

Farmers Warned Not To Plow Up Cotton Yet

NOTICES WILL BE MAILED TO EACH GROWER

Acres To Be Destroyed Expected To Reach Goal of 10,000,000 Acres.

By United Press
COLLEGE STATION, July 15.—Texas cotton growers today were warned by state extension service officials to await governmental authorization to plow under the 4,190,298 acres of the current crop they have pledged for retirement under the federal acreage reduction plan.

The plan was formally promulgated by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace after a check revealed sufficient farmers in the 16 cotton-growing states had endorsed the program to make it feasible.

It will take some time for federal authorities to check and accept the thousands of individual contracts, extension officials said.

Mate Says Negro Stole Her Love

Pretty Mrs. Margaret Fay Desmond, 28, above, is the central figure in a $100,000 suit brought against Dr. Eugene C. Nelson, negro physician of Los Angeles, by her husband, Leo F. Desmond, who claims the doctor stole the affections of Mrs. Desmond, the doctor's secretary. Dr. Nelson recently was divorced from Helen Lee Worthing former follies beauty.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Belated returns from cotton producing states indicated today that southern planters have offered to reduce their acreage well in excess of the figure of 9,000,000 acres announced yesterday when the acreage reduction plan was adopted.

It was reported, in the absence of definite announcement, that acreage pledged to destruction is likely to total 9,500,000 acres and may reach the original goal of 10,000,000 acres.

These figures may increase estimates of baleage reduction by 165,000 to 335,000 bales. It had been set previously at more than 3,000,000 bales.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Secretary of Interior Ickes today promised vigorous enforcement of President Roosevelt's order prohibiting transportation of illegally produced oil.

Ickes whose department has been entrusted with administration of the order, said it is "sweeping enough to reach the violators of state laws, and it is intended that immediate and drastic action will be taken."

The interior department served notice that anyone found guilty of producing and transporting oil in excess of state quotas will be subject to full penalties of the law, a fine of $2,000 and six months imprisonment.

The department said it would concentrate agents in those districts where the greatest evasions of the law have occurred in the past.

Dempsey Is Dead—Loss Is Mourned By Many Friends

Dempsey is dead!
As the shadows of night gathered Wednesday evening he dropped off to sleep and never waked.

Dempsey was a little black dog, the constant companion for many years of the late John Matthews, former employe of the city of Eastland, and the friend and pet of grown-ups as well as the children of Eastland whom he greeted as he followed his master on his daily rounds in the city.

After his master died Dempsey appeared downcast and sad very awhile. He would eat but very little and would have but little to do with anyone. A member of Mr. Matthews' family, because of the dog's love for Mr. Matthews, took Dempsey and cared for him until his death. The following letter, written to Mrs. John Matthews of Eastland, the boy's mother, tells the story of Dempsey's death and why dog heaven has another visitor:

"Well, dog-heaven received another visitor yesterday when Dempsey dropped off to sleep and never waked. He had refused to eat for nearly a week and was so poor he looked bad. We talked to the doctor about him, but he said, 'old age had got him, and that he could never recover. He did not seem to be suffering. We roused him from his sleep and talked to him a little. He appeared as happy as he could be, but he could not get up. I fixed a glass with cotton and chloroform in it and put it to his nose.

"He offered no resistance, but dropped off to sleep and soon ceased to breathe. His going so easily and without a struggle demonstrated how far gone he was.

"We did everything humanly possible for him and when we could not help him more, put him out of his misery without pain and without his knowing we were doing anything to him.

"We buried him in a dog cemetery belonging to a little girl here where she already had three pets buried, and where his grave will be looked after.

"It seemed almost like losing one of the family, but he had lived a long life and I think a happy one, and his time had come.

"Charlie has cried at every meal since he died. She had always fixed his food for him, cutting up the meat in fine bits so he could eat it as he had no teeth. She also looked after him almost like he was a child. Guess we will get us another little dog now."

TRANSPORTING ILLEGAL OIL TO BE STOPPED

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Secretary of Interior Ickes today promised vigorous enforcement of President Roosevelt's order prohibiting transportation of illegally produced oil.

Ickes whose department has been entrusted with administration of the order, said it is "sweeping enough to reach the violators of state laws, and it is intended that immediate and drastic action will be taken."

