ANGER MAIS SHOT AND KILLED INSTANTLY

A 'RED' O'BRIEN DIES OF BULLET WOUND SUNDAY

Libby Tittle Granted $500 Bond Today By Judge J. N. McFatter.

RANGER, Texas, May 15.—Albert (Red) O'Brien, about 25, was instantly killed Sunday night by a shot fired through a door by Libby Tittle. O'Brien was dead when chief of police Jim Ingram, who investigated the shooting, arrived at the Young street address where the shooting occurred.

The woman was not placed under arrest at the time of the shooting, but was told to report to Justice of the Peace J. N. McFatter this morning.

Witnesses at the hearing this morning told Judge McFatter that they saw O'Brien go to the house on Young street where the shooting occurred, and knock on the door and demand admittance. When his request was refused, according to the testimony taken by Judge McFatter, the witness declared that O'Brien stated that he was going to count three and then "kick the door down."

Before the court of three, the witness declared, the shot was fired through the door. Investigation showed that O'Brien was shot in the neck, the bullet ranging downward, killing him instantly. The story told by Libby Tittle confirmed that of the witnesses. She said that she shot through the door in an effort to frighten the man away, and that she did not see him. Investigation by the police showed that one shot had been fired through the door almost shoulder-high. The position in which the body was found and the course of the bullet indicated that the slain man had been bending over slightly at the time the shot was fired, according to Chief of Police Jim Ingram.

Judge McFatter said this morning that his action in placing the woman under $500 bond was a formality in order that the proper legal proceedings might be followed, since the criminal district attorney was not present and he did not have the authority to dismiss cases of the kind.

Supreme Court Changes Ruling On Truck Permits

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The action of the Texas Railroad Commission in refusing the Galveston Truck Line Corporation a permit to operate its trucks over state highways, was held improper by the supreme court today.

The decision was important because of the fact that it effects a large class of Texas trucking. The decision also is considered of national importance because the law involved is the answer of the Texas legislature to a problem outstanding in many parts of the country.

Unregulated and unrestrained contract carrier operation, the state charged, had within five or six years all but destroyed the business of common carriers, both trucks and railroads, destroyed in the market and generally disrupted business through "discriminatory" rates and practices.

RELIEF BOND BILL SIGNED BY GOVERNOR

AUSTIN, May 15.—A resolution to submit a $20,000,000 proposed state bond relief issue to statewide vote on August 26 was given final legislative sanction today.

Senator Walter Woodul of Houston, at once wired Washington that the governor had signed the measure so that the information would be available at a meeting of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation when it was expected continued federal aid for Texas would be ordered.

Federal relief funds have been withheld by the R. F. C. for May and June, pending legislative action on the resolution.

Col. Lawrence Westbrook, state relief director, told the United Press he now anticipates an early release of R. F. C. funds for Texas.

Burial Services For Marvin Williams Are Held Monday

RANGER, Texas, May 15.—Burial services for Marvin Williams, which were to be held Sunday afternoon were postponed until this afternoon on account of the continued rain.

The church services were conducted Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church by Rev. G. W. Thomas, assisted by Rev. H. E. Johnson, pastor of the First Christian church.

The Masonic burial service will be conducted this afternoon at the Evergreen cemetery, where interment will be held.

APPROVES LAW FIELD

TRENTON, Mo.—Miss Agnes Mae Wilson, only woman prosecutor in Missouri, believes the law is a fine field for women. "I regard the practice of law as ascertaining the facts in the case and the application of law to them," she says. "I cannot see how the qualifications are essentially masculine."

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS IS URGED TODAY

AUSTIN, May 15.—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today requested the Texas legislature to permit persons who have not paid poll taxes to vote in 1933 elections on payment of registration fees.

With her message she submitted a bill providing permission to vote on payment of $1.75 registration fee by July 25.

A similar measure, written by Rep. W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi, has failed three times to obtain a necessary vote for its introduction.

Submission by the governor, however, places the bill in order for consideration without the necessity of a vote on its introduction.

Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman objected to the bill on the ground it is unconstitutional. The bill was referred to his committee on civil jurisprudence.

There is to be "a number of elections this year," the governor said. Elections to vote on 3.2 beer and wine and on a $20,000,000 state relief bond issue are to be held on August 26.

Collie Urged Stripper Wells Not Bear Tax

AUSTIN, May 15.—Senator W. B. Collie of Eastland and Senator Ben G. Oneal made strenuous efforts, when the Daniel oil tax bill was before the senate, to protect the oil industry of Northwest Texas, represented by thousands of small stripper wells of one to 10 barrels daily production, from adverse effects of the higher tax which they predicted would greatly injure the section.

Amendments offered by both senators were voted down, as the bill was being enacted, but had some chance of consideration before a conference committee.

The bill, as approved, carried a two-cent per barrel minimum tax, retaining the present 2 per cent rate when prices exceeded $1 per barrel.

Senator Collie offered an amendment exempting the small stripper wells of under 15 barrels production per day, leaving their small quantity of oil on the straight 2 per cent rate.

Senator Oneal offered an amendment that would have set the tax rate on such wells at one cent per barrel, or a 100 per cent increase over the present tax on a 25-cent price basis.

