When one goes to the extent I did to start a youth out in the paths of righteousness and truthfulness, it is a great waste of time to see him go astray and publish such tripe as the article just above in an attempt to not only discredit but ridicule his former tutor and guiding hand.
True, I started Bobby off in the ice business, but he wanted to be a lawyer and he wanted to go to the home of Estelwhite Ford and started him on his way to the university, thereby ruining a good iceman.
But before he ever felt the cold steel of a pair of ice tongs in his billy white hands, Bobby did report to me. He had a competitor in the ice business and I also had so many customers that I could have lost a few without knowing exactly which one I lost. Therefore, I engaged the energetic Campbell youth in the capacity of a reporter to snoop out the refrigerators being served by my competitor and report the same to me in order that I might go and plead with the owner to return to the fold and let me continue to chisel them out of their ice money. Now if that wasn't reporting, then I shall pause whilst someone suggests a better name.
The dapper young swain of Breckenridge was inspired to start writing by none other than Ye Griper. His scrap book still smells with old letters I used to write him whilst he was hither and yon, and his life's ambition at one time was to be able to write as good a letter as I could. He would sit for hours at composing literary sonnets and symphonies written to me and reciting some of his varied experience of which I assure you he has had quite several.
I showed some of those letters to the boss editor once and, quoth he, "Here is the young man I want to chronicle the happenings of the Eastland Egg Basket. Send him to me in order that I may offer him a stipend and start him on the road to success."
Campbell's fame as a commentator on sports, society, politics and bank robberies soon spread and shortly he was removed to Ranger where he was not taken so seriously. He was shipped to Mineral Wells where he editorialized the Index for quite a spell. Thence he was called to Big Spring where opportunities offered there. And about a year ago he entered the summons to appear at Breckenridge and furnish his own dynamo.
The ridicule of my apparent versatility was wasted. He knows full well that I am the original Piccolo Pete. Had that I have done some of practically every kind of work there is to do with the possible exception of milking cows. Thus far I haven't turned the spotlight of publicity on he of the rattly looking hat, but I'm giving him warning here and now that he shall not go unmentioned unless he takes a little more respectful attitude toward one who has looked out for him and watched over him and kept him from being a lawyer.

Governor Sterling To Address County Voters

GRIPINGS

By GUS

This column is published as a daily feature and may not be construed as representing the editorial views of this paper. What follows is merely what the man thought at the time it was written, and the writer reserves the right to change his mind concerning any subject, without notice, explanation or apology.

The paragraph immediately following is an inaccurate account of how the famous Lord Chesterfield Campbell got his start in the world. Read it. Then read on and get the corrected and revised truth of the matter.

He's Slipping
Gus L. (Have a Guz on Me) Coleman, the sage of Eastland county's egg basket, is getting careless in his dotage. He contends he started us in the newspaper business. He is mistaken. Mr. Coleman started us in the ice business before either of us even so much as read a newspaper. Mr. Coleman also finished us in the ice business. With a hard glint in our eyes and coolness of shoulders we walked out of the storage vault together, he going his way and we going ours. Those were very beautiful days, indeed, for Mr. Coleman. Besides having the market cornered on the ice cube market, Mr. Coleman was spending his nights furnishing music for the dance loving set. He was a good dancer, too. Very versatile. He was the fife player in the Rainbow Serenaders; clarinet player in the Moonlight Stompers; and everything from piano picker to bass drummer in Gus Coleman's Syncopated Rhythm Stompers. Between times he had a delivering iced to the perspiring neighbors.—By Bobby Campbell, in Breckenridge American.

BULL MARKET SENDS STOCK ISSUES HIGHER

By United Press
NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The stock market swung 1 to 5 points upward during the day and kept most of its gains.

Traders ignored a hoard of factors that in recent times would have been seized on as bear signs, paying little or no heed to depressing news. The market swept merrily on and sales crossed the 4,000,000-share mark.

Helping the share market was a buoyant bond section where second grade railroad issues and a long list of utilities soared.

Cotton spurted $1.50 a bale.