Wheat Goes Up On All Exchanges

CHICAGO, July 15.—Wheat futures set new highs for the season on the board of trade today and closed 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 cents higher.

The bullish Canadian crop forecast over-shadowed all other factors and pushed May wheat to $1.23 1/4 a bushel at the highest point, sloping at $1.22 1/4 for May wheat.

THE WEATHER

WEST TEXAS—Local thunder showers. Cooler north portion. Partly cloudy, probably scattered showers south portion.

FORT WORTH, July 15.—No. 1 cash, hard wheat continued its record breaking climb on the local market today, closing at $1.20 1/2 cents a bushel, a new high and 3 1/2 cents above yesterday's close.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Week-end profit taking struck the cotton market today sending prices down almost $1 a bale after an early rise.

TWO PLANES HOP OFF FOR OCEAN FLIGHTS

NEW YORK, July 15.—Two flying teams hopped off on trans-Atlantic flights today, one heading for Berlin on the first leg of a round-the-world race, the other steering a course to Lithuania.

Wiley Post, with a robot pilot as his companion, set out in the famous plane, Winnie Mae, in an attempt to lower the record of 8 days, 15 hours, 51 minutes, for an around-the-world flight he set with Harold Gatty two years ago.

His first planned stop was Berlin, thence on to Khabarovsk, Russia; Fairbanks, Alaska; Edmonton, Alberta, and New York. Post hopes to complete the flight in six days.

The Lithuanian team, Captain Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas, began their flight without official permission and faced the possibility of losing their licenses as a result. Their take-off was a complete surprise as they indicated they would merely prepare for a new test flight.

Post took off at 5:10 a. m.

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, July 15.—A white monoplane, believed to be Wiley Post's flew over Lemaline, Newfoundland, at 12:37 EDT today. The plane was so high that residents could not read its markings.

Woman Convicted As Accessory In Husband's Death

LIBERTY, Texas, July 15.—Mrs. Pearl Sherman Brown, 38, was convicted today of complicity in the slaying of her aged husband, W. D. Brown, and sentenced to 35 years in the state penitentiary.

It was the woman's second trial on the charge, the first ending in a hung jury. Brown was shot to death last summer.

The principal witness against the woman was Bee Barrow, her former common-law husband, who testified that Mrs. Brown prompted him to kill the man to collect his insurance. Barrow was brought here from the state prison, where he is serving a life sentence for the murder.

World Conference Adjourning Favored By United States

LONDON, July 15.—The United States favors indefinite adjournment of the world economic conference; it was said today.

Delegates were said to feel that to fix a specific date for re-assembling after the "recess" to be taken July 27, would be putting indirect pressure on the United States to stabilize its currency by whatever date named.

This, it was said, would interfere with the government's determination on a domestic recovery program.

Funeral services are to be conducted this afternoon at 4 o'clock at Russell Chapel, south of Gordon.

Mrs. Deaton is survived by her husband and six children, among them Nathan and Frank Deaton of Ranger.

Prohibition Has Been An Issue In Eastland County Since 1880

Records in the county clerk's office disclose the fact that the prohibition question has been an issue in Eastland county since as far back as 1880. The first election on record was held in precinct No. 1 on Sept. 4, 1880, and lost by 65 against prohibition. The first county-wide election was held on Sept. 12, 1885, and lost by 96 voters, the count being 533 for and 629 against.

It was not until March 23, 1895, that prohibition carried in the county and then by only 17 votes, the result being 681 for and 664 against. April 27, 1897, or two years later, another election was ordered and prohibition lost by 214 votes, the count this time being 835 for and 1,049 against. On Oct. 15, 1901, liquor was again voted out and the county has been legally dry from that time until now.

It is claimed by those who are in a position to know that, if the 18th amendment to the constitution should be repealed, Texas would still be a dry state with the Dean law applying and that, if the Dean law should be repealed, Eastland county would still be dry with the results of the local option election of July 22, 1911, holding until an election could be called by the commissioners' court to determine what the will of the people of the county might be.

