Moore... ABOUT Eastland

By Virgil E. Moore

Cisco is an oft-spoken word around Eastland these days, especially at the Maverick practice field. There the Mavs are whipping into shape, and Cisco is the only thing they have on their minds.

The Mavs will step "out of their class" against the Lobos, who are Class AA contenders, and will probably go into the game as the underdog. That won't make Coach Carrol Shelton a bit mad. He walked up to this scribe during a lull in practice Wednesday and said, "Just look at those little old boys." We looked, and they didn't look too little to us, but we didn't tell Carrol that.

There is a feeling of a winning team around the Maverick camp. But overconfidence isn't prevailing. For the Mavs know that you don't win football games in the newspaper or with your mouth, you win them on the gridiron. And they know too that they will be facing two ancient rivals that have continually pushed Eastland's face in the mud. First it will be Cisco.

The Sheltonmen don't have to think very hard to remember how the Lobos love to run up a big score. In 1954 Cisco kept plugging until the final gun to push up a 52-12 score, and last year they pounded out a 33-12 win. Most of the 1956 Mavericks played in both games, and they remember all too well. If Cisco gets another chance, you can bet the score-keeper will be busy. This year they may not be the ones keeping the electricity flowing to the scoreboard, however.

Ranger — where football is king — is that second big rival. There will be no letdown for that game either. For the Bulldogs have kept the locals from even scoring for five years. That's something else the Mavs have to set straight.

But the games will have to be won by hard play, because both Cisco and Ranger will have the advantage of playing on their home fields.

Of course we are not forgetting Dublin, DeLeon and Cross Plains either. They fall in between the Cisco and the Ranger games, and will be plenty rough.

Watching the Mavs workout has lifted our spirits a lot. We get a kick out of watching those hard charging backs pound their way through the line in an effort to dash close enough to the water sprinkler to catch a mouthful of water. Yep, it's football time again, and we are going to have a hard time writing about anything else for the next 12 or 14 weeks.

Virginia Collings, John Earl Goode and Glen Lively all celebrate their birthdays today, and Friday is the big day for Dickey Corbell, Geneva Howell and Dan Massingill, according to the Band Boosters' community birthday calendar.

I don't believe we ever got to praising the 25 elect judges in Saturday's primary. Complete returns were available at 8:30 from Eastland county Saturday night — just one and a half hours after the polls closed. That is something that is highly unusual. Usually the complete results are not learned until the next day. The judges deserve a pat on the back for a job well done.

Now that we have chosen sides and picked the candidates, we can really start talking politics. Some folks will have a hard time this year deciding whom to vote for in the presidential race. We will not. We will vote for the Democratic nominee.

Why? Because they are Democrats. Now we know all about that "you shouldn't vote for the party you should vote for the man" stuff, but we just can't digest it. If ever there was an honest, hard working 100 percent American it is Dwight Eisenhower. But let's look at the records.

During the last three years of the Truman administration, corporation profits rose 18 percent. During the first three years of Ike's administration they jumped 34.1 percent.

Salaries and wages increased 38 percent during the same period under Truman, and just 12.5 percent under Eisenhower.

Fourteen Seniors Head List of 1956 Mavericks

Fourteen seniors, 10 juniors, 10 sophomores and 11 freshmen—that's the 1956 Mavericks.

The Mavs, thin as far as replacements are concerned are expected to field a fast, aggressive team this season. Seniors include Stanley Blevins, Dickie Corbell, P. A. Cox, Wayne Durham, Lupe Herrera, J. C. Jarrett, Tony Johnson, Harvey Lewis, Jimmy Martin, Jim Phillips, Dale Slatton, Duard Turner, Bill Uehurch and Clyde Young. Juniors are John McMahan, Leo Murray, Bill Norwood, Saul Pullman, Ronald Robertson, Juan J. Smith, Hampton Stamey, Charles Thompson, Fred Tucker and Henry VanGeem.

Sophomores are Larry Alldredge, Knicky Arther, Denny Dukes, Larry Hollis, Don Hull, Clint Humphreys, Charles Martin, Stanley Reed, Tommy Shaw and R. L. Stuard.

The eleven freshmen are Marvin Agnew, Martin Day, Wayne Dodson, Truman Lane, Phillip Lewis, Gary Lusk, Joe Martin, Fred Miller, Joe Stambaugh, Bill Turner and David Whitten.

