Prisoner Tells Of Kidnaping A Schoolteacher

HOUSTON, Oct. 7.—A story of how two men kidnaped an Arkansas school teacher and a city marshal, shot an officer and committed other crimes on a wild night's foray, was told by one of the men in a county jail cell here today.

Fred Shaffer, 25, former convict and baker, confessed to the sheriff he was wanted in Nashville, Ark., on charges of kidnaping, automobile theft, burglary and shooting an officer.

Shaffer was taken from a freight train here last night. He said he and his partner, who he said was held at Nashville, abducted the school teacher at El Dorado, Ark., Sept. 15, releasing her after taking her automobile.

TWO ESCAPED CONVICTS ARE RE-CAPTURED

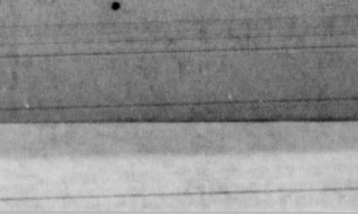

TUCUMCARI, N. M., Oct. 7.—Two of the 11 convicts who broke from the Kansas state prison last Memorial Day were under arrest here today, one of them probably fatally wounded by a straight-shooting New Mexico sheriff as he sought to escape.

In a hospital, near death, lay Robert (Big Boy) Brady. In a jail cell, manacled, lay Jim Clark, Texas and Oklahoma had man, known as a killer and bank bandit.

Clark at first was believed to be Wilbur Underhill, fugitive killer sought in eight slayings and also a participant in the Memorial Day break, but fingerprints finally proved his true identity.

Driving a car which was heavily armed, and carrying $3,500, believed to be the loot from the Frederick, Okla., bank robbery, the pair was trapped two miles east of here last night. Denominations of the bills led to the belief the men yesterday held up the Oklahoma bank.

THREE GUESSES

CAPITAL AND LABOR WARNED TO COOPERATE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—President Roosevelt today warned capital and labor that industrial troubles must be thrust into the background until the war against depression is over.

Speaking at the dedication of the Samuel Gompers memorial monument, he said, this was no time to seek special privilege and advantage or personal gain "because of the fact of a crisis." The majority of workers and employers realize this, he said.

In broad terms the president dealt with "recalcitrants on both sides." He declared that they cut a very small figure in the total of those cooperating with the administration recovery drive, but warned the few would have to be lassoed and "put in a corral."

He made reference to "hot heads who think results can be obtained by noise and violence" and to employers "who think in terms of dollars and cents instead of terms of human lives."

Funeral Services To Be Held Today For Mrs. Herrington

Funeral services are to be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at Necessity for Mrs. Mary Herrington, who died at her home at Frankel Friday night at 8:30 after a long illness.

Services are to be conducted by Rev. K. C. Edmonds of Ranger, with interment in the Necessity cemetery immediately following the services. Burial will be under the direction of Killingsworth, Cox.

The decedent is the widow of Joe Herrington, who died about five years ago. She was a pioneer citizen of Stephens county, where she had resided for many years.

Disarmament Meet To Be Postponed

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 7.—Postponement of the world disarmament conference was considered today while European statesmen faced a crisis brought about by a German demand for armament equality with other powers.

So serious was the situation that some speculated on the possibility of the conference adjourning with an armament race and threats of a war in the background.

In view of the emergency it was thought Premier Mussolini of Italy might invite the premiers of Great Britain, France and Germany to a conference in Italy.

Failures Show Big Decrease Over the State

AUSTIN.—Only 18 commercial failures occurred in September, against 33 in August and 47 in September, 1932, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Liabilities of the firms, however, totaled $845,000 compared with $765,000 for September last year. Asstes, on the other hand, were only $110,000 as against $418,000 in August and $410,000 in September, 1932.

For the entire third quarter of the year the number of failures was 51 per cent less than for the corresponding period last year; total liabilities were 51 per cent less; and assets of the failed concerns were 54 per cent less than those of last year.

Average liabilities per failure were $46,944, compared with $23,182 in August and $17,000 in September, 1932.

Baby Falls to His Death From Window

DALLAS, Oct. 7.—Robert Baker, two and a half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Baker of Minneapolis, was killed today when he fell from a 12th floor window of the Adolphus hotel. The child was seated in a window in his parents room when he heard a street car pass. Unable to see the car he had opened the catches to the screen. He lost his balance and fell six floors, landing on a court.

