What reminds me...

Advertising rackets which more profit the sellers and are a nuisance to the business man's money fast getting thrown into oblivion by city ordinances being passed in many sections and an official committee being appointed to issue permit cards permitting advertising to be sold.

John H. Koen, president of the Advertiser's Club, and an advertising authority on all kinds of advertising whose studies of the subject have been of most valuable aid to buyers of legitimate advertising makes the statement that hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent in Texas each year on the type of advertising which all the experts of "Advertising Racketeering" on its face condemn as a glib tongue.

Mr. Koen advocates the passing of an ordinance in every city which would protect the protection of the merchant who in many instances are submerged into making "advertising" because of the promoters who line up civic organizations, churches or other groups to foster their schemes to the merchants.

Eastland needs just such an ordinance and where these ordinances have been passed the wily advertising racket promoter usually gets the community a wide berth. Only these kind of promoters stand questioning and when they find out that they must go to the official they don't take trouble to subject themselves to questioning.

The majority of merchants of Eastland have petitioned the City Council to pass the ordinance. This has promised immediate action in the matter. We feel sure that the merchants of Eastland will make it known to our city officials in petition form that they are an act of this kind the city cooperate.

We don't doubt but what unfavorable weather is news most any time in Eastland. The thermometer is at 104 and is enough evidence of "how hot it is." The exclamation is unpleasantly suggestive and makes the mind actively active in respect to bodily comfort as a result of the heat.

We still contend that the hot weather can be borne much better if we regard the thermometer and that entirely to the weather to record—just for posterity. It is hot weather time and is expected for ages past, and it is to be had a big snowfall in the middle of June, July or August in this country. That would be news, much more disastrous than the heat. It's hot enough that nursing a thermometer to see how much of it we can endure accidents are continuing to happen every day—most of them carelessly. The country is full of people maimed by motor vehicles. Some of course are unavoidable. Regardless of the laws passed for protection against accidents keep on.

There is one thing certain, and that is that the most dangerous thing in the street is the automobile. Every thing would need them. If this protection is not heeded, then the penalty for violation should be increased. We have no sympathy for the rip-snorting driver, that whizzes up the streets and whizzes past a stop signal just because he isn't a traffic officer on every corner. And we see that even the most efficient driver that adheres to the principle of safe driving and the welfare of the citizens, hasn't the authority to stop the number of automobiles so the number of accidents can be taken care of and turned over to the proper authorities.

VIOLENCE IS THREATENED IN EVICTION CASE

By United Press
FORT WORTH, June 26.—Violence and death were threatened today, according to police reports, to follow in nearly two weeks of disturbances by unemployed in protest to eviction of an unemployed family from its residence here.

Threats have been made against one of the guards placed over the residence and warning that homes of interfering neighbors would be burned were reported to police as they investigated the burning of the unemployed family's former residence yesterday.

Mrs. J. C. Horn, who lives near by the residence from which Jack Daniel and his family were removed for not paying rent, said picketers who had surrounded the house several times, threatened the life of her son, who was guarding the home. Mrs. Horn said, also, that threats had been made against other homes.

Police worked on the theory that the residence was burned by confederates of 29 members of the unemployed council, local radical organization of unemployed, who were arrested when they attempted to storm the residence last week. The burning, police believed, was in reprisal to Daniel's eviction and to the arrest.

OLDEN YOUTH DIES OF GUN SHOT WOUNDS

Cecil Wynn, 16, of Olden, died this morning in a Graham hospital of gunshot wounds, according to information telephoned to Sheriff Virge Foster of Eastland by officers of Graham. Young Wynn is said to be the son of Mrs. Croft of Olden.

According to information given by Young county officers, Wynn was brought to the hospital last night by unknown parties who left him wounded outside the building where he was found by attendants and removed into the hospital. The boy's mother was informed of his condition and reached his side just a few moments before he died. The two were later reported to have been identified as Durwood Dick and Monk McMinn of Olden.

An attempted robbery of a filling station near Wichita Falls last night was reported to the Young county officers and it was stated that the proprietor of the place fired some shots at a fleeing automobile. Officers are investigating the reports.

FERGUSON TO DEBATE NORRIS ON WET ISSUE

AUSTIN, June 26.—The Rev. J. Frank Norris, Fort Worth pastor, arrived here today and went to a local golf course for exercise in preparation for a wet-dry debate here tonight with former Governor James E. Ferguson.

The pastor told acquaintances he had telephoned the former governor at Temple yesterday and arranged the debate. It will be held in a park here. Ferguson accepted the challenge at Temple. His secretary this morning also confirmed plans for the debate.

Word of the proposed verbal tilt spread quickly. It was reported a crowd of 300 persons already is enroute from Houston and that delegations are coming from other cities to hear the discussion.

Norris has been actively campaigning against repeal and legalization of beer. Ferguson, at Houston, recently declared the 18th amendment had been adopted on a plea to save the boys from the saloon. He asserted it has now become a question of repealing the amendment to have the girls.

The debate will be held on the eve of the wet and dry conventions here tomorrow.