Student managers are Clarence Mayers, Ernest McAllister and Perry Miller.

Coaches Carrol Shelton and Jon Tate have divided the squad into an "A" team and a "B" team. Shelton said he was pleased with the play of many of his freshmen.

Golf Tourney, Barbecue Set This Weekend

Saturday, Sept. 1, is the date set for the qualifying rounds of the 21st annual golf tournament at Ranger Country club. First and second rounds will be played Sunday and the finals are on tap for Monday, according to the committee.

With the defending champion, Jimmy Phillips, Tulsa, Okla., to be on the scene and some $1000 in prizes being offered, the tourney seems to be well on the way to success at this time.

Included in the list of prizes are five sets of irons, five sets of woods and one golf bag. The winner of each flight will be presented with a set of irons, the runners-up will receive a set of woods.

Consolation prizes will be golf balls. No mention was made as to how the golf bag would be disposed of.

Saturday night, will be barbecue night. Tickets are on sale at two bucks per throw. Ladies are invited, provided they have tickets, no mooching permitted. Stuffing time is set at 7:30.

OVERSTOCK CUTS DOWN FISH SIZE

AUSTIN — A South Texan has just determined that overstocking of his private pond, and not some mysterious ailment, was responsible for the abnormally small catfish he has been catching.

Communicating with the chief aquatic biologist of the Game and Fish commission, the man learned that the 700 plus big and little channel cats he placed in his one-acre tank originally comprised about 15 times more than recommended by technicians. He had complained that, after four years, the catfish he was catching were only five or six inches in length.

The chief aquatic biologist explained that planting 50 catfish fingerlings in a tank the same size will produce amazing growth.

Cisco Junior College Begins Pre-Enrollment

Pre-enrollment at Cisco Junior College began Monday and 24 students completed their registration on the first day. Twelve other students completed their preliminary class schedule indicating that they would be in attendance on Sept. 4.

Registration inquiries and pre-enrollment figures are such as to indicate the largest post-war enrollment of the college, Grady Hogue, president, said.

"This increase is attributed to the success of the graduates of Cisco Junior College and the expanded curriculum now available to the students. Another factor in the enrollment forecast is the economical tuition and dormitory rates at the local college," Hogue said.

Hogue, 30, recently accepted the position of president of CJC. He replaces Carlos J. Turner, who recently resigned. He had served as head of the science department at Henderson County Junior College at Athens for the past five years.

Edward W. Minoo, who served as an administrative official at Henderson Junior College, joins Hogue at Cisco as dean and registrar.

Ben Green, a graduate of Eastland High School, will head the math department at CJC this year. Green, who is married and has an eight-month old daughter, Paula Susan, was principal of Hawley High School last year.

1956 Amendments To The Social Security Laws

The 84th Congress and President Eisenhower have put into effect a number of changes in the old-age and survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security act. This series of short articles will provide information about each of the changes summarized below:

1. Reduced age for women. Widows and dependent mothers may receive same benefit that would heretofore have been payable at age 65; wives and insured women may receive slightly reduced amounts; new age requirement is 62 instead of 65; November of 1956 is first month for which such benefits may be paid.
2. Disability payments. Cash payments can start in July 1957 to those aged 50 and above who are so disabled that they are unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity, provided they had sufficient social security coverage before the onset of the disability.
3. Disabled children. Age 18 no longer stops child's benefits if he meets disability requirements; some claims can now be payable for such children where parent died after 1939 and disability has existed since before the child was 18; effective January 1957.
4. Armed forces coverage. Compulsory, contributory coverage under social security becomes effective Jan. 1, 1957.
5. Extension of coverage to more self-employed in 1957.
6. Changes in self-employed (Continued on Page Two)

Fair Dove Hunt is Predicted by Dry

Texans may hunt doves in their own home county without the usual $2.15 hunting license. Guns must be plugged to restrict shell content to three, and hunting on public roads is unlawful.

Dry said that the recent cool spell "saved the day" as far as local hunters are concerned. The season opens Saturday and closes Oct. 17.

"Up until it turned cool the birds were migrating," Dry explained, "but they decided to stay here awhile when it turned cool."

