EASTLAND, TEXAS, FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 7, 1933

MATTER WIRE BACKERS HE IS SAFE

CABLE IS SENT FROM ISOLATED SIBERIAN TOWN

Backers Say It Must Have Been Carried To Civilization By Carrier.

CHICAGO, July 7.—James Mattern, around-the-world flier who became lost over the desolate wastes of Siberia, radioed his backers here today that he was safe.

A short message received here said:

"Safe, Anadir, Chukotka, Siberia. Signed: Gemmie Mattern." Mattern's backers attributed the misspelling of the aviator's name to errors in transmission.

Mattern, who took off from America in a gold attempt to make a solo flight around the world, was last heard from June 14, when he wired his headquarters here from Khabarovsk, Siberia.

At that time he said he had flown 1,400 miles toward Nome, Alaska, but was forced to turn back. "Will try again tomorrow," his message ended. That was the last word, except for news dispatches indicating he had taken off in this new effort. Days and weeks went by with no word.

The radiogram from Siberia contained just one word and the name of a city, but to Mattern's friends it spelled a story replete with determination, courage and perseverance in the face of ill fortune.

Making his way to the isolated settlement, he doubtless started at once to get word back to America of his safety, but with no telegraph or telephone lines, such a message may have depended upon the speed of a courier hastening to the nearest population center.

The message today was dispatched from Anadir and bore the code number 19-5-2300. It was addressed to Harry Jameson, Hyden Mills, John Clark and Samuel Sackett, his backers.

Auto Accessory Men To Meet To Talk Recovery Act

At a meeting in Fort Worth Friday evening, a representative of the U. S. Department of Commerce explained the workings of the Industrial Recovery Act to a group of representatives of the automobile industry, who are termed in the act as "After the Sale" group.

This group includes all automotive jobbers, independent filling stations, storage and repair garages and all auto mechanics doing maintenance work on automotive vehicles.

Chas. Moore and Bob Robinson represented this group in the interest of the Ranger district, at this meeting and were appointed to effect an organization in Ranger under the provisions of the Industrial Recovery Act No. H. R. 5755.

They will call a meeting of the men interested or employed in the automobile maintenance group in Ranger early next week at which time the necessary action to be taken will be explained and an organization will be completed under the provision of the Industrial Recovery Act.

The date of this meeting will be announced later.

SMALL BLAZE TODAY

The Eastland fire department made a run this morning at about 6 o'clock in response to a call from the home of W. L. Jackson on South Connellee street. The call was due to the unusual blazing of an oil cook stove and the fire was extinguished before any part of the building caught. No damage to the residence other than from smoke was reported.

Eastland-Ranger Rebekahs Hold Eastland Meet

The assembly meeting of the Rebekah Lodge, conducted by Mrs. Elizabeth Bunch, state president of the assembly, drew 40 guests, these including the local members and those of the two lodges of Ranger.

Cisco failed to send a representative. The regular session procedure was opened by Mrs. Blanche Nicols, noble grand of the Eastland lodge, who then introduced the only grand lodge officer in attendance, the president, followed by the presentation of other visitors.

The president, Mrs. Bunch, conducted a school of instruction in round table fashion, an interesting and instructive procedure, prefacing the school with a brief address.

Several of the guests made fine talks, and at close of evening, iced fruited punch, and cake iced in the colors, pink and green, were served by Mrs. Cy Butler, Mrs. Charles Seed, and Mrs. Tom Daniels.

The hall was beautifully decorated in pink and green draperies by Misses Dorothy Watson, Pauline Cook and Mrs. Robert Pearson.

Guests were received by Mrs. Blanche Nicols, Mrs. Don Parker, and Miss Estelle Davenport. Installation of officers will be held next Thursday evening, with ceremonial conducted by Mrs. Robert Pearson, lodge deputy.

Texas Crude Prices Raised To 75 Cents

DALLAS, July 7.—Two major oil buyers in the East Texas field today quoted a flat price of 75 cents a barrel, the first substantial increase since a barrel of oil in the closing days of 1932.

The Sun Oil Company and Magnolia Petroleum Company announced today the new price, each making it effective at 7 a. m. The Magnolia, large scale buyer in other Texas and Oklahoma fields, announced higher prices for all its purchases.