CISCO, June 26.—Congressman Joe Bailey, Dallas, and the Rev. J. Frank Norris of Fort Worth, will deliver addresses here at a July 4th picnic on the wet-dry issue, chamber of commerce officials announced today.

Bailey will present the wet view and Norris the dry view. Both speeches will not be in the form of a debate, according to present plans. They will speak at different hours.

Hot, Dry Weather One Cause For Advance; Cotton Follows.

By United Press
FORT WORTH, June 26.—Wheat prices reached $1.00 a bushel on the Fort Worth market today for the first time in three years.

Influence of the rapid rise in the Chicago market and the persistence of torrid, dry weather in the Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas wheat area were the factors attributed for the spurt today.

Wheat opened at 97 3/4 cents higher than the close Saturday. Shortly before noon several cars sold at $1.00 a bushel and one sale went as high as one-half cent above the $1.00 mark. The market closed at 99 3/4 to $1.00 1/2. Authorities at the exchange had not determined the last date wheat sold at $1 on the local exchange but said it was about three years ago.

A buying stampede that threw the Chicago wheat pit into wild confusion, swept prices up almost 4 cents a bushel to the highest since September, 1930, today, while cotton soared in New York. Dollar wheat became a probability on the Chicago market when futures for delivery in May, 1934, were quoted at 96 1/2 cents a bushel.

Huge public interest in grain was whipped up by possibility of the short crop in all sections of the country because of intense heat and drought.

Bullish interests in cotton were keen as the result of the occasional rise in grain. A report that world consumption of American cotton in May was the highest since October, 1929, and signs that southern farmers were universally swinging into line with the government acreage reduction program.

HOUSTON, June 26.—Middling spot-cotton on the Houston Cotton Exchange today broke 10 cents a pound for the first time since 1931. Middling spot closed at 10.25, up 85 from Saturday's close.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Sensational advances in wheat and cotton today brought corresponding gains in farm issues on the stock exchange and helped bring the industrial and railroad averages to the best levels since Nov. 19, 1931.

The whole market moved higher in a heavy turnover that caused tilters to lag.

Bicycle Traffic Regulations Laid Down By Police

AUSTIN.—Bicyclists who find that pumping a couple of pedals around is good sport and healthful exercise, today were given 10 traffic rules by L. G. Phares, chief of the Texas Highway Patrol.

The cycling fad has increased Texas traffic problems, whether a cyclist pedals his way through a park, across a street, or down the highway, he will encounter only one law in all Texas states.

The 39th Legislature decreed that bicycles should have a front lamp or reflex mirror at right angles to the front of the bicycle. Violators are subject to $5 to $25 fines for the first offense.

Chief Phares, who competed in many a bicycle race in his younger days, suggested the following rules for operation of the two-wheeled mounts.

1. Obey all traffic signs. "It is a mistake to think that a cyclist may follow with safety a pedestrian's habit of disregarding traffic signs." The pedestrian may often save himself by jumping backward. A bicycle can't.
2. The cyclist should keep next to the pedestrian's cross walk on the right in turning a corner.
3. A cyclist should be more careful than a motorist in giving signals when he intends to stop or turn.
4. A cyclist should ride close to the curb on the right and let automobiles overtake him on the left.
5. Never try to carry anyone on a bicycle with you.
6. Lead your bicycle by the hand from a house to a street or down a driveway into a street.
7. In stopping for street signals, a bicyclist should always fall in behind the waiting automobile or to the right side with your hands off the handlebars.
8. For your own safety, carry a white light on the front of the bicycle and either a red or yellow light on the rear at night.
9. Never hang on a moving automobile or street car.

Cotton Mills Speed Up Production To Undreamed Level

AUSTIN.—Production schedules at Texas cotton mills were speeded up during May to levels never even dreamed of earlier in the year. According to reports to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research from 20 Texas cotton mills, production jumped from a total of 4,888,000 yards in April, to 7,003,000 yards in May, or 43 per cent; in one month, production, which had been held in check in spite of soaring unfilled orders and rapid sales, jumped from a low level to one which has exceeded only seven times since January, 1928. Last year in May, total output amounted to 2,618,000 yards.

Sales began showing improvement some three months ago when unfilled orders began their sharp ascent, so that the rate of increase did not show such a large gain in May as did production, the bureau report said. However, totalled $8,878,000 yards in May, with only two exceptions the highest total sales ever recorded in any one month since January, 1927. The May total compares with 8,086,000 yards for April and 1,611,000 yards for May a year ago.

Unfilled orders reached 16,746,000 yards at the close of May, also among the highest figures on record for Texas mills. This total represented a gain of 6.8 per cent over the backlog of 16,686,000 yards at the close of April, and was more than four times the total at the close of May, 1932, 3,458,000.

One cotton mill which has been closed for about 18 months renewed operations, and total active spindles operating at the 20 Texas mills in May amounted to 149,380; spindle hours operated totalled 51,675,000.

Thirty-five years ago he was ready to take the state bar examination. He had studied law under County Judges McGollum and Fierston of Mitchell county. Because of his mother's health, he felt he could not stop working long enough to build up a practice, however, and he regretfully passed up the examination.

Long years of work as a cowboy, as a postmaster, as a peace officer and finally in a publishing house thrust aside his ambition.

