A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE END OF ENMITY: When a man's ways please the Lord, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.—Proverbs 16: 7.

TAXING TOURISTS TO ADVERTISE TEXAS

Advertising Texas abroad is the theme of Manager G. C. Richardson, vice president and manager of the Brownsville Chamber of Commerce. He would divert $500,000 annually available for a period of five years from the state gasoline fund. He insists that in the last analysis such an advertising campaign would not cost the state of Texas one penny, because the revenue accruing to the state from the 4 cent gasoline tax from the tourists and visitors would more than offset the money expended.

He insists that the trend of migration today in the United States is southward. His argument is that the average daily expenditure of a tourist or traveler is $5 per day, that this money is cash, "no collection fee, very little over head and the entire population is benefited, from the farmer to the banker." The theory is that those who use the highways should pay the cost of construction and maintenance. It is based on logic as well as justice, but why should money taken from the pockets of Texans for highway purposes be diverted to other departments of the state government.

As it is, a large slice of the fund goes to the support of the public schools, another large slice has been voted by the lawmakers to the counties loaded down with bonded indebtedness voted for state highway purposes. Why tax to death the owners of automobiles. Of course, there should be a just tax placed on passenger buses and highway freighters. It is admitted that Texas should be advertised abroad. Well, why not a tax for advertising purposes on all the people and not a few of the people.

POPULARITY OF SALES TAX IN MISSISSIPPI

After a bitter battle in which the state lambasted the administration for its decision "to harass the people of Mississippi with a sales tax" the fight was won and a general sales tax of 2 per cent went into effect on May 1—editorializes the Orlando (Fla.) Evening Reporter-Star. According to our Florida contemporary to date, or Oct. 1, the results indicate that the tax will bring in a revenue of more than $2,500,000 during the present year. Incidentally, the estimated yield was $2,000,000. None of the dire forebodings which were anticipated have come to pass. Mississippi still has its volume of home trade, the opposition to the method has vanished, collection expense has been small, and everybody seems to be happy. This is the conclusion of the News Reporter editorial: "In a score of other states where the taxpayers are harassed by nuisance taxes, where the gasoline goose is being strangled to death, the Mississippi experiment is being watched with intense interest. In the nation where our patch-work of excise taxes installed in lieu of the sales tax is producing a steadily increasing deficit, THE SUCCESS OR MISSISSIPPI MEANS MUCH. It simply means that the new congress probably will substitute a general sales tax for the unsuccessful elements of our present taxation program before winter is over." It is said that Gov. Mike Sennett Connor and his administration leaders in Mississippi have given the sales tax proposal the acid test. It not only survived the test but has popularized the system in this old South state east of the Mississippi river.

BOSTON BUYERS PURCHASE TEXAS WOOL

While exercising his option on an additional 1,000,000 pounds of mohair, increasing his recent purchase to 5,500,000 pounds, the Texas representatives of a big Boston firm bought 200,000 pounds of 12 months wool in the San Angelo section. A big storage company at San Angelo Oct. 13 will receive sealed bids on approximately 3,500,000 pounds of long wool, said to be the largest accumulation remaining unsold or unconsigned in Texas. Why should all the wool and all the mohair go to Boston? Why shouldn't Texas manufacture its own wool and mohair? Why should Texas be without tanneries? Why should all the hides and wool be shipped to the East? Why shouldn't Texans go in strongly for the movement to make this immense reservoir of raw materials an important manufacturing state. There are millions of buyers in Mexico and Central America and South American countries. A change will come some day.

WESTERN FARMERS RENEW STRIKE PROGRAM

South Dakota farmers are on the firing line again. They have joined the middle western farmers' strike for better prices. They are organizing their forces in every county. Milo Reno of Iowa, after the delivery of the president's message, declared the campaign which started in Iowa nearly two months ago "is gaining as rapidly as we hoped it would." If it is true that revolutions, political and otherwise, never turn backwards, there are going to be many familiar faces turned to the wall in early November.

Another Forgotten Man

THE FERGUSONS—MA AND JIM

EDITOR'S NOTE—Herewith is one of a series of six articles on James E. and Miriam A. Ferguson written by Gordon K. Shearer, staff correspondent of the United Press Associations and chief of the Austin bureau. Shearer's word picture of the Fergusons, their rise to power after years of disfavor, is intimately pictured by a writer whose acquaintanceship with them and political leaders of Texas has been of long standing.

