NEW PROGRAM WILL REPLACE CIVIL WORKS

that reminds me...

... was put on the spot in Washington at the invitation of Administrator General Hugh S. Benson. Praise and criticism were in order. As a result radical changes have been suggested to Benson and by Johnson. Just how these changes will work cannot be predicted. The whole thing is still an experimental stage. One thing is certain, the new deal is trying and doing things something worth while is bound to come from such activity.

The national administration has opted a definite "hands off" policy as to candidate for congress at the coming primary elections, which will be held in many states. It is a wise policy, the chips could fall where they may. No one running either for the lower or upper house of congress would be foolish enough to do so at the expense of an administration that is doing everything in its power to bring about recovery and a happy future for the people of the nation. Therefore national political leaders have nothing much to fear, regardless of who is elected, so long as disturbing the present program is concerned.

Cold weather has handicapped the farmer to some extent in getting his land broken for the coming crop. Several days of dry weather following plenty of good rains has left the soil in one of the best possible conditions for several years. This should be an unusual year for Eastland county. There are so many farmers here their entries full of all kinds of canned foods, left over from last year, are wondering what they will do with the coming canning season. The thing to do however is to can everything possible and with the help of the government, to have enough to feed those who do not have it.

Those who seem to be "in the know" state that this last cold spell is one of the best things that could have happened to save the fruit crop this year. They say it will set the trees back several weeks and keep them from blooming too early with the danger of freezing later. That is good news. We are longing for some good old peach and plum reserves grown right here in Eastland county, and there are plenty of trees here to furnish the need. We only hope that they are right and that this will be a bumper fruit crop year.

We still have high hopes for a bank for Eastland in the near future. Looks like folks are getting more interested and from what we hear those who have friends and influence elsewhere are writing and telling all the glories of Eastland and that this is the very place to come and invest money in a good bank.

In making our daily rounds we find many Eastland people on the sick list with colds. This is one good time to take the best of care of your health; get plenty of rest, eat fresh fruit, get plenty of fresh air, and by all means don't get the idea that you have "just a cold" when you begin sneezing or sniffing. That's usually the dangerous attitude. All colds are serious whether just beginning or deep seated. Since we are not a doctor these suggestions may not be for nil, but since we got the idea from the doctor that knows, we pass it along and perhaps somebody will take advantage of the benefit.

In this particular year somebody will be left without a birthday tomorrow. Any woman that was born on Feb. 29 should be glad of the four-year set-back, some of them just don't like birthdays anyway. Of course when a man gets around 50 these days he also tries to hide the birthday date, so any man that was born on Feb. 29, 1884, will be glad that he has two more years to go to enjoy his "dangerous" forties.

If you haven't seen one of those cookers that the Eastland Telegram is giving away with a year's subscription to the paper, then you should take off and come to see it. They are the best and most handy things of the kind that you

Resisting royal pressure, sacrificing royal status, he will wed Miss Erika Petzek in London. Sigvard, second son of the crown prince, has been a movie director in Berlin for several years.

SAYS BUSINESS HAS ADOPTED RACKETEERING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Business men have adopted racketeering methods to thwart NRA code efforts to increase workers' income, Mrs. Mary Dewson, chairman of the women's division of the democratic national committee, charged today in the protest forum assembled here preliminary to revision of the code structure.

Meetings continued today in five sectors, but with diminishing attendance at several. The large ballroom of the Raleigh hotel contained fewer than 50 complainants when the business men's meeting opened today.

COMMISSION WILL WORK ON BREAD BONDS

AUSTIN, Feb. 28.—Governor Ferguson's signature of the $7,750,000 relief bond bill was awaited today by the state bond commission to speed the sale of "bread bonds" for relief of destitute persons in Texas.

Commissioners were to meet after the governor's signature to ascertain whether relief funds can be made available by private bond sale. Otherwise the legal processes of advertising and opening bids from prospective buyers will delay actual cash receipts.

The legislature directed the bonds be issued in denominations of $50, $100 and multiples of $100 to make them attractive to small investors.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 at Russell's Chapel, six miles south of Gordon, for John Lemuel Deaton, 62, who died suddenly at his farm home in Erath county Tuesday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. J. A. McQueary and Rev. K. C. Edmonds.

