Officers Capture One Kansas Prison Fugitive

OTHERS SOUGHT IN MOUNTAINS OF ARKANSAS

Leader of Gang Identified As One of Bandits Who Robbed A Bank.

By United Press
 SILOAM SPRINGS, Ark.—Lewis Bechtel, life-term fugitive from the Kansas state prison, was captured today at a farm near Dripping Springs.

The capture was made by Floyd Glenn, deputy sheriff of Delaware county, Oklahoma, who reported Bechtel showed no resistance.

Other members of a Delaware county posse were reported closing in on two companions of Bechtel.

By United Press
 MIAMI, Okla., June 2.—Fugitive convicts from the Kansas state prison fired a barrage of bullets at a speeding truck near Siloam Springs, Ark., today.

The convicts who mutinied Tuesday and escaped, blazing a trail of crime in four states, evidently attempted to stop the truck to obtain gasoline for an automobile they had just stolen.

The truck driver ran the gauntlet of gunfire without stopping. Witnesses who saw the fugitives run to the dense woods put possess on the trail.

The region in which the convicts hid was full of caves, mountains and ravines.

Sheriff John York of Craig county said today there was no doubt that five of the mutineers, led by Wilbur Underhill, notorious killer and gunman, were the bandits who held up the Bank of Chelsea late yesterday and escaped with $2,500. A witness identified a picture of Underhill as one of the bank bandits.

Mrs. Mary Robbins Dies At Her Home, Funeral Tomorrow

Mrs. Mary Robbins, 84, died at her home, 115 Walnut street, Ranger, this morning at 8:30 after being ill for some time.

The decedent is one of the pioneer citizens of this county, having come to Ranger many years ago from Terry county, Tennessee, where she was born Nov. 30, 1848, and had resided in Ranger since settling in the county.

Funeral services are to be conducted at Bullock Saturday afternoon at 2:30 with Rev. K. C. Edmonds conducting the services. Burial will be in the Bullock cemetery, with Killingsworth, Cox & Co. in charge of the interment.

Mrs. Robbins is survived by but one relative, Mrs. Lola Murrell of Temple, a daughter, who was present when her mother died.

Scottish Rite Hospital Cured Babys Ailments

E. P. Wright, who lives near the Lone Star plant in the northwest part of Eastland county, brought his baby boy to the office of County Judge C. L. Garrett Friday morning to show the judge the result of treatment the baby had received at the Scottish Rite Hospital in Fort Worth.

The baby was born with both feet turned out so that, had nothing been done, he would have walked on his ankles when he was old enough to walk. Besides this he had a parted upper lip. The physicians at the hospital performed operations which straightened the feet like those of any normal child. The lip was adjusted and is now healed so that there is no indication of the defect except a slight red streak which will disappear in a few months.

Mr. Wright stated that he spent several weeks immediately after the birth of the child trying to make arrangements to have the work done and was trying to sell his cows at Abilene to secure the necessary money when an acquaintance there told him of the Scottish Rite Hospital and took the matter up with that institution, finally making arrangements to have the case entered but was noted that it would be about 12 months before the physicians could get to the case because there were so many patients ahead.

The Rev. W. A. Nichols of Abilene heard of the case, came to Eastland and he and Judge Garrett went to see the baby. Then they went to the hospital at Fort Worth and got him entered as a special case. As a result the baby was taken to the hospital and the work done immediately and now he will grow up as any normal child.

EXTRA SESSION IS PREDICTED FOR SUMMER

By United Press
 AUSTIN, June 2.—Possibility of a special session of the Texas Legislature was seen here today.

Four months and 23 days of the regular session were brought to a formal close at 5:17 p. m., yesterday, ending what will doubtless go down in history as one of the most liberal assemblies on record.

Even before the senators and representatives had completed their last minute routine, reports of a special session were being heard.

From the floor of the house Rep. R. L. Anderson of San Antonio, administration leader, declared passage by congress of President Roosevelt's national recovery act may result in reconvening to pass related state legislation.

"There can be no doubt," Rep. Anderson said, "that in an emergency the governor would immediately reconvene the legislature."