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN.—One of the early acts of the new legislature was to propose repeal of the Amnesty act which had attempted to wipe out the impeachment verdict against former Governor James E. Ferguson.

In Mrs. Ferguson's administration a pardon from a forgery sentence was issued to one of the senators who had voted to convict Ferguson.

It is "for the sake of his wife and boys," Mrs. Ferguson said in the proclamation. She noted also that the pardon was "endorsed by my husband." The son of another senator who had voted to sustain the impeachment charges against Ferguson and a relative by marriage of a third, received executive clemency during her term.

His opponents, however, were not willing to let by-gones be by-gones. Amnesties were repealed. "He bided his time. He moved the Ford to Austin. Butter from his Bell-Bosque ranch was sold to and used in state institutions. He waited for Governor Moody to complete two terms.

Ferguson then took the field. By virtue of Mrs. Ferguson's pardon and the amnesty act, he claimed any bar that might have existed against his candidacy was removed. He demanded a right to a place on the Democratic primary ballot as a candidate for governor. Democratic Chairman D. W. Wilcox refused to let him file. A mandamus was filed in the supreme court. Ferguson's lawyers argued both the executive and the legislative had rescinded the impeachment, one by proclamation and the other by the Amnesty Act, it was contended, was void as a sentence once unconditionally set aside could not be revived. The supreme court held the Amnesty act itself was of no effect and that a governor's pardon power did not extend to impeachment verdicts. In short, James E. Ferguson was still barred from office.

Mrs. Ferguson again took the field. "Confronted with another crisis, it again becomes necessary for me to announce myself a candidate for governor," she said. She adopted the platform her husband already had announced with one exception. She declared for strengthening the liquor laws. Her method was unique. She proposed the state oath of office have added a clause requiring the official to swear he had not violated the prohibition laws in the six months preceding his election. She proposed no judge might try a liquor case nor a juror sit in one, who could not make such an affidavit.

"If people won't or can't elect officers who don't drink bootleg liquor, then prohibition hopes are gone. In my opinion this is the fundamental cause of our trouble," she said.

"Me for Ma" was the campaign slogan. Gov. Dan Moody hesitated about attempting to buck the prejudice against a third term.

Ross S. Sterling, Houston millionaire oil man whom Governor Moody had appointed head of the State Highway Commission, announced his candidacy.

Ferguson dared Moody to run, too, which, of course, would have meant an easy Ferguson victory against divided forces. Moody said he would support Sterling and took the stump for him.

Mrs. Ferguson's pardon record became the big campaign issue on one side. Expenditures in Sterling's interest were attacked by Ferguson.

Later Sterling was to issue many clemencies, himself. He avoided outright pardons. In place of them he made frequent use of "general paroles."

This week's games are really, with the exception of the T. C. U. A. & M. game, fill-in scraps to pass the time until Texas and Rice meet at Houston Oct. 22 in a game that many predict will determine the 1932 Southwest conference grid champion.

This distinction in the recent campaign led some to say Sterling issued only pardons as compared to 1,418 issued by Mrs. Ferguson. Others said Sterling's paroles were equivalent to Mrs. Ferguson's pardons.

Pitted against ten men in the first primary, Mrs. Ferguson led with 243,000 of the total $34,000 cast. Sterling was second with 171,000. Clint Small and Thomas B. Love, third and fourth respectively in the opening primary swung their strength to Sterling and in the run-off he had 473,371 to her 384,402.

Bidding time until 1932, Mrs. Ferguson again offered "two governors for the price of one" declaring she would avail herself of "my husband's advices."

She announced a ten plank platform. This time Governor Sterling confronted a different opponent.

He found Mrs. Ferguson prepared to meet him on the stump. Her voice had been trained. She spoke from prepared manuscript confidently, enthusiastically.

She rolled up 402,000 votes. Governor Sterling seeking re-election had 296,000 of the total 963,000 scattered among eight candidates.

In the run-off she gained more. The total stood Mrs. Ferguson, 476,074; Governor Sterling, 472,741. She was again the Democratic nominee for governor and first woman ever to face the chance of two terms as chief executive of a state.

Southwest Teams Swing Into Action This Week-End

By D. B. HARDEMAN
AUSTIN, Oct. 14.—The Southwest conference swings into real action this week as two vital conference games are played, and three inter-sectional contests occupy the remaining teams.