THREE GUESSES AUTOMOBILE AGENCY TO BE OPENED HERE

H. C. "Andy" Anderson and J. L. Chance Saturday announced the formation of the Anderson-Chance Motor company, dealers in Eastland county for Dodge and Plymouth automobiles. At the same time plans were announced for the opening of agencies by the company in Eastland, Ranger and Cisco.

J. L. Chance, who has been a resident of Ranger for a number of years, where he was an employe of the Prairie Oil & Gas company and later in the wholesale oil and gasoline business, will be in charge of the Eastland agency, while Mr. Anderson will remain in Ranger and will have charge of the Ranger agency. Mr. Chance, with his family, are moving to Eastland, where they will make their home in the future.

H. C. Anderson was, until recently, in the hydraulic casing pulling business with Pete Jensen, with his headquarters in Ranger. He has sold his interest to Mr. Jensen and will, in the future, devote his entire time to the automobile agency. He is well known throughout this entire section of the country, having just completed a term as governor of the 41st district, Rotary International, which took him to every Rotary club in West Texas.

The partners in the new business announced, also, that they had been very fortunate in securing the services of C. T. Berrier as automobile salesman. Mr. Berrier was for a number of years connected with the Oilbelt Motor company, in the Ranger agency, and has been for some time with the Seaman Motor company of Mineral Wells. He has been in the automobile business for the past 11 years and is considered one of the best automobile salesmen in this part of the state. He will make his headquarters in Ranger. The Ranger agency will be located temporarily in the J. B. Houghton garage on Pine street until more suitable quarters and salesrooms can be arranged.

A shipment of cars is now in transit and is expected to arrive any day. When the cars arrive the friends and acquaintances of the members of the agency personnel are invited to visit the agency and inspect them.

Searchers Find Man Wandering In Nearby Pasture

Sheriff Virge Foster and deputies Loss Woods and Steele Hill, together with fifteen or twenty more men from Eastland went to the Merriman community Friday afternoon to help hunt for a young irresponsible man by the name of Echols who disappeared from his home on the John Earnest place between sundown and dark Thursday evening.

After hunting about the community for some time they found the boy walking in the pasture near the home. As he is unable to talk they could not learn where he had been or what had happened to him, but the officers stated that he appeared to be lost. Except being worn out and almost perished from thirst he was not otherwise injured.

Roque Tournament At Eastland Today

The Oil Belt tournament for roque players, which includes Breckenridge, Ranger, Cisco and Eastland, will be held in Eastland today, beginning at eight o'clock at the court recently finished at the city park. The playing will be in progress continuously from that time until late in the afternoon. Some of the best players of this game in this section of the state are expected to be present and enter the contests.

Eastland has a roque club of twelve members, of which Curly Maynard is secretary and John Rawson is assistant secretary. The club has just completed one of the best courts in this part of the country. The playing ground is hard surfaced with concrete boundary walls. The club will have representative players entered in the tournament who will attempt to win for Eastland.

Roque is a game played similar to the old croquet game, but shows many improvements and interesting features. Visitors are invited to watch the playing. Shades are convenient and ice water will be furnished for all who attend.

BREWERS BACK REPEAL MOVE SPEAKER SAYS

A crowd that covered the east courthouse lawn gathered Saturday afternoon to hear addresses against the repeal of the 18th amendment. Judge Otis Miller of Jones county and Judge B. D. Sartin of Wichita Falls were the speakers.

Judge C. L. Garrett of Eastland introduced Judge Miller, who, after making a masterful plea for the retention of the 18th amendment, introduced Judge Sartin, who delivered the principal address.

Judge Sartin declared that the campaign for repeal is a campaign backed by the brewers and tax-dodging millionaires of the east. He said every merchant, farmer and individual interested in legitimate business should arouse from his indifference and defeat the efforts of those who would tear down our prohibition laws for the defense of his own business if not for other.

Judge Sartin spoke in part as follows:

"At a time when the people are crying for bread, this is no time to hand them a stone. When they ask for a fish, do not give them a serpent. No individual has ever been able to drink himself rich and a nation is only an aggregation of individuals. Prosperity must rest upon a firmer foundation than a keg of beer. Liquor is the hardest competitor that business can have. It is a competitor of every legitimate and useful industry, an enemy of the church, the public school, a destroyer of the home, and a defiler of everything that is pure and wholesome. These have enough competition already without the competition of liquor.