One of the serious effects of a tax rate amounting to about 12 1/2 per cent of the value of the production from the small wells will be to force the abandonment of many of the lowest-production pumps, and the consequent disappearance of much taxable values from the county and school assessment rolls, Senator Oneal pointed out.

Rains Fall Over The Entire County

Beneficial rains fell over this section Friday night, Saturday night and throughout the day Sunday and Sunday night. The extent of the fall varied over the county, but reports from every section are to the effect that an abundance of rain for crops, pastures and for stockwater was had.

The rain fell in such manner as to do little if any damage. There was no wind nor hail reported.

Farmers say that the rain was too late for small grain crops as they had already been cut at least half and in some sections were already under pasture. Row crops, gardens, etc., were greatly benefited by the rains.

The problem is, what relation is Peterson to himself?

Millionaire's Murder Baffles Police

A two-year-old murder mystery became doubly baffling for New York police when Edward A. Ridley, 87, retired millionaire merchant and eccentric, and his secretary, Lee Weinstein, were found slain in Ridley's squalid sub-basement office as pictured here. Two years ago when his former secretary, Herman Moench, was mysteriously slain, Ridley swore he would devote the rest of his life to tracking down the murderer.

'Mystic Shrine' To Rehearse 'Henry's Wedding' Tonight

All the singers who have been asked to take part in the Mystic Shrine, a specialty in "Henry's Wedding," will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Elks hall for a short rehearsal. Even though there was not a full rehearsal last week there are some good numbers in this particular specialty that will make it one of the best features of the show.

"Henry's Wedding" promises to be one of the funniest, peppiest and biggest shows ever staged in Eastland. The publicity stunt Saturday gave a hint at some of the characters. The men dressed in old fashioned costumes were typical of the sweethearts of long ago. No one ever dreamed of Hoyte Davis being such a beauty in an original pattern of Annette Kellerman's first suit, and Ben Hammer in the "handsome life guard" role was a sight worth seeing. Bert McGlamery in the hoopskirt swept down the street in all the splendor of the good old days, while George Karamanous as teacher's pet was shy and cut for words.

Previously Adams had offered his resignation as national committee man. His offer, to resign was withdrawn at the request of James A. Farley, national democratic committee chairman.

Man Thought to Be Demented Is Under Custody

RANGER, Texas, May 15.—A man who was thought to be insane and who was later tentatively identified as H. B. Kuykendall, was placed in custody by Ranger police Sunday when he was found in the city.

The man was turned over to county officers and was taken to the county jail at Eastland.

Chief of Police Jim Ingram got in touch with officers of other cities and was later notified by the chief of police of Cleburne that the father and brother of the man had been located at their home, 18 miles from Cleburne and the two were reported enroute to Eastland to get Kuykendall.

According to the Cleburne chief of police there had been no indication that Kuykendall had ever suffered from any mental derangement and his relatives were unable to account for his apparent condition.

CHARACTER ACTOR DIES

NEW YORK, May 15.—Ernest Torrence, 54, veteran character actor, died here today from complications following an abdominal operation.

FRANK BIDA ARSON CASE IS POSTPONED

Postponed because of the absence of Gib Calloway, chief defense attorney, was the action taken in the case of the State of Texas vs. Frank Bida, when it was called for trial in the 88th district court Monday morning.

Judge Patterson did not fix a definite date on which to call the case again for trial, but thought that it would be the 12th of June.

The State reported ready for trial but Allen D. Dabney, attorney for Miriam A. Ferguson, asked for time on account of the illness of Mr. Calloway, co-counsel for the defense, and presented a telegram which stated that Mr. Calloway had an injured foot with an indication of blood poisoning; so, in order to give the defendant due representation before the court, the case was postponed, possibly until the 12th of June.

All of Marriage Law Is Repealed Checkup Reveals

AUSTIN, May 15.—Discovery of an inconsistency in the act repealing the "gin-marriage" law of a former Texas legislature has been made here.

The repeal act, signed by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, will become effective 90 days after the present session of the legislature adjourns.

As the house passed the bill, it repealed both the provision for three days' notice of intention to wed and the provision requiring a health certificate for the prospective bridegroom.

The senate amended the house bill retaining section "C" of the old law which requires the health certificate. But in the next paragraph the act repeals all of the previous law, which in effect knocks out both the notice and health certificate requirements.

Mrs. Cunningham To Speak at Meet

Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham of College Station, associate editor of the A. & M. Agricultural Extension News, will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Eastland county home demonstration council, which meets at the courthouse in Eastland Thursday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Miss Sallie F. Hill, district home demonstration agent, will also be on the program.

Reports from council delegates and committees will be made at this meeting, which will be presided over by Miss Ruth Ramey, Eastland county home demonstration agent. A noon luncheon will be served.

Will Petit Dies at Canadian Home

Will Petit, 55, son of Mr. E. E. Petit and brother of Mrs. Frank Castleberry of Eastland, died Sunday at Prince Albert, Canada. Burial will be at Standard, Canada, his home for the past 20 years.

Petit was well known in Eastland. He was here for a while about four years ago.

