EASTLAND, TEXAS, MONDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 7, 1932

PRICE FIVE CENTS No. 6

40 MILLION VOTES ARE FORECAST IN TEXAS Oil Tax And Price Bill Offered In The House

SLIDING TAX IS PROPOSED ON ALL CRUDE House Recesses To Let Committee Work on Two New Bills.

AUSTIN, Nov. 7.—Proposals to limit the retail price of gasoline as a public "utility" and to levy a graduated, per barrel tax on crude oil were offered in the Texas house of representatives today. The first proposal is that the retail price of gasoline shall not be over 2.2 cents for each 20 cents per barrel paid for crude oil. For example when oil sold at $1 a barrel, the permissible price for gasoline would be 11 cents, plus four cents state tax and one cent federal tax, making a total of 16 cents. The barrel tax on crude oil would start with one cent a barrel for the first five barrels daily production, would then go to cents for the next five, four cents from 11 to 20 barrels, 10 cents a barrel on the 40-barrel a day now allowed in East Texas and above that 25 cents up to 50 barrels a day. Both bills went to the house committee on oil, gas and mining. In order that the committee may report on the Wagstaff bill limiting oil production to market demand today, the house recessed all day after election to convene and turned the house chamber over to the committee. The senate also continued its committee study of the "market demand" bill.

Rev. G. W. Shearer Preaches His Last Eastland Sermon

The Eastland Methodist Church was filled to capacity with an audience representing the church membership, and membership of the Christian and Church of God, which united in common for this service in honor of Rev. George W. Shearer, the faithful and beloved pastor for the past four years. With tear-dimmed eyes, the listeners bowed their heads in reverence to the message on the subject, "What the Church Means to the People." The sermon was tender and eloquent, and carried a direct message to the hearts of the listeners. Rev. Shearer will leave tomorrow for Waco to attend the annual conference of the Methodist churches of Central Texas, which will be in session from Wednesday to next Sunday. At this meeting, it is expected he will be confirmed as the presiding elder of the Cisco district, the position to which he was appointed for the unexpired term following the death of Rev. Cullom H. Booth.

Bank To Close On Election Day And on Armistice

The Commercial State Bank of Ranger will be closed all day Tuesday, Nov. 8, because of the general election and all day Friday, Nov. 11, Armistice Day, it was announced today by bank officials. Both days are legal holidays and the bank will be closed throughout the day on both Tuesday and Friday.

She Wasn't Afraid Linda Averill wouldn't give up trying to learn what really happened the morning Amos Peabody fell from the second floor balcony, though others warned her of the tremendous risk. Linda persisted—and discovered those warnings were well founded. She is an important character in the new serial, "Week-End Murder," beginning Wednesday, Nov. 9, in This Paper.

No Paper Will Be Published Next Thursday In keeping with the policy of his paper in past years of allowing all employees a holiday on Armistice Day, the management has announced that no paper will be published on Thursday, November 10, but that a morning edition will be published early Friday morning. The paper will have the same distribution as though the regular edition were gotten out. Advertisers are requested to cooperate with the paper in getting copy in early for the Friday issue in order that the paper may come out on time.

ROOSEVELT'S CAMPAIGN HAT IS PUT AWAY

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt held today the political traditions of the past 20 years of his career today when he devoted his waking hours to rallying his neighbors to the support of the Democratic party. The final utterance of Roosevelt's three months battle for the presidency, a battle that has taken him nearly 20,000 miles and into 37 states of the nation, was an appeal to citizens to exercise their franchise at the polls tomorrow. With only a few hours to go before the voters begin their march to election booths, the governor revealed the superstitious regard he holds for the battered, gray felt campaign hat he has worn almost daily since his nomination for the presidency. "Mae," he told his butler, "Put this in the safe." Roosevelt was expected to return to the executive mansion in Albany the day after election to begin work on the state budget, which must be ready for the legislature by Jan. 1.

Eastland Elks To Celebrate With Election Party

The Eastland B. P. O. Elks, No. 1372, announce open house election night, Tuesday, and a program of prize fights, arranged by Ralph Simmons, which promises lots of pep and fun. Other attractions are offered, and all good fellows are extended a cordial invitation to be present, including all friends of the order. Refreshments with coffee will be served and election returns announced as fast as they are received by Julius B. Krause, exalted ruler, assisted by the officers of the lodge.

