Dr. Thompson's body was found in his parked automobile near Pleasant Hill, La., about 50 miles south of here last Oct. 16. He had been missing four days.

The youths were arrested five days after the body was discovered. They are held at Many, La., near Pleasant Hill.

Chevrolet Dealers Report Good Sales

Enthusiasm runs high in the minds of Messrs Butler & Harvey, both as to their record for new Chevrolets and used cars for this territory. Mr. Butler in conversation with the Telegram and Chronicle stated that business has been beyond his expectations. A special feature that is meeting with good favor and will no doubt be gradually increased in interest is the recent policy adopted in estimating the complete cost of overhauling automobiles from top to tire and financing the deal by allowing the customer to make small monthly payments for the job. Mr. Butler stated that regardless of what is necessary that arrangements can be made to turn over a complete turn-key job to the customer. This includes, if necessary, new top, upholstery, battery re-charge, motor completely overhauled, brake linings, replace any parts, tubes, body straightened, fenders straightened—in fact everything that an automobile needs have done to it. And he states that right at this time that those whose automobile needs attention will be surprised what low prices can be made for the job.

Mr. Harvey, co-member of this popular firm states that the sales of new Chevrolets has been unusually good and that the General Motors company, manufacturers of Chevrolet, is highly pleased with results obtained in Eastland territory. The popularity of Chevrolets has been exemplified in the recent automobile reports as to sales comparisons in which Chevrolets are leading the entire field in new cars for the year up to October 1st. He also adds, "Now is the best time for people to look to their automobile needs whether for new or having their old one overhauled. Indications point to much better business and when it comes delays in deliveries and demands for quick jobs will be in order. An efficient force as well as every modern machinery equipment is maintained in our plant."

Farley spoke under the auspices of the North Carolina democratic leaders. His address was announced beforehand as being for North Carolina to vote next Tuesday's amendment election. Farley made that appeal and then devoted the rest of his time to a resume of the president's accomplishments.

SPEAKING OF THE SALE OF BEER IN TEXAS

Comptroller George S. Sheppard has let it be known to the people that during September, the first period of beer legislation, the state received $168,218 from dealer licenses and $162,554 from sales tax. All this for licenses granted for three and a half months, or from Sept. 16 to Jan. 1. He predicted that when permits were taken out for the whole new year "the aggregate receipts from licenses alone will be near $700,000 if not more."

Since May of the year the income from the new cigaret stamp act has been $982,127 from sales and $27,260 from dealers' permits, total of $1,009,387. It is significant that the new act raised the income by nearly $100,000 a month. He recommended additional legislation. Home breweries appear to have gone out of business in many Texas counties. Speaking of the real brand, the comptroller lets it be known that where the beer sellers pay the tax to the state he is powerless to stop them in dry counties for the reason that local prosecuting officers "are charged with the duty of filing complaints of violation of the dry laws."

Even the pro leaders of America concede that the 18th amendment will be relegated to the cemetery of dead things an dead hopes before the organization of the congress in its January session. Prohibition is not a dead issue. It will continue to bob up in coming years. State control of the so-called "problem of the liquor traffic" appears to be coming in the 48 American commonwealths.

PACKERS ARE GIVEN A WARNING BY WALLACE

Secretary Henry A. Wallace is a quick action individual. His latest is a warning that something of a showdown is coming with the meat packing industry "if the price of hogs is reduced when the processing taxes to finance the hog and corn production control-to become effective next month." Secretary Wallace is a very hard-headed citizen of the Hawkeye State. He is said to be a very able man. His father was a champion of the farmer and "his rights." Wallace walked in the footsteps of the father. Now the hog-corn plan contemplates a flow of $350,000,000 in benefits into the pockets of producers during the next 16 months with reduction of corn production by 20 per cent and hog output by 25 per cent—the dual goal of the secretary of agriculture. Milo Reno is a Hawkeye. He is responsible for what is known as Renoism in the corn belt and wheat producing states.

Time waits for no man. Don't put off until tomorrow what you should do today. You won't live forever.

Forgotten Sweetheart

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JOAN WARING, pretty Memphis girl, and BOB WESTON, son of a New York millionaire, meet in Memphis and fall in love. They become estranged through the scheming of HENRIETTA MUNN, a popular society girl, who is trying to win Bob for herself. Joan goes to New York to search for PAT, her younger sister, who has run away after an unhappy love affair. Joan is hired as a waitress at a night club. Pat reappears and becomes Barney's secretary. It is not long before she realizes she loves her instead of Joan. Joan sings at a fashionable entertainment and discovers she is in Bob's home. Bob recognizes her voice and takes her to the apartment she and Pat share with Barney's step-mother. The apartment is in the name of "Mrs. Barney Blake," and Bob learns that Joan is living there as "Mrs. Blake." He tells Barney of her love for Bob and learns that she loves Pat.

