A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

CONSIDER THE POOR: Blessed is he that considereth the poor: the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble.—Psalm 41: 1.

AN ARISTOCRATIC SPORT GOES DEMOCRATIC

Among the ancient institutions that have had a good bit of their gloss rubbed off by contact with a rough-necked world during the last few years one must not forget to list the once snooty game of tennis.

This game, which started way back when as an amusement for the nobility of Europe, has been carried along on the tide of events until now it is becoming a diversion for the masses, much like baseball and football; and the sign of its change is to be found in the way the galleries behave at the big matches.

If you have followed the newspaper accounts of the recent matches at Forest Hills, you can hardly fail to have noticed that players, umpires and presiding officials were pained every so often by the effervescence of the paying spectators. A one-time tennis queen was booed lustily when she walked off the court; shouts of applause punctuated all of the games, the umpires were obliged often to call for quiet, and the players protested that the yells of the cash customers disturbed the Sabbath-like quiet in which the games were being conducted.

All of this is contrary to the ancient dignity of tennis. You are not supposed to cheer loudly, or to administer the razzberry, in a tennis stadium. A little refined hand-clapping, now and then—that's the limit.

But the crowd gets unruly, in spite of tradition. And the whole business is just one more example of the thing that inevitably happens to any game when it is trotted out of the seclusion of an aristocratic club and made a spectacle for the people at large.

These big tennis matches make their bid for popular support. The stars are national characters in precisely the same way that star baseball players, golfers and pugilists are national characters. Some of them, for all the fact that they are "amateurs," make a very good living out of the game. And they have precious little kick coming if the cash customers get noisy.

When you court public favor, build a big stadium and collect cash at the box office from all comers, you can't complain if the crowd behaves as it would at any professional exhibition. Lawn tennis, college football, polo—all of these sports are being professionalized because they woo the crowds. If the sponsors of these sports are pained at the way the crowds act, their one remedy is to stop selling tickets.

Business men with highly imaginative minds who spend their time building air castles should stop dreaming. Life is a serious matter. Dreams seldom come true. It takes hard work, quality goods and newspaper advertising to build any business.

There we go: we issue bonds in hard times to take care of people until good times return so we can pay off the bonds and be ready for hard times again.—Mynatt Smith in McAllen Daily Press.

The merchant who reads this newspaper and does not advertise in it should stop to think. He knows it reaches and is read by the people he wants to sell, so why not advertise in it?

Speed maniacs should be taught that the time to be careful is before accidents happen—not afterwards. By not thinking "Safety First," a lot of them jump head-first into trouble.

Some people seem to choose pleasure today instead of comfort tomorrow.

BLACKSMITH FLIES TO MULES

By United Press

MISSOULA, Mont.—Into his airplane climbs Dave Pronovost, blacksmith, when he gets a call from the forest service remount division. Pronovost, who holds a record of shoeing 33 mules in one day, uses planes frequently to reach isolated posts. Recently he flew from Missoula to Big Prairie, reaching there in little more than one hour. If he had gone to the station by road or trail the trip would have required at least four days.

GROUND SQUIRRELS WENT TO BED EARLY

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo. All because they ate well, but not too wisely, eight ground squirrels went into winter hibernation two weeks early this year. The squirrels were fed during the summer by Willis T. Smith, ranger naturalist in charge of the Madison museum. As they ate and ate, they grew fatter and fatter—and sleeper. About Aug. 1 Smith missed his guests, and found they had retired for the winter.

During this week transportation contracts have been mailed to all schools that operate school buses.

It is the plan of the department of education to get the first reports on transportation about the last of October and then make payment for the first half of the school year.

Applications for state aid are now being made and are supposed to be finished and in the hands of the deputy superintendent by Oct. 15.

The state board of education made a ruling in its June meeting at Lubbock, that all teachers in rural aid schools in 1934-35 would be required to have a minimum of two years college training.

The board also recommended that in so far as it is possible, teachers in state aid schools should secure special preparation in the subjects or grades wherein they are employed to teach.

Blanks for making application for the library aid under the new law are in the office and schools expecting to secure this aid should make application for same at once.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

BEGIN HERE TODAY EVE HAYLES, pretty assistant to CARLE, the advertising manager of Biaby's department store, marries DICK RADER, a construction superintendent. Dick is sent to take charge of a construction job in the Adirondacks. It will require at least a year to complete but Eve refuses to give up her work and go with him.