40 MILLION BALLOTS WILL PICK THE NATION'S LEADER FOR THE NEXT FOUR YEARS

By THOMAS L. STOKES United Press Staff Correspondent Between 35,000,000 and 40,000,000 of the nation's voters of many of them out of work and others suffering from the prolonged economic slump, will go to the polls tomorrow to decide whether President Herbert Hoover should continue to lead the war against the depression, or whether this job should be turned over to Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York. The depression influence has dominated the campaign as it will the choice of a president for the next four years. Rival managers claimed victory tonight. Roosevelt has the edge in newspaper and magazine straw votes and polls. But Republicans count heavily upon the vigorous personal campaign of Mr. Hoover in the closing days and the influence of the so-called "silent vote," which played such a prominent part in his election four years ago. Other Officers Beyond a president and vice president, voters tomorrow will select a new House of Representatives, fill 34 of the 96 seats in the Senate, choose Governors and local officials in 34 states and pass upon a mass of issues, including prohibition repeal, in a number of states. Eight states will vote on repeal of their state prohibition statutes, looking to possible repeal of the 18th Amendment. Five candidates will share the regular minority party and "protest" votes, with the major portion going to Norman Thomas, the Socialist Party candidate. Thomas, former Princeton professor and ordained minister, has made one of the most extended, as well as most economically conducted, campaigns in American political history. Though Thomas has no chance of election, his vote may swing the proposition where it will shift the balance in some close states to one or the other of the major party candidates. Minor parties are likely to get a sizeable vote this year because of the unemployment and consequent distress and dissatisfaction following in the wake of the depression. Depression Talk Talk of the depression has formed a rumbling overtones that will best serve the state and nation. (Continued on page 3)

STATE CAMPAIGN COMES TO CLOSE TODAY WITH TWO CANDIDATES CONFIDENT

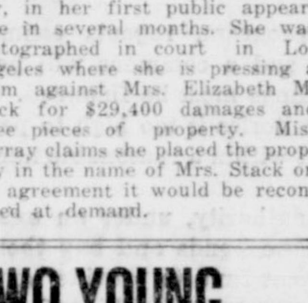

By United Press. Bested by few previous campaigns, the 1932 vote race came to a thundering close in Texas today. It ended in a blaze of oratory of the unusual, as it opened in the opening months of this year. As in previous years, Texas played an important part in the nation's quadrennial election. The Texas delegation of 44 votes which went to the democratic national convention in Chicago pledged to vote for John N. Garner for presidential candidate, swung to the Franklin D. Roosevelt ranks. I turned the tide that brought nomination to the New York governor. Garner was nominated vice presidential candidate. He is the First Texan so honored. Neither Governor Roosevelt nor Garner have campaigned in Texas this year. The nomination of Garner was considered tantamount to success of the democratic national campaign in Texas. It removed from minds doubts Texas this year would swing to the republican ranks as it did four years ago when President Hoover was elected. President Hoover and his running mate, Charles Curtis of Kansas, have not campaigned in Texas this year. Garner expressed his willingness to campaign but he did not take the stump. Garner was honored at every point in Texas when he returned home from Washington after his nomination and after expiration of congress. He did not accept invitations to make public addresses in Texas. Norman Thomas, candidate for president on the socialist ticket, was the only presidential candidate to tour Texas. He covered the state from El Paso eastward to Dallas, returning from a tour of the western part of the nation. With interest in the national campaign abated, the state campaign grew in importance. Nomination of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, first woman governor of Texas, by the democrats, was followed by stormy court sessions to invalidate her election. The suits were brought by Governor Ross Sterling, whom she led in the democratic primary and whom she defeated in the August run-off by 4,500 votes. Governor Sterling, defeated in the court contests, announced himself as favoring the republican nominee, Orville Bullington, well-to-do Wichita Falls attorney. Other members of the group also endorsed the republican nominee. Roosevelt - Garner - Bullington parties formed. Maxey Hughes, newly named chairman of the democratic executive committee, fought this party bolting. From Speaker Garner he got a letter which advocated party loyalty. But Mrs. Ferguson was not alone in disloyalty among her party constituents. Bullington was nominated in Dallas after a last-minute caucus of the party. Disappointed republicans assailed the caucus and attacked R. B. Cregar, republican (Continued on page 2)