Adoption of Two Children Granted By District Court

An order was issued by Judge B. W. Patterson of the 88th District Court Thursday permitting H. C. Swindell to adopt Y. Ora Matthews, aged 12, and Charles Franklin Matthews, aged 10. The order further provided that henceforth the children bear the name of Swindell.

This action was taken by the court after W. D. R. Owen, who had previously been appointed for the purpose, had made a complete investigation of Mr. Swindell and his ability to care for the children properly and had made a favorable report in writing to the court. The girl and boy are stepchildren of Mr. Swindell.

LIFE SENTENCE IN HAMILTON MURDER TRIAL

By United Press
 HILLSBORO, Texas, June 2.—Raymond Hamilton, youthful gang leader, was found guilty today of slaying John Bucher, Hillsboro merchant, and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The jury deliberated overnight. Hamilton heard the verdict without flinching. None of the persons who testified in his behalf during the four-day trial was in the courtroom.

He was convicted of the same slaying at an earlier trial a month ago, but the jury failed to agree on the penalty and was discharged.

The young Dallas outlaw, recognized as the leader of a gang which, at various times, has been connected with the elusive Clyde Barrow, is already sentenced to more than 65 years in the penitentiary for bank robbery, car theft and burglary.

Lee Railsback Is Arrested on a Hot Check Complaint

Lee Railsback was arrested Friday morning by Constable John Barnes on a complaint of passing hot checks. The arrest was made at the M-System grocery store where Railsback had presented a check on a Gorman bank.

Railsback presented the check this morning and Horace Adams, manager of the store, recognized the signature as the same as on another check he had received some time back. Barnes was called and he placed Railsback in the city jail pending filing of charges.

One check for $1 dated June 1, made out on a Commercial State bank check and changed with pencil to the Gorman bank, and another check made out Dec. 12, 1930, which Adams had been holding, were turned over to officers when Railsback was arrested.

Title Is Cleared By Civil Suit

Judge Geo. L. Davenport rendered judgment Wednesday in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Jno. I. Chesley vs. Mat Simpson, et al. This case has been pending in the 91st District Court since June, 1932, and the suit was brought by Mr. Chesley for the alleged protection for his sister, Mrs. A. P. Tipton.

The plaintiff alleged in his petition that Mat Simpson claimed to have a power of attorney from Mrs. Tipton which in effect gave him control over and an interest in the estate and at the same time asking for a receivership for the property until the case could be settled. A receiver was appointed.

The case was heard on its merits Wednesday and the judgment rendered cancelled the power of attorney of Simpson, quieted Mrs. Tipton's title to the property and directed the receiver to turn over all property held by him to A. P. Tipton, husband of Mrs. Tipton, who recently had been appointed guardian of the estate by the County Court.

Pecora—in Four Morgan Hearing Moods

Here are four intimate character studies of Ferdinand Pecora, counsel for the Senate committee investigating the House of Morgan. Shrewd investigator, sharp questioner and as he proved in a clash with Senator Glass, a fighter, Pecora is gaining wide repute in the inquiry.

Pleasant Hill Citizens Welcome Eastland People

Eastland business men Thursday night went to Pleasant Hill where they put on the second of the series of good will programs being sponsored by the Retail Merchants' association to advertise the big July 3rd and 4th celebration to be staged in Eastland. The first program of the series was put on at Flatwood last Tuesday night.

More than 100 people in 25 cars made the trip to Pleasant Hill. The Eastland High School band, Herring's string band, the Men's 9:49 Bible class quartet, the Weaver Sisters, Miss Ethel Morshead, Earl Francis and others who were on the program at Flatwood were also on the program rendered at Pleasant Hill. Added features on this program were readings by Mrs. M. J. Pickett, and a girl chorus for the song, Shuffle Off to Buffalo, led by Earl Francis.

Edgar Alton, progressive farmer of the Pleasant Hill community, extended a hearty welcome to the visitors and pledged the support of his people to Eastland business men, in a brief address.

J. C. Patterson, county agent, spoke briefly on the subject of farm rehabilitation. H. C. Davis announced the coming July 3rd and 4th celebration, extending an invitation to all to attend.

Merchandise prizes were distributed among the audience, only the people of the Pleasant Hill community being allowed to receive them.

Frank Roberson, Eastland garage owner, announced a free show which he, in connection with a manufacturer of an automobile accessory will give in Eastland Thursday of next week.