Tropical Hurricane Misses Texas Coast

BROWNSVILLE, July 7.—Residents of the Rio Grande Valley today resumed normal routine after days of feverish anxiety in which they awaited a tropical hurricane that did not appear as scheduled.

JEFFERSON, Tex., July 7.—Jodie Wallace, 19, was held in Marion county jail here today while officers investigated the slaying last night of the youth's brother, Carl Wallace, 27 year old farmer.

Funeral Held At Olden Today For Mrs. Kate Harvey

Funeral services were conducted this afternoon at Olden at 4 o'clock for Mrs. Kate Harvey, 67, known to her friends as "Aunt Kate." She died at the Methodist Hospital at Dallas at 3 p. m. Thursday after a lingering illness.

Services were conducted at the Olden Baptist church by Rev. K. C. Edmonds of Ranger, assisted by Rev. H. G. Markley, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Breckenridge, a close friend of the decedent. It was her dying wish that either Rev. Edmonds or Rev. Markley conduct the funeral services and both will take part in the last rites.

Mrs. Harvey had made her home for the past four years with Mrs. W. R. Curry and was well known throughout the town. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. J. T. Kinsel of San Marcos and one brother, B. W. Lee of Lytle, Texas, both of whom were too ill to attend the services. Out-of-town relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee of Breckenridge, Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Lee of Dallas and R. C. Lee of Henderson. She is also survived by a number of nephews and nieces.

Interment will be in Evergreen cemetery of Ranger following the services at the church at Olden.

Bank Call Issued By Comptroller

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for condition of national banks as of June 30.

This was the first call since banks were reopened after the March bank holiday. The last call was for the condition as of December 31, 1932.

Chicago Wheat Up; Ft. Worth Is Down

FORT WORTH, July 7.—Number one cash hard wheat dropped three cents a bushel here today, closing at $1.09 1/2 after opening at $1.12, a fraction of a cent under yesterday's close.

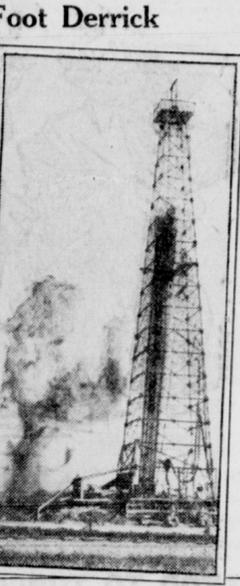

CHICAGO, July 7.—All wheat deliveries on the Chicago Board of Trade passed the $1 a bushel mark as heavy trading shot prices forward.

Jiu-Jitsu Expert Taught Cops Tricks

BAKERSFIELD, Calif.—If Bakersfield police went about today, hopefully awaiting some toughie to attack them, it was because they got that way in school.

Some time ago, the police decided they weren't tough enough. They yearned to know all about handling bigger men than themselves, and how to take care of themselves in mob fights.

So they hired Jack Carson, 68-year-old jiu-jitsu expert, to teach them.

Blazing Gas Well Swallows 122-Foot Derrick

TRAIN CRASHES INTO CREEK, TWO KILLED

TRINIDAD Henderson County, Tex., July 7.—Two men were killed and two others injured one mile east of here today when a fast Cotton Belt freight train from St. Louis crashed through a trestle and 15 cars were thrown to the creek bottom.

The dead were Lee Hamilton, 20, of Payne Springs, Henderson county, and Jim Merrell, of Corsicana.

Jack Hamilton, a cousin of Lee, and L. L. Whittick of Springfield, Mo., were injured painfully. Neither was expected to succumb to their injuries.

The trestle over the creek gave away without warning and none of the crew or men riding the train had time to jump clear of the cars. The engine and train crews were not injured.

Approximately 40 men were riding the freight. Wrecking crews made a hurried inspection and reported no other bodies were sighted.

Man Gets 25 Years For Five Burglaries

Five years each in five different cases of burglary as charged in the indictments were the sentences drawn by Ben Chaney in the 91st district court Friday morning. Chaney was charged with having burglarized five different residences in Cisco to which he pleaded guilty and waived the right of a jury, thereby permitting the hearing to come before Judge George L. Davenport.