The week's headlines is the struggle between Francis Schmidt's T. C. U. Horned Frogs and Matty Bell's Texas Aggies at College Station. The Aggies hate the Frogs with a vengeance, and when they get them at Kyle Field, the Frogs constantly have their backs to the wall. There is little doubt that the Frog team is more powerful than the Aggies this fall, but at Kyle Field the Aggies usually pull a Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde and play way over their heads. This year they are set to beat the Frogs, and despite the loss of Carley Malone, great all-American wing candidate, they are in a fair position to achieve just that.

Next in the spotlight is the Southern Methodist-Syracuse battle at Syracuse, N. Y., which is the only long road trip on the Mustang schedule this season. The Mustangs have revealed a lack of punch thus far this season, and while the prowess of the northern team is unknown, the Mustangs will not show to eastern fans a team like those of the past few years.

Third in line is the Texas-Oklahoma bout at the State Fair in Dallas, Texas, fresh from a stupendous 65-0 victory over the Missouri Tigers, will run into a Sooners team that last week downed the Kansas eleven 21-6. The Steers will probably have an interesting battle all the way, but they are the prevailing favorites to win the game.

Rice will meet Loyola in a game that should be brutally fought, but it has very little bearing on the rest of the season for either team, so it will occupy a rather inconspicuous position in the week-end's schedule.

The second conference game of

1932 Brings New Racing Champions

The five A. A. A. championship races of 1932 and the Annual Pike's Peak Climb—the big events of the automotive racing world—have brought new records and new crop of young dare-devil drivers, according to L. J. Ayling, manager of Eastland Gasoline Co., Eastland, Firestone dealer in this city.

"The Indianapolis 500-mile championship, May 30, brought to the front ranks Fred Frame, who came from Los Angeles to set up the amazing record at 104.114 miles per hour—three miles faster than the record that had stood since 1925. 'Howdy' Wilcox, an Indianapolis boy, was second.

"The 100-mile championship race at Detroit, June 5, was won by Bob Carey, another daring driver who came from the Pacific coast, and who won fourth place at Indianapolis even after a delay caused by a crash into the wall. Wilcox was second.

"The 100-mile championship at Roby, Ind., June 20, was won by H. W. Stubblefield, who also has forged into the limelight as one of the most formidable racing drivers.

"The 100-mile championship at Syracuse, July 2, witnessed another victory for the intrepid Bob Carey, and 'Stubby' Stubblefield roared into the second prize money.

"The 100-mile championship at Detroit, Sept. 10, the fifth of the series included in the 1932 A. A. A. computations for championship rating of racing drivers, was won by Sam Rose, adding another new name among the major victors.

"The most spectacular and coveted victory outside of these did not go to a newcomer, but the veteran Glen Schultz set up a new record for the hazardous, jagged 12 1/2-mile grind in the annual Pike's Peak race. The amazing time was 16 minutes, 47.2 seconds compared with the old mark of 17 minutes, 10.3 seconds.

"All of these daring drivers chose Firestone tires, which have won for 13 consecutive years at Indianapolis and six at Pike's Peak.

"The motorist may need the extra safety and protection afforded by the 'tires of champions' for only one instant, but that instant may mean disaster. Tires at present prices are the best investment in safety the motorist can make."

TRAINING IN THE HOME

Text: Gen. 18:17-19; Deut. 6:4-9; Mark 10:13-16. The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Oct. 16.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of The Congregationalist. Our lesson draws upon three passages of Scripture, widely apart in their literary and historical setting in the Bible, as material for this lesson on the home and the coming generation.

There is something suggestive in this gathering of material from different generations. It reminds us that every age is faced with its problem of the coming generation. It reminds us, also, that the ongoing of the world and the welfare of humanity depends more than anything else upon the way in which each succeeding age meets that problem of training its youth.

The problem of the training of youth ultimately is the problem of the home. There can be little hope of a generation highly developed in character unless there be soundness in the relationship of parents that produce that generation. Moreover, the finest of parents can exercise little strength or guidance upon their children unless there be the conditions of a proper environment and home life.

These things, which would seem vital and elemental facts to the Christian, are meeting a challenge in various quarters today. There are certain psychologists who would suggest that a mother is the child's worst enemy, that if from earliest babyhood he could be turned over to experts who would guard and guide his psychology, keep him properly protected from all complexes, and from being "spoiler," we should have a generation of men and women approaching perfection.