Kills Friend in Hold-Up Hoax

Joseph G. Gregorovic, 19, of New York, had a fine scheme to cover up the problem of $5 which he borrowed from his father's grocery charge account. He would have his best friend, Louis Zelenka, wound him in a fake hold-up and thus bring him sympathy instead of censure.

Louis Zelenka shot. The bullet drilled Joe's chest and killed him. And here Zelenka, center, tells his story to Detective August Gillman.

GUARANTEE ON BANK DEPOSITS IS APPROVED

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—The senate today passed finally a bill creating a guaranty fund to protect deposits in member state banks. The vote was 24 to 2.

The bill provides a "bank deposit insurance company" composed of eight members. The state commissioner of banking is one member. Others are appointed by the governor, lieutenant governor and speaker of the house.

The corporation shall direct accumulation of the deposit guaranty fund. Approximately $1,000,000 will go into the fund in the first year of operation under terms of the bill.

When the surplus sum of the corporation reaches $25,000,000 the corporation may suspend payments of member banks.

Each member bank is required to subscribe an amount equal to 5 per cent of its capital stock.

Great Lakes Skipper Holds High Medal

SUPERIOR, Wis.—Captain Charles H. Mohr, who has rescued 27 persons in his lifetime of sailing on the Great Lakes, is as modest as Capt. George Freid, who is famed for his rescues on the Atlantic.

"Sailing a great life," he says. "There isn't a captain on the lakes who hasn't faced death at least once."

Captain Mohr was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for his rescue of the crew of seven of Our Son, last commercial sailing schooner on the lakes, on Lake Michigan in 1930.

He is the only Great Lakes captain to hold the medal.

Report Says Three Million Back at Work

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—More than 3,000,000 men went back to work up to the end of September and "employment is still increasing," the American Federation of Labor said today in its October survey of business.

On the basis of the estimate, fewer than 10,350,000 still are out of jobs, compared with 13,359,000 at the peak of unemployment in March.

The present drop in production, the federation said, should be regarded as a wholesome development. The survey said the recent rise in employment and payrolls together with a drop in production, had created a sound basis for progressing strong contrast to the speculative rise last spring.

Distilleries May Make More Whiskey

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Dr. James Doran, head of the bureau of industrial alcohol, today issued orders permitting American distilleries to step up their yearly whiskey production by 7,000,000 gallons.

The heavy demand for medicinal whiskey since liberation of the prescription laws and probable repeal, lead to the decision.

Relief Bill Before House For Action

AUSTIN, Oct. 7.—Action on proposed state bread bonds swung to the house of representatives today where its judiciary committee reported to the house a composite bill, differing in major particulars from the pending senate measure.

The house bill calls for issuance of $6,000,000 only. It sets up separate commissions to sell the bonds and spend the proceeds. One committee might have a "spending complex," it was explained.

It makes the governor ex-officio chairman of the spending committee, but provides she shall have no vote. It enlarges the present membership of the commission by two, making the lieutenant governor and speaker of the house members. They will each appoint two members. Also the governor can appoint three.

Wmoo Kills Two Sons and Self

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 7.—Unwilling to leave her two sons behind in the life she had determined to quit, Mrs. Hazel O'Brien, 33, today shot and killed them both, then fired a bullet into her own breast, police reported. She was not expected to live.

Jobless Man Makes Rings of Car Parts

ONTARIO, Wis.—Robert Gordon turned his hobby into a business when he lost his job and now makes a small income by making finger rings out of old automobile parts.

In his unique craft, Gordon uses piston, fan pulleys, and wrist pins. All are hollow, and come in enough sizes so that Gordon is able to offer a large selection of sizes in his finished rings.

From the piston and pulley, which are bronze, imitation gold rings are made. The wrist pin is wrought into a ring that resembles silver.

After the rough product is smoothed out on an emery wheel, Gordon either places a setting of carves initials in the surface.

Those churches who were winners in the Eastland Telegram Horn o' Gold contest and who have not called for their money, are advised that the money is at The Telegram office for them.

Second Assembly Program for E H S

The second of the series of assembly programs, introduced twice weekly by the Eastland High school, presented Mrs. W. K. Jackson on the program Thursday, introduced by Miss Thea Lea Roper, member of the public speaking class.

