BEER-FOR-REVENUE BILL BEFORE CONGRESS

ACTION MAY BE TAKEN BY LATE TODAY

Texas May Get Beer By August In Opinion of the Wet Leaders.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—A beer-for-revenue bill, legalizing 3.2 per cent alcoholic content, was taken up for action today by the house. A vote was assured at the conclusion of three hours debate. The bill would go into effect 15 days after being signed by President Roosevelt. Leaders were certain it would be written soon into the laws of the United States, perhaps before the end of this week. The measure, as agreed upon in committee, provides for legalization of beer, lager, ale and porter of not more than 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight. Other major provisions include a $5 a barrel federal tax and a $1,000 license fee for every brewery. Dry states, which do not desire manufacture or sale of the prohibition beverage within their borders, would be protected. All states will be given a free hand to regulate manufacture and distribution. Chairman Ashurst of the senate judiciary committee, conferred with President Roosevelt today and said he believed the 3.2 per cent beer would be permissible under the constitution. He expressed optimism as to early passage of the beer measure, remarking, "we hope to have the boys out of bathtub gin in two weeks."

Here's How the New Money Will Get Into Circulation

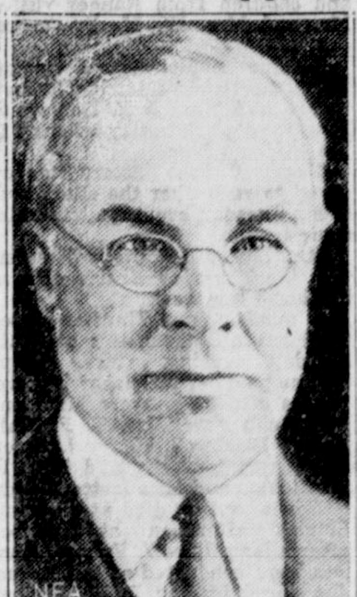

New money printed in Washington is shipped to Federal Reserve Banks throughout United States. Business man makes loan at his bank, posting security eligible for discount by Federal Reserve. Banks deposit commercial paper and other "sound assets" with Federal Reserve Banks and receive paper money. New money thus acquired by banks is paid out by making loans and by cashing checks of depositors. Business firms make purchases, employees meet payrolls and thus new money gets into circulation. As expanded currency is re-deposited, it can be withdrawn from circulation, thus controlling inflation.

TEXAS MOVES TO REOPEN ALL BANKS IN STATE

AUSTIN, March 14.—With State Banking Commissioner James Shaw busy in his office with orders not to be disturbed, Texas was in a quandary today over its latest moratorium. A proclamation issued by Shaw late yesterday declared a moratorium on all financial institutions organized under state law other than banks and trust companies. Unofficial opinion here was that the proclamation would apply also to any loan or bond company that is normally under the supervision of the state banking department.

Takes Up Reins In Philippines

John H. Holliday, above, will be acting governor of the Philippine Islands after March 24 when Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who has resigned, will leave for America. Holliday, a St. Louis attorney, will serve as governor until the arrival of President Roosevelt's choice for the post.

Yarborough Gets 25 Years In His Trial For Murder

AUSTIN, March 14.—A district court jury today sentenced Cal B. Yarborough, 43-year-old Belton mechanic, to 25 years in the penitentiary on a charge of causing the fatal burning of his adopted daughter Doris, 15, last September. The girl was fatally burned while helping Yarborough clean an automobile. Her clothes became ignited from spilled gasoline, and Yarborough threw a bucket of gasoline on her, thinking it was water, he said. The prosecution had asked the death penalty.

PNEUMONIA IS BREAKING OUT IN QUAKE AREA

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—Possibility of a pneumonia epidemic today overrode the fear of recurrent tremors in earthquake-stricken areas of California. Sixteen pneumonia patients had been brought into hospitals and emergency receiving station. Most of the victims were old people who had been sleeping on the damp ground in front of ruined homes. Two aged women were found near death, too weak to call for aid. A younger woman, with a baby boy in her arms, was reached by ambulance crews. The boy had pneumonia, the mother cough pneumonia. Ambulance drivers were instructed to inspect outdoor camps in front of Long Beach ruined homes. On the brighter side of the picture was the employment given today to almost 2,000 men assigned to the gigantic task of clearing the debris and tearing down menacing structures. The workers were all Long Beach's own unemployed. No outsiders were permitted to enter the city. The jobs paid $3.20 a day from a payroll supplied by the R. F. C.