CHAPTER XXXII
MORE than one driver cursed Bob Weston freely as he swung the gray roadster in and out of traffic. Miraculously, through some mechanical agility that had nothing whatever to do with conscious effort, Bob avoided each impending collision.

Now he knew that, despite doubts and disappointments, he had always set Joan apart from other women. Only to find that she was common clay after all, pitifully frail and human!

She was wearing a mask, exploited and glorified like some cheap, intriguing show girl. There could be but one interpretation of Joan's presence in that luxurious apartment. She was living there as Mrs. Barney Blake.

Bob assured himself that he would put her out of his life now, utterly and completely. From now on he and Joan would go their separate ways.

But he could not forget the way she had responded to his kisses, the way she had whispered, "Do you love me, Bob?" What could it mean except that she was willing to cheat this other man who had taken her so far along her ambitious way?

Bob let himself into the great hall of his home and mounted the stairs. A light was burning in his father's room and the door was slightly ajar. "That you, Bob?" his father called.

Barney and Pat were married just before noon. They did not wire Mrs. Waring. Joan had promised to write her mother as soon as the steamer sailed, to write voluminously and explain everything. A wire would only have left Mrs. Waring confused and troubled.

They had luncheon at a flower-decked table in the corner of a hotel dining room. Those around them had only to look at Barney and Pat to know that this was a gala affair.

THERE were nearly two hours before sailing time and Barney suggested a drive. They passed the New York Yacht Club basin with its jumble of sea craft. Pat's gaze was caught by a group of young people a-cut to board a private yacht. She called Barney's attention to the kay group and, with his attention diverted, they almost collided with a long black limousine, shooting past. There were two men in the back seat of the black car.

If they had stopped a moment they would have seen the men—a tall, blond young fellow and a gray-haired man—join the crowd boarding the yacht. But Joan was talking to Mrs. Blake and Pat's eyes were only for Barney.

A little later Joan and Mrs. Blake stood on the pier in the milling crowd. Everywhere there were happy, excited voices, the flurry of departure. Goodbys were being said, baggage carried aboard.

Barney and Pat stood at the rail of the big liner, looking down on Joan and Mrs. Blake.

"Goody. We'll write," Barney promised.

"You know you won't!" Mrs. Blake chided, smiling.

"Happy voyage!" called Joan. And then Barney was waving and the fluttering of Pat's handkerchief joined hundreds of others. Slowly the little tug boats eased the liner out into mid-stream. Slowly the liner turned, heading toward the sea.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—Big, raw-boned Walter Teagle of Standard Oil can be a terror to arrogant small-ty industrialists.

More than once, in secret hearings of the National Labor Board, he has silenced noisy employers who protested the board's authority to intervene in their disputes with workers.

Indignant protests from labor members are expected and discounted. But when Teagle, who brooks no disrespect for that board, booms out in his slow, powerful voice, "Well, now, gentlemen—you can't say that!" the whole might of big industry seems to come down on the little fellows, like the side of a house.

Teagle works hard for settlements. He is willing, at least, to have the hearing staved off indefinitely. Finally, Chairman Wagner made it plain that the dispute must be considered without further delay, and Swope withdrew from the case.

A few more days and the strike might have been broken.

So far, no one has caught up with the line in his Texas speech which said that "Every person connected with the administration is grateful for what the vice president has done."

MEMBERS of regional National Labor Board should be reminded, according to the National Board's instructions to its local boards. No definition of term is obtainable here.

Acts 15:1, 2, 22-31

PAUL IN JERUSALEM

Where the spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.—2 Cor. 3:17.

The Golden Text expresses the golden essence of the entire lesson, true liberty.

In the summer of A. D. 49, Paul and Barnabas returned to Antioch after their first missionary journey, covering a period of more than two years.

They found the church in confusion due to a bitter controversy concerning the question of the admission of Gentiles into the church without the obligations of the Mosaic law being observed.

Paul with his great experience and vision saw at once the danger of putting anything in the way of salvation.

Two words in the opening verses are interesting, "certain men came down from Judea." "Certain others of them should go up to Jerusalem"—down and up.

Jerusalem was regarded as the pinnacle of Jewish authority and the temple hill as the center of revealed religion. This people had a great respect or belief in tradition and were jealous of the historic faith.

In studying the entire chapter we see Paul standing out boldly and proving the teaching false. It was the great difference in experience. He called the council of the church to consider and delegates, Paul and Barnabas, were sent to Jerusalem, "unto the apostles and elders about this question."

The picture of this council, considering, speaking and even pleading, looking for divine leadership is a powerful plea for such a course in directing affairs of our churches today.