Chaney was charged with creating a considerable wave of crime in this section of the state a few months ago, alleged to have kidnaped a child at Clyde for which it is understood he was tried and convicted at Baird. Several charges of burglary are said to have been filed against him at Abilene.

Border Patrol Got Modern Equipment

DOUGLAS, Ariz.—The latest equipment known to members of the U. S. border patrol has been provided at the new customs building here, to prevent smuggling.

Outstanding are the mirrors placed at the sides and on the ground at the five driveways through the building. Officials check the underpart of all vehicles for contraband by glancing into the mirrors.

ALMOST SEVERED JUGULAR LIBERAL, Kan.—A splinter of steel from a hammer struck Ernest Cunningham in the neck recently just missing his jugular vein and penetrating his chest and lung. An operation was necessary.

CURRENCY WAR IS THREATENED OVER WORLD

LONDON, July 7.—Threat of a world currency war, in which North and South America, the British Empire, the far east and Scandinavia would be aligned against the European gold standard nations, developed today at the world economic conference.

A movement was quietly underway to initiate a gigantic price-raising agreement among the Anglo nations along the lines of President Roosevelt's inflationary program which brought the conference to a life or death crisis, the United Press learned.

Success of the movement would mean, ultimately, establishment of a bloc embracing the United States, Great Britain and her dominions, the Latin American nations, Japan, China and the Scandinavian nations in favor of price raising.

They would leave the gold standard nations, as it was put, "to starve amidst their golden plenty" unless they followed along and inflated or revalued their own currency.

Jake, the Barber, and His Kidnap South In Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., July 7.—Search for John (Jake) the Barber Factor, Chicago, and Murray Humphrey, identified as a member of the Al Capone gang, was begun here today when detectives were informed by the United States Department of Justice that the two were headed to Mexico and would drive through San Antonio.

Shoes Received Military Burial

BOISE, Idaho.—Sgt. Joe Seaver, Co. E. 116th Engineers, ended a frantic search for his well worn shoes recently when he discovered their "grave."

The boots were buried under "fully military honors" by Seaver's buddies, without his permission, with great praise for long service.

MOVES TO EASTLAND S. H. Whitaker of Snyder has purchased the home on the Eastland highway in the western outskirts of Eastland from I. J. Kilough and with his family is moving to Eastland to make his home. Mr. Kilough and family will move to a residence he owns in the southeastern part of town.

OLDEN BAPTIST REVIVAL WILL START SUNDAY

Rev. K. C. Edmonds, pastor of the Olden Baptist Church, announced today that a revival meeting would be started Sunday, July 9, which would continue for two weeks. Meetings will be conducted daily at 10 o'clock in the morning and at 8:15 in the evenings.

The pastor of the church will do the preaching for the revival, while each service will have a musical feature presented by a splendid choir under the direction of Earl King of Abilene, who is well known over this section for his ability to organize and direct choirs.

Rev. Edmonds stated this morning that everyone was invited to attend the meetings, which will be conducted in the Olden tabernacle, where the congregation will be more comfortable than in the church.

Circuit Rider of Ranger District Newly Appointed

Rev. Ephraim D. Conway, a graduate of Southern Methodist university seminary, has been appointed as pastor of the Ranger circuit, Methodist Episcopal church, and began his duties today. Before graduating from the seminary Rev. Conway attended the University of Oregon. His home was formerly at Palatka, Fla., where his mother, Mrs. E. R. Conway, now resides.

In speaking of his new work this morning Rev. Conway said that he could not really be called a "circuit rider" because he was really a circuit walker, as he was on his way walking to the Bullock church to preach at the two services there next Sunday, July 9.

Rev. Conway stated that he would spend about 10 weeks going over his circuit and would then arrange a regular schedule of preaching dates over the district. Announcements of his preaching dates will be made at the end of his tour of the circuit.

Eastland County To Ask Aid For Four Highways

AUSTIN, July 7.—Counties clamoring for road work under the federal advance of $24,000,000 in highway funds to Texas will be heard by the state highway commission here Monday.

