A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE GOODNESS OF GOD: Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men.—Psalm 107: 21.

HITLER GOING BACK TO THE DARK AGES

Adolf Hitler is the dictator of the new Germany. He is headed in the direction of the dark ages. His latest is that the private fortunes and even the citizenship rights of "enemies of the state and the people" are to be confiscated by the nazi government.

He has issued another order, which is fraught with peril to the lives and fortunes and liberties of the Germanic people. He has ordered a nationwide election for the construction or reconstruction of a religious organization to be known as the nazi church of the people.

Not long ago the new government of Spain not only ordered but accomplished the confiscation of all the religious institutions and all properties of the Catholic church. All institutions of learning recognized as the property of the church on the ban were taken over by the new rulers of the ancient nation. All convents and schools were closed. "perpetually and forever." All religious organizations of the church were ordered disbanded and those who refused to abide by the decrees were ordered deported. There can be no liberty in a land where the state persecutes those who refuse to accept the dictator of his henchmen as the religious guide or guides and there can be no freedom in a country where the church attempts to regulate or enforce the religious views of dissenters.

This is the record of history. Freedom of conscience, freedom of the press, freedom of assemblage, and freedom of action in the making of the laws of the people and the selection of servants cannot exist where a dictator and his armed henchmen are the masters and ever moving and acting in utter inalienable rights of man. Political insanity and religious bigotry march side by side in many countries.

There are many pious people in the so-called civilized world of the Occident who point to the Chinese and Japanese as heretics or heathens, and yet the Chinese are the most liberal of all the races of mankind when it comes to tolerance of creed, and the Japanese of today, or the vast majority, are for freedom of conscience and the right of a man to select his own god and bow his head at the altar in the temple of his choice.

Dictator Adolf Hitler is reminded that the tail never wags the dog, that a return to the dark ages is not impossible but it is improbable in Germany and all other so-called civilized nations.

Many of our members of Congress are quite busy explaining to the homefolks why they voted for this or for that bill.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

GENERAL FRANK T. HINES, U. S. Administrator of Veterans Affairs, says:

"Although the old adage 'Misery loves company' is often suggested as a form of consolation, the contemplation of the misery of others can never serve as a panacea for our own.

"In the unhappy times through which we are passing the urge for self-preservation alone should serve to provide for each of us whatever stimulus is necessary to enable us to persevere more persistently than ever to win our way through, individually, to that prosperity and contentment which is every man's desire and the birthright of every human being.

"This effort need not be—indeed, must not be a selfish one. Few can achieve success without intentionally or incidentally helping others and I believe that achievement must ever taste sweeter to the man who possesses along with worldly success the consciousness that he represents a certain measure of security and substance to some of his fellow beings.

"Humaneness—was there ever a time in the history of our country when a general exercise of this most desirable quality was more necessary? The need for it touches and permeates almost every human contact in these troublous times when the whole order of things seems so out-of-joint and readjustment, more or less excruciating, is the order of the day.

"The high degree of courage shown by our President has pointed the way to recovery and a better understanding, and it is heartening to note now in many directions indications that we are on the upward path at last; that business and industry are at least struggling with incipient action instead of lying supine and inert grumbling at inaction but seeing no way out, and it behooves each and ever one of us to make a conscientious and sustained effort to accentuate this movement in every way possible, whether it be by participation financially or industrially or just by 'keeping our chins up' and fighting through."

THE ROLL OF HONOR

HOOKS and SLIDES BY BILL BRAUCHER

The Toughest Grind PERHAPS the marathon dance is the sternest test of endurance devised in the interests of physical torture. But the marathon bicycle race is not far behind.

There begins July 30 at Montreal an American counterpart of the trying Tour de France. More than 40 riders will start at the Montreal ball park on a 4300-mile road grind down through some of the border states and back to Montreal.

The bicycle marathon is as cruel to the riders as Pyle's Bunton Derby was to the runners who pushed their weary feet from coast to coast. The prize in this event is announced as $25,000—and it will be bitterly earned.