MAJORITY OF PAPERS FOR BULLINGTON

By MERRILL E. COMPTON, United Press Staff Correspondent. DALLAS, Nov. 7.—Orville Bullington, Wichita Falls, republican candidate for governor, will receive a larger vote than heretofore polled by any of his party's gubernatorial candidates in Texas at the general election Tuesday, if voters follow advice of Texas newspaper editors. Editorial support for Bullington is found in many leading newspapers of the state, a questionnaire sent to 120 Texas newspaper editors revealed. Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Bullington's chief rival, is not without support and in many instances newspapers opposed to her during the democratic primaries now advocate her election. A similar poll made by the United Press among the democratic primary campaign revealed election of Gov. Ross Sterling was urged by majority of editors. Many editors who supported Sterling now advise voting a straight ticket at Tuesday's election but have concentrated their efforts in behalf of the Roosevelt-Garner ticket and have failed to mention Mrs. Ferguson in their editorials. No editor writes his newspaper favor re-election of President Hoover. Example of how editors handle the election is had from the reply of E. L. Wall, of the Galveston News and Tribune, who writes: "The political editorials of The News and The Tribune have been chiefly to advocating the election of the Roosevelt-Garner ticket." The Mexia News, writes its publisher, B. H. Broiles, has been "losing its steam on the national ticket," while H. R. Horton of the Del Rio Evening News "advises nothing." Straight voting for the democratic ticket, state and national, is urged by the following newspapers: Avalanche Journal, Lubbock; Center Daily News, Tyler; Courier Times-Telegraph, Nacogdoches; Daily Sentinel, Paris; Morning News, Greenville; Evening Banner, Houston; Press, Brownsville; Bulletin, Athens; Review-Martin Democrat, Goose Creek; Tri-Cities Sun, El Paso Times. In each, editors replying to the questionnaire, say the newspaper advocates in its editorials the election of Mrs. Ferguson. Many favor election of a straight democratic ticket, but have made no mention of Mrs. Ferguson.

This group includes the Corpus Christi Call-Times, the Sweetwater Reporter, Austin American, Breckenridge American, Big Spring Herald, Pampa Daily News, Houston Chronicle and Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Bullington's election along with that of Governor Roosevelt and John N. Garner, is advised by the San Angelo Standard-Times, Marshall News-Messenger, Lampasas Democrat, Dallas Dispatch, Sherman Democrat, El Paso Post and Cuero Record. The Dallas News and the Dallas Journal advise the election of Roosevelt and Garner, but "oppose the election of Mrs. Ferguson." The Houston Post-Dispatch supports the democratic ticket, but is "neutral" on the state campaign. The Fort Worth Press has "advocated independent voting at all times," writes its editor, Seward Sheldon. He says the newspaper advocates "no one" for governor but urges election of Roosevelt and Garner. Ashley Evans, editor of the Bonham Favorite, writes he urges his readers to vote "the ticket that would best serve the state and nation." (Continued on page two.)

Mae Murray Asks $29,000

Here is Mae Murray, blond film star, in her first public appearance in several months. She was photographed in court in Los Angeles where she is pressing a claim against Mrs. Elizabeth M. Stack for $29,400 damages and three pieces of property. Miss Murray claims she placed the property in the name of Mrs. Stack on the agreement it would be reconveyed at demand.

TWO YOUNG DEER SECURED FOR RANGER

Through the efforts of L. R. Pearson, Ranger city commissioner, two deer have been secured for the city of Ranger and will be installed in a specially prepared park on the corner of Elm and Austin streets within the next few days. At present the deer are in the stable at the fire station, where they are being cared for by the city firemen. The two deer were received through the efforts of Judge Carl Runge, judge of the 33rd judicial district, who has been aiding Mr. Pearson for some time in his efforts to secure the two deer. Judge Runge was asked some time ago to aid the city in securing the two deer, which were to be placed in the park to be made for them and his efforts were responsible for the delivery of the two animals today. Fire Chief G. A. Murphy said today that he would immediately start building a house on the lot at the corner of Elm and Austin for the two deer. A high fence, probably seven or eight feet high, is to be placed around the lot and a house built for shelter. Plans call for a good house with a porch for shade and every convenience that can be provided for the two animals. The members of the fire department will care for the deer and will see that they are properly fed and sheltered at all times. A large truck with the sides padded to prevent injury, brought the animals to Ranger today, along with 18 others that had been sent out by the fish and game department to stock parks in the state. The truck was under the supervision of Mr. Dent, who helped select the deer given to the city of Ranger.