Besides his mother and sister in Eastland, Mr. Petit is survived by a brother, Charlie Petit of Dallas, two sisters, Mrs. Harbert Davenport of Brownsville, and Mrs. Ruth Horton who resides in Missouri, and an only child, Carl Petit of Olney. Mr. Petit's wife died many years ago.

Two Are Killed In Automobile Wrecks

FORT WORTH, May 15.—Two persons were dead and five were recovering from injuries today after week-end automobile accidents near here.

Claude Goods, 34, Dallas drug clerk, was instantly killed, and five others hurt in a triple car crash two miles west of Handley last night.

Barney Bradford, 18, of Arlington, died in a hospital here today from a fractured skull suffered when his automobile skidded into a pole Sunday.

At the invitation of the pastor, George W. Thomas, Judge C. L. Garrett spoke to the congregation of the First Baptist Church of Ranger Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service. The program was in commemoration of Mother's Day and Judge Garrett was the principal speaker for the occasion.

'Other Woman' Chooses Death

Choosing death over life without her married dentist-employer, Miss Rebecca Roche, above, leaped from the 23rd floor of a Chicago building. Her suicide followed a conference with Dr. M. M. Restell and his wife during which the girl was told her love affair with the dentist must end.

UTILITY BILL IS ENGROSSED IN THE HOUSE

AUSTIN, May 15.—The house today engrossed a bill prohibiting unfair competition in utility rates. Under it any utility that puts a rate in effect to destroy competition forfeits its right to do business and also becomes liable for a fine.

Rep. Cecil Lotief of Cross Plains was being working for the bill since the session began, made a final appeal for it before the vote was taken. In support of his contention that utilities now fix rates to drive out competition, he cited instances in which he said the same company is charging $1.50 a thousand cubic feet for gas and only 25 cents 22 miles away. Eastland and Cisco, he said, are being charged $1.50 with gas "in their back yard."

Electricity rates in West Texas were also criticized by Lotief. The West Texas Utility Company, he said, generates current at San Angelo and charges 9-1 1/2 cents a kilowatt there, but transports it current from San Angelo to Spur and sells at Spur for 2-1/2 cents.

Vote to engross the bill was 68 to 37. Lotief failed to get rules suspended for final house action today, making it doubtful if the measure will be enacted before the session ends.

Rains Are General Over West Texas

FORT WORTH, May 15.—Warmer weather was forecast today after heavy rains in North and West Texas over the week-end had driven temperatures downward.

The heaviest rains in three months ended a drought that wilted young crops in sections of Northwest Texas. The showers helped grazing lands, grain and cotton crops.

Heaviest precipitation reported to the weather bureau here was 2.4 inches at Abilene. Dallas received 2.3 inches that flooded city streets.

Good showers were reported west to Big Spring and north to Wichita Falls and Vernon. Rain-fall also was reported at San Angelo, Breckenridge, Sweetwater, Monard, Brownwood, Stamford and Olney.

High winds and hail damaged property in the vicinity of Sherman, breaking communication lines and wrecking a gin and lumber yard at Dorchester, 10 miles south of Sherman.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 15.

Torrential rains and a tornado over the week-end took a toll of at least four lives and caused heavy property damage.

Ohio River Is at Flood Stage Again

CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 15.—Searched recovered from the disastrous March flood, hundreds of families were forced to move from their homes again today as the Ohio River overflowed its banks.

The swollen river was fed by torrential rains, which, since Sunday, have caused two deaths and more than $250,000 damage.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

MAKING HASTE TO BE RICH: He that by usury and unjust gain increaseth his substance, he shall gather it for him that will pity the poor. A faithful man shall abound in blessings: but he that maketh haste to be rich shall not be innocent. Proverbs 28: 8, 20.

"WHAT PRICE GLORY," MR. DAWES?

Charles G. Dawes is one of the distinguished citizens of America. His services in the world war won for him the high recognition of all concerned and his defense of the Woodrow Wilson administration relative to the handling of the war at home and abroad gave Dawes a warm place in the heart of democracy. He has been vice president of the republic. He was an ambassador at the Court of St. James from the republic.

He was the first head of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. He resigned to rescue his own bank from ruin and to prevent the toppling of the financial structure in the city of Chicago. He is the head of a powerful bank. He is a large borrower from the R. F. C. Many eminent bankers and many eminent citizens who are not bankers agree that he saved the people from a financial panic in the second American city that might have wrecked the nation. Thousands of public school pupils burned this former statesman and soldier in effigy on the famous Lakefront of the Windy City. They did it as a protest against the failure of the municipal and school authorities to pay the public school teachers back salaries.

Now what was the chief offense of this erstwhile famous American citizen?

He was one of a group who refused to purchase school warrants with bank funds by which teachers would be paid. For 12 long and riotous years Big Bill Thompson ruled Chicago. His school board exhausted the credit of the system. They borrowed millions. They wasted millions in lavish expenditures. Credit was at a high peak, and the sky was the limit for Big Bill and his benchmen.

Why burn an effigy of an American citizen who was not responsible for the financial wreckage of the public schools of Chicago? Why not incinerate an effigy of Big Bill? He is in the land of the living. Politically speaking, he was snuffed out again last year when he back his old pal, Len Small, for governor of Illinois.