THE night before Thanksgiving day Eve ate dinner in a downtown restaurant and then went to the library where she selected two of the newest books to read over the holiday. It was one of the evenings when she missed Dick dreadfully and wanted to put off going home.

It was a great satisfaction for you to have Jean! began Eve. "I don't know what I would have done without her!" nodded Mrs. Penney. "She is all I have lived for these last 17 years. And she looks so much like her father. That is my greatest joy. I believe she has inherited his ability, too."

IT WAS twilight and the room was lighted only by the flicker of a candle. The boys washed the dishes. Apparently they were quite at home in Mrs. Penney's flat. "They are all from out of town," she explained to Eve. "And I mother them a bit. But they understand I must give most of my energy to my job and if they want to play here they must help with the work."

Cabinet Meeting
The Home Makers Bible class of the Baptist church Sunday school, held a cabinet meeting Tuesday afternoon in the church classroom, with session conducted by Mrs. Artie Liles, substituting for their president, Mrs. William Shirriffs, who was unavoidably absent.

A business session, the last one of the present board, resulted in the decision to have no more cabinet meetings, excepting those held by call of the incoming president, Mrs. S. D. Phillips, who takes office on Sunday, Oct. 1.
After that date, the cabinet meeting will be held the second Tuesday of each month, preceding the social session, the first of which was announced for Oct. 10, 2:30 p. m. The hostess and place will be arranged later.

The group, that has the lowest score in the six-point attendance contest now in progress, will be the social hostess on that date.
Other business affairs were left to be handled by the incoming board of officers.
Those attending the meeting were Mrs. S. D. Phillips, Artie Liles, Claud Maynard, and L. G. Rogers.

Scale Runners Club
Opens Season
The Scale Runners club, an organization of junior musicians, held their first meeting of their new club season, Tuesday afternoon at the home of their director, Mrs. A. F. Taylor.

The new board of officers took their places at this time, with the session conducted by their new president, Miss Marjorie Murphy. Minutes of the last meeting held before the vacation period, were submitted by Miss Anna Jane Taylor, the retiring secretary, and approved.
A secretary was elected, Miss Betty Jo Newman, to fill the place of the recently elected secretary, who has left the city with her family.
Miss Elaine Crossley was elected critic.

The year-book committee, Misses Mava Lou Crossley, Johnnie Mae Murphy, and Marjorie Murphy, announced that the year-books will be ready for distribution at the next meeting.
The books are being made by hand, and are very attractively bound in the club colors, green and white, and are quite artistic.

The program opened with a piano selection by Patty Nell Hood. Reading by Lurline Ross; piano solos by little Misses Elaine Crossley and Helen Lucas.
Reading, Miss Linda Hassell; piano selections by little Misses Marjorie Murphy and Mava Lou Crossley.

A clever dance by Johnny Lou Hart and Emmalee Hart featured the program.
Musical games, under direction of Mrs. Taylor, were exceedingly interesting, bringing an ear training game and bingo, played in musical terms.

The Scale Runners club is one of two junior music clubs, and the little misses of the membership, conduct their meetings in parliamentary fashion, with the business routine that obtains in the senior clubs.
At close of a pleasant afternoon the little group adjourned to the lawn where they enjoyed refreshments of ice cream cones and small cakes.

The next meeting will be held the second Tuesday in October.

Knights of Pythias Meet
H. E. Davis, chancellor commander, presided over the meeting of the Knights of Pythias Tuesday evening, with 10 members in attendance.

A committee was appointed to confer with the Pythian Sisters temple, concerning resuming the social evenings. Tom Lovelace was named chairman.

The knights voted to have a booth at the fair, in charge of H. C. Davis, Dr. R. C. Ferguson, and Herbert Reed.

Talks on the good of the order were made by Dr. Ferguson and Karl K. White.

The "42" tourney had its fifth play with Herbert Reed and Dr. Ferguson leading.
Adjourned to next Tuesday night.

High School P.-T. A. Party
The Parent-Teacher association of the Eastland high school opened their season of work, with a jolly social evening, Tuesday, original in every line, and under direction of the general chairman, Mrs. J. LeRoy Arnold.

A big crowd was in attendance and many dads, added to the joy of the evening.

As guests were registered by Mrs. W. P. Palm, they had self-introductions cards pinned on the shoulder and were then met by Mrs. A. J. Campbell, president of the P.-T. A., and Mmes. Frank Lovett and D. L. Childress, and had a paper sack tied on the right hand, with instructions to shake hands with everybody until the paper glove wore out.