Delegations from Palo Pinto, Erath and Young counties will request construction of highway 120 from Graham to Metcalf Gap, and construction of Highway 108 between Strawn and Stephenville. Eastland county, through Judge C. L. Garrett, has asked to be heard regarding improvements on Highways 7, 28, 67, and 108.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

WHY WILL YE DIE?: As I live, saith the Lord God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked. . . . Turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for why will ye die. O house of Israel?—Ezekiel 33: 11.

EDITOR SMITH TALKED OUT LOUDLY IN THE SEN. SHEPPARD "WITHIN HIS RIGHTS"

Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, according to statutory law, designated Sen. Morris Sheppard as convention chairman of the pros (or rather anti-repealers) of the coming dry convention. Senator Sheppard accepted and in accepting he acted within the law as well as his citizenship rights. Attorney General James V. Allred made a ruling. That ruling did not disqualify senators or representatives as presiding officers of the repeal or anti-repeal state conv.

This for all concerned—and those who are most concerned are the voters of Texas who will be participants in the special elections to come in August—Senator Sheppard is the author of the 18th Amendment. He is a lifelong pro; a sincere pro; a regular of regulars. This has been his record since he came of voting age. He participates in conventions and primaries; he bows to the wisdom of the majority. And he votes the ticket straight—for the nominees of primaries or conventions and goes all the road.

Prohibition is not a partisan issue. It is a question of the regulation or suppression or attempted suppression of the liquor traffic and it has been a bone of contention in America for almost a hundred years. Just now the real important issue before all the people of Texas is that of higher prices for Texas staples, a return of purchasing power to the growers of things as well as the makers of things, and re-employment for the thousands who have been idle in recent years. It would be well for all the people to practice sanity of purpose, to control their passions and prejudices, and to settle the issue uppermost at the polls in August, according to the dictates of an honest conscience and careful consideration of the rights and opinions of their fellow men and women.

CHEERFUL LITTLE EARFUL FOR WAGE EARNERS

President William Green of the American Federation of Labor is on the job in the city of Washington. More than 495,000 persons returned to work in May, and the newspaper publication of the Federation lets it be known there is reason to believe that foundations for an upturn may be forming. Indeed, according to the survey the federation chieftain estimated that employment of 1,200,000 since March 1. This would have reduced the army of the unemployed to 10 million. However, prices of foodstuffs are reaching high levels. Jobs must be found for the jobless and the industria recovery act administrators who are cooperating with the industrialists of the country are holding the keys to the situation. Texas industrialists sounded a keynote at the Dallas conference. Employment must be found for the idle who are willing to work. There is a fifty sum of 34 million dollars coming for highway building.

PRIVATE RELIEF AGENCIES CUT OFF BY UNCLE SAM

Harry L. Hopkins is federal emergency administrator of the Roosevelt administration. He has reminded the American world that private welfare agencies will not be permitted to handle any federal emergency relief funds after Aug. 1. In other words that distribution of federal funds must be made by public agencies—individuals made public officials working under the control of public authorities. Uncle Sam, high in the lookout chair is going to keep a watchful eye on the dollars as they are passed out to the needy. And why not?

AN OFFICIAL VISIT FROM MEXICO

Austin was host Tuesday to two splendid young Mexicans, Jose Cantu and Antonio Dovali-Jaime, engineers in the department of communications. They were repaying the visit of the Texas highway commission to Mexico City recently. The two young men are fine, intelligent government officials, and their visit serves to make more happy the relations between Texas and the neighboring republic.

A prominent scientist recently stated that we cannot boast of having conquered the air so long as we are unable to emulge the mosquito by flying backward as well as forward, or to come to a stop in mid-air if we wish. According to this scientist, the mosquito is the champion flyer of all flyers and can land any place. Probably a good many people during the summer months can be found who will agree with him. It is evident that the mosquito is the only flyer that can fly at will, fly slow or fast, vertically upward and downward, and the only flyer that can always get a square meal if there are any human beings in sight.

In some towns warnings from the police to reckless automobile drivers are listened to with respect and then conscientiously ignored.

If Those Government Control Measures Work Out—

That Reminds Me

(Continued from page one) Anyway, more and more are going the divorce route out of their marital difficulties, and it doesn't seem so hard. Just make up their minds that the tangle should be untangled, and presto, it's done.