There are American bankers who have been carrying heavy loads. Why place all the blame on the bankers? Why hit below the belt?

PROPOSED UNION OF SOCIALISTS AND COMMUNISTS

Leaders of the socialist party of America in session in Washington initiated a movement aimed toward a possible coalition on certain specific issues with the communist organization in the United States. Well, the pinks and the reds declared the aim of the proposed merger would be the drafting of a proposal for "economic reconstruction along their own lines."

Norman Thomas of New York is to be the chief spokesman of the pinks and the reds and their organization in the republic. This is their slogan: "Common action on specific issues." Norman Thomas was the socialist nominee for president last year. He received less than a million votes. This is perhaps the darkest hour of American economic history. Eugene V. Debs, years before the coming of the Hoover-Roosevelt campaign received the largest vote ever given a socialist candidate for president—2,000,000 votes.

Americans are not communists. There are thousands of pink socialists, but they do not believe in the torch and dynamite as methods of economic reconstruction.

A man can spend money needlessly or foolishly and smile while doing it, but, how it does hurt to lose even the smallest amount out of his pocket!

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

CHARLES SPENCER, publisher of the Independence (Kansas) Reporter, says:

THAT coincident with the advent of the depression came the radio advertising innovation, and as that innovation gathered momentum in patronage the depression steadily grew to greater proportions.

With clouds of depression clearing comes the passing of the popularity of radio advertising.

Effective advertising is not the appeal which forces its subject to listen, even to the point of disgust.

Humanity has learned to take its advertising appeal through the eye, and from the pages of the newspaper when such appeal will in no manner molest a desire to be otherwise engaged.

Business will return to, and remain in its proper state when business men learn to quit wavering from the straight, narrow and proven path of advertising appeal and get back into, and say in, the pages of the press in a normal manner.

DARLING FOOL by MABEL McCELLIOTT

BEGIN HERE TODAY MONNIE O'DARE is secretly engaged to DAN CARDIGAN whose parents disapprove of the match. CHARLES EUSTACE, stranger in town, admires Monnie as well as her younger sister, KAY. BILL, her older brother, plans to marry ANGIE GILLEN, whose divorce is pending, much to MRS. O'DARE'S dismay. SANDRA LAWRENCE, pretending to be a friend of Monnie's, is trying to win Dan away from her. Sandra receives a hurried message that her father has been hurt and for her to come at once. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXIV SANDRA toiled her roadster expertly out of the drive. She had dressed in haste, but her blue beret was at exactly the right angle. It was characteristic of the girl that she managed always to look perfectly turned out, no matter what the circumstances. And this time she was genuinely worried. The voice—a man's—had said, 'Hurry. Your father is hurt. Elm Tree Lane.' Wild thoughts raced through Sandra's head. A car had hit him, probably. He went along with his head down, not looking. To do Sandra justice, she was genuinely fond of her parent. In all the world, he was probably the only person she cared deeply for, with the exception of Dan Cardigan. Naturally her thoughts turned to Dan. What bad luck—thus they raced—that Dan had been called away that day on some business of his father's. She might have called him. It would be as well to have someone go with her. Father might be seriously hurt. She shivered at this. No, she would not think it. Her car raced along, taking the corners with more than her usual touch of recklessness—Sandra often observed lightly that she was afraid of nothing—she glanced uneasily over her shoulder as she drove. There was something in the air—No, it was just her nerves. She would be all right once she saw her father and assured herself he was all right. There was a car drawn up at the Lane turning. Hadn't they sent for an ambulance, the idiots? Sandra wished she had telephoned Dr. Keating before she left, asking him to follow her. But her brain hadn't been working. Her sole thought had been to get there at once. Automatically her mind registered the fact that a man detached himself from the small group at the roadside and moved toward her. Indolent was his gait, calm his mien and the excited girl, drawing up and jumping out of her car, felt a flash of impatience. 'What's happened?' she began. 'Where is—?' She got no further. A strong hand seized her. She smelt something sickening. Through her struggles she heard someone say, 'That was easy. We got her all right.'