Angus Loses a Close Match; Cole Is Again Winner

"Popeye" Cole, Ranger boxer de-luxe, defeated "One-Punch" Akers here last night in one minute and 38 seconds of the first round. Cole's ring title will possibly be changed to "One-Round" Cole if he continues to win as he did last night. "Fut" Moore, Denton college football star, defeated "Denver" Curley two straight falls. Moore took the first with his famous rocking-chair split in 18 minutes and the second in eight minutes with a crab hold. Eddie O'Shea roughed his way over Bill Angus to win in the last main event of wrestling. Angus took the first fall in 24 minutes with a series of flying tackles and a body pin. In the second fall O'Shea started using all the dirty ring tactics known only to him and won over Angus in 29 minutes with an airplane spin followed by a body backdrop. The third fall was very rough as O'Shea persisted in gouging the eyes, slugging with the fists and kicking Angus with all the power he could command. The referee gave the match to Angus because of O'Shea's constant violations of the rules. Bill would not accept the match this way and stated that he wanted to beat him at his own game. The match continued and O'Shea finally won over Angus with a series of socks to the jaw, kicks in the chest, kneeing and all of his unfair ways in the ring known to all fans. Over 600 people attended the matches last night and the advance sale of tickets started at 2 p. m. yesterday afternoon.

Scouts To Surprise At Wednesday

The local teams were accompanied by Mrs. F. O. Hunter and the team coach, George Taylor. They spent Saturday night in Fort Worth and returned Sunday afternoon. They will enter a tournament on March 18 in Abilene.

Senate Democrats Behind Roosevelt's Economy Move

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Senate Democrats in caucus today, bound themselves to support President Roosevelt's $500,000,000 economy bill, but left themselves free to vote as they please on amendments. Under the agreement it appears that Democrats could vote materially to reduce the total amount saving proposed by the president.

Pioneer Resident Buried Sunday

Mrs. Anna Carrigan, a pioneer citizen of Palo Pinto county, passed away Saturday, March 11 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John A. Watson. Mrs. Carrigan was one of the first white children born in Palo Pinto, Texas. Except for a few years spent in Oklahoma, she lived in and near Palo Pinto all her life. Her death came rather unexpected, being ill two days. Mrs. Carrigan was loved by all who knew her and this was shown by the large circle of friends who gathered to pay their last respects. Sunday at 2 p. m. the funeral services were held by Rev. L. B. Gray, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, at the home of Mrs. J. A. Watson. Pallbearers were R. B. ### New York Stock Exchange To Open

NEW YORK, March 14.—The New York Stock Exchange will open for trading tomorrow morning.

1931 Saw Many Murders In Texas

AUSTIN, March 14.—Thirteen railroad passenger coaches would be required to carry the victims of murderers in Texas each year, according to figures released by the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Texas state department of health. In 1931 782 persons were murdered in Texas and it is likely that the 1932 figures will show an increase. The average passenger coach contains accommodations for 60 people. In 1931 the ages of the victims ranged from under 1 year to 95 years, with the peak in the age group 25 to 29 years. One-half of the total number of homicides were among those 20 to 40 years of age, the prime of life. Firearms were used in 68 per cent of the murders. Suicides claimed 725 Texans during the same year. These deaths occurred between the ages 10 to 95 with the peak among those 25 to 29 years of age. The peak in suicides is not as sharply defined as among murders. Suicides between the ages 20 and 70 are fairly evenly distributed, 70 per cent of the total occurring in that group. Firearms were used in 50 per cent of the deaths. The suicide rate in Texas has advanced steadily since 1923, when the number was 223 deaths. The year 1931 was an increase of 325 per cent in nine years. The depression cannot be held wholly responsible for this increase as some of the years of increase include some of the most prosperous years in the history of Texas.

Debate Rages Over Redistricting Of State Legislators

AUSTIN, March 14.—An attempt to clear from the distribution of representation in the state legislature on the basis of population, plunged the house of representatives into long debate today. Rep. George Moffet of Chiltonville urged his resolution submitting a constitutional amendment which would limit any county to six representatives until its population exceeds 600,000. Present representation is approximately one member to 34,000 people.