His education had consisted primarily of the three R's, taught by his mother in their home in Shackelford county, where his father was a United States surveyor.

Always simmering in his mind was the desire to become a lawyer. Three years ago he was "let out" because he was "too old" to carry on the work of a traffic supervisor for a Fort Worth publishing house.

Instead of being glum at his retirement, Walsh was delighted. He enrolled immediately in a law school. In June this year, at the age of 68, he received his bachelor of law degree.

He then journeyed to Austin to compete with scores of young men in the state bar examinations. He did not take the examination "just for the fun of it" as many elderly people do. Walsh intends to practice, if he passes the examination.

PROCEEDINGS 11TH COURT OF CIVIL APPEALS

Reversed and Injunction Dissolved: C. A. Morris, et al vs. Geo. Thompson, Jr., Shackelford.

Motions Overruled: First State Bank of Roby, Texas, vs. J. C. Hibun, plaintiff in error's motion for rehearing; H. O. Files vs. W. E. Spencer, et al, appellant's motion for rehearing; C. A. Morris, et al vs. George Thompson, Jr., Executor, appellee's motion to dismiss.

Cases Submitted: Western Union Telegraph Co. vs. Mattie Owings, et al, Dawson; Fort Worth Well Machinery & Supply Co. vs. Geo. Callihan, Shackelford; Mrs. Johanna Sparenburg vs. T. M. Collins, Howard.

Lone Star Picnic Has Good Program

Athletic contests featured the Lone Star picnic at Cisco Saturday, and annual event for the employees of the company from over the state.

In the boxing events Bob King defeated Jim Fox in the second round, Brownie King won a close decision over Pop-Eye Cole in their four-round bout and Sam Evans won over Donoho in the third round of a scheduled four-round bout when Donoho hurt his hand.

In the golf contests Smith of Brownwood was medalist. Frank Preddy of Dallas won the first flight and got possession of the trophy for the next year, with Portwood of Dallas runner-up. In the second flight G. T. Williams was winner and Fred Dreinhofer runner-up. Bob Earnest was winner of the guest flight.

Saturday afternoon 24 tables of bridge were arranged with Mrs. Martin Walker winning high in contract with Mrs. Dick Bearman of Cisco second. Miss Mabel Stotz of Eastland was high at auction with Mrs. E. C. Byars of Ranger second high.

Tom Shafer of Cisco defeated Jack Hinrichs of Breckenridge at tennis in the singles matches, the score being 6-5, 7-5. R. O. King and Dan Long of Cisco defeated Jack Elflinger and Roy Groseclose of Breckenridge, 6-3, 6-4, in the doubles matches.

Saturday night a dance was held at the country club, at which a large number of employees and their guests were present.

Poultry and Egg Shipments Grow

AUSTIN.—Total interstate rail shipments of poultry and eggs during May of 296 cars were almost identical with the 297 cars moved from the state during May, 1932, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Shipments of chickens to Dallas, El Paso and San Antonio in May appear to have been only about one third as large as in May a year ago on the basis of incomplete reports received by the bureau. Poultry shipments by boat were also negligible.

Receipts of eggs in Texas from other states of 44 cars were 42 per cent greater than the 31 cars received in May, 1932. In both years the bulk of the receipts came from Kansas. Cold storage holdings of case equivalent of both shell and fresh eggs in the United States as of June 1 amounting to 1,457,000 cases against 8,094,000 cases on the corresponding date last year, according to the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. This is an increase of 29 per cent.

The average farm price of eggs in the country as a whole rose from 19.3 cents per dozen on April 15 to 11.8 cents on May 15.

Man Becomes Lawyer At 65 Years of Age

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Tex.—It was not until he reached the age of 65 that Denny E. Walsh found opportunity to carry out the ambition of his youth—to become a lawyer.

The story of his persistence and final realization of his dream rivals the imaginative tales of fiction.

Thirty-five years ago he was ready to take the state bar examination. He had studied law under County Judges McGollum and Fierston of Mitchell county. Because of his mother's health, he felt he could not stop working long enough to build up a practice, however, and he regretfully passed up the examination.

Cotton Acreage Reduction Work Begins Tuesday

A drive to assist in putting into effect President Roosevelt's plan for reducing cotton acreage and thereby force stabilization of the cotton market at prices profitable to the grower, begins in Eastland county Tuesday when County Agent J. C. Patterson and committee appointed by the county commissioners court begin a campaign to get acreage reduction contracts signed by Eastland county farmers.

A series of meetings will be held over the county, beginning with one at Eastland at 9:30 Tuesday morning. Other meetings will be held at Rising Star, Tuesday, 2:00 p. m.; Okra Tuesday, 8:00 p. m.; Cisco, Wednesday, 9:30 a. m.; Gorman, Wednesday, 2:00 p. m.; Alameda, Wednesday, 8:00 p. m.; Carbon, Thursday, 9:30 a. m.; Ranger, Thursday, 2:00 p. m.; Scranton, Thursday, 8:00 p. m.; Romney, Friday, 9:30 a. m.

Only samples of the contracts which farmers are expected to sign had been received at the office of County Agent Patterson Monday morning, but a large supply of the printed forms were expected on the next mail.