Mrs. Jackson, urged the freshmen to organize a junior civic league, and have the opportunity through their coming four years of high school work, to beautify the high school grounds, with shrubs and pines, transplanted from the native hillsides, in this fall season.

The speaker stressed the impression of barren surroundings about the beautiful building made on the public and the ultimate effect such lack of beauty would have on the minds of the students.

Her talk was enthusiastically received.

This weeks programs, present Fire Chief Hennessie or a representative, in an address on fire prevention week to be given tomorrow, Monday, at the assembly hour, 11:30 to 12 noon.

The next assembly program on Thursday will be conducted by the pep squad, and presented by Mary Frances Hunter, Kathleen Cottingham, Raymond Pipkin, and R. L. Perkins, Jr.

RELIEF SQUABBLES

A one-minute speech of Sen. Margie Neal in the senate this week showed the relief investigation had got just where inevitably was headed, to a point where partisans of one set of politicians were trying to discredit the record of another set in defense of its own.

But while it was obvious that two groups of senators themselves would develop testimony favorable to two administrators, and seek to cross-examine witnesses to tear down favorable testimony to the other, it has been conspicuous that testimony seeking to discredit volunteer local agencies and the three regional chambers of commerce was brought out primarily through Lawrence Westbrook, present relief director.

Westbrook's job is to administer relief according to law, so long as the law puts this function in his hands and leaves it there. His task before the senate is to relate facts of what he has done in relief work.

"I'm sick of hearing about Sterling testimony and Ferguson testimony," Senator Neal exclaimed.

It is essentially unfair that he should be drawn, by any group of senators into the politics of a defense of his superiors—the present board and the present governor—or an attack up on any other administration or policy.

Politics is essentially involved in the whole question of relief, and logically the senate has inquired into political implications all along the line. There have been sharply conflicting statements in the testimony, such as the Rev. Gibson's report of one per cent costs in Galveston county, and Director Westbrook's testimony that his auditor's report shows over 10 per cent costs for the same period under the Rev. Gibson's administration. Probably it would be well to try to refine all this testimony down to essential facts; but after all, what the legislature is trying to do is to determine what kind of an agency it will use in distributing future bond funds and federal relief funds, and what form of organization will best and most economically function. The senate will be a long time in determining this in recriminations and cross-examinations about what somebody said about what somebody did during any past transactions that have no bearing on future policy.

RETRENCHER IN ACTION

Rep. B. F. Vaughan of Greenville, who ranks with Pope of Nueces as one of the extreme retrenchers of the legislature, wrote an amendment upon the horse-racing bill to limit the racing commissioner to $10 per day or $1200 a year, instead of the $3600-a-year salary that some thought they were granting this official. The yearly limit would hold the racing official actually to 120 days work a year, or a little better than two days a week.

Mr. Vaughan insisted that some of the revenues from licensing horse racing and betting on horse races should go to the state, rather than to a set of office-holders for administration.

CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT

The Texas house of representatives has approved ratifying the federal child labor amendment. State senators say the upper branch will in all probability return also a favorable vote.

In this case, the depression, the need of finding jobs for adults, will confer a great boon on children, in stopping exploitation of their labor, in keeping them in schools during their childhood rather than pushing them toward prisons when grown up.

Forgotten Sweetheart

BOB WESTON, son of a millionaire, is deeply attracted to JOAN WARING, a pretty Memphis girl. Bob is in Memphis in connection with his father's new textile plant. Joan's family is poor. Her father, member of an aristocratic family, killed himself years ago. Joan's mother longs for her daughters to have the social position desired by her. PAT, Joan's younger sister, loves pleasure. She is infatuated with JERRY FORRESTER, son of her employer. Joan considers Jerry a spoiled playboy and is troubled over Pat.

Bob asked, veering away from a dangerous subject, 'What's the exciting news?'

BARBARA COURTNEY, a popular society girl whom Bob knew in New York, is scheming to win him. Bob is compelled to break a tentative date with Joan when he learns Barbara has included him in a dinner party. Pat reads about the party in a newspaper and learns that Bob is the son of the man who owns the textile plant. She tells Joan Bob is only amusing himself with her. Joan is unhappy until Bob calls and explains about the date. Bob has just put down the telephone when a call comes from Barbara who asks him to take her to the party. She says she has 'something exciting' to tell him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER IX

BARBARA and Bob sat at a small table near the front of the hotel dining room because Barbara wanted to see as well as hear the orchestra. Once she sent word to the leader, asking him to play 'Look Who's Here.' She smiled at Bob when the leader complied with her request. 'It's for you,' she said. 'I'm feeling very important, luring you away from important duties.' Bob smiled back. Barbara was a child—a sweet child.