Printers representing Eastland county newspapers met at the courthouse today to discuss the recovery act. From these county meetings representatives will be sent to the state meeting. The action simply makes the printing industry in line with the general trend of helping solve the problems of every business. Nothing definite can be determined until every industry has reported back to the president. From these reports the president will proceed to place before congress the necessary legislation. That's when the excitement will begin.

Dr. H. B. Tanner, one of the best chamber of commerce secretaries in Texas, who has been under the weather for the past several weeks, is reported improving. Dr. Tanner is one of the most missed men of all by the Eastland business men when not at his desk and all join in the wish that he will soon be ready for heavy duty spreading sunshine and good will all over the country for Eastland.

It is a great thing to devote one's life to the service of his fellow man, and in the work as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Eastland Dr. Tanner found the answer to rendering just that kind of service. It is more of a hobby with Dr. Tanner than it is a business. That's why he is really a valuable asset to the city. Dr. Tanner renders a service first, last and all the time. Compensation in monetary consideration is secondary with him. It is great to have such a citizen in our midst. And the biggest thing of all is that Dr. Tanner knows his Chamber of Commerce work. May we have him for many years to come. We need such men, and any town would be fortunate to have one like him.

Pastor Cheers New Wedding Songs

By United Press PHILADELPHIA.—The Rev. Dr. Karl Frederick Wetstone, pastor of the Bethany Presbyterian church, is glad that the new Presbyterian hymnal contains a group of songs for weddings. "During the past week," he said, "I officiated at six weddings and 'I love you' songs were used at each ceremony. I'm rather weary of them."

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

NORMAN H. ORR, Managing Editor of the Yonkers (N. Y.) Record, says:

"Although many merchants today could save their business from bankruptcy by a little of the proper kind of advertising, they 'save money' by hoping customers will come to their store.

"Just to advertise will not do in these days of careful spending. Keeping your name before the public went out with the idea of having an automobile for every member of the family. Today you must advertise 'price'—it is the only thing prospective customers are interested in. They will go where they are told and where the fact is proven that they will get what they want for less.

"Hense, the merchant who knows enough to take generous space, fill it with one or two illustrations, little reading matter and a cheap price in large type, will get results.

"Business is bad, but there is some being done and the merchant who goes after it in the right way is the one who will get most of it.

"Never make the mistake of thinking you save money by cutting out advertising, neither keep your conscience clear by merely advertising. Don't throw money away by just buying space. Let somebody who knows up-to-date advertising methods prepare your copy and go to it. Get the jump on the other fellow who is sitting back waiting for business to improve.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Many new names are being entered on the scrolls of fame here these days, but there ought to be special medals for one small group of men whose outstanding performances have caused the most widespread amazement.

Eccentricity still lives. These fellows stand out from among their contemporaries like so many geraniums in a snowbank, and it's a small and exclusive club they'll have if they ever organize one. Attention is herewith called to:

Vice President John Nance Garner, the member of the administration who turned down an offer of $52,000 a year to talk five minutes a week over the radio.

Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, and boss of Muscle Shoals, whose conscience as a public servant caused him to deliver to the attorney general a statement of all property owned by himself and his wife.

President Henry W. Kendall of the Kendall Manufacturing Company, operator of northern and southern textile mills, who urged at the first industrial recovery hearing that the cotton mills be required to make minimum wages and maximum hours apply to cleaners and outside help as well as operatives and that women and minors be excluded from night work.

Most of the administration headquarters have resembled squirrel cages with the squirrels running in different directions, but sufficient order has been attained so that applicants now must command some political backing in the usual manner. (Copyright, 1933, NEA Service, Inc.)

Gentleman-Farmer "Dictator" Has An Important Role

WASHINGTON.—Charles Hoyt March is another of President Roosevelt's six-foot, gentleman-farmer "dictators," in charge of the vastly important administration of the federal blue sky securities act.

The security law is March's baby. He has been trying to get it adopted ever since he became a member of the federal trade commission four years ago. He wrote most of it and he thinks it is one of the best laws congress ever passed.