The next program will be rendered at Yellow Mound Monday night. Thursday night a program will be put on at Alameda.

Mr. Davis of the Retail Merchants association is highly pleased with the co-operation being given by the merchants of Eastland in putting on these programs and also is highly pleased with the wonderful spirit of co-operation being shown by the people of the rural districts.

Judgment Given In a Civil Suit

Judgment was rendered Wednesday by the 91st District Court in the case of B. F. Anthony vs. the Texas & Pacific Railroad company in favor of the defendant and denying recovery on the part of the plaintiff for any amount for which suit was instituted.

This suit created some interest in view of the fact that Anthony, a former employe of the railroad company, was seeking to recover for overtime work claimed by him to have been authorized but authority denied by the company. The issues were submitted to a jury several days ago.

MORGAN MADE MONEY EVEN DURING CRASH

By United Press
 WASHINGTON, June 2.—Stock market operations, which showed J. P. Morgan & Company made money even during the desperate days of the depression when fortunes were wasted away in crumbling stock prices, were made public today in the senate Morgan investigation.

The inquiry recessed over the week-end after an angry exchange between Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, and John W. Davis, chief counsel for the Morgan interests.

Davis objected to questioning of Thomas S. Lamont, a Morgan partner. Pecora apparently was attempting to produce testimony regarding the younger Lamont's income taxes.

At Davis' request, chairman Fletcher agreed to call a secret meeting of the committee Monday morning, presumably to hear Davis' arguments against going into Lamont's personal stock transactions.

Revelation of the stock market operations showed Morgan has been in 41 market operations since 1926, with only one loss. Profits amounted to $2,998,014, some of them being over the period of crushing market prices in October 1929.

Roy Miller Urges Party Support on Liquor Question

DALLAS, June 2.—Roy Miller, director of the Democratic National Campaign in Texas before the last election, today urged party members in the state to support the national platform in fighting for ratification of the repeal amendment and legalization of beer.

In asking support of the measure to be voted on by the people August 26, Miller said the campaign committee would take no active part in the wet drive.

Hawks Hops Off On 'Robot Flight'

By United Press
 LOS ANGELES, June 2.—Lieut. Commander Frank Hawks roared away from municipal airport at 5:51 a. m. today in a specially designed plane piloted by a mechanical robot, which he hoped would land him in New York in 17 hours.

Hawks planned to stop en route. Hawks seeks to break his own former speed record of 17 hours and 38 minutes.

Career of Hermit Ended By Sheriff

By United Press
 ZINC, Ark.—The hermit career of A. L. Brookman, 70, has ended, at least temporarily. After being missing from his shack a few miles from here for nearly a month, Brookman was discovered hiding in a cave in Snake Rag Hollow, west of here, by searchers who entered the cave to seek refuge from a storm.

Brookman, unharmed, commented: "This has caused a terrible stink, and people will know where I am living now."

Sheriff Rogers of Harrison, who headed the searchers, convinced Brookman that the days of cave dwelling were past.

Governor Names Pardon Board Head

By United Press
 AUSTIN, June 2.—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today had exercised her right to make a recess appointment, free from the requirements that the appointment be confirmed by two-thirds vote of the senate.

T. C. Andrews of McKinney was named member of the State Board of Pardons and designated as the chairman.

Reports that State Senator Roy Sanderford of Belton would resign and be appointed chairman of the State Highway commission could not be verified.

By United Press

THREE FEDERAL PLUMS FOR TEXAS

Bascom M. Timmons, native Texan and noted Washington correspondent, has let it be known that Senator Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally have agreed upon selections for three federal jobs in the Southern Texas district. This is the Timmons announcement: Douglass McGregor of Houston will be United States district attorney; M. Frank Hammond of Houston will be United States marshal; and Frew C. Pabst of Galveston will be collector of customs. All three are nifty and well paying jobs.

McGregor will receive a salary of $6000; Hammond, $4600, and Pabst, $6000 annually. The former is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Temple Harris McGregor of Austin. He is a product of the public schools and the University of Texas. He has been practicing law for several years. He was a candidate for congressman-at-large place last year but was defeated for the primary nomination. Joseph Burkett and McGregor split the large primary vote and the nomination went to Sterling P. Strong, a noted pro leader and for years state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league.

