WTCC DIVIDED ON THE RELIEF BOND ISSUE

By United Press FORT WORTH, Aug. 24.—Opinions of the directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce on that organization's stand on the proposed $20,000,000 relief bond issue was closely divided, according to figures of a poll released here today.

Forty-six directors were in favor of supporting the issue, 55 were against it and 85 have not replied to the letter sent out by President Walter Cline of Wichita Falls, it was announced.

Because of the closeness of the poll, Cline said the organization would refuse to take active part either for or against the proposed amendment to be voted on Saturday.

AUSTIN, Aug. 24.—More than 22 per cent of the population of the 84 West Texas counties embraced by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is on relief rolls, the Texas rehabilitation and relief commission reported here today.

Interest Continues to Grow in Horn of Gold Contest; Contestants Change Positions

Although the Methodists still hold the lead in the friendly race for the $75.00 prize in the Horn of Gold Prosperity Club contest, the First Christian church forged ahead over two other opponents, the First Baptists and the Church of Christ and is baiting their hook to give the Methodists a close race for top place. Even at that the Baptists made substantial gains, but not enough to get any further than third place. The Church of Christ which made substantial gains at the previous count fell into fourth position. Interest is growing and when the next count is announced in Sunday's Telegram the entire positions may undergo a complete change. When you make your purchases ask for votes and vote for your church. Ask your friends to get into this interesting campaign and vote for your church. Here is a list of the merchants that are giving votes with each purchase: Piggly Wiggly, The Fashion, Connellee Coffee Shop, Perry Bros. Variety Store, Eastland Telegram, Drs. REDUCTION OF SHANNON BOND BEING SOUGHT

By United Press FORT WORTH, Aug. 24.—A bond reduction hearing for R. G. Shannon and three members of his family was delayed until late this afternoon while attorneys argued over removing the four to Oklahoma City to stand trial in the Charles F. Urschel kidnaping.

The attorneys conferred behind closed doors. It was understood the government represented by U. S. Assistant Attorneys General Joseph D. Keenan and Herbert Hyde, were demanding possession of Shannon, his wife, his son and son's wife.

The hearing was called to consider reduction of the $50,000 bond under which each of them is held. While the attorneys argued the four prisoners were held under heavy guard in the U. S. marshal's office.

The courtroom, bristling with armament, was crowded by spectators by 10 a. m., scheduled time for the hearing. Officers carrying machine guns, sawed-off shot-guns and pistols stood guard at strategic places outside the building to thwart any gangland attempt to interfere with the hearing. The Shannons were escorted from Dallas by four carloads of officers. They were brought over a side road to avoid any possible delivery or massacre attempt.

The meeting was opened by B. E. McGlamery, president, who appointed an N. R. A. committee to interview the business men and see how the regulations are working out.

The Lions club songs were led by Lion Horace Condeley. There were 14 members present, and J. Frank Sparks was the guest speaker.

MRS. DACH IS A VICTIM OF STARVATION

LAGRANGE, Tex., Aug. 24.—Mrs. Anton Dach, 36, farm woman sentenced to death for the murder of a farm hand, died in a Fayette county jail cell last night of self-imposed starvation.

The widow, who weighed 250 pounds when arrested for the slaying of Henry Storver, 58, weighed 180 pounds when she died.

Since last May, when she was convicted and given one of the few death penalties ever imposed on women in Texas, Mrs. Dach had fasted intermittently. She had not eaten for two weeks prior to her death.

"I will be carried out of this jail dead," she told her jailors, looking up from the German bible with which she had solaced herself.

Storver was slain last February. At the trial the woman claimed he attacked her and otherwise abused her.

Local Option Elections Planned In 188 Counties

DALLAS, Aug. 24.—Over a table laden down with volumes of testimony, the state railroad commission today heard arguments of the reasonableness of the 40-cent a thousand gate rate charged by the Lone Star Gas company to 250 Texas cities and towns using natural gas.