The county-wide committee named to handle the cotton acreage reduction work in Eastland county is composed of James A. Beard, Eastland; Donald David, Gorman; Fred Roberts, Rising Star.

Injured Youth Is Recovering

Geo. Thomas, 13, son of Shell Thomas, who resides on the Edd Castleberry farm a few miles north of Eastland and who was seriously injured Saturday night when he was run down by a motorcycle on the highway north of Eastland, was reported this morning by Eastland hospital attendants to have a good chance for recovery. It was feared at first that his injuries might prove fatal.

According to reports the Thomas boy was struck by a motorcycle driven by Graydon Dye, son of J. H. Dye of southern Stephens county. Young Dye is also reported to have been injured.

Hutton Cablegram Was Sent As Trap

PARIS, June 26.—It was Aimee Semple McPherson, herself, seriously ill at the American hospital, who cabled her husband in Los Angeles that she had given birth to a 9-pound baby.

But, she said today, she did not have a baby—she only wanted to see whether the telegram would reach the public. She said she hoped to learn who was "tapping" wires on messages to her Angelus Temple in Los Angeles.

REDUCTION OF COTTON CROP IS PREDICTED

WASHINGTON, June 26.—High officials of the agriculture department predicted complete success for their campaign to destroy a quarter of the rapidly maturing cotton crop and boost prices to pre-war levels.

Chester Davis, department production administrator, said preliminary surveys indicated that farmers would over subscribe to the cotton control program.

The administration campaign swung into full force throughout the south today with 20,000 government agents seeking to persuade producers to cut acreage in return for substantial cash benefits.

C. A. Cobb, cotton production chief, joined with Davis in predicting for the cotton program.

He said the cotton belt is better organized than during the Liberty Loan drive during the World War.

He added that farmers, bankers, merchants and the leaders opinions of the south are "fully convinced of the merit of the plan and are cooperating."

AUSTIN, June 26.—Failure of the federal program to retire the cotton patch will result in economic collapse for the south, state agricultural commissioner J. E. McDonald warned today as the cotton acreage reduction campaign began in this state.

Cash benefits to be paid southern farmers who curtail their cotton crops will approximate $150,000,000, McDonald said. Of this amount, approximately $40,000,000 will be given cooperating Texas farmers.

A 40 percent acreage retirement will nearly double the price paid for the cotton remaining in the field, market experts predict.

Thompson Elected As Congressman

GALVESTON, June 26.—Clark W. Thompson, young Galveston business man and democrat, has been elected congressman from the 7th Texas district to fill the unexpired term of the late Clay Stone Briggs.

According to reports the Thompson boy was struck by a motorcycle driven by Graydon Dye, son of J. H. Dye of southern Stephens county. Young Dye is also reported to have been injured.

SWIMMING IS POPULAR

FORT WORTH.—The depression is gone—directors of Fort Worth's municipal swimming pools are whistling as a check shows attendance this year is about 15 percent ahead of that last year. When people spend more freely for amusements, they believe, it's a sign their worries are fading.

SALEM, Ore.—A new law going into effect in Oregon prohibits importation or sale of machine guns in the state. The legislature passed the law in an effort to hamper any possibilities of gangster activity.

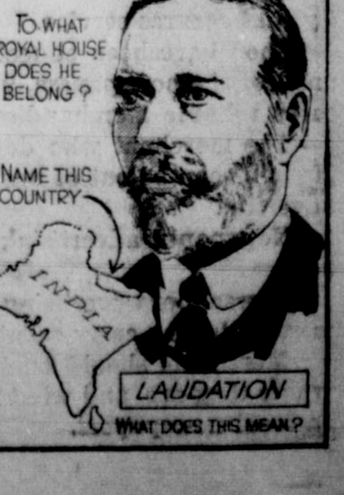

STUMPED STUDENTS

SALEM, Ore.—Members of a Willamette University biology class easily identified all but one insect specimen found on a bug-hunting expedition. That one was a puzzler, so they consulted the head of the department. The learned man examined it in all its features, consulted reference works, then announced it was a cockroach.

CALLED EMERGENCY SQUAD

SEATTLE, Wash.—A small boy's penchant for breaking light globes sent the fire department on an emergency call recently. The light was attached to a house, one of the park department's newly-installed life saving stations. Shattering the globe automatically turned in an alarm for the inhalator squad. Park officials consider putting metal guards around the globes.

SECY. PERKINS SOUNDS A CHEERFUL NOTE

Secy. of Labor Frances Perkins has let it be known that an increase of 4.8 per cent in manufacturing employment and 11.5 per cent in payrolls during May has aided in a nation-wide business upturn. Indeed, she says the gains in employment and payrolls reported the largest rise over preceding months since January, 1923.

PREACHER HULL EXHORTS THE WORLD

Secretary of State Cordell Hull exhorted the world "to repent its economic sins." He declared that nationalism must be cast out as a discredited policy; that is, economic nationalism. Well, the lowly Nazarene in his day exhorted the world to represent of the sins of the flesh as well as to cast out its greed for filthy lucre and "the miser and his gold."