Mrs. Arnold met the guests at the entrance to the cafeteria, where 14 tables were arranged with linen covers and flowers, and four places each for guests.

The informal program was conducted by Mrs. Arnold. "The Eyes of Texas" was enthusiastically sung ensemble, followed by "How Dry I Am," with Miss Maurine Davenport as pianist.

An impromptu surprise number followed in a tuneful rendition of "Sweet Adeline," yodelled by L. J. Lambert, Jim Carter, E. E. Layton, W. P. Palm, and Coach Petty.

Mrs. Arnold then called upon the principal of each school, for fine points and pointers, concerning the use of cosmetics, responded to by Mrs. A. C. Simmons of South Ward; "Conduct of Teachers," by Mrs. Herring of West Ward; "Of the Faculty and Junior High;" E. E. Layton, and "What the Football Squad is Doing," by W. P. Palm, of high school.

Supt. P. B. Bittle was asked to praise himself and responded in too modest fashion.

Mrs. A. J. Campbell, in the name of the High School P.-T. A., then extended a gracious welcome to all.

A series of funny questions were propounded by Mrs. Arnold, in unusual problems, to those who taught "math;" food diets; those who taught health; unusual names, for those who taught spelling; queer places to be found by those who taught history, etc., on down the line through science, English, reading, commercial department, public speaking, foreign languages, expression, and athletics. The latter had the following query propounded. "Is it necessary in order to qualify for athletics, to have the athlete's foot?"

Funny question pertaining to music was answered by Miss Lillian Thompson and Mrs. A. F. Taylor.

Mrs. Russell proved that expression can be carried in more than teaching and Mrs. C. C. Ligon, that the cafeteria is full of good things.

After each had acquitted himself or herself as creditably as possible the "teacher," Mrs. Arnold, declared them all to be incompetent.

The balance of the pleasant evening was spent in playing games of choice at the tables, supplied with dominoes, or anagrams, jigsaw puzzles or rook.

Pleasant piano selections were played throughout the evening by Mrs. Wilma Beard, and refreshments were served of open-face sandwiches, canapes with cheese topping, centered with olives; cake and coffee, by Mmes. Arnold, Palm, Lovett, Childress, and Campbell.

The next regular meeting of the association will be held on the third Wednesday afternoon in October.

Members present, in addition to faculty, were Mmes. J. A. Watson, Milton Newman, D. S. Eubanks, W. L. Meade, E. M. Anderson, L. C. Hail, J. C. Patterson, E. W. Gornley, S. W. Taft, Stuart S. Harris, D. Samuels, W. T. Self, Coplen, C. M. Campbell, R. E. Kilborn, James Little, Karl F. Page, J. R. Carlisle, O. T. Pegues, D. J. Germany, Ernest H. Jones, J. Atchley, O. O. Mickle, J. U. By United Press
SYRACUSE, N. Y.--Michael De Mare, of Syracuse, can "take it," as thousands of boxing fans, who know him as "Kid Coogan," can testify, but blows delivered from a baseball bat, in the hands of his wife Pauline, were more than the absorption powers of the "Kid" could stand.

He took the "count" after he failed effectively to dodge three lusty wallops of "Mrs. Coogan's" bludgeon. When he came to, he had his wife, who has been separated from him for three years, arrested. Pauline promptly fainted when she was found guilty in city court and the judge deferred sentences until a late date.

Fable of the Girl Who Made Good

MISS MARY BROWN, Charming Member of the Younger Set, knew her cosmetic lore and her feminine lure, was versed in Poiret and Patou, the Pouring of Tea and the gentle art of Playing Subdeb. She knew the names of the best jumpers at the Horse Shows, and who was Possible and Impossible.

But what she knew about Cooking, Buying for the Table, and Keeping House, you could write on one of her pink little fingernails in Capital Letters.

Papa had spent his Last Cent to equip her to be a Rich Man's Bride. But at the last minute she Obeyed that Impulse and married Bill, who had a Tough Job supporting even himself on his Meager Salary.

But Mary was game. She stowed her "Litt. B." from Vassar in the Attic and started to learn what a Whale of a Difference a Few Cents make.

She became Advertising-Conscious. A Bargain in Sheets would make her Emote. She felt like Turning Handsprings when she got the News of a Price Reduction, or how to make the Left-over Roast into a Ragout. In fact, she was having so much Fun making her Dollar Bills Stand Up and Work that she never had Time to feel Sorry for Herself.

Moral: To live happily ever after, read the advertisements.