Texas lawmakers redistricted the state. Joseph Weldon Bailey, Jr., and Strong, residents of Dallas will be without districts at the expiration of a single term. Young McGregor has many friends the state over. If Timmons has the correct dope, then he will take down a fat job for four years. He has had a lot of experience as assistant on the staff of federal district attorney and is regarded as a very successful lawyer by the members of the Texas bar in and out of the southern district.

SPEAKING OF WASHINGTON'S FAREWELL ADDRESS

George Washington, the American liberator, the "father of his country" and its first president, declared in his swan song message against "entangling alliances with foreign nations."

Now, the diplomats and rulers of ancient Britain and European nations are positive that the republic of Washington will not remain "an isolated nation" under the skies of the western hemisphere. What has isolation to do with disarmament?

If European nations are for peace, let them disband their great military organizations, revise their war treaties, dismantle their naval monsters of the seven seas and turn the sword into a plowshare. They spend billions for war or preparedness for war, and then their spokesmen groan that they are crushed into the earth and are unable to pay their honorable obligations to the people of the nation who made it impossible for the last of the Hohenzollerns to dictate terms at Windsor castle.

President Roosevelt is a thorough-going American. He is for world peace. He would banish war from the face of the earth. He would establish kindly relations with all the peoples of the world, but he is not a Quaker and should an emergency arise he would be among the first to call for national defense and a battle of arms to be fought to the last ditch.

AN OVERPRODUCTION OF MINISTERS

There is said to be an overproduction of wheat; an overproduction of corn; an overproduction of petroleum; an overproduction of school teachers. Now jobless pastors are in the picture. Northern Baptists were recently in annual convention at the capital of the nation. Many reports were made. Large numbers of preachers were reported as unattached to pastorates even before the depression; far more men were being trained as ministers than the churches could absorb, and the theological schools or seminaries are continuing to turn out their grist, creating a situation termed "serious indeed" by those who drafted the report on education.

A delegate from Rhode Island spoke in defense of jobless old ministers. He said that while the churches were attacking "the selfish, shortsighted, and un-Christian principles of an industrial order that saps the life blood from the worker and throws him on the scrapheap, they were conveniently forgetting thousands of older ministers who were without employment." A terrific indictment to say the least.

TWO PLUMS READY FOR LAPS OF TEXANS

Senator Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally have recommended two major federal appointments. That is, they jointly recommended Guy McNamara of Waco be named to succeed Scott White of El Paso as United States marshal for the western district of Texas and that W. H. Gilliland of Port Arthur be appointed as collector of customs of that city to succeed Kyle Eland.

Bascom N. Timmons, Washington correspondent, furnishes this note, speaking of McNamara and Gilliland: "Their recommendations are tantamount to appointment, and the president is expected to send the nominations to the senate for confirmation within a short time. The marshalship pays an annual salary of $6500, less the economy reduction, and the collectorship $3700."

This must have been a double knockout for many ambitious plum seekers the state over.

INDEPENDENCE

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

W. R. FARRINGTON, publisher of the Honolulu (Hawaii) Star-Bulletin says:

"Distribution of products furnishes the great and glowing opportunity for active minds these days.

"Organized distribution, operated by alert salesmen, and broadened by aggressive advertising, would put wasting wheat, wasting corn and other rotting and inactive necessities of life into the mouths and on the backs of the idle waste humanity now too poor to buy because of inability to obtain employment.

"Present day empty or waste space in freight trains and ships could be used in transporting these wasting necessities to the places where they are needed and can be used.

"Waste energy in the form of human labor seeking an opportunity to work for a mere living could be used and kept gratefully occupied in such a scheme of distribution, if the organizing brain and power of salesmanship showed the way.

"The men and women and the boys and girls who win will be the ones who get out of the ruts, who find new ways to do the old things, and then go out and do it.

"The road is wide open and the world is eagerly beckoning for the resourceful salesman, the intelligent advertiser, and the ingenious distributor to come into the picture of life's necessities to do what Edison did in electricity and Ford did in automobiles.

"These great opportunities are knocking at your door and asking you to WAKE UP!"