It is not an uncommon occurrence to encounter a motorist driving along at night with one light, and sometimes no light at all. There is absolutely no excuse for this practice and the offender should be dealt with in such a manner as to make him appreciate that while he should guard his own safety, he also has a clear duty to consider the safety of others.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

That the success of modern stores is entirely dependent on the merchandise they carry and the way it is presented to the public.

Advertising merchandise has a way of completely satisfying those who demand quality.

People have been educated to look for quality—quality that assures service.

They have been educated to read the advertising columns of the newspapers, knowing that firm who advertise carry reliable merchandise.

The merchant who does not advertise is out of luck. He will soon be out of business if he doesn't wake up and advertise.

Newspaper advertising introduces goods to every citizen.

Merchants should let the people know who they are, where they are, and what they have to sell by advertising in local newspapers.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer. WASHINGTON—Roosevelt's sudden appointment of a special Industrial Recovery Board followed urgent representations from elements of both capital and labor that a seemingly enormous power over the national destiny was being left in the lap of Administrator Hugh S. Johnson.

The president was going off on a vacation at the critical time when the Industrial Recovery Act setup was to be organized. So he conceded the point, naming five cabinet members, the budget director and General Johnson to the board—which is to co-operate with Johnson, rather than supervise him.

THE contractors, who only did a $1,500,000,000 business last year, are naturally excited over the prospective expenditure of $3,300,000,000 for public works within two years. Some boom!

War department announces it is going to save $49,000,000 in 1934. Has it reduced the outlay for spurs that those swivel-chair army officers wear to keep their feet from sliding off the desks?

Texas City Has High Death Rate

EL PASO, Tex.—This city's death rate for the week ending June 10 was the highest in the United States, according to City Registrar Alex K. Powell.

The rate was 19.1 per 100,000 population, compared with 13.7 for the same week a year ago.

There were 23 deaths during the week ending June 10.

Good Samaritan Relieved of Money

BURKBURNETT, Tex.—A Burkburnett citizen smoothed the course of true love for a dissatisfied married couple but it cost him $14 and a round of drinks.

He found the couple, newly wedded, badly in need of liquid refreshment to make them forget their quarrel, he said. He took them to a beer parlor and bought a round. Something, he reported, put him to sleep, and not until several hours later when he awakened in a Wichita Falls rooming house did he discover he had been relieved of $14.

Wilmington, Del., man is now talking after 11 years of voluntary silence in which he said absolutely nothing. We know a lot of men who have been talking every day for the past 11 years, of whom the same thing might be said.

TEXAS SCENIC BEAUTIES SKETCHED ON TRAVELAX ROUTE

Take the word of a widely known vacationist and his family can revel in the inspiring grandeur of rugged mountains, says Mr. Cahoon. "In Northern Texas they find long stretches of straight, smooth highway to intrigue them onward, mile after mile, over level, picturesque plains. In East Texas the traveler thrills to the peace and beauty of the wooded country as he motors through stately pines. To the south he enjoys a wealth of luxuriant, sub-tropical plant life as he travels through the palm-bordered roads of South Texas and the Gulf Coast country. Truly, a variety of scenery as wide as the range of sports and interests to which they lead."

New Low Fares To World's Fair On Texas Special

ABILENE, Tex.—West Texas baseball fans and school teachers each have strong inducements to attend the World's fair at Chicago during the week beginning July 2nd in addition to the low holiday fares offered on the Gil Sanderfer train section scheduled to leave next Sunday morning for four days and nights in Chicago. The special attraction offered to baseball fans is the all-star baseball game between American and National League teams, headlined such stars as Babe Ruth and Al Simmons, booked for Chicago Thursday, July 6th. The West Texans will not begin their return trip home until the following day and will have ample opportunity to take in this special attraction. The National Education Association, with thousands of teachers and internationally known educators in attendance, will be in annual convention in Chicago during the week. The Sanderfer train section makes it possible for teachers to attend any portion of these sessions they desire during the four days there, in addition to visiting the Century of Progress. Unusually low rates, with Pullman berth to and from Chicago and the four nights there, have been offered for the week including Independence Day. A low fare, with upper berth double, of $27.88 from Abilene is offered. This scales upward to $36.50 for lower berth single. Proportionately low rates are available from all points along the T. & P. but reservations must be made through G. B. Sanderfer at Abilene. The railway tickets are good for ten days. The section leaving Sunday is the second from West Texas families and is near Kingsville.

Bar Association to Hold Convention

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex.—The Texas Bar association, to meet here in annual convention July 6, 7, and 8, are returning to Corpus Christi for the first time in 20 years. The last meeting of the organization here was in 1913. Two nationally prominent lawyers and leaders of that profession will be speakers at the three day gathering. William L. Ranson, New York City, will speak on "Public Opinion and the Bar." Charles A. Beardsley, Oakland, Cal., former president of the California Bar association, will address the delegates on "Lay Encroachment on the Practice of the Law." Mrs. G. R. Scott, widow of the late G. R. Scott, guiding figure of the 1913 meeting here, is chairman of the ladies' entertainment committee. Mr. Scott died shortly after the close of the 1913 convention. Through the efforts of Congressman Richard M. Kleberg two United States naval ships, the S. S. Claxton and the S. S. Saranac, will be in port during the convention. Visiting lawyers and their families will be taken on a moonlight boat ride on the bay on both of the ships the night of July 7. At the conclusion of the convention the delegates will be guests at the Santa Gertrudis ranch where a barbecue supper will be served. It is owned by the Kleberg and King families and is near Kingsville.

