

IF MILLION MEN TO GET NEW JOBS MONDAY

MANY MORE TO BE EMPLOYED LATER IN WEEK

Survey Shows National Recovery Plan Being Taken Up Over the Nation

(Copyright 1933 by United Press) At least half a million men will go back to work Monday on new jobs created by President Roosevelt's R. N. A. code, a nation-wide survey revealed today.

A check of two score industrial centers showed that thousands of new jobs have been opened up in the past few days with hundreds of thousands in prospect next week.

Estimates made by hundreds of employers, industrial experts, relief workers and federal representatives brought this figure at a conservative estimate.

An estimate in Chicago of 50,000 new jobs within three days was made. Detroit expected 60,000 men to find new jobs in the motor industry alone. Already 30,000 have been given work in the past few days.

From the corn belt of the mid-west to the steep districts of the east and throughout the textile production centers of the south came report after report of employers signing the code.

In announcing the submission of a code of fair competition today in Washington, two of the company's largest bituminous coal producers announced wage increases for 350,000.

Former Students Hankins College To Meet Aug. 28

On Aug. 28 a home-coming will be held at Gorman for all former students of the Hankins Normal college. This decision was reached at a meeting that was held at Gorman last week and attended by several of the ex-students from this portion of the county.

Judge C. L. Garrett was elected chairman of the temporary organization. It is understood that the purpose is to make the organization permanent and the home-comings will be held annually in the future.

Committees have been appointed on arrangements, entertainment, publicity, which includes contacting as many of the former students as possible, and other activities necessary to insure the success of the home-coming. The program for the forenoon will be held at one of the churches of Gorman. At the noon hour the meeting will adjourn to Bass lake where a barbecue will have been arranged.

The program is to consist of some of the old songs and yells that were used when the college was in its heyday. Debating was the most important activity of the students, so a debate, in which four members of the former teams will take part, will be held as a part of the program. The relating of interesting and amusing incidents of the old school will be another important feature of the program.

Judge Garrett has been informed that Judges Cyrus B. Frost will have prominent places on the program. It is also expected that J. F. and J. H. Hankins, owners of and teachers in the school, now prominent business men of Lubbock, will be present. J. B. McIntyre, a former teacher, but now an attorney of Dallas, is also expected to attend.

This school was established by the Hankins brothers, who were twins, about 1904, and they continued to operate it as a normal college for about 10 years. It was a very popular school at the time and had a large attendance of students from this section of the state.

Some of the former students who now live in or near Eastland are: Mrs. B. E. McGlamery, Judge and Mrs. Ed S. Pritchard, Judge Elze Bezen, Rufus Bezen, Mrs. Irene Hightower, Earl Bender, Judge Cyrus B. Frost, Mrs. D. J. Jobe, Ed Layton, R. E. Sikes, Mrs. A. C. Simmons, Ernest Jones, Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Muston, Judge C. L. Garrett, Dr. and Mrs. Sam Poe, T. L. Cooper, A. A. Edmondson, Wiley Harbin, Herschel Harbin, O. H. Burkett, Mrs. L. Y. Morris, Luther Carter and W. W. Kelly.

Another interesting fact in regard to the ex-students of this school is the number who have been officials or deputy officials in the county. They are: Ed S. Pritchard, Elze Bezen, Earl Bender, Cyrus B. Frost, Ed Layton, R. E. Sikes, Mrs. A. C. Simmons, Ernest Jones, C. L. Garrett, T. L. Cooper, A. A. Edmondson, Herschel Harbin, O. H. Burkett, Joe Burkett, and George Vaughn. Mrs. B. E. McGlamery and Mrs. D. J. Jobe are wives of officials.

Possibly there are others living here who attended this school and others who have held official position whose names do not appear in these lists. If so, those making the lists failed to remember them at the time.

FORT WORTH, July 29.—The Tarrant county grand jury next week will begin an investigation into an alleged "state job selling scheme" which state rangers say three men have used to fleece victims out of amounts from $25 to $75 each.

Announcement of the investigation was made today by Assistant District Attorney Dawson Davis, who said 10 witnesses, some of them victims, will be called before the jury.

State rangers, under Captain Odneal, have been investigating for several weeks, Davis said. The alleged job sellers represented themselves as agents of the Ferguson administration. Davis said their representation was entirely spurious.