BULLINGTON CONCEDED A GOOD CHANCE

Both Parties Claim A Victory; National Ticket Certain.

By United Press. Between 800,000 and 1,000,000 Texas voters today hunted up poll tax receipts in preparation for Tuesday's march to the polls, where the political fate of two candidates for governor and nine constitutional amendments hinge. An overwhelming victory, whatever the total vote, for Roosevelt and Garner, was undisputed. The democratic Ferguson, Miriam and James, laid aside their campaign weapons after a final rally at Tyler Saturday night. Republican Orville Bullington will close his campaign tonight in his home city of Wichita Falls. Both claim victory today. Anti-Ferguson democrats held final rallies and telephone campaigns. W. C. T. U. locals paraded for prohibition in many cities. Bullington was conceded the best chance of becoming chief executive of Texas as any candidate of his party since reconstruction days. Favoring Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson were the party pledge, the national ticket and an apparent determination to repudiate "Hoover Democrats" and economic conditions that had fitted Ferguson type of politics. Public sentiment on the constitutional amendments remained in doubt.

Rodeo Plans For Armistice Day In Ranger Progress

Plans for the big three-day celebration of Armistice day, which includes two big days of rodeo performance, have about been completed by the committee, of which Sig Faircloth is chairman and W. N. McDonald is his chief assistant. Letters were mailed out today to the most prominent rodeo performers living within a radius of 100 miles of Ranger and several were contacted personally and over the telephone. So far practically all who have been told of the plans have stated that they would be present and would take part in several of the events on the program. From the number of replies that have been received, it looks as though this will probably be the best rodeo that has been held in this section of the country and there is every indication that it may become an annual affair, with a permanent organization behind it. Arrangements have been completed to get good rodeo stock shipped to Ranger for the rodeo, and it will be on hand before the opening performance on Saturday afternoon.

HOOVER SAYS REPUBLICANS WILL WIN OUT

MORMON TABERNACLE, Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 7.—President Hoover charged today the Democratic campaign was "based on the assumption that the American people were an ignorant people." He sought again to show the present economic depression was due to chaotic conditions caused by the after effects of the World War and charged the Democrats thought the people "could not grasp the meaning of current events. The president touched on foreign policies and denounced war as a "colossal error as an instrument of national policy." He said that "they tried by misleading, to find some way to place on the Republican party the responsibility for this depression, to add a protest vote against the Republican party. That was making politics out of human misery." The chief executive forecast a Republican victory. Again attacking the Democrats he said, "their failure will be to rebuild of an honest-minded and thinking electorate."

It Happened Quickly

Tom Averill was looking forward to a pleasant week-end. A few guests had been invited to his home. Suddenly things began to go wrong. Tom tried to set them right. Within 48 hours murder had been committed, the guilty person had been discovered and forced to confess. All this happens in "Week-End Murder," the exciting new serial beginning Wednesday, Nov. 9, in This Paper.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

SAFE FROM ALL EVIL: The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil: he shall preserve thy soul—Psalm 121: 7.

KEEPING UP DORMITORY PROGRAM

The University of Texas this fall opened its first dormitory for first-year men students. Except for old B Hall, abandoned as living quarters several years ago, the university has never provided housing for men.

This first dormitory houses 80 of the approximately 2000 freshmen.

Planning the dormitory program, regents estimated that eight or nine buildings and a commons will be required. The rest of the buildings must be financed. The cost of the right kind of dormitories is too high to permit self-financing to pay them out within a reasonable number of years.

The university now has authority, under an existing constitutional provision, to issue bonds and buy them in with money from the permanent fund to provide for construction on the campus. The permanent fund is safeguarded, in that the university pays to itself the interest on the bonds, on maturity out of interest and other available fund revenues.

The regents, fearful lest the present or some future board would be incautious in thus issuing bonds, have caused the legislature to submit a constitutional amendment to revoke and cancel this authority for future improvements.

If the amendment is adopted, it will seriously delay the dormitory program. It also will head off other construction that may be needed, by delaying it for many years. The present building program will for the first time bring the university plant up to present requirements, except for dormitories, wherein it does not catch up.

The pending constitutional amendment is not necessary to the university's welfare. It would be hurtful in respect to the dormitory program. Neither regents nor anyone else can now say but that it might be seriously hurtful in regarding other needed construction in future years.

This amendment should be defeated by friends of the university and friends of higher education throughout Texas.