Firemen to Hold Annual School at A&M on Monday

COLLEGE STATION, Texas.—Approximately 400 fire fighting officials and firemen, representing about 175 cities and towns of Texas, are expected to gather here Monday, July 17, for the fourth annual training school for firemen to be held at Texas A. & M. college for a four-day period. The training school is conducted each year by the department of chemistry and chemical engineering at the college under the auspices of the State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' association of Texas.

The curriculum of the course, according to Prof. H. E. Brayton, training school director, will be divided into three sections, to run concurrently as follows: A general section offering a complete general fire department course, a fire marshals' section, and a first aid section, this latter to include a general course and also an advanced course. The general fire department course will be required of all men who are qualifying their respective cities for the 3 per cent credit on key rate as granted by the fire insurance commission and will be terminated by a written examination.

The work of the training school will be given in both lecture and practice form. A feature this year will be that students in the general and fire marshals' sections will do work in the laboratories of the chemistry department at the college. Here they will study chemical reactions involved in combustion and in fire extinguishing.

SOVIET RUSSIA AS A BUYER OF AMERICAN COTTON

China applies for a R. F. C. loan in order to purchase 900,000 bales of American cotton and a huge quantity of American wheat. It was granted. Japan has buyers in the cotton belt for a large supply of the fleecy staple.

Now the R. F. C. has made arrangements for a series of loans to American exporters with which to finance the sale of between 60,000 and 80,000 bales of cotton for shipment to Russia. Col. Jesse H. Jones, head of the Reconstruction corporation, announced that the opening of negotiations for shipments of other commodities to the Slav nation constituted the first such move by the American government since the Lenin-Stalin nation came into its present power.

All R. F. C. loans to Russia are "unconditionally guaranteed by the state bank of U. S. S. R. and the loans will be for one year at an interest rate of 5 per cent." Why shouldn't the American government (or rather the American people) sell and send staples to the ports of entry of Soviet Russia? Great Britain, or rather its manufacturers and traders, have been doing a paying business in recent years with the Slavs. French traders are in on the ground floor. Germany has been doing a huge trade with the Russians.

Indeed, all the foreign nations, little as well as large, are ready to accept Russian money in exchange for their products. Soviet Russia does not owe the American government (or people) a dime. Great powers of the world, speaking of European nations, owe the American government and its people billions of dollars. America trades with the defaulted nations—or the repudiationists. Why not with Stalin and his Slavs?

A COTTON SHOWDOWN COMING THIS WEEK

O. B. Martin is the director-general of and for Texas to bring about the adoption of a minimum quota in the national cotton reduction campaign. He advises that every farmer in Texas would have an opportunity to sign the governmental offer before the end of the week. He hopes that the quota will be more than reached by the coming Saturday night. It is a rare experiment. Those who are responsible for it should go all the road. It is useless to go half the road. The plan should be given the acid test. If it wins it will mark a new departure in the growing and the marketing of the fleecy staple. If it fails, then it will be up to the plowers that he to try something else. There should be no "turning backward."

The mosquito is a pest. You can't get too many mosquito cranks in a community.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

J. DAVID STERN, publisher of the Philadelphia Record, says:

"Advertising is becoming more intelligent. During the past 30 years there has been a constant rise in the level of advertising appeal. Not only are the large advertising agencies which prepare the big national campaigns employing better talent to design and write the advertising, but they are attuning their copy to a more intelligent audience.

"The day is past of flamboyant, ballyhoo advertising with crude illustrations and absurdly superlative claims.

"Up to date advertising is the logical argument of an intelligent salesman addressing intelligent prospects.

"Advertisers have abandoned the idea of editing their copy down to the masses. As a result American advertising has become one of the greatest educational and cultural forces in our social organism! It has changed our diet, telling us what food to eat, and when, and how to prepare it. It has changed our home life by introducing a multitude of labor-saving devices which lessen the drudgery of housework. It has influenced our styles of architecture, and the materials with which we build our homes; the way we dress, the shoes we wear, the books and magazines we read. It has inculcated laws of health and hygiene, standards of personal cleanliness. From baby's food to burial plots, the whole course of our lives has been influenced tremendously by advertising, which has become more forceful as it has become more intelligent.

