course, the jobs.

The question we all asked ourselves was: "How long will the people give up their freedom for the so-called security of economy, jobs, etc.?"

The state must really be afraid of the people accepting the Bible and democracy since they put such tight restrictions on their travel, what they read and other freedoms.

The only hope for the people of the USSR, we believe, lies in enlightening the people and tomorrow's leaders as to what true democracy and freedom really are!

Valley View NEWS ...

Social activities for the month of November have come to a very prosperous close.

Games of Bingo and Dominoes were played every Monday afternoon and fifteen games of Bingo were played every Thursday afternoon. The winner of each game receives a prize.

We had our monthly birthday party on November the twelfth. The residents who had a birthday this month were: Mrs. Bertha Freeman, Mrs. Floye Houle, Mrs. Myrtle Moon, Mr. Thomas Tamsay, and Mrs. Willie Terrell. Dr. and Mrs. M.A. Treadwell provided the entertainment. Dr. Treadwell played the saw and Mrs. Treadwell accompanied him on the piano. The residents thoroughly enjoyed this unusual but very beautiful music.

Two old fashioned "Spelling Bees" were held this month. The best spellers were Mrs. Ruth Campbell and Miss Gregg. Pumpkin cookies were given to Mrs. Campbell and a box of chocolates to Miss Gregg for their skill in this event.

This month our featured entertainers were "Al Anderson and His Group". This musical was highly entertaining for the residents and the general public. Punch and cookies were served to all by volunteers.

The Girls in Action of the Harmony Baptist Church from Morton Valley came and sang for the residents. The G.A.'s left a large assortment of fruit for our residents.

We all enjoyed eating our traditional turkey dinner on Thanksgiving Day and we are now anxiously looking forward to Christmas.

Valley View Lodge wishes to express their appreciation and thanks to all for taking time out of their busy schedules to participate in the social activities for our Senior Citizens.

We wish to extend a special note of thanks to Mrs. Margie Earup from Rising Star. Mrs. Earup came and played the piano for us during our dinner one day.

The Valley View Lodge extends a cordial invitation to the public to visit anytime.

Sunday school is every Sunday at 9:45 a.m. Church worship is at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday and 7:30 p.m. every Thursday night.