Negro Taken to Dallas Jail For Safe Keeping

FORT WORTH, July 29.—Chief Simmons, 22-year-old crippled negro, charged with murder in the double slaying here last Monday, was held today in a Dallas jail for safe keeping.

Sheriff J. R. Wright and deputies took Simmons from the county jail here last night after the negro had signed a statement to the fatal shooting of A. S. Michael, 33, of Fort Worth, and Geneva Cantrell, 19, of Oklahoma.

The negro's written statement followed the oral statement made earlier in the day. Sheriff Wright left with Simmons soon after he signed the statement last night to alleviate any possible danger of mob violence.

DELEGATES TO SHORT COURSE RETURNED SAT.

Eastland county delegates to the A. & M. short course returned Saturday at 1:30 p. m. The party left College Station at 3:36 Saturday morning and made the trip without the slightest mishap. The round trip was made in a school bus. There were 33 persons in the party.

Miss Ruth Ramey, county home demonstration agent, and all others in the party expressed themselves as being well pleased with the trip and the splendid programs put on at the college.

District No. 3, which includes Eastland county, had the largest delegation of any of the nine districts.

Johnson Smith of the Bedford community, and Bernie Pargen of Eastland, members of the Herring orchestra, so popular in Eastland, were on the general program rendered at the college Friday and also had a part on the program Friday night.

Mrs. Henry Capers of Gorman was on one of the programs presented Thursday. Miss Lola Mae Hooker of the Pleasant Hill 4-H club, who was winner of the 4-H bedroom demonstration contest, gave a brief report on her work at a banquet for bedroom demonstration workers.

Eastland county men who were outstanding in the short course work were W. A. Robertson of Flatwoods, who specialized in leather tanning, and Joe McNealey of the Kokomo community, who was outstanding in syrup making.

Outstanding work done by Eastland county women included butter and cheese making, hooked rug work, grape juice aking, poultry work and curing meats.

The short course this year was well attended and those from Eastland county expressed themselves as having gotten more out of the program this time than ever before. Many of them said they expected to attend every time possible. They feel that the individuals and organization, of whatever character, make a good investment when they provided the funds with which to defray the expenses of the Eastland county delegates to the short course.

The things learned by members of the Eastland county delegation at the short course are to be passed on to those who were not fortunate enough to attend as many of those attending plan to give demonstrations for the benefit of those who did not go.

COTTON MILLS ARE RUNNING AT THE HIGHEST SPEED

This American world was dragged out of the ditch. It began to happen after the inauguration of Roosevelt. This was in the month of March. Now we are facing the Ides of July. Operating at the highest rate of speed American cotton mills during June used 696,472 bales of raw cotton. Consumption of the cotton for the 11 months of the cotton season to June (the season closed July 1) amounted to 5,536,282 bales. An extraordinary showing when compared with the record of 1932.

Secretary Henry A. Wallace has proclaimed the drive to reduce the 1933 cotton acreage a sweeping success. He also announced a processing tax of 4.2 per cent per pound should be paid by all manufacturers of cotton goods.

Moreover, he said sufficient offers had been received from growers to reduce this year's potential crop 3,500,000 bales. In other words more than 9,000,000 acres will be taken out of production. He estimated the revenue from the processing tax, proceeds of which will be used to compensate farmers for plowing up acreage, will produce about $120,000,000. Texas farmers made a marvelous showing. Reports from 212 counties show the total of 4,155,665 acres had been contracted for retirement with five major and a small number of minor cotton growing counties yet to be heard from.

Cotton and wool and mohair and meat-stuffs are the high money staples of Texas. A year ago the lowest levels for years told the story. It is different today. There are high levels everywhere with the petroleum industry pushing its head far above the low level of last winter and early springtime. There is a coordinator of railroads. There is a coordinator of industries. There is a coordinator of the petroleum game in Texas and the Southwest. There is to all intents and purposes a coordinator of the wool and mohair industry. There is a coordinator of wheat and other grains.

Radical measures were deemed necessary to drag the agricultural ox out of the ditch. All in all, it is the greatest gamble in history for the rehabilitation of agriculture and the restoration of the purchasing power of an industry which began with the early civilization of mankind. America was in the ditch—face downward. America is out of the ditch with face to the rising sun and the courage to give battle, in an economic sense, to all peoples and all nations who challenge the right of the republic to its share of the commerce of the world and a proud place among the governments of the earth.