COL. LUKE LEA EXTRADICTED TO DO TIME

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., March 14.—Col. Luke Lea and his son, Luke, Jr., Nashville, Tenn., publishers, were arrested here today by Sheriff Laurence Brown of North Carolina, on an extradition warrant issued by Gov. Hill McAlister of Tennessee. The Leas are under sentences in North Carolina on conviction of conspiracy to defraud the Central Bank and Trust company of Asheville, N. C., of $1,300,000. Col. Lea, former United States senator and a decorated army officer in the world war, is under sentence to serve from four to six years and his son to serve from two to four years or pay a $25,000 fine. They fought extradition to North Carolina after the United States supreme court denied an appeal for a reversal of their conviction. The Leas disappeared two days before the governor granted the extradition request.

C. J. Moore Is Thanked For Work On Special Train

Charles J. Moore, who was chairman for Ranger of the Eastland county special to the Fat Stock show, plans for which were abandoned, has received the following letter from Charles G. Cotten, trade expansion secretary of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce. "This is to acknowledge receipt of your letter of March 11 and I regret to note that circumstances have made it necessary for Eastland county to abandon the idea of an organized group of its citizens on Eastland county day at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show. "I thoroughly appreciate the fine spirit which you, Wayne Hickory, Dr. Fanner and J. E. Spencer and others have shown in connection with this undertaking. The odds were overwhelmingly against you as they have been against every movement requiring expenditures of any kind over the last several days. The stock show, however, is going on as usual and I do believe that the show this year is better by far than any I have seen. "I am glad to note your plan for next year and I hope circumstances are such that Eastland county, through your interest and guidance, will be able to put over a demonstration in keeping with your ideas."

TIMES COOKING SCHOOL STARTS NEXT TUESDAY

Each spring the Ranger Times conducts a school on the subject of cooking and home making which always proved very popular, instructive and entertaining. This spring even more than in the past, the women are becoming more and more interested in the art of cooking and with such capable instructors as Mrs. Martha McDonald, who will have charge of the school, it is expected that many more ladies will take advantage of the opportunity offered them this spring. The Ranger Times cooking school will be held at the Masonic temple, beginning on Tuesday, March 21, and will continue for four days. The school has been made possible through the co-operation of a number of Ranger merchants, who are helping to make this school one of the most instructive and most interesting that has ever been conducted. A number of the merchants have already decided to take a part in the school and several others are expecting to take part. Those firms which have already decided to participate in the school are Killingsworth, Cox & Co., Texas-Louisiana Power company, Montgomery Ward & Co., Hassen company, M-System Grocery & Market, Texas Electric Service Co., Joseph Dry Goods company, J. C. Penney company, O. K. Grocery & Market, Gholson hotel, Gholson Hotel Coffee shop, Ranger Floral company, and United Dry Goods Store. Everything will be free at the school, and in addition there will be several free prizes to be offered to the ladies who attend. Each spring a large number of ladies from Eastland, Olden, Strawn, Thurber, Mingo, Caddo and even as far away as Mineral Wells have attended these schools and it is expected that this year will be no exception in the matter of attendance. The Times and the merchants of Ranger invite all the women of this territory to attend these free lectures and demonstrations each afternoon. The classes start at 2 o'clock each afternoon and are over by 4 o'clock.

Tax Bills Seems To Lose Favor

Special Correspondent.
AUSTIN.—There is a very noticeable lessening of talk about the need for new taxes in order to bal- ance the state budget within the last few days. Economy moves gained correspondingly in momen- tum, following the declaration of a bank holiday. This is true, al- though it was apparent that per- haps a majority of the legislators were sincerely endeavoring to re- deem the pledge to reduce the cost of state government 25 per cent.

Chances of a sales tax are generally regarded as having disap- peared. There is less talk of an income tax. Automobile license fees are almost certain to be re- duced. The senate is yet to act on a bill adopted by the house pro- viding for a third lower license fees on automobiles and light trucks. The house has voted to re- duce the state poll tax to the con- stitutional minimum of $1. A sen- ate bill is pending to fix the rate of the state ad valorem to 57 cents for this year.