For 60,000 Francs THE Tour de France is a month of pedaling around the borders of France—through Brittany the Basque country, up and down the hills of the Crau, winding around the roads of Savoy and the lower Alps, into Alsace and the north country, and finally—for some—Paris.

The cyclist travels that back-breaking highway alone, but he is under constant surveillance by officials who patrol the roads, post out from among the pop-eyed peasants in the villages, trail the riders by day and by night. All this man endures for a chance to win 60,000 francs—plus the plaudits of Parisian boulevardiers which are packed with thousands as the hero finishes his Gethsemane

Psychology? IN the Montreal marathon, some of the hardy European road racers who never know when they are licked will strive. Among these are the Czech Frantek Bartalska, German Otto Ludeke and Italian Mario Rossi. Six-day riders will try, among them such familiar names as Torchy Peden, Zenon St. Laurent, Reggie Fielding, Godfrey Parrott and Pierre Gachon.

Besides the physical angle, the tour is a study in raw human psychology—offering an inkling of what men will endure for money. For surely these robots of the road are not killing themselves for fun or fame.

Missouri Will Vote On Repeal Aug. 19

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—Missouri voters will go to the polls Aug. 19 to select delegates to a state convention to decide this state's attitude toward Repeal of the 18th Amendment.

Delegates will be selected at precinct meetings for county conventions, which in turn will name delegates to the state convention. The state convention will be Aug. 29.

Coast Lumber Shipping Booms

By United Press SEATTLE—Shipping lines have announced they were "filled up" with lumber orders, and space aboard their boats has been signed for some time in advance, due to the upturn in the lumber market. Lumber tariffs are up from $9.75 to $10.25. Higher rates, because of increased bookings, are expected.

The Arrow Line is booked to the end of July and is putting on an extra ship, the Helen Whittier, which has been tied up in San Francisco since 1931.

The Williams Steamship corporation, a subsidiary of the American Hawaiian Steamship company, was prepared to take the idle freighter, Willpolo, out of Lake Union and put her back into service. She will load at Seattle, Tacoma, Bellingham and on the Columbia river, for Puerto Rico, Charleston, Norfolk, Baltimore, and Albany, N. Y. She will carry about 3,000,000 feet of lumber.

The Quaker Line and the Hawaiian Steamship companies also reported capacity lumber orders.

BACK TO THE HORSE

By United Press CLEBURNE.—The fact that his records show more than 400 fewer automobiles registered in this county this year than at the same time last year has caused S. O. Rosser, county tax collector, to wonder if farmers are going back to the horse and buggy. His records show decreases in registration of both passenger cars and trucks.

Reach for a Luckie - for always Luckies Please

I'm strong for sunshine - so I'm strong for "Toasting"

I've always found that really good reasons are the simplest reasons. For instance, I know that sunshine mellows and heat purifies. "Toasting" is therefore very easy for me to understand. And very easy for me to appreciate—because—my sense of the fastidious is so very exacting. You see, I'm always aware of the fact that my cigarette comes in such intimate contact with my lips. Quite naturally, it's the purity of "Toasting" that I single out for special praise. It's just my own personal feminine reason for saying "Luckies Please!"

University Prof. Likes 'Brain Trust'

AUSTIN.—Endorsement of the "brain trust" plan of government is given by Dr. O. Douglas Weeks, department of government, University of Texas, in a discussion of civic education and citizenship in the Southwestern Social Science Quarterly.

Treating of the duty falling upon instructors, he says: "Moreover there is the duty of furnishing directly to the agencies of government, of society and to the public itself, professional, technical and even popular advice and instruction. The days of scholarly monasticism are over; the community must be served."

The educational or propagandistic activities of voluntary organizations, associations and pressure groups, which purport to be for the public good, he finds "more often hide selfish group interests, behind elaborate facades of public welfare."

"We cannot tell the student of today what he shall do 40 years hence when some political decision confronts him; we can only tell him how he may do it."