Troops Rescue Besieged Miners

Besieged for a day and a half by a mob of 3500 pickets, 64 non-union miners were rescued from the shaft of the Dixie Bee coal mine near Terre Haute, Ind. (Shown above), by 250 Indian national guardsmen. Guard machine guns and snipers' rifles killed one man and wounded eight. Sniping continued on the second night of the siege until guardsmen, ordered out by Governor Harry G. Leslie, were within 500 yards of the mine.

REVOLUTION BREAKS OUT OVER SPAIN

By United Press
MADRID, Spain, Aug. 10.—Spanish army units marched on Seville today to put down a Monarchist rebellion after suppressing an uprising in Madrid with eight dead and about 30 wounded.

An official announcement gave the death toll as six rebel soldiers and two rebel officers.

Seville, fourth city in Spain with a population of 220,000, was in the hands of Gen. Jose Sanjurjo, leader of the rebellion, who controls the army unit and civil guard. A battle was in prospect.

Mmanuel Azana, premier and war minister, in announcing the march on Seville, said he did not know exactly when the troops would arrive. Other towns in the Andalusian region, embracing Seville, were calm, he said.

The Monarchist revolt, the most serious effort to restore King Alfonso since the republic was well established, apparently was well planned. The government, however, had advance information and put the movement down in Madrid with vigor. By early afternoon 82 arrests had been made including important rebel leaders.

Cadiz advices said an outbreak at Jerez, center of the Sherry wine district and not far from Cadiz, had been suppressed quickly. The colonel of the Jerez civil guard and various important Monarchists were arrested.

The local government of Seville was understood to have taken refuge in Jerez.

HEADQUARTERS FOR HICKMAN ESTABLISHED

Supporters of Judge Hickman in his race for the Democratic nomination for the place of Associate Justice of the Supreme court opened offices Tuesday in the store building on the south side of the square between Beauty Drug store and Morris Grocery.

The office is equipped with desks and typewriters and a large order for printed pamphlets has been placed. These pamphlets will be distributed from the office. They will be paid for by the supporters of Judge Hickman, each buying an amount of pamphlets.

R. E. Sikes is in charge of the office and also in charge of handling the distribution of printed matter. The co-operation of Eastland people who have influential acquaintance in other parts of the state is asked in directing the printed matter to the proper parties.

Mrs. Moore who so ably assisted Mrs. Funderburk in Judge Funderburk's recent campaign is at the Hickman headquarters giving the supporters the benefit of her valuable experience.

A meeting of the supporters of Judge Hickman has been called for Friday night at which time a report of activities will be made and further plans made for the activities of the judge's friends.

All activities will be conducted strictly in accordance with the election laws of the state and strict adherence to every ruling will be made without exception.

Garner Notified Of Nomination

UYALDE, Tex., Aug. 10.—Notification of his nomination as Democratic candidate for vice president was received here today by House Speaker John N. Garner. The letter was written by United States Senator Alben W. Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky.

Garner, who has announced his intention of leaving in mid-August to consult with Franklin D. Roosevelt, presidential nominee, indicated he would forward his reply in the next several days.

He will probably mail his reply, he said.

President Hoover Enjoys Birthday

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—President Hoover is 58 years old today.

He is certain to have at least three birthday cakes and several more will probably arrive at the White House before evening. He will get one from the United States Shipping Lines, one from a troop of Boy Scouts, and one from Mrs. Hoover, the latter, the smallest of the three, will be cut at dinner tonight. The others are to be presented to him on the south lawn of the White House.

One gift was a huge "birthday card" in the form of a great box in which greetings from 40,000 persons were inclosed. It was shipped here on a railroad flat car from Massachusetts.

Garrett Asked To Delay Tax Levy

County Judge Clyde L. Garrett is in receipt of a telegram from Gov. Ross S. Sterling, in which the governor advises the commission to refrain from making any tax levy until after the special session of the legislature on Sept. 13. The session, which has been called by the governor, will be for the purpose of enacting a bill for the purpose of relieving counties of bonded indebtedness on their road bonds.

The 18-year-old flier is trying to make the trip in 22 hours elapsed time. His schedule today calls for stops at Houston and Brownsville, Texas.

