Most With the Least

An American general once staked out for himself a permanent place in dictionaries of quotations by observing that the way to win wars was "git thar fustest with the mostiest." Another way to look upon things during such trying times is "do the mostest with the leastest."

And many Americans are doing great and good things these days with very little—not great in the sense, possibly, of building tanks, piloting dive bombers or buying a $1000-defense bond every payday. But they are doing something.

Mrs. W. A. Marsh of Dallas, Tex., started a drive to collect enough in pennies, nickels and dimes to pay Gen. Douglas MacArthur's income tax. She understood, and quite correctly, that he would be too busy to file that necessary return by March 15.

The other day Mrs. Marsh got a $1.50 money order for her fund. Certainly wasn't enough to satisfy the tax man, or make her fund topheavy. But it was signed, "The Boys of Camp Tyson, Tenn."—$21-a-month lads who not only earn their $21, but probably need it themselves. They wrote:

"We, the soldiers of Camp Tyson, applaud your efforts in raising a fund for General MacArthur's income tax. We hope our slight generosity will reinforce your fund. In doing this we hope that other camps of Uncle Sam's Army will help. For General MacArthur is a man that we all try our very best to follow, and some day some of us wish to be with him."

Here are men already doing all that could be expected of them, serving in the armed forces in time of war, ready to give up their lives if necessary. Yet the spirit of America moves them to dig down among their not too numerous pennies and dimes and come up with something for the man the Japs can't lick, the man who drives the Japs to hari-kari.

These boys are what some refer to as the little people. They don't do much social-butterflying on $21 a month; they don't crash the gossip columns with accounts of their night club fighting, or make headlines because they refuse to work or sign a contract, or demand big wages, profits or prices.

Yes, they are the little people and it's the millions of people like them who keep plugging away at little things and win big wars. After all, they know what happens when the Nazi lash bites into the back of little people.

Too many people get their marriage and drivers' licenses mixed up.

It's almost time for spring housecleaning. Put on the suit that you want to keep.

Herb, Drug Farms In U.S. Are Urged

By United Press
BOSTON.—New England may become the nation's natural drug store.

Experiments now underway in cooperation with the National Research Council seek to make the six-state region the home of herb and drug farms.

A government agency, the Council received congressional authorization during the administration of President Woodrow Wilson to serve in an advisory capacity in periods of national emergency. Such an emergency—particularly in the drug market—is at hand.

Scarcity and exorbitant prices have halted all imports from foreign drug markets. But chubby Dr. Heber W. Youngken of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy thinks he may solve the problem and create an as yet untapped natural resource.

Already there are digitalis farms in New Hampshire producing a raw drug far above U.S. Pharmacopoeia standards because of the slightly acid soil.

Among the 380 herbs grown by Dr. Youngken and his assistants are senna, which in normal times came from Egypt, India and Arabia; belladonna, and ephedrine.

Texans Are Urging Production Speed

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 19.—Citizens of Texas, acting through Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, have used up more than 28 columns of the Congressional Record thus far this week asking for a speed-up of war production, suspension of the 40-hour week and anti-strike legislation.

WPA Program On Health To Continue

SAN ANTONIO.—Expansion of the WPA statewide health program to assist public health agencies strained by war-time demands will be possible since the approval of a $1,905,571 project to continue this work, it was reported today by Mrs. M. K. Taylor, state director of service programs.

Non-professional workers are employed under the WPA project to assist nurses, doctors, dentists, and technicians in public institutions and private non-profit institutions utilized for public purposes. WPA employees work only under professional supervision, Mrs. Taylor said, and relieve trained professionals from routine tasks in order that the full time of specialists may be devoted to duties requiring technical training.

Currently operating in 65 Texas hospitals and public health departments, the statewide health program employs 934 WPA workers.

'Kids' Cautioned Not To Fly Kites Near Electric Wires

An appeal to boys and girls of Eastland to fly their kites in open spaces, away from electric wires, was issued by J. E. Lewis, manager of the Texas Electric Service Company.