That Reminds Me

Heard a comedian not long ago say that he saw a fellow that was so knock-kneed that he had to jack his legs apart to get his pants on. It seems that Roosevelt has been doing a lot of jacking to big business and now they are beginning to see straight. Walk straight and reorganize to go straight. When they get through with the Morgan investigation they may not do anything about it, but future investigations won't be necessary for they would be duplications of the Morgan business tactics.

While looking out of the window every once in a while in writing this column, we just cannot help but appreciate the wonderful Eastland atmosphere. It is a great thing to pull for Eastland. It simply knocks the chip off anybody's shoulder when they get the full breath of Eastland ozone. There is no reason on earth for anybody in Eastland not to feel the full advantage of being privileged to live here among friends and good people.

We surely would like to see a bank in Eastland.

Arizona Mayor May Be Forced To Rule Again

By United Press. CASA GRANDE, Ariz.—Mayor James M. Sawtelle faces what is believed to be an unparalleled task of deciding whether to serve another term in office, or go to jail for his refusal.

Voters of this desert community, pleased with Mayor Sawtelle's administration, desire him to run for office a second time.

He refuses. But his declination is not accepted by voters led by A. M. Peck, who circulated petitions renominating Mayor Sawtelle and fellow members of the city council.

"I am not a candidate for the office of councilman," read a statement the beleaguered mayor filed with the city clerk. "I am unwilling to consent to my name being placed on the ballot.

South New Jersey Mystery Explained

By United Press. EGG HARBOR, N. J.—One of the mysteries of southern New Jersey, why Great Egg Harbor bay is smaller than Little Egg Harbor bay, has been explained.

According to Captain Lewis Misley, one of the oldest watermen in the district, the little mud hen is responsible for the paradox of names.

"In the early 19th century," he said, "when there were no storage houses for eggs, ship captains would sail into one of the many harbors and send their crews ashore to hunt for the nest of the mud hen and gather eggs.

"What is now Great Egg Harbor bay became a favorite place for such hunts because the eggs found there were larger than those found in Little Egg Harbor bay which lies to the west of the smaller body of water. The names given by the sailors have stuck to both bays."

On the Alert—Morgan Listens

On the alert... J. P. Morgan watches carefully as he listens to testimony in the Senate hearing on his financial dealings.

The great room, with its U-shaped table, reclining couches, basin and towel near the door was eloquent in its solemn grandeur as though a spirit of great prophecy brooded over it, expectantly awaiting its moment of fulfillment. Jesus and the 12 disciples entered and took their places on the couches. Jesus was the host and in place of the servant took the towel and basin and began to wash their feet, dusty from the walk from Bethany to Jerusalem. "He is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief," seemed to whisper the brooding spirit of prophecy. He resumed his place at the table, thought to be between John and Judas; deepened their feeling of sorrow; for they were ashamed of their disputings by the courtesy of Jesus in washing their feet, by telling them of one among them who would betray him. As they dipped their little round cakes of unleavened bread into the sauce made of vinegar, figs, dates, almonds and spice, "they began to say unto him one by one, is it I?" "But woe unto that man through whom the Son of Man is betrayed!" is the audible voice of prophecy spoken through the lips of the Son of Man. Understanding their manner and hearts, and suffering in his own heart, they took the bread and blessed it, likewise the cup, explaining that it was his body and the blood of the New Testament. He showed them that his death was not accidental but was the purpose of God and his supreme sacrifice through which he wished to be remembered as the central part of his life. This do in remembrance of me, Luke 22:19. "He is brought as a lamb to the slaughter," was the anguished, almost audible whisper of prophecy as the great tones of the closing hymn found in Psalm 115-118 rung out doubtless led by the voice of the host, Jesus, singing praise: "Thou art my God and I will praise thee; thou art my God, I will exalt thee." "And when they had sung an hymn, they went out into the Mount of Olives." Here in the great outdoors he tried to make them understand further prophecies and his resurrection; here impetuous Peter told him though everyone else in the world stumbled he would not. How it must have added to the load of sorrow on the heart of Jesus, the betrayed of Judas, the denial of Peter; but he knew that the heart of Peter was true and asked him to go as a special guard with James and John as he went to his agony in the garden of Gethsemane. "He was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised, for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him; and with his stripes we are healed," echoed the voice of prophecy from hundreds of years before as Christ went into the shadows of this garden with old and gnarled olive trees. Well, it certainly seems from the testimony that Banker Charles E. Mitchell is one of those fellows who owes a lot to his wife.