NAPA, Cal.—When the Charles Regalia home caught fire early one morning "Splinters," small fox terrier, ran a half mile and summoned his master who was milking cows. Regalia rescued his wife and four children, and although the Regalias were without a home, "Splinters" was a hero today.

Football Tickets Are Now on Sale For Game Nov. 11

Tickets for the Ranger-Eastland football game, to be played at Lillard field, Ranger, on Nov. 11, went on sale Saturday night at the drug stores of Ranger and Eastland.

The admission price for the game has been kept at 50 cents, which includes reserved seats, most of which will be between the two 40-yard lines. A large number of good seats between the 30 and 40 yard lines on both sides of the field will also be available to those who do not purchase their tickets early this week.

It is expected that the advance sale will be large because of the fact that many fans from Eastland and Ranger will visit the game on the holiday and other fans from over this section of the country will be present. This will be the only game in this section on Friday of this week, though Breckenridge will play at Abilene on the same afternoon.

Rodeo Committee To Meet Tonight

A meeting of the rodeo committee of the Carl Barnes Post of the American Legion, of which Sig Faircloth is chairman, has been called for tonight at 7:30 in the office of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce.

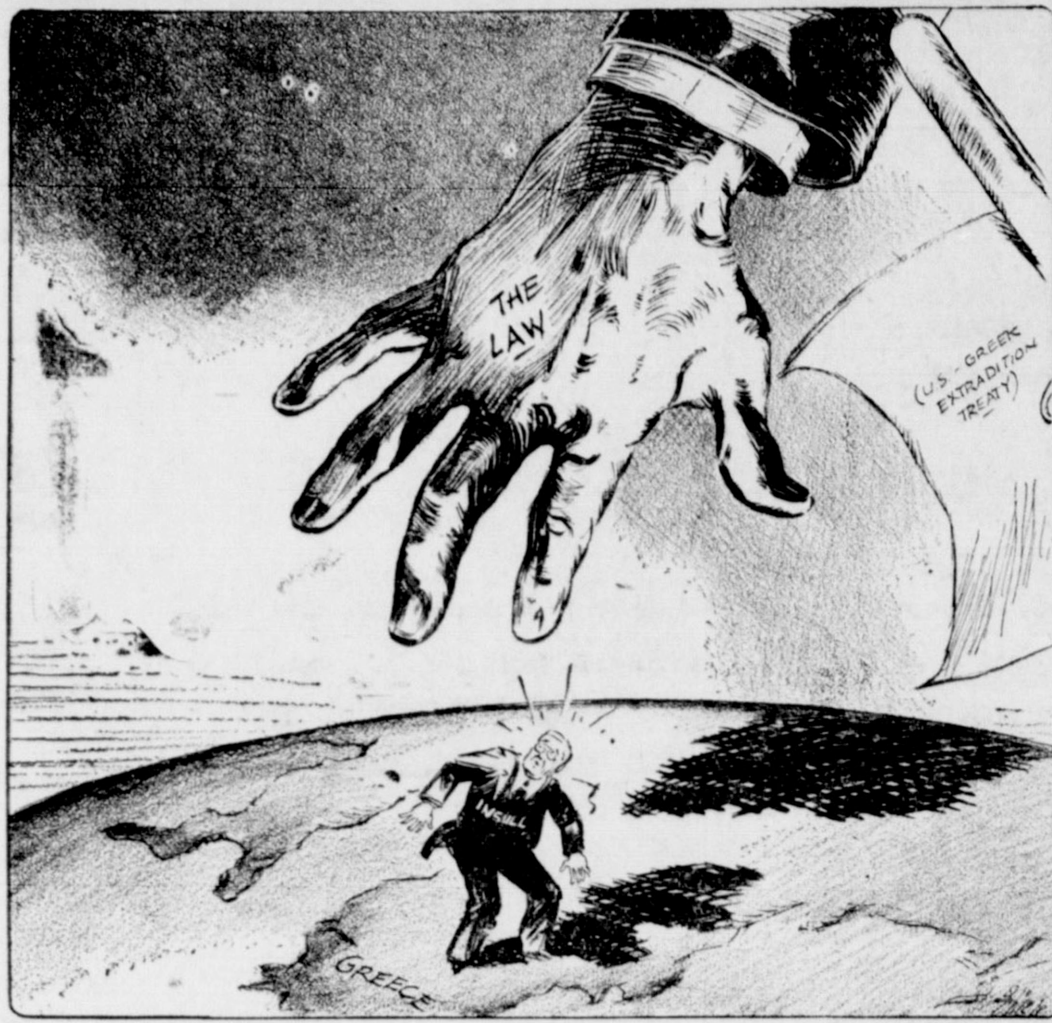

All members of the various committees that have been appointed to work out the details in connection with the two-day rodeo, have been urged to be present, together with all the members of their committees in order that reports on the progress of their work and the final plans might be discussed.