The decedent had been a resident of Erath county for 51 years and had lived in the same home since 1883 and was considered one of the oldest settlers in the county. He was well known in Eastland county.

Today's rain followed snow flurries which fell late yesterday in North and Central Texas. A trace of snow was reported falling in the north Panhandle region today.

PWA Offices Are Being Discontinued

FORT WORTH, Feb. 28.—All but a skeleton force was discharged at the state offices of the PWA here today as orders to discontinue the office were carried out. More than 200 applications which have not been serviced remained on hand, but these will be forwarded to Washington in their original form, according to Chairman Ike Ashburn of the Texas PWA advisory board.

Army Flyers Rescued in Crash at Sea

How they had clung for nearly five hours to their disabled Army plane after it had crashed into the icy ocean off Rockaway Point, L. I., and watched their companion in the craft, Lieut. G. F. McDermott, swept to his death just 10 minutes before a U. S. destroyer came to their aid, was the dramatic story told by Lieutenants W. S. Pocock, Jr., (left), and James H. Rothrock, after their rescue. They are shown recuperating at Brooklyn, N. Y., Navy hospital.

Grammatical Error In The President's Letter Pointed Out

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Whoever made the error in President Roosevelt's letter to Speaker Rainey the white house failed to reveal today.

There were four possibilities, including the president himself. The disputed sentence read: "I don't care who you tell this to."

Grammarians pointed out the word should have been "whom" instead of "who," and also that well worn maxim that "a preposition is a bad word to end a sentence with."

Exhibit Texas Made Products Here March 2-3

An additional exhibit for the Texas made products show, to be staged under the auspices of the Eastland Thursday Afternoon club March 2 and 3, will be a radio broadcast set, built by Ward Mullings, local radio experimenter and operator of an amateur short wave broadcast station.

For the exhibit of Texas made products, in the Stubbfield building, there have been several entertainment features arranged, among those are a hill billy singer who appears regularly over a Texas broadcast station, "Peg" Moreland, the singer and entertainer is widely known over the state because of the uniqueness of his presentation of old time songs. Also, at the exhibit an orchestra sponsored by a state manufacturer will render musical numbers.

SIX ARRESTED AFTER ROBBERY OF TWO BANKS

STELWELL, Okla., Feb. 28.—Two men and a woman were held here today for Texas authorities on suspicion in connection with the $3,000 Lancaster, Texas, bank robbery Tuesday.

County sheriff's offices said the trio, detained last night, gave the names of Ed Belt, Jack Evans and Reva Belt, the latter claiming to be the wife of Ed Belt.

The officers said they were positive the persons held were not Clyde Barrow, Raymond Hamilton and Bonnie Parker, trio suspected in the robbery.

New Deal Base Ball League Is Being Organized

L. E. Spaulding, H. C. Davis and Tom Haley, manager, secretary-treasurer and a director of the Eastland Baseball Association, respectively, Tuesday night, went to Comyn and after discussion with officers of their recent organized ball club tentatively reached the agreement to form a baseball league which has been named "The New Deal Baseball League."

Invitations to other towns to join the league have been forwarded to Dublin, De Leon, Comanche, Gustine, Stephenville, Ranger and Gorman.

It is the intention of those forming the league to conduct it in a strictly amateur organization and not allow the commercial methods and some of their allied evils and corruptions to creep in. Some of the methods of fortifying the amateur status which have been agreed upon are: players must be resident of the town they represent on the diamond at least thirty days before joining the team, and that towns may not import their players from a greater distance than a radius of ten miles from their location and this not to include incorporated towns exceeding 1000 population.

Announcement of the complete governing rules will be made after a meeting of the officers of the local ball club with Comyn baseball club officials on March 7.

Finland Buys Two Old Sailing Ships

HAVRE, France.—The epoch of sailing ships is drawing Claudia and Suzanne, in port to a close. The two Danish ships, here, have been sold to Finland. They are the last two units of the K. R. Bager and Marstal line which have brought quebracho wood from the Argentine and dye wood from Jamaica and Haiti to Havre for the last 23 years.