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS - By Blosser

DARLING FOOL by MABEL McELLIOTT

BEGIN HERE TODAY MONNIE O'DARE, young and beautiful, sails for Europe as the companion of MISS ANSTICE COLEBY, an old friend. Monnie is trying to forget DAN CARDIGAN, believing he has killed her for SANDRA LAWRENCE. Sandra, pretending to be Monnie's friend, has been trying to win him from her. Dan's parents, who look down upon Monnie because the O'Dares are poor, favor the match with Sandra.

THE train slowed. Monnie, marshalling her forces and making certain her bags were all in order, felt a curious surge of excitement. She was home! Home at last after the long ocean voyage, the dash across New York to make the morning train to Belvedere. Arthur Mackenzie had been everything that was kind and thoughtful. Monnie had felt, on leaving him, a pang of compunction. It seemed unfair that she should be able to give him nothing in return.

"Write me," he had said, holding her hand, on parting. "If anything goes wrong—if things don't fall out as you expect." And Monnie had promised lightly. Why should anything go wrong now? She and Dan would be reconciled. They would be married directly after Christmas when his uncle's legacy set him free. She had no fears now. All the way seemed to be clear for her. The trip already seemed like an agreeable dream.

No one knew she was coming. She had not wired—she had thought she would surprise them all. It was strange, arriving on the platform with no one to greet her. Strange and exciting, too. Old Marley Brockway who drove the "Rapid Fire Taxi" took her bags, looking at her a bit curiously, she thought.

"Been away, I see." That was old Marley, always. As if you'd be getting off the train otherwise, Monnie said yes. "Folks know you was comin'?" She shook her head. The ancient automobile rattled along Main street. Monnie felt self-conscious, riding alone. How strange to see the town exactly as she had left it five weeks ago! Nothing had changed. What should she say to her mother—to Kay—about her sudden return? They would think it extremely odd. Well, she was in for that now, for all the explanations. They would be glad to see her and so perhaps would not ask too many questions. After she had satisfied them she would let Dan know she was back. Dan! Every man on the street, walking in her direction, might be Dan!

OLD Marley seemed inclined to gossip. Driving cautiously along, he threw comments over his shoulder. "Big excitement in town last night." "There was?" Monnie wasn't really listening. She knew Marley and his "big excitement." Probably a dog fight.

"Yes, sir! Accident on the river road. People all bunged up." Marley clucked dolefully. "Really," Monnie was thinking of her mother—what she would say to her. "Took 'em to the hospital," the cabman related with relish. "Hurt bad, I guess." She listened with her thoughts far away. Once as the car took a corner cautiously she thought she saw a little group staring at her curiously. It was the usual crowd of ne'er-do-wells who hung around the fire engine house. Monnie shrugged her shoulders. The news of her return would soon be all about town. "Mebbe you know 'em. Fact is, I'm sure you do," old Marley was droning on. "They was—" Who the victims of the accident were the girl was destined not to know just then, as a milk wagon, drawn by a nervous horse, dashed across the path of the cab and Marley was too upset by the incident to chatter further. In another minute Monnie alighted at her own door.

LABORERS ASK WAGE RAISE SALEM, Ore.—Oregon laborers are demanding a share in the prosperity of Oregon hop growers. Local labor leaders are asking that minimum wage paid be raised from 20 to 30 cents an hour, and that it be increased as price of hops increases, up to 50 cents an hour. Pay for pickers on a sliding scale ranging from $1 to $2 per 100 pounds is also asked.

Miss Opal Hunt Approaching Wedding Announced
Miss Opal Hunt, a familiar figure in the church and lodge life of Eastland, and long time a popular employee in offices of the court-house, has announced her approaching marriage to Ferman F. Terrell of Megarke.

The wedding will take place Monday, in Frederick, Oklahoma, and the bride will be attended by Mrs. C. N. Nicols, of this city.
This announcement of interest to the wide circle of friends of Miss Hunt was made by the bride-to-be at the meeting of the Rebekah Lodge, Thursday night, with Mrs. Don Parker and Miss Hunt as co-hostesses.