CHARGE IS FILED IN AUTO DEATH

By United Press. STAMFORD, Texas, Nov. 7.—A charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated was filed today against Buster Coffman of Goree in connection with an automobile accident near Weiner last night in which R. D. Robertson, 27, of Fort Worth, was fatally injured.

Coffman and three other men less seriously injured in the mysterious accident, were brought to hospitals here. Officers said other charges might be filed.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

F. B. CUNNINGHAM, advertising manager of the Topeka (Kansas) Capital, says:

"Mrs. Housewife, the dictator of the family budget, reads and believes in her daily newspaper.

"Do you realize that today the woman spends 85 per cent or more of the family budget? She recommends how the other 15 per cent will be spent. She buys the furnishings and supplies for the home—her clothes and the children's clothes and needs—her husband's clothes, a goodly portion of them, if you please.

"The daily newspaper is the paper to reach the woman. Recent surveys have shown that women invariably prefer the newspaper. Local and national advertisers who are appealing to women are more and more turning to the daily newspapers—they are actually beginning to place the large bulk of their advertising appropriations in the daily newspapers. Women invariably prefer their daily newspaper because they can find a large selection of advertising to their liking—they find more and authentic feminine news—they can select and buy merchandise advertised almost the same day.

"The daily newspaper fulfills the needs of the average family readers, particularly the women, because she can keep abreast of the times, with world wide happenings, local and state, of this or that woman's organization, the trends of fashion, club woman's news, society news; in short, the daily newspaper is where she meets and rubs shoulders with her neighbor; it's her daily market place, her shoppers' guide in the privacy of her own home. Newspapers therefore provide the most acceptable means of entering the home with Mrs. Housewife in a receptive mood, and, incidentally, the most economical means for any merchant of crying his wares to the masses."

At the Lyric, Eastland

Norma Shearer, co-starring with Frederic March in "Smilin' Through," showing at the Lyric, Eastland, Tuesday and Wednesday

troit, Texas, died in mid-summer after the vice presidential candidate had raced by automobile and bus train to her bedside from Washington.

Bullington hurried to Weatherford where his mother lay ill. She died after obtaining his promise he would not cease his campaigning.

Two women played leading speaking parts in the campaign. Mrs. Ferguson campaigned with her husband, James E. Ferguson, and Mrs. Sterling addressed crowds during the run-off democratic campaign.

The gubernatorial campaign of others than the republican and democratic nominees played but a small part in the state's political drama.

One hundred twenty-one years ago today 800 American militiamen under the direction of William Henry Harrison met 6,000 Indians headed by Chiefs White Loon, Stone Eater, Winnemac and the Prophet on the Tippecanoe river, Indiana. It was a rousing victory for the Americans and a means of bringing Harrison into such prominence that he was made commander of the entire troops of the west. The tricky name "Tippecanoe" was used in the successful campaign which placed him in the white house in 1841 as the ninth president of the United States.

There is something uncanny about a rainy night. A million tiny feet batter on your window pane, and a thousand urgent voices cry for admittance, and somehow you never are alone when it rains. True, it's blue-time when the clouds hang low, but it's good for the system to feel the grip of thought and concentration every once in a great while...

Stellar Cast In "Smilin' Through"

Norma Shearer's newest photoplay, "Smilin' Through," which will open today at the Lyric theatre, presents the unique phenomena of a star being supported by four other stars.

Both on stage and screen the members of this quartet have individually headed the list of dramatic casts. Collectively they comprise the most brilliant supporting cast with which any star has been surrounded.

"Smilin' Through" marks Frederic March's first appearance with Norma Shearer. He was borrowed from Paramount for this picture in return for the loan of Clark Gable. March is one of the screen's most popular male stars. His list of hits includes "The Royal Family," "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" and "Jealousy."