BUSINESS OF RAILROADS IS ON UPTURN

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Aug. 10.—An indicated return of confidence in business, shown by increased volume in railroad transportation, is viewed by railroad officials here to mean business in general is on the up-grade.

Two trunk lines, the Cotton Belt and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, reported increases of 38 per cent and 12 per cent respectively in freight movements during July over July, 1931.

For the most part, the trade revival is reflected in movements of basic farm commodities and road construction materials, railroad men said. Merchandise has continued to move in greater volumes despite the new federal taxes which caused a flurry in shipments before the tax became effective.

R. C. Hatfield, assistant general freight agent for the Cotton Belt Lines, foresees a decided upward swing in all business. He attributed this to returning public confidence and government aid through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Good crops will aid immensely in returning business to normal channels, C. S. Elliott, division freight agent for the Southern Pacific, said.

"While the wheat in Texas fell below par, other crops are looking good," he said. "The railroads will profit directly from the bumper crops expected. When the farmer prospers, other industries prosper."

Santa Fe traffic has been helped by heavy shipments of potatoes from South Texas and onions from East Texas. With the movement of the melon crop under way, traffic movements are expected to hold steady.

All officials were unanimous in the belief farm commodities were again obtaining firm footing and probably would pull other industries out of the general business lethargy.

Visitors at the meeting today were J. E. Lewis of Eastland, Claude Allen of Fort Worth, Odell Bailey, R. F. Holloway, W. S. Waid, Mrs. M. H. Hagaman and the four ladies who appeared on the program.

The program next week will be in charge of H. B. Johnson and Morris Bendix.

STATE CAPITOL AT AUSTIN TO BE IMPROVED

By United Press
AUSTIN, Aug. 10.—Repairs to the Texas State Capitol, the cornerstone of which was laid in 1885, nearly equal the original cost of construction according to records in the offices of the state board of control.

Cost of building the capitol was estimated at $3,000,000, although the contractors of the early 80's agreed to accept 3,000,000 acres of land from the state's public domain as payment instead. The land today is worth approximately $60,000,000.

Approximately $40,000 will be spent this year on improvements. Contract for a new roof and other improvements on the power plant has been let by the State Board of Control to A. A. Mundt, Austin, for $7,500.

Bids on $33,000 improvements on the electrical system will be opened this month. Legislative appropriations provided $12,000 for a new turbine and switchboard in the power plant, changing the electrical power to alternating current.

The capitol has operated on direct current since the installation of electrical power.

Another $12,000 appropriation was made to change the wiring in the capitol system, and $5,000 was set aside to convert fans and motors from direct to alternating current.

Nearly $2,500 will be spent to overhaul elevators, and $1,500 for additional fire equipment.

HOKY AND SLIDES Henry L. Farrell

The Toughest Trip RUSS BOARDMAN has taken several rather rough journeys. As a cowboy, aviator, motorcycle daredevil, parachutist and air-ship pilot, he has had more hair-raising excursions than most people could use.

It Looked Easy HOW did he happen to take up flying? "It was down in Boston about 12 years ago. I had been riding motorcycles some at the fair—you know the bowl act they used to call 'the wall of death' and flying looked easier and more exciting. I started out to be a wing-walker. You remember the old stunt of crawling from plane to plane in the air? It was great stuff in those days. We made all the fairs, billing the act as a dare-devil stunt. We were looked upon as being a little bit balmy."

It's Safer Now AVIATION has gone a long way since that day. "Farther than I ever thought it would be. And the next few years should be amazing. Every day the builders are getting up speed into the ships. It's becoming safer, with the craft having longer cruising ranges. Fuels are being improved and that means greater safety."