Thus far one does not see much evidence of it. Psychologists' children are probably on the whole not very much unlike the children of the world, and the feelings of a mother's love and that nothing else can place. The golden text of offers, however, a definite challenge occasioned a great deal of despite every effort to children well, have turning out far different what they had expected up a child in the way go, and even when he will not depart from at 22-6. Like many prominent generalization deviating observation in life but authenticated by every stance.

There is a sense in which it might be regarded as fact if a child goes wrong something mistaken or the training. Perhaps disposed to think that judging has been without fail and failing to take count the thousand and things which are really

Then, also, there are who assume that if they and earnest they have part; whereas a whole character and an youth in relation to him would probably demonstrate and unimaginative taking little account of of the child and of the temperaments in child done about as much as ity and indifference.

Good training calls and discretion, for sympathy, for the quality Jesus manifested who rounded little children influence of love in the sternness which he would have exercised.

Trade In Your Worn Tires for Safe Gripping Non-Skid Firestone Tires

LIBERAL trade-in allowance—now on all Firestone High Speed and Heavy Duty Tires!

Why take a chance on worn, smooth, uncertain tires when you can buy Firestone non-skid safe, proven tires at lowest prices.

Firestone Tires are designed to grip the road. The non-skid tread is thick, tough and gives 25% longer non-skid safety.

Glen Schultz only last month set a new world's record in climbing Pike's Peak, in 16 min. 47 sec. His top speed was 78 miles per hour—negotiating many hair-raising turns where a skid or a tire failure meant death.

It's that kind of stamina that makes Firestone Tires safe and economical for you.

That's why race drivers use Firestone Tires. They won't risk their lives on any other make.

No tire in the world has the Firestone endurance. That is because Gum-Dipping, the patented Firestone process, transforms the cotton cords into tough, sinewy units. It means that the liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, assuring protection against internal heat. Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies on the Tread, give 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body.

Don't buy cheap tires that are only made to sell. Don't risk your life on slippery pavements these October days—Use the same precaution race drivers use. Trade in your old tires—We will give you a liberal allowance on Firestone Tires—the safest tires in the world.

Fire Prevention Week finds the hools ready and perfectly drilled r any fire emergency.

All of life is a hazard. If the ividual would face emergencies at any time to arise in the course life's pathway, as fully prepar- ed are these great schools, team- y with hundreds of students, al- ject to the rules of law and der, then there would be fewer ashes in human relationships and s tragedies to weep over.

In other words, preparedness is a backbone of civilization, well- ing and success.

Be prepared for all emergencies; prepared for defence; be pre- pared to meet with courage and m- piment any situation, that may e either individuals or nations.

Preparedness in human affairs y be looked to that preparedness h which we walk through life, rely a Highway on the great ad of Adventure; armed and ndy to face the ultimate End of e Journey that leads to that stination, to which the Captain Our Soul summons us and to CASH the soul must respond at call of that especially prepared mmons.

The bride's table was centered with a cluster of roses intermingled with butterfly blossoms. The array of gifts were arranged amid the colorful appointments and opened by Mrs. Bowen.

At the close of the very delightful function the hostesses served angel food cake and hot chocolate to a large assembly of guests.

To Mothers whose children won't eat

NATURE knows best. Never coax a child to eat! Remove the cause of a youngster's poor appetite. When appetite fails, tongue is coated white, eyes are a bilious yellow, don't give small children a constipating cathartic that drains the system. California syrup of figs is all the "medicine" they require.

The Child's Appetite Will Always Respond

Specialists will tell you that a sluggish appetite almost always means the child has a sluggish colon. Correct this condition called stasis, and see how quickly a listless, drooping boy or girl begins to eat—and gain! The only "medicine" such children seem to need is pure, undiluted fig syrup.

Children who get syrup of figs, now and then, soon have the appetite and energy of young animals! They keep well and avoid colds and sluggish spells.

Nature never made a finer laxative for children; and they all love the wholesome, fruity flavor of the real California syrup of figs. It's purely vegetable, but every druggist has it all bottled, with directions. Begin with it at once. The very next day, your child will be eating better and feeling better. Keep on with the syrup of figs a few days and see amazing improvement in appetite, color, weight, and spirits.

A single IF
The promises made by the bottles of California Syrup of Figs are true, and it will do the same for you, IF it's genuine CALIFORNIA. Don't accept substitutes.