Eastland county hasn't been favored by moisture, but quite a bit of feed and water exist in the county. Field reports indicate that native birds will comprise the bulk of the population.

Field men for the Texas Game and Fish commission have said there "will probably be tremendous concentrations of doves around tanks still containing water, especially if there is feed nearby."

Dry reminded hunters to keep a few routine things in mind, citing that hunting is from 12 noon until sunset, that daily and possession limits both call for 10 doves, danger from fires is very high, permission should be obtained from land owners at all times and game should be promptly drawn to avoid spoilage in heat.

"Great care should be taken not to shoot in the vicinity of field workers or livestock," Dry said.

He wrote to the mystified land owner:

"From experiments conducted by our W. H. Brown, it was found that in a one-acre pond 50 channel catfish after eight months had an average length of 18.9 inches and a weight of 33 ounces.

"When 75 channel catfish per acre were stocked, at the end of 18 months they attain a size of 16.3 inches and a weight of 23 ounces. When 100 catfish per acre were used, at the end of 18 months they had an average length of 15.9 inches and a weight of 22 ounces. We also have received verified reports that nine months after stocking, some pond owners when stocking 100 fingerling catfish per acre were able to catch some channel catfish that measured 15.75 inches.

"It is a truism that waters are capable of producing a given amount of fish weight. Thus, if the fish are limited in population, they will grow to be bigger fish than if the fish are present in large numbers. For example, if a pond is stocked with 100 fish per acre and a like pond is stocked with 1,000 fish per acre, the two ponds will produce the same poundage of fish. You can readily see that the pond with the 100 fish per acre will be the pond that produces the large fish.

"It is also true that any time bluegill sunfish are present in a body of water, they reproduce so bountifully that they soon become present in such quantities as to cause a stunted population of their kind."

Farm income under Truman increased 12.5 percent in his last three years in office. Under Eisenhower they decreased 22.3 percent.

Study those figures closely. They show what Republican prosperity amounts to. It amounts to more money for General Motors, et al, and less for the worker and the farmer.

Earlier we said Ike was an honest man. Then why is it that his administration has favored the rich and snubbed the average man? It is not Ike's fault. But the President of the United States can do nothing that his party doesn't want him to.

That "I vote for the man and not the party" stuff sounds good, but it just won't hold water.

WANT TO KILL SOMEONE? BE A TRAFFIC MISFIT

"Don't be a traffic misfit — the fellow who's out of step is out of luck!"

That warning was given to motorists recently by E. C. McFadden of Dallas, vice president of Employers Casualty company and president of the Texas Safety association, as he discussed the Share the Road program of the Texas Safety association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council. This program is being conducted in cooperation with the Slow Down and Live program of the national conference of state safety coordinators.

"Safety on the highway depends to a great extent on the smooth, even flow of traffic," McFadden said. "Whenever you interrupt this flow, you're in trouble — and so are the drivers around you. Here are a few examples of stunts that will foul up traffic in a hurry.

"Stopping suddenly can cause an aggravating pile-up of the cars behind you. Making a turn from the wrong lane is sure to jam things up in the lane you barge into. Hugging the bumper of the car ahead makes you a sitting duck for a serious accident if the fellow in front stops suddenly.

"Speed is another thing that must be adjusted to the traffic flow," he said.

"If you go barreling down the road faster than the drivers around you, you're likely to tangle with them," he said. "But it's not safe to drive too slow, either. You can throw a monkey wrench into the traffic pattern if you force every other car on the road to take chances getting around you."

He advised motorists to drive at a rate of speed that fits in smoothly with the speed of the cars around them. He said this is especially important when driving on superhighways, where higher speed gives the driver less time to think in an emergency situation, and increases the severity of any accident he may have.

Self-Feeding Brood Sows

Many farm chores have been eliminated by labor saving devices, but there are a few that are still difficult to adapt to automation. Hog farmers are confronted with one of these in the management of their sows.

Sows have been hand-fed since the beginning of hog farming. Nowadays, some hog farmers are experimenting with self-feeding their sows. Research and experience have shown that sows can be self-fed, although there are problems in doing it.

The problems in feeding brood sows by any method usually involve getting them to eat the right balance of nutrients without eating too much. It's easy to control this by hand-feeding. Self-feeding requires some changes in the feeding program.