"Future historians tracing the trend of our civilization will recognize the great influence of advertising upon our customs, styles and ideas. It has speeded up the development of our nation. What is more important, it has knit together the nation by making the development uniform throughout the land."

Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible. "For as the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself" (John 5:26).

The lesson-sermon also includes citations from the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," one of which is as follows (p. 76): "When being is understood, life will be recognized as neither material nor finite, but as infinite— as God, universal good; and the belief that life, or mind, was ever in a finite form, or good in evil, will be destroyed. . . . Suffering, sinning, dying beliefs are unreal. When divine science is universally understood, they will have no power over man, for man is immortal and lives by divine authority."

Brewers Back Repeal

(Continued from page 1) beer in this city or county will be taken from the merchants and business institutions of this community. There is already too little cash in this county available for legitimate business without sending off to St. Louis or Milwaukee thousands of dollars that will add to the bank rolls of these brewers and distillers. This kind of business cannot help a man of your county but will actually destroy his moral, physical and economic welfare, while it is bankrupting the legitimate merchants of your county.

"Mr. Merchant and Business Man, Mr. Farmer and Laborer, beer and whisky are your competitors. Do not let it again entrench itself in your community or in this nation. Mothers, wives, and women of Texas, organize and fight the advance of the liquor traffic. It comes not to help you but to destroy. It is corrupt and sinister, an enemy of your home, a defiler of purity, and a robber of the rights of little children."

"The modern whisky rebellion is inspired by the eastern millionaire who under the cloak of tax reduction, is selfishly putting over a sales tax on the masses, escaping his own just share of the nation's taxes, while he places the burden of taxation, on the backs of those unfortunate men and women who would be tempted by a glass of beer or whisky. All fair-minded and sincere wets should organize and fight repeal on this kind of basis.

"The people of Texas will see through this kind of liquor conspiracy and repudiate it on Aug. 26. The flag of this republic must not retreat from organized wealth and backed by organized booze. The democratic platform assured that the saloon must not return in this nation yet this pledge is forgotten and ignored in the wild stampede for repeal. The 18th amendment is the dam that holds back the outlawed flood of booze, and it is no time to dynamite this dam when there is no plan to prevent the deluge that will inevitably follow the destruction of this bulwark of the home and society. True temperance advocates will lend their votes to repair any leaks that may exist in the 18th amendment rather than destroy the work of a century—the 18th amendment—and permit the flooding of the nation with a deluge of liquor that will sweep with its return every moral and social safeguard that decent people have provided. Think before you vote for repeal."

Flat Feet Blamed For Much Trouble

NEW ORLEANS, La.—The big menace to happiness is flat feet and not a mother-in-law.

This is the opinion of Dr. Dudley Stewart, New Orleans physician, who claims 90 per cent of present day divorces are caused by flat feet. They make women irritable, sour their dispositions, bring on words, then more words, and then lawyers, suits and alimony. It's improperly designed shoes worn by women that cause the flat feet, the doctor said.

night, drew up a list of 50 ques-

France Framing
Forum on Farm

PORT DEPOSIT, Md.—Former
United States Senator Joseph L.
France, intends to break his long silence since being forcibly ejected from the platform of the Republican National convention last year, by discussing "American Politics" at Sunday forums on his farm this summer.

France, candidate for the presidential nomination of his party last year, indicated he would have a great deal to say about former President Hoover during the forums, to which everyone is invited.

His farm is one of 548 acres, and has bathing and other attractions. It is called Mount Ararat.
The first forum will be July 9.
"Last year I opened my farm to everybody who wanted to visit it on Sundays," France said. "I have a dairy with 100 cows, and a beach where visitors can fish and picnic under the trees."

"I will open the forum and have invited men of national importance to speak. The meetings will be strictly non-political. We will discuss monetary problems and similar subjects, but always with emphasis on the fundamentals of American government."

"Picture Snatcher" Opens At Lyric

James Cagney, the bad boy of the screen, comes to the Lyric theatre today in his latest Warner Bros. production, "Picture Snatcher." It is a thoroughly hard boiled role, although a delightfully entertaining one.

"Picture Snatcher" is based on a newspaper story by Danny Ahern, which treats of a little known phase of the work on a yellow tabloid of the most sensational type. Jimmy, in the title role, is the go-getter picture man who gets photographs of people and news events by hook or crook, regardless of ethics or common decency.