Captain O. H. Boyo of the Caudia commanded the three-masted bark Johan, which was sunk in the British channel by a German submarine on its way from Jamaica to Havre. Boyo then took over the American built wooden schooner Johan, which was sold in 1920 to a Fecamp broker. Captain Chris Aaberg was captain of the three-masted bark Suzanne that met a hurricane and was only brought to Savannah with much difficulty and then sold for scrapping.

Captain Aaberg was then given command of another three-masted Suzanne which now is sold on account of the economic crisis.

Famed Liar's Club Is Incorporated

BURLINGTON, Wis.—The Burlington Liars' club, which has gained national fame each New Year's day when the champion liar of the United States is selected, has been incorporated.

Incorporation papers sent to Madison were first returned for verification, but when members of the club insisted that for once they were "on the level," the incorporation was granted. The papers read:

"Formed for the purpose of preserving for posterity that distinctive form of American humor—the lie. Incorporators: O. C. Hullett, H. W. Schenning, L. J. Stang."

Hullett, president of the club, said plans are being made to publish the 25 best lies received in the contest each year.

LITTLE WORK TO BE GIVEN UNDER PLAN

Will Be In Force For One Year To Relieve Suffering Among Needy.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—A new and comprehensive program to meet the unemployment situation and to replace the CWA will be launched this spring to continue for a year, President Roosevelt announced today.

The program will be based on the experience of the past nine months, which has shown unemployment must be faced on more than one front, it was pointed out. With this in mind the new program has been divided to meet the following situation:

1. Distressed families in rural areas.
2. Stranded population living in single industry communities in which there is no hope for future re-employment, such as miners in worked out fields.
3. The unemployed in the urban areas.

President Roosevelt plans to divert for this relief the $950,000,000 recently appropriated by congress. He believes that sum will be sufficient to carry the program through.

On the question of the care of needy in the rural areas, a white house statement said:

"Their security must be identified with agriculture. They must be placed in position of self-support. In many places of the country this calls for a change from commercial farming and dependence on a single cash crop, to the raising of the various commodities needed to maintain the family."

"Relief funds, therefore, will be expended on behalf of rural families in a manner and to an extent that will enable them to achieve self-support. Work for wages from relief funds is not an essential part of this phase of the program and will be provided only insofar as it is necessary to accomplish the primary objective."

The statement said some of the methods to be employed included building or rebuilding to provide adequate farm homes; the provisions of seeds and stock for other commercial purposes and opportunities to these workers to earn incomes through part-time employment.

In addition the administration is for a planned distribution of the regular jobs on highways and other public works carried on in farm areas.

State Rests In Wynekoop Trial

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—The state rested its case today in the trial of Dr. Alice Wynekoop on charges of murdering her daughter-in-law, one of the strangest mysteries in modern history.

The girl's nearly nude body was found on an operating table in the Wynekoop home.

As soon as the state was completed, attorneys for the 63-year-old physician called their first witness. The defense case will be climaxed by the woman's own testimony.

"THINGS ACCOMPLISHED BY THE NRA" —RICHBERG

Donald R. Richberg is the chief counsel of the NRA. He is one of the ablest of American lawyers and has a record of achievement second to none who have fought the battles of the farmers and wage-workers of this country.

This is what he placed in the record in order that the people may read: "Is it an obstacle to recovery that 75,000 men have been added to steel mills' payrolls; that ages of 300,000 coal miners have been raised $1 a day; that textile payrolls have been doubled; that child labor and sweatshops have been eliminated?"

Speaking of the critics of the New Deal setup, Richberg classified those who are forever carping or snarling or potshotting the relief work that has been accomplished in less than a year: "NRA is being opposed by those who feel that individual freedom is being constrained too greatly and by those who want the government to move farther to the left."

This is a free country. All sides should be heard. All interests should be recognized. There is a glorious bill of rights. It guarantees liberty of political action at the ballot box; freedom of the press; freedom of religious worship; freedom of assemblage; and equal equality before the law.

In the prosperity of a country, foreign trade is a vital factor.