Washington Circus

WASHINGTON—Radio has had another bad day in court, with a jury of American publishers returning a verdict against the practice of giving Associated Press dispatches to broadcasters hours before the news could be set up and printed by member newspapers. This action, coming on the heels of the victory won by the A. P. enjoining Station KSOO at Sioux Falls, N. D., from asserting 'pirating' of dispatches, has caused the radio chains to take account of stock. National Broadcasting company has moved to fight the newspapers by sending a reporter here to cover the news on Capitol Hill. He will report important legislative, administrative and judicial doings for the national network's daily broadcasts. A nation-wide movement protesting against radio programs of a vulgar and sensational character has been started by the Iowa Congress of Parents and Teachers, which adopted a resolution opposing the broadcasting of 'horror' and mystery serials calculated to create fear in the minds of children. This action has given new impetus to P. T. A. disapproval of certain kind of programs bordering on the salacious. Parents and teachers are determined to have bawdy jokes and suggestive songs banned from the air by the federal radio commission, which is asserted to have been derelict in the past in not curbing these indecencies. The Halsey Stuart & Co. 'Old Counselor' radio advertising of securities which was assertedly suggested by that bright boy of utilities and broadcasting, Merlin H. Aylesworth, has drawn the fire of Senator Norris. The radio 'blurb' for Insull stocks which later became worthless, were written by the Halsey Stuart publicity department and were read over the air by a University of Chicago professor, who was paid $50 for parroting advice to his listeners to go straightaway and purchase the Insull gold bricks. It is hinted here that the veteran Nebraska hero's voice will be heard against radio advertising when the present congress gets around to taking up that problem. He is itching, it is said, to show the close tie-up between commercialized radio and certain utilities. And utilities, as everyone knows, is Mr. Norris' favorite theme song. Subtle attempts by certain American radio interests at with Europeans to introduce the so-called 'American plan' of broadcasting in Great Britain, which knocked galley-west the old inclusion when the house of common voted a three-hour debate, whom his whelmily not to allow. The house registers of the mesal that the state-owned, prominent casting corporation of the saw in it the well and should no matter more than in any way. The aloofness. The boys who have the pool. 'Alfalfa Bill' Gives Solons a Talk on Morals

By United Press OKLAHOMA CITY, May 15.—The 14th Oklahoma Legislature gas a lecture on morals, entitled, "The Trinity of Evils," from Gov. W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray for passing a bill to legalize horse-racing and pari-mutuel betting. The bill reached final passage during the last five days of the session. It made the chief executive's signature necessary to render it effective. This he refused, although he had agreed to ignore the bill and allow it to become a law without signing it, had it reached his desk in time. Three Distinct Evils "There is in American life three distinct evils, which I am pleased to term the "Trinity of Evils," Murray said. "They are kindred spirits, each leading to the other: intemperance, gambling and sexual excesses. "True enough, we cannot prevent wholly any of these evils, but we can at least break up the 'shops' of these evils, and refrain from giving them legal sanctity." Governor Murray said he had been asked if he would oppose a law for gambling on horse racing. Opposed to Gambling "It seems that the best way to promote the breeding of horses of speed is to promote gambling, but I am so constitutionally opposed to gambling by reason of the evils flowing therefrom, I would not sign any bill legalizing gambling in any form," the Governor said. "But if you pass the bill, and put it on my desk, I will ignore it for five days and let it become a law." The bill reached his desk the day before adjournment. "Now I must needs sign it, or it dies under its own force," Murray told racing enthusiasts, "and I shall not sign it, although I have received numerous letters and petitions to do so, and but one letter in opposition to the bill." Eastland Church Women Entertained in Ranger

In response to the invitation of the Bible study class of the First Christian church in Ranger, Eastland's First Christian church was represented at the Ranger Bible class meeting, Monday, by Mrs. J. H. Cator, Mrs. Vaughn and Mrs. T. A. Bandy, members of the Women's Missionary Society of Eastland church.

An interesting program by the hostess class was followed by the message from the Eastland society, pleasingly given by Mrs. Bandy. There were eighteen present at the meeting. A delicious tea plate was served of salad, wafers, iced tea and mint.

To the regret of the Eastland group and others, the president of the local W. M. S., Mrs. C. A. Peterson, was ill, and unable to attend.

Presbyterian Auxiliary Meets

Mrs. M. C. Hayes entertained the Women's Auxiliary of Presbyterian church most delightfully Monday afternoon, at her home, which was prettily decorated with garden flowers.

The president Mrs. C. W. Geale, opened the session, and roll call was responded to by telling of some good deed intended for next week.

The devotional by Miss Mabel Hart was brought in a poem, "The Light that Counts."

The next meeting was announced for June 5th, at 3:00 p. m., with Mrs. J. LeRoy Arnold.

The program opened with the story of the development of the early Presbyterian church by Mrs. Geale. An interesting book review of Mexican women was given by Mrs. Hubert Jones, and an account of the religions in Mexico, a complex subject, by Mrs. J. L. Cottingham.

The program closed with the Lord's prayer spoken in unison. The hostess served lemonade and ice box cakes to Meses. Harry B. Sone, J. LeRoy Arnold, Jack Meredith, J. L. Cottingham, Vern Hart, Ray Larner, Joe Whatley, Hubert Jones, C. W. Geale, James Horton, M. C. Geue, Hickman Hankins.

Interesting Lesson
The Women's Bible class of the Church of Christ enjoyed the lesson, "Paul's Imprisonment and Defense Before Felix," interestingly given by Mrs. Loretta Herring, prefaced by prayer by the speaker, and the song, led by Mrs. Guy Sherrill, "Sweet Hour of Prayer," as the class meeting, Monday afternoon.

The singing in this class is always interesting, as they have no piano or other musical instrument support. The hymns are well given and the harmony smooth and sustained. The meeting was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Sherrill, and others present were Meses. W. W. Walters, R. B. Roagan, Ira Hanna, James Graham, Percy Harris, W. A. Teatsorth, H. E. Lawrence, J. R. Crossley, J. M. Beale, B. E. Roberson, and president of class, Mrs. D. L. Childress.