The good hog man usually wants his sows to eat a mixture of about four parts grain and one part good supplement. Each sow gets four to six pounds of this ration daily, depending on her condition. When pasture is not available, good legume hay is offered free choice.

In self-feeding, where the feed is kept in front of the sow in a self feeder at all times, there is a problem of limiting the feed intake. This can be accomplished pretty well by mixing chopped roughage with the grain and supplement.

Research at the Ralston Purina farm in Missouri indicates that when ground shelled corn is fed, four parts of corn, one part of supplement, and three parts of ground legume hay make a good ration for self-feeding. Other adjustments are made when other grains are fed, so that the roughage factor limits consumption.

It will cost a little more to self-feed than to hand-feed. There is the added expense of chopping the roughage and mixing it in the ration. Also, sows may nose around in the feed and blow out some of the chopped roughage to get to the grain, causing wastage. But self-feeding sows can be done as a labor saving device.

Lone Star Gas Offers Recipes To Public

Whether it is a family meal or a church dinner, broilers, fryers or hens are a wise selection for an August menu. Chickens and turkeys are on the August plentiful foods list, according to the Agricultural Marketing service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Chicken, a favorite food with almost everybody, is ideal for a backyard picnic, barbecue or for any family meal. And if the problem is serving a large group, even that can be solved via the chicken route.

Listed below is a chicken pie recipe that will yield 50 servings. Since the recipe calls for the pie to be topped with another old-time favorite—biscuits—that recipe is given, too.

In addition, there are four other recipes using chicken. All these recipes have been tested by the Lone Star Gas company home economics department.

Chicken pie for 50: Cook five hens (four to five pounds) in boiling salted water over medium gas flame until tender. Drain, saving stock. Remove chicken from bones. Cut in slightly larger than bite size pieces. Chop skin fine. Heat stock to boiling over full gas flame. Blend together and slowly stir into stock 2 1/2 cups flour and five cups of cold water. Boil one minute, stirring constantly a n d on with two tablespoons of salt and one teaspoon of pepper. Place prepared chicken in baking pans. Pour over chicken the hot gravy. Top with two-inch biscuits. Bake in hot gas oven (450 degrees F.) 20 minutes. Canned peas, cooked carrots or cooked celery may be added to the chicken and gravy, if desired.

Biscuits: Sift together 20 cups

PAT DIAL HOLDS JOB OF MANY VARIETIES AT A&M

COLLEGE STATION — You looking for a real dream job? Well, Pat Dial, business manager for athletics at Texas A&M college, has just the thing.

In his job he gets lots of variety. He meets all types of people. He gets to see the football games, talk to the coaches, sportswriters, alumni and football fans in general.

He associates with lots of money. He gets to travel and no day is just like the day before.

There are, of course, a few small lumps in all this gravy. For example, Dial is called on to handle from 250,000 to 400,000 tickets a year, making sure that these tickets will be just what and where the purchaser wants them and at just the price he is willing to pay.

This can be done — in theory. In practice it is an operation that Dial ranks alongside the little chore of figuring out where you are going to put a zillion cars in parking space for three hundred automobiles.

It's somewhat like the other little minor challenges — the business that comes up each Saturday during or after the game or reuniting from two to half a dozen lost youngsters with their parents. What adds to this "daddy - daddy - where's - my - daddy" situation is the fact that the parents are usually hunting where Junior was, and the searchers are usually looking on the side of the field where Junior is and never the twain do meet.

Also, Dial may have to figure out who will shoot the extra dogs off the playing field. Or, who is going to peddle popcorn between ramp A and B, and who between C and D, and so on ad infinitum.

And he may be asked, and generally is, several times before each game for everything from elevator service to extra Boy Scouts to serve as ushers over the West stands.

There are always the people who arrive at the window six minutes before kickoff, and hubby berates, "uh, say, we just got in from Snook and just as we started over to the gate I remembered that I told Helen this morning to be sure and put the tickets under the clock on the mantelpiece in the front room. And, you see, she did and I was supposed to pick them up, but somehow I forgot it and I was just wondering if you ..."

"We have these heart patients, too," sighs Dial. "Some of them can drive four or five hundred miles to the game and climb out of the car carrying seat-backs and blankets and hampers and all kinds of stuff and they look like they're in pretty good shape. But when they get here all of a sudden they have to have a seat, right on the 50-yard line, where they won't have to walk more than about six steps up ..."