The members of the lodge presented Miss Hunt a pretty set of dishes, of twenty-six pieces, their bridal gift, and with their hearty good wishes for a happy life.
A business meeting was held by the lodge prior to the social hour and election of officers was the order of the evening.

The retiring Noble Grand, Mrs. Nicols, presided.
Mrs. Don Parker was selected Noble Grand; Mrs. Charles Seed, vice Noble Grand; Mrs. J. A. Ross secretary to the unexpired term of Miss Opal Hunt, who resigned at this meeting.

These offices go into effect in July.
The hostesses arranged three tables for various games, and at close of evening a refreshing course of ice cream and cake was enjoyed by Mrs. W. C. Marlow, Mrs. Charles Seed, Mrs. J. A. Ross, Mrs. C. N. Nicols, Mrs. Ray R. Hardwick, Mrs. Cy Butler; Misses Estelle Davenport, Jessie Ruth Barnett and Susie Naylor; guests of the evening Mrs. George A. Chanyata And Talahi Groups
The meeting of the Chanyata Group of Camp Fire Girls, scheduled for Thursday afternoon was called off at the last moment on account of the absence from the city of their guardian, Mrs. W. P. Palm.

The Talahi Group will meet at the home of their guardian, Mrs. J. L. Cottingham, at 8:00 o'clock this evening, and go in a body to the City Park, for their ritual of the Camp Fire ceremony.
These groups with the Nettowep (Mrs. Cecil W. Webb guardian) assisted in making the Decoration Day observance in Eastland an outstanding success through their unselfish efforts and beautiful ceremonies.

Teachers and Officers Entertained
Mrs. W. F. Davenport, superintendent of the junior department of the Methodist church Sunday school, was hostess at her residence Wednesday afternoon, to the teachers and officers of the department, who held a brief business session, and a devotional program, presided over by Mrs. Davenport.

The meeting opened with the hymn, "Sweet Hour of Prayer," and a fine program on devotional in prayer, led by Mrs. A. F. Taylor.
A picnic party was planned for the junior department of the Sunday school, which will be held in the near future.
The hostess served ice cream and home-made cake to Mrs. I. J. Kilbough, Mrs. A. F. Taylor, Mrs. Walter Gray, Mrs. Will Keith, Mrs. Gates, Mrs. E. H. Jones, Mrs. L. C. Brown and Mrs. W. P. Leslie.

Bluebonnet Club Meets
The cut-for-all, two hand-made kerchiefs, fell to Mrs. J. O. Earnest.

Air Cooled Lounge Cars Innovation On Sunshine Special

Air cooled lounge cars with such modern conveniences as valet service, soda fountains, radio entertainment and shower baths for men and women will be placed in service on the Texas and Pacific's internationally famous train "The Sunshine Special," between El Paso and St. Louis beginning Thursday, June 1. In explaining this new service, Frank Jensen, general passenger agent, said: "It is our endeavor to make travel on this internationally famous train a luxurious vacation and these cars are going into service just in time for use to the Century of Progress Exposition, Chicago and to California."
"Already famous as the finest lounge cars in America these cars have been made still finer through the installation of air cooling and air conditioning equipment that maintains a temperature of 70 degrees inside the cars and extracts all dust and impurities from the air."

W. E. Pope Would Change Office Oath

AUSTIN.—Rep. W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi, proposing to change the oath of office, recalls every state officer, man or woman must swear or affirm they have not fought a duel or acted as second at one.
The provision put in the constitution to help stamp out duelling affects no one these days. Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson once suggested that instead there be required an oath that the officer had not violated the liquor laws.

HOOKS and SLIDES BY BILL BRAUCHER

Irish Returning FOOTBALL is a bit out of season... but not more than the Irish have been out of season for several years at Notre Dame... where the fighting Irish have flourished in other days... now the news that some of them are coming back is a refreshing morsel.
Four candidates for the right halfback job for next fall are Tobing Hanley, Costello and Layden... while you never can tell about that name Costello, South Bend operatives send along the word that he's a Mick.

Or an A. O. H. Picnic
A TACKLE named Sullivan is among the Eritates... other names of men sure of places on the 1937 squad are Gorman, McGuff, Roach and Devore... making it sound a bit like a Tammany meeting.