BARGAIN BRIDIE

HE saw a street light through the whirling, fine, dry snow that was blowing across the pavement to heap in corners. The winter around him was tropic compared with the chill of his heart. He wondered dully how long it would take to get over it. Had the whole affair been a masquerade? Had Elinor felt nothing at all of that which he felt so fully? That love that had made him lie wakeful in the dark—warmed, shaken by remembering her words, her smile, her laugh. Older men always liked her. She made them think they were young. Well, she had done that to him, he knew. He had never known a man could feel so young. He'd have to get through it somehow, of course—and he would. He told himself this over and over again but could not down the pain in his heart. Higgins admitted him, at 10. Barrett said slowly, "Sorry, I forgot a bad key—" "It's a bad night, sir," Higgins said, worried. Barrett's coat was damp from the snow that clung to it. He was white and tired; his hands stiffened by the cold and reddened by it. "We supposed you dined out, sir." "Oh, yes—" Barrett said. He hadn't dined but he could not think of food. Higgins' worried eyes followed him. "That will be all," Barrett said. "You may lock the house—" He plodded slowly up the broad stairs. As Higgins looked at him a vision of Barrett's father appeared before him. The "old master" had plodded slowly, wearily up those stairs in almost the same way when he had known that something wrong was going on behind his back, something no one would tell him. Higgins understood that something was wrong now. He hoped it was about Mrs. Radnor's boy, for otherwise it might concern "the young lady." Mr. Barrett had come to care a great deal, they all knew. Higgins could tell from the way, for instance, that Barrett reached for a note from her, letting the other letters wait while he read and reread it. He could tell from the fact that Barrett's appetite was capricious—very good or none at all. And from the way he spoke to her at the telephone, Higgins hoped with all his heart that nothing had happened to spoil all this. Such a blow for his master would be too cruel! Higgins was saying a prayer, as he often did without knowing it fully, but feeling it. And since the Kingdom of God is made by those who love others better than themselves, no doubt God knew. FOR three days Elinor waited, trembling if the butler drew near, hoping that this time he would say, "Mr. Colvin is at the telephone, Miss Stafford."

Swim-Picnic

Entertains Guests
Pettit Castleberry and Winston Castleberry entertained with a delightful swim and picnic basket supper at Cisco lake on Friday evening in honor of Jim Cook, who spent the week-end with Marshall McCullough.

Mr. Cook is the president of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity at S. M. U.

Other guests were his host, and Miss Martha Marie Gholson of Lubbock, Miss Marjorie Miller of Midland and Miss Dorothy Kohlfeldt of Denison, and Miss Melba Gamble.

The dainty and appetizing picnic supper prepared by the mother of the young hosts, Mrs. Frank Castleberry, was enjoyed by the little party following their swim.

Eastland Well Represented

At Lone Star Celebration
Eastland society folks were well represented at the magnificent annual gathering tendered by the Lone Star Gas company and its subsidiaries in the annual entertainment of employes, families and friends, which featured several diversions Saturday at the Cisco Country club.

Golf, bridge, tea, tennis, indoor baseball and a ball in the evening that climaxed the day's offerings, attracted 750 to 1,000 people, representing Dallas, Fort Worth, Abilene, Brownwood, Coleman, Stamford, Breckenridge, Moran, Cisco, Thurber, Ranger and Eastland.

Bridge Tea Well Attended

Auction and contract, the afternoon diversions of the splendid Lone Star annual entertainment, in Cisco, Saturday, was arranged in the ballroom of the Cisco Country club with 24 tables decked for the game in handsome appointments, arranged by Miss Melba Gamble.

Mrs. Felix McCurdy of Moran was chairman of the bridge tourneys—assisted by Mrs. San Gamble, Mrs. E. K. Smith, Mrs. Johnnie Kendall, Mrs. Sidney Smith, and Miss Melba Gamble, all of Ranger.

High score favor in auction, a very handsome lace bedspread set and vanity set, was awarded Mrs. J. A. Stover of this city, a member of the Eastland party, entertained by Mrs. D. S. Eubanks.

Mrs. Byars of Ranger was awarded second high in auction, a beautiful linen luncheon set of seven pieces.