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

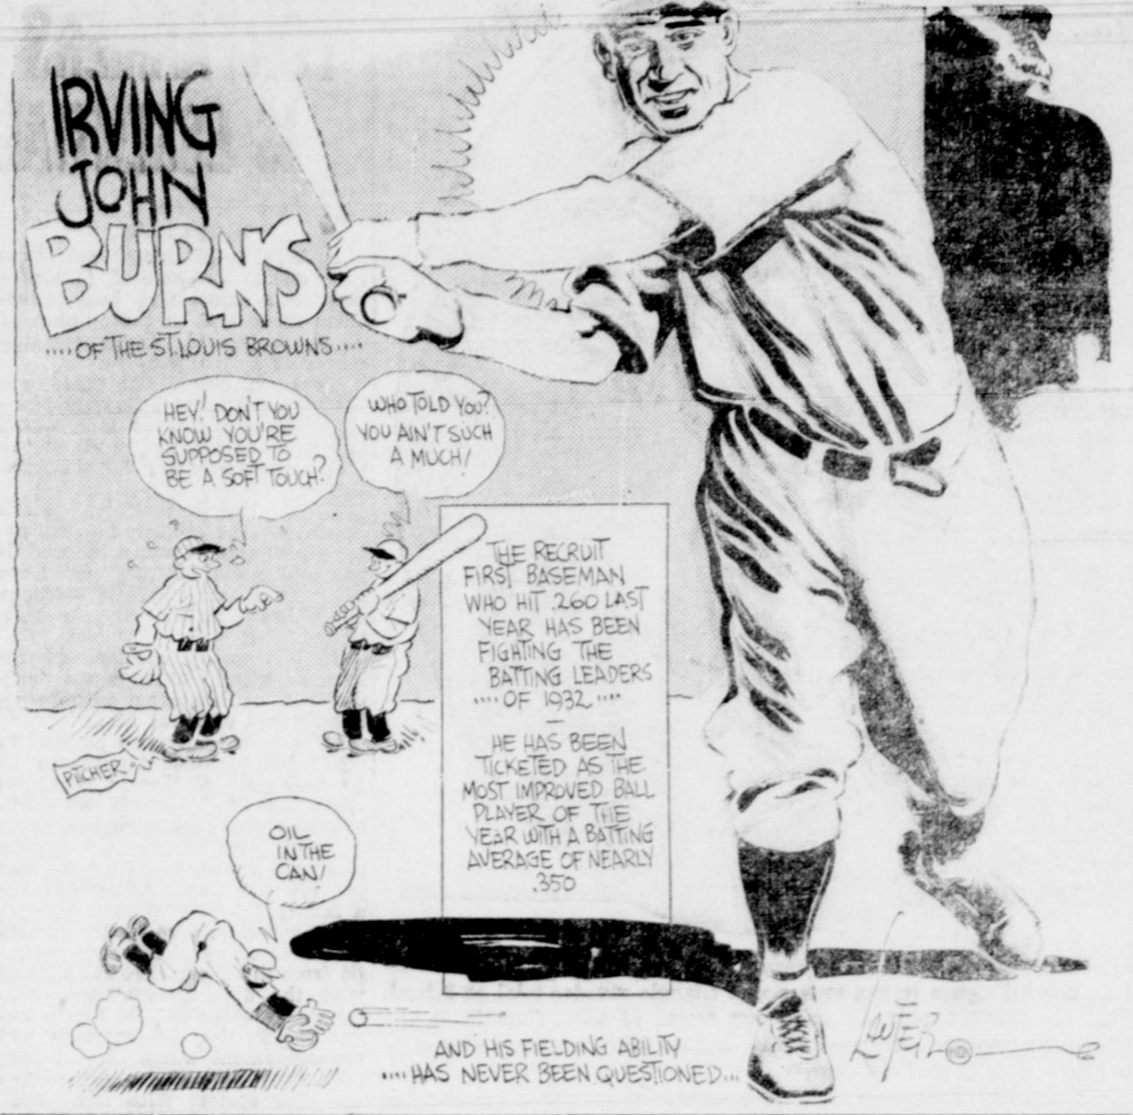

By JACK CUDDY United Press Staff Correspondent Pacific Coast League Grooming Major Players

The Pacific Coast League, always a dependable incubator for the majors, again has some attractive looking wares ready for the fall market. Long noted for the shortstops it has sent to the big show, the league has two youngsters ready for the big time if their current performances mean anything.

One of these, Augie Galan, who has been shortstopping for the San Francisco Seals, has been a youthful sensation from the start of the season. He seemingly rose from the mists of the Pacific to blossom over night. Galan's rise has its interesting angle, with a tang of the Horatio Alger. This spring he was just one of the kids who appeared at the Seal camp for a trial. The shortstop job already had been given to Joe Chamberlain, a fine looking kid, and everyone from the club president to the groundskeeper had decided Chamberlain was the boy to fill Frank Crosetti's brogans.