Airs Biggest Stars In New Comedy Film

"The Big Broadcast," a comic comedy set against the background of a radio studio, and starring many of radio's greatest personalities in company with 27,000 square feet of screen favorites, is Tuesday at the Arcadia Theatre.

Miss Shearer in "A Year in Soho." He returns to the screen in "Smilin' Through" after a year's absence during which he scored on the New York stage in "The Animal Kingdom."

O. P. Heggie is another Broadway stage notable who is returning to the screen in this film. A veteran character actor, he has a record of 30 years of brilliant achievements on the London and New York stages, and has also appeared prominently in several screen productions.

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, Nov. 6.

Included with other passages read from the Bible was the following from Luke 13, "And behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from this infirmity. And he laid his hands on her; and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God."

The lesson-sermon also included citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Christian Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy; among these was the following: "When speaking of God's children, not the children of men, Jesus said, 'The kingdom of God is within you; that is, truth and love reign in the real men, showing that man in God's image is un-fallen and eternal. Jesus beheld in science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Savior saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick. Thus Jesus taught that the kingdom of God is intact, universal, and that man is pure and holy' (p. 476)."

Eastland county voters, you are needed to be the standard bearer of the Texas centennial amendment vote election day.

All eyes are turned to you and your conduct that will be registered for weal or woe, so far the state of Texas is concerned with tomorrow's vote.

Shall it be said that Texas attacked the light of her history, that she shone forth in undimmed glory a century or more, to be arrested and almost extinguished through the act of her own citizens, should they fail to show their appreciation of the bloody sacrifices that made Texas, a sovereign state?

The eyes of the world are turned on you, Texas voters, and not only the eyes of Texas.

By your own barometer of conduct in your voting will be registered the warmth or coldness of our attitude towards Texas, and our love and appreciation of the state.

very nearly has drowned out discussion of most other issues in this most important election—one of the nation's history. It is for this reason that the greatest vote of all times is expected to be cast. A grand total of 36,409,433 votes were cast for the Republican and Democratic candidates in 1928, with Hoover receiving 21,392,190 and Alfred E. Smith 15,016,443. President Hoover received 444 electoral votes, breaking tradition by capturing four states in the "solid south," while Smith received only 87, representing those of eight states. Registration has increased this year, with Democrats showing great gains.

President Hoover has gone before the voters largely on the record of measures sponsored by the administration to temper the wind of the depression and check it, including the mammoth Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the home loan bank system and other agencies created to supply credit to a weakened financial structure. He has asked for a continuance in office to complete this work in several personal appearances before the voters. Pointedly, he has accused Democrats of lack of a program and lack of leadership in the opportunity they had by virtue of control of the House of Representatives.

Hoover Charged
Roosevelt has assailed the Hoover administration up and down the land. He and other Democratic campaigners have charged the president with misrepresentation of the scope of the business debacle, with failure to act promptly and adequately, and with taking credit for relief measures which were the brain children of Democratic and were forced through only by Democratic pressure.

The tariff has returned as an issue with greater force than in two decades, with President Hoover standing squarely on the Hawley-Smoot Act and Democrats claiming it as a largely responsible for the depression and suggesting international negotiations to lower tariff barriers all around. The bonus popped, a steaming and sputtering firebrand, into the campaign. Disgruntled farmers heard proposals of all sorts to alleviate their distress.

Prohibition in Background
Prohibition, which dominated both conventions, settled somewhat into the background as the campaign progressed, but only to be revived as a burning issue when Congress re-convenes. Democrats have pledged repeal of the 18th Amendment and modification of the Volstead Act to permit the manufacture of beer and wine. Republicans suggested a modified 18th Amendment leaving the liquor question to the states, with President Hoover in the vanguard in favor of change.

Speaker of the House John N. Garner, who has taken less part in the campaign than any Vice President candidate in a long while, nevertheless was very much in evidence as a target of Republican attack. President Hoover led the sniping at Garner, charging that recovery would be impossible if measures he had sponsored had become law. Vice President Charles Curtis paraded up and down the country in a vigorous campaign for one of his 1828 activity. Curtis deserted his party on the prohibition issue, remaining dry.

Candidates anxiously await the issue of tomorrow's polling with the knowledge that this has been a most peculiar political year. Especially hard has it been upon the "rins." Veterans after veteran has been swept from Congress to amass a total of 50 members of House and Senate eliminated by the primaries. Twenty-eight others retired, desiring not to test the issue.