Just after the completion of spring football practice recently, Coach Huuk Anderson kindly confided:
"Wait until you see the quarterback we are going to give 'em next year... the name is Mazzotti... best-looking prospect for the job since Cardozo... he played halfback in high school, at White Plains, N. Y. but has shown plenty of talent for the job... and you ought to see this fellow block... weighs 195 but is short like Frank was."

Take It Better
ANDERSON went on to point out that some of Notre Dame's greatest quarterbacks under Rockne were short men... it seems that the big bruisers take their instructions better from little guys... an added advantage the half-plants have is their ability to crouch lower and hide movements on direct plays.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
AS usual the big shots of a golf expect to have "trouble at every hole"... at the North Shore Country Club, Glenview, Ill., where they'll play it... but there seems reason to believe that par golf of 288 will win it easily... since par has been broken on this course only five times... in tournament play, that is... Those who broke it are Abe and Al Espinosa, Phil Heiler, Bill Tinder and Francis Gallett... making the layout appear to be an Espinosa Special... par is 72... Abe shot a 69 there... the others ranged from 70 to 71... The average championship score for 18 holes in the Western Open last year was 80.3.

Cardozo was a great blocking quarterback... time after time I have seen him take out two of the secondary defense on that famous Notre Dame thrust of tackle... he had the knack of nudging a man off balance... without rolling all over the place... or even leaving his feet.

Old Act Revived To Provide Work

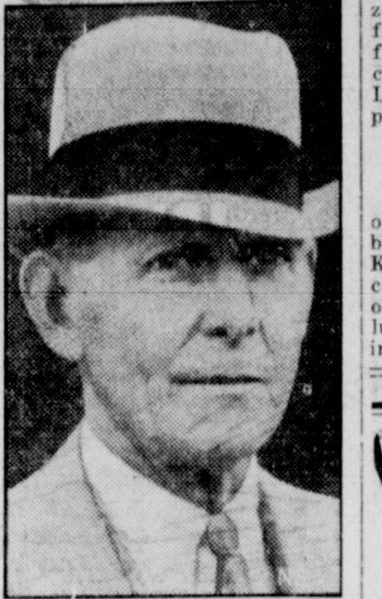

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico.—An agrarian act enacted by the Mexican federal government 10 years ago, was revived here to employment to more than 100 families.
Under the act—unapplied until now—persons who have a knowledge of agricultural pursuits are provided with rent-free land, aided to plant a crop—seeds furnished by the government.
Lands in the Pesquiera ranch, known as Cuchuta, and located near Esqueda, south of Nogales, have been taken up by Mexican families under this old enactment. More than 100 tracts of 10 acres each are being cultivated.
The law provides that no landowner may hold unused large acreage if there are those who can be provided with work and sustenance, and it commands the use of the acreage, but leaves the title to the original owner. Tenancy from year to year, as long as the owner is agreeable and does not want the land for his own use.

Bought Sweets and Got Black Pearl
By United Press
SAN FRANCISCO.—David Healy, purser of the Panama Pacific liner California has sailed the Seven Seas many years. Like most sailors, he learned to help a brother in distress.
As a result, Healy today possesses a valuable black pearl.
While ashore in Panama, Healy saw a queer old figure gazing longingly into a pastry shop window. He appeared to be an Indian from the pearl islands. He wore only a singlet and a worn pair of cotton trousers.
In his very best Spanish, Healy asked the aged man what he was looking at. The man said he had a sweet tooth and no money.
Healy chuckled, led the Old Indian inside, and watched him eat his fill of sweets. For good measure, Healy bought a sack of sweet-stuffs for the Indian to take home.
That was several trips ago. On his last trip through the canal, the Panama agent for the line met Healy at the dock and handed him a small package. It had been sent by Miss Hope Elizabeth Haupt, interdenominational Indian missionary from Washington, D. C.
Peयोte is a form of cactus fruit grown principally in Mexico, which has effects on the user similar to those of opium. It once was commonly used by southwestern Indians, and Miss Haupt said some of them still virtually "worship" it.
"Our investigation leads us to believe use of peयोte among Indians is now on the increase," she said. Common action of all Indian missionaries in asking John Collier, U. S. commissioner of Indian affairs, to stop traffic in the stuff, is planned.