Chamberlain turned up with a crippled finger and was relegated to the iodine ward for a few days. Galan, subbing in until the phenom was ready to return. They had railroad transportation made out to Tucson in the Arizona-Texas league for Galan, and they were going to get in circulation as soon as Chamberlain's finger got to behaving itself.

Bible Reveals a Strange Birth Record

By United Press. GALLIPOLIS, O.—The sons and daughters of the late Leroy Dickey of Gallia County, O., have discovered a strange fact concerning their birthdays. The family Bible revealed that after the birth of Bertha S. Dickey on March 31, 1871, a child was born every 25 months and two days until there were six. Ellsworth A. of Crown City, O., was born June 2, 1873; Nellie A. of Columbus, O., July 4, 1875; Leo of Gallipolis, Aug. 6, 1877; Westa L. deceased, Sept. 8, 1879, and William H., Columbus, O., Oct. 10, 1881.

Safe Crackers Blew Up Their Loot

By United Press. WARRENSBURG, Mo. — Safe crackers were successful in breaking into the safe of a filling station here, but the $70 which was inside didn't do them any good. The explosive charge was so great that it blew up the money, and stary bits of currency were found scattered over the station. One half dollar was bent double. Most of the nations of the world are convinced that Japan needs a good spanking, a famous historian remarks. But the trouble is that so far we have had no volunteers for the mother role.

Minors Boost Many Good Youngsters

Strangely enough, the San Francisco Missions, who got off to a bad start, have a number of very likely looking chaps playing for them, and Scouts Bill Essick, Jack Doyle, Johnny Evers, Marty Krug and Cy Slapnicka have been peering at this team with more than passing interest. Third Baseman Joe Goscardart looks like one of the best young hot corner artists in the loop and he's batting around .330. It isn't his fault the Missions are in lowly estate. First Baseman Ellsworth Dahlgren is another luminary, said to be one of the best the Coast has seen for a right-hander. Chick Hafey, of the Reds, may have to share some of the space his name has been getting in the big league headlines with his nephew, Bud Hafey, who is doing a great job in the outfield for the Missions. This youngster has a great throwing arm and is a flash on the bases. Tom Hafey, still another member of the clan, joined the Missions recently, and it looks like bright lights in the family for years to come. Albert Wright, second basing for the tribe of Freddy Hofman, has drawn particular praise from Evers, the old Trojan of the Boston Braves, who likewise is sweet on Dahlgren. Wright, however, is improving steadily, and while he could stand a little more weight on his batting average, he is driving in as many runs as some of the batting leaders and is a fine team player. There are others around the circuit, but enough have been spotted to show that the Coast retains its rep as a pretty good patch of ground in which to raise ball players, oranges or what do you like? Three of the far Westerners already have shipped their baggage out of those parts to the majors, and it's likely some more will follow before the drafting season sneaks up on us. Tony Freitas has gotten his feet wet with the A's and Pete Daglia has been with the White Sox long enough to know what the big league victuals taste like. The most recent advance was just announced the other day when the Chicago Cubs closed with Sacramento for the immediate delivery of Outfielder Frank Demaree who has earned a promotion with neat work for the Sacs.

TEXAS TOPICS

AUSTIN. — Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, whose war-time associates credit him, as a lieutenant colonel in France, with one of the most notable machine-gun barrages that gave American arms renown in the Argonne, has adopted a cillian pattern of the same tactics of concentration in his race for nomination to his present office.

In the run-off primary, Colonel Thompson, who has held state office for only a few months, but who led W. Gregory Hatcher, who had held state office six years, is directing an infiltration campaign in upon the strongholds of his opponents, just as he concentrated on the enemy positions in the war tactics.

Mr. Thompson carried well over 100 counties. His opponent carried about 75 counties, many by less than 100 votes.

Now Thompson is making the second-primary race a definite pitched battle in the smaller number of counties in which his opponents led.

He has sketched out his personal campaign that will take him to each county carried by Mr. Hatcher.