Hard Fights.
Many leaders, who successfully withstood assaults in the primaries, face stiff tests in the elections tomorrow. These include Senator James E. Watson, Indiana, Senate Republican leader; Senator Reed Smoot, Rep., Utah,

Flyer Given Ring By Girl Reserves

MELIA Earhart, "for her courage and dependability," was given a ring when she was made an honorary member of the Girl Reserves of the Y. W. C. A. recently. About 3,000 school girls of Westchester and Putnam Counties in New York saw the famous woman flyer become a member of the Junior Y. W. C. A. club in a special ceremony. Miss Margaret Foster of White Plains presented the ring.

chairman of the finance committee, co-sponsor of the Hawley-Smoot tariff act and of the recent billion dollar tax bill; Senator Wesley L. Jones, Rep., Washington, chairman of the powerful appropriations committee, dry leader and author of the Jones "five-and-ten" prohibition law; the witty Senator George H. Moses, Rep., New Hampshire, creator of the famous "sons of the end world jacks" tag and president of the Senate; the tall and professional Senator Hiram Bingham, Rep., Connecticut, the Senate's leading champion of beer.

Five Senators and 45 House members went down to defeat in the primaries. The Senate "insurgent" bloc suffered two of the five Senate losses in Senators John J. Blaine, Wisconsin, and Smith W. Brookhart, Iowa. The latter chose to test the issue again in the election tomorrow as an independent. Other Senators defeated were Cameron Morrison, Dem., North Carolina; Samuel Shortridge, Rep., California, and Edgar Broussard, Dem., Louisiana.

Hawley Defeated
Deep inroads were made upon the House leadership. Representative Charles Crisp, Dem., Georgia, sponsor of the billion dollar tax bill, lost in the attempt to go to the Senate. Representative Willis C. Hawley, Rep., Oregon, co-author of the Hawley-Smoot Act, was defeated. Representative John Q. Tilson, formerly Republican leader, retired. Other leaders went down in the melee.

The LaFollette machine suffered its first serious reverse in 30 years in the defeat of Governor Philip LaFollette, son of "Fighting Bob," and of Blaine.

Notable defections from Republican ranks during the campaign were those of Senators George W. Norris, Nebraska, and Hiram Johnson, California.

Minor Candidates
The prevalence of depression psychology probably is responsible for the large number of minor party candidates running for Congress. There are 76 candidates on the Socialist ticket; three Communists; nine Farmer-Labor, all from Minnesota; a dozen Prohibitionists, and 13 who are running on combination tickets which include the Prohibitionist.

Nineteen women are running for Congress this year, two for the Senate, the rest for the House. One of the six women House members, Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, Dem., Florida, was eliminated in the primaries. Another, Mrs. Effie Wingo, retires at the end of the president Congress next March 4. Eight Socialists are included among the women candidates.

Since Maine already has elected her three House members, only 432 and the 435 House seats are at stake tomorrow.

"Week-End Murder"

New Feature Serial by Gabrielle E. Forbush, Beginning Wed., Nov. 9

Ever since the day her father brought home to her a wornout typewriter Gabrielle E. Forbush, author of the new serial, "Week-End Murder," has pursued a literary career. At that time she had just turned 12 and, naturally, started at the top. She became editor-in-chief (and the only member of the staff) of a daily newspaper. Four copies were painfully typed daily by the author. This lasted for several weeks. Whether school or vacation intervened she does not now remember but the typewriter remained and was in more or less regular use until she went to Vassar College.

Publicity work for various organizations, a few years as an assistant editor on "Woman's Home Companion," work on New York newspapers, syndicate work, and finally advertising copywriting kept her professional career from becoming monotonous. Even during the strenuous years in charge of the "woman's interest" accounts of a large New York advertising agency she did some writing on the side, but it was mostly personality stories, articles and an occasional fashion or cookery feature. She collaborated with her husband, Arthur R. Forbush, on three books—one on etiquette, one of children's games, and one of crossword puzzles.

With school days behind, she found herself proudly installed at a desk in the Century company offices and paid to do what she liked best—read newspapers and magazines and clip book reviews to paste in heavy volumes. Soon thereafter she became an assistant editor on "Boy Scout Magazine."

Recently Mrs. Forbush has turned again to fiction. "Week-End Murder" is her first full-length detective novel. It is an exciting mystery set against a background that in several minor details suggests the author's own experiences. "Week-End Murder" begins Wednesday, Nov. 9, in this paper.
