A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

REST WITHOUT FRETTING: Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him; fret not thyself because of him who prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass. -Psalm 37: 7.

SPEAKING OF GERMAN SETTLEMENTS UNDER THE FLAG

A very enterprising and interesting contemporary, the Port Arthur News, reminded its readers that Oct. 6 does not ordinarily impress Americans as an important anniversary and that a group of Texans of German descent had a huge celebration on this date this year—a celebration to commemorate the founding of the first permanent German settlement in the United States.

Yes, we talk about the English settlers who landed at Plymouth Rock in Massachusetts Bay; we know all the details about the other English settlements in Virginia, the Carolinas, and Maryland; we are familiar with the Dutch settlements at New Amsterdam and in the Hudson river valley; but we never pay much attention to the incident that began the vastly and profoundly important stream of German immigration to North America."

These early German settlers, we are told, came over on the ship Concord, a ship which ranks in importance not far below the Mayflower itself. Reaching Philadelphia, they soon established the town of Germantown and paved the way for the tremendous influx of German people which was to continue for two full centuries and which was to provide the nation with one of its most industrious and useful groups of citizens.

A reminder that before the United States entered the World war on the side of the Allies it was fairly common for groups of Americans of German descent to commemorate the Oct. 6 anniversary. "The war naturally interrupted the custom," reads the News editorial "but its revival by these Texans is good news and it is to be hoped that the date hereafter will have to all of us the significance that it should have.

In the lower country, speaking of Texas, there are 22 counties with prosperous minor cities and towns, largely populated by Americans of German ancestry. There are important communities in Cooke and other North Texas counties where their influence is felt. There are West Texas counties where colonies have been founded and have prospered since the close of the war between the states. San Antonio contains a very large contingent of Americans of German origin and the two very populous and prosperous counties of Guadalupe and Comal speak for themselves, while Fredericksburg, the seat of Gillespie county, is a town of romance, history, thrift, and progressiveness which is entitled to a large spot on the map of Texas.

Congressman Richard Kleberg, a lineal descendant of German pioneers who came to Texas in the long ago and who fought under the flag of San Houston at San Jacinto, is a scion of this old pioneer stock and his people on both sides of the line have ever been builders of Texas. Many Texans of German origin have made the laws of the state. Many Texans of German origin are among the lawmakers of today. In the long ago these newcomers from beyond the Rhine fought Indians and wild men who were not Indians under the skies of the Southwest. They aided with plow and hoe and rifle in transforming a wilderness into an empire.

The Mills of the Gods grind slowly. They take no notice of our puny haste. Indeed, there are advanced scientific thinkers who believe that the Universe is definitely antagonistic to man and that his presence here is a complete accident. Far too much energy is being spent by man expanding the realm of his material power and far too little in the acquisition of those more exquisite prizes which derive their well being from his ethical urge. Until he can be urged to discard the muck-rake, little or nothing has been done to earn our gratitude.

A lot of cities, counties and states should wake up to the fact that success and wealth do not rain from political heavens, but are won only by efficient administration.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma
This might well be entitled "From Covered Wagon Trails To Lighted Skyways."
Few people, indeed, appreciate the part electricity plays in modern aviation. Now and then one sees a lone beacon flashing its friendly message and a lighted emergency landing field, while traveling over our highways. Few people appreciate the significance of these new lighted sentinels of safety for the air lanes in the clouds.

Why The Texas Centennial?

Only three reasons have been advanced for not favoring the constitutional amendment to permit state support of a Texas Centennial celebration. One of these is that it should be financed privately. This would make it a commercial enterprise without official character or responsibility and one more likely to reflect discredit than credit to the state.

Hallowe'en Party Honors House Guest

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Young entertained at their pleasant home, Friday night with a hallowe'en party, in honor of their guest, Mrs. Ella Young of Hallettsville, Texas, the mother of Mr. Young, and who will be with them several days.

Five tables, decked in hallowe'en covers, and with tallies and score books, in yellow and black hues, carrying out the hallowe'en spirit, were in keeping with the house decorations, cleverly used, of black cat and witch silhouettes.

Vases of yellow autumn flowers formed an effective background.