James, presiding, summed up the testimony and quoted prophecy from Amos. Certain phrases in the lesson are interesting study: "Being assembled with one accord; beloved Barnabas and Paul, and our Lord Jesus Christ."

Truly with the leadership of the Holy Ghost and with the Lord Jesus Christ in their lives, they cannot help but have leaders called out by the Lord of Lords. Happy was the ending of that council.

"So when they were finished, they came to Antioch; and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle which when they had read, they rejoiced for the consolation."

It is a time of rejoicing when anyone visions Christ, and the meaning of liberty. It was hard for the people then and now also to understand.

For the law of the spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death.—Romans 8:2.

It requires a knowledge of Christ through leadership of the Holy Spirit found in study and meditation of God's Word so that we can understand that we must love our neighbors as ourself and seek to serve as did the lowly Nazarene. With understanding of our fellow man and sympathy for all we can say with the Psalmist:

"Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity.—Psalm 133:1."

Lawrence Thomason
Entertaining Friends
A delightful Halloween party on Tuesday night that ushered out the witches in merry pranks was that of Master Lawrence Thomason, who entertained his young friends from 7 to 10 p. m., at the home of his mother, Mrs. C. R. Thomason on North Ammerman avenue.

The entire house was decorated in witches and black cat emblems and orange paper festoons with golden pumpkins here and there. The dining-room light was shaded by jack-o-lanterns, and beneath the dining-room table laid in orange and black cloth was attractively arranged for the cakes iced in black and other Halloween shades.

Games were led by Arlean Moss and tapping was done by a group of young folk, Martin Jean Lester, Billie Gage, Mary Martha Fuller, Virginia Ray, and Lillie Dale Chambers.

Other attractive amusements brought piano music by Mrs. W. O. Wright, and Billie Gage as undertone to merry frolics.

At close of a delightful evening refreshments of cake, and iced lemonade with cherry topping were served by Mrs. Thomason.

Those present, Cordelia Settles, Margie Maxine Guthrie, Kitty Marie Frost, Henryetta Moss, Alice Lavonne Thomason, Mary Opal Ballard, Martin Jean Lester, Mary Martha Fuller, Lillie Dale Chambers, Billie Gage, Virginia Ray, Laverne Green, Margaret Ray, Johnnie Faye Green, Virginia Green, Winnie Dell Thomason; Ted Guthrie, Neal Samuels, Bobbie Simmons, Lyndle Lynch, Bobbie Jean Ballard, Elmo Wood, Fred Frost, Clifford Ballard, H. F. Settles, T. W. Self, Buster Woods, Junior Norton, Hilton Fay Kuykendall, Guy O'Neill, Junior Knox, Francis Brock, Leo Wolf, Milford, James Eppier, William Temple Green, Eugene Seed, James Seabough, Roy Thomason, Ernest Webb, Bill Hart, the young host, Lawrence Thomason, and mothers, Mmes. C. S. Guthrie, S. C. Green, Lee Ballard, and Hilton Kuykendall.

Intermediate R. A.
And G. A. Fine Program
The Intermediate Royal Ambassadors and Girls Auxiliary of the Junior Missionary society of the Baptist church, enjoyed a fine program, at their meeting held Wednesday afternoon in the church classrooms.

The session was opened by their president, Miss Della Webb, in a song service, "Let Others See Jesus in You," and "Rescue the Perishing."

Prayer by Miss Webb, prefaced the reading of the minutes by their secretary, Miss Geraldine Terrell.

During the business period it was voted to send a stated sum of money to the Lottie Moon special Christmas offering which is sent to the foreign mission field.

Bible study from the 26th chapter of Matthew was conducted by Miss Dora B. Williams.

Closing prayer was offered by Miss Frances Norton.

Those present, Misses Annabel Arterburn, Katrina Lovelace, Marzelle Wright, Frances Norton, Beulah Drake, Marie Hilburn, Geraldine Terrell, Dora B. Williams, Faye Taylor, Della Webb; Curtis Terrell, and Mrs. L. G. Rogers, director.

Junior Thursday Afternoon Club Interesting Session
The Junior Thursday Afternoon club enjoyed an unusual program, that centered about folk songs and dancing.

The club met in community clubhouse for their regular session Wednesday afternoon with the president, Miss Joyce Johnson, presiding.

Minutes by Miss Sadie Brewer, secretary, were approved. Following the routine business Miss Nell Caton was elected club delegate to the State Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held in Austin.

Mrs. Harry B. Sone was elected permanent library chairman for the club.

Miss Ruth Ramey, hostess for the afternoon and leader of the program, introduced Mrs. J. E. Hickman, who led the folk songs, in both American and German in which the club joined in singing the stanzas by rote.