Expression Recital Coming

Mrs. A. F. Taylor and Miss Lorraine Taylor, announce that they will present a recital in piano and expression by their pupils, at the high school auditorium, on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week, at 8:15 o'clock, and invite their friends to these interesting programs. A part of the coming closing of the school recitals.

W. M. S. Methodist Church

Mission study on The Indians and Their Problems, led by Mrs. W. P. Leslie engaged the attention Monday of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church, whose session was opened by their president, Mrs. J. E. Hickman. Hymn, "Take the Name of Jesus With You," was followed by the business routine with minutes by Mrs. M. H. Kelly, secretary, approved.

A fascinating display of Indian arrow heads, tomahawks, Navajo rugs, pottery, and a curious sandal, said to be 4,000 years old, was on exhibit and gave atmosphere to the study in-hand, opening with a review of the Indian Tribes, and their location in the United States, by the leader.

A double voice number by Mrs. Anna Perkins Stewart brought further thoughts of the race, in Cadman's "Land of the Sky Blue Water," and Leaurance's "Waters of Minnetonka."

The characteristics of the Indians, a round table led by Mrs. Leslie, had traits of the race as described by the members, listed on the blackboard under two groups, good and bad. A very beautiful devotional on "Peace" was brought by Mrs. Fred L. Drago, followed by the hymn, "Peace, Peace, the Gift of God's Love."

Prayer by Mrs. Wayne Jones closed the session. The mission study of Indians will be continued at next Monday's meeting. The theme of the new mission study, opened yesterday, was written on the board, and members asked to memorize: "An ideal is, to an American, not a distant mirage, but a practical reality, which it is ones duty to put into life."

Those present: Meses. J. E. Hickman, F. L. Drago, Frank A. Jones, Ed Graham, Wayne Jones, Guy Webb, M. H. Kelly, Turner M. Collie, Dee High, Howard Brock, W. C. Marlow, F. D. Hale, Virge Foster, W. Camera Is Aid To An Analysis

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Apparatus so sensitive that an unknown substance can be analyzed, both quantitatively and qualitatively, by photographing a single flash of light emitted from volatilizing and vaporizing the material is one of the modern miracles of scientific detective work.

The process is so sensitive, states Charles C. Nitchie, scientist, that the presence, for instance, of metals such as magnesium, copper, silver and others in a material, easily can be detected and charted to a point as close as one-millionth of 1 per cent.

This new method of scientific detection is described by Mr. Nitchie as special analysis. It employs a device, called a spectrophotograph, which is essentially a photographic camera so arranged and focused as to take simultaneously, on a sensitive plate, a group of images, or pictures of a narrow slit through which the light to be examined is directed. SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

THE custom of selling fruits and vegetables by the pound is becoming nation-wide. For some time the western states have found this method of marketing to be most practical.

The weight of many fruits and vegetables is an aid in determining the quality of the commodity. Small heads of lettuce or cabbage are heavy if solid and firm through the center. Heavy oranges and grapefruit are sure to be juicy. Fresh products are heavier than wilted ones. Also fewer large apples or potatoes fit into a measure than small ones, often making a half bushel of potatoes weigh less than its proscribed number of pounds. This means a distinct saving in buying by weight.

Bunches Too Variable
"Bunches" and "baskets" are as variable as the "teacupful" and the "five-cent-worth" of the past and it is only when a common unit of measurement is applied to fruits and vegetables that prices and quality are easily comparable.

The following list will help the housewife in calculating the amounts needed when purchasing by the pound.

One pound of asparagus will serve three persons.
One pound of green beans (about one quart), four persons.
One pound of shelled lima beans (less than a quart), four persons.
One pound of beets (about five medium sized beets), four persons.

A medium sized head of solid cabbage weighs about three pounds and serves seven persons.

One pound of brussels sprouts, six persons.
One pound broccoli, four persons.
Tomatoes, Pound for Four—One medium sized, well trimmed head of cauliflower weighs about one and one-half pounds and will serve four persons.
Four rather small tomatoes weigh one pound and will serve four persons.
One pound of rhubarb, after being stewed, will serve three persons.

One pound of fresh spinach, three persons.
One pound of peas in the pod (about one quart) yields about one cup, shelled. Allow two pounds for four persons.
One pound of mushrooms will serve six persons if the mushrooms are served on toast.
Three or four potatoes weigh one pound.
One peck of potatoes weighs 15 pounds.

Tomorrow's Menu

Dr. Crile has produced cells regarded as a step midway between living and non-living matter. A solution of salts is placed in a tiny dish beneath a microscope. To this is added a bit of fat tissue. The two react. Tiny fibers "grow." Proteins are added to the solution and the auto-synthetic cells appear. They resemble real cells, but are much simpler. They behave like living cells. They grow by absorbing chemicals. When they reach a certain size, they split in parts, like the Amoeba and other simple-celled animals.

This is not, of course, creating life. But it is an approach. In New York, a fragment of tissue cut from the heart of a chicken embryo was placed in a test tube several years ago and constantly nourished. Since that day it has doubled its volume each 48 hours—only to be cut down by the scientists.

Dr. Alexis Carrel, the scientist conducting this experiment, has concluded the only thing that keeps men from living forever is the possession of a brain and nervous system. He says his little chicken heart could live forever. The only human cells not having that property, he says, are those in the human brain.