After the game is over collections are fun, too. Then Dial and associates in Campus Security are confronted with finding the rightful proprietors of assorted dozens of car keys, raincoats, sweaters, overcoats, spectacles, thermos jugs, special seat-backs, sandwich hampers, binoculars, cameras, galoshes, hats and general paraphernalia used by football fans. (Lost children have already been discussed earlier in this report.)

There are some problems with arrangements for visiting teams, with supplies and-or requests for gauze, liniment, tape, balls, helmets, buckets and noseguards are trivial items.

With all this, however, Dial wouldn't swap places with anyone on the campus. He's busy with the work, for he gets over the fact that this year sales are already running cent over sales a year 110 per cent over the period in 1954.

This means that Dial's son as business manager busier than ever. He's real enthusiastic over it.

And how does one qua this sort of dream job? Well, Dial did it this way: got born over in Trinity East Texas. He graduated Diboll high school and Step Austin State Teachers college. He came to work in the chief office in the Texas Agriculture Experiment station 22 years ago and he served three years in Navy in World War II. And years ago he just naturally made business manager for athletics.

Also, he married a girl named Mary Alice who is very kind patient with him during the son when ticket sales are and troubles come from all directions.

That's all that's required, or so years of work, an understanding wife, patience, a liking for sports — and a healthy set of nerves.

COLOR, COLOR, AND MORE COLOR

Nowadays, products of every kind seem to be coming out in more colors than the rainbow. You see the advertisements for these products in magazines, and you see them in stores and shops around town. Yes, everyone is "going to color."

The telephone company is, too. Our new color telephones come in eight bright colors to blend or contrast with the color schemes in your home, office, or store.

And that means a double advantage for you. Because if you've been thinking about ordering an extension telephone, why not ask for one in color? You get extra convenience with an extension, and color adds a touch of good looks to your home or office.

You can select from among ivory, green, beige, yellow, red, blue, gray and brown.

Just call the telephone business office, or stop in next time you're in the neighborhood to get the rate.

OUTBOARD MARINE ACQUIRES LEADING CANADIAN PRODUCER

As part of its diversification and expansion program Outboard, Marine & Manufacturing Co., Waukegan, Ill., has acquired all the outstanding capital stock of Industrial Engineering Limited, Vancouver, B.C., Canada's leading manufacturer of chain saws for farm, lumber and pulp industries. The announcement made by Joseph G. Rayniak, president of Outboard Marine, stated the purchase price of $4,750,000 was paid by the organization's Canadian subsidiary, Outboard Marine Corp. of Canada Ltd., Peterborough, in cash and 40,000 shares of Outboard Marine common stock. "We have been interested in the chain saw development for some time," said Mr. Rayniak, "and acquiring Industrial Engineering gives us a sixth manufacturing and marketing organization that is also outstanding in its leadership of the field. "While extending our marketing into the industrial fields, at the same time we add the manufacture of a product which is compatible to our other internal combustion engine products.

"Industrial Engineering has pioneered every chain saw improvement for the past 20 years, is the originator of the direct drive saw," according to Mr. Rayniak, "and supplies the greatest portion of all chain saws used by farm, lumber and pulp industries in Canada."

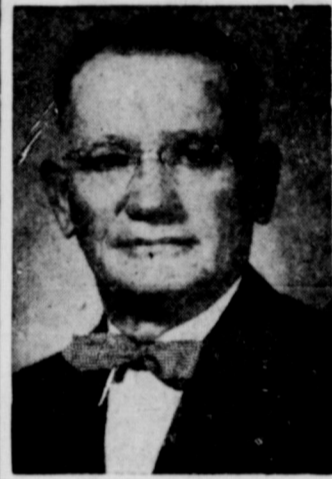

Industrial Engineering's annual sales are expected to be about $10,000,000. Outboard Marine's sales for its fiscal year which ends September 30, will exceed $100,000,000 for the highest in its 20-year history.

Mr. Rayniak stated, "There will be no changes in management of Industrial Engineering and Mr. R. A. Pitre will continue as president."