Rep. E. T. Murphy of Livingston and Olin Culbertson of Edna both have given Mr. Thompson their support and are going to the voters in the counties they carried and asking their friends to support the present commissioner.

Commissioner Thompson, in his first state campaign, is presenting to the voters a candidacy backed by a four-fold basis of reasons in his behalf.

Distinguished and able service in the war, which won him promotion to the youngest lieutenant colonel in the American army.

Outstanding business success in the American army.

A remarkable record as the mayor for three years of Amarillo, in which he fulfilled platform promises to give the people substantial reductions in water rates, in gas rates, in light and power rates, and in tax rates. His fight with the keenest lawyers of the public utilities, and his victory as mayor, won him national renown.

several months on the commission—a deep understanding of the oil and gas industry, whose regulation by the commission on a fair and understanding basis involves the welfare of an industry of over $2,000,000,000 in Texas. Short as it has been, his experience and work on the railroad commission have won the admiration and the support of all branches of the industry.

FEDERAL AID FOR FARMERS IS ESSENTIAL

AUSTIN. — Financial aid from the federal government is essential to a successful back-to-the-farm movement in the opinion of J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture.

To be successful, he said, such a movement must primarily place the unemployed upon land which can produce practically all of the food crops necessary for the family.

True back-to-the-farm plans should not be confused with attempts of some eastern industrialists and manufacturers to have their employes cultivate gardens while living in the city, he cautioned.

In McDonald's opinion, the return of many unemployed city dwellers would start a definite rehabilitation of rural life.

"There are only two places to which the permanently unemployed may go," McDonald said, "to the bread line, through the dole system such as England has, or to a small farm, which is the only place we know where a man may provide the major necessities for a family."

"It would be wise for the United States to study closely, and benefit from the experience of England with the dole system," the commissioner asserted. "A few years ago the British government had unemployment which they considered temporary. They established the dole system with less than 300,000 people accepting it at that time, directly or indirectly, but it was claimed last January, by reliable sources, the British government had something like 14,000,000 people accepting the dole directly. In other words, a few years ago the British government had the dole system, but today the dole system has the British government."

"Ordinarily, the unemployed worker, who had an inclination to go back to the farm, could rent a place and be financed by the land owner, the local banker or the credit merchant, but today neither of these three can or will do this class of financing. "If these people, who are now unemployed, have in the past supported the government with their money and with their sons when the country needed defending, then surely the government has an obligation to them in this critical period."

McDonald's plan for a back-to-the-farm movement briefly is this: Congress should appropriate money for a revolving fund to finance the movement, and to aid those now on farms but facing mortgage foreclosure to retain their homes.

Those unemployed who are desirous of being established on a farm would be loaned sufficient funds from the revolving fund to be located on a farm, for which long term bonds of low interest rate would be given to the government. The government may use these bonds as collateral upon which the treasury can issue currency to provide money for the revolving fund. In this manner, according to McDonald, the government would be merely lending its credit to its people and the interest on the bonds would defray all costs to the government.

The plan proposed by the Texas Commissioner of agriculture was presented to several congressional leaders early in June and received favorable comment. It is expected the plan will be incorporated in a bill to be presented at the December session of Congress.

Rivals for Kansas Governorship

Kansans reiterated their dryness with ballots in the state's recent primary election when wet candidates trailed far behind victorious gubernatorial nominees, Landon, an independent oil operator of Independence, was given the Republican nomination for governor, and Governor Woodring again was the choice of Democrats. They'll battle it out in November with Dr. John R. Brinkley of Milford, goat gland specialist, as the third contestant, on an independent ticket.

The POWER HOUSE Repaired!

- People have more buying power.
• There is less unemployment in Texas.
• Isn't that good news?

That the people of Texas have increased buying power, in recent months, is proved by the fact that thousands of men and women,—unemployed a few weeks ago,—are again at work.

Texas bank statements show that Savings Deposits have not been reduced.

Texas commercial and individual deposits have been reduced, only to the extent of the sums withdrawn from Texas banks by the Government and by certain large national industrialists.

Texans' deposits are still in Texas banks. CREDIT is easier all along the line and will be extended to legitimate enterprises, through the weeks and months ahead, on easier terms.