"If we are required to specify in exact terms what future conditions will bring, we can say with some certainty that there will be a political and social order in which public administration will assume a greater and more efficient part, in which social as well as economic planning will prevail, in which citizens will have to cooperate much more than they do today, and in which health, safety, education, a more reasoned equality of opportunity, and a knowledge of how best to use leisure time will be better assured. And this can be accomplished by intelligent expansion of characteristically American political traditions; it need not be, and probably cannot be, either bolshevistic or fascist, both of which represent the death of the kind of civic training that is here contemplated."

BARGAIN BRIDE

It was a pleasant thought for one of Marcia's temperament.

HE settled herself in a chair. "Tell me, was Cuba amusing?" she asked.

"Rather," said Barrett, again looking at Elinor. "I've always been attracted by the place."

"Did you like it too, dear?" Marcia went on, turning to Elinor.

"Oh, I adored it!" the girl answered.

"You two talk just the way Dick and I did about Dick's place in Canada where we spent our honeymoon. But you aren't honeymooners and haven't that experience," Marcia murmured. "To herself she thought, 'What in the world can make Elinor flush so?'"

"We were really delighted with the trip," Barrett stated hurriedly. Higgins came in then with the flowers Marcia had brought. Elinor and Barrett both seemed eager to speak of the flowers, admiring them and praising them rather extravagantly. Barrett, drawing his chair closer to Elinor's, reached for an end of the string sash she wore about her frock and ran it through his fingers.

He had to be near Elinor, Marcia saw. The thought aroused a flame of jealousy in her heart that was disconcerting.

Elinor asked about the baby and immediately Marcia was off. She related with elaborate detail just how the baby smiled, the way he looked while sleeping. She missed not a bead of the rosary every proud mother tells but she saw in her listeners no tendency to smile or hint at boredom as so many listeners do. Instead she felt she had their whole-hearted attention.

"You've been sweet about listening to all this," Marcia admitted when at last she had finished. "But it's so wonderful—having a baby for one's own! I can't help babbling. I hope some day you'll understand."

"I hope so," said Elinor and blushed.

AGAIN Barrett was looking at Elinor with that humble, adoring look. He laid his hand upon Elinor's. He had to make a trip down town and Marcia volunteered to give him a lift. Before her, and much to her amusement, he said his goodby to Elinor, kissing her and adding, "Don't forget me!" He tried to make it seem a joke but quite obviously it was more than that.

"It looks as if life were happy for you, Barry," Marcia commented after they were on their way.

"Happy doesn't half express it," he responded.

"I'm so glad," she commented. She assured herself that she really was glad. And yet Barrett's infatuation menaced her. When she had been a child Barrett had always been willing to do anything to stop her tears. Now that was changed! A fool could see that Elinor ruled him, or could rule him if she wanted to.

When Barrett returned home at a bit after six he found Lida Stafford sitting with Elinor. As Lida greeted him she gave him a shy glance and a smile which he knew Elinor noted.

A little time passed and then Lida rose. "Run in to see me tomorrow morning, will you, Barry?" she asked sweetly. "I

U. S. Airports Show Increase

WASHINGTON.—The number of airports and landing fields in the United States had increased, on July 1, 1933, to 2,136, as compared with 2,037 on July 1, 1932, according to the Department of Commerce's Bureau of Aeronautics.

Of the 1933 number, 631 were fully or partially lighted for night use.

California was the leading state, having 214 fields, followed by Texas and Pennsylvania with 136 and 111 respectively. California also was the leading state in the matter of municipal airports, with 53, while Pennsylvania had the largest number of commercial fields, 70.

Municipal airports throughout the country numbered 550 while 643 of the fields were commercially operated. Army airdromes totaled 55 and Navy air stations 16. Two hundred sixty-nine Department of Commerce intermediate landing fields, 525 auxiliary fields, and 68 miscellaneous government, private and state fields completed the number.

Reports Show Business Boom

WASHINGTON.—World improvement in the textile industry, increase in the Japanese market for American cars and a new French law organizing the French wheat market were included in a report on various types of commerce the world over received recently by the commerce department.