Oxford Student Is Visited By Ghost Of Oscar Wilde

LONDON.—An Oxford undergraduate claims to have seen the ghost of Oscar Wilde parading around his room in a long, many-buttoned coat and a loosely-tied cravat.

The student, who occupies the room in which Wilde lived at Magdalen college 60 years ago, is a young Australian named Tony Kelly.

"I had gone to bed about half-past eleven," said Kelly, "but I could not sleep, and suddenly I felt that someone was in the room. I looked towards the window, and there stood a tall man, with a long jacket, very old-fashioned, with rows of buttons and very short lapels. His tie was loose and arranged in a big knot.

"He began to walk up and down. I spoke to him and he didn't answer. I put out my hand as he came near me, and it went right through where he seemed to be.

Proposals are being made to legalize many forms of gambling, as tax sources, but look how it would increase unemployment among racketeers.

Married Flirts

CHAPTER XLVIII

THE maples flew red banners against a sky of heavenly blue. The air was crisp and bracing here under the old trees with a boy of four spread-eagled in a sand pile and two or three white-capped workmen loitering among the shavings.

"Well, we were in the market. I don't know whether I ever told you—we had a little insurance but not much and we were just sick over it. Then the state went around, buying up land for Whipple Beach (I guess you haven't heard of that; it's been done since you went to Mexico). Anyhow, it's a marvelous stretch of beach—belongs to the public. They made a bid for our place and it was wonderful, getting the money in one fell swoop. That was just about the time Tom had his promotion—a year ago—and we started out at once in pursuit of a house. Tom doesn't mind the commuting and he thought it would be grand to be near the family."

"Nice he gets on with them so well," Sue murmured. "Oh, Mums adores him. If he were her own son she couldn't be fonder. Well, we found this place. The house wasn't in bad shape. It's 190 years old, you know, but it had been remodeled about 20 years ago by some artist and his wife who had to go west. The barn was a big old ramshackle place but it had fine beams and a good foundation. We concentrated on the house first. Pat and plumbing and whatnot. Whipple Beach was our fairy godmother."

"It's charming," Sue glanced back at the white house, crouched in the shade of arching trees. The veranda was furnished with deep chairs and scattered tables. "I'm glad this brainstrom about the nursery school. It will be fun for me and maybe some day I'll make some money. Tom is as enthusiastic as I am. He spends week-ends hammering and sandpapering. We've just about finished. Come around a week from Monday and I'll show you our student body. All in pink rompers."

"I will," Sue promised. She was leaning on the car door now and Sue reflected to herself that really she did not look a scrap older than on that gala day five years before when she had walked up the aisle of the little church in Blue Hills, Tom Weaver's bride. Her brown curls were as flyaway as ever and the apricot flush still lingered in her rounded cheeks. She was wearing her working costume today—dark blue slacks and a striped jersey shirt. She looked almost like a rosy boy, the kind of figure you see in posters advertising the Breton countryside. Only when she turned and swooped the overalled child by her side into her arms and buried her face to his unburned neck you saw she was not a boy at all, but a woman, warm, eager, loving.

By Blattle Shipments from Texas Show Good Increase

AUSTIN, Tex.—Shipments of livestock to Fort Worth and state points totaled 3,615 cars January, compared with 3,113 during January last year, an increase of 16 per cent, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Comparable figures for the various classes of livestock were as follows: cattle, 2,094 and 1,706; calves 741 and 618 cars; hogs and 290 cars, and sheep 547 and 499 cars.

It will be noted that of the various classes of livestock a decline in shipments occurred only in the case of hogs. The drop amounted to 20 per cent. On the other hand, shipments of hogs into Texas from other states amounted to 324 cars in January, an increase of 70 per cent. The excess of receipts of hogs from other states over shipments out of the State was 91 cars.

Doctor Declares Commandments Are Outmoded

PHILADELPHIA.—The Ten Commandments, according to Dr. G. Cole, have been outmoded by present day living conditions.

They no longer serve even as ideals for youth, he told a surprised audience of clerks and Sunday School teachers attending the 50th anniversary exercises of the Temple University School of Theology.

Modern youth, Dr. Cole asserted, gets its morals by contagion and propinquity, just as it gets the measles. "The former generations probably found the Ten Commandments just as hard to keep as they are now, but at least they served as ideals," he said.