BANK ROBBERS FORCE THE USE OF TIME LOCKS

Bank robbers in small towns of the South, the Southwest, the Middle West and the Northwest have led New York bankers and casualty writers to adopt a new basic insurance ruling of keeping at least 85 per cent of bank cash in time vaults. Indeed the National Bureau of Surety and Casualty Underwriters has acceded to the request of small town bankers and applied the time lock policy to banks in towns of less than 25,000 population in 23 states.

Just now the Barrow brothers, noted Texas outlaws, are in the picture. Missouri officers of the law surrounded a cottage where the Barrows were behind barricaded doors. It was this old story of recent years. Using their machine guns they blasted their way through the cordon of guardians of the peace and made their escape "to parts unknown." Now a noted penologist calls for congressional action. He would have the government reorganize a national army to cover all the states giving a free hand to those selected by the government to rid the 48 commonwealths of kidnapers, bank robbers, highway desperadoes, and all the wild and lawless tribe who prey upon the "special order." It may come to this at last.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

Good advertising makes friends for any business, as well as acting as a sale-speeder.

These are competitive times. Competition exists in all lines of business.

It is the sale-creating thoughts of good advertising, backed by the right kind of goods and service, which enable a merchant to outsell his competitor.

Business and still more business is essential to the existence of any business concern.

(7) Not to reduce the compensation for employment now in excess of the minimum wages hereby agreed to (notwithstanding that the hours worked in such employment may be hereby reduced) and to increase the pay for such employment by an equitable readjustment of all pay schedules.

(8) Not to use any subterfuge to frustrate the spirit and intent of this agreement which is, among other things, to increase employment by a universal covenant, to remove obstructions to commerce, and to shorten hours and to raise wages for the shorter week to a living basis.

(9) Not to increase the price of any merchandise sold after the date hereof over the price on July 1, 1933, by more than is made necessary by actual increases in production, replacement, or invoice costs of merchandise, or by taxes or other costs resulting from action taken pursuant to the Agricultural Adjustment Act, Since July 1, 1933, and, in setting such price increases, to give full weight to probable increases in sales volume and to refrain from taking profiteering advantage of the consuming public.

(10) To support and patronize establishments which also have signed this agreement and are listed as members of N. R. A. (National Recovery Administration).

(11) To cooperate to the fullest extent in having a Code of Fair Competition submitted by his industry at the earliest possible date, and in any event before September 1, 1933.

(12) Where, before June 16, 1933, the undersigned had contracted to purchase goods at a fixed price for delivery during the period of this agreement, the undersigned will make an appropriate adjustment of said fixed price to meet any increase in cost caused by the seller having signed this President's Reemployment or having become bound by any Code of Fair Competition approved by the President.

(13) This agreement shall cease upon approval by the President of a code to which the undersigned is subject; or, if the N. R. A. so elects, upon submission of a code to which the undersigned is subject and substitution of any of its provisions for any of the terms of this agreement.

(14) It is agreed that any person who wishes to do his part in the President's reemployment drive by signing this agreement, but who asserts that some particular provision hereof, because of peculiar circumstances, will create great and unavoidable hardship, may obtain the benefits by signing this agreement and putting it into effect and then, in a petition approved by a representative trade association of his industry, or other representative organization designated by N. R. A., may apply for a stay of such provision pending a summary investigation by N. R. A., if he agrees in such application to abide by the decision of such investigation. This agreement is entered into pursuant to section 4 (a) of the National Industrial Recovery Act and subject to all the terms and conditions required by sections 7 (a) and 10 (b) of that act.

Then there is a little slip, to be taken to the postmaster on August 1st or thereafter, we certify that we have adjusted the hours of labor and the wages of our employees to accord with the President's Reemployment Agreement which we have signed. For this

We do not sell "Talking Points."

Henry Ford, Dearborn, Mich.

When customers write in, as many are doing these days, stating that they have found the Ford V-8 better than we said it was, that is how we prefer it to be.

I say this for the benefit of a Ford dealer who chides me for not claiming all that might be claimed in favor of our car.

If the people who use our cars every day are not praising them, it matters little what we may say. The last word must be spoken by the car itself, and the owner who tells his next door neighbor how his car behaves in actual service is the only effective advertiser.

That is why we do not stress "talking points" in our car. The Ford V-8 is built on principles, not on "points." Most of the "talking points" in motor cars are of little or no importance to the performance or value of the car.