Definite signs of improvement in the textile industry in various parts of the world, the department said, were recorded in the form of larger orders and increased production activity. Canada, Mexico, Britain, Ireland and Germany were included in those showing improvement.

The market for American made automobiles in Japan during June was good, the department said. A seasonal decline usually ensues in July and August, but the department predicted the autumn outlook as "very good."

The law for the organization of the French wheat market provides an initial minimum price of 115 francs per 100 kilos for wheat, to be increased by 1.50 francs monthly, for a period of one year. Eighty francs will be the premium per 100 kilos of domestic wheat exported as grain or flour. A milling tax and suspension for two months of the temporary duty free entry of soft wheat milled for re-exportation is also provided in the new law.

League Trials Coca Leaves In Argentine

By STEWART BROWN
United Press Staff Correspondent
GENEVA.—The central opium board of the League of Nations is anxious to know why Argentine, except for Japan and Formosa, is the world's largest importer of coca leaves, a South American plant from which cocaine is made.

The board's statistics show that Bolivia is the world's principal producer of coca leaves. Its production is estimated at more than 2,000 tons annually.

Almost all the Bolivian export goes to Argentina. The quantity imported into Argentina is more than the total import of coca leaves by countries manufacturing cocaine, with the exception of Japan and Formosa.

But as Argentina is neither an exporter or manufacturer of cocaine, the league is interested to know what happens to the dangerous leaves. From private communications they are convinced the leaves are chewed by the population, or mixed with mate in small quantities.

The league has been experiencing considerable difficulty in obtaining reliable statistics regarding the use of narcotics in South America because many South American nations have not ratified the Geneva convention of 1925.

It was found, however, that there is a negligible amount of dangerous drugs imported into South America. Its concern is chiefly with the production and consumption of coca leaves. Obviously, the league would prefer South America to consume the leaves in the raw form rather than allow them to be treated chemically to make cocaine for export.

Gasoline Stations For Airplane Lines

By United Press
NEW YORK.—With the formal opening, at Hicksville, L. I. of the world's first roadside airplane filling station, Captain Alfred J. Williams, Jr., former navy speed flier and now directing aviation for an oil company has inaugurated a new type of service-to-fliers. Likewise, this departure from dependence on airports for service comes as a boom to aviation un-employed. For, these service and filling stations are to be manned by unemployed airplane mechanics and riggers.

Within a few months Captain Williams expects to have existing national airways dotted with these "roadside service stations," where the touring flier can drop in for refueling and minor repairs. He can read prices set in six foot numerals, thereby shopping as he flies. Best of all, before very long one of these 50 acre plots always will be in easy reach of those forgetful ones who fail to look at the gas before they start on a journey.

Captain Williams stated that this new idea came to him when a jobless mechanic asked for work of any sort. The man, Elton Babcock, former machinist mate first class, had been a member in Captain Williams raving crew during the speed trials in the navy.

West Coast To Get Eyeful Of Venus

WASHINGTON.—At 6 o'clock in the morning of Aug. 17, you may get a beautiful eyeful of Venus (the one in the sky) if you live in Pacific coast states.

On that date, according to the American Nature association there will be a remarkable close conjunction of Jupiter and Venus. They will be separated by a distance of only six minutes of arc, or a fifth the diameter of the moon. As distances go in the heavens, this is closer than some of the decisions made in a baseball game.

The result will be that these two planets will resemble a magnificent double star in the western sky.

Although they seem close together, Venus will be about 128,000,000 miles from the earth, with Jupiter, bashful-like, 583,000,000 miles away.

Single Word Lost This Damage Suit

By United Press
EL PASO.—A single word caused Anna Lee Turner to lose her damage suit against the Big Lake Oil company for asserted pollution of cattle watering tanks on her Pecos ranch, an eighth district court of civil appeals decision reveals.

Overflow salt and sulphur water from the oil company's property caused cattle to die, she contended.

The appellate court judges held that statutes prohibit pollution of streams "of the state," whether the pollution is accidental or not. But they held she could not recover damages because the word "of" means public streams. Had the statute used "in," the woman could have recovered damages for pollution of a private watering tank.