Folk games were led by Miss Ramey, to selected music from a portable phonograph, among these being "Pop Goes the Weasel." The instructive hour concluded with the playing of circle and dancing games.

Mrs. Harry Sone will be hostess and leader for the next club meeting when "Children's Books" will be the program subject in recognition of National Book Week, which opens Monday, Nov. 12.

In addition to the foregoing mentioned others present were Misses Maurine Davenport, Edna Day, Doris Ladd Johnson, Ina Payne, Aline Walker, Mary Pearl Judkins; Mmes. J. F. Collins, Frank Hightower, Jack Vaught, F. J. Petty, J. O. Brothers, Jack Ammer, Mrs. Wayne Jones, sponsor of the club, attended, and Mrs. J. E. Hickman was a guest.

Boys and Girls World Club
The interesting continuation of the study of Japan and the Japanese, programmed the meeting for the Boys and Girls World club, Wednesday afternoon, in the lower assembly-room of the Methodist church with directors Mrs. J. U. Johnson and Mrs. Earl Bender, conducting the lesson.

The various divisions met in general assembly for a song service, which brought "World Children for Jesus," and "Friends," and the reading of a Bible verse in unison, "A friend loveth at all times."

The international relationship and friendly attitude towards foreign children is one of the motives behind these programs.

Mrs. Johnson continued the stories of the "Life of the Little Jap Girl," Wakato, in the account of "Wakato Doesn't Like a Bath."

Following the story the club prayer was recited in unison.

The boys' work on the Japanese garden now in course of construction was resumed while the girls made Japanese konomos for their dolls.

South Ward School P. T. A. Called Meeting
The Parent-Teacher association of the South Ward school met in called session in the school cafeteria Wednesday afternoon at request of their president, Mrs. L. Y. Morris, in order to transact some important business as well as hold their election for delegate to the coming State P. T. A. convention slated for Nov. 11-23, in Sherman, Texas.

Mrs. Morris presided over the session which opened with the report of the general chairman, of the recent Halloween carnival, Mrs. Carl W. Hoffmann, which showered $136 cleared over and above all expenses.

Mrs. Hoffmann very graciously thanked all those who assisted her with the carnival.

Twenty-four dollars was allowed for payment of balance due on "Classroom Teacher," on which a $10 payment had been made.

It was voted to buy a new standard football for the school. Money to buy a new rope for the big school flag was allowed. The flag was the gift of the Civic league several years ago, who also put in the foundation and staff.

Flag-raising ceremony is conducted by the school on special days.

Mmes. Lewis Pitzer, Hazel Roper and M. H. Kelly were appointed by Mrs. Morris as committee to re-decorate the restroom and supply it with fresh linens and other necessary material.

The discussion of opening the cafeteria aid ways and means for so doing was conducted, and the possibilities of opening the room will be looked into and reported upon.

The report of Mrs. D. S. Eubanks, as delegate from the association to the Eastland County Council of Parent-Teacher associations held in Ranger, Saturday, Oct. 28, was interestingly given in full.

Mrs. A. C. Simmons, principal of the school, expressed her deep appreciation of the co-operation of the parents in the success of the carnival, and for the interest they took in the school work for which they had to have, and showed, a smooth school spirit.

Mrs. D. S. Eubanks was elected delegate to the State P. T. A. convention and Mrs. Carl W. Hoffmann alternate.

There were 20 members of the Parent-Teacher association present.

New Chan Film to Be Here Saturday

"Charlie Chan's Greatest Case," the new Fox film depicting the most recent adventures of that bland Chinese detective from Hawaii, opens Saturday night at the Lyric Theatre. Warner Oland, famous for the portrayal of Charlie Chan in past screen successes, again has the role of the philosophizing policeman who finds clues where others deem to tread.

This latest story from the vigorous pen of Earl Derr Biggers takes Charlie Chan over the most difficult trail of crime and clues it has ever been his experience to tread. Stopped at every point by closed mouths and fearful associations, Chan falls back on his mellow philosophy to the solution of a crime that has the police backed against a wall. In his suave kindly manner Chan proves himself more than ever to be a man of iron will and hitting nittelite.

The leading feminine role is in the hands of Heather Angel, beautiful newcomer to the American screen, and she is said to acquit herself with the sureness of a veteran American audience achiever. Their first glimpse of this new star in "Pilgrimage," but her role in "Charlie Chan's Greatest Case" is reported as giving her her largest opportunity to date.

The supporting cast, headed by Roger Imhoff and John Warburton, is the most notable ever assembled for a Charlie Chan film. It has Walter Byron, Ivan Simpson, Virginia Cherrill, Francis Ford, Robert Warwick, Frank McGlynn, Clara Blandick, Claude King, William Stack, Gloria Roy and Cornelius Keefe.