In the state institute for experimental biology in Moscow, Russian scientists have made discoveries that have aroused in their minds the hope of eventually "reviving the dead."

Scientists Seek Creation of Life

NEW YORK.—Scientists, patiently scrutinizing tiny bits of living matter beneath their microscopes in widely scattered laboratories, are trying to piece together scraps of knowledge into a pattern of creation.

Their goals, probably never to be realized in their own generation, are two—the creation of life; the perpetuation of life. Day by day, with infinite and wearisome repetition, they are conducting experiments in New York, in Cleveland, in Moscow, with living tissue and with dead tissue mysteriously revived by their salts and solutions.

Their methods vary but their experiments are headed in one direction—to create or keep alive the pulsation of cells, spelling life. Although, in cold scientific hibition. Senator Sheppard, too has for 20 years been looking after matters for Texas constituents, whether they were political friends or foes. Many times when all other means failed to untangle Washington red tape, the Texarkana Senator got results. Twenty years of that sort of service builds up a friendship that will stand him in good stead.

Political Pot Begins to Boil In Texas Capital
By United Press
AUSTIN.—A small news item from Washington recently carried great political significance for Texas.

The item was a mere announcement that Congressman-at-Large Joe Bailey, Jr., of Dallas, would be a candidate for the new Dallas congressional district against Congressman Hutton Summers, a fellow townsman.

Those who remember the enthusiasm with which the Junior Bailey was received on the stump in Texas last summer, at once began to figure on what else he may run for.

Suppose he should announce for the United States senate against Morris Sheppard. Suppose he should enter the race for governor. Either move would cause some quick readjustment of the prospects.

Bailey's entry into either race might also determine Attorney General James V. Allred's decision on what office he will next seek. Allred, with his big anti-trust suit against major oil companies still pending, would like to finish up that bit of business. It may not be over when the governorship race gets under way. He probably will be free for the next senatorial race. But with Bailey and Allred both in that race it would likely make it a cinch for Sheppard.

That Allred is being figured on by politicians as a likely entry in the governor's race is only too apparent. When Rep. Sarah Hughes of Dallas, referred to him in the House of Representatives as "the next governor of Texas" friends of Speaker Coke Stevenson were quick to come out with a statement that Stevenson will be an announced candidate.

Stevenson, canny as he is witty, merely looked wise. The personal and political strength of former Gov. James E. Ferguson was exerted to elect Stevenson speaker. Stevenson had not been a Ferguson stalwart, in fact he had scratched that name. But Stevenson was preferred to Rep. A. P. Johnson whose admiration of Gov. Ross Sterling approached close to hero-worship.

With Bailey and Stevenson both in the governor race, the Ferguson forces would split. Bailey was a law partner of the late Luther Nichols, drafter of the Ferguson sales tax plan and counsel for Ferguson in political litigation.

In any event, the gubernatorial race seems to be rounding into a shape with no room for Mrs. Ferguson in it. Indications point to there being several such outstanding candidates, that there will not again be an opportunity for the Ferguson "vest pocket vote" to slip Mrs. Ferguson into second place for a run-off.

The entry of Congressman Bailey into the race for the United States senate would be more interesting. Senator Morris Sheppard's term expires in 1937.

Sheppard succeeded Bailey's father in the place when the latter resigned and was not a candidate. In his recent campaign speeches, Joe Bailey Jr., expressed the hope he might follow the principles and views of his father.

"I can't hope to match him," he said. "The man who runs against Senator Sheppard is not going to have an easy time of it. Despite the present trend away from prohibition, public feeling has a habit of swinging like a pendulum.

If the regulated liquor traffic fails to show a big improvement over the speak-easy type of thirst-quenching by the summer of 1936, when the senatorial campaign is on public opinion may have swung back stronger than ever to pro-

'Daddy' Browning Is Sued Again

THURBER, Texas, May 15.—Miss Louise Pinkston, who is one of the most popular young women of our city, was recently married to Mr. Charlie Biggs of Gorman. They were married at the Baptist church of Marietta, Okla. on April 9. Mr. Biggs is one of Gordon's most popular and refined young men. We extend wishes to Louise and Charlie for a successful and happy marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Baines, sons, Earl and Edward, of Mr. and Mrs. Bowen and Mrs. Mrs. Whitworth Sunday.

Mrs. Ross Bell is in Brown attending a Parent-Teacher association meeting.

Mrs. Johnny Farr and Mr. Elwood were Ranger visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Talley, Carl Walters of Fort Worth visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rendale.

Mrs. George Leedy and child of Fort Worth visited here over the week-end.

Miss Modene Livingston entertained in her home Saturday with a bridge party. Other guests were played. Delicious lunch and candy was served to the following: Misses Isabella Geary, Ruby Milburn, "Red" P. Mary Oyler, Evelyn Livingston and Uraire Irving, and hostess Modene Livingston, Messrs. Ricie Roberts, Albert and Jessie burn, Dan Gentry, J. D. James Arrandale, M. H. Patta, Bob Johnson, Tom Walters, Leedy of Fort Worth.