Eleven counties, according to records from Austin, were without local laws forbidding sale of intoxicating liquors when the state adopted national prohibition. In these counties no election will have to be held to legalize the sale of 3.2 per cent beer if that issue is passed at Saturday's election.

They are Austin, Harris, Bexar, Comal, Fort Bend, Guadalupe, Jim Hogg, Kendall, Kinney, Lavaca and Zapata.

In 39 other Texas counties partial prohibition was in force. The restricted areas in many includes majority of the eight precincts in each county, in others a minority area of the county represented by school districts or less than a majority of the number of precincts in the county.

The provisions of the bill passed by the 43rd session of the legislature said a local option election could be held, either concurrently with the state-wide poll or later, if a certified petition was presented to the commissioners' court.

In many of the counties not holding elections on the local option issue Saturday the commissioners received petitions calling for the election but declined to act, either because the petitions did not bear sufficient signatures or because the court felt action at this time was not expedient.

Test votes of wet strength will be had in many populous counties, among them Dallas and Tarrant. An especially strong drive by wets developed along the Oklahoma border, where the argument in favor of voting for beer at local option elections was that residents would go to Oklahoma for their beer if the issue failed at home.

Beer Is Legalized Over Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 24. Legalized beer flowed in Arkansas for the first time in 19 years today as Gov. J. M. Fulton signed the measure legalizing light wines and beers in the state.

The signature was affixed to the measure a few minutes after the senate completed legislative action on the bill by formally passing it 24 to 7.

The bill became effective immediately with the governor's signature.

400 FEET OF OIL RISE IN WELL QUICKLY

Work Is Shut Down While Control Head Is Installed and Storage Prepared.

A good oil well has been brought in on the Hunt lease six miles southeast of Ranger by Bill Morris and his associates, it was reported in Ranger today.

Drilling on the lease has been going on for only a few weeks and had reached the sand at 1,235 feet. At that depth 400 feet of oil quickly rose in the well and drilling was shut down in order to install a control head and to prepare for storage. It is expected that the work will require about two days before the work on the well will be continued.

A good showing of gas was also encountered in the well and indications are that it will be one of the best wells brought in in this section of the country in some time.

Much interest in the well is being manifested by the oil fraternity, which has been watching developments since the well was spudded in several weeks ago. It is now classed as one of the outstanding discoveries in this section in recent years as it opens up what is expected by some to be a new field.

Arguments On Gas Gate Rates Are Being Heard

AUSTIN, Aug. 24.—Over a table laden down with volumes of testimony, the state railroad commission today heard arguments of the reasonableness of the 40-cent a thousand gate rate charged by the Lone Star Gas company to 250 Texas cities and towns using natural gas.

W. C. Fitzhugh, attorney for the oil and gas division of the commission, argued for a 30 or 32-cent rate which the division recommended after valuation of the Lone Star properties.

Fitzhugh asserted that in valuing transmission lines, the engineers had allowed a higher cost of all kinds of construction work than witnesses for the company, excepting only back filling of dirt over lines.

EAST COAST IS STILL SWEEPED BY HURRICANE

A terrific southeast gale raged along the Atlantic seaboard from Atlantic City to Boston today, while the lashing tail of a tropical hurricane which yesterday created havoc in North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia, was blowing itself out in Pennsylvania.

Property damage was reported in the millions with 16 known dead, but it was feared the death toll would be heavier when dozens of communities are heard from.

Today's gale was a new storm. It marked the fifth consecutive day of bad weather, which has gripped the Atlantic seaboard. In all at least 20 lives have been lost.

Six were known to be dead in the Norfolk area, which bore the brunt of yesterday's hurricane. Property damage was estimated at $5,000,000 in that area.

Capitalism Is Blamed by Pastor For Many Evils

DETROIT, Aug. 24.—Capitalism has done more in this country in the past 25 years to create communists, empty churches and ruin men than the writings of Karl Marx and others, the Rev. Charles Coughlin told the grand jury investigating Detroit bank failures today.