New Character For Walter Huston

Walter Huston, recognized as one of the most accomplished actors on the screen, contributes another virile characterization in Universal's swift-moving drama, "A House Divided," which comes to the Columbia theatre, Ranger, today.

In this picture Huston is seen as a brutal, tyrannical fisherman of the North Pacific coast, fighting against the pounding sea and his peace-loving neighbors with equal abandon, and finally brought to the heights of emotional rage when he discovers that his new mail-order bride has fallen in love with his own son. The fact that the son reciprocates the affection of the young girl aids in bringing about a situation which is filled with dramatic intensity.

Huston's characterizations since making his screen debut in "Gentlemen of the Press" have been of infinite variety, ranging from western bad men to Abraham Lincoln in D. W. Griffith's recent production dealing with the life of the ex-president.

U. S. Consul Agent Composes Music

DIEPPE.—Convinced that every good job deserves a worthy hobby, Frederick Fairbanks, U. S. Consular agent here, devotes his spare time to musical compositions and has just finished a symphony which will be performed under his direction for the first time in September by the Dieppe Symphony orchestra. In addition to being the director of this orchestra, Fairbanks also is the baton wielder for the Dieppe Choral Society, both of which furnish special music for American and British tourists.

The Chicago board of trade is charged with violating a statute 10 years old. What we'd like to know is whether the board just started violating the law or whether the government just found it out.