He likes to stand with feet planted well apart, explaining the bill in loud, gruff tones. When he makes a point he smiles so broadly that the skin crackles at the corner of his eyes and he almost shouts:

"Do ya see?"
If his audience doesn't see, March explains over again. By now every clerk within earshot is familiar with all the complexities of the complex securities law.

March is a distinguished attorney, prosperous banker and one of the most progressive farmers for miles around Litchfield, Minn., his home town.

He owns there a 1,000-acre farm stocked with blooded horses and cattle.
March thinks a ride on one of his own fine horses is the best fun any man could ask. He considers a glass of milk from one of his fine cows as nectar.

His horseback riding and his milk-drinking have kept him exceptionally youthful and vigorous. He doesn't look his 63 years, except for his multi-colored hair. It is partly sandy, partly gray, partly white and getting a little thin in the middle.

March has only one hate—the stock faker.

His face gets livid and he sputters angrily when he runs across the often-recurring case of the city slicker selling the widow $10,000 worth of some such shares as Amalgamated Grapefruit of Alaska, Inc.

He was equally as angry over the sale in this country of millions of dollars worth of worthless bonds from assorted revolution-torn nations across the seas.

All that, however, is history now, thinks March, thanks to his securities control bill.

His staff, incidentally, is exceptionally busy these days telling securities houses what they can't do—and more important—what they can.

Some concerns have gone out of business because of the law. Some have laid off their salesmen. Some have quit advertising altogether.

March calls that foolish. He holds any honest seller of honest securities in business and he prospers under the law.

NEW BRAUNFELS, Texas.—When and if archaeologists of future ages examine the ruins of the Sophienburg Memorial, recently dedicated here, they will find comprehensive data on 20th century life in Texas, the United States and the world.

In the cornerstone of the building, erected as a memorial to German pioneers who settled in Comal county in the 1840's, were placed papers and articles relating to many phases of contemporary life. They included:

A list of local churches and schools and their memberships, population figures for the United States, Texas, Comal county and New Braunfels; current commodity price lists; "rules" of all civilized nations and their forms of government; copies of the New Braunfels Zeitung, the New Braunfels Herald and the Texas Bluebonnet; stamps and coins, and records of local American Legion and Boy Scout organizations.

The memorial was planned and erected as a tribute to a group of Germans who came to the United States to escape oppression in the fatherland. They landed on the Texas Gulf Coast at Matagorda Bay and toiled slowly over the wilderness by ox cart and afoot, finally reaching the foothills at the head of Comal Springs. On the spot where the memorial building stands they built their first shelter, the Sophienburg, named after Sophie, the sweetheart of Prince Solms Braunfels.

Fighting has taken on new glamour with the world's heavyweight champion and challenger a couple of guys who would have been right at home pounding each other as they stood on the brink of some prehistoric precipice.

Primo Carnera a throwback to the dear old dipodocus, or something like that—and Max Baer, a jabberwock if ever there was one! In their last two battles, these two showed something dark from the ring, something that the ring has lacked since Dempsey went to his doom in Chicago roaring for Gene Tunney to "come on and fight!"

Ring fans who have looked too long at tameness, realized that there was a wild man close to their hearts when they saw Max Baer smash Max Schmeling under a shower of blows.

They beheld a giant suddenly converted into a dragon when Primo Carnera reverted to type in his fight with Jack Sharkey and overpowered the Boston boxer with a fusillade of fury.

The ring world is waiting for these two to bare their teeth and tear in. It should be Dempsey-Firpo all over again—or better than that.

GEARHART, Ore.—Glass balls used by Japanese fishermen for floats for nets are frequently picked up on this and other Oregon beaches. The balls range in size from about 6 to 45 inches in circumference and are of varied colors. It is impossible to tell how long it takes them to cross the Pacific. One large ball picked up had barnacles growing on the sides.

Indians worshipped, are said to be hidden in the cavern. Mineralogists and historians, asked to comment on the tale, acknowledged an interest in the story, but denied any conviction that the vast wealth actually lies buried in the cavern.

Now that the sunburn season is here, perhaps that noise you hear at the bathing beaches is caused by the peeling of the belles.