Another new tax measure made its appearance in a bill which would levy a tax of two cents per 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas. An exemption clause relieving the first 150 natural gas at present pays a gross production tax of two cents. The proposed bill would heavily increase this tax on exported gas. Backers of the bill claim 81 per cent of gas marketed from the Panhandle goes to the north and east. They also claim that the proposed two-cent tax would yield, based on 1932 consumption, more than $1,700,000 annually, compared with about $120,000, paid in gross receipts last year. A state budget of less than $30,000,000 and last year's figure of $12,000,000 is in prospect.

Magician Enjoys Playing to Children

To many people of the stage the necessity to entertain children is a real affliction, and few of them have any patience or understand- ing for the younger members of their audience. For this reason many theatres discourage atten- dance of children to performances.

Quite the opposite is true of Birch, the magician, who presents his array of wonders at Connellee Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. Not only does Birch welcome chil- dren to his performances but he derives real pleasure from work- ing before an audience crowded with kiddies.

Because of his liking for them and their fresh young enthusiasm for the illusions and tricks of mag- ic, with which he mystifies them and their adult companions, Birch has children from the audience working with him on the stage in many of his mysteries.

Bank Legislation Brings Out Stories

AUSTIN.—The adage, that a banker never gets left out of any deal, was borne out here when Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson signed the emergency act for a state banking moratorium.

Frank Patterson, representative of Fort Worth, who was one of the authors of the bill, furnished the pen with which the governor signed the measure.

Patterson planned to keep the pen as a memento of the historic event—but a prominent banker got it.

Perhaps the funniest incident connected with the moratorium act occurred in the state senate chamber during the night session at which the bill first passed.

Members were alternately questioning the advisability of placing so much power in one man's hands and others praising Shaw.

A woman sitting next to the commissioner expressed her views of his actions in connection with liquidation of a bank in which she had friends interested. Her remarks were decidedly critical of the commissioner.

Finally she turned to Shaw and asked him if he knew anything about the commissioner.

"I've heard a good deal about him, both favorable and unfavorable," he replied.

After further comment, she asked: "What sort of a man is he?"

"He's about my height and weight and age," said Shaw. "He has brown hair and brushes it back like I do."

"Is he here tonight?" Shaw's inquirer asked.

"Oh, yes," he replied. Then he began to describe how he was dressed.

He described his own tie and color of his suit when the woman reddened.

"Oh, I'm sorry. I beg your pardon," she exclaimed.

"That's all right," said Shaw. "Since I have been in office my hide has gotten thick enough for anything."

Shaw tells the incident with great glee.

POPE PIUS XI PLANS MAJOR CEREMONIALS

By THOMAS B. MORGAN United Press Staff Correspondent VATICAN CITY.—Pope Pius XI will appear in 24 major ceremonies during the Holy Year beginning April 2.

As scheduled, these will include 10 beatifications, four canonizations, six major feast days and the remainder in special ceremonies. The pontiff will officiate on that average of once a fortnight, so that all pilgrims will have a chance to see the gorgeous ceremonies.

Those who are slated for beatification include a group of martyrs, who suffered for their faith in the early days of missionary work in Uruguay. This is the only ceremonial which has special significance in the Western Hemisphere.

The home economics cottage is urged for the use of home making work of schools and colleges and is considered important as well to plant the grounds there abouts with shrubbery and other beautiful landscape features.

An interesting feature of the work is the tour of houses during Better Homes week, which will include those homes which have some windows, in this way through a connective series of illustrating modern home arrangements from the kitchen to the better rooms or living rooms of the home.

Of course the Better Homes bureau desires a demonstration house, one completely equipped and furnished and planned by an architect and housing specialist but this is not always possible in the smaller towns, especially at this time.

In the Better Homes week program, featuring the ideas of the work, and put on by civic organizations, schools, churches and theatres, and the musical recitals which are especially urged as a help in constructive building of the ideal home life.

Music week, a series of concerts provided by all organizations of the city, are in effect and at this time the chairman of civic music, Mrs. John D. H. Tester of San Angelo, asks for a report of each music club, that puts on a music week.

A trifle in advance of this season, a district musical given by the junior club's music students will be held Sunday, April 2, under direction of Mrs. A. F. Taylor of Eastland, junior program exchange chairman, with recital featured in the Methodist church auditorium.

The music week will have as chairman, Mrs. Turner M. Collier, who will soon have an organized program to be developed by the organizations of the churches, the clubs, and the various music-loving units of Eastland.

It is well to remember at this time that Eastland city will be hostesses in the latter part of October to the Sixth District Federation Music Clubs and this means a busy time for a hundred or more women of this city.