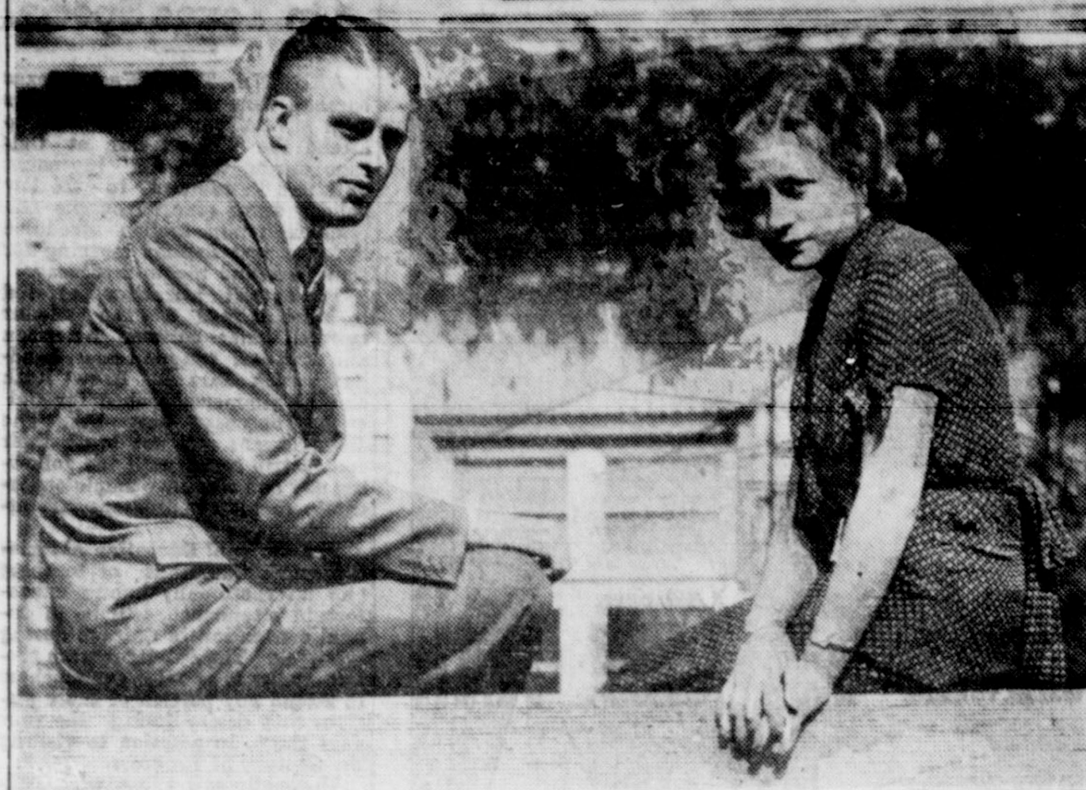

In contract, Mrs. Martin Walker of Ranger was awarded the high score favor and Mrs. Dick Bearman of Cisco, second high. These favors were duplicates of those awarded in auction bridge.

Guests of Mrs. Gamble for the bridge tourneys were Mrs. Roy L. Allen, Veon Howard, J. N. Jarrell, and Bernie Blowers of this city.

The ballroom was beautifully decorated with masses of cut flowers and foliage, and at close of the tourneys the chairmen served refreshments of brick ice cream and cake.

The evening affair was a most brilliant one, the magnificent music, the spacious ballroom of the Cisco Country club, drawing an

Wife of President's Son To Seek Divorce

Marital happiness was short-lived for Elliott Roosevelt, son of the President, and his wife, the former Elizabeth Browning Donner. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Taylor of South Mulberry street will have the delightful pleasure coming of the gathering of their daughters and husbands for a family visit in their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McEwen of Columbus, Ohio, will motor by way of Iowa City, Iowa, where they will be joined by Mrs. Thomas McEwen en route to Eastland.

Mrs. McEwen, will remember as the former Betty Taylor, and Mrs. McEwen as the former Harriett Taylor, will also be with and Franklin Swendell. The topic for next Saturday morning will be "Tomorrow's Southern Baptist Convention."

Fergusons Leaving Eastland

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ferguson and interesting family leave Eastland this week to make their home in Fort Worth, where their address will be 4075 West Seventh street, Arlington Heights.

They will be neighbors within a few blocks of other former Eastland folks, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Gupton, and not far from still other Eastlandites, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brelsford, and Mr. and Mrs. Loffin V. Witcher.

Mr. Ferguson will retain his office in the Exchange National bank building here, but will have his permanent headquarters in Fort Worth.

The Fergusons lived in that city the first two years of their married life, and have been residents of Eastland 14 years.

They fill a prominent place in the social and business life of the city.

Mrs. Ferguson is a past president of the Thursday Afternoon

Study club, and a member of the Book club.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson have done their civic bit in helping to develop Eastland, and they and their delightful children, Eleanor Ruth Ferguson, and young son, will be greatly missed in the active and cultural life of Eastland.

Martha Dorcas Announcement

The Martha Dorcas Bible class of the Methodist church, will be entertained by Mrs. W. E. Coleman at 3 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon in the lower assembly rooms of the church.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Coleman will be Mmes. Frank Roberson, W. J. Peters, Shupe, Howard Brock, and John Lea Hoper.

A program will be given and refreshments served.

Booster Class

The extremely hot weather Sunday affected the attendance to a more or less degree of the church Sunday school classes which failed in their average membership quota.

The booster class of the Methodist church, had their meeting opened by their vice president, Miss Lillian Thompson, with the hymn, ensemble, "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus," and a responsive Scripture reading led by the chairman.