Take weight, for example. It is not just a "talking point" with us; it is a basic principle which we keep constantly in mind when we design a car. Weight has much to do with the cost of the car. It costs us money to remove excess weight. It costs you money if we leave it in.

When people talk about the cost of running a car—or, to put it in advertising language, "economy of operation"—why do they not give more thought to weight?

The more dead weight a car drags around, the more it costs to run. To carry passengers costs very little. It is car weight that runs up the gas bills. If we design an economical engine, and then waste the economy in moving a mass of unnecessary car weight, what has been gained?

By keeping weight where it belongs—as trainers do with a race-horse or an athlete—the horse-power per pound of car remains high. To get the most miles and most power out of a gallon of gas, a car should not be over-heavy for its purpose. A quick, responsive pick-up and reserve speed—which means reserve power—requires careful attention to car-weight and strength.

The Ford V-8 is not a light car—it is as heavy as its design requires, and much stronger than it need be for safety. But it has no useless weight. Strength has been obtained without dead heavy bulk.

What we offer is a car, built to do certain things, and sure to do them.

Fort Worth Starts Drive on Crime After Latest Wave

By United Press

FORT WORTH—Churches here and in the little hamlet of Handley, near here, have joined hands in a drive against crime and gangs in Tarrant county.

The appellation, "the toughest spot in Texas," has been popularly applied to much of the strip of territory between Handley and the eastern edge of Fort Worth. Although the term doubtlessly is an exaggeration Handley citizens are determined to erase it.

This determination has been fired even more by the sensational triple slaying between here and Handley and the discovery of a gang rendezvous near that village.

It is in this wedge of the underworld that Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, the notorious Oklahoma bank robber and bandit, finds a refuge and associates when he is in Texas, persons conversant with the underworld say.

There, they say, many of the crimes that are committed in Dallas and Fort Worth are concocted. There also, they say, is the underworld haven of the pursued.

Although that area has beautiful homes of known and well-respected citizens and is inhabited by many workers, much of it is wooded, flanking the Trinity river, and offers seclusion.

Other persons, however, claiming to know what they are talking about, say that this conception is popular imagination and that perhaps only one gang has operated in the sector.

The triple slaying however, served to arouse the churches both here and at Handley. Pastors of all denominations are preaching to inflame public indignation against gang organizations. More than 1,000 persons overflowed the Handley Methodist church when the Rev. C. J. Howard presided over a meeting of protest there.

In Fort Worth, ministers of nearly all faiths are joining in with similar sermons.

The Rev. J. Frank Norris, Fort Worth Baptist minister, already has started a crusade against gangdom.

"The shocking disclosures of the triple slaying did not represent the good name of Handley," he said. "Instead it reflects the general conditions that make Fort Worth next only to Chicago and Kansas City as the crime centers of the middle west."

Dunn-Eilers Open In New Fox Film

In their fifth film together since their memorable performance in "Bad Girl," James Dunn and Sally Eilers have the stellar roles in "Hold Me Tight," the new romantic drama from Fox, opening today at the Lyric Theatre.

Cast as two young lovers in the midst of the metropolis and its attendant snares, these two popular young players have the type of characterizations for which they have become known as one of the screen's outstanding teams. They are both employees in the city's largest department store, and both have vivid dreams of success and happiness together. In a series of climaxes that are reported as truly stirring, they overcome obstacles that threaten their well-being at every turn. These obstacles come not only from the outside, but are developed out of their own fears and insecurity.

Each of the characters in the story represents a different type of New Yorker. There are those whose devotion to each other is cemented by the same barriers that separate others. There are some who live off the efforts of others, and those who will surmount all barriers to achieve the happiness they want above anything else.

In the supporting cast, headed by Frank McHugh and June Clyde are Kenneth Thomson, Noel Francis, Dorothy Peterson and Clay Clement. David Butler directed "Hold Me Tight" from the story by Gertrude Rigdon and the screen play by Gladys Lehman.

Behind Equipoise

CORNELIUS V. WHITNEY'S Equipoise is beginning to take his place among the great horses of all times. Down on the Greentree Stud farm in old Kentucky one man is watching the career of the great son of Pennant-Swining with interest that is heartfelt.

The man is Major Louie Beard, who has charge of the sort of production operations that turn out such noble nags as Equipoise for the Whitney's Major Beard, working behind the scenes, is one of the reasons why the Whitney name has been written so high in the chronicles of the turf during the last few years.