Dog Hitch Hiked Back to Master

BOISE, Idaho.—It's a wise dog that knows enough to hitch-hike and C. H. Christensen owns such a dog. A group of picnickers parked their cars alongside a road in a canyon near Boise. When they were ready to leave, the driver noticed a dog on the running board. Orders to "scram" were answered only by a wag of a tail and a pointed nose to the west. So the autoists drove on.

About 14 miles along the road, the picnickers passed a camp, where they heard commands to stop.

"What are you doing with my dog?" asked Christensen of the tourists.

"Giving him a ride," came the answer. "He asked for it several miles down the road."

The dog jumped from the car, wagged its tail, and the picnickers continued on their way.

Indian Treasure Is Being Sought In An Old Cavern

By United Press
TEMPLE, Tex.—More than a century ago, so legends say, Indian Chief San Savas stood near a fork of Salado creek and looked at the sweating backs of Indian braves who toiled with heavy rocks.

For six months the Indians had swarmed over a hillside, digging, moving boulders, and even transplanting a tree. They were weary. Chief Savas raised a hand in signal, his men gathered about him, and with a backward glance the entire party silently disappeared in the underbrush.

Behind them, so traditions say, they left 500 jack loads of gold buried in a sealed, water filled cavern.

This week a farm two and a half miles west of Prairie Dell teemed with suppressed excitement. Machinery, spades, picks and other equipment jolted across ploughed fields to the site of a large tree. Beside it was a hole that led to an unknown cavernous depth. A few persons believe it leads to the fabled $14,000,000 worth of lost gold bullion.

At least, G. G. Pope, Williamson county farmer, and his associates intend to find out the truth of the tradition. W. F. Cullen, former telegraph dispatcher at Temple, Harry Allen of Belton, T. J. Nelson, Temple and S. C. Robertson of Salado, have joined in the expensive task of seeking the treasure cave.

They propose to pump dry the water-filled cavern, and explore it.

An Indian laborer, who worked on the Pope farm, told the story of the San Savas treasure, claiming the Indian chieftain was his great grandfather. Many points in the Indian's tale have been verified, it was claimed.

1. The Indian declared two air holes leading from the top of the hill into the cavern were marked by elm trees on the north side of each. Pope said three were located.

2. A glance into one of the air holes would reveal a stalactite formation resembling a man's leg, the Indian claimed. Pope said this too, was found true.

Equipment of the old San Savas mine included a smelter and a rock crusher, according to the tale. Pope found a crusher bearing the date 1811 stamped into the metal.

4. The Indian said the treasure cavern was flooded with water from Salado creek. Pope declared that muddy water in the cave also muddied Salado creek.

5. The Indian claimed the cavern runs beneath the creek. Pope Performance Check Cards similar to the one reproduced in this advertisement were distributed to Texas motorists by Humble Service Stations. Many of them have been returned to the Humble Company at Houston.

When Humble Motor Fuel was announced six weeks ago, we made no exaggerated advertising claims for our new product. We said to the motorists of Texas, "Test Humble

Motor Fuel in your car; compare it with any regular priced gasoline you have ever used; then tell us what you think of it." Literally thousands of Texas motorists tested Humble Motor Fuel. They have sent us thousands of comments on Performance Check Cards which they secured at Humble Service Stations. Many of them say: "Humble

Motor Fuel develops more power than other regular priced gasolines. Many of them say: Humble Motor Fuel has a quicker pick-up and smoother acceleration than other regular priced gasolines. Many of them say: Humble

Motor Fuel has eliminated the knock from my engine.

Many of them say: Humble Motor Fuel saves me 10 to 15 cents more miles per gallon than other regular priced gasolines. And all of them say: Humble Motor Fuel definitely delivers smoother performance. The Humble

Company knew these things were true when Humble Motor Fuel was introduced to the public. But they were used as "advertising claims," nor are they advertising claims today. They are voluntary statements from friends and neighbors, on file at the Humble Company home office in Houston and photostatic copies of cards from your city are on file with the local Humble agent who will be glad to show them to you on request.

They prove the definite superiority of Humble Motor

Fuel over other regular priced gasolines with the only way to test—the test made in your own car under all normal driving conditions. This unanimous acceptance of Humble Motor Fuel by the motorists of Texas leads us to repeat a statement we made earlier in this series of advertisements: The Humble Oil & Refining Company never allow its products to take second place.