"Capitalism," he said, "rests on the commandment, 'thou shalt not steal.' In the past 25 years capitalism has done more to create communists, empty churches and ruin men than the writings of Karl Marx and others could possibly have done.

Meanwhile Judge Harry B. Keidan announced he had not abandoned efforts to bring former President Hoover here as a witness.

"When Mr. Hoover learns that many of the men he designated as possessed of first hand information have already appeared on the witness stand here and refused to give us the information we sought, I feel he will reconsider his refusal to testify."

KINK STRAIGHTENED OUT

Some minor officials with a bureaucratic trend, in some of the county relief organizations, did a degree of harm to the pending bond issue relief proposal before they got straightened out.

Specifically, voters in one county who were being asked to help the bond issue saw fit to inquire what money was being spent in relief employes' salaries in that county.

The result is the entirely commendable showing that the cost of administering relief is less than 5 cents on the dollar, and that by setting up a trained administrative personnel of responsible employes, far more than 5 per cent is being saved.

The result showed that the county administrator of one of the three or four largest counties, a $10,000-a-year man in normal times is working for $300 a month, and handling many hundreds of thousands of dollars and thousands of relief cases.

It showed that in the second rank counties of up to around 100,000 population, administrators are being hired for $150 a month. There can, and could have been on objection to disclosing that these people are paid these small salaries—small as compared with the volume of work, the special training required, and the calibre of these in the jobs.

The whole situation showed that you cannot appeal to the people of Texans to put across anything even as great an emergency need as the state bond issue, without dealing with them in a frank, fair spirit, and recognizing their right to know every fact concerned with a public administration such as this.

SESSION DATE SET

A week after the election, Texas lawmakers will be reassembled at Austin to adjust state laws to the relief emergency and to the national recovery program.

This is the report from members of the house and senate, who have been told by Governor Ferguson to be ready for the session Sept. 5.

Rep. J. D. Young, Cuero, and more than half a dozen other lawmakers have been assured the day after Labor Day, Sept. 5, has been chosen for the reconvening.

This session itself is an evidence of the unusual situation. It is the first special session ever called by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, and the first called by the Fergusons except that already convened by Speaker F. O. Fuller in 1917.

If the state bond issue amendment had been adopted, the legislature will authorize issuance of about $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 of the bonds—to be sold to the R. F. C., by the way—but if it should after all be defeated, then the legislature will have to take direct action to pay the state's total relief load from month to month.

Under this call date, the lawmakers will be in session when the bond, beer, repeal and other election returns are canvassed Sept. 11, and the results promulgated by Secy. of State W. W. Heath.

Seemingly, partisan politics and controversy will be laid aside in this session called for emergency needs of the state, and the best efforts of all factions and groups will be given to meeting the extraordinary conditions in the most effective way.

ANOTHER APPOINTMENT

The death of W. A. Morrison of Cameron has opened to Gov. Ferguson the appointment of another member of the state board of education, though it will not increase the present administration's membership in the board, Mr. Morrison was appointed by Gov. Ferguson after his first nominee declined to serve.

Politics jarred the board of education when the senate failed to confirm able men who had been serving as its members. But, with any one two-year administration having less than a majority on this board, the administration public school affairs is pretty well beyond the reach partisan politics generally.

That the problem of world disarmament re-

Fourteen States Needed to Repeal 18th Amendment

The electorate of 22 states has voted in favor of repeal of the 18th amendment before Texans went to the polls today.

Fourteen more repeal votes must be had before the 18th amendment can be taken from the statute books.

Formal action on the vote in Texas will take place Nov. 27 when a state convention is held.

Thou shalt wear no other styles upon thee.

Thou shalt not drape upon thee any off colors, or any likeness of anything that is not broad shouldered, or that is not swagger, or that violates Parisian figures.