In a statement from Vancouver, Mr. Pitre said, "This will be a great step forward for Industrial Engineering. Because, with the immense manufacturing, research and engineering resources of Outboard Marine at our disposal, Industrial Engineering will be able to continue to provide the chain saw market with a product which will have all the latest developments through the most up-to-date engineering and manufacturing techniques available."

Home Loans Can Be Financed One Of Nine Ways

Homeowners can finance a partial or entire home improvement project in one of nine different ways, says the Plumbing Fixture Manufacturers association.

Open-end mortgage. An open-end mortgage simply means a homeowner can borrow some money he already has paid on his present mortgage. Payments on the new loan can be made by raising the present monthly mortgage rates, or by keeping monthly payments the same and extending the mortgage contract for several additional years. In either case, the interest rate of the additional loan remains the same as the original mortgage.

Second mortgage. Many banking agencies holding a mortgage will grant a home improvement loan if the borrower has good credit. This is called a second mortgage and generally carries a lower interest rate than non-mortgage loans. Conventional property improvement loan. Some banks and agencies will lend up to $2,500 especially for remodeling. The borrower must repay the money within three years.

Title I Home Improvement loan. The Federal Housing administration insures low-interest home improvement loans by qualified lending agencies. For a one-family house the loan insurance limit is $2500, repayable within three years and 32 days.

Veterans Administration - Insured loan. Veterans may set aside part of their $10,000 "GI" mortgage for home improvements. This loan is insured by the VA and obtained through private banking institutions at interest rates up to 4 1/2 per cent. The repayment time limit is 30 years.

Direct Veterans Administration loan. The VA offers direct home improvement loans in roughly 2500 counties where other adequate financial help is hard to obtain. Such loans usually have low - interest rates. Own Plan loan. Many banking institutions offer their own plans for home improvement loans. These generally have liberal credit terms.

Personal loan. Such loans usually have short repayment periods and high - interest rates. However, they may be obtained easily for amounts between $300 and $2500.

CARTOONS TELL A STORY

We see cartoons from time to time of the man calling home to tell his wife he'll be late for dinner. As she hangs up the telephone, she races to pull dinner out of the stove.

Maybe the moral of the story is to call your wife if you're going to be late. Otherwise, you'll be eating a burn' dinner.

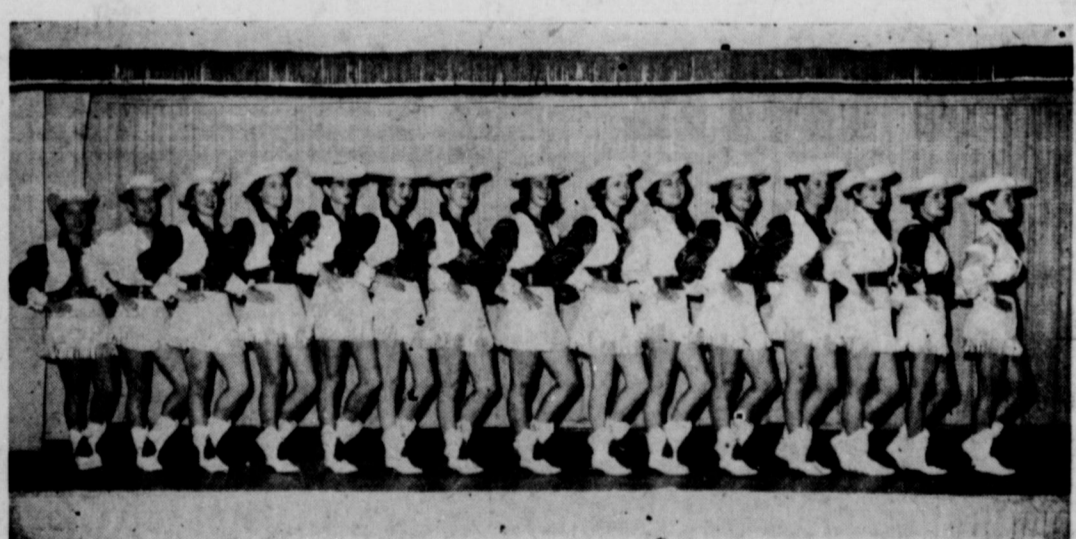

At the telephone company, we read been the in. ones each us time and see that the telephone "saved the day" man. Actually, the telephone "saves the day" man, day as we count on it more and more to save steps.