"Today life is not so simple and I find it increasingly hard to tell even my own children just what I believe is right. The Ten Commandments were adequate for the older agricultural civilization under which we lived in this country. They are not nearly enough today.

"How can the church hope to control the moral teaching when it is itself in conflict?" he asked. "There is a bitter clash now going on in every denomination between a religion that reflects the old culture from which we have just come and a religion that reflects the new, strange experimental civilization we are only beginning."

By Cowen East Texas Oil Field Has Found Legal Advisor

TYLER, Tex.—The great East Texas oil field has found a leader and a legal advisor in F. W. Fischer of Tyler, attorney.

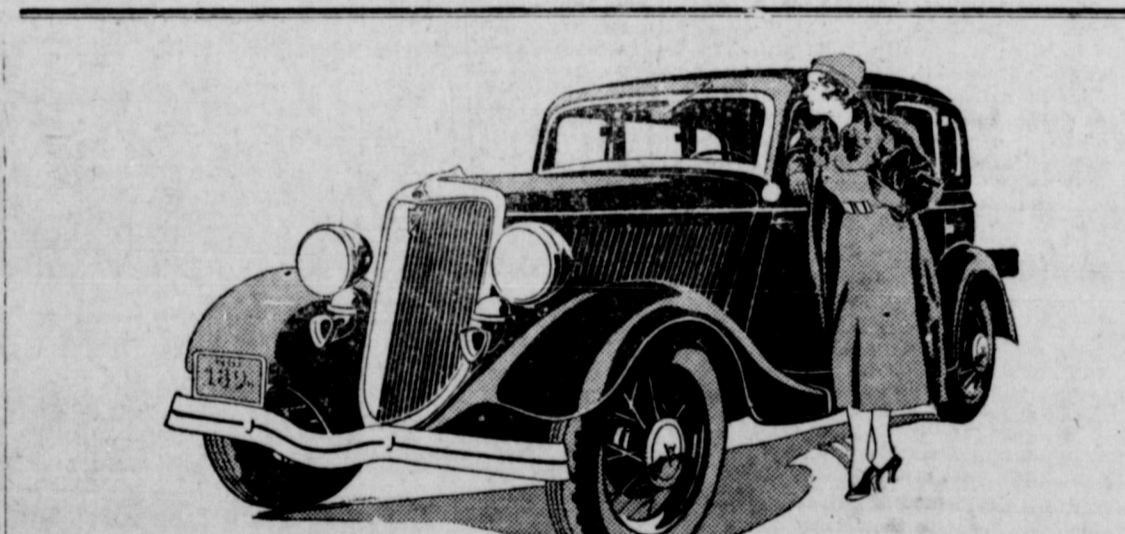

Fischer arose from an obscure position behind a plow to one of the most conspicuous personalities in the oil industry in Texas.

It was Fischer who started filing injunctions in the federal courts against the State Railroad Commission when it started laying down oil prorations orders, regulating allowances for the vast field.

By HAMLIN

Regardless of Price Judge the new FORD V8 on what it will do

Thousands of people who can afford to spend two or three times as much for a car, are today choosing the Ford V-8 for 1934, instead. Here are some of the reasons.

POWER. The Ford V-8 for 1934 gives you better than 80 miles per hour with the quicker acceleration and greater smoothness of an 8-cylinder motor. Power has actually been increased by 12 per cent over last year's model.

COMFORT. The Ford V-8 for 1934 offers more actual body room than many other cars that cost considerably more. It offers you new Clear-Vision industry and the industry's code of fair competition. Since the Panama decision against the government by Federal Judge Randolph Bryant of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas, Fischer has become the "great mouthpiece" of the independent refiner and producer in East Texas.

The life of this tousled haired attorney, who seems to have a perpetual smile, reads like a Horatio Alger, Jr., book. He was born on a farm 20 miles from Wheeling, W. Va., in 1886, the 11th of 13 children. His mother was an immigrant Irish woman whose ambition was that her children should learn to "read and write"—an advantage she had not had.