Major Sets Mark

HARRY PAYNE WHITNEY, father of the owner of Equipoise, hired the Major 10 years ago to supervise the matings on his Kentucky farm. The Major chaperoned the heart affairs of such noted sires as Broomstick, Pennant, Dis Danc, Whiskbroom II.

The first matings arranged by Major Beard brought forth horses and fillies that raced in 1926. The lowest annual total of Whitney winnings since that time was $206,674, in 1928. To coin a slogan, "Better Horses Bred by Beard" have won, since 1926, the neat if not gaudy total of $2,517,464. Totals reached nearly a half million last year, in 1931 and 1932.

Whitney Heritage

HARRY PAYNE WHITNEY died in the autumn of 1930 and the heritage of horses he left earned $1,212,576 for Cornelius V. in whose name they raced. Besides Equipoise there were such stars as Top Flight, the greatest money-winning race mare the world ever has known, and Which-one, which ran unplaced only once in 14 starts and earned $192,705.

The class of horses bred by Harry Payne Whitney is attested by the fact that he bred more winners of $100,000 than any other man, his total of nine exceeding by one the number bred by the famous John E. Madden.

Major Beard's success is a part of the Whitney tradition that began with Harry Payne Whitney's father, William C. Whitney, 35 years ago. Most of the Major's work is done without acclaim. You never see a story, for instance, with this kind of lead-paragraph: "Equipoise, bred by Major Louie Beard, set another new record in winning the so-and-so."

But the Major is the manager just the same.

Georgia Mayor Urges 3.2 Beer Permit

By United Press

ATLANTA, Ga.—Although Georgia's bone dry law still is on the books, beer is openly sold here and Mayor James L. Key, who denounced prohibition in Paris two years ago, now wants federal permission to operate a brewery here.

It appeared likely the permit would be forthcoming when federal Prohibition Director A. V. Dalrymple said the federal government would not meddle in the situation, even though state law forbids brewing of 3.2 per cent beer.

"I can see no reason why manufacture cannot be begun at once," the mayor said, characterizing the situation "ridiculous."

Governor Eugene Talmadge admitted he was impotent to stop the sale of beer, where county officials tolerated it.

Sun Solved Serious Problem At Election

By United Press

COLUMBIA, Mo.—When Columbia citizens went to the polls in a special election to select a new county sheriff, election judges were faced with a queer question. They were unable to ascertain the hour of sunset, when election polls were supposed to close, because of a cloudy sky.

R. M. Morris, county clerk, suggested the judges look in an almanac, telephone the weather bureau, or just stay at the polls until everybody had voted.

The problem was solved, however, when the sun came out as it was setting.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Love" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, July 30. The golden text is: "Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into singing; O mountains: for the Lord hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted" (Isaiah 49:13).

Included with other passages from the Bible is the following from Psalms 30: "O Lord my God, I cried unto thee, and thou hast healed me."

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The divine love, which made harmless the poisonous viper, which delivered men from the boiling oil, from the fiery furnace, from the jaws of the lion, can heal the sick in every age and triumph over sin and death. It crowned the demonstrations of Jesus with unsurpassed power and love. But the same 'mind'... which was also in Christ Jesus, must always accompany the letter of science in order to confirm and repeat the ancient demonstrations of prophets and apostles..."

"Truth, life, and love are a law of annihilation to everything unlike themselves, because they declare nothing except God" (p. 243).

You Can't Stay Where You Are

YOU turn through a kodak album and smile at old-style clothes. Skirts clattering the ankles... hats perched high up on hair... wasp waists... awkward sleeves—odd how your taste has changed!

Yet day by day your taste changes in all you wear and do. You don't like the same books, enjoy the same movies, choose the same underwear, prefer the same soap you did a short while ago. You are so used to the better, you wonder why you liked the old. Advertisements make you know the better as soon as it's proved to be better. They tell of good things accepted as good taste in the best homes. The hosiery, glass-curtains, lighting fixtures other modern use; why their use is preferred. Advertisements influence so many around you, sooner or later you'll feel the change. Even if you never read an advertisement, you'll use in time some of the conveniences which advertisements urge you to use today. Advertisements form a tide of taste that sweeps you forward; you can't stand still. Since you'll enjoy what they advertise anyway, why not begin enjoying it now?