Mrs. C. Satterwhite, president of the Music club, and Mrs. W. K. Jackson, publicity chairman for music week, have plans that will bring results in both cultural and financial fashion for Music week.

A fine art prints exhibition will open in the high school auditorium on March 20-24, inclusive, sponsored by the High School Parent-Teacher association. These fine series are sent by the Practical Drawing company of Dallas, with self explanatory history of the artist and subject in hand, attached to each picture. The exhibit is of an educational nature and was secured through the efforts of Mrs. J. M. Perkins.

The district meeting of the Pythian Sisters temple will be held in Eastland on April 17, which means activity among lodge circles and a large number of guests in the city.

Yest the women are busy, not only with these affairs but she finds time also for the spring sewing, house cleaning, and garden making.

Mrs. Howard R. Gholson of Lubbock is visiting Ranger relatives.

H. G. Carnstzar and J. G. Bridges, representatives with the Lone Star Gas company, of Dallas, are spending several days here transacting business with the local field.

Miss Ruby Gerwile is a business visitor in Dallas today.

HERE--- AND THERE

By ELVIE H. JACKSON

"Man's work is from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done." This familiar truism applies especially to our modern day of club, lodge, and church activities, that beset my fair lady's path and that forms almost a separate existence in combination with that of her regular home life, and mother duties.

Spring brings us face to face with the annual observance of two national movements, Better Homes week, that functions from April 23 to April 30; and annual National Music week, that fills the program for music lovers from Sunday, May 7 to the following Saturday.

Each of these feasts will be fully observed in Eastland, under the sponsorship of the Better Homes committee and the Eastland Music club.

The national office of the Better Homes in America, located in Washington, D. C., supervises the organization of the state, district, county and local committees and serves as a clearing house for information on all housing and home making problems.

The needs of the community are determined as preliminary to the local, Better Homes committee planning their program. The problems of better housing are considered and where it is impossible to demonstrate a better home, with the furnishing, and improvements, a similar idea may be carried out through the demonstrations in home equipment arranged in shop windows, in this way through a connective series of illustrating modern home arrangements from the kitchen to the better rooms or living rooms of the home.

Of course the Better Homes bureau desires a demonstration house, one completely equipped and furnished and planned by an architect and housing specialist but this is not always possible in the smaller towns, especially at this time.

In the Better Homes week program, featuring the ideas of the work, and put on by civic organizations, schools, churches and theatres, and the musical recitals which are especially urged as a help in constructive building of the ideal home life.

Music week, a series of concerts provided by all organizations of the city, are in effect and at this time the chairman of civic music, Mrs. John D. H. Tester of San Angelo, asks for a report of each music club, that puts on a music week.

A trifle in advance of this season, a district musical given by the junior club's music students will be held Sunday, April 2, under direction of Mrs. A. F. Taylor of Eastland, junior program exchange chairman, with recital featured in the Methodist church auditorium.

The music week will have as chairman, Mrs. Turner M. Collier, who will soon have an organized program to be developed by the organizations of the churches, the clubs, and the various music-loving units of Eastland.

It is well to remember at this time that Eastland city will be hostesses in the latter part of October to the Sixth District Federation Music Clubs and this means a busy time for a hundred or more women of this city.

Mrs. C. Satterwhite, president of the Music club, and Mrs. W. K. Jackson, publicity chairman for music week, have plans that will bring results in both cultural and financial fashion for Music week.

The exhibit is of an educational nature and was secured through the efforts of Mrs. J. M. Perkins.

PARIS STYLES By MARY KNIGHT, United Press Staff Correspondent PARIS.—That new shade of eel gray seems to be getting a lot of fashion calls from buyers, who came here to see the 1933 collections. At Schiaparelli's they chose No. 53—an eel gray wool suit with a short jacket fastened at the waist by a cartridge-shaped link of burnished metal. The collar, which rather wide revers accentuate the rather high waistline, and the shoulders are widened by the way the sleeves are set in, with an epaulet-like ridge on each side. The skirt, which is straight and narrow, is topped by a blouse of printed crepe de chine, the pattern being of tiny white blossoms on an eel gray ground. It is simple and yet distinctive and without the disadvantage of being eccentric in the sense that one is conspicuous in either a small gathering, or in a crowd.