Fischer managed to complete the fifth grade reader, a third class arithmetic and a Blue Back Speller. That was the extent of his education. In 1900 he moved to Oklahoma where he studied from borrowed law books and was admitted to the bar in 1907. He later moved to Wichita Falls, Texas, and in 1927 to Tyler and the oil field.

Fischer gained statewide notoriety when he accused the Texas Highway Commission of "stealing" a hundred million dollars" from the state. In the court room he is dangerous to opposing counsel, and if given a cigar he is even more so.

A Correction

In the publication in Monday's Eastland Telegram of the meeting of the Booster Bible class of the Methodist church, the gift of the picture of George Washington, made to the class by Mr. B. E. McGlamery, the article should have read that the picture was framed by Judge W. F. Leslie as a gift and the Booster class teacher, who also had the picture hung in the classroom.

Church of Christ Bible Class

A splendid lesson in the final discussion of the building of the Jerusalem church, was taught the Bible class of the Church of Christ by Mrs. B. E. Roberson, at their meeting Monday afternoon.

The regular teacher was absent and the round table discussion was substituted with the lesson. The hymn, "More About Jesus," was led by Mrs. P. H. Davis, closing with prayer by Mrs. Roberson, and Mrs. Percy Harris.

The next lesson will be on the conversion of the Samaritan.

The cold day Monday, affected the attendance in many church societies and some expressed surprise that there was the representation that obtained.

Personnel: Mmes. H. E. Lawrence, M. C. Miller, Gerald Crowley, P. H. Davis, Percy Harris, W. E. Kellett, B. E. Roberson and O. M. Hunt.

Chapel Program For Thursday

Ladies Aid Society

A little group of women from the Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church, met again at the home of Mrs. Lewis Pitzer, for an all day session Monday, their second day of work on a quilting order.

The noonday covered dish luncheon was most hospitable, and the ladies enjoyed the day, and their work.

Personnel: Mmes. Ernest E. Wood, J. H. Pangburn, M. L. Smitham, J. R. Gilbreath, C. W. Lipsey, Lewis Pitzer and James A. Beard.

The meeting will not be held next Monday as it is the day for the Women's Missionary Society, which holds their once-a-month session in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Grady Owen.

Boys and Girls World Club Children's Circle

The intersocial relation study in progress, via pictures, stories and songs, as taught by the directors to the children of the World club, and Children's Circle of the Methodist church, is bearing fruit in the increased interest taken by the children and in their attendance, unusually good Monday despite the bitter cold weather.

The children were induced to discuss the country from which their parents came and to tell of those children who had come to America to live, how they should conduct themselves towards them, be kind and thoughtful, and why so many of these little foreign children came to America.

An interesting story was told.

New Effects for World's Fair Are Being Planned

By United Press

CHICAGO.—Rufus C. Dawes, president of the Century of Progress, has nearly completed plans for improvements and additions to the 1934 exposition. Officials are concentrating especially on new effects for the lagoon, which will make it one of the outstanding fair features.

According to present plans, floating auditoriums and theatres will be built out from the three bridges connecting the mainland and man-made island.

The three water displays of last year will be torn out and a fountain, designed to be the largest in the world, will be constructed between the two southernmost bridges. It will effect a wave of solid water, 1,000 feet long and 75 feet wide, obtained by streams spouting from pipes arched to 35 feet. Through the medium of this large wave the illumination experts of the fair will be able to produce fantastic designs and colorings.

The midway, amusement district south of the 23rd street entrance, has been moved to the north end of the island and its location will be occupied by a street of villages. Major O. J. Kentings, general adviser to the fair, now is abroad to complete details for three of these villages, the Tunisia, the Spanish Village and the Old English Village. He will also discuss plans for a Dutch East Indian Village, which may be added to the colony.

Swiss, German, Black Forest and Early American villages already are provided for, and although the contract has not yet been renewed, it is assumed that the famous Streets of Paris will be a feature this year.

Officials have issued a map of the 1934 fair, but it is still incomplete, as two or three large exhibitions are not ready for official announcement.

A university president wired a birthday greeting to his wife, and had the operator sing the message to her over the telephone. He wanted to be sure the message would be music to her ears.