"Aside from the danger to the kite flyers, the tangling of kites in the wires and unwise attempts to get them down can cause serious interruptions to electric service that may shut down factories engaged in war production," Mr. Lewis declared. "To safeguard our boys and girls, and at the same time, to prevent interruptions to vital electric power service in war time, we urge that kite flyers observe these safety rules:

1. Never fly your kite near electric lines.
2. Use only plain dry cotton string.
3. Do not run on or cross highways when flying kites.
4. Do not climb poles or throw rocks to dislodge entangled kites"

Miss Canaris Has Denton Audition

Connie Canaris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Canaris, had an audition recently in Denton before Miss Agnes DeMille, niece of Cecil DeMille, who was very favorable in her comment on Connie's dancing. She was accompanied to Denton by Mrs. Art Johnson.

She was accompanied to Denton by Mrs. Art Johnson. Management made by W. O. King, manager of the Social Security Board at Abilene. Attention is also directed in the report to the need for safeguarding the insurance rights of persons who take civil defense jobs with the Federal Government and thereby endanger their insurance rights under the Federal old-age and survivors insurance system, which does not cover Government employment, King quoted.

Extension of old-age and survivors insurance protection is recommended in the report to cover farm laborers, domestic servants, and all other excluded groups of workers, including public employees, employees of charitable, religious, educational, and other non-profit organizations, and the "self-employed." "The coverage of employees of the Federal Government is particularly urgent," the report stated, "because large numbers of persons are entering many yards, arsenals, or other Government service. Many of these persons have left covered jobs in commerce and industry and will eventually return to such jobs. Unless their services with the Government are covered, they will impair or lose their insured status under the old-age and survivors insurance program."

WPA Labor Will Be Shifted To The Farms Of State

SAN ANTONIO. — No man or woman who can earn a living as a farm laborer will remain employed on a WPA project in Texas, H. P. Drought, state administrator, declared today.

"This year, with the inroads which have been made in the farm labor supply by the draft and defense industry employment, farmers are already anticipating shortages in many parts of Texas. This agency is on the alert more than ever to make every man and woman on our rolls instantly available for farm work."

WPA's Texas employment quota has been reduced this month to 53,500 workers in Texas and another 28,600 persons are destitute, unable to find jobs, and awaiting assignment to WPA projects, he reported.

"Every man and woman among these 82,000 persons who is physically able to make a living on a farm is available right now and will continue to be available as long as he or she is registered with WPA.

"All that a farmer has to do to get as many of these workers as he can use is to apply to any WPA administrative or supervisory official in his vicinity or the United States Employment Service representative in his county."

Declaring that it has been the well-known policy of the Work Projects Administration since its inception that no person can be given employment by WPA if he refused a reasonable offer of employment from any other source, Drought pointed out that entire projects have been shut down when necessary to furnish farm workers in the past and that this will be done at any time that the need for such action is demonstrated.

He Got a Free Ride Back Home

P. L. Patterson (col.) decided that he wanted to leave Eastland and go to Marshall. He also must have decided that it was too far to walk as he is accused of taking a bicycle along with him on which to ride. And no doubt fearing that he might become weary and want to rest enroute, he is also accused of taking a bed, some bedclothing and a number of towels.

The bicycle, bedding and other items Patterson is accused of taking, are claimed by Lilly Bell Jordan (col.) of Eastland, who declares that she did not give Patterson permission to take them with him.

In an effort to "straighten things out between Patterson and the Jordan woman" Sheriff Loss Woods went to Marshall, armed with a warrant, to bring Patterson back to Eastland.

Farmers Urged To Treat Their Hogs To Prevent Worms

In pigs, worms cause a general digestive disorder resulting in unthriftiness, weakness, and emaciation. Pot-bellied, rough coats of hair and a husky cough are not uncommon—A severe infestation of worms will cause symptoms somewhat similar to haog cholera.

The old saying that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" holds good in this case. Sanitary hog lots, well drained, and treated with a coat of slaked lime at frequent intervals, will do much toward preventing worm infestation. For treatment of intestinal round worms of swine; Oil of chenopodium (wormseed oil) may be given in a dose 1/2 to 1 fluid dram (2 to 4 cubic centimeters) for a 100 pound pig—immediately preceded or followed by at least 2 oz. of castor oil.