Hymn, "Saviour, More Than Life to Me," prefaced the lecture, drawn from the Book of Matthew and wonderfully presented by Judge W. P. Leslie, in the subject, "Christian Education."

The speaker proved that education based on Christian fundamentals is of a far richer and deeper carrying power than any other kind of education, built on a different foundation.

Members present were Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Kell, Mmes. B. M. Colie, Galand Poe, Nell A. Moore, J. C. Patterson, F. J. Nicholson, Joe Kramer, Frank Hightower; Messrs. J. Frank Sparks, T. J. Haley, C. W. Price, Misses Rosalie Leslie, Lillian Thompson, Alene Walker, Mary Thompson, and Jessie Lee Ligon.

Eastland Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Weaver and daughters, Misses Virginia, Ruth and Louise, who are now visiting the Chicago Century of Progress are expected to return to Eastland in about a week.

Miss Dorothy Swor of Dallas, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lantz, motored to Glenrose Sunday for the day, with the mother of Mr. Lantz. Mr. Lantz has been associated with the Grisham firm of attorneys about two months.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Young and little sons of Abilene were the week-end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Martin.

New Law Governs Filing of Election Returns in State

AUSTIN. — Texas newspapers may set a new record in fast delivery of election results Aug. 26 when Texas voters decide legalization of 3.2 beer, repeal of the 18th amendment, and other issues.

The special election will be the first affected by a law speeding up tabulation of votes, enacted by the last legislature.

The law requires one election judge at each voting booth to announce an unofficial tabulation of votes counted as soon as the polls close.

This memorandum, the legislature ordered, shall be accessible to the public and "especially to newspaper reporters."

As the vote counting proceeds, totals shall be announced at not less than two-hour intervals.

This procedure is required of all elections in Texas.

"The fact that under present laws the system of making returns from elections is confusing and inadequate to protect the interests of candidates for office and of citizens of the state, creates an emergency," the act reads, making it effective immediately.

County clerks are required to relay these unofficial totals to the secretary of state at Austin who is required to compute the state-wide vote for each candidate at least once a day until returns are complete.

On the 15th day after the election, the secretary of state with the governor or attorney general, or both, shall open and count the official election returns.

Violation of the act is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $50 to $1,000, a maximum jail sentence of one year, or both.

Levon Enly was two pounds overweight to make the school's track team on the day of the contest. So he donned a heavy sweat shirt, sat down beside the huge oven, and after a few hours walked out at two pounds less.

That Reminds Me

Every opportunity that presents itself should throw a spell of loyalty to its interests. Let's all work together for Eastland, and nothing can stop our consistent progress if we hew the line to that rule. That's the one thing that puts any city over.

In spite of the hot winds all crops and gardens surrounding Eastland are still looking fine. Rain would be a welcome factor just about this time, particularly if it would come late in the evening after the sun goes down. Cotton can stand it a while longer, gardens and grain cannot. We are not crying—just wishing and hoping.

The old swimming hole, as well as the elite bathing resorts had their thousands splashing around in the water Sunday. Its a wonderful tonic and a great health builder—if not overdone.

Words to Decorate Library Ceiling

AUSTIN—Words, not just paint and varnish, will decorate the long ceiling beams of the east reading room of the University of Texas' new library building, if the building committee's proposal is adopted.

Notable passages from the world's best literature will be inscribed on the beams under the tentative plan. The proposed quotations will vary in subject from books to God, in source from the Bible to Texas' own Mirabeau B. Lamar.

Dr. W. J. Battle, committee chairman, explained the inscription scheme of the building. Typical quotations follow:

"Wisdom is the principal thing."—Prov. 4:7.

"They shall beat their swords into pruning-hooks; and their spears into plowshares; nation shall not lift sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."—Isaiah 2:4.

PROVO, Utah.—Rondo Briel, 23, fell a minimum of trouble after his suicide here. He drove into the drive way of a mortuary and shot himself only a few feet away from the entrance of the receiving room.

KINDNESS KILLED A PET SNAKE

By United Press

LAWRENCE, Kan.—Mr. Bull Snake, who received much attention recently by following his mistress, Mary Lou Nelson, to school, is dead. Civilization was too much for him. Little Mary's friend came too often to pet and caress the elongated animal. Mr. Snake now adorns a frame in Mary's bedroom.

HAS NOVEL WAY OF TREATING DRUNKS

By United Press

PORTLAND, Ore.—Shantytown, Portland's unemployed hamlet, has a novel way of treating its residents who persist in drinking. They come home some high and find their homes torn down and nothing there but a pile of boards. The "town" has a mayor and organized form of government.

All Cigarettes are not Alike

Different Kinds of Tobaccos Make a Difference in Taste and Aroma

... Take Chesterfields, for Instance

SOME cigarettes are made out of only one kind of tobacco ... while others are made from several different kinds.

And everyone can understand that different tobaccos make a difference in taste and aroma. Chesterfields are a good example of this difference.

You see it's not easy to make Chesterfield's milder taste. It takes three distinct kinds of Domestic tobaccos. Then these must be seasoned with the right amount of Turkish. And they must be blended and cross-blended until their flavors are welded together ... to make a cigarette that has character and yet is not too strong ... to make a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better.