He is particularly fitted for the job, having served a term in Sing Sing for robbery just before he enters upon his new vocation. He decides to go straight and become the most resourceful and daring picture snatcher on the paper.

Patricia Ellis, a 17-year-old Broadway ingenue, plays opposite Cagney in a picture which marks her first leading role in pictures. She was cast for the part after her notable work as the ingenue in "The King's Vacation," starring George Arliss.

Others in the cast include such notable players as Ralph Bellamy, Alice White, Ralf Harold, Robert Emmett O'Connor and George Pat Collins. This is Miss White's second picture since leaving the screen two years ago to make personal appearances throughout the country. She has the vamp role and is rough-housed by Jimmy in his usual devil-may-care style.

"Hell Below" At Connellee Sunday

Smashing tension, diversified comedy and a trend to think are all combined in the remarkably-submarine melodrama, "Hell Below," to be shown at the Connellee theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

This picture is supported by a cast of outstanding stars that have made screen history and at the same time relived the traditions of every phase of humanity. Robert Montgomery, Walter Huston, Madge Evans, Jimmy Durante, Eugene Pallette, and a large supporting cast comprise the personnel that will keep the audience thrilled in excitement and overflowing with humor throughout the entire story.

There are elaborate stage effects throughout the picture that will make you marvel at the possibilities of filming such scenes. The diversified ideas of different locations wander from a carnival in an Italian seaport town to an admiralty hall, the hold of the submarine, a picturesque nursing home, and the gigantic fortress in which the striking climax of the play takes place.

"Melody Cruise" Spicy Musical Film At Lyric

In a luxurious stateroom on a great ocean liner, a philandering husband is in the snare of two chorus beauties. A heavenly situation—until the bosom friend of his wife found out about it!

Such is one of the breezy predicaments confronting Charlie Ruggles in RKO-Radio Pictures' musical movie, "Melody Cruise," coming to the Lyric theatre, with Phil Harris, Greta Nissen and Helen Mack also in the featured roles.

Ruggles' problem is but a highlight of the frivolous tale. Harris, playing his millionaire playboy friend, insures his immunity from marriage by describing Ruggles' proficiencies to his wife in a letter which is to be opened only in case of his marriage. Ruggles, liable for Harris' marriage, promotes embarrassing situations when his friend actually falls in love. Eventually, he fails, but encounters his greatest hardship in trying to retrieve the revealing letter from his wife.

Others cast are June Brewster and Shirley Chambers as the two chorus girls; Chick Chandler; Marjorie Gatenon as the wife, and Florence Roberts as the snoop friend of the wife. Mark Sandwich directed "Melody Cruise" with a musical accompaniment which embodies four new melodies especially written for the picture by Val Burton and Will Jason, composers of the famous "Penthouse Serenade."

LYRIC MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Col. Dick McCarty Talks About 11th Court of Appeals

In the Albany News of July 7 is the following complimentary article by Col. Dick McCarty regarding the members of the Eastland Court of Civil Appeals:

"The members of the appellate court of Eastland, three in number—Judge Hickman, Judge Funderburk and Judge Leslie. Reckon they must have come especially to see the ex-editor of the Albany News, as they had three runners out looking all over town for him. This is a fine body of men. Looking at them, it reminds one that the old-time shirt sleeve democracy is still in vogue, as they est of all the human sciences. We believe it was Blackstone who said that the mastery was like a deep well out of which every man draws according to the strength of his understanding. To know the law is a great gift, and it comes to those who burn the midnight oil, letting their buckets away down, seeking after cause and effect. We believe it was Lord Mansfield who said, 'If there was any one man he dreaded at the bar, it was the one-book man.' The one-book man—the man who had mastered the elementary parts of law. A pure judiciary is the foundation on which the republic rests. Yes, a court of last resort, if pure, is when the high and the low get justice. Well, may West Texas feel proud of this court. They are men of wide experience in the practice of law—hence they have drunk from the well, therefore they understand and comprehend the law. We are glad that we can call each member of this court our friend. Come back again, boys. Leave your court gowns at home, and bring your hearty handshake with you. Selah."