At close of a delightful evening, refreshments of white cake with yellow icing, orange tinted ice cream, and candy cats and witches, all carrying the color motif, were served Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Fiensy, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Maxey, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Beard, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Amis, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Duckett, Miss Mabel Hart, Mrs. Ella Young, honor guest, by host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Young.

program. Mrs. Horton, hostess for the day, received and the clubroom was beautifully decorated for the meeting. Mrs. James Horton and Mrs. W. P. Leslie are busy at work rounding up the program for the Civic League Flower Show to be held both days and evenings of October 28-29 in the Nemir Building, corner of Lamar and Patterson. Fifteen booths have been engaged up to the present for display of merchants wares, and bulbs will be on sale through P. L. Parker. Many prizes have already been offered to the committee from the Eastland business men, which will be awarded as premiums. Final arrangements for the Flower Show will be made at the Civic League meeting next Wednesday afternoon, to be held at 2 p. m. in Community clubhouse. Presbyterian Teachers Meet The Sunday school teachers of the Presbyterian church held their monthly business session this week at the home of Mrs. M. C.

Hayes. An enthusiastic discussion and planning of the business for the Sunday school occupied the evening. The Sunday morning attendance of students registered seventy last Sunday, and it is hoped a mark of one hundred will be reached before Christmas. The report of promotion day held October 2nd, was presented. The teachers will entertain the Sunday school on a social occasion, about the middle of November, and committee on arrangements was named by Mrs. James Horton, superintendent of the Sunday school; Mrs. C. W. Geue, Mrs. Hubert Jones, and Mrs. J. J. Tabbelman. Mr. and Mrs. Frank V. Williams Announce Marriage of Son Mr. and Mrs. Frank V. # HERE--- AND THERE

By ELVIE H. JACKSON

How many people have studied, FAIR PLAY means? There are many folks in the world today, take it for granted that anything in it belongs to them right of God, just because they happen to have an acquisitive nature, and cannot stand it gracefully to see the other fellow get at it his rightful due.

Unless perchance it may be a miserable misfortune which people of this ilk, are not slow to find a sure in seeing swamp the other fellow, whether rightfully or wrongfully.

Just what would this world have in like, if everybody had this it of grasping, of selfish seeking with no thought for the welfare or happiness, of any other than themselves?

Live and let live, has always been a true Americanism, and those who fail to conduct their business, church, social and home life on this scale of thought, are the kind of people it is much better to avoid, for any and divers reasons.

It seems strange in this day of many and great opportunities, that there should be human beings centered with the thought and of securing everything in it possible for them to wrest from those who are giving them an opportunity, letting them live, and attending to their own small knitting; but that are not wed to live a life of quiet content, performing the world about them, seeking no aggrandizement; but subject to the selfish to the go-getter and grabber, whenever things come to such as that there is not fair play personal relations, in business transactions, in the affairs of country, in the attitude of arguments toward each other; chaos, rupture of all social political relations, and upheavals, institutions will be bound to occur.

For the lack of fair play, Russia is a turmoil of economic commotion. To the lack of fair play, one of Spain is in exile from country; on account of the lack of fair play, many a man and woman in the United States, has thrust defeated into the ground.

The finest things in this world are man or woman to possess a sense of fair play, to respect the men and women who are honest endeavor into their life to earn their daily bread, a spirit of sympathy and understanding, for constructive work, a desire to see that this kind of work is supported.

It takes a big man to be unshaken and imbued with the spirit of fair play and the hall mark of man's character is her instinctive desire to do unto others as would have others do unto her.

PARIS.—There is a woman living here whose business in life is to go in and out of all the doors marked "Private" in the shoe business and find out the secrets of the trade. Those doors mean private to everybody but Mollie Page, and to her the word "private" is a kind of code translation which means, "Come in Miss Page, and we'll tell you about it!" She has agreed to tell you all about it now, so listen carefully:

"Shoes may seem lowly items in the fashionable wardrobe, but there is no denying their importance to the effectiveness of a complete ensemble. Now that fashions have drifted into smooth running order we find that as far as shoes are concerned, a slightly rounder toe will accord with the slightly softer, more feminine line of dress. Shoulders not quite so square, buttons not quite so military. A slightly lower heel will anticipate a natural demand by women whose feet have become accustomed, during

Nevadans Pay No Attention To Wet Or Dry Candidates

ates are anti-prohibition. Two, Pat. A. McCarran, Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator, and Col. James G. Scruggs, Democratic candidate for the state's lone congressional post, are for flat repeal.

Senator Tasker L. Oddie, Republican, and Rep. Samuel Arenz, Republican, aren't so extreme in their views, but are wet to the extent that a change is favored.

Here's a new simile for you, by the way. "Longer than a comic strip prize fight."