The freshman class of the high school enjoyed a lovely Saturday morning at the creek. The picnic was sponsored by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Patta. The menu consisted of sandwiches, pickles, fruit and cookies. It was a most enjoyable day.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Favette of Dallas spent the week-end visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Stidham, Phillip, spent Sunday in Gorman with friends and relatives.

Dr. Crile has produced cells regarded as a step midway between living and non-living matter. A solution of salts is placed in a tiny dish beneath a microscope. To this is added a bit of fat tissue. The two react. Tiny fibers "grow." Proteins are added to the solution and the auto-synthetic cells appear. They resemble real cells, but are much simpler. They behave like living cells. They grow by absorbing chemicals. When they reach a certain size, they split in parts, like the Amoeba and other simple-celled animals.

This is not, of course, creating life. But it is an approach. In New York, a fragment of tissue cut from the heart of a chicken embryo was placed in a test tube several years ago and constantly nourished. Since that day it has doubled its volume each 48 hours—only to be cut down by the scientists.

Dr. Alexis Carrel, the scientist conducting this experiment, has concluded the only thing that keeps men from living forever is the possession of a brain and nervous system. He says his little chicken heart could live forever. The only human cells not having that property, he says, are those in the human brain.

In the state institute for experimental biology in Moscow, Russian scientists have made discoveries that have aroused in their minds the hope of eventually "reviving the dead."

DRIVE FOR GOLD STARTED
SUPERIOR, Wis.—A drive to collect old jewelry for the gold contained in it has been started by the Superior Ministerial association, which plans to "aid churches financially and return gold to national coffers as the president has requested." Parishioners are requested to deposit old jewelry in containers placed in the churches. The collected jewelry will be sent east for smelting.

Scientists Seek Creation of Life

NEW YORK.—Scientists, patiently scrutinizing tiny bits of living matter beneath their microscopes in widely scattered laboratories, are trying to piece together scraps of knowledge into a pattern of creation.

Their goals, probably never to be realized in their own generation, are two—the creation of life; the perpetuation of life. Day by day, with infinite and wearisome repetition, they are conducting experiments in New York, in Cleveland, in Moscow, with living tissue and with dead tissue mysteriously revived by their salts and solutions.

Their methods vary but their experiments are headed in one direction—to create or keep alive the pulsation of cells, spelling life. Although, in cold scientific hibition. Senator Sheppard, too has for 20 years been looking after matters for Texas constituents, whether they were political friends or foes. Many times when all other means failed to untangle Washington red tape, the Texarkana Senator got results. Twenty years of that sort of service builds up a friendship that will stand him in good stead.

Political Pot Begins to Boil In Texas Capital
By United Press
AUSTIN.—A small news item from Washington recently carried great political significance for Texas.

The item was a mere announcement that Congressman-at-Large Joe Bailey, Jr., of Dallas, would be a candidate for the new Dallas congressional district against Congressman Hutton Summers, a fellow townsman.

Those who remember the enthusiasm with which the Junior Bailey was received on the stump in Texas last summer, at once began to figure on what else he may run for.

Suppose he should announce for the United States senate against Morris Sheppard. Suppose he should enter the race for governor. Either move would cause some quick readjustment of the prospects.

Bailey's entry into either race might also determine Attorney General James V. Allred's decision on what office he will next seek. Allred, with his big anti-trust suit against major oil companies still pending, would like to finish up that bit of business. It may not be over when the governorship race gets under way. He probably will be free for the next senatorial race. But with Bailey and Allred both in that race it would likely make it a cinch for Sheppard.

That Allred is being figured on by politicians as a likely entry in the governor's race is only too apparent. When Rep. Sarah Hughes of Dallas, referred to him in the House of Representatives as "the next governor of Texas" friends of Speaker Coke Stevenson were quick to come out with a statement that Stevenson will be an announced candidate.

Stevenson, canny as he is witty, merely looked wise. The personal and political strength of former Gov. James E. Ferguson was exerted to elect Stevenson speaker. Stevenson had not been a Ferguson stalwart, in fact he had scratched that name. But Stevenson was preferred to Rep. A. P. Johnson whose admiration of Gov. Ross Sterling approached close to hero-worship.

With Bailey and Stevenson both in the governor race, the Ferguson forces would split. Bailey was a law partner of the late Luther Nichols, drafter of the Ferguson sales tax plan and counsel for Ferguson in political litigation.

In any event, the gubernatorial race seems to be rounding into a shape with no room for Mrs. Ferguson in it. Indications point to there being several such outstanding candidates, that there will not again be an opportunity for the Ferguson "vest pocket vote" to slip Mrs. Ferguson into second place for a run-off.

The entry of Congressman Bailey into the race for the United States senate would be more interesting. Senator Morris Sheppard's term expires in 1937.

Sheppard succeeded Bailey's father in the place when the latter resigned and was not a candidate. In his recent campaign speeches, Joe Bailey Jr., expressed the hope he might follow the principles and views of his father.

"I can't hope to match him," he said. "The man who runs against Senator Sheppard is not going to have an easy time of it. Despite the present trend away from prohibition, public feeling has a habit of swinging like a pendulum.