Watch Taken In James Holdup Gets New Case Put On

By United Press
JERSEYVILLE, Ill.—A 53-year-old watch, which once derived notoriety when it figured in a train robbery near Glendale, Mo., headed by Jesse James, has been placed in a new case.

The timepiece is owned by William Ballard of Jerseyville. He purchased it in 1860 and two years later it was taken from him during a train robbery at Glendale, Mo. At the time of the robbery Ballard recognized Jesse James, the leader of the bandit gang, as a cousin of his father's.

Several days after the robbery the watch was returned to Ballard through the mails. Ballard's name had been engraved in the case of the watch and made it possible for James to return it once it was discovered it belonged to a relative.

Branch Mint Gold Deposits Increase

By United Press
DENVER, Colo.—The Denver branch of the United States mint is receiving an average of $60,338 worth of gold a day for coinage this year, Supt. Mark A. Skinner announced. That is an increase of more than $10,000 a day over the average daily deposits last year.

These figures, Skinner pointed out, represent the work of lode miners, unemployed men who swarm the Rocky Mountain streams seeking to pan gold, and persons who have dug into the family jewel box.

Fort Worth Woman Owns King's Table

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Tex.—A king's table stands strikingly in the corner of a room of the home of Mrs. Georgia Scott Townsend here.

It is one of two identical and highly decorated tables which belonged to Louis the Fifteenth, king of France. The other table reposes in the historic palace of Versailles.

Mrs. Townsend obtained the table from a collector who secured it in Russia where it had been sent as a gift to the Russian court. For a long time, French authorities believed it had been lost, until a friend of Mrs. Townsend, visiting in Paris, was shown its counterpart and informed museum directors.

A large reproduction of Louis the Fifteenth makes up the center of the table. Around the border are miniatures of ladies of the court, Madame Lafayette, Madame Du Barry and others.

ranged the long table, with seats for the entire gathering.

Mrs. Newman presided and invocation was offered by Mrs. Sam G. Thompson.

A most delectable spread was served of fried chicken, salad, deviled eggs, olives, tomatoes, rolls, iced tea and ice cream.

Following the supper, the usual prayer meeting service of the Methodist church was held, opening with prayer by the pastor, Rev. Sam G. Thompson, followed by the hymn, ensemble, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus."

Prayer, Rev. Thompson; hymn, "Blessed Assurance," prayer, Mrs. Thompson, hymn, "Near the Cross."

The lecture by Mrs. Charles C. Robey, class teacher, was based on the first chapter of Genesis, the application drawing a comparison between the hardships and beauties of the trip to one of God's wonders, the Carlsbad cavern, and the religious life trail with its hardships and glory of the Christian.

Prayer by Rev. Thompson closed this fine service.

'She Has to Say Yes' With Loretta Young Opens at Lyric Today

The lowdown on the precarious lives of "customers' girls" used in the dress trade will be shown at the Lyric Theatre today when the First National production, "She Has to Say Yes," which has a sparkling cast headed by Loretta Young, Lyle Talbot, Regis Toomey, Winnie Lightner and many others, has its premiere.

The movies have often contained a plot in which a pretty girl was used as a lure to attain an end but it remained for First National to step to the fore with this turbulent drama of the girls who eke out their small wages by entertaining out-of-town buyers, depending upon a commission from the orders landed through their coquettish efforts.

Loretta Young plays the part of one of these girls. Her purpose is to earn extra money so that she and Regis Toomey, the originator of this phase of big-business, can be married. She manages to get by without being compromised until she meets a young handsome, but thoroughly wise buyer played by Lyle Talbot.

The carefully selected cast includes Regis Toomey, Loretta Young's sweetheart-boss who lets his greed for commission money get the better of his love for the girl; Lyle Talbot, sensational young leading man, the out-of-town buyer, who learns from Loretta that she wants to say no when she has to say yes, and the popular comedienne Winnie Lightner who adds a hilarious touch.