'It's nice here. Everybody comes,' Barbara chatted on brightly. 'The pretty girl at the table on your left will be a debutante next season. Two other girls who will probably make their debuts in the fall are at the table in front of us. Of course,' she went on, 'I just dare you to look at anybody but me!'

Bob asked, veering away from a dangerous topic, 'What's the exciting news you promised me?' 'I'm carrying you away to a house party down in Mississippi. Carol Sheridan, the girl you liked on the party last night, is giving the whole Sheridan house the love-liest old home! It's been in their family for generations. And a swell crowd is going.'

'When did you say?' 'We're driving down Friday morning and coming back Sunday afternoon.' 'I'm sorry, Barbara. I couldn't possibly make it.' Three days without seeing Joan! Barbara's eyes met his. Her voice had a little edge as she said, 'Now, Bob, don't tell me the work couldn't go on without you. You've a date with someone, haven't you?' He hadn't but he would have after seeing Joan that night. On Sunday Joan wouldn't be busy and he was hoping to have the whole day with her. There was something he wanted to tell her—that she was the sweetest, dearest, most wonderful girl in the world.

that made it possible and Telegram to fans the play World's Series.

LYRIC TODAY ONLY

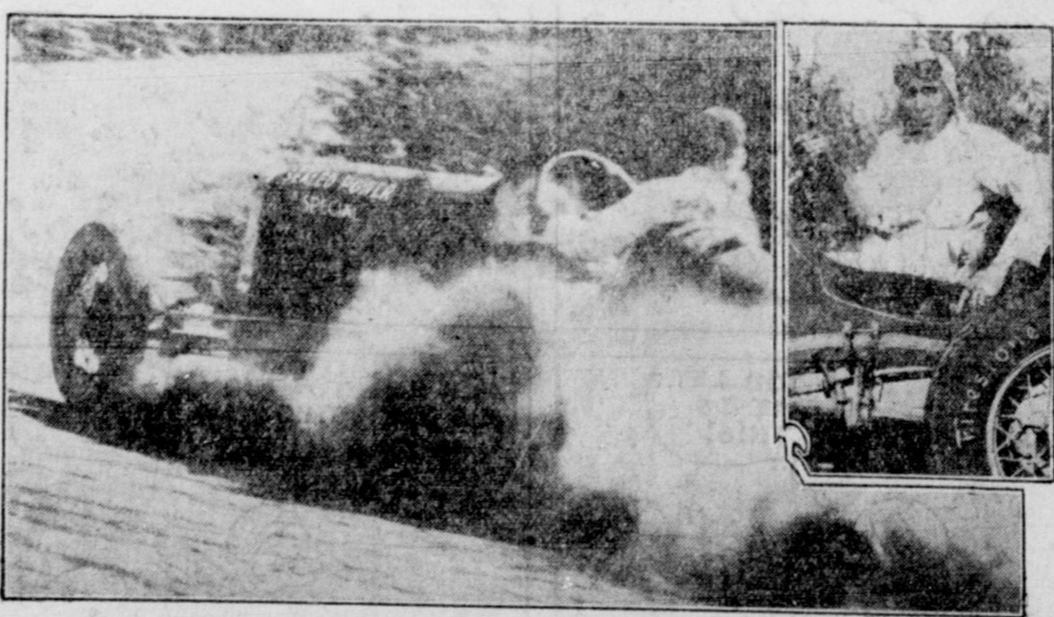

What are the details of the private lives of New York's gold-digging damsels? What goes on in the boudoirs of these scheming "ladies of the evening"? What are the secrets of Broadway's professional purveyors of pulchritude? The answers of these interesting questions are provided in "Ladies Must Love," Universal's gay musical picture which opens an engagement at the Lyric theatre with June Knight, Neil Hamilton, Dorothy Burgess, Mary Carlisle and Sally O'Neil in featured roles.