BARGAIN BRIDE

By KATHARINE HAVILAND TAYLOR

BEGIN HERE TODAY. BARRETT COLVIN, back in New York after years abroad, falls in love with ELINOR STAFFORD. He is 35 and she is 20. Elinor returns his affection but her jealous scheming mother, LIDA STAFFORD, breaks up the romance by convincing Barrett that Elinor was only flirting with him.

CELESTE was running her bath. An almost overpoweringly sweet scent floated to Elinor from the room that was filling with steam. Celeste had evidently borrowed boldly from one of the many Venetian glass bottles standing on the peacock blue shelves of her mother's dressing room.

ELINOR flushed. True, she had thought of the one Celeste called "her sweetheart" most of the night but not as Celeste had dreamed. "I shall keep the handkerchief always, Celeste," she said. "I am so grateful to you, and I'm going to show it to Mr. Colvin."

ELINOR sat up, hugging her knees and staring at a window which framed a square of the glittering world. She would go to the church at 12 to meet Barrett Colvin. They would be married. Then she would go with him to his house and thus would start the pretense that must endure for a year.

MISS ELLA SEXTON, Elinor's aunt, dies and, to the despair of the relatives, leaves her entire fortune to Barrett. Lida Stafford has been flirting with VANCE CARTER. When Vance learns she will not divorce her husband, BENTWELL STAFFORD, he shoots Bentwell. It is uncertain whether the wounded man will live or die.

BARRETT does not want Miss Ella's money but can not give it back to the rightful inheritors because of their pride. Suddenly a plan comes to him. He tells Elinor that if she will marry him and live as a guest in his home for a year he will give her the entire sum to divide between her relatives.

ELINOR'S voice came over the wire a trifle unsteadily. "Yes, Barrett" she said. "Dearest, Art Palmer—I mean Doctor Palmer—" he corrected himself mockingly, "wants to know whether you want to be his bride. I think he said—in his church?" Her voice trembled even more. It was the way he had said "Dearest."

ELINOR sat up, hugging her knees and staring at a window which framed a square of the glittering world. She would go to the church at 12 to meet Barrett Colvin. They would be married. Then she would go with him to his house and thus would start the pretense that must endure for a year.

ONCE... EACH DAY

By V. MARIE STEPHENS

Have been reading a lot lately from authors who aspired to journalistic fame back when romance was a mere babe in arms... back when "our heroine blushed."

Have also been delving into modern stuff, with the printer's ink still sizzling in keeping with the material used.

It doesn't do to mix the two. It's like taking a combination course in Greek a la Egyptian hieroglyphics with a smattering of good old North American history.

I find myself waiting for the 1933 girl-of-his-dreams to bloom forth into a blissful blush... which she never does...

And urging the bustling one on to get her man... which she, alas, never does... but goes through life suffering secretly as befitted, one of her day.

The crimson stain spreading so delicately over the fairer one's features back when Alcott and Johnson and James dipped into fiction, was a sign of charm, culture, breeding...

Today it signifies that Madame has not "been around" enough, she is not sure of herself, it marks her as uninteresting... something lacking.

And that's what a mixture of writers will do for you... put unanswerable questions in your mind: a laugh at yesterday, a worried frown at today... something definitely wrong with both of 'em.

This being camping weather, it's amusing to watch the highways. Of course everybody talked a lot about Chicago and after they went and came back, continue to wonder about a vacation... according to a wearied soul I talker to the other day.

PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS.—One of the most successful of the Worth mid-season evening gowns is "Eros."
It is of fine white organdie trimmed with tucks on the bias, both on the bodice and the upper part of the skirt, and with ruffles running from the hem to the knees, also on the bias. The square decollete in front strikes a new note, and the wide tucked shoulder straps continue down the back. It has a wide belt and long sash ends of plaid taffeta ribbon. The sleeves of the accompanying bolero are formed of ruffles, and are quite wide, while the bodice of the bolero is tucked to match the trimming of the gown. From the mid-season collection of Schiaparelli comes the lovely water lily green evening gown which has been bought by Madame Mazzuchi. This treatment here, ribbons, which are also on the shoulder straps.