Just to Please YOU

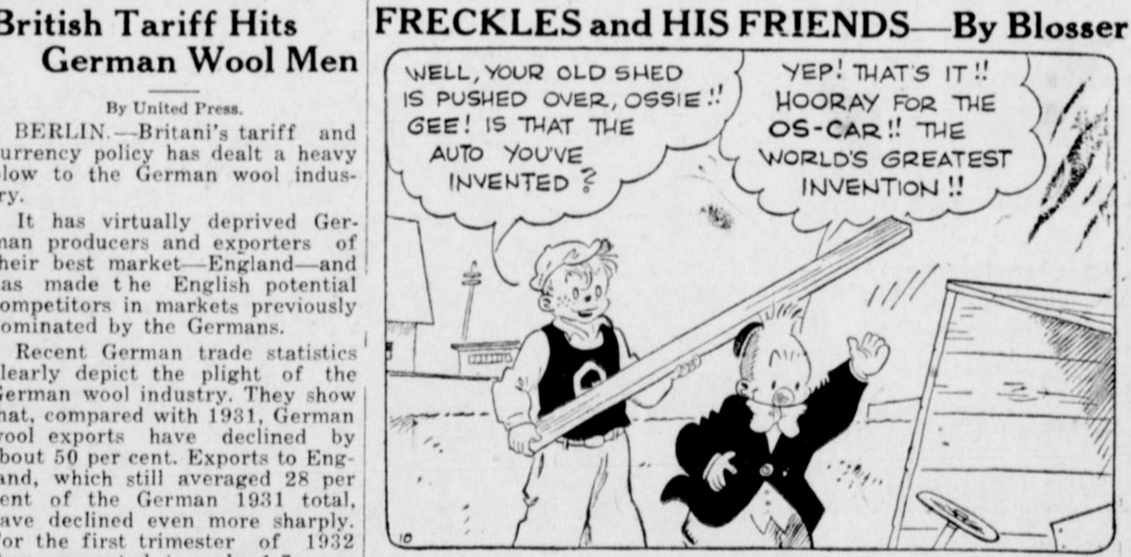

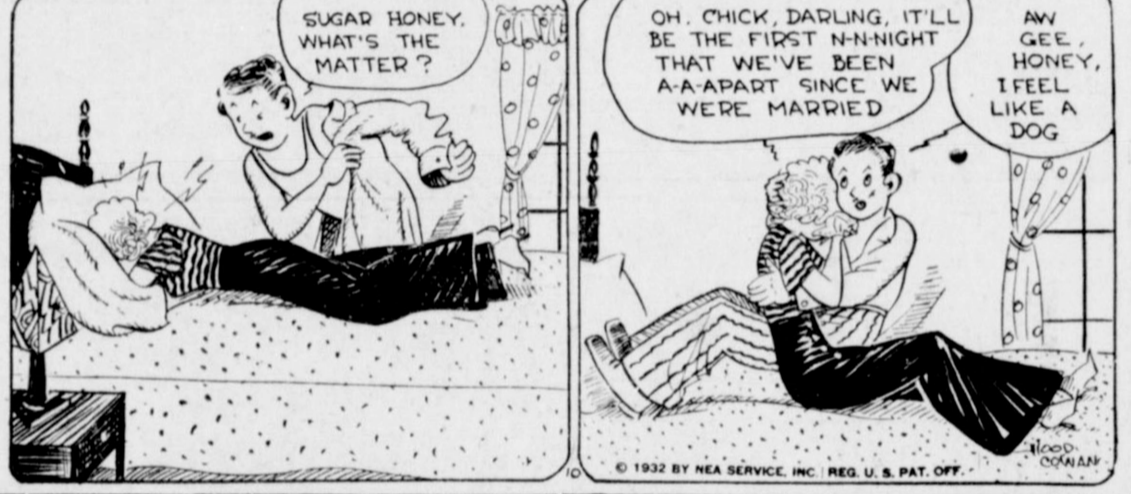

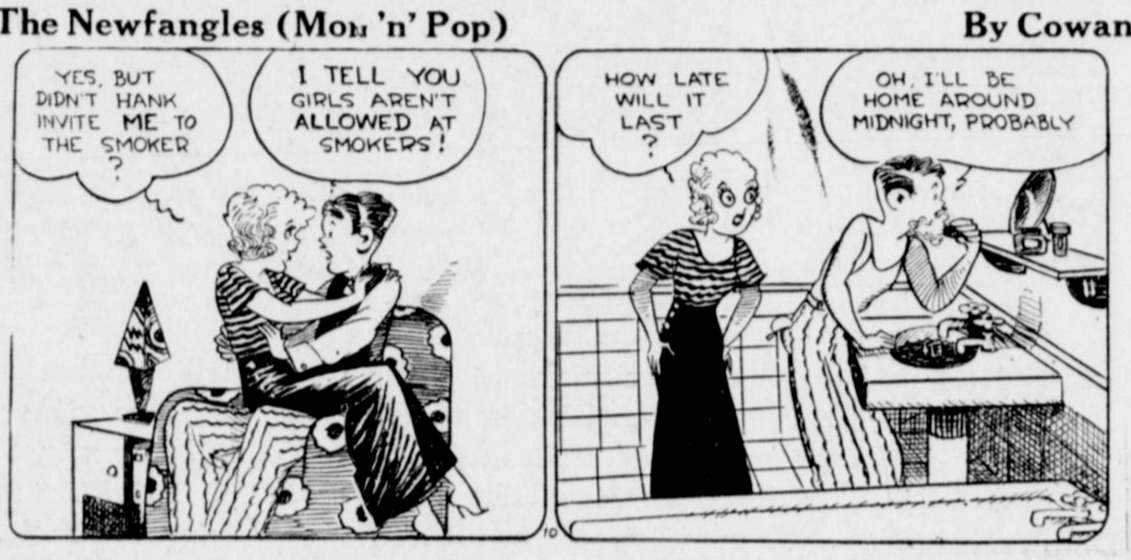

Have you ever thought of the power you exert, along with others like you, over all manufacture and production? Great laboratories analyze foodstuffs so that you may have the cereals you want. Blast furnaces roar—so that your motor car may have the most perfectly balanced crankshaft. Fashions, patterns, fabrics are designed to appeal to you. As the consumer, it is your wishes, your tastes, your preferences that either directly or indirectly control all the factories of the world.

In bowing to your pleasure, leading manufacturers and merchants are sending you daily in this newspaper their personal reports—their advertisements. They are telling you truthfully about all the new or improved products that have been made for your greater comfort or service. The advertisements are interesting. They are accurate records of business progress. It will pay you to read the advertisements regularly and carefully.

IMPORTANT

When you ask for a product by name, as a result of advertising, do not accept a substitute—substitutes are offered not as a service to you, but for other reasons.