Thou shalt not slave thyself for them, nor admire them; for we, the fashion setters, are a jealous lot, visiting the scorn of society upon thee unto the third and fourth season;

And shewing favor unto thousands of them that patronize us, and keep our salones prosperous.

Thou shalt not take the ideals of the N. R. A. lightly; for America will not hold him guiltless that worketh his employes overtime.

Remember the 18th amendment, to help repeal it.

Thirteen years hast thou thirsted and brewed all thy liquor;

But this is the wets'. In it thou shalt not refrain from beer, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy butler nor thy cook, nor thy beggar that is upon thy back doorstep;

For in four years Wall Street and unemployment made havoc and ruin, rags and tatters, and all that in them is, and awaiteth this year;

New Machine for Tabulating Votes Will Be Set Up

By United Press

AUSTIN.—A new machine for tabulating election returns, designed to speed announcement of total votes, will function for the first time the night of Aug. 26 when the polls in Texas' special election are closed.

The new machine was geared by a woman. For six years Senator Margie E. Neal, of Carthage, has tried to revise the state's cumbersome method of making known the results of an election. Only a few would listen to her at first. Her second effort was approved by the Texas senate but failed in the house by one vote.

Both house and senate of the last legislature passed her bill, effective immediately.

Her purpose was three-fold: 1. To make election returns more quickly available to the public; 2. to protect the interests of candidates for office; 3. to protect voters from being disfranchised through failure of election officers to perform their proper duties.

After the presidential election of 1932, at least six Texas counties failed to make any returns whatever.

Senator Neal's law requires that immediately after the polls close one of the election judges shall make a correct but unofficial memorandum of the total number of votes counted for each candidate at that time and publicly announce the status of the count.

Similar announcements are required at intervals of two hours thereafter. The memoranda shall be "accessible to the public, and especially to newspaper reporters."

On the 15th day after the election, the secretary of state is required to telephone unofficial returns to the county clerk. He is directed to tabulate unofficial returns up to midnight on election day, and to announce the status of the count at intervals. When all unofficial returns have been tabulated, the totals must be telegraphed or telephoned to the secretary of state.