In the story the three latter girls are seen as out-and-out gold-diggers, loving 'em and leaving 'em when they run out of money, but the more charitable Miss Knight, who shares their luxurious Park Avenue penthouse, exhibits traces of a conscience, and refuses to accept the lavish gifts of the wealthy Neil Hamilton. It is when this situation strikes rough water and June loses her man through a misunderstanding, that the other three girls, each blaming the other for the loss of a promising meal ticket, stage a knock-down and drag-out fight that entirely wrecks their apartment.

With Miss Knight as the principal soloist, "Ladies Must Love" abounds with jingling songs, which have already become popular throughout the country. These include "Tonight May Never Come Again," "I've Got Personality," "I'd Worship Him Just the Same" and "Three Little Maids"—the latter sung by the other girls in a riotously active beer garden, scene of their first real work in a long, long time.

"Ladies Must Love" is said to be the ultimate in gay, wise-cracking, intensely modern screen entertainment.

"Bottomless Pit" a Hazard of Great Pike's Peak Race

Glen Shultz, 1933 Pike's Peak Winner, going into a hairpin turn—dust enshrouds him as the rear of the car begins its swing around. Inset shows closeup of the victor.

Firestone Dealer Describes Greatest Mountain Spectacle

The towering heights of Pike's Peak loom down each year upon the world's greatest mountain climb spectacle. According to Roy Speed, Firestone dealer of this city, the recent 1933 race is a story that should interest all who drive automobiles.

"For the seventh time, Glen Shultz, of Colorado Springs, won this speed classic against 18 of the best racing drivers of the country," Mr. Speed said. "Shultz traveled the steep 12-mile course in 17 minutes and 27.5 seconds. Of course, bear the brunt of this gruelling test. They must safely negotiate the 181 'hairpin' turns, as the cars travel the dizzy ascent at mile-a-minute speeds. For the eighth consecutive year Firestone High-Speed Gun-Dipped Tires were on the winning car.

"An interesting sidelight on the importance of tires is given by Shultz's wire to Firestone just after his victory. 'The Pike's Peak race is over, and I was fortunate enough to win it again with the able assistance of Firestone tires. The present tread compound is the toughest we have ever seen. On our workouts we used only one-third the rubber that we did last year—and with more horsepower to grind it off. My congratulations on the development of your product.'

"The Pike's Peak race is a gripping event. The start is from Crystal Creek bridge, 9,150 feet above sea level, and the summit is 14,109 feet above sea level. Temperature runs from summer heat to freezing. The roadbed is of decomposed granite. Thousands of spectators line the course, which is as jagged as a lightning bolt. The sharp-angle turns are like hairpins—'switchbacks' they call them—where the driver must 'throw' the car around into the opposite direction. At one of these a sign reads 'Bottomless Pit' where there is a sheer drop of 5,000 feet.

That Reminds Me

burning likewise, staying a temporary necessity.

This is not a special bouquet of flowers that are thrown to the utilities for the benefit of them and need cause no chest out egotism for their benefit. But it is a fact, and if the utilities will continue to pay wages that avert controversy of employees happy and contented then they have done more than any other institution that we know of. We are serious when we say that somehow utilities and independents in the same line are not a bunch of fools. They must have made a deep study of the situation as far as labor is concerned, because of all the folks we meet in all lines of business, somehow, they are happy; even in depression.

But we'll tell you on the Q. T. We're bellyaching too... and the D— gas rate, the phone rate, the water rate and the light rate is too high, and of course you know the reason. It's just because the darn thing seems to come around too often. But we're telling you one thing, if our belliesache would have anything to do with cutting the salary of a single fellow working for these utilities or oil companies, Boy Howdy! We'll take back every thing we said about high prices, of these things, and by gosh, the boss or somebody else had better fork over to make up the difference.

Somebody said the other day that the utilities and oil companies spent millions of dollars lobbying when the legislature is in session. My God man, wouldn't you, if every time they met somebody put in a bill that would make it ten times harder on your customers? They want to stay in business... who wouldn't do the same thing?

But what a deluge this columnist may bring down on his head. But before you get all hot up, think it over. There are some things that we can study a little bit before we pass judgment.

Hunter Finds His Dog Really Points

PORTERVILLE, Calif.—When "Dick," N. H. Leggett's valued painter dog, points at birds, he stays pointed.

"Dick" disappeared the other day, Leggett promptly offered a reward.

The next day, William Baird, an orange grower, brought the dog home. He found him, he said, "pointing" a covey of birds he had flushed. The dog, he said, apparently had held his position more than 32 hours while awaiting his master.