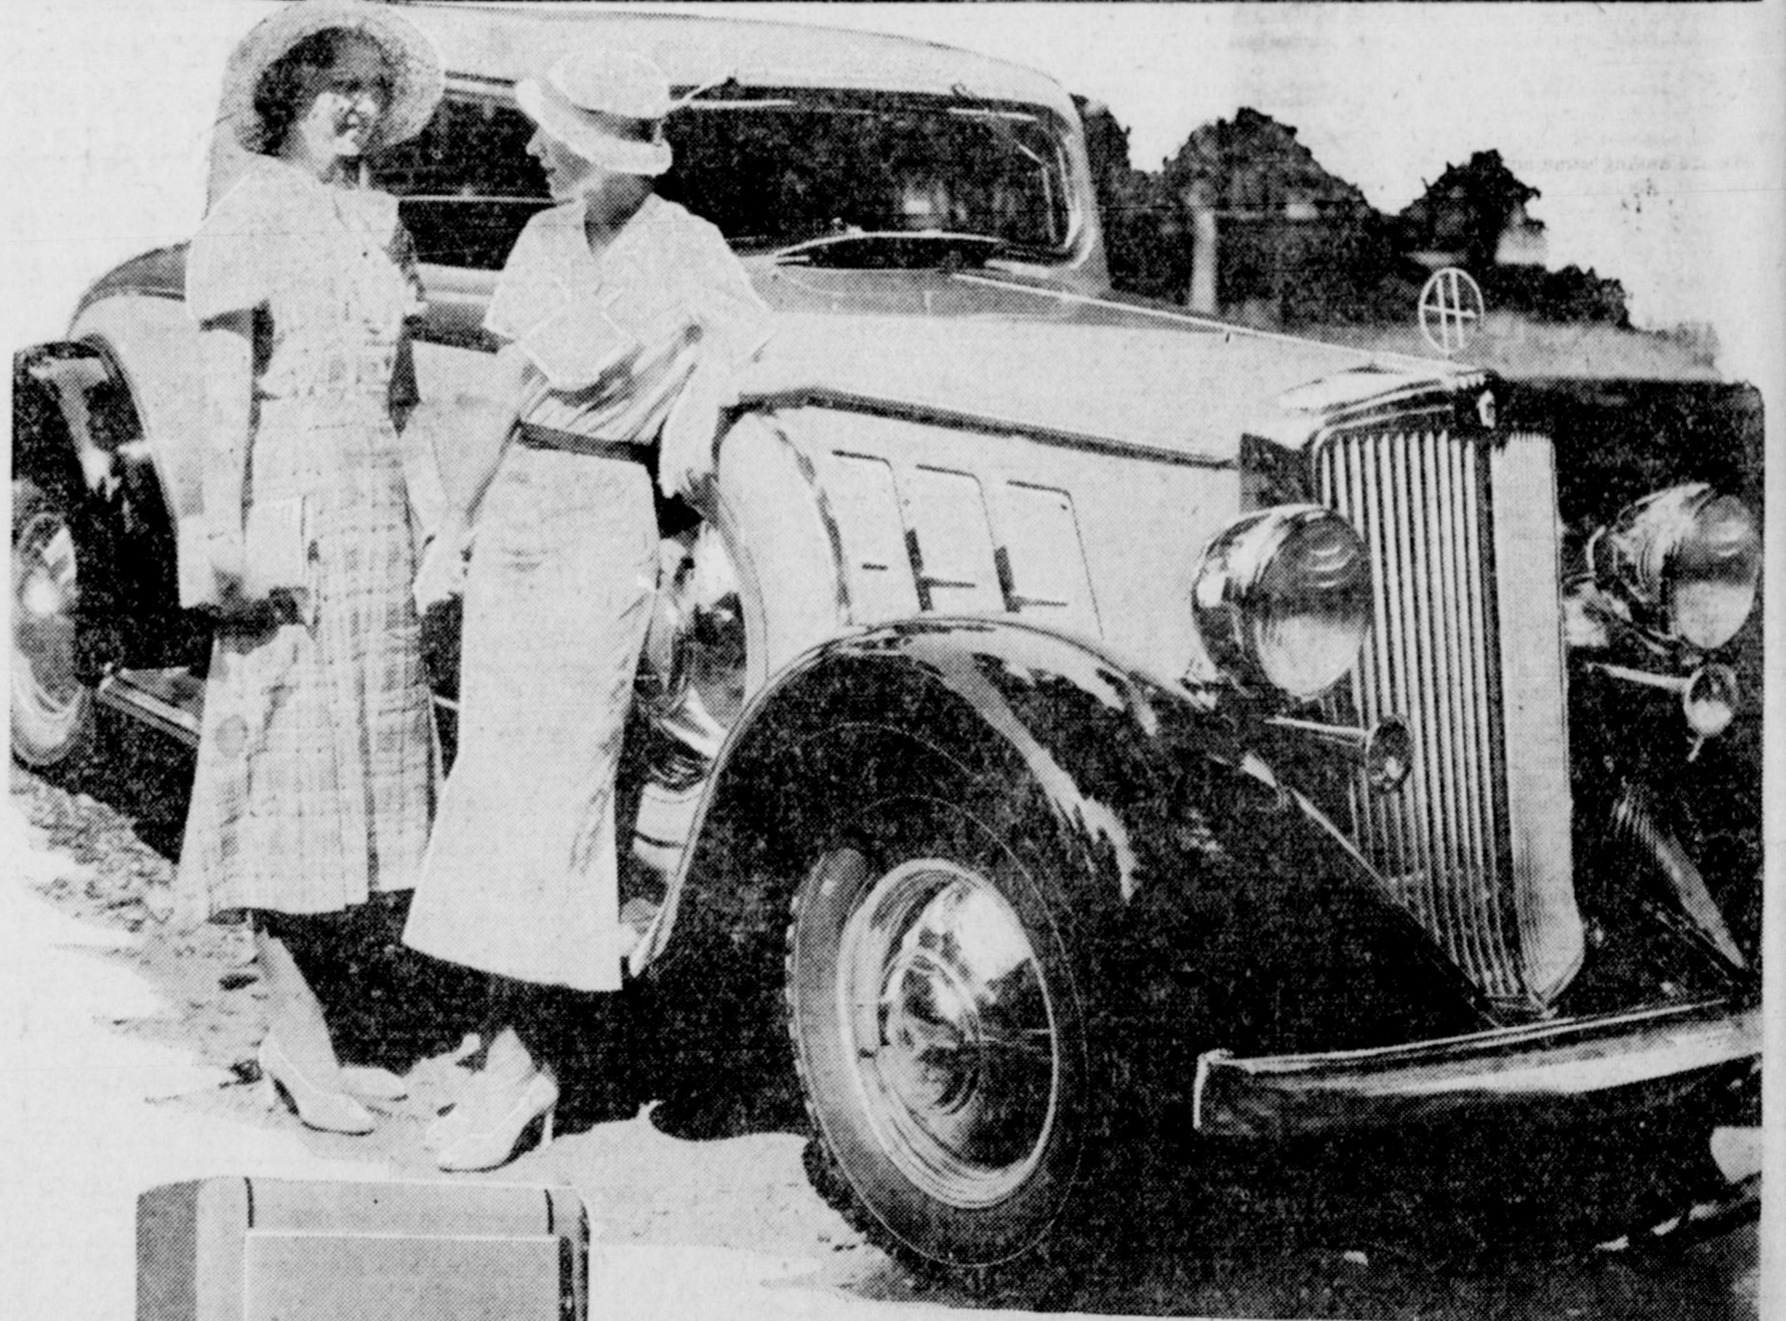

The secretary of state is directed to announce the status of the statewide count once each day. Heretofore there has been no provision for tabulating unofficial returns.

Strangely enough, that Nebraska congressman who is credited with misbranding gas is accused of putting a misleading caption on one of his campaign speeches, but of violating the state gasoline law.

"Pop" Warner is no longer the "Old Fox" of the gridiron. He's now Chief Charging Bear. The former Stanford coach, and present Temple mentor, visited some of his old Carlisle players among the Black-foot Indians of Montana recently. When he left they gave him that tribal name, a beaded buckskin coat, and a pipe to smoke. Above you see him puffing up "big medicine" for Temple.

CUBS BUY HIM

In order to pack a heftier punch on their current eastern invasion, the Chicago Cubs spent $25,000 to buy Adolph Camilli, above, first baseman of the Sacramento club of the Pacific Coast League. The youngster will take Manager Charley Grimm's place on the initial sack, Grimm going to the bench to confine his efforts to directing the Cubs in their drive for the pennant.

Story refers to James D. Dole, newly appointed chief of the agricultural administration's food products section, as the father of the pineapple industry. That's strange; we always thought this distinction belonged to Al Capone.

That Reminds Me

happier for it... as well as really then doing your part to help instead of injure.

The thing to do now is for all of us to get together and work out the thing that is primary above everything. That is to put people to work... create more buying power... work shorter hours... pay decent wages... and run the rest of your business just as you have been doing for the best interests of your self and your community. Remember that price hikes and price fixing is frowned upon and is against the National and State law. Report any violations of this act to the local committees and if they don't act then go direct to Washington with it. Don't let anybody bulldoze you into thinking that you must charge prices as may be fixed by certain individuals in your respective competitive line. And if you refuse to join any price agreement and you hear later that your competitor is going around telling people that you are an NRA slacker... report it to the proper authorities. The penalty won't be inflicted upon you, the one doing the talking and knocking will be the one to answer to the authorities.

This thing has got to work... but by safe and sane methods... and cooperation.
